66 All the Congregation together was two and forty thousand, three hundred and three score.

72 And the rest of the people gave twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand pieces of silver, and three score and seven Priests' garments.

73 And the Priests, and the Levites, and the porters and the singers, and the rest of the people and the Nethinim, and all Israel dwelt in their cities:

2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They rejoice in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keep the feast of Tabernacles or booths.

1 And all the people assembled themselves together, in the street that was before the water gate, and they spake unto Ezra the Scribe, that he would bring the book of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that could hear and understand it, in the first day of the seventh month,

3 And he read therein in the street that was before the water gate (from the morning until 'the midday) before men and women, and them that understood it, and the ears of all the people heartened unto the book of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hillikiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pediah, and Michael, and Malchijah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the book before all the people: for he was 'above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood up.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shubberhai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites caused the people to understand the Law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the book of the Law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the Lord your God: mourn not, neither weep: for all the people 'wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also unto them, Go and eat of the fat, and drink the sweet, and send part unto them, for whom none is 'prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: be ye not sorry therefore: for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Hold your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drink, and to send away part, and to make great joy, because they had understood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chief fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Levites were gathered unto Ezra the Scribe, that he also might instruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in ‘booths in the feast of the seventh month,

8:3 1 This declareth the great zeal, that the people had to hear the word of God.

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pomegranate branches, and branches of myrtle, and palm branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them, and made them booths, every one upon the roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street by the water gate, and in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity, made booths, and sat under the booths: for since the time of Jeshua the son of Nun unto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great joy.

18 And he read in the book of the Law of God every day, from the first day unto the last day. And they kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day a solemn assembly, according unto the manner.

9 The people repent, and forsake their strange wives. 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God. 6 Declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude. 30 And God’s great mercies toward them.

1 In the four and twentieth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth upon them.

2 (And they that were of the seed of Israel were separated from all the strangers) and they stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood up in their place and read in the book of the Law of the Lord their God four times on the day, and they confessed and worshipped the Lord their God four times.

4 Then stood up upon the stairs of the Levites, Jeshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites said, even Jeshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah, Stand up and praise the Lord your God forever and ever, and let them praise thy glorious Name, O God, which excelleth above all thanksgiving and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heaven, and the heaven of all heavens, with all their host, and with all that are in them and thou preservest them all and the host of the heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of Ur in Chaldeans, and madest his name Abraham, 8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, and madest a Covenant with him, to give unto his seed the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Jebusites, and Gergashites, and hast performed thy words, because thou art just.

9 Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And showed tokens and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeared this day.

11 For thou didst break up the Sea before them, and they went through the midst of the sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottoms as a stone, in the mighty waters:

12 And leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire to give them light in the way that they went.

13 Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest unto them from heaven, and gavest them right judgments, and true laws, ordinances and good Commandments,

14 And declaredst unto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and laws, by the hand of Moses thy servant:

15 And gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst: and promisedst them that they should go in, and take possession of the land: for which thou hadst lifted up thine hand for to give them.

16 But they and our fathers behaved themselves proudly and hardened their neck, so that they hearkened not unto thy Commandments, 17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marvelous works that thou hadst done for them, but hardened their necks, and had in their heads to return to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long-suffering, and of great mercy, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calf (and said, This is thy God that brought thee up out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day to lead them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to show them light, and the way whereby they should go.
20 Thou gavest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy Manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst.
21 Thou didst also feed them forty years in the wilderness: they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled not.
22 And thou gavest them kingdoms and people, and scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.
23 And thou didst multiply their children like the stars of the heaven, and broughtest them into the land, whereof thou hadst spoken unto their fathers, that they should go, and possess it.
24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, even the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.
25 And they took their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, cisterns dug out, vineyards and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and lived in pleasure through thy great goodness.
26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which protested among them to turn them unto thee) and committed great blasphemies.
27 Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from the heaven, and deliveredst them out of the hand of their adversaries.
28 But when they had rest, they returned to do evil before thee: therefore lewest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them, yet when they converted and cried unto thee, thou hearest them from heaven, and deliveredst them according to thy great mercies many times, 29 And protestedst among them, that thou mightest bring them again unto thy Law: but they behaved themselves proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgments (which a man should do and live in them) and pulled away the shoulder, and were stiff-necked, and would not hear.
30 Yet thou didst forbear them many years, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, even by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not hear:
therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.
31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.
32 Now therefore our God, thou great God, mighty and terrible, that keepest covenant and mercy, let not all the affliction that hath come unto us, seem a little before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the kings of Assyria unto this day.
33 Surely thou art just in all that is come upon us:
for thou hast dealt truly, but we have done wickedly.
34 And our kings and our princes, our priests and our fathers have not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandments, nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast protested among them.
35 And they have not served thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodness that thou showedst unto them, and in the large and fat land which thou didst set before them, and have not converted from their evil works.
36 Behold, we are servants this day, and the land that thou gavest unto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodness thereof, behold, we are servants therein.
37 And it yieldeth much fruit unto the kings whom thou hast set over us, because of our sins: and they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.
38 Now because of all this we make a sure covenant, and write it, and our princes, our Levites, and our Priests seal unto it.

29 The chief of them 1 received it for their brethren, and they came to the 2 curse and to the oath to walk in God’s Law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, to observe and do all the commandments of the Lord our God, and his judgments and his statutes:
30 And that we would not give our daughters to the people of the land, neither take their daughters for our sons.
31 And if the people of the land brought ware on the Sabbath, or any vittles to sell, 1 that we would not take it of them on the Sabbath, and on the holy days:
32 And we made statutes for ourselves to give by the year, the third part of a shekel for the service of the house of our God,
33 For the 1 showbread, and for the daily offering, and for the daily burnt offering, the Sabbaths, the new moons, for the solemn feasts, and for the things that were sanctified, and for the sin offerings, to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.
34 We cast also lots for the offering of the wood, even the Priests, the Levites, and the people, to bring it into the house of our God, 1 by the house of our fathers, yearly at the times appointed, to burn it upon the Altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the Law,
35 And to bring the firstfruits of our land, and the first of all the fruits of all trees, year by year, into the house of the Lord,
36 And the firstborn of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is 1 written in the Law, and the firstborn of our bullocks, and of our sheep, to bring it into the house of our God, unto the Priests that minister in the house of our God,
37 And that we should bring the firstfruit of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of every tree, of wine and of oil, unto the Priests, to the chambers of the house of our God: and the tithes of our land unto the Levites, that the Levites might have the tithes in all the cities of our 1travail.
38 And the Priest, the son of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes, and the Levites shall 1 bring up the tenth part of the tithes unto the house of our God, unto the chambers of the treasure house.
39 For the children of Israel, and the children of Levi shall bring up the offering of the corn, of the wine, and of the oil, unto the chambers: and there shall be the vessels of the Sanctuary, and the Priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers, and 1 we will not forsake the house of our God.

22 In the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan and Jaddua were the chief fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reign of Darius the Persian.
23 The sons of Levi, the chief fathers were written in the book of the Chronicles even unto the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib.
24 And the chief of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to give praise and thanks, according to the ordinances of David the man of God, ward over ‘against ward.
25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.
26 These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the captain, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.
27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem, they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem to keep the dedication and gladness, both with thanksgivings and with songs, cymbals, viols, and with harps.
28 Then the singers gathered themselves together both from the plain country about Jerusalem, and from the villages of Netophathi, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countries of Geba, and Azmaveth: for the singers had built them villages round about Jerusalem.
30 And the Priests and Levites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wall.
31 And I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies to give thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.
32 And after them went Hoshaijah, and half of the princes of Judah, 33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,
34 Judah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah, 35 And of the Priest’s sons with trumpets, Zechariah, the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Michaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph.

36 And the brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nathan, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.
37 And to the gate of the fountain, even over against them went they up by the steps of the city of David, at the going up of the wall beyond the house of David, even unto the water gate Eastward.
38 And the second company of them that gave thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the half of the people was upon the wall, and upon the tower of the furnaces even unto the broad wall.
39 And upon the gate of Ephraim, and upon the old gate, and upon the fish gate, and the tower of Hananel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the sheep gate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.
40 So stood the two companies (of them that gave thanks) in the house of God, and I and the half of the rulers with me.
41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Minjamin, Michaiah, Eliahoenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the singers sang loud, having Zechariah which was the overseer.
43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced: for God had given them great joy, so that both the women, and the children were joyful: and the joy of Jerusalem was heard far off.
44 Also at the same time were men appointed over the chambers of the store for the offerings, (for the firstfruits, and for the tithes) to gather into them out of the fields of the cities, the portions of the Law for the Priests, and the Levites, for Judah rejoiced for the Priests and for the Levites, that served.
45 And both the singers and the Levites kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purificacation according to the commandment of David, and Solomon his son.
46 For in the days of David and Asaph, of old were chief singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.
47 And in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah did all Israel give portions unto the singers and porters, every day his portion, and they gave the holy things unto the Levites, and the Levites gave the holy things unto the sons of Aaron.

13:1 The Law is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reproved them that break the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serve God.
1 And on that day they did read in the book of Moses, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite (should not enter into the Congregation of God),
2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.
3 Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israel all those that were mixed.
4 ¶ And before this had the Priest Eliashib the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, being kinsman to Tobiah:
5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had there aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corn, of wine, and of oil (appointed for the Levites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.
6 But in all this time was not I in Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes King of Babylon, came I unto the King, and after certain days I obtained of the King.
7 And when I was come to Jerusalem, I understood the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,
8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.
9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I again the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.
10 And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given, and that everyone was fled to his land, even the Levites and singers that executed the work.
11 Then reproved I the rulers and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.
Then brought all Judah the tithes of corn and of wine, and of oil unto the treasures.

And I made treasurers over the treasures, Shemiah the Priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaijah, and under their hand Hanan the son of Zaccur the son of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute unto their brethren.

Remember me, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my kindness that I have showed on the house of my God,

In those days saw I in Judah them, that trod wine presses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figs, and all burdens, and brought them into Jerusalem upon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they sold vittles.

There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and sold on the Sabbath unto the children of Judah even in Jerusalem.

Then reproved I the rulers of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and break the Sabbath day?

Did your fathers thus, and our God brought all this plague upon us, and upon this city? yet ye increase the wrath upon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my servants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandise remained once or twice all night without Jerusalem.

And I protested among them, and said unto them, Why tarry ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once again, I will lay hands upon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

And I said unto the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercy.

In those days also I saw Jews that married wives of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

And their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

Then I reproved them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and pulled off their hair, and took an oath of them by God, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take of their daughters unto your sons nor for yourselves.

Did not Solomon the king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for he was beloved of his God, and God had made him King over Israel: yet strange women caused him to sin.

Shall we then obey unto you, to do all this great evil, and to transgress against our God, even to marry strange wives?

And one of the sons of Joiada the son of Eliashib the high Priest was the son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

Remember them, O my God, that defile the Priesthood, and the covenant of the Priesthood, and of the Levites.

Then cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wards of the Priests and of the Levites, every one in his office.

And for the offering of the wood at times appointed, and for the firstfruits. Remember me, O my God, in goodness.
1 In the days of Ahasuerus (this is Ahasuerus that reigned from India even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred, and seven and twenty provinces.)

2 In those days when the king Ahasuerus sat on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan,

3 In the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes and his servants, even an hundred and fourscore days.

4 That he might show the riches and glory of his kingdom, and the honor of his great majesty many days, even an hundred and fourscore days.

5 And when these days were expired, the king made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both unto great and small, seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace,

6 Under an hanging of white, green, and blue cloths, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple, in silver rings, and pillars of marble: the beds were of gold and of silver upon a pavement of porphyry, and marble and alabaster, and blue color.

7 And they gave them drink in vessels of gold, and changed vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundance, according to the king's power.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compel: for so the king had appointed unto all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queen Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royal house of King Ahasuerus.

10 Upon the seventh day when the King was merry with wine, he commanded Mehman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven eunuchs, (that served in the presence of king Ahasuerus)

11 To bring Queen Vashti before the king with the crown royal, that he might show the people and the princes her beauty: for she was fair to look upon.

12 But the Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's word, which he had given in charge to the eunuchs: therefore the King was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King said to the wise men, that knew the times (for so was the King's manner towards all that knew the law and the judgment:

14 And the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan the seven Princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the King's face, and sat the first in the kingdom.)

15 What shall we do unto the Queen according to the law, because she did not according to the word of the King Ahasuerus by the commission of the eunuchs?

16 Then Memucan answered before the king and the Princes, The Queen Vashti hath not only done evil against the King, but against all the Princes, and against all the people that are in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus.

17 For the act of the Queen shall come abroad unto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their own eyes, and shall say, The King Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the Queen to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the Princesses of Persia and Media this day say unto all the King's Princes, when they hear of the act of the Queen: thus shall there be much despitefulness and wrath.

19 If it please the King, let a royal decree proceed from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia and Media, (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come 'no more before king Ahasuerus: and let the king give her royal estate unto her companion that is better than she.

20 And when the decree of the King which shall be made, shall be published throughout all his kingdom (though it be 'great) all the women shall give their husbands honor, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King and the Princes, and the King did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the provinces of the King, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should 'bear rule in his own house, and that he should publish it in the language of that same people.

2 After the Queen is put away, certain young maids are brought to the king. 17 Esther pleaseth the King, and is made Queen. 22 Mordecai discloseth unto the king those that would betray him.

1 After these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus was appeased, he 'remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed 'against her.

2 And the King's servants that ministered unto him, said, Let them seek for the King beautiful young virgins,

3 And let the King appoint officers through all the provinces of his Kingdom, and let them gather all the beautiful young virgins unto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, under the hand of Hegai the King's eunuch, 'keeper of the women, to give them their things 'for purification.

4 And the maid that shall please the King, let her reign in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the city of Shushan there was a certain Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish a man of Benjamin,

6 Which had been carried away from Jerusalem 'with the captivity that was carried away with Jecoxiah King of Judah (whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had carried away.)

7 And he nourished Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maid was fair and beautiful to look on: and after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecai took her for his own daughter.

8 And when the king's commandment, and his decree was published, and many maids were brought together to the palace of Shushan, under the hand of Hegai, Esther was brought also unto the King's house under the hand of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the maid pleased him, and she found favor in his sight, therefore he caused her things for purification to be given her speedily, and her 'state, and seven comely maids to be given her out of the King's house, and he gave change to her and to her maids of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Esther showed not her people and her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that she should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked 'every day before the court of the women's house, to know if Esther did well, and what should be done with her.

12 And when the course of every maid came, to go in to King Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve months according to the manner of the women (for so were the days of their purifications accomplished, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odors and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maids unto the King) whatsoever she required, was 'given her to go with her out of the women's house unto the king's house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women under the hand of Shashgaz the King's eunuch, which kept the concubines: she came in to the King no more, except she pleased the King, and that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course of Esther the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his own daughter) came, that she should go in to the king, she desired nothing, but what 'Hegai the king's eunuch the keeper of the women 'said: and Esther found favor in the sight of all them that looked upon her.
16 ¶ So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus into his house royal in the tenth month, which is the 1month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.
17 And the King loved Esther above all the women, and she found grace and favor in his sight more than all the virgins: so that he set the crown of the kingdom upon her head, and made her Queen instead of Vashti.
18 Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes, and his servants, which was 2the feast of Esther, and gave rest 3unto the provinces, and gifts, according to the 4power of a king.
19 And when the virgins were gathered the 5second time, then Mordecai sat in the king's gate.
20 Esther had not yet showed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did after the word of Mordecai, as when she was nourished with him.
21 ¶ In those days when Mordecai sat in the king's gate, two of the king's eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept the door, were wroth, and sought to lay 1hand on the King Ahasuerus.
22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, and he told it unto Queen Esther, and Esther certified the 2king thereof in Mordecai's name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the 3Chronicles before the king.

3 1Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the King, that all the Jews should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as others had.
1 After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.
2 And all the king's servants that were at the king's gate, bowed their knees, and reverenced Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not the knee, neither did reverence.
3 Then the king's servants which were at the king's gate, said unto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the king's commandment?
4 And albeit they spake daily unto him, yet he would not hear them: therefore they 5told Haman, that they might see how Mordecai's matters would stand: for he had told them, that he was a Jew.
5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee unto him, nor did reverence unto him, then Haman was full of wrath.
6 Now he 7thought it too little to lay hands only on Mordecai: and because they had showed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, even the people of Mordecai.
7 In the first month (that is the month 8Nisan) in the twelfth year of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur (that is a lot) 9before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month unto the twelfth month, that is the month 10Adar.
8 Then Haman said unto king Ahasuerus, There is a people scattered, and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom, and their laws are divers from all people, and they do not observe the 1King's laws: therefore it is not the king's profit to suffer them.
9 If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed, and I will 1pay ten thousand talents of silver by the hands of them that have the charge of this business to bring it into the king's treasury.
10 Then the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite the Jews' adversary.
11 And the king said unto Haman, Let the silver be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.
12 Then were the king's 1Scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first month, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) unto the king's officers, and to the captains that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people, and to every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people according to their language: in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the king's ring.
13 And the letters were sent 1by posts into all the king's provinces, to root out, to kill and to destroy all the Jews, both young and old, children and women, in one day upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (which is the month Adar) and to spoil them as a prey.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be given a commandment in all provinces, and published unto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the posts compelled by the King's commandment went forth, and the commandment was given in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman sat drinking, but the 'city of Shushan was in perplexity.

4 5 Mordecai giveth the Queen knowledge of the cruel decree of the king against the Jews. 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

1 Now when Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a great cry, and a bitter.

2 And he came even before the King's gate, but he might not enter within the king's gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in every province and place, whither the king's charge and his commission came, there was great sorrow among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, and 'many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Esther's maids and her Eunuchs came and told it her: therefore the queen was very heavy, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but he received it not.

5 Then called Esther Hathach one of the King's eunuchs, whom he 'had appointed to serve her, and gave him a commandment unto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hathach went forth to Mordecai unto the street of the city, which was before the king's gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that which had come unto him, and of the 'sum of the silver that Haman had promised to pay unto the King's treasures, because of the Jews, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gave him the 'copy of the writing and commission that was given at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might show it unto Esther and declare it unto her, and to charge her that she should go in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hathach came, he told Esther the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Esther said unto Hathach, and commanded him to say unto Mordecai, 11 All the king's servants and the people of the King's provinces do know, That whosoever, man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that he may live. Now I have not been called to come unto the king these thirty days.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esther's words.

13 And Mordecai said, that they should answer Esther thus, Think not with thyself that thou shalt escape in the king's house, more than all the Jews.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliverance 'shall appear to the Jews out of another place, but thou and thy father's house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for 'such a time?

15 Then Esther commanded to answer Mordecai,

16 Go, and assemble all the Jews that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eat not, nor drink for three days, day nor night. I also and my maids will fast likewise, and so will I go in to the King, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, 'I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

5 1 Esther entereth to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepareth a gallows for Mordecai.

1 And on the third 'day Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the court of the King's palace within, over against the King's house: and the King sat upon his royal throne in the king's palace over against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King saw Esther the Queen standing in the court, she found favor in his sight: and the King 'had out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Esther drew near, and touched the top of the scepter.

5:1 To wit, after that the Jews had begun to fast.
5:2 Which was a sign that her coming was agreeable unto him, as Esther 4:11.
3 Then said the King unto her, What wilt thou, Queen Esther? and what is thy request? it shall be even 1given thee to the half of the kingdom.

4 Then said Esther, If it please the king, let the King and Haman come this day unto the banquet, that I have prepared for him.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the king said unto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be given thee? and what is thy request? it shall even be performed unto the half of the kingdom.

7 Then answered Esther, and said, My petition, and my request is, 3

8 If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to give me my petition, and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do tomorrow according to the king's 1saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day joyful, and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he stood not up, nor moved for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Nevertheless, Haman refrained himself: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had 1promoted him, and how that he had set him above the princes and servants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Yea, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that she had prepared, save me: and tomorrow am I bidden unto her also with the king.

13 But all this doth nothing avail me, as long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate.

14 Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends unto him, Let them make a tree of fifty 1cubits high, and tomorrow speak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou go joyfully with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

6:4 1 Thus while the wicked imagine the destruction of others, they themselves fall into the same pit.
6:8 1 Meaning hereby that the king should make him next unto himself, as Joseph hereby was known to be next to Pharaoh, Gen. 41:41.
ESTHER 6:12

6:12 1 Thus God sometimes putteth in the mouth of the very wicked, to speak that which he hath decreed shall come to pass.

7:1 1 Read Esther 5:6.

7:2 1 Haman could not so much profit the king by this his malice, as he should hinder him by the loss of the Jews, and the tribute which he hath of them.

7:5 1 Hebrew, filleth his heart.

7:7 1 His conscience did accuse him that as he had conspired the death of innocents, so the vengeance of God might fall upon him for the same.

7:8 1 He fell down at the bed's feet or couch, whereupon she sat, and made request for his life.

8:1 1 That is, was received into the king's favor and presence.

8:2 1 This was the manner of the Persians, when one was out of the king's favor.

8:3 1 Meaning, that he should abolish the wicked decrees, which he had made for the destruction of the Jews.

8:4 1 Read Esther 5:2.

8:7 1 Or, went about to slay the Jews.
the Jews.

8 Write ye also for the Jews, as it liketh you in the King's name, and seal it with the King's ring, (for the writings written in the King's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may no man revoke.)

9 Then were the King's Scribes called at the same time, even in the third month, that is the month Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded, unto the Jews and to the princes, and captains and rulers of the provinces, which were from India even unto Ethiopia, an hundred and seven and twenty provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their speech, and to the Jews, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahasuerus's name, and sealed it with the King's ring, and he sent letters by posts on horseback and that rode on beasts of price, as dromedaries, and 'colts of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Jews (in what cities soever they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the province that vexed them, both children and women, and to spoil their goods:

12 Upon one day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, even in the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

13 The copy of the writing was, how there should be a commandment given in all and every province, published among all the people, and that the Jews should be ready against that day, to avenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the posts rode upon beasts of price, and dromedaries, and went forth with speed, to execute the King's commandment, and the decree was given at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royal apparel of blue, and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad.

16 And unto the Jews was come light and joy and gladness, and honor.

17 Also in all and every province, and in all and every city and place, where the King's commandment and his decree came, there was joy and gladness to the Jews, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Jews: for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

9 1 At the commandment of the King, the Jews put their adversaries to death. 14 The ten sons of Haman are hanged. 17 The Jews keep a feast in remembrance of their deliverance.

9:1 1 This was the law of the Medes and Persians, as Dan. 6:15, notwithstanding the king revoked the former decree granted to Haman, for Esther’s sake.

9:2 That is, in such letters and language, as was usual in every province.

9:3 1 Or, mules.

9:4 1 That is, to defend themselves against all that would assail them.

9:5 1 Which hath part of February and part of March.

9:6 1 The king gave them liberty to kill all that did oppress them.

9:8:1 This was the law of the Medes and Persians, as Dan. 6:15, notwithstanding the king revoked the former decree granted to Haman, for Esther’s sake.

9:8:2 Which containeth part of May and part of June.

9:8:3 1 Or, mules.

9:8:4 That is, to defend themselves against all that would assail them.

9:8:5 Which hath part of February and part of March.

9:8:6 1 The king gave them liberty to kill all that did oppress them.

9:8:8 1 This was the law of the Medes and Persians, as Dan. 6:15, notwithstanding the king revoked the former decree granted to Haman, for Esther’s sake.

9:8:9 That is, in such letters and language, as was usual in every province.

9:8:10 1 Or, mules.

9:8:11 That is, to defend themselves against all that would assail them.

9:8:12 Which hath part of February and part of March.

9:8:13 1 The king gave them liberty to kill all that did oppress them.

9:8:16 1 He showeth by these words that follow, what this light was.

9:8:17 1 Conformed themselves to the Jew’s religion.

9:9:1 This was by God’s great providence, who turneth the joy of the wicked into sorrow, and the tears of the godly into gladness.

9:9:3 1 Did them honor, and showed them friendship.

9:9:5 Which had conspired their death by the permission of the wicked Haman.

9:9:6 1 Besides those three hundred, that they slew the second day, as verse 15.

9:9:10 Whereby they declared that this was God’s just judgment upon the enemies of his Church, forasmuch as they sought not their own gain, but to execute his vengeance.
12 And the King said unto the Queen Esther, The Jews have slain in Shushan the palace, and destroyed five hundred men, and the ten sons of Haman: what have they done in the rest of the King's provinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be given thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

13 Then said Esther, If it please the King, let it be granted also tomorrow to the Jews that are in Shushan, to do according unto this day's decree, that they may hang upon the tree Haman's ten sons.

14 And the King charged to do so, and the decree was given at Shushan, and they hanged Haman's ten sons.

15 ¶ So the Jews that were in Shushan, assembled themselves upon the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the spoil they laid not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Jews that were in the King's provinces assembled themselves, and stood for 'their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that 'hated them, seventy and five thousand: but they laid not their hand on the spoil.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and joy.

18 But the Jews that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and joy.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages that dwelt in the unwalled towns, kept the fourteenth day of the month Adar with joy and feasting, even a joyful day, and everyone sent presents unto his neighbor.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote these words, and sent letters unto all the Jews that were through all the provinces of the King Ahasuerus, both near and far, 21 Enjoining them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, every year.

22 According to the days wherein the Jews rested from their enemies, and the month which was turned into a joyful day, to keep them the days of feasting and joy, and to 'send presents every man to his neighbor, and gifts to the poor.

23 And the Jews promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them, 24 Because Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite all the Jews' adversary had imagined against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

25 And when she came before the king, he commanded letters, Let this wicked device (which he imagined against the Jews) turn upon his own head, and let them hang him and his sons on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these days Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen besides this, and of that which had come unto them.

27 The Jews also ordained, and promised for them and for their seed, and for all that joined unto them, that they would not fail to observe those two days every year, according to their writing, and according unto their season,

28 And that these days should be remembered, and kept throughout every generation and every family, and every province, and every city: even these days of Purim should not fail among the Jews, and the memorial of them should not perish from their seed.

29 And the Queen Esther the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Jew wrote with all authority (to confirm this letter of Purim the second time.)

30 And he sent letters unto all the Jews to the hundred and seven and twenty provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth,

31 To confirm these days of Purim according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the Queen had appointed them, and as they had promised for themselves and for their seed with fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Esther confirmed these words of Purim, and was written in the book.

10 1 The estimation and authority of Mordecai.
1 And the King Ahasuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the isles of the sea.
2 And all the acts of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignity of Mordecai, wherewith the King magnified him, are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?
3 For Mordecai the Jew was the second unto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, who procured the wealth of his people, and spake peaceably to all his seed.

10:3 1 These three points are here set forth as commendable and necessary for him that is in authority, to have the favor of the people, to procure their wealth, and to be gentle and loving toward them.

1. The holiness, riches, and care of Job for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

1. There was a man in the land of Uz called Job, and this man was an upright and just man, one that feared God, and eschewed evil.

2. And he had seven sons, and three daughters.

3. His substance also was seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she asses, and his family was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4. And his sons went and banqueted in their houses, every one his day, and sent, and called their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.

5. And when the days of their banqueting were gone about, Job sent, and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job thought, It may be that my sons have sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts, thus did Job every day.

6. ¶ Now on a day when the children of God came and stood before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

7. Then the Lord said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, 2From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8. And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou not considered my servant Job, how none is like him in the earth? an upright and just man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?

9. Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doth Job fear God for nought?

10. Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11. But stretch our now thine hand and touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12. Then the Lord said unto Satan, Lo, all that he hath is in thine hand: only upon himself shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13. ¶ And on a day, when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother’s house,

14. There came a messenger unto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,
15 And the 'Sabeans came violently, and took them: yea, they have slain the servants with the edge of the sword: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.
16 And while he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The 'fire of God is fallen from the heaven, and hath burnt up the sheep and the servants, and devoured them: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.
17 And while he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Chaldeans set on three bands, and fell upon the camels, and have taken them, and have slain the servants with the edge of the sword: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.
18 And while he was yet speaking, came another, and said, Thy 'sons, and thy daughters eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,
19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, which fell upon the children, and they are dead, and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.
20 Then Job arose, and 'rent his garment, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And said, 'Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord hath given, and the Lord hath taken it: 'blessed be the Name of the Lord.
22 In all this did not Job sin, nor charge God 'foolishly.

2 Satan hath permission to afflict Job. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visit him.

1:15 1 That is, the Arabians.
1:16 1 Which thing was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Job the more grievously, forasmuch as he might see, that not only men were his enemies, but that God made war against him.
1:18 1 This last plague declareth, that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send us another far more grievous, to try his, and teach them obedience.
1:20 1 Which came not of impatience, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blocks, but that in their patience they feel affliction and grief of mind: yet they keep a mean herein, that in their patience their sufferings are no more than the just reward of their sins.
1:21 1 That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all.
1:22 1 But declared that God did all things according to justice and equity.
2:1 1 That is, the Angels, as Job 1:6.
2 2 Read Job 1:6.
2:3 1 He proveth Job's integrity by this, that he ceased not to fear God when his plagues were grievously upon him.
2 2 That is, when thou hadst nought against him, or when thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to pass.
2:4 1 Hence he meant, that a man's own skin is dearer unto him than another man's.
2:5 1 Meaning, his own person.
2:6 1 Thus Satan can go no further in punishing, than God hath limited him.
2:7 1 This sore was most vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9:9, and threateneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28:27, so that this temptation was most grievous: for if Job had measured God's favor by the vehemency of his disease, he might have thought that God had cast him off.
2:8 1 As destitute of all other help and means, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorrow of his disease.
2:9 1 Satan useth the same instrument against Job, as he did against Adam.
2 2 Meaning, what gainest thou to serve God, seeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he were thine enemy? This is the most grievous temptation of the faithful, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to persuade them that they trust in God in vain.
2:10 1 For death was appointed to the blasphemer, and so she meant that he should soon be rid out of his pain.
2:12 1 That is, to be patient in adversity, as we rejoice when he sendeth prosperity, and so to acknowledge him to be both merciful and just.
2:13 2 He so bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatience did not murmur against God.
Now when Job's three 'friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

So when they lifted up their eyes afar off, they knew him not: therefore they lifted up their voices and wept, and every one of them rent his garment and sprinkled 'dust upon their heads toward the heaven.

So they sat by him upon the ground seven days, and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that the grief was very 'great.

Afterward 'Job opened his mouth, and 'curseth the day of his birth.

He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all man's misery.

Afterward 'Job opened his mouth, and 'curseth his day.

And Job cried out, and said,

Let the day 'perish wherein I was born, and the night when it was said, There is a man child conceived.

Let that day be darkness, let not God 'regard it from above, neither let the light shine upon it,

But let darkness and the 'shadow of death stain it: let the cloud remain upon it, and let them make it fearful as a bitter day.

Let darkness possess that night, let it not be joined unto the days of the year, nor let it come into the count of the months.

Yea, desolate be that night, and let no joy be in it.

Let them that curse the day, (being 'ready to renew their mourning;) curse it.

Let the stars of that twilight be dim through darkness of it: let it look for light, but have none: neither let it 'see 'the dawning of the day,

Because it shut not up the doors of my mother's womb, nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

'Why did I not in the birth? or why did I not, when I came out of the womb?

Why did the knees prevent me? and why did I suck the breasts?

For so should I now have 'lain and been quiet, I should have slept then, and been at rest,

With the kings and counselors of the earth, which have built themselves 'desolate places:

Or with the princes that had gold, and have filled their houses with silver.

Or why was I not hid, as an untimely birth, either as infants, which have not seen the light?

The wicked 'have there ceased from their tyranny, and there they that labored valiantly, are at rest.

The 'prisoners rest together, and 'hear not the voice of the oppressor.

There are small and great, and the servant is free from his master.

Wherefore is the light given to him that is in misery? and 'life unto them that have heavy hearts?

Which long for death, and if it come not, they would even search it more than treasures:

Which joy for gladness, and rejoice, when they can find the grave.

Why is the light given to the man whose way is 'hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

For my sighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the water.

For the thing I 'feared, is come upon me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come unto me.
26 Then Eliphaz the Temanite, answered and said,
27 If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but let us learn to speak after the manner of men.
28 Thence we receive comfort and consolation: when we are wholly confounded, then will we find comfort.
29 The righteous also shall be a comfort to his friends, and shall find comfort when he is in trouble.
30 Many, greatly desirous to live long, grieve themselves for the fear of life.
31 For the fear of the Lord is the spirit of wisdom: and therefore man knoweth not what will come to him.
32 When a man is brought low, then he shall pray; therefore will I help him: for he knoweth my name.
33 When a man is in feeble estate, then Thou shouldest extend thine hand; he shall know that it is of the Lord.
34 Happy is the man that hath the Spirit of wisdom: but the knowledge of the foolish is as the death of the wise.
35 For the blind see better in darkness, and the deaf hear in the land of the dead.
36 Wisdom is hid in the heart of him that hath it: and it is not known to the children of men.
37 The fear of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperity to seem to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.
38 For the fear of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperity to seem to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.
39 But my eye hath not seen a thing like this: neither my ear hath heard a thing like this.
40 What man is there that hath seen any thing like this? or where was he that hath heard?
41 What eye hath seen anything like this? or who hath heard anything like it?
42 What ear hath heard anything like this? or what eye hath seen anything like it?
43 My heart is rude in me through that which is brought to me; my flesh trembleeth for fear.
44 All the drinking fountains thereof shall dry up, the rivers of waters shall be turned into blood.
45 I had no peace, neither had I quietness, neither had I rest, yet trouble is come.
46 Job is reprehended of impatience, and injustice, and of the presumption of his own righteousness.
47 Then Eliphaz the Temanite, answered and said,
48 When all things were quiet, or when the fear was somewhat subdued, then did I hold my peace, and let trouble go by me.
49 But when I felt my heart to have passed, and my fancy to be troubled with trouble, then went I about to search by reasoning,
50 That which my mind had not known of before was declared unto me.
51 The thing that I knew not before, was declared unto me by reason of my hearing.
52 In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is ever a certain fear joined, that the authority thereof might be had in greater reverence.
53 When all things were quiet, or when the fear was somewhat assuaged, as God appeared to Elijah, 1 Kings 19:12.
JOE 5:5

5  The hungry shall eat up his harvest: yea, they shall take it from among the thorns, and the thirsty shall drink up their substance.

6  For misery cometh not forth of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7  But man is born unto travail, as the sparks fly upward.

8  But I would inquire at God, and turn my talk unto God:

9  Which doeth great things, and unsearchable, and marvelous things without number.

10  He giveth rain upon the earth, and poureth water upon the streets.

11  And setteth up on high them that be low, that the sorrowful may be exalted to salvation.

12  He scattereth the devices of the crafty: so that their hands cannot accomplish that which they do enterprise.

13  He taketh the wise in their craftiness, and the counsel of the wicked is made foolish.

14  They meet with darkness in the daytime, and grope at noonday, as in the night.

15  But he saveth the poor from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man.

16  So that the poor hath his hope, but iniquity shall stop her mouth.

17  Behold, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.

18  For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it up: he smiteth, and his hands make whole.

19  He shall deliver thee in six troubles, and in the seventh the evil shall not touch thee.

20  In famine he shall deliver thee from death: and in battle from the power of the sword.

21  Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

22  But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

23  For the stones of the field shall be in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24  And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not sin.

25  Thou shalt perceive also that thy seed shall be great, and thy posterity as the grass of the earth.

26  Thou shalt go to thy grave in a full age, as a rick of corn cometh in due season into the barn.

27  Lo, thus have we inquired of it, and so it is: hear this and know it for thyself.

1  Job answered, that his pain is more grievous than his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

1  But Job answered and said,

2  Oh that my grief were well weighed, and my miseries were laid together in the balance!

3  For it would be now heavier than the sand of the sea: therefore my words are swallowed up.

4  For the arrows of the Almighty are in me, the venom whereof doth drink up my spirit, and the terrors of God fight against me.

5  Doth the wild ass bray when he hath grass? or loweth the ox when he hath fodder?

6  That which is unsavory, shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egg?

7  Such things as my soul refused to touch, as were sorrows, are my meat.

8 Oh that I might have my desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!
9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand go, and cut me off.
10 Then should I yet have comfort, (though I burn with sorrow, let him not spare) because I have not denied the words of the Holy one.
11 What power have I that I should endure? or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life?
12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass?
13 Is it not so, that there is in me no help? and that ’strength is taken from me?
14 He that is in misery, ought to be comforted of his neighbor: but men have forsaken the fear of the Almighty.
15 My brethren have deceived me as a brook, and as the rising of the rivers they pass away.
16 Which are blackish with ice, and wherein the snow is hid.
17 But in time they are dried up with heat and are consumed: and when it is hot they fail out of their places.
18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish.
19 They that go to Tema, considered them, and they that go to Sheba, waited for them.
20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither, and were ashamed.
21 Surely now are ye like unto it: ye have seen my fearful plague, and are afraid.
22 Was it because I said, Bring unto me? or give a reward to me of your substance?
23 And deliver me from the enemy's hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?
24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cause me to understand, wherein I have erred.
25 How ’steadfast are the words of righteousness? and what can any of you justly reprove?
26 Do ye imagine to reprove words, that the talk of the afflicted should be as the wind?
27 Ye make your wrath to fall upon the fatherless, and dig a pit for your friend.
28 Now therefore be content to look upon me: for I will not lie before your face.
29 Turn, I pray you, let there be none iniquity: return, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousness in that behalf. Is there iniquity in my tongue? doth not my mouth feel sorrows?

7 1 Job showeth the shortness and misery of man's life.

1 Is there not an appointed time to man upon earth? and are not his days as the days of an hireling?
2 As a servant longeth for the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his work,
3 So have I had as an inheritance the months of vanity, and painful nights have been appointed unto me.
4 If I laid me down, I said, When shall I arise? and measuring the evening, I am even full with tossing to and fro unto the dawning of the day.
5 My flesh is clothed with worms and filthiness of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.
6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and they are spent without hope.
7 Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye shall not return to see pleasure.
8 The eye that hath seen me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are upon me, and I shall be no longer.
9 As the cloud vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth down to the grave, shall come up no more.

6:8 1 Herein he sinneth double, both in wishing through impatience to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.
6:10 1 That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in God's promise through my impatience.
6:11 1 He fearest lest he should be brought to inconveniences, if his sorrows should continue.
6:13 1 Have I not sought to help myself as much as was possible?
6:15 1 He compareth those friends which comfort us not in misery, to a brook, which in summer, when we need water, is dry, in winter is hard frozen, and in the time of rain, when we have no need, overfloweth with water.
6:19 1 They that pass thereby to go into the hot countries of Arabia, think to find water there to quench their thirst, but they are deceived.
6:21 1 That is, like to this brook which deceiveth them that think to have water there in their need, as I looked for consolation at your hands.
6:22 1 He toucheth the worldlings, which for necessity will give part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not give him comfortable words.
6:24 1 Show me wherein I have erred, and I will confess my fault.
6:25 1 He that hath a good conscience doth not shrink at the sharp words or reasonings of others, except they be able to persuade him by reason.
6:26 1 Do you cavil at my words because I should be thought to speak foolishly, which am now in misery?
6:28 1 Consider whether I speak as one that is driven to this impatience through very sorrow, or as an hypocrite as you condemn me.
7:1 1 Hath not an hired servant some rest and ease? then in this my continual torment I am worse than an hireling.
7:3 1 My sorrow hath continued from month to month, and I have looked for hope in vain.
7:5 1 This signifieth that his disease was rare and most horrible.
7:6 1 Thus he speaketh in respect of the brevity of man's life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration whereof he desireth God to have compassion on him.
7:9 1 If thou behold me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.
2 Shall no more enjoy this mortal life.
10 He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him anymore.
11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speak in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitterness of my mind.
12 Am I a sea or a whalefish, that thou keepest me in ward?
13 When I say, My couch shall relieve me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me with dreams, and astonishest me with visions.
15 Therefore my soul chooseth rather to be strangled and to die, than to be in my bones.
16 I abhor it: I shall not live always: spare me my spittle.
17 What is man, that thou dost magnify him, and that thou settest thine heart upon him?
18 And dost visit him every morning, and triest him every moment?
19 How long wilt it be ere thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone while I may swallow my spittle.
20 I have sinned, what shall I do unto thee? O thou preserver of men, why hast thou set me in the dust, and if thou seek me in the morning, I shall not be found.

8 1 Bildad sheweth that Job is a sinner, because that God punisheth the wicked, and preserveth the good.
1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,
2 How long wilt thou talk of these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a mighty wind?
3 Doth God pervert judgment? or doth the Almighty subvert justice?
4 If thy sons have sinned against him, and he hath sent them into the place of their iniquity,
5 Yet if thou wilt early seek unto God, and pray to the Almighty,
6 If thou be pure and upright, then surely he will awake up unto thee, and he will make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.
7 And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.
8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thyself to search of their fathers.
9 (For we are but of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our days upon earth are but a shadow)
10 Shall not they teach thee, and utter the words of their heart?
11 Can a rush grow without mire? or can the grass grow without water?
12 Though it were in green and not cut down, yet shall it wither before any other herb.
13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrite’s hope shall perish.
14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spider.
15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.
16 The tree is green before the Sun, and the branches spread over the garden thereof.
17 The roots thereof are wrapped about the fountain, and are folded about the house of stones.
18 If any pluck it from his place, and it deny, saying, I have not seen thee,
9:11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceive him not.

9:12 He removeth the mountains, and they feel not when he overthroweth them in his wrath.

9:13 He removeth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof do shake.

9:14 He declareth what is the infirmity of man, by the mighty and incomprehensible power that is in God, showing what he could do if he would set forth his power.

9:15 I am not able to comprehend his works, which are common and daily before my eyes, much less in those things, which are hid and secret.

9:16 He sheweth that when God doth execute his power, he doeth it justly, forasmuch as none can control him.

9:17 I am not able to feel my sins so great, as I feel the weight of his plagues; and this he speaketh to condemn his dullness, and to justify God.

9:18 God will not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty helpers do stoop under him.

9:19 If I would stand in mine own defense, yet God hath just cause to condemn me: if I were perfect, he shall justify God and his power.

9:20 If I should justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: if I would be perfect, he shall judge me wicked.

9:21 Though I were perfect, yet I know not my soul: therefore abhor I my life.

9:22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.

9:23 If the scourge should suddenly slay, should God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

9:24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he covereth the faces of the judges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he?

9:25 My days have been more swift than a post: they are passed away, even of the best of them.

9:26 They are passed as with the most swift ships, and as the Eagle that flieth to the prey.

9:27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me.

9:28 Then I am afraid of all my sorrows, knowing that thou wilt not judge me innocent.

8:19 To be planted in another place, where it may grow at pleasure.

8:21 If thou be godly, he will give thee occasion to rejoice, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

9:2 Job here answereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildad's oration, touching the justice of God, and his innocency, confessing God to be infinite in justice, and man to be nothing in respect.

9:3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answer him one thing of a thousand.

9:4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who had been fierce against him, and hath prospered?

9:5 He removeth the mountains, and they feel not when he overthroweth them in his wrath.

9:6 He removeth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof do shake.

9:7 He commandeth the Sun, and it riseth not: he closeth up the stars, as under a signet.

9:8 He himself alone spreadeth out the heavens, and walketh upon the height of the Sea.

9:9 He maketh the stars Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

9:10 He doeth great things, and unsearchable: yea, marvelous things without number.

9:11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceive him not:

9:12 Behold, when he taketh a prey, who can make him to restore it? who shall say unto him, What dost thou?
If I were wicked, why do I labor thus in vain?
If I wash myself with snow water, and purge mine hands most clean,
Yet shalt thou plunge me in the pit, and mine hands most clean,
For he is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, if we come together to judgment.
Neither is there any umpire that might lay his hand upon us both.
Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear astonish me:
Then will I speak, and fear him not: but because I am not so, I hold me still.

My soul is cut off though I live: I will leave my complaint upon myself, and will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
I will say unto God, Condemn me not: show me, wherefore thou contendest with me.
Thinkest thou it good to oppress me, and to cast off the labor of thine hands, and to favor the counsel of the wicked?
Hast thou carnal eyes? or dost thou see as man seeth?
Are thy days as man's days? or thy years as the time of man,
That thou inquietest of mine iniquity, and searchest out my sin?
Thou knowest that I cannot do wickedly: for none can deliver me out of thine hand.

Thine hands have made me, and fashioned me wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy me?
Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust again?
Hast thou not poured me out as milk? and turned me to curds like cheese?
Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and joined me together with bones and sinews.
Thou hast given me life, and grace: and the visitation hath preserved my spirit.
Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I know that it is so with thee.
If I have sinned, then thou wilt straightly look unto me, and wilt not hold me guiltless of mine iniquity.
If I have done wickedly, woe unto me: if I have done righteously, I will not lift up mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.
But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lion: return and show thyself marvelous upon me.
Thou renewest thy plagues against me, and increasest thy wrath against me: changes and armies of sorrows are against me.
Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the womb? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seen me!
And that I were as I had not been, but brought from the womb to the grave!
Are not my days few? let him cease, and leave off from me, that I may take a little comfort,
Before I go and shall not return, even to the land of darkness and shadow of death:
Into a land, I say, dark as darkness itself, and 11 1 Job is unjustly reprehended of Zophar.  7 God is incomprehensible.  14 He is merciful to the repentant.  18 Their assurance that live godly.

1  Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,
2  Should not the multitude of words be answered? or should a great talker be justified?
3  Should men hold their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?
4  For thou hast said, 1My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.
5  But, oh that God would speak and open his lips against thee!
6  That he might show thee the 1secrets of wisdom how thou hast deserved double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquity.
7  Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty to his perfection?
8  The heavens are high, what canst thou do? it is deeper than the hell, how can thou know it?
9  The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and it is broader than the Sea.
10  If he cut off and 1shut up, or gather together, who can turn him back?
11  For he knoweth vain men, and seeth iniquity, and him that understandeth nothing.
12  Yet vain man would be wise, though man newborn is like a wild ass colt.
13  If thou 1prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him:
14  If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let no wickedness dwell in thy Tabernacle.

12 2 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance.  7 He declareth the might, and power of God.  17 And how he changeth the course of things.

1  Then Job answered, and said,
2  Indeed because that ye are the people only, 1wisdom must die with you.
3  But I have understanding as well as you, and am not inferior unto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?
4  I am 1as one mocked of his neighbor, who calleth upon God, and he 2heareth him: the just calleth, and he is answered.
5  1He that is ready to fall, where is he? and he that is safe, where is he?
6  If a person be 1swift to hear, where is he that shall understand it? and he that knoweth wisdom where is he?
7  Now therefore I am not inferior unto you: yea, who knoweth not that wisdom is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts do daily teach.
8  Or speak to the earth, and it shall show thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall tell thee:
9  If thou hast 1prepared thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him:
10  If God should turn the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could control him?
11  That is, without understanding: so that whatsoever gifts he hath afterward, come of God, and not of nature.
12  If thou repent, pray unto him.
13  Renounce thine own evil works, and see that they offend not God, over whom thou hast charge.
9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?
10 In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind?
11 Doth not the ears discern the words, and the mouth taste meat for itself?
12 Among the ancient is wisdom, and in the length of days is understanding.
13 With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsel and understanding.
14 Behold, he will break down, and it cannot be built: he shattereth a man up, and he cannot be loosed.
15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: but when he sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.
16 With him is strength and wisdom: he that is deceived, and that deceitful, are his.
17 He causeth the counselors to go as spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.
18 He looseth the collar of kings, and girdeth their loins with a girdle.
19 He leadeth away the princes as a prey, and overthroweth the mighty.
20 He taketh away the speech from the faithfull counselors, and taketh away the judgment of the ancient.
21 He poureth contempt upon princes, and maketh the strength of the mighty weak.
22 He discovereth the deep places from darkness, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.
23 He increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in again.
24 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chief over the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilderness out of the way.
25 They grope in the dark without light: and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

13 3 Job compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall be saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth unto God, that he would not handle him rigorously.

1 Lo, mine eye hath seen all this: mine ear hath heard, and understood it.
2 I know also as much as you know: I am not inferior unto you.
3 But I will speak to the Almighty, and I desire to dispute with God.
4 For indeed ye forge lies, and all you are physicians of no value.
5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisdom!
6 Now hear my disputation, and give ear to the arguments of my lips.
7 Will ye speak wickedly for God's defense, and talk deceitfully for his cause?
8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?
9 Is it well that he should seek of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?
10 He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept any person.
11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his fear fall upon you?
12 Your memories may be compared unto ashes, and your bodies unto bodies of clay.
13 Hold your tongues in my presence, that I may speak, and let come upon what will.
14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and speak, and let come upon what will?
15 Lo, though he slay me, put my soul in my hand?
16 He shall be my salvation also: for the hypocrite condemned, 20 He prayeth unto God, that he would not handle him rigorously.
17 Hear diligently my words, that I may speak, and understand it.
18 Your memories may be compared unto ashes, and your bodies unto bodies of clay.
19 He causeth that their words have no credit, which is when he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set forth his power in words as they that reasoned against, were.
20 For although he knew that God had a justice, which was manifest in his ordinary working and another in his secret counsel, yet he would utter his affection to God, because he was not able to understand the cause why he did thus punish him.
12:8 1 He abateth the honor of princes, and bringeth them into the subjection of others.
12:10 1 Or, flesh.
12:11 1 He exhorteth them to be wise in judging, and as well to know the right use why God hath given them ears, as he hath done a mouth.
12:12 1 Though men by age, and continuance of time attain to wisdom, yet it is not comparable to God's wisdom, nor able to comprehend his judgments, wherein he answereth to that which was alleged, Job 8:8.
12:16 1 He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without God's will and appointment: wherein he declareth that 18 Behold now: if I prepare me to judgment, I know that I shall be justified.
19 Who is he that will plead with me? for if I now hold my tongue, I die.
20 But do not these two things unto me: then will I not hide myself from thee.
21 Withdraw thine hand from me, and let not thy fear make me afraid.
22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.
23 How many are mine iniquities and sins, show me my rebellion and my sin.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and taketh me for thine enemy?
25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?
26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and shouldest give me term, and remember me!
27 Thou pourest my feet also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly unto all my paths, and makest the print thereof in the heels of my feet.
28 Such a one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is moth-eaten.

14:26 Thou punishest me now for the faults that I committed in my youth.
14:27 Thou makest me thy prisoner, and dost so press me that I cannot stir hand nor foot.

13:18 1 That is, cleared and not cast off for my sins, as you reason.
13:19 1 To prove that God doth thus punish me for my sins.
14:6 1 Until the time that thou hast appointed for him to die, which he desireth as the hireling waiteth for the end of his labor to receive his wages.
14:10 1 He speaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortality, but as a man in extreme pain, when reason is overcome by affections and torments.
14:13 1 Hereby he declareth that the fear of God’s judgment was the cause why he desired to die. 2 That is, release my pains and take me to mercy.
14:14 1 Meaning, unto the day of the resurrection when he should be changed, and renewed.
14:15 1 Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall feel thy mercies and answer when thou callest me.
14:17 1 Thou layest them all together, and sufferest none of my sins unpunished.
14:18 1 He murmureth through the impatience of the flesh against God, as though he used as great severity against him as against the hard rocks, or waters that overflow, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.
21 And he knoweth not if his sons shall be honorable, neither shall he understand concerning them, whether they shall be of low degree, 22 But while his flesh is upon him, he shall be sorrowful, and while his soul is in him, it shall mourn.

15 1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Job, because he ascribeth wisdom and pureness to himself. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Job to be one of the number.

1  Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,
2 Shall a wise man speak words of the wind? and fill his belly with the East wind?
3 Shall he dispute with words not comely? or with talk that is not profitable?
4 Surely thou hast cast off fear, and restrainest prayer before God:
5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquity, seeing thou hast chosen the tongue of the crafty.
6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testify against thee.
7 Art thou the first man that was born? and dost thou restrain wisdom to thee?
8 Hast thou heard the secret counsel of God, what do thine eyes mean, and fill his belly with the East wind?
9 What knowest thou that we know not? and understandest that is not in us?
10 With us are both ancient and very aged men, far older than thy father.
11 Seest thou the consolations of God small unto thee? is this thing strange unto thee?
12 Why dost thine heart take thee away, and what do thine eyes mean, 13 That thou answerest to God at thy pleasure, and bringest such words out of thy mouth?
14 What is man, that he should be clean? and he that is born of woman, that he should be just?
15 Behold, he found no steadfastness in his Saints: yea, the heavens are not clean in his sight.
16 How much more is man abominable, and filthy, which drinketh iniquity like water?
17 I will tell thee: hear me, and I will declare that which I have seen:
18 Which wise men have told, as they have heard of their fathers, and have not kept it secret:
19 To whom alone the land was given, and no stranger passed through them.
20 The wicked man is continually as one that travaileth of child, and the number of years is hid from the tyrant.
21 A sound of fear is in his ears, and in his prosperity the destroyer shall come upon him.
22 He believeth not to return out of darkness: for he seeth the sword before him.
23 He wandereth to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkness is prepared at hand.
24 Affliction and anguish shall make him afraid: they shall prevail against him as a king ready to the battle.
25 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himself strong against the Almighty.
26 Therefore shall God run upon him, even upon his neck, and against the most thick part of his shield.
27 Because he hath covered his face with his fatness, and hath collops in his flank.
28 Though he dwell in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heaps,
29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the perfection thereof in the earth.
30 He shall never depart out of darkness: the flame shall dry up his branches, and he shall go away with the breath of his mouth.

14:22 1 Yet while he shall be in pain, and misery.
15:2 1 That is, vain words, and without consolation?
2 Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soon as they are uttered, as the East wind dries up the moisture as soon as it falleth.
15:14 1 He chargeth Job as though his talk caused men to cast off the fear of God, and prayer.
15:15 1 Thou speakest as do the mockers and contempters of God.
15:17 1 That is, the most ancient, and so by reason the most wise?
15:18 1 Art thou only wise?
15:11 1 He accuseth Job’s pride and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsel.
15:12 1 Why dost thou stand in thine own conceit?
15:13 1 Hebrew, in thy spirit.
15:14 1 His purpose is to prove that Job as an unjust man, and an hypocrite is punished for his sins, like as he did before, Job 4:8.
15:16 1 Which hath a desire to sin, as he that is thirsty to drink.
15:19 1 Who by their wisdom so governed, that no stranger invaded them, and so the land seemed to be given to them alone.
15:20 1 The cruel man is ever in danger of death, and is never quiet in conscience.
15:22 1 Out of that misery whereunto he once falleth.
15:23 1 God doth not only impoverish the wicked oft times, but even in their prosperity he punisheth them with a greediness ever more to gather: which is as a beggary.
15:24 1 He showeth what weapons God useth against the wicked, which lift up themselves against him, to wit, terror of conscience, and outward afflictions.
15:27 1 That is, he was so puffed up with great prosperity and abundance of all things, that he forgot God: noting, that Job in his felicity had not the true fear of God.
15:28 1 Though he build and repair ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to naught, and turn his great prosperity into extreme misery.
15:29 1 Meaning, that his sumptuous buildings should never come to perfection.
31 He believeth not that he ereth in vanity: therefore vanity shall be his change.
32 His branch shall not be green, but shall be cut off before his day.
33 God shall destroy him as the vine her sour grape, and shall cast him off, as the olive doth her flower.
34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall be desolate, and fire shall devour the houses of bribes.
35 For they conceive mischief and bring forth vanity, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

16 Job moved by the importunity of his friends. 7 Counteth in what extremity he is. 19 And taketh God to witness of his innocence.

1 But Job answered and said,
2 I have oftentimes heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.
3 Shall there be none end of words of wind? or what maketh thee bold so to answer?
4 I could also speak as ye do: (but would God your soul were in my soul's stead) I could keep you company in speaking, and could shake mine head at you,
5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should assuage your sorrow.
6 Though I speak, my sorrow cannot be assuaged: though I cease, what release have I?
7 But now he maketh me weary: O God, thou hast made all my congregation desolate, and my leanness riseth up in me, testifying the same in my face.
8 And hast made me full of wrinkles which is destruction.
9 His wrath hath torn me, and he hateth me, and gnasheth upon me with his teeth: mine enemy hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They have opened their mouths upon me, and smitten me on the cheek in reproach: they gathered themselves together against me.
11 God hath delivered me to the unjust, and hath made me to turn out of the way by the hands of the wicked.
12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the neck and beaten me, and set me as a mark for himself.
13 His archers compass me round about: he cutteeth my reins, and doth not spare, and poureth my gall upon the ground.
14 He hath broken me with one breaking upon another, and runneth upon me like a giant.
15 I have sowed a sackcloth upon my skin, and have abased mine horn born unto the dust.
16 My face is withered with weeping, and the shadow of death is upon mine eyes, 17 Though there be no wickedness in mine hands, and my prayer be pure.
18 O earth, covering not thy blood, and let my crying find no place.
19 For lo, now my witness is in the heaven, and my record is on high.
20 My friends speak eloquently against me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.
21 Oh that a man might plead with God, as man with his neighbor!
22 For the years accounted come, and I shall go the way, whence I shall not return.

17 Job saith that he consumeth away, and yet doth patiently abide it. He exhorteth his friends to repentance, showing that he looketh out for death.

1 My breath is corrupt: my days are cut off, and the grave is ready for me.
2 There are none but mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in their bitterness.
3 Lay down now, and put me in surety for thee: who is he, that will touch mine hand?
4 For thou hast hid their heart from understanding: therefore shalt thou not set them up on high.
5 For the eyes of his children shall fail, that speaketh flattery to his friends.
6 He hath also made me a byword of the people, and I am as a tabret before them.
7 Mine eye therefore is dim for grief, and all my strength is like a shadow.
8 The righteous shall be astonished at this, and the innocent shall be moved against the hypocrite.
9 But the righteous will hold his way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.
10 All you therefore turn you, and come now, and I shall not find one wise among you.
11 My days are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart
12 Though I hope, yet the grave shall be mine house, and I shall make my bed in the dark.
13 Though I hope, yet the grave shall be mine house, and I shall make my bed in the dark.
14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worm, Thou art my mother and my sister.
15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shall consider the thing that I hoped for?
16 They shall go down into the bottom of the pit: surely it shall lie together in the dust.

18 Bildad rehearseth the pains of the unfaithful and wicked.
1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,
2 When will ye make an end of your words? cause us to understand, and then we will speak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?
4 Thou art as one that teareth his soul in his anger. Shall the earth be forsaken for thy sake? or the rock removed out of his place?
5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be quenched, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.
6 The light shall be dark in his dwelling, and his candle shall be put out with him.
7 The steps of his strength shall be restrained, and his own counsel shall cast him down.
8 For he is taken in the net by his feet, and he walketh upon the snares.
9 The green shall take him by the heel, and the chief shall come upon him.
10 A snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.
11 Fearfulness shall make him afraid on every side, and shall drive him to his feet.
12 His strength shall be famine: and destruction shall be ready at his side.
13 It shall devour the inner parts of his skin, and the firstborn of death shall devour his strength.
14 His hope shall be rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to go to the king of fear.
15 Fear shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and brimstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.
16 His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut down.
17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.
18 They shall drive him out of the light unto darkness, and chase him out of the world.
19 He shall neither have son nor nephew among
2 Job reproveth his friends, and reciteth his miseries and grievous pains. 25 He assureth himself of the general resurrection.

19:20 The posterity shall be astonished at his day, and fear shall come upon the ancient.
19:21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.
3 I have heard the correction of my reproach: therefore the spirit of mine understanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of old? and since God placed man upon the earth,

5 That the rejoicing of the wicked is short, and that the joy of the hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though his excellency mount up to the heaven, and his head reach unto the clouds,

7 Yet shall he perish forever like his dung, and they which have seen him, shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall flee away as a dream, and they shall not find him, and shall pass away as a vision of the night.

9 So that the eye which had seen him, shall do so no more, and his place shall see him no more.

10 His children shall flatter the poor, and his hands shall restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the sin of his youth, and it shall lie down with him in the dust.

12 When wickedness was sweet in his mouth, and he hid it under his tongue,

13 And favored it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth, 14 Then his meat in his bowels was turned: the gall of Asps was in the midst of him.

15 He hath devoured substance, and he shall vomit it: for God shall draw it out of his belly.

16 He shall suck the gall of Asps, and the viper’s tongue shall slay him.

17 He shall not see the rivers, nor the floods and streams of honey and butter.

18 He shall restore the labor, and shall devour no more: even according to the substance shall be his exchange, and he shall enjoy it no more.

19 For he hath undone many: he hath forsaken the poor, and hath spoiled houses which he built not.

20 Surely he shall feel no quietness in his body, neither shall he reserve of that which he desired.

21 There shall none of his meat be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

22 When he shall be filled with his abundance, he shall be in pain, and the hand of all the wicked shall assay him.

23 He shall be about to fill his belly, but God shall send upon him his fierce wrath, and shall cause to rain upon him, even upon his meat.

24 He shall flee from the iron weapons, and the bow of steel shall strike him through.

25 The arrow is drawn out, and cometh forth of the body, and shineth of his gall, so fear cometh upon him.

26 All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not blown shall devour him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle shall be destroyed.

27 The heaven shall declare his wickedness, and the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The increase of his house shall go away: it shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of the wicked man from God, and the heritage that he shall have of God, for his words.

21 Job declareth how the prosperity of the wicked maketh them proud. 15 Inasmuch that they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be judged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperity.

1 But Job answered, and said,

2 Hear diligently my words, and this shall be instead of your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speak, and when I have spoken, mock on.

4 Do I direct my talk to man? If it were so, how should not my spirit be troubled?
5 Mark me, and be abashed, and lay your hand upon your mouth.
6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and fear taketh hold on my flesh.
7 Wherefore do the wicked live, and wax old, and grow in wealth?
8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.
9 Their houses are peaceable without fear, and the rod of God is not upon them.
10 Their bullock gendereth, and faileth not: their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.
11 They send forth their children like sheep, and their sons dance.
12 They take the tambourine and harp, and rejoice in the sound of the organs.
13 They spend their days in wealth, and suddenly they go down to the grave.
14 They say also unto God, Depart from us: for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.
15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have, if we should pray unto him?
16 Lo, their wealth is not in their hand: therefore let the counsel of the wicked be far from me.
17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out and their destruction come upon them? he will divide their lives in his wrath.
18 They shall be as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm carrieth away.
19 God will lay up the sorrow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.
20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut off?
22 Shall any teach God knowledge, who judgeth the highest things?
23 One dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperity.
24 His breasts are full of milk, and his bones run full of marrow.
25 And another dieth in the bitterness of his soul, and never eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall sleep both in the dust, and the worms shall cover them.
27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises whereby ye do me wrong.
28 For ye say, Where is the prince's house? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked's dwelling?
29 May ye not ask them that go by the way? and ye cannot deny their signs.
30 But the wicked is kept unto the day of destruction, and they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?
32 Yet shall he be brought to the grave, and remain in the heap.
33 The slimy valley shall be sweet unto him, and every man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.
34 How then comfort ye me in vain, seeing in your answer there remain but lies?

22 Eliphaz affirmeth that Job is punished for his sins. 6 He accuseth him of unmercifulness. 13 And that he denied God's providence. 21 He exhorteth to repentance.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,
2 May a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable to himself?
3 Is it anything unto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy ways upright?
4 Is it for fear of thee that he will accuse thee? or go with thee into judgment?
5 Is not thy wickedness great, and thine iniquities innumerable?
6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.
7 To such as were weary, thou hast not given water to drink, and hast withdrawn bread from the hungry.
8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authority, dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast cast out widows empty, and the arms of the fatherless were broken.
10 Therefore smites are round about thee, and fear shall suddenly trouble thee.
11 Or darkness that thou shouldst not see, and abundance of waters shall cover thee.
12 Is not God on high in the heaven? and behold the height of the stars how high they are.
13 But thou sayest, How should God know? can he judge through the dark cloud?
14 The clouds hide him that he cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heaven.
15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men have walked?
16 Which were cut down before the time, whose foundation was as a river that overflowed:
17 Which said unto God, Depart from us, and we will go with thee into judgment.
18 Yet he filled their houses with good things: but let the counsel of the wicked be far from me.
19 The righteous shall see them, and shall rejoice, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorn.
20 Surely our substance is hid: but the fire hath devoured the remnant of them.
21 Therefore acquaint thyself, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt have prosperity.
22 Receive, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.
23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up, and shalt put iniquity far from thy tabernacle.
24 Thou shalt lay up gold for dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flints of the rivers.
25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defense, and thou shalt have plenty of silver.
26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift up thy face unto God.
27 Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt render thy vows.
28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it unto thee, and the light shall shine upon thy ways.
29 When others are cast down, then shalt thou say, I am lifted up: and God shall save the humble person.
30 The innocent shall deliver the island, and it shall be preserved by the pureness of thine hands.

23 Job affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the Judge.
10 And that he is not punished only for his sins.
1 But Job answered, and said,
2 Though my talk be this day in bitterness, and my plague greater than my groaning,
3 Would God yet I knew how to find him, I would enter unto his place.
4 I would plead the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
5 I would know the words, that he would answer me, and would understand what he would say unto me.

6 Would he plead against me with his great power? No, but he would put strength in me.

7 There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be delivered forever from my Judge.

8 Behold, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceive him:

9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: he will hide himself in the South, and I cannot behold him.

10 But he knoweth my way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like gold.

11 My foot hath followed his steps: his way have I kept, and have not declined:

12 Neither have I departed from the commandment of his lips, and I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than mine appointed food.

13 Yet he is in one mind, and who can turn him? yea, he doeth what his mind desireth.

14 For he will perform that which is decreed of me, and many such things are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.

16 For God hath softened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in darkness, but he hath hid the darkness from my face.

24 Job describeth the wickedness of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12 How all things are governed by God's providence. 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

23:6 Using his absolute power, and saying, because I am God, I may do what I will.

23:7 Of his mercy he would give me power to answer him.

23:8 When he of his mercy hath given strength to maintain their cause.

23:9 Meaning, that if he consider God's justice, he is not able to comprehend his judgments on what side or what part soever he turneth himself.

23:10 God hath this preeminence about me, that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to judge of his works: he showeth also his confidence, that God doth use him for his profit.

23:11 His word is more precious unto me, than the meat wherewith the body is sustained.

23:12 Job confesseth that at this present he felt not God's favor, and yet was assured that he had appointed him to a good end.

23:13 In many points man is not able to attain to God's judgments.

23:14 That I should not be without fear.

23:15 He showeth the cause of his fear, which is, that he being in trouble seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

24:1 Job speaketh in his passions, and after the judgment of the flesh: that is, that he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care over all, because he punisheth not the wicked, nor revengeth the godly.

24:2 When he punisheth the wicked, and rewardeth the good.

24:3 And for cruelty and oppression dare not show their faces.

24:4 That is, spareth diligence.

24:5 He and his life by robbing and murdering.

24:6 Meaning, the poor maris.

24:7 Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoil another, but for necessity.

24:8 The poor are driven by the wicked into the rocks and holes where they cannot lie dry for the rain.

24:9 That is, they do powle and pill the poor widow, that she cannot have to sustain herself that she may be able to give her child suck.

24:10 That is, God's word, because they are reproved thereby.

24:11 In such places which are appointed for that purpose: meaning, that those that labor for the wicked, are pined for hunger.

24:12 For the great oppression and extortion.

24:13 That is, God's word, because they are reproved thereby.

24:14 By these particular vices and the licence thereunto, he would prove that God punished not the wicked, and rewardeth the just.
16 They dig through houses in the dark, which they marked for themselves in the day: they know not the light.

17 But the morning is even to them as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the shadow of death.

18 He is swift upon the waters: their portion shall be cursed in the earth: he will not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the dry ground and heat consume the snow waters, so shall the grave 1the sinners.

20 1The pitiful man shall forget him: the worm shall feel his sweetness: he shall be no more remembered, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

21 He doth evil entreat the barren that doth not bear, neither doeth he good to the widow.

22 He draweth also the mighty by his power, and when he riseth up, none is sure of life.

23 Though men give him assurance to be in safety, yet his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted for a little, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the top of an ear of corn.

25 But if it be not so, where is he? or who will prove me a liar, and make my words of no value?

25 Bildad proveth that no man is clean nor without sin before God.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 1Power and fear is with him, that maketh peace in his places.

3 Is there any number in his armies? and upon whom shall not his light arise?

4 And how may a man be justified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of woman?

5 Behold, he will give no light to the Moon, and the Stars are unclean in his sight.

6 How much more man, a worm, even the son of man, which is but a worm?

26 Job showeth that man cannot help God, and proveth it by his miracles.

1 But Job answered, and said,

2 1Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? savest thou the arm that hath no strength?

3 Whom counsellest thou? him that hath no wisdom? thou showest right well as the thing is.

4 To whom dost thou declare these words? or whose spirit cometh out of thee?

5 The dead things are formed under the waters, and near unto them.

6 The grave is naked before him, and there is no covering for destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the North over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his clouds, and the cloud is not broken under them.

9 He houldest back the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath set bounds about the waters, until the 3day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble and quake at his reproof.

12 The sea is calm by his power, and by his understanding he smiteth the pride thereof.

13 His Spirit hath garnished the heavens, and his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.

14 Lo, these are part of his ways: but how little a portion hear we of him? and who can understand his fearful power?
27 3 The constancy and perfectness of Job. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

1 Moreover Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,
2 The living God hath taken away my judgment: for the Almighty hath put my soul in bitterness.
3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils, 4 My lips surely shall speak no wickedness, and my tongue shall utter no deceit.
5 God forbid, that I should justify you: until I die, I will never take away mine innocence from myself.
6 I will keep my righteousness, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me of my days.
7 Mine enemy shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against me, as the unrighteous.
8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped up riches, if God take away his soul?
9 Will God hear his cry, when trouble cometh upon him?
10 Will he set his delight on the Almighty? will he call upon God at all times?
11 I will teach you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceal that which is with the Almighty.
12 Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it: why then do you thus vanish vanity?
13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receive of the Almighty.
14 If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posterity shall not be satisfied with bread.
15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widows shall not weep.
16 Though he should heap up silver as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver.
18 He buildeth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.
19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.
20 Terrors shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carry him away by night.
21 The East wind shall take him away, and he shall depart: and it shall hurl him out of his place.
22 And God shall cast upon him and not spare, though he would fain flee out of his hand.
23 Every man shall clap his hands at him, and hiss at him out of their place.

28 Job showeth that the wisdom of God is unsearchable.

1 The silver surely hath his vein, and the gold his palace, where they take it.
2 Iron is taken out of the dust, and brass is molten out of the stone.
3 God putteth an end to darkness, and he trieth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bond of darkness, and of the shadow of death.
4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters forgotten of the foot, being higher than man, are gone away.
5 Out of the same earth cometh bread, and under it, as it were fire is turned up.
6 The stones thereof are a place of Sapphires, and the dust of it is gold.
7 There is a path which no fowl hath known, neither hath the kite's eye seen it.
8 The Lion's whelps have not walked it, nor the Lion passed thereby.
9 He putteth his hand upon the rocks, and overthroweth the mountains by the roots.

27:2 1 He hath so sore afflicted me, that men cannot judge of mine uprightness: for they judge only by outward signs.
27:4 1 However men judge of me, yet will I not speak contrary to that which I have said, and so do wickedly in betraying the truth.
27:5 1 Which condemns me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is upon me.
27:6 1 Of my life past.
27:8 1 What advantage hath the dissembler to gain never so much, seeing he shall lose his own soul?
27:11 1 That is, what God reserveth to himself, and whereof he giveth not the knowledge to all.
27:12 1 That is, these secret judgments of God, and yet do not understand them.
27:13 1 Thus will God order the wicked, and punish him even unto his posterity.
27:15 1 None shall lament him.
27:18 1 Which breedeth in another man's possession or garment, but is soon shaken out.
27:19 1 He meaneth, that the wicked tyrants shall not have a quiet death, nor be buried honorably.
28:1 1 His purpose is to declare that man may attain in this world to divers secrets of nature, but man is never able to comprehend the wisdom of God.
28:3 1 There is nothing but it is compassed within certain limits, and hath an end, but God's wisdom.
28:4 1 Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.
28:5 1 Which a man cannot wade through.
28:6 1 That is, come, and underneath is brimstone or coal, which easily conceiveth fire.
28:9 1 After that he hath declared the wisdom of God in the secrets of nature he describeth his power.
10 He breaketh rivers in the roots, and his eye seeth every precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they do not overflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdom found? 1 and where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not 1 the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the living.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the Sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 'Gold shall not be given for it, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious onyx, nor the sapphire.

17 The gold nor the crystal shall be equal unto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of coral, nor of the 'gabish: for wisdom is more precious than pearls.

19 'The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equal unto it, nor the exchange for plate of fine gold.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding, 21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the living, and is hid from the 'fowls of the heaven?

22 Destruction and death say, We have heard the fame thereof with our ears.

23 But God understandeth the 'way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is under heaven, 25 To make the weight of the winds and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lighting of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it, and also considered it.

28 And unto man he said, Behold, 'the 'fear of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from evil is understanding.

29 And unto man he said, Behold, 'the 'fear of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from evil is understanding.
20. My glory shall renew toward me, and my bow shall be restored in mine hand.
21. Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsel.
22. After my words they replied not, and my talk dropped upon them.
23. And they waited for me, as for the rain, and they opened their mouth as for the latter rain.
24. If I laughed on them, they believed it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.
25. I appointed out their way, and did sit as chief, and dwelt as a King in the army, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

1. Job complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible. 11, 21 because of his adversity and affliction. 23. Death is the house of all flesh.

1. But now they that are younger than I, mock me; yea, whose fathers I have refused to set with the dogs of my flocks.
2. For whereto should the strength of their hands have served me, seeing age perished in them?
3. For poverty and famine were solitary, fleeing into the wilderness, which is dark, desolate and waste.
4. They cut up nettles by the bushes, and the juniper roots was their meat.
5. They were chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a thief.
6. Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of rivers, in the holes of the earth and rocks.
7. They roared among the bushes, and under the thistles they gathered themselves.
8. They were the children of fools, and the children of villains, which were more vile than the earth.
9. And now am I their song, and I am their talk.
10. They abhor me, and flee far from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

29:22 1 That is, was pleasant unto them.
29:23 1 As the dry ground thirsteth for the rain.
29:24 1 That is, they thought it not to be a rest, or they thought not that I would condescend unto them.
29:25 1 I had them at commandment.
30:1 1 That is, mine estate is changed, and whereas before the ancient men were glad to do me reverence, the young men now contemn me.
2  Meaning to be my shepherds, or to keep my dogs.
30:2 1 That is, their fathers died for famine before they came to age.
30:4 1 Or, mallow.
30:5 1 Job sheweth that these that mocked him in his affliction, were like to their fathers, wicked and lewd fellows, such as he here describeth.
30:9 1 They make songs of me, and mock at my misery.
30:11 1 God hath taken from me the force, credit, and authority wherewith I kept them in subjection.
2  He said that the young men when they saw him, hid themselves, as Job 29:8, and now in his misery they were impudent and licentious.
30:12 1 That is, they sought by all means how they might destroy me.
30:13 1 They need none to help them.
30:14 1 By my calamity they took an occasion against me.
30:16 1 My life faileth me, and I am as half dead.
30:17 1 Meaning, sorrow.
30:19 1 That is, God hath brought me into contempt.
30:21 1 He speaketh not thus to accuse God, but to declare the vehemency of his affliction, whereby he was carried beside himself.
30:22 1 He compar eth his afflictions to a tempest or whirlwind.
2  Or, wisdom, or law.
30:24 1 None can deliver me thence, though they lament at my death.
30:26 1 Instead of comforting they mocked at me.
30:28 1 Not delighting in any worldly thing, no not so much as in the use of the Sun.
the Congregation and cried.

29 I am a brother to the 'Dragons, and a companion to the Ostriches.
30 My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burnt with 'heat.
31 Therefore mine harp is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voice of them that weep.

31 1 Job reciteth the innocence of his living and number of his virtues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithful.
1 I made a covenant with mine 'eyes: why then should I think on 'a maid?
2 For what portion should I have of God from above? and what inheritance of the almighty from on high?
3 Is not destruction to the wicked, and strange punishment to 'the workers of iniquity?
4 Dost not he behold my ways, and tell all my steps?
5 If I have walked in vanity, or if my foot hath made haste to deceit?
6 Let God weigh me in the just balance, and he shall know my 'uprightness.
7 If my step hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath 'walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands,
8 Let me sow, and let another 'eat: yea, let my plants be rooted out.
9 If mine heart hath been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at the door of my neighbor,
10 Let my wife 'grind unto another man, and let other men bow down upon her.
11 For this is a wickedness, and iniquity to be condemned.
12 Yea, this is a fire that shall devour 'to destruction, and which shall root out all my increase.
13 If I did contemn the judgment of my servant, and of my maid, when they 'did contend with me, opened my doors unto him, that went by the way.
33 If I have hid my sins, as Adam, concealing mine iniquity in my bosom,
34 Though I could have made afraid a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did fear me: so I kept silence, and went not out of the door.
35 Oh that I had some to hear me! behold my sign that the Almighty will witness for me: though mine adversary should write a book against me, 36 Would not I take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crown unto me?
37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and I will show also mine opinion.

THE WORDS OF JOB ARE ENDED.

32 2 Elihu reproves them of folly. 8 Age maketh not a wise man, but the spirit of God.
1 So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he esteemed himself just.
2 Then the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was kindled: his wrath was kindled against Job, because he justified himself more than God.
3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not find an answer, and yet condemned Job.
4 (Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken: for they were more ancient in years than he.)
5 So when Elihu saw, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.
6 Therefore Elihu the son of Barachel, the Buzite answered and said, I am young in years, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraid to show you mine opinion.
7 For I said, The days shall speak, and the multitude of years shall teach wisdom.
8 Surely there is a spirit in man, but the inspiration of the Almighty giveth understanding.
9 Great men are not always wise, neither do the aged always understand judgment.
10 Therefore I say, Hear me and I will show also mine opinion.
11 Behold, I did wait upon your words, and hearkened unto your knowledge, while you sought out reasons.
12 Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reproved Job, nor answered his words:
13 Lest ye should say, We have found wisdom: for God hath cast him down, and no man.
14 Yet hath he not directed his words to me, neither will I answer him by your words.
15 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left off their talk.
16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more) 17 Then answered I in my turn, and I showed mine opinion.
18 For I am full of matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.
19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottles that burst.
20 Therefore will I speak, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and will answer.
21 I will not now accept the person of man, neither will I give titles to man.
22 For I may not give titles, lest my Maker should take me away suddenly.

33 5 Elihu accuseth Job of ignorance. 14 He showeth that God hath divers means to instruct man and to draw him from sin.
19, 29 He afflicteth man and suddenly delivereth
Wherefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my talk, and hearken unto all my words.

Behold now, I have opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

My words are in the uprightness of mine heart, and my lips shall speak pure knowledge.

The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.

If thou canst give me answer, prepare thyself and stand before me.

Behold, I am according to thy wish in God's stead: I am also formed of the clay.

Behold, my terror shall not fear thee, neither shall mine hand be heavy upon thee.

Doubtless thou hast spoken in mine ears, and his messenger.

I am clean, without sin: I am innocent and there is none iniquity in me.

Lo, he hath found occasions against me, and there is none iniquity in me.

In dreams and visions of the night, when sleep falleth upon men, and they sleep upon their beds,

Then he openeth the ears of men, even by their enterprise, and that he might hide the pride of man,

His flesh faileth that it cannot be seen, and his bones sore,

So that his life causeth him to abhor bread, and his soul dainty meat.

His flesh faileth that it cannot be seen, and his bones which were not seen, clatter.

If thou hast not, hear me: keep silence and I will speak.

If there be a messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand to declare unto man his righteousness,

Then will he have mercy upon him, and will say, Deliver him, that he go not down into the pit: for I have received a reconciliation.

Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a child's, and shall return as in the days of his youth.

He shall pray unto God, and he will be favorable unto him, and he shall see his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteousness.

He looketh upon men, and if one say, I have sinned, and perverted righteousness, and it did not profit me,

He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

Lo, all these things will God work twice or thrice with a man,

That he may turn back his soul from the pit, and that he might hide the pride of man,

And keep back his soul from the pit, and that his life should not pass by the sword.

Behold, in this hast thou not done right: I will answer thee, that God is greater than man.

Why dost thou strive against him? for he doth not give account of all his matters.

But my sins hath been the cause of God's wrath toward me.

He shall feel God's favor and rejoice: declaring hereby that is, done wickedly.

That is, the minister shall by the preaching of the word proclaim unto man his righteousness.

He shall feel God's favor and rejoice: declaring hereby wherein standeth the true joy of the faithful, and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing.

God will forgive his sins, and accept him as just.

That is, determined to send upon them.

That is, to show thee, wherein man's justification consisteth.
Moreover Elihu answered and said,

1 Hear my words, ye wise men, and hearken unto me ye that have knowledge.

2 For the ear trieth the words, as the mouth tasteth meat.

3 Let us seek judgment among us, and let us know among ourselves what is good.

4 For Job hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my judgment.

5 Should I lie in my right? my wound of the arrow is grievous without my sin.

6 What man is like Job, that drinketh scornfulness like water?

7 Which goeth in the company of them that work iniquity, and walketh with wicked men?

8 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing to be wise; therefore I will proceed thee in the way.

9 Moreover Elihu answered and said, 1Moreover Elihu answered and said, and declare the things that were hid.

10 Thee doth the Almighty pervert judgment, and the hypocrite reigneth.

11 For he will render unto man iniquity in the Almighty.

12 And certainly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.

13 Whom hath he appointed over the earth besides himself? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If he set his heart upon him, and gather unto him his spirit and his breath, 15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall return unto dust.

16 And if thou hast understanding, hear this, and hearken to the voice of my words.

17 Shall he that hateth judgment, govern? and wilt thou judge him wicked that is most just?

18 Wilt thou say unto a king, Thou art wicked?

19 How much less to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more than the poor? for they be all the work of his hands.

20 They shall die suddenly; and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall pass forth and take away the mighty without hand.

21 For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkness nor shadow of death, that the workers of iniquity might be hid therein.

23 For he will not lay on man so much, that he should enter into judgment with God.

24 He shall break the mighty without seeking, and shall set up others in their stead.

25 Therefore shall he declare their works: he shall turn the night, and they shall be destroyed.

26 And he striketh them as wicked men in the places of the seers,

27 Because they have turned back from him, and would not consider all his ways:

28 So that they have caused the voice of the poor to come unto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when he giveth quietness, who can make trouble? and when he_hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be upon nations, or upon a man only?

30 Because the hypocrite doth reign, and because the people are snared.

31 Surely it appertaineth unto God 1to say, I have pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 But if I see not, teach thou me: if I have done wickedly, I will do no more.

33 Will he perform the thing through thee? for thou hast reproved it, because that thou hast chosen, and not I: now speak what thou knowest.
34 Let men of understanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken unto me.
35 Job hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his words according to wisdom.
36 I desire that Job may be tried, unto the end, touching the answers for wicked men.
37 For he addeth rebellion unto his sin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words against God.

35 Neither doth godliness profit, or ungodliness hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked cry unto God and are not heard.

1 Elihu spake moreover, and said,
2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast said, I am more righteous than God?
3 For thou hast said, What profiteth it thee, and what availeth it me, to purge me from my sin?
4 Therefore will I answer thee, and thy companions with thee.
5 Look unto the heaven, and see and behold the clouds which are higher than thou.
6 If thou sinnest, what dost thou against him, yea, when thy sins be many, what dost thou unto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what givest thou unto him? or what receiveth he at thine hand?
8 Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteousness may profit the son of man.
9 They cause many that are oppressed, to cry, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.
10 But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giveth songs in the night?
11 Which teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and giveth us more wisdom than the fowls of the heaven.
12 Then they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.
13 Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.

36 1 Elihu showeth the power of God. 6 And his justice. 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The property of the wicked.

1 Elihu also proceeded and said,
2 Suffer me a little and I will instruct thee: for I have yet to speak on God's behalf.
3 I will fetch my knowledge afar off, and will commandeth them that they return from iniquity.
4 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is perfect in knowledge,
5 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is mighty and valiant of courage.
6 He maintaineth not the wicked, but he giveth judgment to the afflicted.
7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with kings in the throne, where he placeth them forever; thus they are exalted.
8 And if they be bound in fetters and tied with the cords of affliction, 9 Then will he show them their work and their sins, because they have been proud.
10 He openeth also their ear to discipline, and commandeth them that they return from iniquity.
11 If they obey and serve him, they shall end their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures:
12 But if they will not obey, they shall pass by the sword and perish without knowledge.
13 But the hypocrites of heart increase the wrath:

34:36 1 That he may speak as much as he can, that we may answer him and all the wicked that shall use such arguments.
34:37 1 He standeth stubbornly in the maintenance of his cause.
35:2 1 Job never spake these words: but because he maintained his innocence, it seemed as though he would say, that God tormented him without just cause.
35:4 1 Such as are in the like error.
35:5 1 If thou canst not control the clouds, wilt thou presume to instruct God?
35:6 1 Neither doth thy sin hurt God, nor thy justice profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.
35:9 1 The wicked may hurt man and cause him to cry, who if he sought to God which sendeth comfort should be delivered.
35:12 1 Because they pray not in faith, as feeling God's mercies.
35:14 1 God is just, howsoever thou judgest of him.
35:16 1 For if he did punish thee as thou deservest, thou shouldst not be able to open thy mouth.
36:3 1 He showeth that when we speak of God, we must lift up our spirits more high, than our natural sense is able to reach.
36:4 1 Thou shalt perceive that I am a faithful instructor, and that I speak to thee in the name of God.
36:5 1 Strong and constant, and of understanding: for these are the gifts of God, and he loveth them in man: but forasmuch as God punished now Job, it is a sign that these are not in him.
36:6 1 Therefore he will not preserve the wicked: but to the humble and afflicted heart he will show grace.
36:7 1 He preferreth the godly to honor.
36:9 1 He will move their hearts to feel their sins that they may come to him by repentance as he did Manasseh.
36:12 1 That is, in their folly or obstination, and so shall be cause of their own destruction.
36:13 1 Which are maliciously bent against God, and flatter themselves in their vices.
for they 2call not when he bindeth them.
14 Their soul dieth in 2youth, and their life among the whoremongers.
15 He delivereth the poor in his afflictions, and openeth their ear in trouble.
16 Even so would he have taken thee out of the straight place into a broad place, and not shut up beneath: and 3that which resteth upon thy table had been full of fat.
17 But thou art full of the 3judgment of the wicked, though judgment and equity maintain all things.
18 4For God's wrath is, lest he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliver thee.
19 Will he regard thy riches? 4be regarded not gold, nor all them that excel in strength.
20 5Be not careful in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.
21 Take thou heed: look not to 6iniquity: for thou hast chosen it rather than affliction.
22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?
23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast chosen it rather than affliction.
24 Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold.
25 All men see it, and men behold it 7afar off.
26 Behold, God is excellent, 7and we know him not, neither can the number of his years be searched out.
27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the rain 8poureth down by the vapor thereof, 28 Which rain the clouds do drop and let fall abundantly upon man.
29 Who can know the divisions of the clouds, and the thunders of his 9Tabernacle?
30 Behold, he spreadeth his light upon it, and declareth God's judgments, when it doth overflow any places, and the other that it maketh the land fruitful.
31 For thereby he judgeth 10the people, and giveth meat abundantly.
32 He covereth the light with the clouds, and commanded them to go 11against it.
33 12His companion sheweth him therefore, and there is anger in rising up.

37 1 Elihu proveth that the unsearchable wisdom of God is manifest by his works. 4 As by the thunders. 6 The snow. 9 The whirlwind. 11 And the rain.
1 At this also mine heart is 1astonied, and is moved out of his place.
2 Hear the 1sound of his voice, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his light unto the ends of the world.
4 After it a noise soundeth: he thundereth with the voice of his majesty, and he will not stay them when his voice is heard.
5 God thundereth marvelously with his voice: he worketh great things, which we know not.
6 For he saith to the snow, Be thou upon the earth 7likewise to the small rain and to the great rain of his power.
7 With the force thereof he 8shutteth up every man, that all men may know his work.
8 Then the beasts go into the den, and remain in their places.
9 The whirlwind cometh out of the South, and the cold from the 8North wind.
10 At the breath of God the frost is given, and the breadth of the waters 14is made narrow.
11 He maketh also the clouds to 1labor, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloud of 2his light.

2 When they are in affliction, they seek not to God for succor, as Asa in 2 Chron. 16:12; Rev.16:11.
36:14  1 They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age.
36:16  1 If thou hadst been obedient to God, he would have brought thee to liberty and wealth.
36:17  1 Thou art altogether after the manner of the wicked: for thou dost murmur against the justice of God.
36:18  1 God doth punish thee, lest thou shouldest forget God in thy wealth and so perish.
36:20  1 Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of God's judgments, when he destroyeth any.
36:21  1 And so murmur against God through impatience.
36:22  1 The works of God are so manifest, that a man may see them afar off, and know God by the same.
36:23  1 Our iniquity hindereth us so, that we cannot attain to the perfect knowledge of God.
36:24  1 That is, the rain cometh of those drops of water, which he keepeth in the clouds.
36:29  1 Meaning, of the clouds, which he calleth the Tabernacle of God.
36:30  1 Upon the cloud.
36:31  1 He sheweth that the rain hath double use: the one that it covereth the 2bottom of the sea.
31 For thereby he judgeth 3the people, and giveth meat abundantly.
32 He covereth the light with the clouds, and commanded them to go 3against it.
33 4His companion sheweth him therefore, and there is anger in rising up.
37:1  1 At this also mine heart is 4astonied, and is moved out of his place.
37:2  1 Hear the 4sound of his voice, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.
37:6  1 For he saith to the snow, Be thou upon the earth 5likewise to the small rain and to the great rain of his power.
37:7  1 With the force thereof he 6shutteth up every man, that all men may know his work.
37:8  1 Then the beasts go into the den, and remain in their places.
37:9  1 The whirlwind cometh out of the South, and the cold from the 6North wind.
37:10  1 At the breath of God the frost is given, and the breadth of the waters 7is made narrow.

1 In Hebrew it is called the scattering wind, because it driveth away the clouds and purgeth the air.
37:10  1 That is, is frozen up and dried.
37:11  1 Gather the vapors and move to and fro to water the earth.
37:11  2 That is, the cloud that hath lightning in it.
12 And it is turned about by his government, that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the whole world:
13 Whether it be for punishment, or for his land, or of mercy, he causeth it to come.
14 Hearken unto this, O Job: stand and consider the wondrous works of God.
15 Didst thou know when God disposed them?
and caused the light of his cloud to shine?
16 Hast thou known the variety of the cloud, and the wondrous works of him that is perfect in knowledge?
17 Or how thy clothes are warm, when he maketh
the earth quiet through the South wind?
18 Hast thou stretched out the heavens, which are strong, and as a molten glass?
19 Tell us what we shall say unto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of darkness.
20 Shall it be told him when I speak? or shall man speak when he shall be destroyed?
21 And now men see not the light, which shineth in the clouds, but the wind passeth and cleanseth them.
22 The brightness cometh out of the North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.
23 It is the Almighty: we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power and judgment, and abundant in justice: he afflicteth not.
24 Let men therefore fear him: for he will not regard any that are wise in their own conceit.

38 1 God speaketh to Job, and declareth the weakness of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellency the power, justice, and providence of the Creator is known.

1 Then answered the Lord unto Job out of the

1 whirlwind, and said,
2 Who is this that darkeneth the counsel by words without knowledge?
3 Gird up now thy loins like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
4 Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding.
5 Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line over it:
6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set:
or who laid the cornerstone thereof:
7 When the stars of the morning praised me together, and all the children of God rejoiced:
8 Or who hath shut up the Sea with doors, when it issued and came forth as of out of the womb:
9 When I made the clouds as a covering thereof, and darkness as the swaddling bands thereof:
10 When I establisheth my commandment upon it, and set bars and doors, 11 And said, hitherto shalt thou come, but no further, and here shall it stay thy proud waves.
12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?
13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it?
14 It is turned as clay to fashion, and all stand up
his place?
15 And from the wicked their light shall be taken away, and the high arm shall be broken.
16 Hast thou entered into the bottoms of the sea?
or hast thou walked to seek out the depth?
17 Have the gates of death been opened unto thee?
or hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death?
18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth?
tell if thou knowest all this.
19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkness,
20 That thou shouldst receive it in the bounds thereof, and that thou shouldst know the paths to the house thereof?
21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then born? and because the number of thy days is great?
22 Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail,
23 Which I have hid against the time of trouble, against the day of war and battle?
24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East wind upon the earth?
25 Who hath divided the spouts for the rain? or the way for the lightning of the thunders, 26 To cause it to rain on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man?
27 To fulfill the wild and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herb to spring forth?
28 Who is the father of the rain? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?
29 Out of whose womb came the ice? who hath begotten the drops of the dew?
30 The waters are hid as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.
31 Canst thou restrain the sweet influences of the Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?
32 Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide Arcturus with his sons?
33 Knowest thou the course of heaven, or canst thou also guide the rule thereof in the earth?
34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that the abundance of water may cover thee?
35 Canst thou send the lightnings that they may walk, and say unto thee, Lo, here we are?
36 Who hath put wisdom in the reins? or who hath given the heart understanding?
37 Who can number clouds by wisdom? or who hath given the heart to the understanding of the Lord?
38 Who can cause the heavenly bodies to have any power over the earthly bodies?
39 When God doth not open these bottles, the earth cometh to this inconvenience.

39 The bounty and providence of God, which extendeth even to the young ravens, giveth man full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Job confesseth and humbleth himself.

1 Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lion? or fill the appetite of the lion's whelps,
2 When they crouch in their places, and remain in the covert to lie in wait?
3 Who prepareth for the raven his meat, when his birds cry unto God, wandering for lack of meat?
4 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats bring forth young? or dost thou mark when the hinds do calve?
5 Canst thou number the months that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?
6 They bow themselves: they bruise their young and cast out their sorrows.
7 Yet their young wax fat, and grow up with corn: they go forth and return not unto them.
8 Who hath set the wild ass at liberty? or who hath loosed the bands of the wild ass?
9 It is I which have made the wilderness his house, and the salt places his dwellings.
10 He derideth the multitude of the city: he heareth not the cry of the driver.
11 He seeketh out the mountain for his pasture, and searcheth after every green thing.
12 Will the unicorn serve thee? or will he tarry by thy crib?
13 Canst thou bind the unicorn with his band to labor in the furrow? or will he plow the valleys after thee?
14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labor unto him?
15 Wilt thou believe him, that he will bring home thy seed, and gather it unto thy barn?
16 Hast thou given the pleasant wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the ostrich?
17 Which leaveth his eggs in the earth, and maketh them hot in the dust,
18 And forgettest that the foot might scatter them,

38:20 1 That thou mightest appoint it highway and limits.
38:23 1 To punish mine enemies with them, Exod. 9:18; Josh. 10:11.
38:30 1 The ice covereth it, as though it were paved with stone.
38:31 1 Which stars arise when the sun is in Taurus, which is the springtime, and bring flowers.
38:32 1 Certain stars so-called: some think they were the twelve signs.
38:33 1 The North star with those that are about him.
38:36 1 In the secret parts of man.
38:37 1 That is, the clouds wherein the water is contained as in bottles.
38:38 1 For when God doth not open these bottles, the earth cometh to this inconvenience.
39:1 1 After he had declared God's works in the heavens, he showeth his marvellous providence in earth, even toward the brute beasts.
39:3 1 Read Ps. 147:9.
39:4 1 He chiefly maketh mention of wild goats and hinds, because they bring forth their young with most difficulty.
39:5 1 That is, how long they go with young?
39:6 1 They bring forth with great difficulty.
39:9 1 That is, the barren ground where no good fruits grow.
39:12 1 Is it possible to make the unicorn tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoint the wisdom of God, whereby he governeth all the world.
39:17 1 They write that the ostrich covereth her eggs in the sand, and because the country is hot and the sun still keepeth them warm, they are hatched.
or that the wild beast might break them.

19 He showeth himself cruel unto his young ones, as they were not his, and is without fear, as if he travailed in vain.

For God had deprived him of wisdom, and hath given him no part of understanding.

21 When time is, he mounteth on high: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou given the horse strength, or covered his neck with neighing?

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grasshopper? his strong neighing is fearful.

24 He diggeth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meet the harnessed man.

25 He mocketh at fear, and is not afraid, and turneth not back from the sword, 26 Though the quiver rattle against him, the glittering spear and the shield.

27 He swalloweth the ground for fierceness and rage, and he believeth not that it is the noise of the trumpet.

28 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he smelleth the battle afar off, and the noise of the captains, and the shouting.

29 Shall the hawk fly by thy wisdom, stretching out his wings even toward the South?

30 Doth the eagle mount up at thy commandment, or make his nest on high?

31 She abideth and remaineth in the rock, even upon the top of the rock, and the tower, 32 From thence she spitteth for meat, and her eyes behold afar off.

33 His young ones also suck up blood: and where the slain are, there is she.

Moreover the Lord spake unto Job, and said,

34 Is this to learn, to strive with the Almighty? he that reproveth God, let him answer to it.

35 Is this to learn, to strive with the Almighty? he that reproveth God, let him answer to it.

36 ¶ Then Job answered the Lord, saying,

Behold, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.

37 Behold, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.

38 Once have I spoken, but I will answer no more, yea twice, but I will proceed no further.

40:2 How weak man's power is, being compared to the work of God:

1 Again the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,

2 Gird up now thy loins like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

3 Wilt thou disannul my judgment? or wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be justified?

4 Or hast thou an arm like God? or dost thou understand that which is unknown.

5 Deck thyself now with majesty and excellency, and array thyself with beauty and glory.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold everyone that is proud, and abase him.

7 Look on everyone that is arrogant, and bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and bind their faces in a secret place.

9 Then will I confess unto thee also, that thy right hand can save thee.

10 Behold now Behemoth (whom I made with thee) which eateth grass as an ox.

11 Behold now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly.

12 When he taketh pleasure, his tail is like a cedar: the sinews of his stones are wrapped together.

13 His bones are like staves of brass, and his small bones like staves of iron.

14 He is the chief of the ways of God: he that made him formed as well as thee.

15 Surely the mountains bring him forth grass, and the wild beasts of the earth.

16 Lyeth he under the trees in the covert of the reed and fens?

17 Can the trees cover him with their shadow? or can the willows of the river compass him about?

18 Behold, he spoileth the river, and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw up Jordan into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thirsteth his nose through whatsoever meeteth him.

39:19 If he should take care of them.

39:20 That is, to have a care and natural affection toward his young.

39:21 When the young ostrich is grown up, he outrunneth the horse.

39:22 That is, given him courage? which is meant by neighing and shaking his mane: for with his breath he covereth his neck.

39:24 He beateth with his hoof.

39:27 He so rideth the ground that it seemeth nothing under him.

39:29 That is, when cold cometh, to fly into the warm countries.

39:35 Is this the way for a man that will learn, to strive with God? which thing he reproveth in Job.

39:37 Whereby he sheweth that he repented, and desired pardon for his faults.

40:3 Signifying that they that justify themselves, condemn God as unjust.

40:5 Meaning, that these were proper unto God, and belonged to no man.

40:8 Cause them to die if thou canst.

40:9 Proving hereby that whosoever attributest to himself power and ability to save himself, maketh himself God.

40:10 ¶ This beast is thought to be the elephant, or some other, which is unknown.

40:11 Whom I made as well as thee.

40:14 He is one of the chiefest works of God among the beasts.

40:18 He dranketh at leisure, and feareth nobody.
20 Canst thou draw out "Leviathan with an hook, and with a line which thou shalt cast down unto his tongue?
21 Canst thou cast an hook into his nose? canst thou "pierce his jaws with an angle?
22 Will he make many prayers unto thee? and "speak thee fair?
23 Will he make a covenant with thee? and "wilt thou take 'him as a servant forever?
24 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maids?
25 Shalt the companions banquet with him? shall they divide him among the merchants?
26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skin? or the fishpanier with his head?
27 Lay thine hand upon him: remember 'the battle, and do no more so.
28 Behold, 'his hope is in vain: for 'shall not one perish even at the sight of him?

41 1 By the greatness of this monster Leviathan, God showeth his greatness and his power, which nothing can resist.
1 None is so fierce that dare stir him up. Who is he then that can 'stand before me?
2 Who hath prevented me that I should 'make an end? All under heaven is mine.
3 I will not keep silence concerning 'his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
4 Who can discover the face of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double 'bridle?
5 Who shall 'open the doors of his face? his teeth are fearful round about.
6 The majesty of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.
7 One is set to another, that no wind can come between them.
8 One is joined to another: they stick together, that they cannot be sundered.
9 His sneezings 'make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.
10 Out of his mouth go lamps, and sparks of fire leap out.
11 Out of his nostrils cometh out smoke, as out of a boiling pot or caldron.
12 His breath maketh the coals burn: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.
13 In his neck remaineth strength, and 'labor is rejected before his face.
14 The members of his body are joined: they are strong in themselves, and cannot be moved.
15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether millstone.
16 The mighty are afraid of his majesty, and for fear they faint in themselves.
17 When the sword doth touch him, he will not rise up, nor for the spear, dart nor habergeon.
18 He esteemeth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood.
19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble unto him.
20 The darts are counted as straw: and he laugheth at the shaking of the spear.
21 Sharp stones are under him, and he spreadeth sharp things upon the mire.
22 He maketh the depth to boil like a pot, and maketh the Sea like a pot of ointment.
23 He maketh a path to shine after him, one would think the depth as an hoar head.
24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without fear.
25 He beholdeth all high things: he is a King over all the children of pride.

42 6 The repentance of Job. 9 He prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double unto him. 13 His children, age and death.
1 Then Job answered the Lord, and said,
2 I know that thou canst do all things, and that there is no thought hid from thee.
3 Who is he that hideth counsel without 'knowledge? therefore have I spoken that I understood not, even things too wonderful for me, 'and which I knew not.
4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
5 I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear, but now mine eye seeth thee.
6 Therefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.
7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these words unto Job, the Lord also said unto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, like my servant Job.
8 Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks, and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering, and my servant Job shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job.
9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had said unto them, and the Lord accepted Job.
10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gave Job twice so much as he had before.
11 Then came unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, and had compassion on him, and comforted him for all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him, and every man gave him a piece of money, and everyone an earring of gold.
12 So the Lord blessed the last days of Job more than the first: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.
13 He had also seven sons, and three daughters.
14 And he called the name of one Jemimah, and the name of the second Keziah, and the name of the third Keren-Happuch.
15 In all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job, and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.
16 And after this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his son's sons, even four generations.
17 So Job died, being old, and full of days.

42:4 1 He showeth that he will be God's scholar to learn of him.
42:5 1 I knew thee only before by hearsay: but now thou hast caused me to feel what thou art to me, that I may resign myself over unto thee.
42:7 1 You took in hand an evil cause, in that you condemned him by his outward afflictions, and not comforted him with my mercies.
2 Who had a good cause, but handled it evil.
42:8 1 When you have reconciled yourselves to him for the faults that you have committed against him, he shall pray for you, and I will hear him.
42:10 1 He delivered him out of the affliction wherein he was.
42:11 1 That is, all his kindred, read Job 19:13.
2 Or, lamb, or money so marked.
42:12 1 God made him twice so rich in cattle as he was afore, and gave him as many children as he had taken from him.
42:14 1 That is, of long life, or beautiful as the day.
2 As pleasant as cassia or sweet spice.
3 That is, the horn of beauty.
THE
OF DAVID

1 Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalms into a book, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to study and meditate the heavenly wisdom. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they be blessed which give themselves wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures; 4 and that the wicked contemners of God, though they seem for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

1 Blessed is the man that doth not walk in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 For he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that will bring forth its fruits in due season: whose leaf shall not fade: so whatsoever he shall do, shall prosper.

4 But the wicked are not so, but as the chaff, which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

The Prophet David rejoiceth, that notwithstanding his enemies' rage, yet God will continue his kingdom forever, and advance it even to the end of the world. 10 and therefore exhorteth kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselves under God's yoke, because it is in vain to resist God. Herein is figured Christ's kingdom.

1 Why do the heathen rage, and the people murmur in vain.

2 The kings of the earth band themselves, and the Princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

3 1Let us break their bands, and cast their cords from us.

4 But he that dwelleth in the heaven shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure, saying,

6 Even I have set my King upon Zion mine holy mountain.

7 I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my son; this day have I begotten thee.

8 Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of iron, and break them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

10 Be wise now therefore, ye kings: be learned ye judges of the earth.

11 Serve the Lord in fear, and rejoice in trembling.

12 1Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burn. Blessed are all that trust in him.

Title 1 Or, praises, according to the Hebrews: and were chiefly instituted to praise and give thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the Psalms or Songs of David, because the most part were written by him.

1:1 1 When a man hath given once place to evil counsel, or to his own concupiscence, he beginneth to forget himself in his sin, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seat of the scornful.

1:2 1 In the holy Scriptures.

1:3 1 God's children are so moistened ever with his grace, that whatsoever cometh unto them, tendeth unto their salvation.

1:4 1 Though the wicked seem to bear the swinge in this world, yet the Lord driveth them down that they shall not rise nor stand in the company of the righteous.

1:5 2 But tremble when they feel God's wrath.

1:6 1 Doth approve and prosper, like as not to know, is to reproove and reject.

2:1 1 The conspiracy of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Jews, and power of kings cannot prevail against Christ.

2:2 1 Or, anointed.

2:3 1 Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God, and of his Christ.

2:5 1 God's plagues will declare that in resisting his Christ, they fought against him.

2:7 1 To show that my vocation to the kingdom, is of God.

2:8 1 That is to say, as touching man's knowledge, because it was the first time that David appeared to be elected of God. So is it applied to Christ in his first coming and manifestation to the world.

2:8 2 Not only the Jews, but the Gentiles also.

2:10 1 He exhorteth all rulers to repent in time.

2:12 1 In sign of homage.

2:15 2 When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be but in the mind way of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come, 1Thess. 5:3.
PSALM 3:1

3  David driven forth of his kingdom, was greatly tormented in mind for his sins against God: And therefore calleth upon God, and waxeth bold through his promises, against the great railings and terrors of his enemies, yea against death itself, which he saw present before his eyes. 7 Finally, he rejoiceth for the good success that God gave him and all the Church.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from his son Absalom.

1 Lord, how are mine adversaries increased? how many rise against me?
2 Many say to my soul, There is no help for him in God. 1Selah.
3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me, my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.
4 I will not be afraid for ten thousand of the people, that should beset me round about.
5 O Lord, arise: help me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheekbone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.
6 I will lay me down, and also sleep in peace: for thou, 1Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.

4 When Saul persecuted him, he called upon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproved and withstood his enemies, who willfully resisted his dominion. 7 and finally preferreth the favor of God before all worldly treasures.

A Psalm of David.

1 Hear me when I call, 1O God of my righteousness: thou hast set me at liberty, when I was in distress: have mercy upon me, and hearken unto my prayer.
2 O ye sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame, 2loving vanity, and seeking lies? Selah.
3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himself a godly man, the Lord will hear when I call unto him.
4 1Tremble and sin not: examine your own heart upon your bed, and be 2still. Selah.
5 1Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and trust in the Lord.
6 Many say, Who will show us any good? but Lord, lift up the light of thy countenance upon us.
7 Thou hast given me more joy of heart, than they have had, when their wheat and their wine did abound.
8 I will lay me down, and also sleep in peace: for thou, 1Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.

5 David oppressed with the cruelty of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succor, showing how requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his adversaries. 7 After, being assured of prosperous success, he conceiveth comfort, 12 concluding, that when God shall deliver him, others also shall be partakers of the same mercies.

To him that excelleth upon 1Nehiloth.

A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my words, O Lord: understand my meditation.
2 Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my king and my God: for unto thee do I pray.
3 Hear my voice in the morning, O Lord: in the morning will I direct my voice to thee, and I will 1wait.
4 For thou art not a God that loveth wickedness, neither shall evil dwell with thee.
5 The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that work iniquity.
6 Thou shalt destroy them that speak lies: the Lord will abhor the bloody man and deceitful.
7 But I 1will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worship toward thine holy Temple.
8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, 1because of mine enemies: make thy way plain before my face.
9 For no constancy is in their mouth: within they are very corruption: their 'throat is an open sepulcher, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God, let them fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they have rebelled against thee.

11 And let all them that trust in thee, rejoice and triumph forever, and cover thou them: and let them that love thy name, rejoice in thee.

12 For thou Lord, wilt bless the righteous, and with favor wilt compass him, as with a shield.

6 When David by his sins had provoked God's wrath, and now felt not only his hand against him, but also conceived the horrors of death everlasting, he desireth forgiveness. 6 Bewailing that if God took him away in his indignation, he should lack occasion to praise him as he was wont to do while he was among men. 9 Then suddenly feeling God's mercy, he sharply rebuketh his enemies which rejoiced in his affliction.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth, upon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

1 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord heal me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soul is also sore troubled: but Lord, how long wilt thou delay?

4 Return, O Lord: deliver my soul: save me for thy mercy's sake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed every night to swim, and water my couch with my tears.

7 Mine eye is dimmed for despite, and sunk in my cheek.

8 Away from me all ye workers of iniquity: for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receive my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and sore vexed: they shall be turned back, and put to shame suddenly.

5:10 1 Or, cause them to err.

2 Let their devices come to nought.

5:11 1 Thy favor toward me shall confirm the faith of all others.

5:12 1 Or, give good success.

2 So that he shall be safe from all dangers.

6:1 1 Though I deserve destruction, yet let thy mercy pity my frailty.

6:2 1 For my whole strength is abated.

6:3 1 His conscience is also touched with the fear of God's judgment.

6:5 1 He lamenteth that occasion should be taken from him to praise God in the congregation.

6:7 1 Or, mine eye is eaten as it were with worms.

6:8 1 God sendeth comfort and boldness, in affliction, that we may triumph over our enemies.

6:10 1 When the wicked think that the godly shall perish, God delivereth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

7:12 1 Except Saul turn his mind, I die for he hath both men and weapons to destroy me. Thus considering his great danger, he magnifieth God's grace.

1 Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto the Lord, concerning the words of Cush the son of Benjamin.

1 O Lord my God, in thee I put my trust: save me from all that persecute me, and deliver me, lest he devour my soul like a lion, and tear it in pieces, while there is none to help.

3 O Lord my God, if I have done this thing, if there be any wickedness in mine hands,

4 If I have rewarded evil unto him that had peace with me, (yea I have delivered him that vexed me without cause.)

5 Then let the enemies persecute my soul, and take it: yea, let him tread my life down upon the earth, and lay mine honor in the dust. Selah.

6 Arise, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift up thyself against the rage of mine enemies, and awake for me according to the judgment that thou hast appointed.

7 So shall the congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore return on high.

8 The Lord shall judge the people: judge thou me, O Lord, according to my righteousness, and according to mine innocence that is in me.

9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an end: but guide thou the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 My defense is in God, who preserveth the upright in heart.

11 God judgeth the righteous, and him that contendeth God, every day.

12 Except he turn, he hath whet his sword: he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

13 He hath also prepared him deadly weapons: he will ordain his arrows for them that persecute me.
14 Behold, he shall ravil with wickedness: for he hath conceived mischief, but he shall bring forth a lie.
15 He hath made a pit, and dug it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.
16 His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his cruelty shall fall upon his own pate.
17 I will praise the Lord according to his righteousness, and will sing praise to the Name of the Lord most high.

8 1 The Prophet considering the excellent liberality and Fatherly providence of God toward man, whom he made as it were a god over all his works, doth not only give great thanks, but is astonished with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compass such great mercies.
8:2 To him that excelleth on 'Gittith.
A Psalm of David.
1 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world! which hast set thy glory above the heavens.
2 Out of the mouth of 'of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.
3 When I behold thine heavens,
8:4 even the works of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained,
4 What is man, say I, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man that thou visitest him?
5 For thou hast made him a little lower than 'God, and crowned him with glory and worship.
6 Thou hast made him to have dominion in the works of thine hands, thou hast put all things under his feet:
7 All sheep and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:
8 The fowls of the air, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth through the paths of the seas.
9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world!

9:1 After he had given thanks to God for the sundry victories that he had sent him against his enemies, and also proved by manifold experience, how ready God was at hand in all his troubles. 14 He being now likewise in danger of new enemies, desireth God to help him according to his wont. 17 and to destroy the malicious arrogance of his adversaries.

To him that excelleth upon 'Muth Labben.
A Psalm of David.

1 I will praise the Lord with my whole heart: I will speak of all thy marvelous works.
2 I will be glad, and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O most High.
3 For that mine enemies are turned back: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.
4 For 'thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and judgest right.
5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name forever and ever.
6 'O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memorial is perished with them.
7 But the Lord shall sit forever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.
8 For he shall judge the world in righteousness, and shall judge the people with equity.
9 The Lord also will be a refuge for the poor, a refuge in due time, even in affliction.
10 And they that know thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seek thee.
11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: show the people his works.
12 For 'when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth it, and forgettest not the complaint of the poor.
13 Have mercy upon me, O Lord: consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liestest me up from the gates of death, 14 That I may show all thy praises within the gates of the daughter of Zion, and rejoice in thy salvation.
15 The heathen are 'sunken down in the pit that they made: in the net that they hid, is their foot taken.
16 'The Lord is known by executing judgment: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands,

10 1 He complaineth of the fraud, rapine, tyranny, and all kinds of wrong, which worldly men use, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperity, and therefore setting apart all fear and reverence towards God, think they may do all things without controlling. 15 Therefore he calleth upon God to send some remedy against these desperate evils, 16 and at length comforteth himself with hope of deliverance.

  1 Why standest thou far off, O Lord, and hidest thee in due time, even in affliction?
  2 The wicked with pride doth persecute the poor; let them be taken in the crafts that they have imagined.
  3 For the wicked hath made boast of his own heart’s desire, and the covetous blesseth himself; he contemneth the Lord.
  4 The wicked is so proud, that he seeketh not for God: he thinketh always, There is no God.
  5 His ways always prosper: thy judgments are high above his sight; therefore he defieth he all his enemies.
  6 He saith in his heart, I shall never be moved, nor be in danger.
  7 His mouth is full of cursing, and deceit, and fraud; under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.
  8 He lieth in wait in the villages; in the secret places doth he murder the innocent; his eyes are bent against the poor.
  9 He lieth in wait secretly, even as a lion in his den; he lieth in wait to spoil the poor; he doth spoil the poor, when he draweth him into his net.
 10 He croucheth and boweth; therefore heaps of the poor do fall by his might.
 11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and will never see.
 12 Arise, O Lord God, lift up thine hand; forget not the poor.
 13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he saith in his heart, Thou wilt not regard.
 14 Yet thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and wrong; that thou mayest take it into thine hands; the poor committh himself unto thee; for thou art the helper of the fatherless.
 15 Break thou the arm of the wicked and malicious; search his wickedness, and thou shalt find none.
 16 The Lord is King forever and ever; the heathen are destroyed forth of his land.
 17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poor; thou preparest their heart; thou bendest thine ear to them.
 18 To judge the fatherless and poor, that earthly man cause to fear no more.

11 1 This Psalm containeth two parts. In the first David showeth how hard assaults of temptations he sustained, and in how great anguish of mind he was, when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he rejoeth that God sent him succor in his necessity, declaring his justice as well in governing the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

  1 In the Lord put I my trust; how say ye then to my soul, Flee to your mountain as a bird?
  2 For lo, the wicked bend their bow, and make ready their arrows upon the string, that they may secretly shoot at them which are upright in heart.
  3 For the foundations are cast down, what hath the righteous done?
  4 The Lord is in his holy palace; the Lord’s throne is in the heaven; his eyes will consider; his eyelids will try the children of men.
  5 The Lord will try the righteous; but the wicked, 2 Or, this is worthy to be noted.

9:18 1 God promiseth not to help us before we have felt the cross.
9:20 1 Which they cannot learn without the fear of thy judgment.
10:1 1 So soon as we enter into affliction, we think God should help us, but that is not always his due time.
10:2 1 The wicked man rejoiceth in his own lust, he boasteth when he hath that he would be braggeth of his wit and wealth, and blesseth himself; and thus blasphemeth the Lord.
10:4 1 Or, suffræth at.
10:5 1 Or, not be moved, because he was never in evil.
10:6 1 The evil shall not touch me, Isa. 28:15, or else he speaketh thus because he never felt evil.
10:8 1 He sheweth that the wicked have many means to hide their cruelty, and therefore ought more to be feared.
10:10 1 By the hypocrisy of them that have authority, the poor are devoured.

10:12 1 He calleth to God for help, because wickedness is so far overgrown, that God must now help or never.
10:13 1 Therefore thou must needs punish this their blasphemy.
10:14 1 To judge between the right and the wrong.
10:15 1 For thou hast utterly destroyed him.
10:16 1 The hypocrites or such as live not after God’s Law, shall be destroyed.
10:18 1 God helpeth when man’s help ceaseth.
11:1 1 This is the wicked counsel of his enemies to him and his companions to drive him from the hope of God’s promise.
11:3 1 All hope of succor is taken away.
11:4 1 Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God will execute judgment from heaven.

2 Or, destroy no more man upon the earth.
2 Yet am I innocent and my cause good.
2 Or, destroy no more man upon the earth.
2 Yet am I innocent and my cause good.
and him that loveth iniquity, doth his soul hate.
6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire, and brimstone, and stormy tempest; this is the portion of their cup.
7 For the righteous Lord loveth righteousness: his countenance doth behold the just.

12 1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, deserveth God speedily to send succor to his children. 7 Then comfort- ing himself, and others with the assurance of God’s help, he commendeth the constant verity that God observeth in keeping his promises.

To him that excelleth upon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.
1 Help Lord, for there is not a godly man left: for the faithful are failed from among the children of men.
2 They speak deceitfully every one with his neighbor, flattering with their lips, and speak with a double heart.
3 The Lord cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:
4 Which have said, With our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own; who is Lord over us?
5 Now for the oppression of the needy, and for the sighs of the poor, I will up, saith the Lord, and will set at liberty him, whom the wicked hath snared.
6 The words of the Lord are pure words, as the silver, tried in a furnace of earth, fined sevenfold.
7 Thou wilt keep them, O Lord; thou wilt preserve him from this generation forever.
8 The wicked walk on every side; when they are exalted, it is a shame for the sons of men.

13 1 David as it were overcome with sundry and new afflictions, fleeth to God as his only refuge, and perceiveth most sure confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

116 1 As in the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.
2 Which they shall drink even to the dregs, Ezek. 23:34.
12:1 1 Which dare defend the truth and show mercy to the oppressed.
12:2 1 He meaneth the flatterers of the court which hurt him more with their tongues, than with their weapons.
12:4 1 They think themselves able to persuade whatsoever they take in hand.
12:5 1 The Lord is moved with the complaints of his, and delivereth in the end from all dangers.
2 Because the Lord’s word and promise is true and unchangeable, he will perform it and preserve the poor from this wicked generation.
12:7 1 That is, thine though he were but one man.
12:8 1 For they suppress the godly and maintain the wicked.
13:1 1 He declareth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith fainted not.
13:2 2 Changing my purposes as the sick man doth his place.
13:4 1 Which might turn to God’s dishonor: if he did not defend his.
13:5 1 The mercy of God is the cause of our salvation.
8 Both by the benefits past, and by others to come.
14:1 1 He showeth that the cause of all wickedness is to forget God.
2 There is nothing but disorder and wickedness among them.
14:3 1 David here maketh comparison between the faithful and the reprobate, but S. Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3:10.
14:5 1 Where they think themselves most sure.
14:6 1 You mock them that put their trust in God.
14:7 1 He prayeth for the whole Church whom he is assured God will deliver: for none but he only can do it.
of the wicked, and are gathered out of Psalms 5, 10, 36, 140; Isa. 59, and are alleged by S. Paul, and placed together in Romans 3.

15 1 This Psalm teacheth on what condition God did choose the Jews for his peculiar people; and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by living uprightly and godly, might witness that they were his special and holy people.

A Psalm of David.

1 Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy Mountain?
2 He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.
3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor receiveth a false report against his neighbor.
4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoreth them that fear the Lord: he that sweareth to his own hindrance and changeth not.
5 He that giveth not his money unto usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, shall never be moved.

16 1 David prayeth to God for succor not for his works, but for his faith's sake. 2 The prayer of David.

1 Preserve me, O Lord, for in thee do I trust.
2 O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord; my well doing extendeth not to thee,
3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.
4 The sorrows of them, that offer to another god, shall be multiplied: their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make mention of their names with my lips.
5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou shalt maintain my lot.
6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places:

yea, I have a fair heritage.
7 I will praise the Lord, who hath given me counsel: my reins also teach me in the nights.
8 I have set the Lord always before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I shall not slide.
9 Wherefore mine heart is glad, and my tongue rejoiceth: my flesh also doth rest in hope.
10 For thou wilt not leave my soul in the grave: neither wilt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.
11 Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy presence is the fulness of joy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

17 1 Here he complaineth to God of the cruel pride and arrogance of Saul, and the rest of his enemies, who thus raged without any cause given on his part. 2 Therefore he desireth God to revenge his innocence and deliver him.

The prayer of David.

1 Hear the right, O Lord, consider my cry: hearken unto my prayer of lips unfeigned.
2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equity.
3 Thou hast proved and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my mouth should not offend.
4 Concerning the works of men, by the words of thy lips I kept me from the paths of the cruel man.
5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feet do not slide.
6 I have called upon thee: surely thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words.
7 Show thy marvelous mercies: thou that art the Savior of them that trust in thee, from such as resist thy right hand.
8 Keep me as the apple of the eye: hide me under the shadow of thy wings,
9 From the wicked that oppress me, from mine enemies, which compass me round about for mine soul.
10 They are enclosed in their own fat, and they 14 From men by thine hand, O Lord, from men the face of God and favorable countenance opened unto us. 18:7 He had heard his prayers.

18:5 In the which God had delivered him.

18:4 Glory with their petition.

18:3 Have many means to hurt, so God hath many ways to help.

4 1 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of wickedness made me afraid.

5 1 I will love thee dearly, O Lord my strength.

6 1 I will call upon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

18:2 This is the full felicity, comforting against all assaults, to have the day that the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said, 1 I will love thee dearly, O Lord my strength.

2 1 The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and he that delivereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horn also of my salvation, and my refuge.

3 1 I will call upon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

4 1 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of wickedness made me afraid.

5 1 The sorrows of the grave have compassed me about: the snares of death overtook me.

6 1 But in my trouble did I call upon the Lord, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, even into his ears.

7 1 Then the earth trembled and quaked: the foundations also of the mountains moved and shook, because he was angry.

8 1 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a consuming fire out of his mouth: coals were kindled thereat.

9 1 He bowed the heavens also and came down, and darkness was under his feet.

10 1 And he rode upon Cherub, and did fly, and he came flying upon the wings of the wind.

11 1 He made darkness his secret place, and his pavilion round about him, even darkness of waters, and clouds of the air.

12 1 At the brightness of his presence his clouds passed, hailstones and coals of fire.

13 1 The Lord also thundered in the heaven, and the Highest gave his voice, hailstones and coals of fire.

14 1 Then he sent out his arrows and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

15 1 And the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 1 He hath sent down from above and taken me: he hath drawn me out of many waters.

17 1 He hath delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hate me: for they were too strong for me.

18 1 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the Lord was my stay.

19 1 He brought me forth also into a large place: he delivered me because he favored me.

20 1 I will call upon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

21 1 Because I kept the ways of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

17:13 1 Stop his rage.

17:14 1 By thine heavenly power.

17:15 1 Or, whose tyranny hath too long endured.

17:16 1 Or, the deep bottoms were seen when the red sea was divided.

18:8 1 He sheweth how horrible God's judgments shall be to the wicked.

18:9 1 Darkness signifieth the wrath of God as the clear light signifieth God's favor.

18:10 1 This is described at large, Ps. 104.

18:11 1 As a king angry with the people, will not show himself unto them.

18:12 1 Thundered, lightninged and hailed.

18:13 1 His lightnings.

18:14 1 That is, the deep bottoms were seen when the red sea was divided.

18:15 1 Stop his rage.

18:16 1 Out of sundry and great dangers.

18:17 1 To wit, Saul.

18:18 1 Or, whose tyranny hath too long endured.

18:19 1 The cause of God's deliverance is his only favor and love to us.

18:20 1 David was sure of his righteous cause, and good behavior toward Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of God's favor and deliverance.
22 For all his laws were before me, and I did not cast away his commandments from me.
23 I was upright also with him, and have kept me from my wickedness.
24 Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, and according to the pureness of mine hands in his sight.
25 With the godly thou wilt show thyself godly: with the upright man thou wilt show thyself upright.
26 With the pure thou wilt show thyself pure, and with the froward thou wilt show thyself froward.
27 Thus thou wilt save the poor people, and wilt cast down to proud looks.
28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkness.
29 For by thee I have broken through an host, and by my God I have leaped over a wall.
30 The way of God is uncorrupt: the word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.
31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty save our God?
32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way upright.
33 He maketh my feet like hind’s feet, and setteth me upon mine high places.
34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bow of brass is broken with mine arms.
35 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy lovingkindness hath caused me to increase.
36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, and my heels have not slid.
37 I have pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and have not turned again till I had consumed them.
38 I have wounded them, that they were not able to rise, they are fallen under my feet.
39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battle: them that rose against me, thou hast subdued under me.
40 And thou hast given me the necks of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.
41 They cried, but there was none to save them, even unto the Lord, but he answered them not.
42 Then I did beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streets.
43 Thou hast delivered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the heathen, a people, whom I have not known, shall serve me.
44 As soon as they hear they shall obey me: the strangers shall be in subjection to me.
45 Strangers shall shrink away, and fear in their pure chambers.
46 Let the Lord live, and blessed be my strength, and the God of my salvation be exalted.
47 It is God that giveth me power to avenge me, and subdued the people under me.
48 O my deliverer from mine enemies, even thou hast set me up from those that rose against me; thou hast delivered me from the cruel man.
49 Therefore I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing unto thy Name.

19 To the intent he might move the faithful to deeper consideration of God’s glory, he setteth before their eyes the most exquisite workmanship of the heavens, with their proportion, and ornaments. And afterward calleth them to the Law, wherein God hath revealed himself more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law, he setteth forth more at large.
To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth the work of his hands.

2 Day unto day uttereth the same, and night unto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard.

4 Their line is gone forth through all the earth, and their words into the ends of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the Sun.

5 Which cometh forth as a bridegroom out of his chamber, and rejoiceth like a mighty man to run his race.

6 His going out is from the end of the heaven, and his compass is unto the ends of the same, and none is hid from the heat thereof.

7 The Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, and giveth wisdom unto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and rejoice the heart, the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giveth light unto the eyes.

9 The fear of the Lord is clean, and endureth forever: the judgments of the Lord are truth: they are righteous altogether.

10 And more to be desired than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey, and the honeycomb.

11 Moreover by them is thy servant made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can understand his faults? cleanse me from secret faults.

13 Keep thy servant also from presumptuous sins: let them not reign over me: so shall I be upright, and made clean from much wickedness.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord my strength, and my redeemer.
long life forever and ever.
5 His glory is great in thy salvation: dignity and honor hast thou laid upon him.
6 For thou hast set him as 'blessings forever: thou hast made him glad with the joy of thy countenance.
7 Because the king trusteth in the Lord, and in the mercy of the most high, he shall not slide.
8 'Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies, and thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee.
9 Thou shalt make them like a fiery oven in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them.
10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from the children of men.
11 For they 'intended evil against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not prevail.
12 Therefore shalt thou put them 'apart, and the strings of thy bow shalt thou make ready against their faces.
13 'Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

22 1 David complained because he was brought into such extremities that he was past all hope, but after he had rehearsed the sorrow and griefs, wherewith he was vexed. 10 He恢复eth himself from the bottomless pit of temptations, and growth in hope. 1 And here under his own person he setteth forth the figure of Christ, whom he did foresee by the spirit of prophecy, that he should marvellously, and strangely be rejected, and abased, before his Father should raise and exalt him again.

To him that excelleth upon 'Aijeleth Hashahar.
A Psalm of David.

1 My 'God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, and art so far from mine health, and from the words of my 'roaring?
2 O my God, I cry by day, but thou hearest not: and by night, but 'have no audience.

CHAPTER 22
2:1 Matt. 27:43
3 But thou art holy, and dost inhabit the praises of Israel.
4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.
5 They called upon thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.
6 But I am a 'worm, and not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.
7 All they that see me, have me in derision: they make a mow and nod the head, saying,
8 'He trusted in the Lord, let him deliver him: let him save him, seeing he loveth him.
9 But thou didst draw me out of the womb: thou gavest me hope, even at my mother's breasts.
10 I was cast upon thee, even from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.
11 Be not far from me, because trouble is near: for there is none to help me.
12 Many young bulls have compassed me: mighty bulls of Bashan have closed me about.
13 They gape upon me with their mouths, as a ramping and roaring lion.
14 I am like water poured out, and all my bones are out of joint: mine heart is like wax: it is molten in the midst of my bowels.
15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and all my bones are made a mow, and the contempt of the people.
16 For dogs have compassed me, and the assembly of the wicked have enclosed me: they pierced mine hands and my feet.
17 I may tell all my bones, yet they behold, and look upon me.
18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.
19 But be not thou far off, O Lord, my strength: hasten to help me.
20 Deliver my soul from the sword: my 'desolate

21:6 'Thou hast made him thy blessings to others, and a perpetual example of thy favor forever.
21:8 'Here he describeth the power of Christ's kingdom against the enemies thereof.
21:9 'This teacheth us patiently to endure the cross till God destroy the adversary.
21:11 'They laid as it were their nets to make God's power to give place to their wicked enterprises.
21:12 'As a mark to shoot at.
21:13 'Maintain thy Church against thine adversaries, that we may have ample occasion to praise thy Name.
22:1 'Or, the hind of the morning: and this was the name of some common song.
22:2 'Being torment ed with extreme anguish.
22:3 'He meaneth the place of praising, even the Tabernacle: or else it is so called, because he gave the people continually occasion to praise him.
22:6 'And seeming most miserable of all creatures, which was meant of Christ. And herein appeareth the unspeakable love of God toward man, that he would thus abase his Son for our sakes.
22:8 'Hebrew, rolled upon God.
22:9 'Even from my birth thou hast given me occasion to trust in thee.
22:10 For except God's providence preserve the infants, they should perish a thousand times in the mother's womb.
22:12 'He meaneth, that his enemies were so fat, proud, and cruel, that they were rather beasts than men.
22:14 'Before he spake of the cruelty of his enemies, and now he declareth the inward griefs of the mind, so that Christ was tormented both in soul and body.
22:15 'Thou had suffered me to be without all hope of life.
22:16 'Thus David complaineth as though he were nailed by his enemies both hands and feet: but this was accomplished in Christ.
22:20 'My life that is solitary, left alone and forsaken of all, Ps. 35:17 and 25:16.
22:21 1 Christ is delivered with a more mighty deliverance by overcoming death, than if he had not tasted death at all.

22:23 1 He promiseth to exhort the Church that they by his example might praise the Lord.

22:24 1 The poor afflicted are comforted by this example of David, or Christ.

22:25 1 Which were sacrifices of thanksgiving, which they offered by God's commandment, when they were delivered out of any great danger.

22:26 1 He doth allude still to the sacrifice.

22:29 1 Though the poor be first named, as verse 26, yet the wealthy are not separated from the grace of Christ's kingdom.

22:30 1 Meaning, the prosperity, which the Lord keepeth as a seed to the Church to continue his praise among men.

22:31 1 That is, God hath fulfilled his promise.

22:33 1 He comforteth or refresheth me.
everlasting doors, and the King of glory shall come in.
8 Who is this King of glory? the Lord, strong and mighty, even the Lord mighty in battle.
9 Lift up your heads, ye gates, and lift up yourselves ye everlasting doors, and the King of glory shall come in.
10 Who is this King of glory? the Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory; Selah.

Psalm 25
1 The Prophet touched with the consideration of his sins, and also grieved with the cruel malice of his enemies, prays most fervently to have his sins forgiven. Especially such as he had committed in his youth. He beginneth every verse according to the Hebrew letters, two or three except.

A Psalm of David.
1 Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul.
2 My God, I trust in thee; let me not be confounded: let not mine enemies rejoice over me.
3 So all that hope in thee, shall not be ashamed; but let them be confounded, that transgress without cause.
4 Show me thy ways, O Lord, and teach me thy paths.
5 Lead me forth in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation: in thee do I trust all the day.
6 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and according to thy kindness remember thou me, even for thy goodness sake, O Lord.
7 Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my reins, and mine heart.
8 Gracious and righteous is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.
9 Them that be meek, will he guide in judgment, and teach the humble his way.
10 All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies:
11 For thy Name's sake, O Lord, be merciful unto mine iniquity, for it is great.
12 What man is he that feareth the Lord? him will he teach the way that he shall choose.

Psalm 26
1 Judge me, O Lord, for I have walked in mine innocency: my trust hath been also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.
2 Prove me, O Lord, and try me: examine my reins, and mine heart.
3 For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes: therefore have I walked in thy truth.
4 I have not been haunted with vain persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers.
5 I have hated the assembly of the ungodly, and have not companied with the wicked.
6 I will wash mine hands in innocency, O Lord, that he is the protector of the faithful.

25:1 I put not my trust in any worldly thing.
25:2 That thou wilt take away mine enemies, which are thy rods.
25:4 Retain me in the faith of thy promise, that I serve not on any side.
25:5 Constantly, and against all/S terrations.
25:7 He confesseth that his manifold sins were the cause that his enemies did thus persecute him, desiring that the cause of the evil may be taken away, to the intent that the effect may cease.
25:8 That is, call them to repentance.
25:9 He will govern and comfort them that are truly humbled for their sins.
25:11 And for none other respect.
25:12 Meaning, the number is very small.
2 He will direct such with his spirit to follow the right way.
25:13 He shall prosper both in spiritual and corporal things.
25:14 His counsel contained in his word, whereby he declareth and praise the Lord.
7 Hearken unto my voice, O Lord, when I cry: have mercy also upon me and hear me.
8 When thou saidest, 'Seek ye my face, mine heart answered unto thee, O Lord, I will seek thy face.
9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy servant away in displeasure: thou hast been my succour, leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.
10 Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord will gather me up.
11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a right path, because of mine enemies.
12 Give me not unto the lust of mine adversaries: for there are false witnesses risen up against me, and such as speak cruelly.
13 I should have fainted, except I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.
14 I hope in the Lord: be strong, and he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

A Psalm of David.

1 Unto thee, O Lord, do I cry: O my strength, be not deaf toward me, lest thou answer me not, I be like them that go down into the pit.
2 Hear the voice of my petitions, when I cry unto thee, when I hold up my hands toward thine holy Oracle.
3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: which speak friendly to their neighbors, when malice is in their hearts.
4 Reward them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of their inventions: recompense them after the work of their hands: render them their reward.

26:9 1 Destroy me not in the overthrow of the wicked.
26:10 1 Whose cruel hands do execute the malicious devices of their hearts.
26:12 1 I am preserved from mine enemies by the power of God, and therefore will praise him openly.
27:1 1 Because he was assured of good success in all his dangers, and that his salvation was surely laid up in God, he feared not the tyranny of his enemies.
27:3 1 That God will deliver me and give my faith the victory.
27:4 1 The loss of country, wife, and all worldly commodities grieve me not in respect of this one thing, that I may not praise thy Name in the midst of the congregation.
27:6 1 David assured himself by the Spirit of prophecy that he should overcome his enemies, and serve God in his Tabernacle.
27:8 1 He groundeth upon God's promise, and sheweth that he is most willing to obey his commandment.
27:10 1 He magnifieth God's love toward his, which far passeth the most tender love of parents towards their children.
27:12 1 But either pacify their wrath, or bridle their rage.
27:13 1 In this present life before I die, as Isa. 38:11.
27:14 1 He exhorteth himself to depend on the Lord, seeing he never failed in his promises.
28:1 1 He counteth himself as a dead man, till God show his favor toward him, and grant him his petition.
28:2 1 He used this outward means to help the weakness of his faith: for in that place was the Ark, and there God promised to show the tokens of his favor.
28:3 1 Destroy not the good with the bad.
28:4 1 He thus prayeth in respect to God's glory and not for his own cause, being assured that God would punish the persecutors of his Church.
5 For they reward not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore break them down, and build them not up.

6 Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength and my shield: mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shall rejoice, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is their strength, and he is the strength of the deliverances of his anointed.

9 Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: feed them also, and exalt them forever.

29 1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world (which for the most part think there is no God.)

2 At the least to fear him for the thunders and tempests, for fear whereof all creatures tremble.

3 And though thereby God threateneth sinners, yet he is always merciful to his, and moveth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalm of David.

1 Give unto the Lord, ye sons of the mighty, give unto the Lord glory and strength.

2 Give unto the Lord glory due unto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord is upon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mighty: the voice of the Lord is glorious.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leap like a calf: Lebanon also and Shirion like a young unicorn.

7 The voice of the Lord divideth the flames of fire.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wilderness to tremble: the Lord maketh the wilderness of Kadesh to tremble.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to calve, and discovereth the forests: therefore in his Temple doth every man speak of his glory.

10 The Lord sitteth upon the floods, and the Lord doth remain King forever.

11 The Lord shall give strength unto his people: the Lord shall bless his people with peace.

PSALM 30:9

1 When David was delivered, from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do the like, and to learn by his example, that God is rather merciful than severe and rigorous towards his children. 7 And also that the fall from prosperity to adversity is sudden. 8 This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God forever.

'A Psalm or song of the dedication of the house of David.

1 I will magnify thee, O Lord: thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to rejoice over me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast restored me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought up my soul out of the grave: thou hast revived me from them that go down into the pit.

4 Sing praises unto the Lord, ye his Saints, and give thanks before the remembrance of his Holiness.

5 For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his favor is life: weeping may abide at evening, but joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my prosperity I said, I shall never be moved.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodness hadst made my mountain to stand strong: but thou didst hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 Then cried I unto thee, O Lord, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit! shall the dust give thanks unto 28:5 1 Let them be utterly destroyed, as Mal. 1:4.

28:8 1 Because he felt the assurance of God’s help in his heart, his mouth was opened to sing his praises.

28:8 2 Meaning, his soldiers, who were as means, by whom God declared his power.

29:1 1 He exhorteth the proud tyrants to humble themselves under God’s hand, and not to be inferior to brute beasts and dumb creatures.

29:3 1 The thunder claps that are heard out of the clouds, ought to make the wicked to tremble for fear of God’s anger.

29:5 1 That is, the thunderbolt breaketh the most strong trees, and shall men think their power to be able to resist God?

29:6 1 Called also Hermon.

29:7 1 It causeth the lightnings to shoot and glide.

29:8 1 In places most desolate, whereas seemeth there is no presence of God.

29:9 1 For fear maketh them to cast their calves.

29:9 2 Maketh the trees bare, or pierceth the most secret places.

30:1 1 Before his Tabernacle.

30:6 1 I put too much confidence in my quiet state, as Jer. 31:18; 2 Chron. 32:24, 25.

30:7 1 I thought thou hast established me in Zion most surely.

30:9 1 David meaneth that the dead are not profitable to the Congregation of the Lord here in the earth: therefore he would live to praise his Name, which is the end of man’s creation.
PSALM 30:10

10 For my life is wasted with heaviness, and my years with mourning: my strength faileth for my pain, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbors: and a fear to mine acquaintance, who seeing me in the street, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessel.

13 For I have heard the railing of great men: fear was on every side, while they conspired together against me, and consulted to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my God.

15 My times are in thine hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: and save me through thy mercy.

17 Let me not be confounded, O Lord: for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, and to silence in the grave.

18 Let the lying lips be made dumb, which cruelly, proudly, and spitefully speak against the righteous.

19 How great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee!

20 Finally he exhorteth all the faithful to trust in God and to love him, because he preserveth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust: let me never be confounded: deliver me in thy righteousness.

2 Bow down thine ear to me: make haste to deliver me: be unto me a strong rock, and an house of defense to save me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortress: therefore for thy Name's sake direct me and save me.

4 Draw me out of the net, that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine hand I commend my spirit: O Lord God of truth.

6 I have hated them that give themselves to deceitful vanities: for I trust in the Lord.

7 I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast set me at large.

8 And thou hast not shut me up in the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

9 Have mercy upon me, O Lord: for I am in trouble: but thou hast set my feet at large.

10 Thou hast turned my mourning into joy: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

11 Hear, O Lord, and have mercy upon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

12 Therefore shall my tongue praise thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will give thanks unto thee forever.
24 All ye that trust in the Lord, be strong, and he shall establish your heart.

32 1 David punished with grievous sickness for his sins, counteth them blessed to whom God doth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sins, and obtained pardon, 6 he exhorteth the wicked men to live godly. 11 and the good to rejoice.

A Psalm of David to give instruction.

1 Blessed is he whose wickedness is forgiven, and whose sin is covered.
2 Blessed is the man, unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.
3 When I held my tongue, my bones consumed, or when I roared all the day,
4 (For thine hand is heavy upon me day and night: and my moisture is turned into the drought of Summer. Selah.)
5 Then I acknowledged my sin unto thee, neither hid I mine iniquity: for I thought, I will confess against myself my wickedness unto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sin. Selah.
6 Therefore shall everyone that is godly, make his prayer unto thee in a time, when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters they shall not come near him.
7 Thou art my secret place: thou preservest me from trouble: thou compassest me about with joyful deliverance. Selah.
8 I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way that thou shalt go, and I will guide thee with mine eye.
9 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule which understand not: whose mouths thou dost bind with bridle and bridle, lest they come near thee.
10 Many sorrows shall come to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him.
11 Be glad ye righteous, and rejoice in the Lord, and be joyful all ye, that are upright in heart.

33 1 He exhorteth good men to praise God, for that he hath not only created all things, and by his providence governeth the same, but also is faithful in his promises, 10 he understandeth man's heart, and scattereth the counsel of the wicked. 16 so that no man can be preserved by any creature or man's strength: by they, that put their confidence in his mercy, shall be preserved from all adversities.

1 Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh upright men to be thankful.
2 Praise the Lord with harp: sing unto him with viol and instrument of ten strings.
3 Sing unto him a new song: sing cheerfully with a loud voice.
4 For the word of the Lord is righteous, and all his works are faithful.
5 He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord.
6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.
7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as upon an heap, and layeth up the depths in his treasures.
8 Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all them that dwell in the world, fear him.
9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood.
10 The Lord breaketh the counsel of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the devices of the people.
11 The counsel of the Lord shall stand forever, and the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.
12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: even the people that he hath chosen for his inheritance.
13 The Lord looketh down from heaven, and
Psalm 33:14

Beholdeth all the children of men.
14 From the habitation of his dwelling, he beholdeth all them that dwell in the earth.
15 He fashioneth their hearts every one, and understandeth all their works.
16 The King is not saved by the multitude of an host, neither is the mighty man delivered by great strength.
17 A horse is a vain help, and shall not deliver any by his great strength.
18 Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, and upon them that trust in his mercy, 19 To deliver their souls from death, and to preserve them in famine.
20 Our soul waiteth for the Lord: for he is our help and our shield.
21 Surely our heart shall rejoice in him, because we trusted in his holy Name.
22 Let thy mercy, O Lord, be upon us, as we trusted in thee.

Psalm 34

1 After David had escaped Achish, according as it is written in 1 Sam. 2:11, whom in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a general name to all the Kings of the Philistines) he praiseth God for his deliverance. 3 provoking all others by his example to trust in God, to fear and serve him, 7 who defendeth the godly with his Angels, 16 and utterly destroyeth the wicked in their sins.

A Psalm of David, when he changeth his behavior before Abimelech, who drave him away, and he departed.
1 I will always give thanks unto the Lord: his praise shall be in my mouth continually.
2 My soul shall glory in the Lord: the humble shall hear it and be glad.
3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let us magnify his Name together.
4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he delivered me out of all my fear.
5 They shall look unto him, and run to him: and their faces shall not be ashamed, saying,
6 This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.
7 The Angel of the Lord pitched round about him, that fear him, and deliveredeth them.
8 Taste ye and see, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.
9 Fear the Lord ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that fear him.
10 The lions do lack and suffer hunger, but they which seek the Lord, shall want nothing that is good.
11 Come children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord.
12 What man is he that desireth life, and loveth long days for to see good?
13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips, that they speak no guile.
14 Eschew evil and do good: seek peace and follow after it.
15 The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.
16 But the face of the Lord is against them that do evil, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.
17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth them, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.
18 The Lord is near unto them that are of a contrite heart, and will save such as be afflicted in spirit.
19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.
20 He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.
21 But malice shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.
22 The Lord redeemeth the souls of his servants: and none that trust in him, shall perish.

Psalm 35

1 So long as Saul was enemy to David, all that had any authority under him, to flatter their king (as is the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute David: against whom he prayeth God to plead and to avenge his cause, 8 that they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they laid for him, that his innocency may be declared. 27 and that the in-
Psalm 35:1–11

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his enemies and the confusion of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let their way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let them be confounded and put to shame: let them be turned back, that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and confusion that lift up themselves against me: let them be taken with their vain schemes.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

I have spoken peace to those that warred against me: but they sought after my soul.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let the net that he hath laid privily take him: and let his way be dark and slippery: and let the destruction of his adversaries be put to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.
PSALM 35:28

28 And my tongue shall utter thy righteousness, and thy praise every day.

36 1 The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doth complain of their malicious wickedness. 6 Then he turneth to consider the unspeakable goodness of God toward all creatures. 9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliverance by this ordinary course of God's work. 12 Who in the end destroyeth the wicked, and saveth the just.

To him that excelleth.
A Psalm of David, the servant of the Lord.

1 Wickedness saith to the wicked man, 2 even in mine heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.
2 For he flattereth himself in his own eyes, while his iniquity is found worthy to be hated.
3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to understand and to do good.
4 He imagineth mischief upon his bed: he seteth himself upon a way, that is not good, and doth not abhor evil.
5 Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth unto the heavens, and thy faithfulness unto the clouds.
6 Thy righteousness is like the mighty mountains: thy judgments are like a great deep: thou Lord, dost save man and beast.
7 How excellent is thy mercy, O God! therefore the children of men trust under the shadow of thy wings.
8 They shall be satisfied with the fatness of thine house, and thou shalt give them drink out of the river of thy pleasures.
9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.
10 Extend thy loving-kindness unto them that know thee, and thy righteousness unto them that are upright in heart.
11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked men move me.

12 There they are fallen that work iniquity: they are cast down, and shall not be able to rise.

37 1 This Psalm containeth exhortation and consolation for the weak, that are grieved at the prosperity of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For how prosperously soever the wicked do live for the time, he doth affirm their felicity to be vain and transitory, because they are not in the favor of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miserably that the righteous seemeth to live in the world, yet his end is peace, and he is in the favor of God, he is delivered from the wicked, and preserved.

A Psalm of David.

1 Fret not thyself because of the wicked men, neither be envious for the evildoers.
2 For they shall soon be cut down like grass, and shall wither as the green herb.
3 Trust thou in the Lord and do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly:
4 And delight thyself in the Lord, and he shall give thee thine heart's desire.
5 Commit thy way unto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to pass.
6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noon day.
7 Wait patiently upon the Lord, and hope in him: fret not thyself for him which prospereth in his way, nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to pass.
8 Cease from anger, and leave off wrath: fret not thyself also to do evil.
9 For evildoers shall be cut off, and they that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.
10 Therefore yet a little while and the wicked shall not appear, and thou shalt look after his place, and he shall not be found.
11 But ‘meek men shall possess the earth, and shall have their delight in the multitude of peace.
12 The wicked practiceth against the just, and gnasheth his teeth against him.
13 But the Lord shall laugh him to scorn: for he seeth that his day is coming.
14 The wicked have drawn their sword and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation.
15 But their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.
16 A small thing unto the just man is better than great riches to the wicked and mighty.
17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord upholdeth the just men.
18 The Lord knoweth the days of upright men, and their inheritance shall be perpetual.
19 They shall not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the days of famine they shall have ‘enough.
20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be consumed as the ‘fat of lambs: even with the smoke shall they consume away.
21 The wicked borroweth and payeth not again: but the righteous is merciful and ‘giveth.
22 For such as be blessed of God shall inherit the land, and they that be cursed of him, shall be cut off.
23 The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loveth his way.
24 Though he ‘fall, he shall not be cast off, for the Lord putteth under his hand.
25 I have been young, and am old: yet I saw never the righteous forsaken, nor his ‘seed begging bread.
26 But he is ever merciful and lendeth, and his seed enjoyeth the blessing.
27 Flee from evil and do good, and dwell forever.
28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his Saints: they shall be preserved forevermore: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.
29 The righteous men shall inherit the land, and dwell therein ‘forever.
30 The ‘mouth of the righteouse will speak of wisdom, and his tongue will talk of judgment.
31 For the Law of his God is in his heart, and ‘his steps shall not slide.
32 The wicked watched the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.
33 But the Lord will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him, when he is ‘judged.
34 Wait thou on the Lord, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee, that thou shalt inherit the land: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.
35 I have seen the wicked strong, and spreading himself like a green bay tree.
36 Yet he ‘passed away, and lo, he was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.
37 ‘Mark the upright man, and behold the just: for the end of that man is peace.
38 But their transgressors shall be destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shall be cut off.
39 But the ‘salvation of the righteous men shall be of the Lord: he shall be their strength in the time of trouble.
40 For the Lord shall help them, and deliver them: they shall deliver them from the wicked, and shall save them, because they trust in him.

A Psalm of David for ‘remembrance.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

38:1 David lying sick of some grievous disease, acknowledgeth himself to be chastised of the Lord for his sins, and therefore prayeth God to turn away his wrath. 5 He uttereth the greatness of his grief by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrows of God’s ire, forsaken of his friends, evil intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the end with firm confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedy help at his hand.

A Psalm of David for ‘remembrance.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.
2 For thine arrows have light upon me, and thine hand lieth upon me.
3 There is nothing sound in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones, because of my sin.
4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head, and as a weighty burden they are too heavy for me.
5 My wounds are putrefied, and corrupt because of my foolishness.
6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: 1 I go mourning all the day.
7 For my reins are full of burning, and there is nothing sound in my flesh.
8 I am weakened and sore broken: 1 I roar for the very grief of mine heart.
9 Lord, 1 pour my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.
10 Mine heart panteth: my strength faileth me, and 1 I pant for the help of God.
11 My lovers and my friends stand aside from my refuge.
12 They also that seek after my life, lay snares, and plague, and my kinsmen stand afar off.
13 But I as a deaf man heard not, and am as a dumb man, which openeth not his mouth.
14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reprofs.
15 For on thee, O Lord, do I wait: thou wilt hear my voice, and 1 hear me, my Lord, my God.
16 For I said, Hear me, lest they rejoice over me: for when my foot slippeth, they extol themselves against me.
17 Surely I am ready to 1 halt, and my sorrow is ever before me.
18 When I declare my pain, and am sorry for my sin,
19 Then mine enemies are alive, and are mighty, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.
20 They also, that reward evil for good, are mine adversaries, because I follow 1 goodness.
21 Forsake me not, O Lord, be not thou far from me, my God.
22 Haste thee, to help me, O my Lord, my salvation.

Title

1 David uttereth with what great grief and bitterness of mind he was driven to these outrageous complaints of his infirmities. 2 For he confesseth that when he had determined silence, that he brast forth yet into words, that he would not, through the greatness of his grief. 4 Then he rehearseth certain requests which taste of the infirmity of man. 8 And mixeth with them many prayers: but all do show a mind wonderfully trembled, that it may plainly appear how he did strive mightily against death and desperation.

To the excellent Musician Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

1 I thought, 1 I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.
2 I was dumb and spake nothing: I kept silence even from good, 1 and my sorrow was more stirred.
3 Mine heart was hot within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and 1 spake with my tongue, saying,
4 Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is: let me know how long I have to live.
5 Behold, thou hast made my days as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely every man in his best state is altogether vanity.
6 Doubtless man walketh in a shadow, and di­quieteth himself in vain: he heareth up riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.
7 And now Lord, what wait I for? mine hope is even in thee.

38:2 1 Thy sickness, wherewith thou hast visited me.
38:3 1 David acknowledgeth God to be just in his punishments, because his sins had deserved much more.
38:4 1 He confesseth his sins, God's justice, and maketh prayer his refuge.
38:5 1 That rather gave place to mine own lusts, than to the will of God.
38:6 Or, black as one that is disfigured and consumed with sickness.
38:8 1 This example warneth us never to despair, be the torment never so great: but always to cry unto God with sure trust for deliverance.
38:10 1 Hebrew, runneth about, or, is tossed to and fro, meaning, that he was destitute of all help and counsel.
2 My sight faileth me for very sorrow.
38:11 1 Partly for fear and partly for pride, they denied all duty and friendship.
38:13 1 For I can have no audience before men, and therefore patiently wait for the help of God.
38:16 1 That is, if they see that thou succor me not in time, they will mock and triumph, as though thou hadst forsaken me.
38:17 1 I am without hope to recover my strength.
38:19 1 In my greatest misery they most rejoice.
38:20 1 He had rather have the hatred of all the world, than to fail in any part of his duty to Godward.
38:22 1 Which are the author of my salvation: and this declareth that he prayed with sure hope of deliverance.
39:Title 1 This was one of the chief singers, 1 Chron. 16:41.
39:1 1 Albeit he had appointed with himself patiently to have tarried God's leisure, yet the vehemently of his pain caused him to break his purpose.
39:2 1 Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to have kept silence, yet his zeal caused him to change his mind.
39:3 1 He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatness of his sorrows, and the shortness of his life.
39:5 1 Yet David offended in that that he reasoned with God as though that he were too severe toward his weak creature.
8 Deliver me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke unto the 'foolish.
9 I should have been dumb, and not have opened my mouth, because 'thou didst it.
10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.
11 When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moth 'makest his 'beauty to consume: surely every man is vanity. Selah.
12 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and hearken unto my cry: keep not silence at my tears, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.
13 Stay 'thine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, 'before I go hence and be not.

40

1 David delivered from great danger doth magnify and praise the grace of God for his deliverance, and commendeth his providence toward all mankind. 5 Then doth he promise to give himself wholly to God's service, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterwards he giveth thanks and praiseth God, and having complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for aid and succor.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 I waited 'patiently for the Lord, and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.
2 He brought me also out of the 'horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon the rock, and ordered my goings.
3 And he hath put in my mouth 'a new song of praise unto our God: many shall see it and fear, and shall trust in the Lord.
4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth 'not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.
5 O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderful works so many, that none can count in order to thee.

8 Deliver me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke unto the 'foolish.

PSALM 41:1

1 David being grievously afflicted, blesseth them that pity his case, 9 and complaineth of the treason of his own friends and familiars, as came to pass in Judas, John 13:18. After he feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 giveth most hearty thanks to God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed is he that judgeth wisely of the poor: the Lord shall deliver him in the time of trouble.
2 The Lord will keep him and preserve him alive, he shall be blessed upon the earth: and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies.
3 The Lord will strengthen him upon the bed of sorrow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sickness.
4 Therefore I said, Lord have mercy upon me: heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.
5 Mine enemies speak evil of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?
6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh lies, but his heart heapeth iniquity within him, and when he cometh forth, he telleth it.
7 All they that hate me whisper together against me: even against me do they imagine mine hurt.
8 A mischief is light upon him, and he that lieth, shall no more rise.
9 Yea, my familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up the heel against me.
10 Therefore, O Lord, have mercy upon me, and raise me up: so shall I reward them.
11 By this I know that thou favorest me, because mine enemy doth not triumph against me.
12 And as for me thou upholdest me in mine integrity, and dost set me before thy face forever.
13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel world without end. So be it, even so be it.

41:1 1 Not condemning him as accused whom God doth visit, knowing that there are divers causes why God layeth his hand upon us, yea and afterward he restoreth us.
41:3 1 When for sorrow and grief of mind he calleth himself upon his bed.
41:5 1 That is, curse me and cannot have their cruel hate quenched, but with my shameful death.
41:7 1 Upon his bed. Thou hast restored him in his sick bed and sent him comfort.
41:8 1 The enemies thought by his sharp punishments that God was become his mortal enemy.
41:9 1 Hebrew, the man of my peace.
41:12 1 Meaning, either in prosperity of life, or in the true fear of God against all tentations.
41:13 1 By this repetition he stirreth up the faithful to praise God.
42:1 1 The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being letted by his persecutors, he could not be present in the congregation of God's people, protesting that although he was separated in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affectioned. 7 And least of all he showed that he was not so far overcome with these sorrows and thoughts, 8 but that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.
42:7 1deep calleth another deep by the noise of thy waterspouts: all thy waves and thy floods are gone over me.
42:9 1 with the voice of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.
42:10 1 My bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies re-
11

Why art thou cast down, my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet give him thanks: he is my present help and my God.

43

1 He prayeth to be delivered from them that conspire against him, that he might joyfully praise God in his holy congregation.

1 Judge me, O God, and defend my cause against the unmerciful people: deliver me from the deceitful and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me away? why go I so mourning, when the enemy oppressed me?

3 Send thy light and thy truth: let them lead me: let them bring me unto thine holy Mountain, and to thy Tabernacles.

4 Then will I go unto the altar of God, even unto the God of my joy and gladness: and upon the harp will I give thanks unto thee, O God my God.

5 Why art thou cast down, my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me: wait on God: for I will yet give him thanks, he is my present help and my God.

1 The faithful remember the great mercy of God toward his people. 9 After they complain, because they feel it no more. 17 Also they allege the covenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they show what grievous things they suffered. 23 Finally, they pray unto God not to condemn their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honor.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sons of Korah.

1 We have heard with our ears, O God: our fathers have told us the works that thou hast done in their days, in the old time:

2 How thou hast driven out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and caused them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou didst favor them.

4 Thou art my king, O God: send help unto Jacob.

5 Through thee have we thrust back our adversaries: by thy Name have we trodden down them that rose up against us.

6 For I do not trust in my bow, neither can my sword save me.

7 But thou hast saved us from our adversaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate us.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, and will confess thy Name forever. Selah.

9 But now thou art far off, and puttest us to confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary, and they which hate us, spoil for themselves.

11 Thou givest us as sheep to be eaten, and dost scatter us among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people without gain, and dost not increase their price.

13 Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbors, a jest and laughing stock to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makest us a proverb among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me.

16 For the voice of the slanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and avenger.

17 All this is come upon us, yet do we not forget thee, neither deal we falsely concerning thy covenant.

42:11

This repetition doth declare that David did not overcome at once, to teach us to be constant, forasmuch as God will certainly deliver his.

43:1

He desireth God to undertake his cause against the enemies but chiefly that he would restore him to the Tabernacle.

2 That is, the cruel company of mine enemies.

43:3

To wit, thy favor, which appeareth by the performance of thy promises.

43:4

He promiseth to offer a solemn sacrifice of thanksgiving in token of his great deliverance.

43:5

Whereby he admoniseth the faithful not to relent, but constantly to wait on the Lord, though their troubles be long and great.

44:1

This psalm seemeth to have been made by some excellent Prophet for the use of the people, when the Church was in extreme misery, either at their return from Babylon, or under Antiochus, or in such like affliction.

44:2

That is, the Canaanites.

2 To wit, our fathers.

3 Of Canaan.

4 That is, our fathers.

44:3

God’s free mercy and love is the only fountain and beginning of the Church, Deut. 4:37.

44:4

Because thou art our king, therefore deliver thy people from their misery.

44:5

Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselves which before they did attribute to their fathers.

44:9

As they confessed before that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his just judgment.

44:10

Or, at their pleasure.

44:11

Knowing God to be author of this calamity, they murmur not, but seek remedy at his hands, who wounded them.

44:12

As slaves which are sold for a low price, neither lookest thou for him that offereth most, but takest the first chapman.

44:15

I dare not lift up my head for shame.

44:16

Meaning, the proud and cruel tyrant.

44:17

They boast not of their virtues, but declare that they rest upon God in the midst of their afflictions: who punished not now their sins, but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heavenly joys.
PSALM 44:18

18 Our heart is not turned back: neither our steps gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou hast smitten us down into the place of 'dragons, and covered us with the shadow of death.
20 If we have forgotten the Name of our God, and held up our hands to a 'strange god, 21 Shall not God 'search this out for he knoweth
the secrets of the heart.
22 Surely for thy sake 'are we slain continually, and are counted as sheep for the slaughter.
23 Up, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not far off forever.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? and forgettest our misery and our affliction?
25 For our soul is 'beaten down unto the dust:
our belly cleaveth to the ground.
26 Rise up for our succor, and redeem us for thy 'mercy’s sake.

45 1 The majesty of Solomon, his honor, strength, beauty, riches, and power are praised, and also his marriage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman, is blessed. 10 If that she can renounce her people and the love of her country, gave herself wholly to her husband. Under the which figure, the wonderful majesty and increase of the kingdom of Christ and his Church his spouse, now taken of the Gentiles, is described.

To him that excelleth on 'Shoshannim, a song of 'love to give instruction, committed to the sons of Korah.

1 Mine heart will utter forth a good matter: I will entreat in my works of the king: my tongue is as the pen of a swift writer.
2 Thou art 'fairer than the children of men: grace is poured in thy lips, because God hath blessed thee forever.
3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty, to wit, thy worship and thy glory:
4 And prosper with thy glory: 'ride upon the word of truth and of meekness and of righteousness:
so thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.
5 Thine arrows are sharp to pierce the heart of the King’s enemies: therefore the people shall fall under thee.
6 Thy 'throne, O God, is forever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdom, is a scepter of righteousness.
7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness, because God, even thy God, hath 'anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
8 All thy garments smell of myrrh and aloes, and cassia, when thou comest out of the ivory palaces
'there where they have made thee glad.
9 King’s daughters were among thine honorable wives: upon thy right hand did stand the 'Queen in a vesture of gold of Ophir.
10 'Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear: forget also thine own people and thy father’s house.
11 So shall the King have pleasure in thy beauty:
for he is thy Lord, and reverence thou him.
12 And the 'daughter of Tyre with the rich of the people, shall do homage before thy face with presents.
13 The King’s daughter is all glorious within her:
clothing is of brodered gold.
14 She shall be brought unto the King in raiment of needlework: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall be brought unto thee.
15 With joy and gladness shall they be brought,
and shall enter into the king’s palace.
16 Instead of thy fathers shall thy 'children be: thou shall make them princes through all the earth.
17 I will make thy 'Name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people give thanks unto thee, world without end.

46 A song of triumph or thanksgiving for the deliverance of Jerusalem, after Sennacherib with his army was driven away, or some other like sudden and marvelous deliverance by the mighty hand of God. 8 Whereby the Prophet commending this great benefit, doth exhort the faithful to give themselves wholly into the hand of God, doubting nothing but that under his protection they shall be safe against all the assaults of their enemies, because this is his delight to assuage the rage of the wicked, when they are most busy against the just.

To him that exelleth upon ‘A lamoth, a song committed to the sons of Korah.

1 God is our ‘hope and strength, and help in troubles, ready to be found.
2 Therefore will not we 1fear, though the earth be moved, and though the mountains fall into the midst of the sea,
3 Though the waters thereof rage and be troubled, and the mountains shake at the surges of the same. Selah.
4 Yet there is a 1River, whose stream shall make glad the City of God: even the Sanctuary of the Tabernacles of the most High.
5 God is in the midst of it: therefore shall it not be moved: God shall help it very early.
6 When the nations raged, and the kingdoms were moved, God ‘thundered, and the earth melted.
7 The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.
8 Come and behold the works of the Lord, what desolations he hath made in the earth.
9 He maketh wars to cease unto the ends of the world, he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear, and burneth the chariots with fire.
10 Be still and know that I am God, I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

47 The Prophet exhorteth all people to the worship of the true and everlasting God, commending the mercy of God toward the posterity of Jacob. 9 And after prophesieth of the kingdom of Christ in the time of the Gospel.

To him that exelleth.
A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.

1 All people clap your hands; sing loud unto God with a joyful voice.
2 For the Lord is high, and terrible; a great King over all the earth.
3 He hath subdued the people under us, and the nations under our feet.
4 He hath chosen our inheritance for us: even the glory of Jacob whom he loved. Selah.
5 God is gone up with triumph, even the Lord with the sound of the trumpet.
6 Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises.
7 For God is the king of all the earth: sing praises everyone that hath understanding.
8 God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon his holy Throne.
9 The princes of the people are gathered unto the people of the God of Abraham: for the shields of the world belong to God: he is greatly to be exalted.

48 A notable deliverance of Jerusalem from the hands of many kings is mentioned, for the which thanks are given to God, and the state of that city is praised, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. This Psalm seemeth to be made in the time of Abaz, Jehosaphat, Asa, or Hezekiah: for in their times chiefly was the city by foreign princes assaulted.
48:1 Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the City of our God, even upon his holy Mountain.
2 Mount Zion, lying Northward, is fair in situation: it is the 'joy of the whole earth, and the City of the great king.
3 In the palaces thereof God is known for a refuge.
4 For lo, the kings were gathered, and went together.
5 When they saw it, they marveled: they were astonished, and suddenly driven back.
6 Fear came there upon them, and sorrow, as upon a woman in travail.
7 As with an East wind thou breakest the ships of Tarshish, so were they destroyed.
8 As we have heard, so have we seen in the City of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God: God will establish it forever. Selah.
9 We wait for thy loving-kindness, O God, in the midst of thy Temple.
10 O God, according to thy Name, so is thy praise unto the world's end: thy right hand is full of righteousness.
11 Let mount Zion rejoice, and the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgments.
12 Com press about Zion, and go round about it, and tell the towers thereof.
13 Mark well the wall thereof: behold her towers, that ye may tell thy posterity.
14 For this God is our God forever and ever, he shall be our guide unto the death.

49:1 The holy Ghost calleth all men to the consideration of man's life: 7 showing them not to be most blessed that are most wealthy, and therefore not to be feared: but contrariwise he lifteth up our minds to consider how all things are ruled by God's providence: 14 Who as he judgeth these worldly misers to everlasting torments, 15 so doth he preserve his, and will reward them in the day of the resurrection. 1 Thess. 1:6.

To him that excelleth.
A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.
1 Hear this all ye people: give ear, all ye that dwell in the world,
2 As well low as high, both rich and poor.
3 My mouth shall speak of wisdom, and the meditation of mine heart is of knowledge.
4 I will incline mine ear to a parable, and utter my grave matter upon the harp.
5 Wherefore should I fear in the evil days, when iniquity shall compass me about, as at mine heels?
6 They trust in their goods, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches.
7 Yet a man can by no means redeem his brother: he cannot give his ransom to God,
8 (So precious is the redemption of their souls, 1and the continuance forever)
9 That he may live still forever, and not see the grave.
10 For he seeth that wise men die: and also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leave their riches for others.
11 Yet they think their houses and their habitations shall continue forever, even from generation to generation, and call their lands by their names.
12 But man shall not continue in honor; he is like the beasts that die.
13 This their way uttereth their foolishness; yet their posterity delight in their talk. Selah.
14 Like sheep they lie in grave; death devoureth them; and the righteous shall have dominion over to judge his people.
5 Gather my Saints together unto me, those that make a covenant with me with sacrifice.
6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is Judge himself. Selah.
7 Hear, O my people and I will speak: hear, O Israel, and I will testify unto thee: for I am God, even thy God.
8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offerings, that have not been continually before me.
9 I will take no bullock out of thine house, nor goats out of thy folds.
10 For all the beasts of the forest are mine, and the beasts on a thousand mountains.
11 I know all the fowls on the mountains, and the wild beasts of the field are mine.
12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the world is mine and all that therein is.
13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls? or drink the blood of goats?
14 Offer unto God praise, and pay thy vows unto the most High.
15 And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.
16 But unto the wicked said God, What hast thou to do to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?
17 Thou hast not called upon me, my strength is of God whose life quickeneth all the world, hath no need of such means.
18 But thou saidst, Where is the house of the Lord, and where the place of his habitation?
19 Man is in honor; and understandeth not; he is like to beasts that perish.

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 The God of gods, even the Lord hath spoken and called the earth from the rising up of the Sun, unto the going down thereof.
2 Out of Zion, which is the perfection of beauty, hath God shined.
3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and a mighty tempest shall be moved round about him.
4 He shall call the heaven above, and the earth to judge his people.

5 Gather my Saints together unto me, those that make a covenant with me with sacrifice.
6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is Judge himself. Selah.
7 Hear, O my people and I will speak: hear, O Israel, and I will testify unto thee: for I am God, even thy God.
8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offerings, that have not been continually before me.
9 I will take no bullock out of thine house, nor goats out of thy folds.
10 For all the beasts of the forest are mine, and the beasts on a thousand mountains.
11 I know all the fowls on the mountains, and the wild beasts of the field are mine.
12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the world is mine and all that therein is.
13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls? or drink the blood of goats?
14 Offer unto God praise, and pay thy vows unto the most High.
15 And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.
16 But unto the wicked said God, What hast thou to do to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?
17 Thou hast not called upon me, my strength is of God whose life quickeneth all the world, hath no need of such means.
18 But thou saidst, Where is the house of the Lord, and where the place of his habitation?
19 Man is in honor; and understandeth not; he is like to beasts that perish.

50:4 1 As witnesses against the hypocrites.
50:5 1 God in respect of his elect calleth the whole body holy, Saints, and his people.
1 Which should know that Sacrifices are sealed of the covenant between God and his people, and not set religion therein.
50:8 1 For I pass not for sacrifices, except the true use be there, which is to confirm your faith in my promises.
50:10 1 Though he did delight in sacrifice, yet had he no need of man's help thereunto.
50:13 1 Though man's life for the infirmity thereof hath need of food, yet God whose life quickeneth all the world, hath no need of such means.
50:14 1 Show thyself mindful of God's benefits by thanksgiving.
50:16 1 Why dost thou reign to be of my people, and talkest of my covenant, seeing thou art but an hypocrite?
50:17 1 And to live according to my word.
50:18 1 He sheweth what are the fruits of them that concentn God's word.
50:20 1 He noteth the cruelty of hypocrites, which spare not in their talk or judgment their own mother's sons.

50:1 1 Because the Church is always full of hypocrites, especially the Jews were of this opinion, because of their figures and ceremonies of the Law, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient. 21 Therefore the Prophet doth reprove this gross error, and pronounceth the Name of God to be blasphemed by the sacrifices of the hypocrites, which do imagine that God will be worshipped with outward ceremonies only without the heart: and especially the Jews were of this opinion, because of their figures and ceremonies of the Law, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient. 21 Therefore the Prophet doth reprove this gross error, and pronounceth the Name of God to be blasphemed where holiness is set in ceremonies.
50:2 1 a fire shall devour before him, and a mighty tempest with thunder and tempest, so will he appear terrible to take account for the keeping thereof.

50:3 1 As when God gave his Law in mount Sinai, he appeared terrible with thunder and tempest, so will he appear terrible to take account for the keeping thereof.

50:4 1 Or, because he hath received me.
50:18 1 Hebrew, he blessed his soul.
50:19 1 Or, his soul.
50:20 1 And not pass the term appointed for life.
50:21 1 Heb. he blessed his soul.
50:23 1 Or, because he hath received me.

50:12 1 Tim. 6:7
50:16 1 Job 27:19
50:18 1 Tim. 6:7
50:20 1 Hebrew, he blessed his soul.
50:23 1 Or, because he hath received me.

576

1 I will write all thy wicked deeds in a roll, and make thee to read and acknowledge them, whither thou wilt or no.

2 Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from mine sin.

3 For I know mine iniquities, and my sin is ever before me.

4 Against thee, against thee only have I sinned, and done evil in thy sight, that thou mayest be just before me.

5 Behold, I was born in iniquity, and in sin hath my mother conceived me.

6 Behold, thou hast broken, may rejoice.

7 Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

8 Make me to hear joy and gladness, that the bones, which thou hast broken, may rejoice.

9 Hide thy face from my sins, and put away all mine iniquities.

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thine holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the joy of thy salvation, and establish me with thy free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy ways unto the wicked, and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

14 Deliver me from blood, O God, which art the God of my salvation, and my tongue shall sing joyfully of thy righteousness.

15 Open thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall show forth thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I would give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.

17 The sacrifices of God are a contrite spirit: a contrite and a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Be favorable unto Zion for thy good pleasure: build the walls of Jerusalem.

19 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of righteousness, even the burnt offering and oblation: then shall they offer calves upon thine altar.

52

1 David describeth the arrogant tyranny of his adversary Doeg: who by false surmises cause Abimelech with the rest of the Priests to be slain. 5 David prophesieoth his destruction. 6 and encourageth the faithful to put their confidence in God, whose judgments are most sharp against his adversaries. 9 And finally, he rendereth thanks to God for his deliverance. In this Psalm is timely set forth the kingdom of Antichrist.
CHAPTER 53

1 He describeth the crooked nature. 4 The cruelty. 5 And punishment of the wicked, when they look not for it. 6 And desireth the deliverance of the godly, that they may rejoice together.

To him that excelleth on ‘Mahalah.
A Psalm of David to give instruction.

1 The fool hath said in his heart, There is ‘no God, they have corrupted and done abominable wickedness, there is none that doeth good.

2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that would understand and ‘seek God.

3 ‘Everyone is gone back: they are altogether corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Do not the ‘workers of iniquity know that they eat up my people as they eat bread? they call not upon God.

5 There they were afraid for fear, where no ‘fear was: for God hath scattered the ‘bones of him that besieged thee: thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath cast them off.

6 Oh give salvation unto Israel out of Zion: when God turneth the captivity of his people, then Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

CHAPTER 54

1 David brought into great danger by reason of the Ziphites. 5 Calleth upon the Name of God to destroy his enemies. 6 Promising sacrifices and free offerings for so great deliverance.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth.
A Psalm of David, to give instruction. When the Ziphims came and said unto Saul, ‘Is not David hid among us?

1 Save me, O God, ‘by thy Name, and by thy power judge me.

2 O God, hear my prayer: hearken unto the words of my mouth.

3 For ‘strangers are risen up against me, and ‘tyrants seek my soul: they have not set God before them. Selah.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with them that uphold my soul.

5 He shall reward evil unto mine enemies: Oh cut them off in thy ‘truth!

6 Then I will sacrifice ‘freely unto thee: I will praise thy Name, O Lord, because it is good.

7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble, and mine eye hath ‘seen my desire upon mine enemies.
PSALM 55:1

1 David being in great heaviness and distress, complaineth of the cruelty of Saul. 13 And of the falsehood of his familiar acquaintance. 17 Uttering the most ardent affections to move the Lord to pity him. 22 After, being assured of deliverance, he seteth forth the grace of God, as though he had already obtained his request.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth.
A Psalm of David to give instruction.

1 Hear my prayer, O God, and hide not thyself from my supplication.
2 Hearken unto me, and answer me: I mourn in my prayer, and make a noise,
3 For the voice of the enemy, and for the vexation of the wicked, because they have brought iniquity upon me, and furiously hate me.
4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.
5 Fear and trembling are come upon me, and an horrible fear hath covered me.
6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove: then would I fly away and rest.
7 Behold I would take my flight far off, and lodge in the wilderness. Selah.
8 He would make haste for my deliverance from the stormy wind and tempest.
9 Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongues: for I have seen cruelty and strife in the city.
10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof, both iniquity and mischief are in the midst of it.
11 Wickedness is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.
12 Surely mine enemy did not defame me, for I could have borne it: neither did mine adversary exalt himself against me: for I would have hid me from him.
13 But it was thou, O man, even my companion, my guide, and my familiar:

14 Which delighted in consulting together, and went into the house of God as companions.
15 Let death seize upon them: let them go down quick into the grave: for wickedness is in their dwellings even in the midst of them.
16 But I will call unto God, and the Lord will save me.
17 Evening and morning, and at noon will I pray and make a noise, and he will hear my voice.
18 He hath delivered my soul in peace from the battle that was against me: for many were with me.
19 God shall hear and afflict them, even he that reigneth of old, Selah: because they have no changes, therefore they fear not God.
20 He laid his hand upon such as be at peace with him, and he brake his covenant.
21 The words of his mouth were softer than butter, yet war was in his heart, his words were more gentle than oil, yet they were swords.
22 Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he will sustain thee: he will not suffer the righteous to fall forever.
23 And thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of corruption: the bloody, and deceitful men shall not live half their days: but I will trust in thee.

1 David being brought to Achish the king of Gath, 1 Sam. 21:12, complaineth of his enemies, demandeth succor. 3 Puts his trust in God and in his promises. 12 And promiseth to perform his vows which he had taken upon him, whereof this was the effect, to praise God in his Church.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David on Micham, concerning the dumb dove in a far country, when the Philistines took him in Gath.

1 Be merciful unto me, O God, for man would swallow me up: he fighteth continually and vexeth me.
57:1 David being in the desert of Ziph, where the inhabitants did betray him, and at length in the same cave with Saul. 2 Calleth most earnestly unto God, with full confidence that he will perform his promise, and take his cause in hand. 5 Also that he will show his glory in the heavens and the earth against his cruel enemies. 9 Therefore doth he render laud and praise.

To him that excelleth. Destroy not. A Psalm of David on Michram. When he fled from Saul in the cave.

1 Have mercy upon me, O God, have mercy upon me; for the same. I will trust, till these afflictions overpass.

58:1 He describeth the malice of his enemies, the flatterers of Saul, who both secretly and openly sought his destruction, from whom he appealeth to God's judgment. 10 Showing that the just shall rejoice, when they see the punishment of the wicked to the glory of God.

To him that excelleth. Destroy not.

A Psalm of David on Michram.

1 Is it true? O congregation, speak ye justly? O sons of men judge ye uprightly?

2 Yea, rather ye imagine mischief in your heart: your hands execute cruelty upon the earth.

3 The wicked are strangers from the womb: even from the belly have they erred, and speak lies.

56:4 1 He stayeth his conscience upon God's promise, though he see not present help.

56:5 1 All my counsels have evil success, and turn to mine own sorrow.

56:8 1 If God keep the tears of his Saints in store, much more will he remember their blood, to avenge it: and though tyrants burn wicked they are, the more impudent they wax.

56:9 1 They gather together, and keep themselves close: they mark my steps, because they wait for my soul.

56:10 1 They think they shall escape by iniquity: O God, cast these people down in thine anger.

56:11 1 Having received that which I required, I am bound to pay my vows of thanksgiving, as I promised.

57:1 1 Or, dwell most safely.

58:1 1 Ye counselors of Saul, who under pretence of consulting for the common wealth, conspire my death being an innocent.

58:2 1 Ye are not ashamed to execute that cruelty publicly, which ye have imagined in your hearts.

58:3 1 That is, enemies to the people of God even from their birth.
4 Their poison is even like the poison of a serpent; like the deaf 1adder that stoppeth his ear.
5 Which heareth not the voice of the enchanter, though he be most expert in charming.
6 Break their 1teeth, O God, in their mouths: break the jaws of the young lions, O Lord.
7 Let them 1melt like the waters, let them pass away; when he shooteth his arrows, let them be as broken.
8 Let them consume like a snail that melteth, and like the untimely fruit of a woman, that hath not seen the sun.
9 1As raw flesh before your pots feel the fire of thorns: so let them carry them away with a whirlwind in his wrath.
10 The righteous shall 1rejoice when he seeth the vengeance; he shall wash his feet in the 2blood of the wicked.

1 David being in great danger of Saul, who sent to slay him in his bed, prayeth unto God,
2 Declaring his innocency, and their fury. 5 Desiring God to destroy all those that sin of malicious wickedness.
11 Whom though he keep alive for a time to exercise his people, yet in the end he will consume them in his wrath.
13 That he may be known to be the God of Jacob to the end of the world. 16 For this he singeth praises to God assured of his mercies.

To him that excelleth. Destroy not.
A Psalm of David, on 1Micaham. 1When Saul sent and they did watch the house to kill him.
1 O my God, 1deliver me from mine enemies; defend me from them that rise up against me.
2 Deliver me from the wicked doers, and save me from the bloody men.
3 For lo, they have laid wait for my soul; the mighty men are gathered against me, not for mine offense, nor for my sin, O Lord.
4 They run and prepare themselves without a fault on my part: arise therefore to assist me, and behold.
5 Even thou, O Lord God of hosts, O God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathen, and be not 1merciful unto all that transgress maliciously. Selah.
6 They go to and fro in the evening: they bark like 1dogs, and go about the city.
7 Behold, they 1brag in their talk, and swords are in their lips: for who, say they, doth hear?
8 But thou, O Lord, shalt have them in derision, and thou shalt laugh at all the heathen.
9 1He is strong: but I will wait upon thee: for God is my defense.
10 My merciful God will 1prevent me: God will let me see my desire upon mine enemies.
11 Slay them 1not, lest my people forget it: but scatter them abroad by thy power, and put them down, O Lord, our shield.
12 For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips: and let them be 1taken in their pride, even for their perjury and lies, that they speak.
13 1Consume them in thy wrath: consume them that they be no more: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, even unto the ends of the world.
Selah.
14 And in the evening they 1shall go to and fro, and bark like dogs, and go about the city.
15 They shall run here and there for meat, and surely they shall not be satisfied, though they tarry all night.
16 But I will sing of thy 1power, and will praise thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defense and refuge in the day of my trouble.
17 Unto thee, O my 1Strength will I sing: for God is my defense, and my merciful God.

71:3 1 Thou hast infinite means, and all creatures are at thy commandment: therefore show some sign, whereby I shall be delivered.
71:4 1 That is, from Absalom, Ahithophel and that conspiracy.
71:5 1 He strengtheneth his faith by the experience of God's benefits, who did not only preserve him in his mother's belly, but took him thence, and ever since hath preserved him.
71:7 1 All the world wondereth at me because of my miseries: as well they in authority as the common people, yet being assured of thy favor, I remained steadfast.
71:9 1 Thou didst help me in my youth, when I had more strength, help me now so much the more in mine old age and weakness.
71:11 1 Thus the wicked both blaspheme God, and triumph against his Saints, as though he had forsaken them, if he suffer them to fall into their hands.
take him, for there is none to deliver him.

12 Go not far from me, O God: my God hast thee to help me.

13 Let them be confounded and consumed that are against my soul: let them be covered with reproof and confusion, that seek mine hurt.

14 But I will wait continually, and will praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall daily rehearse thy righteousness, and thy salvation: for I know not the number.

16 I will go forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth even until now: therefore will I tell of thy wondrous works.

18 Yea even unto mine old age and gray head, O God: forsake me not, until I have declared thine arm unto this generation, and thy power to all that shall come.

19 And thy righteousness, O God, I will exalt on high: for thou hast done great things: O God, who is like unto thee!

20 Which hast showed me great troubles and adversities, but thou wilt return and revive me, and wilt come again, and take me up from the depth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honor, and return and comfort me.

22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy faithfulness, O God, upon instrument and viol: unto thee will I sing upon the harp, O Holy one of Israel.

23 My lips will rejoice when I sing unto thee, and my soul which thou hast delivered.

24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness daily: for they are confounded and brought unto shame, that seek mine hurt.

PSALM 71:12

72:1 1 He prayer for the prosperous estate of the kingdom of Solomon, who was the figure of Christ, under whom shall be righteousness, peace, and felicity. Unto whom all Kings and nations shall do homage. Whose name and power shall endure forever, and in whom all nations shall be blessed.

A Psalm of Solomon.

1 Give thy judgments to the King, O God, and thy righteousness to the King's son.

2 Then shall he judge thy people in righteousness, and thy poor with equity.

3 The mountains, and the hills shall bring peace to the people by justice.

4 He shall judge the poor of the people: he shall save the children of the needy, and shall subdue the oppressor.

5 They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endureth, from generation to generation.

6 He shall come down like the rain upon the mown grass, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his days shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shall be so long as the moon endureth.

8 His dominion shall be also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the land.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness, shall kneel before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall bring gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall worship him: all nations shall serve him.

12 For he shall deliver the poor when he crieth: the needy also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall be merciful to the poor and needy, and shall preserve the souls of the poor.

14 He shall redeem their souls from deceit and violence, and dear shall their blood be in his sight.

72:1 1 Endue the king with the Spirit of wisdom and justice, that he reign not as do the worldly tyrants.

2 To wit, to his posterity.

72:3 1 When justice reigneth, even the places most barren shall be enriched with thy blessings.

72:4 1 He showeth wherefore the sword is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppress the wicked.

72:5 1 The people shall embrace thy true religion, when thou givest a King that ruleth according to thy word.

72:6 1 As this is true in all godly kings, so it is chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heavenly dew, maketh his Church ever to flourish.

72:8 1 That is, from the red sea to the sea called Sycium, and from Euphrates forward, meaning, that Christ's Kingdom should be large and universal.

72:10 1 Of Cilicia, and of all other countries, beyond the sea, which he meaneth by the isles.

72:14 1 Though tyrants pass not to shed blood, yet this godly king shall preserve his subjects from all kind of wrong.
15 Yea, he shall live, and unto him shall they give of the 'gold of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and daily bless him.

16 An handful of corn shall be sown in the earth, even in the top of the mountains, and the 'fruit thereof shall shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall flourish out of the city like the grass of the earth.

17 His name shall be forever: his name shall endure as long as the Sun: all nations shall bless 'him, and be blessed in him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, even the God of Israel which only doeth 'wondrous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious Name forever: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, even so be it.

[20] Here end the 'prayers of David the son of Jesse.

73 1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperity of the ungodly, nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage God's children: but rather ought to move us to consider our Father's providence, and to cause us to reverence God's judgments, as long as the Sun: all nations shall bless 'him, and be blessed in him.

2 As for me, my feet were almost gone: my steps had well near slipped.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are 'no bands in their death, but they are lusty and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 Yet 'God is good to Israel: even to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feet were almost gone: my steps had well near slipped.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are 'no bands in their death, but they are lusty and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 'Therefore pride is as a chain unto them, and cruelty covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatness: 'they have more than heart can wish.

8 'They are licentious, and speak wickedly of their oppression: they talk presumptuously.

9 'They set their mouth against heaven, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his 'people turn hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they 'say, How doth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Lo these are the wicked, yet prosper they always, and increase in riches.

13 Certainly I have cleansed mine heart in vain, and washed mine hands in innocency.

14 For daily have I been punished, and chastened every morning.

15 If I say, 'I will judge thus, behold the generation of thy children, I have trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painful for me.

17 Until I went into the 'Sanctuary of God: then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slippery places, and castest them down into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and 'horribly consumed, 20 As a dream when one awaketh! O Lord, when 'thou raisest us up, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reins.

22 So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a 'beast before thee.

23 Yet I was always 'with thee: thou hast held me by my right hand.
24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.

25 Whom have I in heaven but thee? and I have desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my portion forever.

27 For lo, that they withdraw themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that go a whoring from thee.

28 As for me, it is good for me to draw near to God: therefore I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

74 1 The faithful complain of the destruction of the Church and true religion. 2 Under the Name of Zion, and the Temple destroyed: 11 and trusting in the might and free mercies of God, 20 by his covenant, 21 they require help and succor for the glory of God’s holy Name, for the salvation of his poor afflicted servants, 23 and the confusion of his proud enemies.

A Psalm to give instruction, committed to Asaph.

1 O God, why hast thou put us away forever? why is thy wrath kindled against the sheep of thy pasture?

2 Think upon the congregation, which thou hast possessed of old, and on the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift up thy strokes, that thou mayest forever destroy every enemy that doeth evil to the Sanctuary.

4 Thine adversaries roar in the midst of thy congregation, and set up their banners for signs.

5 He that lifted the axes upon the thick trees, was renowned as one that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they break down the carved work thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They have cast thy Sanctuary into the fire, and razed it to the ground, and have defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them altogether: they have burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signs: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with us that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the adversary reproach thee? shall the enemy blaspheme thy Name forever?

11 Why drawest thou thine hand, even thy right hand? draw it out of thy bosom, and consume them.

12 Even God is my king of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of Leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest up the fountain and river: thou driest up mighty rivers.

16 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sun.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made Summer and Winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Give not the soul of thy turtle dove unto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poor forever.

20 Consider thy covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruel.

21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed, but let the poor and needy praise thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintain thy own cause: remember thy daily reproach by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: for the tumult of them that rise against thee, ascendeth continually.
Psalm 76

The faithful do praise the Name of the Lord, and care for the defense of his people in Jerusalem, in the destruction of the army of Sennacherib: and exhorteth the faithful to be thankful for the same.

Psalm 77

The Prophet teacheth us by his example to flee unto God for help in our necessities.

Chapter 77

To him that exalteth thee, O God, and forsworn works. 1 We will praise thee, O God, we will praise thee, for thy Name is near: therefore they will declare thy wondrous works. 2 When I shall take a convenient time, I will judge righteously. 3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: but I will establish the pillars of it. Selah. 4 I said unto the foolish, Be not so foolish, and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn. 5 Lift not up your horn on high, neither speak with a stiff neck. 6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South, but God is the judge: he maketh low, and he maketh high. 7 For in the hand of the Lord is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full mixed, and he poureth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shall wring out and drink the dregs thereof. 8 But I will declare forever, and sing praises unto the God of Jacob. 10 All the horns of the wicked also will I break: but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted. 9 But I will declare forever, and sing praises unto the God of Jacob. 10 All the horns of the wicked also will I break: but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

Psalm 75

The faithful do praise the Name of the Lord, and care for the defense of his people in Jerusalem, in the destruction of the army of Sennacherib: and exhorteth the faithful to be thankful for the same.

Psalm 76

The faithful do praise the Name of the Lord, and care for the defense of his people in Jerusalem, in the destruction of the army of Sennacherib: and exhorteth the faithful to be thankful for the same.
PSALM 77:2

2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore ran and ceased not in the night: my soul refused comfort.

3 I did think upon God, and was troubled: I prayed, and my spirit was full of anguish. Selah.

4 Thou keepest mine eyes waking: I was astonished, and could not speak.

5 Then I considered the days of old: and the years of ancient time.

6 I called to remembrance my song in the night: I communed with mine own heart, and my spirit searched diligently.

7 Will the Lord absent himself forever? and will he show no more favor?

8 Is his mercy clean gone forever? doth his promise fail forevermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be merciful? hath he shut up his tender mercies in displeasure? Selah.

10 And I said, This is my death: yet I remembered the years of the right hand of the most High.

11 I remembered the works of the Lord: certainly I remembered thy wonders of old.

12 I did also meditate on all thy works, and did devise of thine acts, saying,

13 Thy way, O God, is in the Sanctuary: who is so great a God, as our God!

14 Thou art the God that dost wonders; thou hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast redeemed thy people with thine arm, even the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah.

16 The waters saw thee, O God: the waters saw thee, and were afraid: yea, the depths trembled.

17 The clouds poured out water: the heavens gave a sound: yea, thine arrows went abroad.

18 The voice of thy thunder was round about: the lightnings lightened the world: the earth trembled and shook.

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths in the great waters, and thy footsteps are not known.

20 Thou didst lead thy people like sheep by the hand of Moses and Aaron.
their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithful unto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bow, turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the Covenant of God, but refused to walk in his Law, 11 And forsook his acts, and his wonderful works that he had showed them.

12 He did marvelous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt; even in the field of Zoan.

13 He divided the Sea, and led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heap.

14 In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as of the great depths.

16 He brought floods also out of the stony rock, so that he made the waters to descend like the rivers.

17 Yet they sinned still against him, and provoked the Highest in the wilderness, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in requiring meat for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, he smote the rock, that the water gushed out, and the streams overflowed: can he give bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry, and the fire was kindled in Jacob, and also wrath came upon Israel, 22 Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his help.

23 Yet he had commanded the clouds above, and had opened the doors of heaven, 24 And had rained down Manna upon them for to eat, and had given them of the wheat of heaven.

25 Man did eat the bread of Angels: he sent them meat enough.

26 He caused the East wind to pass in the heaven: and through his power he brought in the South wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and feathered fowl as the sand of the sea.

28 And he made it fall in the midst of their camp, even round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their lusts, but the meat was yet in their mouths, 31 When the wrath of God came even upon them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Israel.

32 For all this they sinned still, and believed not his wondrous works.

33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years hastily.

34 And when he slew them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God early.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not upright with him: neither were they faithful in his covenant.

38 Yet he being merciful, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not, but oft times called back his anger, and did not stir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were flesh: yea, a wind that passeth and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness? and grieve him in the desert?

41 Yea, they returned and tempted God, and trusted not in his Name in earth, he suffered not their sins to overcome his mercy.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.

43 Nor him that set his signs in Egypt, and his 44 And turned their rivers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drink.
45 He sent a swarm of flies among them, which devoured them, and frogs, which destroyed them.
46 He gave also their fruits unto the caterpillar, and their labor unto the grasshopper.
47 He destroyed their vines with hail, and their wild fig trees with the hailstone.
48 He gave their cattle also to the hail, and their flocks to the thunderbolts.
49 He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of evil angels.
50 He made a way to his anger: he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life to the pestilence.
51 And smote all the firstborn in Egypt, even the beginning of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham.
52 But he made his people to go out like sheep, and led them in the wilderness like a flock.
53 Yea, he carried them out safely, and they feared not, and the Sea covered their enemies.
54 And he brought them unto the borders of his Sanctuary: even to this Mountain which his right hand purchased.
55 He cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.
56 Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies, 57 But turned back, and dealt falsely like their fathers: they turned like a deceitful bow.
58 And they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to wrath with their graven images.

59 God heard this and was wrath, and greatly abhorred Israel.
60 So that he forsought the habitation of Shiloh, even the Tabernacle where he dwelt among men, 61 And delivered his power into captivity, and his beauty into the enemy's hand.
62 And he gave up his people to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.
63 The fire devoured their chosen men, and their maids were not praised.
64 Their Priests fell by the sword, and their widows lamented not.
65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and a strong man that after his wine crieth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetual shame.
67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:
68 But chose the tribe of Judah, and mount Zion which he loved.
69 And he built his Sanctuary as an high palace, like the earth, which he established forever.
70 He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds.
71 Even from behind the ewes with young, brought he him to feed his people in Jacob, and his inheritance in Israel.
72 So he fed them according to the simplicity of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

79 1 The Israelites complain to God for the great calamity and oppression that they suffered by God's enemies. 8 and confessing their sins, flee to God's mercies with full hope of deliverance. 10 Because their calamities were joined with the contempt of his Name, 13 for the which they promise to be thankful.
A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple have they defiled, and made Jerusalem heaps of stones.

2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto fowls of the heaven, and the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they shed like waters, round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them.

4 We are a reproach to our neighbors, even a scorn and derision unto them that are round about us.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry, forever shall thy jealousy burn like fire?

6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy Name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and made his dwelling place desolate.

8 Remember not against us the former iniquities, but make haste, and let thy tender mercies preserve us: for we are in great misery.

9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy Name, and deliver us, and be merciful unto our sins for thy Name's sake.

10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let them be known among the heathen that sittest between the Cherubims.

11 Let the sighing of the prisoners come before thee: according to thy mighty arm preserve the children of death, 12 And render to our neighbors sevenfold into their bosom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

13 So we thy people, and sheep of thy pasture shall praise thee forever: and from generation to generation we will set forth thy praise.

80 A lamentable prayer to God to help the miseries of his Church. 8 Desiring him to consider their first estate, when his favor shined toward them, to the intent that he might finish that work which he had begun.

To him that excelleth on Shoshannim Eduth,
A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 Hear, O thou shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like sheep: shew thy brightness, thou that sittest between the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh stir up thy strength, and come to help us.

3 Turn us again, O God, and cause thy face to shine that we may be saved.

4 O Lord God of hosts, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, and given them tears to drink with great measure.

6 Thou hast made us a strife unto our neighbors, and our enemies laugh at us among themselves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hosts: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou madest room for it, and didst cause it to take root, and it filled the land.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 She stretched out her branches unto the Sea, and her boughs unto the river.

12 Why hast thou broken down her hedges, so that all they, which pass by the way, have plucked her?

13 The wild boar out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wild beasts of the field have eaten it up.
14 Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven and behold, and visit this vine, 15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the young vine, which thou madest strong for thyself.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut down: and they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hand be upon the man of thy right hand, and upon the son of man, whom thou madest strong for thine own self.

18 So will not we go back from thee, revive thou us, and we shall call upon thy Name.

19 Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

81 An exhortation to praise God both in heart and voice for his benefits, and to worship him only.

1 God condemmeth their ingratitude, and showeth what great benefit they have lost through their own malice.

To him that excelleth upon Gitirith.

A Psalm committeth to Asaph.

1 Sing joyfully unto God our strength: sing loud unto the God of Jacob.

2 Take the song and bring forth the timbrel, the pleasant harp with the viol.

3 Blow the trumpet in the new moon, even in the time appointed at our feast day.

4 For this is a statute for Israel, and a Law of the God of Jacob.

5 He set this in Joseph for a testimony, when he came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that I understood not.

6 I have withdrawn his shoulder from the burden, and his hands have left the pots.

7 Thou calledst in affliction, and I delivered thee, and answered thee in the secret of the thunder: I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah.

8 Hear, O my people, and I will protest unto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken unto me, 9 And wilt have no strange god in thee, neither worship any strange god.

10 (For I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt:) open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not hear my voice, and Israel would none of me.

12 So I gave them up unto the hardness of their heart, and they have walked in their own counsels.

13 Oh that my people had hearkened unto me, and Israel had walked in my ways!

14 I would soon have humbled their enemies, and turned mine hand against their adversaries.

15 The haters of the Lord should have been subject unto him, and their time should have endured forever.

16 And God would have fed them with the fat of wheat, and with honey out of the rock would I have sufficed thee.

82 The Prophet declaring God to be present among the Judges and Magistrates.

1 Reproveth their partiality.

2 And exhorteth them to do justice.

3 But seeing none amendment, He desireth God to undertake the matter and execute justice himself.

A Psalm committeth to Asaph.

1 God standeth in the assembly of gods: he judgeth among gods.

2 How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked? Selah.

3 Do right to the poor and needy: save them from their mouths to receive God's benefits in such abundance as he hath given them.

4 Deliver the poor and needy: save them from
The people of Israel pray unto the Lord to deliver them from their enemies both at home and far off, which imagined nothing but their destruction. And they desire that all such wicked people may according as God was accustomed, be struck with the stormy tempest of God’s wrath.

A song or Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 Keep not thou silence, O God: be not still, and cease not, O God.

2 For lo, thine enemies make a tumult, and they that hate thee, have lifted up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and have consulted against thy secret ones.

4 They have said, Come and let us cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

5 For they have consulted together in heart, and have made a league against thee:

6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Hagarites:

7 Gebal and Ammon, and Amalek, the Philistines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

8 Assyria also is joined with them: they have made a league against thee:

9 Do thou to them as unto the Midianites: as to Sisera and as to Jabin at the river of Kishon.

10 They perished at En Dor, and were dung for the earth.

11 Make them, even their princes, like Oreb and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes like Zebah and like Zalmunna, 12 Which have said, Let us take for our possession the habitations of God.

13 O my God, make them like unto a wheel, and as the stubble before the wind.

14 As the fire burneth the forest, and as the flame setteth the mountains on fire:

15 So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storm.

16 Fill their faces with shame, that they may seek thy Name, O Lord.

17 Let them be confounded and troubled forever: yea, let them be put to shame, and perish, 18 That they may know that thou, which art called Jehovah, art alone, even the most High over all the earth.

David driven forth of his country. Desireth most ardently to come again to the tabernacle of the Lord and the assembly of the Saints to praise God. Pronouncing them blessed that may so do. Then be praised the courage of the people, that pass through the wilderness to assemble themselves in Zion. Finally, with praise of this matter and confidence of God’s goodness, he endeth the Psalm.

To him that excelleth upon Gittith.

A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.

1 O Lord of hosts, how amiable are thy Tabernacles?

2 My soul longeth, yea, and fainted for the courts of the Lord; for my heart and my flesh rejoice in the living God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and

4 My soul findeth in the Lord a secret strength, and its joy is in the sanctuary of God.

5 The wickedness of the Ammonites and Moabites is described in that they provoked these other nations to fight against the Israelites their brethren.

6 By these examples they were confirmed, that God would not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed, Judg. 7:21 and 4:15.

7 Trodden under feet as mire.

8 Because the reprobate could by no means be amended, he prayeth that they may utterly be destroyed, be unstable, and led with all winds.

9 That is, Judea: for where his Church is, there dwelleth he among them.

10 That is, Judea: for where his Church is, there dwelleth he among them.

11 That is, be compelled by thy plagues to confess thy power.

12 Though they believe not, yet they may prove by experience, that it is in vain to resist against thy counsel in establishing thy Church.

13 David complaineth that he cannot have access to the Church of God to make profession of his faith, and to profit in religion.

14 For none but the Priests could enter into the Sanctuary, and the rest of the people into the courts.

Psalm 84:3

To him that excelleth upon Gittith.

A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.

1 O Lord of hosts, how amiable are thy Tabernacles?

2 My soul longeth, yea, and fainted for the courts of the Lord; for my heart and my flesh rejoice in the living God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and

4 My soul findeth in the Lord a secret strength, and its joy is in the sanctuary of God.

5 The wickedness of the Ammonites and Moabites is described in that they provoked these other nations to fight against the Israelites their brethren.

6 By these examples they were confirmed, that God would not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed, Judg. 7:21 and 4:15.

7 Trodden under feet as mire.

8 Because the reprobate could by no means be amended, he prayeth that they may utterly be destroyed, be unstable, and led with all winds.

9 That is, Judea: for where his Church is, there dwelleth he among them.

10 That is, be compelled by thy plagues to confess thy power.

11 Though they believe not, yet they may prove by experience, that it is in vain to resist against thy counsel in establishing thy Church.

12 David complaineth that he cannot have access to the Church of God to make profession of his faith, and to profit in religion.

Psalm 84:3

To him that excelleth upon Gittith.

1 O Lord of hosts, how amiable are thy Tabernacles?

the swallow a nest for her, where she may lay her young: even by thine altars, O Lord of hosts, my king and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thine house, they will ever praise thee. Selah.

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee, and in whose heart are thy ways.

6 They going through the valley of Baca, make wells therein: the rain also covereth the pools.

7 They go from strength to strength, till every one appear before God in Zion.

8 O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer, hearken, O God of Jacob. Selah.

9 Behold, O God, our shield, and look upon the face of thine Anointed.

10 For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand among the worldlings.

11 For the Lord God is the sun and shield of his people, and no lets can hinder them that are fully bent to come to Christ's Church.

12 O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

13 1Because God withdrew not his rods from his Church after their return from Babylon, first they put him in mind of their deliverance, to the intent that he should not leave the work of his grace imperfect. 5 Next they complain of their long affliction. 8 And thirdly, they rejoice in hope of felicity promised. 9 For their deliverance was a figure of Christ's kingdom, under the which should be perfect felicity.

14 He complaineth also of his adversaries, that they that dwell in thine house, they that dwell in thy tabernacles of wickedness.

15 They go from strength to strength, till every one appear before God in Zion.

16 To him that excelleth.

A Psalm committed to the sons of Korah.

1 Lord, thou hast been favorable unto thy land: thou hast brought again the captivity of Jacob.

2 Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, and covered all their sins. Selah.

3 Thou hast withdrawn all thine anger, and hast turned back from the fierceness of thy wrath.

4 Turn us, O Lord of our salvation, and release thine anger toward us.

5 Wilt thou be angry with us forever and wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turn again and quicken us, that thy people may rejoice in thee?

7 Show us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy salvation.

8 I will hearken what the Lord God will say: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his Saints, that they turn not again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him, that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth shall meet, righteousness and peace shall kiss one another.

11 Truth shall bud out of the earth, and righteousness shall look down from heaven.

12 Yea, the Lord shall give good things, and our land shall give her increase.

13 Righteousness shall go before him, and shall set her steps in the way.

14 He confesseth that our salvation cometh only of God's mercy.

15 Though for a time God thus exerciseth them with his rods, yet under the kingdom of Christ they should have peace and joy.

16 He would wish to live but one day rather in God's Church, than to dwell in the tabernacles of wickedness.

17 He would wish to live but one day rather in God's Church, than to dwell in the tabernacles of wickedness.

18 He would wish to live but one day rather in God's Church, than to dwell in the tabernacles of wickedness.
O Lord, do I lift up my soul.
5 For thou, Lord, art good and 'merciful, and of great kindness unto all them that call upon thee.
6 Give ear, Lord, unto my prayer, and 'hearken to the voice of my supplication.
7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee:
for thou hearest me.
8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lord, and there is none 'that can do like thy works.
9 All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and 'worship before thee, O Lord, and shall glorify thy Name.
10 For thou art great and doiest wondrous things:
thou art God alone.
11 'Teach me thy way, O Lord, and I will walk in thy truth: knit mine heart unto thee, that I may fear thy Name.
12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorify thy Name forever.
13 For great is thy mercy toward me, and thou hast delivered my soul from 'the lowest grave.
14 O Lord, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men have 'sought my soul, and have not set thee before them.
15 But thou, O Lord, art a pitiful God and merciful, slow to anger, and great in kindness and truth.
16 Turn unto me, and have mercy upon me: give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the 'son of thine handmaid.
17 Show a token of thy goodness toward me, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, O Lord, hast helped me and comforted me.

87 1 The holy Ghost promiseth, that the condition of the Church which was in misery after the captivity of Babylon, should be restored to great excellency. 4 So that there should be nothing more comfortable, than to be numbered among the members thereof.

A Psalm or song committed to the sons of Korah.
1 God laid his 'foundations among the holy mountains.
2 The Lord loveth the gates of Zion above all the habitations of Jacob.
3 'Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.
4 I will make mention of 'Rahab and Babel among them that know me: behold Palestine and Tyre with Ethiopia, 'There is he born.
5 And of Zion it shall be said, 'Many are born in her: and he, even the most High shall establish her.
6 The Lord shall count, when he 'writeth the people, He was born there. Selah.
7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall praise thee: all my 'springs are in thee.

88 1 A grievous complaint of the faithful, sore afflicted by sickness, persecutions and adversity. 7 Being as it were left of God without any consolation. 13 Yet be calleth on God by faith, and striveth against desperation. 18 Complaining himself to be forsaken of all earthly help.

A song or Psalm of 'Heman the Ezrahite to give instruction, committed to the sons of Korah for him that excelleth upon Mahalath 'Leannah.
1 O Lord God of my salvation, I cry day and night 'before thee.
2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine ear unto my cry.
3 For my soul is filled with evils, and my life
draweth near to the grave.
4 I am counted among them that go down unto the pit, and am as a man without strength, 5 'Free among the dead, like the slain laying in salem and his Temple.
87:3 1 Though thy glorious estate does not yet appear, yet wait with patience, and God will accomplish his promise.
87:4 1 That is, Egypt and these other countries shall come to the knowledge of God.
2 It shall be said of him that is regenerate and come to the Church, that he is as one that was born in the Church.
87:5 1 Out of all quarters they shall come to the Church, and be counted as citizens.
87:6 1 When he calleth by his word them into the Church, whom he had elected and written in the book.
87:7 1 The Prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the Church.
88:Title 1 That is, to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalm was sung.
88:1 1 Though many cry in their sorrows, yet they cry not earnestly to God for remedy, as he did whom he confessed to be the author of his salvation.
88:5 1 For he that is dead, is free from all cares and business of this life: and thus he saith, because he was unprofitable for all matters concerning man's life, and as it were cut off from this world.
Be delivered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortness of man's life, and confirming himself by God's promise.

A Psalm to give instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

1 I will sing the mercies of the Lord forever: with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

2 For I said, Mercy shall be set up forever: thy truth shall stand in the very heavens.

3 I have made a covenant with my chosen: I have sworn to David my servant,

4 Thy seed will I establish forever, and set up thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord, even the heavens shall praise thy wondrous work: yea, thy truth in the congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heaven? and who is like unto him, which art a mighty Lord, and thy truth is about thee?

7 Thou rul est the raging of the Sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

8 Thou hast beaten down Rahab as a man slain: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mighty arm.

9 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

10 Thou hast created the North and the South: they commend thy name to the ends of the earth.

11 The earth is thy footstool, O world's Lord, the dwelling place of the mighty.

12 Tabor and Hermon shall rejoice in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mighty arm: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Righteousness and equity are the establishment of thy throne: mercy and truth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that can rejoice in thee: they are like the angels of God, that have wings and a nimbus about them.

16 They that run in the race, and the men of rank, shall all speak well of thee.

17 The earth and heaven shall praise thee.

18 For thou hast made them to be a kingdom, and made them rulers over the earth.
shall walk in the light of thy countenance, O Lord.
16 They shall rejoice continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousness shall they exalt themselves.
17 For thou art the glory of their strength, and by thy favor our horns shall be exalted.
18 For our shield appertaineth to the Lord, and our King to the Holy one of Israel.
19 Thou spakest then in a vision unto thine Holy one, and saidest, I have laid help upon one that is mighty: I have exalted one chosen out of the people.
20 I have found David my servant: with mine holy oil have I anointed him.
21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arm shall strengthen him.
22 The enemy shall not oppress him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.
23 But I will destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.
24 My truth also and my mercy shall be with him, and in my Name shall his horn be exalted.
25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.
26 He shall cry unto me, Thou art my Father, my God, and the rock of my salvation.
27 Also I will make him my firstborn, higher than the kings of the earth.
28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my Covenant shall stand fast with him.
29 His seed also will I make to endure forever, and his throne as the days of heaven.
30 But if his children forsake my Law, and walk not in my judgments:
31 If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments:
32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with strokes.

 CHAPTER 89
2 Sam. 7:14

rod, and their iniquity with strokes.
33 Yet my loving kindness will I not take from him, neither will I falsify my truth.
34 My Covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.
35 I have sworn once by mine holiness, that I will not fail David, saying, 36 His seed shall endure forever, and his throne shall be as the sun before me.
37 He shall be established for evermore as the moon, and as a faithful witness in the heaven. Selah.
38 But thou hast rejected and abhorred, thou hast been angry with thine anointed.
39 Thou hast broken the Covenant of thy servant, and profaned his crown, casting it on the ground.
40 Thou hast broken down all his walls: thou hast laid his fortresses in ruin.
41 All that go by the way, spoil him: he is a rebuke unto his neighbors.
42 Thou hast set up the right hand of his enemies, and made all his adversaries to rejoice.
43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battle.
44 Thou hast caused his dignity to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.
45 The days of his youth hast thou shortened, and covered him with shame. Selah.
46 Lord, how long wilt thou hide thyself, forever? shall thy wrath burn like fire?
47 Remember of what time I am: wherefore shouldest thou create in vain all the children of men?
48 What man liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Selah.
49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest unto David in thy truth?

2 They shall be preserved by thy Fatherly providence.
89:17 1 In that they are preserved and continue, they ought to give the praise and glory only to thee.
89:18 1 In that our king hath power to defend us, it is the gift of God.
89:19 1 To Samuel and to others, to assure that David was thy chosen one.
Whom I have both chosen and given him strength to execute his office, as verse 21.
89:23 1 Though there shall be evermore enemies against God's kingdom, yet he promiseth to overcome them.
89:24 1 I will mercifully perform my promises to him, notwithstanding his infirmities and offences.
2 His power, glory and estate.
89:25 1 He shall enjoy the land round about.
89:26 1 His excellent dignity shall appear herein, that he shall be named the son of God, and the firstborn wherein he is a figure of Christ.
89:29 1 Though for the sins of the people the state of this kingdom decayed: yet God reserved still a root, till he had accomplished this promise in Christ.
89:33 1 Though the faithful answer not in all points to their profession, yet God will not break his Covenant with them.
89:34 1 For God in promising hath respect to his mercy, and not to man's power in performing.
89:35 1 Hebrew, If I lie unto David, which is a manner of oath.
89:37 1 As long as the Sun and Moon endure, they shall be witnesses to me of this promise.
89:39 1 Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God, as though he saw not the performance of his promise. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt and impatience.
3 By this he meaneth the horrible dissipation and renting of the kingdom, which was under Jeroboam: or else by the Spirit of prophecy Ethan speaketh of those great miseries, which came soon afterward to pass at the captivity of Babylon.
89:45 1 He sheweth that the kingdom fell before it came to perfection, or was ripe.
89:46 1 The Prophet in joining prayer with his complaint, sheweth that his faith never failed.
89:47 1 Seeing man's life is short, and thou hast created man to bestow thy benefits upon him, except thou haste to help, death will prevent thee.
PSALM 89:50

50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy servants, which I bear in my bosom of all the mighty people.
51 For thine enemies have reproached thee, O Lord, because they have reproached the footsteps of thine Anointed.
52 PRAISED be the Lord for evermore. So be it, even so be it.

90 Moses in his prayer setteth before us the eternal favor of God toward his, who are neither admonished by the brevity of their life, nor by his plagues to be thankful, therefore Moses prayeth God to turn their hearts, and continue his mercies toward them and their posterity forever.

A prayer of Moses, 'the man of God.'

1 Lord, thou hast been our habitation from generation to generation.
2 Before the mountains were made, and before thou hast formed the earth, and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting thou art our God.
3 Thou turnest man to destruction: again thou sayest, Return ye sons of Adam.
4 For a thousand years in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.
5 Thou hast overflowed them, they are as a sleep, in the morning he groweth like the grass:
6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the evening it is cut down and withereth.
7 For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.
8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.
9 For all our days are past in thine anger: we have spent our years as a thought.
10 The time of our life is threescore years and ten, and if they be of strength, fourscore years: yet their strength is but labor and sorrow: for it is cut off quickly, and we flee away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy fear is thine anger.
12 Teach us so to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.
13 Return (O Lord, how long?) and be pacified toward thy servants.
14 Fill us with thy mercy in the morning: so shall we rejoice and be glad all our days.
15 Comfort us according to the days that thou hast afflicted us, and according to the years that we have seen evil.
16 Let thy work be seen toward thy servants, and thy glory upon their children.
17 And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us, and direct thou the work of our hands upon us, even direct the work of our hands.

91 Here is described in what assurance he liveth, that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himself wholly to his protection in all temptations. A promise of God to those that love him, know him, and trust in him to deliver them, and give them immortal glory.

1 Who so dwelleth in the secret of the most High, shall abide in the shadow of the Almighty.
2 I will say unto the Lord, O my hope, and my fortress: be is my God, in him will I trust.
3 Surely I will deliver thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noisome pestilence.
4 He will cover thee under his wings, and thou shalt be sure under his feathers: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.
5 Thou shalt not be afraid of the fear of the wrath lie upon it, as they which fear thee, only know.

90:12 Which is, by considering the shortness of our life, and by meditating the heavenly joys.
90:13 Meaning, wilt thou be angry?
90:14 Or, take comfort in thy servants.
90:16 Even thy mercy, which is the chiefest work.
90:17 Meaning, that is was obscured, when he ceaseth to do good to his Church.
90:18 For except thou guide us with thine holy Spirit, our enterprises can have no good success.
91:1 He that maketh God his defense and trust, shall perceive his protection to be a most sure safeguard.
91:2 Being assured of this protection, he prayeth unto the Lord.
91:3 That is, God's help is most ready for us, whether Satan assail us secretly, which he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence.
91:4 That is, his faithful keeping of promise to help thee in thy necessity.
91:5 The care that God hath over his, is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.
night: nor of the arrow that flieth by day:
6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the dark­ness: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noon day.
7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand
8 Doubtless with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.
9 For thou hast said, The Lord is mine hope: thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.
10 There shall none evil come unto thee, neither shall any plague come near thy tabernacle.
11 For he shall give his Angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways.
12 They shall bear thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.
13 Thou shalt walk upon the lion and asp: the young lion, and the dragon shalt thou tread under feet.
14 Because he hath loved me, therefore will I deliver him: I will exalt him because he hath known my Name.
15 He shall call upon me, and I will hear him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliver him, and glorify him.
16 With long life will I satisfy him, and show him my salvation.

92 1 This Psalm was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stir up the people to acknowledge God, and to praise him in his works: the Prophet rejoiceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider, that the ungodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. 12 In the end is described the felicity of the just, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

A Psalm or song for the Sabbath day.
1 It is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing unto thy Name, O most High,
2 To declare thy loving kindness in the morning, and thy truth in the night,
3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the viol, with the song upon the harp.
4 For thou Lord, hast made me glad by thy works, and I will rejoice in the works of thine hands.
5 O Lord, how glorious are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.
6 An unwise man knoweth it not, and a fool doth not understand this,
7 (When the wicked grow as the grass, and all the workers of wickedness do flourish) that they shall be destroyed forever.
8 But thou, O Lord, art most High forevermore.
9 For lo, thine enemies, O Lord: for lo, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquity shall be destroyed.
10 But thou shalt exalt mine horn, like the unicorns, and I shall be anointed with fresh oil.
11 Mine eye also shall see thy desire against mine enemies: and mine ears shall hear my wish against the wicked, that rise up against me.
12 The righteous shall flourish like a palm tree, and shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
Such as be planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courts of our God.
14 They shall still bring forth fruit in their age: they shall be fat and flourishing, 15 To declare that the Lord my rock is righteous, and that none iniquity is in him.

93 1 He praiseth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateth down all people which lift them up against his majesty. 5 and provoked to consider his promises.
1 The Lord reigneth, and is clothed with majesty: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power, the world also shall be established, that it cannot be moved.
2 Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting,
3 The floods have lifted up, O Lord: the floods have... lifted up their voice: the floods lift up their waves.
4 The waves of the sea are marvelous through the noise of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty.
5 Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine House, O Lord, forever.

94 1 He prayeth unto God against the violence and arrogance of tyrants, warning them of God's judgments. 2 Then doth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himself, and did set in others, and by the ruin of the wicked. 3 whom the Lord will destroy.
1 O Lord God the avenger, O God the avenger, show thyself clearly.
2 Exalt thyself, O Judge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.
3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked 'triumph?'
4 They prate and speak fiercely; all the workers of iniquity vaunt themselves.
5 They 'smite down thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.
6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.
7 Yet they say, 'The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Jacob regard it.'
8 Understand, ye unwise among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wise?
9 He that 'planted the ear, shall he not hear? or he that formed the eye, shall he not see?
10 Or he that chastiseth the 'nations, shall he not correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know?
11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.
12 Blessed is the man whom thou 'chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law.
13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of evil, while the pit is dug for the wicked.
14 Surely the Lord will not fail his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.
15 For 'judgment shall return to justice, and all the upright in heart shall follow after it.
16 Who will rise up with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquity?
17 If the Lord had not 'helped me, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.
18 When I said, 'My foot slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me.
19 In the multitude of my 'thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts have rejoiced my soul.
20 Hath the throne of iniquity 'fellowship with thee, which forgeth wrong for a Law?
21 They gather them together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.
22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rock of mine hope.
23 And he will recompense them their wickedness, and destroy them in their own malice, yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

95 1 An earnest exhortation to praise God, for the government of the world and the election of the Church. 2 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the old fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness. 3 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.
1 Come, let us rejoice unto the Lord: let us sing aloud unto the rock of our salvation.
2 Let us come before his face with praise: let us sing loud unto him with Psalms.
3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all 'gods,
4 In whose hand are the deep places of the earth, and the 'heights of the mountains are his,
5 To whom the Sea belongeth, for he made it, and his hands formed the dry land.
6 Come, let us worship and fall down, and kneel before the Lord our maker.
7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand: today, if ye will hear his voice,
8 Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, and as in the day of Massah in the wilderness,
9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, though they had seen my work.
10 Forty years have I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that err in heart, for they have not known my ways.
11 Wherefore I sware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shall not enter into my rest.

96 1 An exhortation both to the Jews and Gentiles to praise God for his mercy. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.

1 Sing unto the Lord a new song: sing unto the Lord, O earth...
2 Sing unto the Lord, and praise his Name: declare his salvation from day to day.
3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.
4 For the Lord is great and much to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.
5 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.
6 Strength and glory are before him: power and beauty are in his Sanctuary.
7 Give unto the Lord, ye families of the people: give unto the Lord glory and power.
8 Give unto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring an offering, and enter into his courts.
9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.
10 Say among the Nations, The Lord reigneth: Surely the world shall be stable, and not move, and he shall judge the people in righteousness.
11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roar, and all that therein is.
12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the wood then rejoice,
13 Before the Lord: for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he will judge the world with righteousness, and the people in his truth.

97 1 The Prophet exhorteth all to rejoice for the coming of the kingdom of Christ. 7 Dreadful to the rebels and idolaters, 8 and joyful to the just, whom he exhorteth to innocence. 12 To rejoicing and thanksgiving.

1 The Lord reigneth: let the earth rejoice: let the multitude of the Isles be glad.
2 Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the foundation of his throne.
3 There shall go a fire before him, and burn up his enemies round about.
4 His lightnings gave light unto the world: the earth saw it and was afraid.
5 The mountains melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
6 The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory.
7 Confounded be all they that serve graven images, and that glory in idols: worship him all ye gods.
8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Judah rejoiced, because of thy judgments, O Lord.
98 1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercy and fidelity in his promise by Christ, 10 by whom he hath communicated his salvation to all nations.

A Psalm.

1 Sing ‘unto the Lord a new song: for he hath done marvelous things: his right hand, and his holy arm have gotten him the victory.

2 The Lord declared his salvation: his righteousness hath he revealed in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye loud unto the Lord: cry out and rejoice, and sing praises.

5 Sing praise to the Lord upon the harp, even upon the harp with a singing voice.

6 With psalms and sound of trumpets sing loud before the Lord the king.

7 Let the sea roar, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountains rejoice together,

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world: and the people with equity.

99 1 He commendeth the power, equity, and excellency of the kingdom of God by Christ over the Jews and Gentiles, 5 and provoketh them to magnify the same, and to serve the Lord, 6 following the example of the ancient fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling upon God, were heard in their prayers.

1 The Lord reigneth, let the ‘people tremble: he sitteth between the Cherubims, let the earth be moved.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all the people.

3 They shall praise thy great and fearful Name (for it is holy.)

4 And the King’s power, that loveth judgment: for thou hast prepared equity: thou hast executed judgment and justice in Jacob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall down before his ‘footstool: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priests, 1 and Samuel among such as call upon his Name: these called upon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Law that he gave them.

8 Thou hearest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a favorable God unto them, though thou didst take vengeance for ‘their inventions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God and fall down before his holy Mountain: for the Lord our God is holy.
5 For the Lord is good: his mercy is everlasting, and his truth is from generation to generation.

101 I David describeth what government he will observe in his house and kingdom. He will punish and correct, by rooting forth the wicked, and cherishing the godly persons.

A Psalm of David.

1 I will sing mercy and judgment: unto thee, O Lord, will I sing.
2 I will do wisely in the perfect way, 'till thou comest to me, I will walk in the uprightness of mine heart in the midst of my house.
3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that fall away: it shall not cleave unto me.
4 A froward heart shall depart from me; I will know none evil.
5 Him that privily slandereth his neighbor, will I destroy: him that hath a proud look and high heart, I cannot suffer.
6 Mine eyes shall be unto the 'faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.
7 There shall no deceitful person dwell within my house: he that telleth lies, shall not remain in my sight.
8 'Betimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land that I may cut off all the workers of iniquity from the City of the Lord.

102 It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the faithful to pray in the captivity of Babylon. A consolation for the building of the Church: Whereof followeth the praise of God to be published unto all posterity. The conversion of the Gentiles. And the stability of the Church.

5: For the Lord is good: his mercy is everlasting, and his truth is from generation to generation.

and not despise their prayer.

18 That he might hear the mourning of the prisoner, and deliver the children of death.

21 That they may declare the Name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, 22 When the people shall be gathered together, and the kingdoms to serve the Lord.

23 He abated my strength in the way, and shortened my days.

24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days: thy years endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast aforetime laid the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the work of thine hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: even they all shall wax old as doth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

28 The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall stand fast in thy sight.

103 1 He provoketh all to praise the Lord, which hath pardoned his sins, delivered him from destruction and given him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he showeth like a most tender Father toward his children. 14 The frailty of man's life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

102:18 1 The deliverance of the Church is a most excellent benefit, and therefore he comparis it to a new creation: for in their banishment the body of the Church seemed to have been dead, which by deliverance was as it were created anew.

102:20 1 Who now in their banishment could look for nothing but death.

102:22 1 He showeth that God's Name is never more praised, than when religion flourisheth and the church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished under the kingdom of Christ.

102:23 1 The Church laments that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but have but few years and short days.

102:26 1 If heaven and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of God's promise endureth forever.

103:1 1 He wakeneth his dullness to praise God, showing that both understanding and affections, mind and heart are too little to set forth his praise.

103:3 1 That is, the beginning and chiefest of all benefits, remission of sin.

103:4 1 For before that we have remission of our sins, we are as dead men in the grave.

103:5 1 As the eagle, when her beak overgreweth, sucketh blood, and so is renewed in strength, even so God miraculously giveth strength to his Church above all man's expectation.

103:7 1 As to his chief minister, and next to his people.

103:9 1 He showeth first his severe judgment, but so soon as the sinner is humbled, he received him to mercy.

103:10 1 Who have proved by continual experience, that his mercy hath ever prevailed against our offences.

103:12 1 As great as the world is, so full is it of signs of God's mercies toward his faithful, when he hath removed their sins.

103:15 1 He declareth that man hath nothing in himself to move God to mercy, but only the confession of his infirmity and misery.

103:17 1 His just and faithful keeping of his promise.

103:18 1 To whom he giveth grace to fear him, and to obey his word.
upon his commandments to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heaven, and his kingdom ruleth over all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandment in obeying the voice of his word.

21 Praise the Lord all ye his hosts, ye his servants that do his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord all ye his works, in all places of his dominion: my soul, praise thou the Lord.

104:1 An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the world, and the governance of the same by his marvelous providence. 35 Wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminisheth his blessings.

1 My soul, praise thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art clothed with glory and honor.

2 Which covereth himself with light, as with a garment, and spreadeth the heavens like a curtain.

3 Which layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the clouds his chariot, and walketh upon the wings of the wind.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 He set the earth upon her foundations, so that it shall never move.

6 Thou coverest it with the deep as with a garment: and the mountains ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they hast away.

8 And the mountains ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bound which they shall not pass: they shall not return to cover the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run between the mountains.

11 They shall give drink to all the beasts of the field, and the wild asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these springs shall the fowls of the heavens dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the mountains from his chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy works.

14 He causeth grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the use of man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth man's heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, even the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted, 17 That the birds may make their nests there: the stork dwelleth in the fir trees.

18 The high mountains are for the goats: the rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the moon for certain seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.

20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creep forth.

21 The lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat at God.

22 When the sun riseth, they retire, and couch in their dens.

23 Then goeth man forth to his work, and to his labor until the evening.

24 O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is the sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There go the ships: yea that Leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 All these wait upon thee, that thou mayest extend his provident care to man.

28 He confesseth that no tongue is able to express God's wisdom.

29 He appointed the moon for certain seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.

30 Of these springs shall the fowls of the heavens rise up, and sing to thee.

31 All these wait upon thee, that thou mayest extend his provident care to man.

give them food in due season.
28 Thou givest it to them, and they gather it, thou openest thy hand, and they are filled with good things.
29 But if thou hide thy face, they are troubled; if thou take away their breath, they die and return to their dust:
30 Again if thou send forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth.
31 Glory be to the Lord forever: let the Lord rejoice in his works.
32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth: he toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.
33 I will sing unto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I live.
34 Let my words be acceptable unto him: I will rejoice in the Lord.
35 Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there be no more: O my soul, praise thou the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

105:1 He praiseth the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the world chosen a peculiar people to himself, and having chosen them, never ceaseth to do them good, even for his promise's sake.
1 Praise the Lord, and call upon his Name: declare his works among the people.
2 Sing unto him, sing praise unto him, and talk of all his wondrous works.
3 Rejoice in his holy Name, let the heart of them that seek the Lord, rejoice.
4 Seek the Lord and his strength: seek his face continually.
5 Remember his marvelous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth,
6 Ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob, which are his elect.
7 He is the Lord our God: his judgments are through all the earth.
8 He hath always remembered his covenant, and promise, that he made to a thousand generations,
9 Even that which he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac:
10 And since hath confirmed it to Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant,
11 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.
12 Albeit they were few in number, yea very few, and strangers in the land,
13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people,
14 Yet suffered he no man to do them wrong, but reproved Kings for their sakes, saying,
15 Touch not mine anointed, and do my Prophets no harm.
16 Moreover, he called a famine upon the land, and utterly brake the staff of bread.
17 But he sent a man before them: Joseph was sold for a slave.
18 They held his feet in the stocks, and he was laid in irons,
19 Until his appointed time came, and the counsel of the Lord had tried him.
20 The King sent and loosed him: even the Ruler of the people delivered him.
21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance,
22 That he should bind his princes unto his will, and teach his Ancients wisdom.
23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.
24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger than their oppressors.
25 He increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger than their oppressors.
26 Then sent he Moses his servant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.
27 They showed among them the message of his signs, and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He sent darkness, and made it dark: and they were not disobedient unto his commission.
29 He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
30 Their land brought forth frogs, even in their King's chambers.
31 He spake, and there came swarms of flies and lice in all their quarters.
32 He gave them hail for rain, and flames of fire in their land.
33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees, and brake down the trees in their coasts.
34 He spake and the grasshoppers came, and caterpillars innumerable, 35 And did eat up all the grass in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.
36 He spake also all the firstborn in their land, even the beginning of all their strength.
37 He brought them forth also with silver and gold, and there was none feeble among their tribes.
38 Egypt was glad at their departing: for the fear of them had fallen upon them.
39 He spread a cloud to be a covering, and fire to give light in the night.
40 They asked, and he brought quails, and he filled them with the bread of heaven.
41 He opened the rock, and the water flowed out, and ran in the dry places like a river.
42 For he remembered his holy promise to Abraham his servant,
43 And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness,
44 And gave them the lands of the heathen, and they took the labors of the people in possession, 45 That they might keep his statutes, and observe his Laws. Praise ye the Lord.

105:28 1 Meaning, Moses and Aaron.
105:31 1 So that this vermin came not by fortune, but as God had appointed, and his prophet Moses spake.
105:32 1 It was strange to see rain in Egypt, much more it was fearful to see hail.
105:34 1 He showeth that all creatures are armed against man when God is his enemy, as at his commandment the grasshoppers destroyed the land.
105:37 1 When their enemies felt God's plagues his children by his providence were exempted.
105:38 1 For God's plagues caused them rather to depart with the Israelites, than with their lives.
105:40 1 Not for necessity, but for satisfying of their lust.
105:42 1 Which he confirmeth to the posterity, in whom after a sort the dead live and enjoy the promises.
105:43 1 When the Egyptians lamented and were destroyed.
105:45 1 This is the end, why God preserveth his Church, because they should worship, and call upon him in this world.

106:1 1 The Prophet exhorteth the people to praise God for his benefits past, that thereby their minds may be strengthened against all present troubles and despair.
106:3 1 He showeth that it is not enough to praise God with the mouth, except the whole heart agree thereunto, and all our life be thereunto framed.
106:4 1 Let the good will that thou bearest to thy people, extend unto me, that thereby I may be received into the number of thine.
106:6 1 By earnest confession as well of their own, as of their fathers' sins, they show that they had hope that God according to his promise would pity them.
106:8 1 The inestimable goodness of God appeareth in this, that he would change the order of nature, rather than his people should not be delivered, although they were wicked.
106:12 1 The wonderful works of God caused them to believe for a time, and to praise him.
106:13 1 They would prevent his wisdom and providence.
14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.
15 Then he gave them their desire: but he sent leanness into their soul.
16 They envied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.
17 Therefore the earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt up the wicked.
19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.
20 Thus they turned their glory into the similitude of a bullock, that eateth grass.
21 They forgot God their Savior, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and fearful things by the red sea.
23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood in the breach before him to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
24 Also they contemned that pleasant land, and believed not his word, 25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord.
26 Therefore he lifted up his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness, 27 And to destroy their seed among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countries.
28 They joined themselves also unto Baal of Peor, and did eat the offerings of the dead.
29 Thus they provoked him unto anger with their own inventions, and the plague brake in upon them.
30 But Phinehas stood up, and executed judgment, and the plague was stayed.
31 And it was imputed unto him for righteousness from generation to generation forever.

32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his Spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.
34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,
35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works,
36 And served their idols, which were their ruin.
37 Yea, they offered their sons, and their daughters unto devils,
38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons, and of their daughters whom they offered unto the idols of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.
39 Thus were they stained with their own works, and went a whoring with their own inventions.
40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his own inheritance.
41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them were lords over them.
42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled under their hand.
43 Many a time did he deliver them, but they provoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought down by their iniquity.
44 Yet he saw when they were in affliction, and he heard their cry.
45 And he remembered his covenant toward them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies,
46 And gave them favor in the sight of all them that led them captives.
47 Save us, O Lord our God, and gather us from among the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy praise.
48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel forever and ever, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

106:15 1 The abundance that God gave them, profited not, but made them pine away, because God cursed it.
106:17 1 By the greatness of the punishment the heinous offence may be considered: for they that rise against God's ministers, rebel against him.
106:20 1 He showeth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glory, when instead of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, metal, or calves.
106:23 1 If Moses by his intercession had not obtained God's favor against their rebellions.
106:24 1 That is, Canaan, which was as it were an earnest penny of the heavenly inheritance.
106:26 1 That is, he swore. Sometimes also it meaneth, to punish.
106:28 1 Which was the idol of the Moabites.
106:29 1 Signifying that whatsoever man inventeth of himself to serve God by, is detestable, and provoketh his anger.
106:30 1 When all others neglected God's glory, he in his zeal killed the adulterers and prevented God's wrath.
106:31 1 This act declared his lively faith, and for his faith's sake was accepted.
106:32 1 If so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others provoked him to sin, how much more shall they be subject to God's judgment, which cause God's children to sin?
106:37 1 He showeth how monstrous a thing idolatry is, which can win us to things abhorring to nature, whereas God's word cannot obtain in our souls.
106:39 1 Thus were they stained with their own works, and they that hated them were lords over them.
106:41 1 He remembereth his covenant toward them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies,
106:46 1 And gave them favor in the sight of all them that led them captives.

107 1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord and gathered unto him, to give thanks, 9 for this merciful providence of God governing all things at his good pleasures. 20 sending good and evil, prosperity and adversity to bring men unto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereof rejoice, so shall the wicked have their mouth stopped.

1 Praise 1the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth forever.
2 Let them, 1which have been redeemed of the Lord, show how he hath delivered them from the hand of the oppressor,
3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the 1South.
4 When they wandered in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and found no city to dwell in,
5 Both hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.
6 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble,
and he delivered them from their distress,
7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.
8 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men.
9 For he satisfied the thirsty soul, and filled the hungry soul with goodness.
10 They that dwell in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in misery and iron, 11 Because they 1rebelled against the words of the Lord, and despised the counsel of the most High, 12 When he humbled their heart with heaviness, than they fell down, and there was no helper.
13 Then they 1cried unto the Lord in their trouble,
and he delivered them from their distress.
14 He brought them out of darkness, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bands asunder.
15 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving-kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men.
16 For he hath broken the 1gates of brass, and burst the bars of iron asunder, 17 1Fools by reason of their transgression, and because of their iniquities are afflicted.
18 Their soul abhorreth all meat, and they are brought to death's door.
19 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivereth them from their distress.
20 1He sendeth his word and healeth them, and delivereth them from their 1graves.
21 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men,
22 And let them offer sacrifices of 1praise, and declare his works with rejoicing.
23 They that go down to the 1sea in ships, and occupy by the great waters, 24 They see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep.
25 For he commandeth and raiseth the stormy wind, and it lifteth up the waves thereof.
26 They mount up to the heaven, and descend to the deep, so that their soul 1melteth for trouble.
27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their 1cunning is gone.
28 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble,
and he bringeth them out of their distress.
29 He turneth the storm to calm, so that the waves thereof are still.
30 When they are 1quieted, they are glad, and he bringeth them unto the haven, where they would be.
31 Let them therefore confess before the Lord his loving kindness, and his wonderful works before the sons of men.
32 And let them exalt him in the 1congregation of the president, and praise him in the assembly of the Elders.
33 He turneth the floods to a wilderness, and the 107:1 1 This notable sentence was in the beginning used as the foot or tenor of the song, which was oftentimes repeated.

107:2 1 As this was true in the Jews, so there is none of God's elect, that feel not his help in their necessity.
107:3 1 Or, from the sea: meaning the red sea, which is on the South part of the land.
107:5 1 He sheweth that there is none affliction so grievous, out of the which God will not deliver his, and also exhorteth them that are delivered to be mindful of so great a benefit.
107:11 1 Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his express commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to descendent into them­selves, forasmuch as none are punished but for their sins.
107:13 1 He sheweth that the cause why God doth punish us extremely, is because we can be brought unto him by none other means.
107:16 1 When there seemeth to man's judgment no recovery, but all things are brought to despar, then God chiefly sheweth his mighty power.
springs of waters into dryness,
34 And a fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.
35 Again he turneth the wilderness into pools of water, and the dry land into water springs.
36 And there he placeth the hungry, and they build a city to dwell in,
37 And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which bring forth fruitful increase.
38 For he blesseth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattle.
39 Again men are diminished, and brought low by oppression, evil and sorrow.
40 He poureth contempt upon princes, and causeth them to err in desert places out of the way.
41 Yet he raiseth up the poor out of misery, and maketh him families like a flock of sheep.
42 The righteous shall see it, and rejoice, and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.
43 Who is wise that he may observe these things? for they shall understand the loving kindness of the Lord.

108  This Psalm is composed of two other Psalms before the seven and fiftieth and the sixtieth.
The matter here contained is. 1 That David giveth himself with heart and voice to praise the Lord, 7 and assures himself of the promise of God concerning his kingdom over Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seem to forsake us for a time, yet he alone will in the end cast down our enemies.

A song or Psalm of David.

1 O God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing and give praise.
2 Awake viol and harp, I will awake early.
3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and will sing unto thee among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is great above the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.
5 Exalt thyself, O God, above the heavens, and let thy glory be upon all the earth,
6 That thy beloved may be delivered; 1 help with thy right hand and hear me.
7 God hath spoken in his holiness: therefore I will rejoice, I shall divide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.
8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Judah is my lawgiver.
9 Moab shall be my washpot: over Edom will I cast out my shoe: upon Palestine will I triumph.
10 Who will lead me into the strong city? who will bring me unto Edom?
11 Wilt thou not, O God, which hast forsaken us, and didst not go forth, O God, with our armies?
12 Give us help against trouble: for vain is the help of man.
13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he shall tread down our enemies.

109 1 David being falsely accused by flatterers unto Saul, prayeth God to help him, and to destroy his enemies. 8 And under them he speaketh of Judas the traitor unto Jesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desired so to be delivered, that his enemies may know the work to be of God. 30 Then doth he promise to give praise unto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David,

1 Hold not thy tongue, O God of my praise.
2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened upon me: they have spoken to me with a lying tongue.
3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.
4 For my friendship they were my adversaries, but I gave myself to prayer.
5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my friendship.
6 Set thou the wicked over him, and let the adversary stand at his right hand.

107:34 1 Or, saltiness.
107:35 1 For the love that he beareth to his Church, he changeth the order of nature for their commodity.
107:37 1 Continual increase and yearly.
107:39 1 As God by his providence doth exalt men, so doth he also humble them by afflictions to know themselves.
107:40 1 For their wickedness and tyranny he causeth the people and subjects to torment them.
107:42 1 They, whose faith is lightened by God's Spirit, that God would take vengeance upon him.
108:1 1 This earnest affection declareth that he is free from hypocrisy, and that sluggishness stayeth him not.
2 Or, my glory, because it chiefly setteth forth the glory of God.
108:3 1 He prophesieeth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not hear the goodness of God.
108:5 1 Let all the world see thy judgments in that thou art God over all, and so confess that thou art glorious.
108:6 1 When God by his benefits maketh us partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth us to be earnest in prayer, to desire him to continue and finish his graces.
108:7 1 As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he show himself constant, and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subject unto me.
108:11 1 From the sixth verse of this Psalm unto the last, read the exposition of Ps. 60:5.
109:1 1 Though all the world condemn me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocence, and that is a sufficient praise to me.
109:4 1 To declare that I had no other refuge, but thee, in whom my conscience was at rest.
109:6 1 Whether it were Doeg, or Saul, or some familiar friend that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of private affection, but moved by God's Spirit, that God would take vengeance upon him.
7 When he shall be judged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer be turned into sin.

8 Let his days be few, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabonds, and beg and seek bread, coming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the strangers spoil his labor.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to show mercy upon his fatherless children.

13 Let his posterity be destroyed, and in the generation following, let their name be put out.

14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sin of his mother be done away.

15 But let them always be before the Lord, that he may cut off their memorial from the earth.

16 Because he remembered not to show mercy, but persecuted the afflicted and poor man, and the sorrowful hearted to slay him.

17 As he loved cursing, so shall it come unto him, and as he loved not blessing, so shall it be far from him.

18 As he clothed himself with cursing like a garment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as a garment to cover him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shall be always girded.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adversary from the Lord, and of them that speak evil against my soul.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deal with me according unto thy Name: deliver me, (for thy mercy is good)

22 Because I am poor and needy, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the ‘grasshopper.

24 My knees are weak through fasting, and my flesh hath lost all fatness.

25 I became also a rebuke unto them: they that looked upon me, shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O Lord my God: save me according to thy mercy.

27 And they shall know that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt bless: they shall arise and be confounded, but thy servant shall rejoice.

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their confusion as with a cloak.

30 I will give thanks unto the Lord greatly with my mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

31 For he will stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him from them that would condemn his soul.

110 David prophesied of the power and everlasting kingdom given to Christ. And of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Levi.

A Psalm of David.

1 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of Zion: be thou ruler in the midst of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling thine army in holy beauty: the youth of thy womb shall be as the morning dew.

4 The Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest forever, after the order of Melchizedek.

5 The Lord that is at thy right hand, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.
6 He shall be judge among the heathen: he shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite the head over great countries.
7 He shall drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up his head.

111 He giveth thanks to the Lord for his merciful works toward his Church, and declareth wherein true wisdom and right knowledge consisteth.

Praise ye the Lord.
1 I will praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly and the congregation of the just.
2 The works of the Lord are great, and ought to be sought out of all them that love them.
3 His work is beautiful and glorious, and his righteousness endureth forever.
4 He hath made his wonderful works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is merciful and full of compassion.
5 He hath given a portion unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.
6 He hath showed to his people the power of his hands, in giving unto them the heritage of the heathen.
7 The works of his hands are truth and judgment: all his statutes are true.
8 They are established forever and ever, and are done in truth and equity.
9 He sent redemption unto his people: he hath commanded his covenant forever: holy and fearful is his Name.
10 The beginning of wisdom is the fear of the Lord: all they that observe them, have good understanding: his praise endureth forever.

112 He praisest the felicity of them that fear God. 10 and condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

Praise ye the Lord.
1 Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commandments.
2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.
3 Riches and treasures shall be in his house, and his righteousness endureth forever.
4 Unto the righteous ariseth light in darkness: he is merciful and full of compassion and righteousness.
5 A good man is merciful, and lendeth, and will measure his affairs by judgment.
6 Surely he shall never be moved: but the righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.
7 He will not be afraid of evil tidings: for his heart is fixed, and believeth in the Lord.
8 His heart is established: therefore he will not fear, until he see his desire upon his enemies.
9 He hath distributed and given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth forever: his horn shall be exalted with glory.
10 The wicked shall see it, and be angry: he shall gnash with his teeth, and consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

113 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providence in that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

Praise ye the Lord.
1 Praise, O ye servants of the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord.
2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from henceforth and forever.
3 The Lord's Name is praised from the rising of the sun, unto the going down of the same.
4 The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.
5 Who is like unto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high.
6 Who abaseth himself to behold things in the heavens and in the earth!
7 He raiseth the needy out of the dust, and lifteth up the 'poor out of the dung.
8 That he may set him with the princes, even with the princes of his people.
9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a family, and a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

114:1 How the Israelites were delivered forth of Egypt, and of the wonderful miracles that God wrought at that time. Which put us in remembrance of God's great mercy toward his Church, who when the course of nature faileth, preserveth his miraculously.
1 When 'Israel went out of Egypt, and the house of Jacob from the 'barbarous people,
2 Judah was his 'sanctification, and Israel his dominion.
3 The sea saw it, and fled: Jordan was turned back.
4 The 'mountains leaped like rams, and the hills as lambs!
5 What ailed thee, O sea, that thou fleddest? O Jordan, why wast thou turned back?
6 Ye mountains why leaped ye like rams, and ye hills as lambs?
7 The 'earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob,
8 Which 'turneth the rock into waterspools, and the flint into a fountain of water.

115:1 A prayer of the faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succor them, trusting most constantly that God will preserve them in this their need, seeing, that he hath adopted and received them into his favor. 13 Promising finally that they will not be unmindful of so great a benefit if it would please God to hear their prayer, and deliver them by his omnipotent power.
1 Not 'unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy Name give the glory for thy loving mercy, and for thy truth's sake.
2 Wherefore shall the heathen say, 'Where is now their God?
3 But our God is in heaven: he doeth whatsoever he 'will.
4 Their idols are 'silver and gold, even the work of men's hands.
5 They have a mouth, and speak not: they have eyes, and see not.
6 They have ears, and hear not: they have noses and smell not.
7 They have 'hands, and touch not: they have feet, and walk not: neither make they a sound with their throat.
8 They that make them are 'like unto them: so are all that trust in them.
9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for he is their help, and their shield.
10 'O house of Aaron trust ye in the Lord, for he is their help, and their shield.
11 Ye that fear the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper, and their shield.
12 The Lord hath been mindful of us, he will bless, he 'will bless the house of Israel, he will bless the house of Aaron.
13 He will bless them that fear the Lord, both small and great.
14 The Lord will increase 'his graces toward you, even toward you, and toward your children.
15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which 'made the heavens and the earth.
16 The 'heavens, even the heavens are the Lord's: but he hath given the earth to the sons of men.
17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into the place of silence.
116:1 He saith, that no pleasure is so great as to feel God's help in our necessity, neither that anything more strenth up our love toward him.

116:2 That is in convenient time to seek help, which was when he was in distress.

116:5 He sheweth forth the fruit of his love in calling upon him, confessing him to be just and merciful, and to help them that are in distress.

116:6 Which was unquieted before, now rest upon the Lord, for he hath kept thee in apparel and fed thee.

116:7 The Lord preserveth the simple: I was in misery, and he saved me.

116:8 Because thou hast delivered my soul from death, and the griefs of the grave caught me: When I found trouble and sorrow.

116:9 I called upon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord, deliver my soul.

116:10 Then I called upon the Name of the Lord, saying, Ibeseech thee, O Lord, deliver my soul.

116:11 I believed, therefore did I speak: for I was sore troubled.

116:12 For I said in my fear, All men are liars.

116:13 What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me?

116:14 I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the Name of the Lord.

116:15 I will call upon the Lord in trouble, and will set me on mine enemies.

116:16 The Lord will preserve me, and save my life.

117:1 He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished as well to them as to the Jews, the promise of life everlasting by Jesus Christ.

117:2 All nations, praise ye the Lord: all ye people, praise him.

117:3 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercy endureth forever.

117:4 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercy endureth forever.

117:5 Let them that fear the Lord, now say, That his mercy endureth forever.

117:6 The Lord is with me: therefore I will not fear what man can do unto me.

117:7 The Lord is with me among them that help me: therefore shall I see mine desire upon mine enemies.

117:8 It is better to trust in the Lord, than to have confidence in man.

117:9 It is better to trust in the Lord, than to have confidence in man.
27 The Lord is mighty, and hath given us light: bind the sacrifice with cords unto the horns of the altar.
28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee, even my God: therefore I will exalt thee.
29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth forever.

119

1 The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to frame their lives according to his holy word.
23 Also he showeth wherein the true service of God standeth, that is, when we serve him according to his word, and not after our own fantasies.

ALEPH

1 Blessed are those that are upright in their way, and walk in the Law of the Lord.
2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and seek him with their whole heart.
3 Surely they work none iniquity, but walk in his ways.
4 Thou hast commanded to keep thy precepts diligently.
5 Oh that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes!
6 Then should I not be confounded, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.
7 I will praise thee with an upright heart, when I learn the judgments of thy righteousness.
8 I will keep thy statutes: forsake me not over-long.

BETH

9 Whereewith shall a young man redress his way? in taking heed thereto according to thy word.
10 With my whole heart have I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandments.
11 I have hid thy promise in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.
12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach me thy statutes.
13 With my lips have I declared all the judgments

118:13 1 He noteth Saul his chief enemy.
118:14 1 In that he was delivered, he came not of himself, nor of the power of man, but only of God's favor; therefore he will praise him.
118:15 1 He promiseth both to render graces himself, and to cause others to do the same, because that in his person the Church was restored.
118:16 1 So that all, that are both far and near, may see his mighty power.
118:19 1 He willeth the doors of the Tabernacle to be opened, that he may declare his thankful mind.
118:22 1 Though Saul and the chief powers refused me to be King, yet God hath preferred me above them all.
118:24 1 Wherein God hath shewed chiefly his mercy, by appointing me king and delivering his Church.
118:25 1 The people pray for the prosperity of David's kingdom, who was the figure of Christ.
118:26 1 Which are the Priests, and have the charge thereof, as Num. 6:23.
118:27 1 Because he hath restored us from darkness to light, we will offer sacrifices and praises unto him.
119:1 1 Here they are not called blessed, which think themselves wise in their own judgment, nor which imagine to themselves a certain holiness, but they whose conversation is without hypocrisy.
119:3 1 For they are ruled by God's Spirit and embrace no doctrine but his.
119:5 1 David acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reform it, that his life may be conformable to God's word.
119:7 1 For true religion standeth in serving God without hypocrisy.
119:8 1 That is, thy precepts, which contain perfect righteousness.
119:9 1 He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succor not his infirmity in time.
119:11 1 If God's word be graven in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him daily more and more therein.
of thy mouth.
14 I have had as great delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.
15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy ways.
16 I will delight in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL
17 Be beneficial unto thy servant; that I may live and keep thy word.
18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy Law.
19 I am a stranger upon earth: hide not thy commandments from me.
20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy judgments always.
21 Thou hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that do err from thy commandments.
22 Remove from me shame and contempt: for I have kept thy testimonies.
23 Princes also did sit, and speak against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.
24 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counselors.

DALETH
25 My soul cleaveth to the dust: quicken me according to thy word.
26 I have declared my ways, and thou hearest me: teach me thy statutes.
27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate in thy wondrous works.
28 My soul melteth for heaviness: raise me up and I will meditate in thy wondrous works.
29 Take from me the way of lying, and grant me graciously thy Law.
30 I have chosen the way of truth, and thy judgments have I laid before me.
31 I have cleaved to thy testimonies, O Lord: confound me not.
32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

HE
33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keep it unto the end.
34 Give me understanding and I will keep thy Law, yea, I will keep it with my whole heart.
35 Direct me in the path of thy commandments: for therein is my delight.
36 Incline mine heart unto thy testimonies: and not to covetousness.
37 Turn away mine eyes from regarding vanity, and quicken me in thy way.
38 Establish thy promise to thy servant, because I fear thee.
39 Take away my rebuke that I fear: for thy judgments are good.
40 Behold, I desire thy commandments: quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAU
41 And let thy loving kindness come unto me, O Lord, and thy salvation according to thy promise.
42 So shall I make answer unto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy word.
43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth: for I wait for thy judgments.
44 So shall I always keep thy Law forever and ever.
45 And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts.
46 I will speak also of thy testimonies before Kings, and will not be ashamed.
47 And my delight shall be in thy Commandments, which I have loved.
48 Mine hands also will I lift up unto thy Commandments, which I have loved, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN

49 Remember ‘the promise made to thy servant, wherein thou hast caused me to trust.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble; for thy promise hath quickened me.

51 The ‘proud have had me exceedingly in derision: yet have I not declined from thy Law.

52 I remembered thy ‘judgments of old, O Lord, and have been comforted.

53 ‘Fear is come upon me for the wicked, that forsaie thy Law.

54 ‘Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my ‘pilgrimage.

55 I have remembered thy Name, O Lord, in the ‘night, and have kept thy Law.

56 ‘This I had because I kept thy precepts.

CHETH

57 O Lord, that art my ‘portion, I have determined to keep thy words.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my ‘whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy promise.

59 I have considered my ‘ways, and turned my feet into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste and delayed not to keep thy commandments.

61 The bands of the wicked have ‘robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight will I rise to give thanks unto thee, that I may learn thy statutes.

63 I am ‘companion of all them that fear thee, and because of thy righteous judgments.

64 ‘The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy statutes.

65 ‘O Lord, thou hast dealt ‘graciously with thy servant, according unto thy word.

66 ‘Teach me good judgment and knowledge: for I have believed thy commandments.

67 ‘Before I was ‘afflicted, I went astray: but now I keep thy word.

68 ‘Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.

69 ‘The proud have imagined a lie against me: but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 ‘Their heart is as grease, but my delight is in thy Law.

71 ‘It is ‘good for me that I have been afflicted, that I may learn thy statutes.

72 ‘The Law of thy mouth is better unto me, than thousands of gold and silver.

TETH

73 Thine hands have ‘made me and fashioned me: give me understanding therefore, that I may learn thy commandments.

74 So they that ‘fear thee, seeing me, shall rejoice, because I have trusted in thy word.

75 ‘I know, O Lord, that thy judgments are right, and that thou hast afflicted me ‘justly.

76 ‘I pray thee that thy mercy may comfort me, according to thy promise unto thy servant.

77 ‘Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may ‘live: for thy Law is my delight.

78 ‘Let the proud be ashamed: for they have dealt wickedly and falsely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 ‘Let such as fear thee ‘turn unto me, and they that ‘know thy testimonies.

80 ‘Let mine heart be upright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

119:49 1 Though he feel God’s hand still to lie upon him, yet he reliseth on his promise, and comforteth himself therein.

119:51 1 Meaning, the wicked, which contenem God’s word, and tread his Religion under foot.

119:52 1 That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thyself to be judge of the world.

119:53 1 That is, a vehement zeal to thy glory and indignation against the wicked.

119:54 1 In the course of this life and sorrowful exit.

119:55 1 Even when others sleep.

119:56 1 That is, all these benefits.

119:57 1 I am persuaded that to keep thy Law is an heritage and great gain for me.

119:59 1 He sheweth that none can embrace the word of God, except he consider his own imperfections and ways.

119:61 1 They have gone about to draw me into their company.

119:63 1 Not only in mutual consent, but also with aid and succor.

119:64 1 For the knowledge of God’s word is a singular token of his favor.

119:65 1 Having proved by experience that God was true in his promise, he desirith that he would increase in him knowledge and judgment.

119:67 1 So Jeremiah saith, that before the Lord touched him, he was like a calf untamed: so that the use of God’s rod is to call us home to God.

119:70 1 Their heart is fat as grease, puffed up with prosperity and vain estimation of themselves.

119:71 1 He confesseth that before that he was chastened, he was rebellious, as man by nature is.

119:73 1 Because God leaveth not his work that he hath begun, he desireth a new grace: that is, that he would continue his mercies.

119:74 1 When God sheweth his grace toward any, he testifieth to others, that he faileth not them that trust in him.

119:75 1 Hebrew, in truth.

119:77 1 He declareth, that when he felt not God’s mercies, he was as dead.

119:79 1 That is, be comforted by mine example.

2 He sheweth that there can be no true fear of God without the knowledge of his word.
Psalm 119:81

My soul fainted for thy salvation: yet I wait for thy word.

Mine eyes fail for thy promise, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

For I am like a bottle in the smoke; yet do I not forget thy statutes.

How many are the days of thy servant? When wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

The proud have dug pits for me, which is not after thy Law.

All thy commandments are true: they persecute me falsely: help me.

They had almost consumed me upon the earth: but I forsook not thy precepts.

Quicken me according to thy loving kindness: so shall I keep the testimony of thy mouth.

Thou hast quickened me.

I am thine, save me: for I have sought thy precepts.

They continued even to this day by thine ordinances: for all are thy servants.

Except thy law had been my delight, I should have seen an end of all perfection:

They are my meditation all the day:

For all thy commandments are thy servants.

I will consider thy testimonies.

I will never forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

I am like a bottle in the smoke; but God's word lasteth forever.

Oh how love I thy law! it is my meditation continually.

By thy commandments thou hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me.

I have had more understanding than all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.

I understood more than the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.

I have not declined from thy judgments: for thou didst teach me.

How sweet are thy promises unto my mouth! yea, more than honey unto my mouth.

By thy precepts I have gotten understanding: therefore I hate all the ways of falsehood.

Thy word is a lantern unto my feet, and a light unto my paths.

I have sworn and will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments.

I am very sore afflicted: O Lord, quicken me according to thy word.

O Lord, I beseech thee, accept the free offering of my mouth, and teach me thy judgments.

My soul is continually in mine hand: yet do I not forget thy law.

The wicked have waited for me to destroy me: yet will I consider thy testimonies.

I have seen an end of all perfection: but thy commandment is exceeding large.

I have had more understanding than all my enemies: for they are ever with me.

By thy commandments thou hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me.

I have had more understanding than all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.

By thy precepts I have gotten understanding: therefore I hate all the ways of falsehood.
114 Thou art my refuge and shield, and I trust in thy word.
115 Away from me, ye wicked: for I will keep the commandments of my God.
116 Establish me according to thy promise, that I may live, and disappoint me not of mine hope.
117 Stay thou me, and I shall be safe, and I will delight continually in thy statutes.
118 Thou hast trodden down all them that depart from thy statutes: for their deceit is vain.
119 Thou hast taken away all the wicked of the earth like dross: therefore I love thy testimonies.
120 My flesh trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgments.

AIN

121 I have executed judgment and justice: leave me not to mine oppressor.
122 Answer for thy servant in that which is good, and let not the proud oppress me.
123 Mine eyes have failed in waiting for thy salvation, and for thy just promise.
124 Deal with thy servant according to thy mercy, and teach me thy statutes.
125 I am thy servant: grant me therefore understanding, that I may know thy testimonies.
126 It is time for thee, Lord, to work: that I may know thy testimonies.
127 Therefore love I thy commandments above all things to confusion, and God's word to utter contempt, then it is God's time to help and send remedy.
128 Therefore I esteem all thy precepts most just, and hate all false ways.

PE

129 Thy testimonies are wonderful: therefore doth my soul keep them.
130 The entrance into thy words showeth light, and giveth understanding to the simple.
131 I opened my mouth, and panted, because I loved thy commandments.
132 Look upon me and be merciful unto me, as thou usest to do unto those that love thy Name.
133 Direct my steps in thy word, and let none iniquity have dominion over me.
134 Deliver me from the oppression of men, and I will keep thy precepts.
135 Show the light of thy countenance upon thy servant, and teach me thy statute.
136 Mine eyes gush out with rivers of water, because they keep not thy Law.

TZADDI

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, and just are thy judgments.
138 Thou hast commanded justice by thy testimonies and truth especially.
139 My zeal hath even consumed me: because mine enemies have forgotten thy words.
140 Thy word is proved most pure, and thy servant loveth it.
141 I am small and despised: yet do I not forget thy precepts.
142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy Law is truth.
143 Trouble and anguish are come upon me: yet are the commandments my delight.
144 The righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting: grant me understanding, and I shall live.

KOPH

145 I have cried with my whole heart: hear me, O Lord, and I will keep thy statutes.
146 I called upon thee: save me, and I will keep thy testimonies.
147 I prevented the morning light, and cried: for I waited on thy word.
148 Mine eyes prevent the night watches, to meditate in thy word.

119:115 1 And hinder me not to keep the Law of the Lord.
119:117 1 He desireth God's continual assistance, lest he should faint in this race, which he had begun.
119:118 1 The crafty practices of them that contemn thy Law, shall be brought to naught.
119:119 1 Which infected thy people, as dross doth the metal.
119:120 1 Thy judgments do not only teach me obedience, but cause me to fear, considering mine own weakness, which fear causeth repentance.
119:122 1 Put thyself between mine enemies and me, as if thou were my pledge.
119:124 1 He boasteth not that he is God's servant, but hereby putteth God in mind that as he made him his by his grace, so he would continue his favor toward him.
119:126 1 The Prophet showeth that when the wicked have brought all things to confusion, and God's word to utter contempt, then it is God's time to help and send remedy.
119:128 1 That is, whatsoever dissenteth from the purity of thy word.
119:129 1 Containing high and secret mysteries, so that I am moved with admiration and reverence.
119:130 1 The simple idiots that submit themselves to God, have their eyes opened and their minds illuminated, so soon as they begin to read God's word.
119:131 1 My zeal toward thy word was so great.
119:136 1 He showeth what ought to be the zeal of God's children, when they see his word contemned.
119:138 1 We cannot confess God to be righteous, except we live uprightly and truly, as he hath commanded.
119:140 1 Gold hath need to be fined, but thy word is perfection itself.
119:141 1 This is the true trial, to praise God in adversity.
119:144 1 So that the life of man without the knowledge of God, is death.
119:145 1 He showeth that all his affections and whole heart were bent to Godward for to have help in his dangers.
119:148 1 He was more earnest in the study of God's word, than they that kept the watch were in their charge.
PSALM 119:149  624

149 Hear my voice according to thy loving kindness: O Lord, quicken me according to thy 'judgment.
150 They draw near that follow after 'malice, and are far from thy Law.
151 Thou art near, O Lord: for all thy commandments are true.
152 I have known long since 'by thy testimonies, that thou hast established them forever.
153 Behold mine affliction, and deliver me: for I have not forgotten thy law.
154 Plead my cause, and deliver me: quicken me according unto thy word.
155 Salvation is far from the wicked, because they seek not thy statutes.
156 Great art thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken me according to thy word.
157 My persecutors and mine oppressors are many: yet do I not swerve from thy testimonies.
158 I saw the transgressors and was 'grieved, because they kept not thy word.
159 Consider, O Lord, how I 'love thy precepts: quicken me according to thy loving kindness.
160 The 'beginning of thy word is truth, and all the judgments of thy righteousness endure forever.
161 Princes have 'persecuted me without cause: but mine heart stood in awe of thy words.
162 I rejoice at thy word, as one that findeth a great spoil.
163 I hate falsehood and abhor it, but thy Law do I love.
164 'Seven times a day do I praise thee, because of thy righteous judgments.
165 They that 'love thy law, shall have great prosperity, and they shall have none hurt.
166 Lord, I have 'trusted in thy salvation, and have done thy commandments.
167 My soul hath kept thy testimonies: for I love them exceedingly.
168 I have kept thy precepts and thy testimonies: for all my ways are before thee.

TAU
169 Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord, and give me understanding 'according unto thy word.
170 Let my supplication come before thee, and deliver me according to thy promise.
171 My lips shall 'speak praise, when thou hast taught me thy statutes.
172 My tongue shall entreat of thy word: for all thy commandments are righteous.
173 Let thine hand entreat of thy word: for I have chosen thy precepts.
174 I have longed for thy salvation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delight.
175 Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee, and thy judgments shall help me.
176 I have 'gone astray like a lost sheep: seek thy servant, for I do not forget thy commandments.

120 1 The prayer of David being vexed by the false reports of Saul's flatterers. 5 And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels. 7 Who were given to all kinds of wickedness and contention. A song of 'degrees.
1 I called unto the Lord in my 'trouble, and he heard me.
2 Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.
3 What doth thy 'deceitful tongue bring unto thee? or what doth it avail thee?
4 It is as the 'sharp arrows of a mighty man, and as the coals of Juniper.

119:149 1 Or, custom.
119:150 1 He showeth the nature of the wicked to be to persecute against their conscience.
119:152 1 His faith is grounded upon God's word, that he would ever be at hand when his children be oppressed.
119:154 1 For without God's promise there is no hope of deliverance.
119:156 1 According to thy promise made in the law, which because the wicked lack, they can have no hope of salvation.
119:158 1 My zeal consumed me when I saw their malice and contempt of thy glory.
119:159 1 It is a sure sign of our adoption, when we love the Law of God.
119:160 1 Since thou first promised it, even to the end all thy sayings are true.
119:161 1 The threatenings and persecutions of princes could not cause me to shrink to confess thee whom I more fear than men.
119:164 1 That is, often and sundry times.
119:165 1 For their conscience assueth them that they please thee, whereas they that love not thee, have the contrary.
119:166 1 He sheweth that we must first have faith before we can work and please God.
119:168 1 I had no respect of men, but set thee always before mine eyes, as the judge of my doings.
119:169 1 As thou hast promised to be the schoolmaster unto all them that depend upon thee.
119:171 1 The word signifieth to pour forth continually.
119:175 1 That is, thy provident care over me, and wherewith thou wilt judge mine enemies.
119:176 1 Being chased to and fro by mine enemies, and having no place to rest in.
120:Title 1 That is, of lifting up the tune and rising in singing 120:1 1 Albeit the children of God ought to rejoice when they suffer for righteous sake, yet it is a great grief to the flesh to hear evil for well doing.
120:3 1 He assured himself that God would turn their craft to their own destruction.
120:4 1 He sheweth that there is nothing so sharp to pierce, nor so hot to set on fire, as a slanderous tongue.
 CHAPTER 121

A song of degrees.

1 I will lift up mine eyes unto the mountains, from whence my help shall come.
2 Mine help cometh from the Lord, which hath made the heaven and the earth.
3 He will not suffer thy foot to slip: for he that keepeth thee, will not slumber.
4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleep.
5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadow at thy right hand.
6 The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night.
7 The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall keep thy soul.
8 The Lord shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in from henceforth and forever.

122 A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 David rejoiceth in the name of the faithful, that God hath accomplished his promise and placed his Ark in Zion. 5 For the which he giveth thanks, 8 And prayeth for the prosperity of the Church.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 I rejoiced when they said to me, We will go into the house of the Lord.
2 Our feet shall stand in thy gates, O Jerusalem.
3 Jerusalem is built as a city, that is compact together in itself:

123 A prayer of the faithful, which were afflicted either in Babylon or under Antiochus, by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

A song of degrees.

1 I lift up mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heavens.
2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress: so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until he have mercy upon us.
3 Have mercy unto us, O Lord, have mercy upon us: for we have suffered too much contempt.
4 Our soul is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthy, and of the spitefulness of the proud.

124 The people of God, escaping a great peril, do acknowledge themselves to be delivered, not by their own force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatness of the peril. 6 And praise the Name of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 If the Lord had not been on our side, (may Israel now say)
2 If the Lord had [not] been on our side, when men rose up against us, 120:5 1 These were people of Arabia, which came of Japheth, Gen. 10:2. 2 That is, of the Ishmaelites.

120:7 1 He declareth what he meaneth by Meshech, and Kedar, to wit, the Ismaelites which had degenerate from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithful.
121:1 1 Or, about the mountains: meaning, that there is nothing so high in this world, wherein he can trust, but only in God.
121:2 1 He accuseth man's ingratitude, which cannot depend on God's power.
121:3 1 He showeth that God's providence not only watcheth over his Church in general: but also over every member thereof.
121:6 1 Neither heat nor cold, nor any incommodity shall be able to destroy God's Church, albeit for a time they may molest it.
121:8 1 whatsoever thou dost enterprise, shall have good success.
122:1 1 He rejoiceth that God had appointed a place, where the Ark should still remain.
122:2 1 Which were wont to wander to and fro, as the Ark removed.
122:4 1 Whereunto the tribes, even the tribes of the Lord go up according to the testimony to Israel, to praise the Name of the Lord.
122:5 1 For there are thrones set for judgment, even the thrones of the house of David.
122:6 1 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: let them prosper that love thee.
122:7 1 Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.
122:8 1 For my brethren and neighbors' sakes, I will wish thee now prosperity.
123:3 1 This Psalm teacheth that the faithful ought only to look for help at God, 7 who only doth maintain, preserve and prosper his Church.
123:5 1 The Lord maintain, preserve and prosper his Church.
123:7 1 Woe is to me that I remain in Meshech, and that I dwell in the tents of Kedar.
124:2 1 By the artificial joining and beauty of the houses, he meaneth the concord and love that was between the citizens.
124:4 1 They declare the greatness of the peril. 6 And praise the Name of God.
124:5 1 In whose house God placed the throne of justice, and made it a figure of Christ's kingdom.
124:7 1 The favor of God prosper thee both within and without.
124:8 1 Not only for mine own sake, but for all the faithful.
123:1 1 He declareth that when the faithful are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and scorrings of the wicked, there is always help above, if with hungry desires they call for it.
124:1 1 He showeth that God was ready to help at need, and that there was none other way to be saved, but by his only means.
124:3 1 So unable were we to resist.

124:4 1 He useth most proper similitudes to express the great danger that the Church was in, and out of which God miraculously delivered them.

124:7 1 For the wicked did not only furiously rage against the faithful, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

125:1 1 Though the world be subject to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure, and be defended by God’s providence.

125:3 1 Though God suffer his to be under the cross, lest they should embrace wickedness, yet this cross shall not so rest upon them, that it should drive them from hope.

125:5 1 He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites, and such as have no zeal of the truth.

126:1 1 Their deliverance was as a thing incredible, and therefore took away all excuse of ingratitude.

126:2 1 He showeth how the godly ought to rejoice when God gathereth his Church or delivereth it.

126:4 2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with joy: then said they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

126:5 1 The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we rejoice.

127:1 1 Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, they are but empty.

127:2 1 It is in vain for you to rise early, and to lie down late, and eat the bread of sorrow: but he will surely give rest to his beloved.

127:3 1 Behold, children are the inheritance of the Lord, and the fruit of the womb his reward.

127:4 1 As the mountains are about Jerusalem: so is the Lord about his people from henceforth and forever.

127:5 1 A pillar is he that genders, and the strength of his people is in the bosom of his children.
2 When thou eatest the labors of thine hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall bless thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

129:1 He admoniseth the Church to rejoice though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be delivered. 6 And the enemies for all their glorious show, shall suddenly be destroyed.

A song of degrees.

1 They have oftentimes afflicted me from my youth (may Israel now say)

2 They have oftentimes afflicted me from my youth; but they could not prevail against me.

3 The flowers plowed upon my back, and made long furrows.

4 But the righteous Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be all ashamed and turned backward.

6 They shall be as the grass on the house tops, which withereth afore it cometh forth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, neither does the gleaning of the Lord.

8 Neither they which go by, say, The blessing of the Lord be upon you, or, We bless you in the Name of the Lord.

130 The people of God from their bottomless miseries do cry unto God, and are heard. 3 They confess their sins, and flee unto God's mercies.

128:2 1 The world esteemeth them happy, which live in wealth and idleness: but the holy Ghost approveth them best that live of the mean profit of their labors.

128:3 1 Because God's favor appeareth in none outward thing, more than in increase of children, he promoteth to enrich the faithful with this gift.

128:5 1 Because of the spiritual blessing which God hath made to his Church; these temporal things shall be granted.

2 For except God blessed his Church publicly, this private blessing were nothing.

129:1 The Church now afflicted ought to remember how her condition hath ever been such from the beginning to be molested most grievously by the wicked: yet in time it hath ever been delivered.

129:4 Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his adversary, and deliver his, as oxen out of the plough.

129:6 1 The enemies that lift themselves most high, and as it were approach near to the Sun, are consumed with the heat of God's wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humility.

129:8 1 That is, the wicked shall perish, and none shall pass for them.

130:1 1 Being in great distress and sorrow.

130:3 1 He declareth that we cannot be just before God but by forgiveness of sins.

130:4 1 Because of nature thou art merciful: therefore the faithful reverence thee.

130:7 1 He showeth to whom the mercy of God doth appertain: to Israel, that is, to the Church and not to the reprobate.

131:1 1 He setteth forth his great humility, as an example to all rulers and governors.

2 Which pass the measure and limits of his vocation.

131:2 1 He was void of ambition and wicked desires.

132:1 1 That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, and with how great zeal and care he went about to build thy Temple.
3  I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come upon my pallet or bed,
4  Nor suffer mine eyes to sleep, nor mine eyelids to slumber,
5  Until I find out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.
6  Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah, and found it in the fields of the forest.
7  We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.
8  Arise, O Lord, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Ark of thy strength.
9  Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saints rejoice.
10  For thy servant David's sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.
11  The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David, and he will not shrink from it, saying, Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.
12  If thy sons keep my Covenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sons also shall sit upon thy throne 'forever.
13  For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loved to dwell in it, saying, 14  This is my rest forever: here will I dwell, for I have a 'delight therein.
15  I will surely bless her vittles, and will satisfy her poor with bread, 16  And will clothe her Priests with salvation, and her Saints shall shout for joy.
17  There will I make the 'horn of David to bud: for I have ordained a light for mine Anointed.
18  His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crown shall flourish.

132:8 1 That is, Jerusalem, because that afterward his Ark should remove to none other place.
132:9 1 Let the effect of thy grace both appear in the Priests and in the people.
132:10 1 As thou first madest promise to David, so continue it to his posterity, that whatsoever they shall ask for their people, it may be granted.
132:12 1 Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth, that the promise was spiritual.
132:14 1 Meaning, for his own sake, and not for the plentifulness of the place: for he promiseth to bless it, declaring before that it was barren.
132:16 1 That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe.
132:17 1 Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promiseth to restore it.
132:3 1 Because the chief charge of the king was to set forth God's glory, he sheweth that he could take no rest, neither would go about any worldly thing, were it never so necessary, before he had executed his office.
132:5 1 That is, the Ark, which was a sign of God's presence.
132:6 1 The common bruit was that the Ark should remain in Ephrathah, that is, in Bethlehem a plentiful place: but after we perceived that thou wouldest place it in Jerusalem, which was barren as a forest, and compassed about only with hills.
132:8 1 That is, Jerusalem, because that afterward his Ark should remove to none other place.
132:9 1 The Ark should remain in Ephrathah, that is, in Bethlehem a plentiful place: but after we perceived that thou wouldest place it in Jerusalem, which was barren as a forest, and compassed about only with hills.

132:11 1 Because the greatest part were against David, though some favored him, yet when he was established king at length, they joined altogether like brethren: and therefore he showeth by these similitudes the commodity of brotherly love.
132:12 1 The ointment was a figure of the graces which come from Christ the head upon his Church.
132:13 1 By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentiful country about Jerusalem.
132:14 1 Meaning, for his own sake, and not for the plentifulness of the place: for he promiseth to bless it, declaring before that it was barren.
132:16 1 That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe.
132:17 1 Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promiseth to restore it.
4 For the Lord hath chosen Jacob to himself, and Israel for his chief treasure.
5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.
6 Whosoever pleased the Lord, that did he in heaven and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.
7 He bringeth up the clouds from the ends of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the rain: he draweth forth the wind out of his treasures.
8 He smote the firstborn of Egypt both of man and beast.
9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.
10 He smote many nations, and slew mighty Kings:
11 As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan:
12 And gave their land for an inheritance, even an inheritance unto Israel his people.
13 Thy Name, O Lord, endureth forever: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.
14 For the Lord will judge his people, and be pacified toward his servants.
15 The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, even the work of men's hands.
16 They have a mouth, and speak not: they have eyes and see not.
17 They have ears and hear not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.
18 They that make them, are like unto them: so are all that trust in them.
19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.
20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Levi; ye that fear the Lord, praise the Lord.
21 Praise be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

136 1 A most earnest exhortation to give thanks unto God for the creation and governance of all things, which standeth in confessing that he giveth us all of his mere liberality.

1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth forever.
2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercy endureth forever:
3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth forever:
4 Which only doeth great wonders; for his mercy endureth forever:
5 Which by his wisdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth forever:
6 Which hath stretched out the earth upon the waters: for his mercy endureth forever:
7 Which made great lights: for his mercy endureth forever:
8 As the Sun to rule the day; for his mercy endureth forever:
9 The Moon and the stars to govern the night: for his mercy endureth forever:
10 Which smote Egypt with their firstborn, (for his mercy endureth forever)
11 And brought out Israel from among them; for his mercy endureth forever:
12 With a mighty hand and stretched out arm; for his mercy endureth forever:
13 Which divideth the Sea into two parts; for his mercy endureth forever:
14 And made Israel to pass through the midst of it; for his mercy endureth forever:
15 And overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the red Sea; for his mercy endureth forever:
16 Which led his people through the wilderness; for his mercy endureth forever:
17 Which smote great Kings: for his mercy endureth forever:
18 And slew mighty Kings: for his mercy endureth forever:
19 As Sihon King of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth forever:
20 And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercy endureth forever:

135:4 1 That is, hath freely loved the posterity of Abraham.
135:6 1 He joined God's power with his will, to the intent that we should not separate them, and hereby he willeth God's power to depend on his power which he confirmeth by examples.
135:12 1 He showeth what fruit the godly conceive of God's power, whereby they see how he destroyeth his enemies, and delivereth his people.
135:14 1 That is, govern and defend his people.
135:15 1 By showing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware the like offenses, seeing that idols have neither power nor life, and that their deliverance came not by idols, but by the mighty power of God, read Ps. 115:4.
136:1 1 By this repetition he showeth that the least of God's benefits bind us to thanksgiving: but chiefly his mercy, which is principally declared towards his Church.
136:6 1 This was a common kind of thanksgiving, which the whole people used, when they had received any benefit of God, as 2 Chron. 7:6 and 20:1, meaning, that God was not only merciful to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posterity.
136:11 1 God's merciful providence toward man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he delivered his Church from the thraldom of their enemies.
136:12 1 In doing such a work as was never done before, nor that any other could do.
136:16 1 Where for the space of forty years he showed infinite and most strange wonders.
136:18 1 Declaring thereby that no power nor authority was so dear unto him, as the love of his Church.
21 And gave their land for an heritage; for his mercy endureth forever:
22 Even an heritage unto Israel his servant; for his mercy endureth forever:
23 Which remembered us in our base estate; for his mercy endureth forever:
24 And hath rescued us from our oppressors; for his mercy endureth forever:
25 Which giveth food to all flesh; for his mercy endureth forever:
26 Praise ye the God of heaven; for his mercy endureth forever.

137 1 The people of God in their banishment seeing God's true Religion decay, lived in great anguish and sorrow of heart; the which grief the Chaldeans did so little pity. 3 That they rather increased the same daily with taunts, reproaches and blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who provoked the Babylonians against them, 8 And moved by the Spirit of God, prophesy the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled so tyrannously.

1 By the rivers of Babel we sat, and there we wept, when we remembered Zion.
2 We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.
3 Then they that led us captive, required of us songs and mirth, when we had hanged up our harps, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion.
4 How shall we sing, said we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget to play.
6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth: yea, if I prefer not Jerusalem to my chief joy.
7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem, which said, Raze it, raze it to the foundation thereof.
8 O daughter of Babel, worthy to be destroyed, blessed shall be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast served us.
9 Blessed shall be that taketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

138 1 David with great courage praiseth the goodness of God toward him, which is so great, 4 That it is known to foreign princes, who shall praise the Lord together with him. 6 And he is assured to have the like comfort of God in the time following, as he had heretofore.

A Psalm of David.

1 I will praise thee with my whole heart: even before the gods will I praise thee.
2 I will worship toward thine holy Temple and praise thy Name, because of thy loving-kindness and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy Name above all things by thy word.
3 When I called, then thou hearest me, and hast increased strength in my soul.
4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they have heard the words of thy mouth.
5 And they shall sing of the ways of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord is great.
6 For the Lord is high, yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proud he knoweth afar off.
7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble, yet will thou revive me: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand upon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.
8 The Lord will perform his work toward me: O Lord, thy mercy endureth forever: forsake not the works of thine hands.

139 1 David cleanseth his heart from all hypocrisy, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not. 13 Which he confirmeth by the creation of 139:1 O Lord, thou hast tried me, and known me.
139:2 Thou knowest my sitting and my rising: thou understandest my thought afar off.
139:3 Thou compassest my paths, and my lying down, and art accustomed to all my ways.
139:4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but lo, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.
139:5 Thou holdest me strait behind and before, and layest thine hand upon me.
139:6 Thy knowledge is too wonderful for me: it is so high that I cannot attain unto it.
139:7 Whither shall I go from thy Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?
139:8 If I ascend into heaven, thou art there: if I lie down in hell, thou art there.
139:9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:
139:10 Yet thither shall thine hand lead me, and thy right hand hold me.
139:11 If I say, Yet the darkness shall hide me, even the night shall be light about me.
139:12 Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darkness and light are both alike.
139:13 For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.
139:14 I will praise thee, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvelous are thy works, and my soul knoweth it well.
139:15 My bones are not hid from thee, though I was made in secret place, and fashioned beneath in the earth.
139:16 Thine eyes did see me, when I was without form: for in thy book were all things written, which in continuance were fashioned, when there was none of them before.
139:17 How dear therefore are thy thoughts unto me, O Lord! how great is the sum of them!
139:18 If I should count them, they are more than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.
139:19 Oh that thou wouldest slay, O Lord, the wicked and bloody men, to whom I say, Depart ye from me:
139:20 Which speak wickedly of thee, and being thine enemies are lifted up in vain.
139:21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and do not I earnestly contend with those that rise up against thee?
139:22 I hate them with an unfeigned hatred, as they were mine utter enemies.
139:23 Try me, O Lord, and know mine heart: prove me and know my thoughts, 139:24 And consider if there be any way of wickedness in me, and lead me in the way forever.

140 1 David complaineth of the cruelty, falsehood and injuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which he prayeth unto the Lord, and assureth himself of his help and succor. 12 Wherefore he provoketh the just to praise the Lord, and to assure themselves of his tuition.

1 Deliver me, O Lord, from the evil man: preserve me from the cruel man:
2 Which imagine evil things in their heart, and make war continually.
3 They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent: adders' poison is under their lips. Selah.
4 Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the cruel man, which purposeth to cause my steps to slide.
5 The proud have laid a snare for me, and spread
141:1 1 David being grievously persecuted under Saul, only fleeth unto God to have succor. 3 Desiring him to bridle his affections, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

1 O Lord, I call upon thee: haste thee unto me: hear my voice, when I cry unto thee.

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the lifting up of mine hands as an evening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keep the door of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to evil, that I should commit wicked works with them that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their delicates.

5 Let the righteous smite me: and let him reprove me, and it shall be a precious oil that shall not break mine head: for within a while I shall even pray in their miseries.

6 When their judges shall be cast down in stony places, they shall hear my words, for they are sweet.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the grave's mouth, and it shall be a precious oil that shall not break mine head: for within a while I shall even pray in their miseries.

8 O Lord God the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.

9 As for the chief of them that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips come upon them.

10 Let coals fall upon them: let him cast them into the deep pits that they rise not.

11 For the backbiter shall not be established upon the earth, evil shall hunt the cruel man to destruction.

12 I know that the Lord will avenge the afflicted, and judge the poor.

13 Surely the righteous shall praise thy Name, and the just shall dwell in thy presence.

142 The Prophet neither astonished with fear, nor carried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet mind directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preserve him.

A Psalm of David, to give instruction, and a prayer when he was in the cave.

1 I cried unto the Lord with my voice: with my voice I prayed unto the Lord.

2 I poured out my meditation before him, as he that heweth or diggeth in the earth.

3 But mine eyes looked unto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leave not my soul destitute.

4 I looked upon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would know me: all refuge failed me.

5 Thou hearkest unto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliver me from my persecutors, for they are too strong for me.

6 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise God: hear, O Lord, the voice of my prayers.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the grave's mouth, and it shall be a precious oil that shall not break mine head: for within a while I shall even pray in their miseries.

8 When their judges shall be cast down in stony places, they shall hear my words, for they are sweet.

9 Keep me from the snare, which they have laid for me, and from the gins of the workers of iniquity.

10 Let the wicked fall into his nets together, while I escape.
thy Name: then shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficial unto me.

143 An earnest prayer for remission of sins, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by God's just judgment. He desireth to be restored to grace. To be governed by his holy Spirit, that he may spend the remnant of his life in the true fear and service of God.

A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and hearken unto my supplication: answer me in thy truth, and in thy righteousness.

2 (And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall none that liveth, be justified.)

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul: he hath smitten my life down to the earth: he hath laid me in the darkness, as they that have been dead long ago:

4 And my spirit was in perplexity in me, and mine heart within me was amazed.

5 Yet do I remember the time past: I meditate in all thy works, yea, I do meditate in the works of thine hands.

6 I stretch forth mine hands unto thee: my soul desireth after thee, as the thirsty land. Selah.

7 Hear me speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth:

8 Let me hear thy loving-kindness in the morining, for in thee is my trust; shew me the way, that I should walk in, for I lift up my soul unto thee.

9 Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.

10 Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit lead me unto the land of righteousness.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Name's sake, and for thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercy slay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppress my soul: for I am thy servant.

144 He praiseth the Lord with great affection and humility for his kingdom restored, and for his victories obtained. Demanding help, and the destruction of the wicked. Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praises, and declareth wherein the felicity of any people consisteth.

A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed be the Lord my strength, which teacheth mine hands to fight, and my fingers to battle.

2 He is my goodness and my fortress, my tower and my deliverer, my shield and in him I trust, which subdueth my people under me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou regardest him! or the son of man that thou thinkest upon him?

4 Man is like to vanity; his days are like a shadow that vanisheth.

5 Bow thine heavens, O Lord, and come down; touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 Cast forth the lightning and scatter them; shoot out thine arrows and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from above: deliver me, and take me out of the great waters, and from the hand of strangers,

8 Whose mouth talketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

2 Either to rejoice at my wonderful deliverance, or to set a crown upon mine head.

143:1 That is, as thou hast promised to be faithful in thy promise to all that trust in thee.

2 That is, according to thy free goodness, whereby thou defendest thine.

143:2 He knoweth that his afflictions were God's messengers to call him to repentance for his sins, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in God's sight all men are sinners.

143:3 He acknowledgeth that God is the only and true physician and healer: and that he is able to raise him to life, though he were dead long ago, and turned to ashes.

143:4 So that only by faith and by the grace of God's Spirit was he upheld.

143:5 To wit, thy great benefits of old, and the manifold examples of thy favor towards thine.

143:8 That is, speedily and in due season.

2 Let thine holy Spirit counsel me how to come forth of these great cares and troubles.

143:9 I hid myself under the shadow of thy wings that I might be defended by thy power.

143:10 He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of God's will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth us by his word, giveth understanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him.

2 That is, justly and aright: for so soon as we decline from God's will, we fall into error.

143:11 Which shall be a sign of thy Fatherly kindness toward me.

2 Resigning myself wholly unto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

144:1 Who of a poor shepherd hath made me a valiant warrior and mighty conqueror.

144:2 Hebrew, my deliverer unto me: for the Prophet cannot satisfy himself with any words.

144:3 He confesseth that neither by his own authority, power or policy his kingdom was quiet, but by the secret grace of God.

144:4 To give unto God just praise, is to confess ourselves to be unworthy of so excellent benefits, and that he bestoweth them upon us of his free mercy.

144:5 He desireth God to continue his graces, and to send help for the present necessity.

144:6 By these manner of speeches he showeth that all the lets in the world cannot hinder God's power, which he apprehended by faith.

144:7 That is, deliver me from the tumults of them that should be my people, but are corrupt in their judgment and enterprises, as though they were strangers.

144:8 For though they shake hands, yet they keep not promise.
9 I will sing a new song unto thee, O God, and sing unto thee upon a viol, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is he that giveth deliverance unto kings, and rescueteth David his servant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rescue me, and deliver me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:

12 That our sons may be as the plants growing up in their youth, and our daughters as the corner stones, graven after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our corners may be full and abounding with divers sorts, and that our sheep may bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our streets.

14 That our oxen may be strong to labor; that there be none invasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streets.

15 Blessed are the people, that be so, yet blessed are the people whose God is the Lord.

145 This Psalm was composed when the kingdom of David flourished. 1 Wherein he describeth the wonderful providence of God, as well in governing man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17 He praises God for his justice and mercy. 18 But specially for his loving-kindness toward those that call upon him, that fear him, and love him: 21 For the which he promised to praise him forever.

A Psalm of David of praise.

1 O my God and King, I will extol thee, and will bless thy Name forever and ever.

2 I will bless thee daily, and praise thy Name forever and ever.

3 Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be praised, and his greatness is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall praise thy works unto generation, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beauty of thy glorious majesty, and thy wonderful works.

6 And they shall speak of the power of thy dreadful acts, and I will declare thy greatness.

7 They shall break out into the mention of thy great goodness, and shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

8 “The Lord is gracious, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are over all his works.

10 All thy works praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints bless thee.

11 They show the glory of thy kingdom, and speak of thy power,

12 To cause his power to be known to the sons of men, and the glorious renown of his kingdom.

13 Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and lifteth up all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of all wait upon thee, and thou givest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things living of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

18 The Lord is near unto all that call upon him, yea, to all that call upon him in truth.

19 He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him;
he will also hear their cry, and will save them.
20 'The Lord preserveth all them that love him;
but he will destroy the wicked.
21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord, and all flesh shall bless his holy Name forever and ever.

146 1 David declareth his great zeal that he hath to praise God. 3 And teacheth, not to trust in man, but only in God Almighty. 7 Which delivereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherless, and the widows, 10 And reigneth forever.

Praise ye the Lord.
1 Praise thou the Lord, O my soul.
2 I will praise the Lord during my life; as long as I have any being, I will sing unto my God.
3 Put not your trust in Princes, nor in the son of man, for there is no help in him.
4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth; then his 'thoughts perish.
5 Blessed is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God, 6 Which made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that therein is; which keepeth his fidelity
forever,
7 Which executeth justice 'for the oppressed, which giveth bread to the hungry; the Lord looseth
the prisoners.
8 The Lord giveth sight to the blind: the Lord raiseth up the crooked: the Lord 'loveth the righteous.
9 The Lord keepeth the strangers: he relieth the fatherless and widow: but he overcometh the way of the wicked.
10 The Lord shall reign forever: O Zion, thy God enueth from generation to generation. Praise

147 1 The Prophet praiseth the bounty, wisdom, power, justice, and providence of God upon all his creatures. 2 But specially upon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion. 19 Declaring his word and judgment so unto them, as he hath done to none other people.

1 Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing unto our God: for it is a 'pleasant thing, and praise is come.
2 The Lord doth build up Jerusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.
3 He healeth those that are broken in heart, and bindeth up their sores.
4 He 'counteth the number of the stars, and calleth them all by their names.
5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wisdom is infinite.
6 The Lord relieveth the meek, and abaseth the wicked to the 'ground.
7 Sing unto the Lord with praise: sing upon the harp unto our God,
8 Which covereth the heaven with clouds, and prepareth rain for the earth, and maketh the grass to grow upon the mountains:
9 Which giveth to beasts their food, and to the young ravens that 'cry.
10 He hath no pleasure in the 'strength of an horse, neither delighteth he in the legs of man.
11 But the Lord delighteth in them that fear him, and attend upon his mercy.
12 Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.
13 For he hath made the bars of the gates 'strong,
148 He provoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heaven and earth, and all places. Specially his Church, for the power that he hath given to the same, after that he had chosen them and joined them unto him.

Praise ye the Lord.
1 Praise ye the Lord from the heaven: praise ye him, 1sun and moon: praise ye him, all ye 2his Angels: praise him, all his army.
2 Praise ye him, all ye 3his Angels: praise him, all his army.
3 Praise ye him, 1sun and moon: praise ye him all bright stars.
4 Praise ye him 1heavens of heavens, and 2waters, that be above the heavens.
5 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.
6 And he hath established them forever and ever: he hath made an ordinance, which shall not pass.
7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, ye 1dragons and all depths:
8 1Fire and hail, snow and vapors, stormy wind, which execute his word.
9 Mountains and all hills, fruitful trees, and all cedars:
10 Beasts and all cattle, creeping things and feathered fowls:
11 1Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all judges of the world:
12 Young men and maidens, also old men and children:
13 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for his Name only is to be exalted, and his praise above the earth and the heavens.
14 For he hath exalted the 1horn of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, even for the 2children of Israel, a people that is near unto him. Praise ye the Lord.

149 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victory and conquest, that he giveth his Saints against all man's power.

Praise ye the Lord.
1 Sing ye unto the Lord a new song: let his praise be heard in the Congregation of Saints.
2 Let Israel rejoice in him that made him, and let the children of Zion rejoice in their King.
3 Let them praise his Name with the flute: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.
4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he will make the meek glorious by deliverance.
5 Let the Saints be joyful with glory: let them sing loud upon their beds.
6 Let the high Acts of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hands,
7 1To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and corrections among the people:

147:14 1 Hebrew, fat.
147:15 1 His secret working in all creatures is as a commandment to keep them in order, and to give them moving and force.
2 For immediately and without resisting all things obey him.
147:19 1 As before he called God's secret working in all his creatures his word: so he means here by his word the doctrine of life everlasting, which he hath left to his Church as a most precious treasure.
147:20 1 The cause of this difference is God's free mercy, which hath elected his in his Son Jesus Christ to salvation: and his just judgment, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.
148:2 1 Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teach us to do our duty.
148:3 1 In that God's glory shineth in these insensible creatures, this their beauty is as a continual praising of God.
148:4 1 Not that there are divers heavens, but because of the spheres and of the situation of the fixed stars and planets, he comprehended by this word the whole heaven.
2 That is, the rain which is in the middle region of the air, which he here comprehended under the name of the heavens.
148:7 1 Meaning, the great and monstrous fishes, as whales and such like.
148:8 1 Which come not by chance or fortune, but by God's appointed ordinance.
148:11 1 For the greater gifts that any hath received, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither high nor low condition or degree can be exempted from this duty.
148:14 1 That is, the dignity, power and glory of his Church.
2 By reason of his covenant made with Abraham.
149:1 1 For his rare and manifold benefits bestowed on his Church.
149:2 1 In that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore, Ps. 95:7, they were called the sheep of God's hands.
2 For God as he is the creator of the soul and body, so wills he that both ... serve him and that his people be continually subject to him, as to their most lawful king.
149:5 1 He alludeth to that continual rest and quietness which they should have if they would suffer God to rule them.
149:7 1 This chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ when God's people for just causes execute God's judgments against his enemies: and it giveth no liberty to any to revenge their private injuries.
8 To bind their kings in chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron,
9 That they may execute upon them the judgment that is written: this honor shall be to all his Saints.
Praise ye the Lord.

150 An exhortation to praise the Lord without cease by all manner of ways for all his mighty and wonderful works.
Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise ye God in his Sanctuary: praise ye him in the firmament of his power.
2 Praise ye him in his mighty Acts: praise ye him according to his excellent greatness.
3 Praise ye him in the sound of the trumpet: praise ye him upon the viol and the harp.
4 Praise ye him with timbrel and flute: praise ye him with virginals and organs.
5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals.
6 Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

149:8 Not only the people, but the kings that were their enemies should be destroyed.
149:9 Hereby God bindeth the hands and minds of all his to enter­prise no farther than he appointeth.
150:1 That is, in the heaven.
150:3 Exhorting the people only to rejoice in praising God, he maketh mention of those instruments which by God's command­ment were appointed in the old Law, but under Christ the use thereof is abolished in the Church.
150:6 He showeth that all the order of nature is bound to this duty, and much more God's children, who ought never to cease to praise him, till they be gathered into that kingdom, which he hath prepared for his, where they shall sing everlasting praise.
THE

OF SOLOMON

1 The power and use of the word of God. 7 Of the fear of God and knowledge of his word. 10 We may not consent to the enticings of sinners. 20 Wisdom complaineth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemn her.

1 The Parables of Solomon the son of David king of Israel,
2 To know wisdom, and instruction, to understand the words of knowledge,
3 To receive instruction to do wisely, by justice and judgment and equity,
4 To give unto the simple sharpness of wit, and to the child knowledge and discretion.
5 And wise man shall hear and increase in learning, and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels,
6 To understand a parable, and the interpretation, the words of the wise, and their dark sayings.
7 ¶ The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction.
8 My son, hear thy father's instruction, and forsake not thy mother's teaching.
9 For they shall be a comely ornament unto thine head, and as chains for thy neck.
10 ¶ My son, if sinners do entice thee, consent thou not.
11 If they say, Come with us, we will lay wait for blood, and lie privily for the innocent without a cause:
12 We will swallow them up alive like a grave, even whole, as those that go down into the pit:
13 We shall find all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoil:
14 Cast in thy lot among us, we will all have one purse:
15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them: refrain thy foot from their path.
16 For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.
17 Certainly as without cause the net is spread before the eyes of all that hath wing:
18 So they lay wait for blood, and lie privily for their lives.
19 Such are the ways of everyone that is greedy of gain: he would take away the life of the owners thereof.
20 ¶ Wisdom crieth without: she uttereth her voice in the streets.
21 She calleth in the high street, among the prease in the enterings of the gates, and uttereth her words in the city, saying,
22 O ye foolish, how long will ye love foolishness? and the scornful take their pleasure in scorning? and the fools hate knowledge?
23 (Turn you at my correction: lo, I will pour out my mind unto you, and make you understand my words.)
24 Because I have called, and ye refused: I have stretched out mine hand, and none would regard.
25 But ye have despised all my counsel, and would none of my correction, 26 I will also laugh at your destruction, and mock when your fear cometh.
27 When your fear cometh like sudden desolation, and your destruction shall come like a whirlwind: when affliction and anguish shall come upon you,
28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer: they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me,
29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the Lord.
30 They would none of my counsel, but despised all my correction.
31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.
32 For ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperity of fools destroyeth them.
33 But he that obeyeth me, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from fear of evil.

1 Wisdom exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the fear of God. 6 She is given of God. 10 She preserveth from wickedness.

My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments within thee,
2 And cause thine ears to hearken unto wisdom, and incline thine heart to understanding,
3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, and cryest for understanding:
4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for treasures,
5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God.
6 And for the Lord giveth wisdom, out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.
7 He preserveth the state of the righteous, he is a shield to them that walk uprightly.
8 That they may keep the ways of judgment: and he preserveth the way of his Saints).
9 Then shalt thou understand righteousness and judgment, and equity, and every good path.
10 ¶ When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy soul,
11 Then shall counsel preserve thee, and understanding shall keep thee,
12 And deliver thee from the evil way, and from the man that speaketh froward things,
13 And from them that leave the ways of righteousness to walk in the ways of darkness:
14 Which rejoice in doing evil, and delight in the frowardness of the wicked,
15 Whose ways are crooked, and they are lewd in their paths.
16 And it shall deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words.
17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgettesth the covenant of her God.
18 Surely her house tendeth to death, and her paths unto the dead.
19 All they that go unto her, return not again, neither take they hold of the ways of life.
20 Therefore walk thou in the way of good men, and keep the ways of the righteous.
21 For the just shall dwell in the land, and the upright men shall remain in it.
22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressor shall be rooted out of it.

1 The words of God giveth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Fear him. 9 Honor him. 11 Suffer his correction: To them that follow the word of God, all things shall succeed well.

My son, forget not thou my Law, but let thine ears attend to my words.
1:26 This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying that the wicked, which mock and jest at God's word, shall have the just reward of their mocking.
1:27 That is, your destruction, which thing ye feared.
1:28 Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their own grief.
1:30 Showing that without faith and obedience, we can not call upon God right.
1:31 They shall feel what commodity their wicked life shall give them.
1:32 That is, the prosperity and sensuality wherein they delight.
2:1 That is, keep them in thine heart.
2:2 If thou givest thyself to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisy.
2:3 Meaning, that we must seek the knowledge of God with care and diligence.
2:4 Showing that no labor must be spared.
2:5 This (saith he) is the true wisdom, to know and fear God.
2:27 Or, hideth the salvation.
2:11 The word of God shall teach thee, and counsel thee how to govern thyself.
2:13 That is, the word of God, which is the only light, to follow their own fantasies which are darkness.
2:14 When they see any given to evil as they are.
2:16 Meaning, that wisdom which is the word of God, shall preserve us from all vices: naming this vice of whoresomd whereunto man is most prone.
2:17 That is, her husband, which is her head and guide to govern her, from whom she ought not to depart, but remain in his subjection.
2:18 Her acquaintance with her familiars, and them that haunt her.
2:21 They shall enjoy the temporal and spiritual promises of God, as the wicked shall be void of them.
PROVERBS 3:2

heart keep my commandments.
2 For they shall increase the length of thy days and the years of life, and thy prosperity.
3 Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them on thy heart, and write them upon the table of thine heart.
4 So shalt thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man.
5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not unto thine own wisdom.
6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy ways.
7 ¶ Be not wise in thine own eyes: but fear the Lord, and depart from evil.
8 So health shall be unto thy navel, and marrow unto thy bones.
9 ¶ Honor the Lord with thy riches, and with the first fruits of all thine increase.
10 So shall thy barns be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall burst with new wine.
11 ¶ My son, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction.
12 ¶ For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loveth, even as the father doth the child, in whom he delighteth.
13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.
14 For the merchandise thereof is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof is better than gold.
15 It is more precious than pearls: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared unto her.
16 Length of days is in her right hand, and in her right hand riches and glory.
17 Her ways are ways of pleasure, and all her paths prosperity.
18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.

3:18 ¶ Which bringeth forth such fruit that they that eat thereof have life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in paradise.
3:19 ¶ Hereby he showeth that this wisdom, whereof he speaketh, is everlasting, because it was before all creatures, and that all things even the whole world were made by it.
3:22 ¶ Or, throat, read Prov. 1:9.
3:25 ¶ For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will save his as he did Lot in Sodom.
3:27 ¶ Not only from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keep it from them which have need of the use thereof.
3:29 ¶ That is, puttheth his trust in thee.
3:31 ¶ Desire not to be like unto him.
3:32 ¶ That is, his covenant and fatherly affection which is hid and secret from the world.
3:34 ¶ He will show by his plaques, that their scorns shall turn to their own destruction, as Prov. 1:26.

CHAPTER 3

1 Wisdom and her fruits ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the word of God the heart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

1 Hear, O ye children, the instruction of a father, and give ear to learn understanding.
2 For I do give you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my law.
3 For I was my father's son, tender and dear in the sight of my mother,
4 When he taught me, and said unto me, Let thine heart hold fast my words: keep my commandments, and thou shalt live.
5 Get wisdom: get understanding: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.
6 Forsake her not, and she shall keep thee: love her and she shall preserve thee.
7 Wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and above all thy possession get understanding.
8 Exalt her, and she shall exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honor, if thou embrace her.
9 She shall give a comely ornament unto thine head, yea, she shall give thee a crown of glory.
10 Hear, my son: and receive my words, and the years of thy life shall be many.
11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.
12 When thou goest, thy gait shall not be strait, neither shall thou walk in the way of evil men.
13 Avoid it, and go not by it: turn from it, and pass by.
14 Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walk not in the way of evil men.
15 But the way of the wicked is as the darkness: they know not wherein they shall fall.
16 For they cannot sleep, except they have done evil, and their sleep departeth except they cause some to fall.
17 For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.
18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.
19 The way of the wicked is as the darkness: they know not wherein they shall fall.
20 ¶ My son, hearken unto my words, incline thine ear unto my sayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keep them in the midst of thine heart.
22 For they are life unto those that find them: and health unto all their flesh.
23 Keep thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh life.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips far from thee.
25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eyelids direct thy way before thee.
26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be ordered aright.
27 Turn not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remove thy foot from evil.

¶ 3 Whoredom is forbidden, 9 And prodigality. 15 He willeth a man to live on his labors and to help others, 18 To love his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their own wickedness.

1 My son, hearken unto my wisdom, and incline thine ear unto my knowledge,
2 That thou mayest regard counsel, and thy lips observe knowledge.
3 For the lips of a strange woman drop honeycomb, and her mouth is more soft than oil.
4 But the end of her is bitter as wormwood, and sharp as a two-edged sword.
5 Her feet go down to death, and her steps take hold on hell.
6 She weigtheth not the way of life: 'her paths are moveable: thou canst not know them.
7 Hear ye me now therefore, O children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.
8 Keep thy way far from her, and come not near the door of her house.
9 Lest thou give thine honor unto others, and thy years to the cruel.
10 Lest the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labors be in the house of a stranger,

4:1 He speaketh this in the person of a Preacher and Minister, which is as a father unto the people, read Prov. 2:8.
4:4 Meaning, David his father.
4:7 He showeth that we must first begin at God's word, if so be we will that other things prosper with us, contrary to the judgment of the world, which make it their last study, or else care not for it at all.
4:11 Solomon declareth what care his father had to bring him up in the true fear of God: for this was David's protestation.
4:12 Thou shalt walk at liberty without offence.
4:16 Meaning, that to do evil is more proper and natural to the wicked than to sleep, eat or drink.
4:17 Gotten by wicked means and cruel oppression.
4:18 Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is when they shall be joined to their head in the heavens.
4:22 That is, they shall have health of body: under the which all other blessings promised in the law are contained.
4:23 For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of man's life.
4:26 Keep a measure in all thy doings.
5:1 Or, understanding.
5:3 That is, an harlot which giveth herself to another than to her husband.
6:2 By oil and honey he meaneth flattering and crafty enticements.
6:5 All her doings lead to destruction.
6:6 She hath ever new means to allure to wickedness.
6:9 That is, thy strength and goods to her that will have no pity upon thee: as is read of Samson, and the prodigal son.
5:10 The goods gotten by thy travel.
6:1 Instruction for sureties. 6 The slothful and sluggisht is stirred to work. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To observe the word of God. 24 To flee adultery.

1 My son, if thou be surety for thy neighbor, and hast stricken hands with the stranger, 2 Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth: thou art even taken with the words of thine own mouth.

5:11 And thou mourn at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body) 12 And say, How have I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction! 13 And have not obeyed the voice of them that taught me, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me! 14 I was almost brought into all evil in the midst of the Congregation and assembly. 15 Drink the water of thy cistern, and of the rivers of waters in the streets. 16 Let thy fountains flow forth, and the rivers of waters in the streets. 17 But let them be thine, even thine only, and not the strangers with thee. 18 Let thy fountain be blessed, and rejoice with the wife of thy youth. 19 Let her be as the loving hind and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfy thee at all times, and delight in her love continually. 20 For why shouldst thou delight, my son, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosom of a stranger? 21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths. 22 His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his own sin. 23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall go astray through his great folly.

5:12 He teacheth us sobriety, exhorting us to live of our own labors and to be beneficial to the godly that want. 5:13 And have not obeyed the voice of them that taught me, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me! 5:14 I was almost brought into all evil in the midst of the Congregation and assembly. 5:15 Drink the water of thy cistern, and of the rivers of waters out of the midst of thine own well. 5:16 Let thy fountains flow forth, and the rivers of waters in the streets. 5:17 But let them be thine, even thine only, and not the strangers with thee. 5:18 Let thy fountain be blessed, and rejoice with the wife of thy youth. 5:19 Let her be as the loving hind and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfy thee at all times, and delight in her love continually. 5:20 For why shouldst thou delight, my son, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosom of a stranger? 5:21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths. 5:22 His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his own sin. 5:23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall go astray through his great folly.

6:12 The unthrifty man and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth. 6:13 He maketh a sign with his eyes: he signifieth with his fingers. 6:14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth evil at all times, and raiseth up contentions. 6:15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recovery. 6:16 These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, his soul abhorreth seven: 17 The haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood, 18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, feet that be swift in running to mischief, 19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that raiseth up contentions among brethren. 20 My son, keep thy father’s commandment, and forsake not thy mother’s instruction. 21 Bind them always upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck.
22 It shall lead thee when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talk with thee.

23 For the 1commandment is a lamp, and instruction a light: and 2corrections for instruction are the way of life.

24 To keep thee from the wicked woman, and from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beauty in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her 1eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a morsel of bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 1Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man go upon coals, and his feet not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth into his neighbor's wife, shall not be innocent, whosoever toucheth her.

30 Men do not 1despise a thief, when he stealeth to satisfy his 2soul, because he is hungry.

31 But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold, or he shall give all the substance of his house.

32 But he that commiteth adultery with a woman, he 1is destitute of understanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his own soul.

33 He shall find 1a wound and dishonor, and his clothes not be burnt.

34 For jealousy is the rage of a man: therefore he will not 1spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He cannot bear the sight of any ransom: neither will he consent, though thou augment the gifts.

7 1An exhortation to wisdom and to the word of God. 5 Which will preserve us from the harlot. 6 Whose manners are described.

1 My son keep my words, and hide my commandments with thee.

2 Keep my commandments, and thou shalt live, and mine instruction, as the 1apple of thine eyes.

3 Bind them upon thy fingers, and write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister, and call understanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, even from the strange that is smooth in her words.

6 ¶ 1As I was in the window of mine house, I looked through my window,

7 And I saw among the fools, and considered among the children a young man destitute of understanding,

8 Who passed through the street by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be 1black and dark.

10 And behold, there met him a woman with an harlot's 1behavior, and 2subtle in heart.

11 (She 1is babbling and loud, whose feet cannot abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner)

13 So she caught him and kissed him, and 1with an impudent face said unto him, 14 I have 1peace offerings: this 2day have I paid my vows.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seek thy face: and I have found thee.

16 I have decked my bed with ornaments, 1carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning: let us take our pleasure in dalliance.

6:23 1 By the commandment, he meaneth the word of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

2 And reproofs when the word is preached bring us to life.

6:25 1 With her wanton looks and gesture.

6:27 1 Meaning, that she will never cease till she have brought thee to beggary, and then seek thy destruction.

6:30 1 He reproveth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredom, forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adultery was a perpetual infamy, and death by the law of God.

2 Meaning, for very necessity.

6:32 1 Hebrew, faileth in heart.

6:33 1 That is, death appointed by the Law.

6:34 1 He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death, that hath abused his wife, and so concludes, that neither God's Law nor the law of nature admitteth any ransom for the adultery.

7:1 1 By this diversity of words, he meaneth that nothing ought to be so dear unto us as the word of God, nor that we look on anything more nor mind anything so much.

7:6 1 Solomon useth this parable to declare their folly, that suffer themselves to be abused by harlots.

7:9 1 He sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seen, and also their own consciences did accuse them which caused them to seek the night to cover their filthiness.

7:10 1 Or, garment.

2 Or, hid.

7:11 1 He describeth certain conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

7:13 1 Hebrew, she strengthened her face.

7:14 1 Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that she hath meat at home to make good cheer with: or else she would use some cloak of holiness till she had gotten him in her snares.

2 Which declaret that harlots outwardly will seem holy and religious: both because they may the better deceive others, and also thinking by observing of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their sins.

7:16 1 Or, carved work.
For mine husband is not at home: he is gone a journey far off.

He hath taken with him a bag of silver, and will come home at the day appointed.

Thus with her great craft she caused him to yield, and with her flattering lips she enticed him.

And he followed her right-way, as an ox that goeth to the slaughter, and as a fool to the stocks for correction,

Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bird goeth to the slaughter, and thou not in her paths.

Her house is the way unto the grave, which goeth down to the chambers of death.

Wisdom declareth her excellency, riches, power, eternity. She exhorteth all to love and follow her.

1 Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding utter her voice?
2 She standeth in the top of the high places, by the way in the place of the paths.
3 She crieth besides the gates before the city at the entry of the doors,
4 O men, I call unto you, and utter my voice to the children of men.
5 O ye foolish men, understand wisdom, and ye, O fools, be wise in heart.
6 Give ear, for I will speak of excellent things, and the opening of my lips shall teach things that be right.
7 For my mouth shall speak the truth, and my lips abhor wickedness.
8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdness, nor frowardness in them.
9 They are all plain to them that will understand, and straight to them that would find knowledge.
10 Receive mine instruction, and not silver, and knowledge rather than fine gold.
11 For wisdom is better than precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared unto her.
12 I wisdom dwell with prudence, and I find forth knowledge and counsels.
13 The fear of the Lord is to hate evil, as pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way: and a mouth that speaketh lewd things I do hate.
14 I have counsel and wisdom: I am understanding, and I have strength.
15 By me kings reign, and princes decree justice.
16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the judges of the earth.
17 I love them that love me: and they that seek me early shall find me.
18 Riches and honor are with me: even durable riches and righteousness.
19 My fruit is better than gold, even than fine gold, and my revenues better than fine silver.
20 I cause to walk in the way of righteousness, and in the midst of the paths of judgment, 21 That I may cause them that love me, to inherit substance, and I will fill their treasures.
22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his way: I was before his works of old.
23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, and before the earth.
24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountains abounding with water.
25 Before the mountains were settled: and before the hills, was I begotten.
26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the world.

2 Wisdom calleth all to her feast. "The scorner will not be corrected. 10 The fear of God. 13 The conditions of the harlot.

1 Wisdom hath built her 'house, and hewn out her 'seven pillars.
2 She hath killed her victuals, drawn her wine, and 'prepared her table.
3 She hath sent forth her 'maidens, and cried upon the highest places of the city, saying,
4 Who so is 'simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she saith,
5 Come, and eat of my 'meat, and drink of the wine that I have drawn.
6 Forsake your way, ye foolish, and ye shall live: and walk in the way of understanding.

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an everlasting foundation.

26 As vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothful to them that send him.

27 The fear of the Lord increaseth the days: but the years of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladness: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the upright man: but fear shall be for the workers of iniquity.

30 The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the just shall be fruitful in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

11 1 False balances are an abomination unto the Lord: but a perfect weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The uprightness of the just shall guide them: but the frowardness of the transgressors shall destroy them.

and though thou deliver him, yet will his anger come again.

mayest be wise in thy latter end.

is filled therewith, shall continue, and shall not be visited with evil.

and will not put it to his mouth again.
25 Smite a scorner, and the foolish will beware:
and reprove the prudent, and he will understand knowledge.
26 He that destroyeth his father, or chaseth away his mother, is a lewd and shameful child.
27 My son, hear no more the instruction, that causeth to err from the words of knowledge.

the mouth of the wicked shallswalloweth up iniquity.
29 But judgments are prepared for the scorners, and stripes for the back of the fools.

2 It is a man’s honor to cease from strife: but every fool will be meddling.

4 The slothful will not plow, because of winter: therefore shall he beg in summer, but have nothing.

5 The counsel in the heart of man is like deep waters: but a man that hath understanding, will draw it out.

6 Many men will boast every one of his own goodness: but who can find a faithful man?

7 He that walketh in his integrity, is just, and blessed shall his children be after him.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of judgment, chaseth away all evil with his eyes.

9 Who can say, I have made mine heart clean, I am clean from my sin?

10 Divers weights, and divers measures, both these are even abomination unto the Lord.

11 A child also is known by his doings, whether his word be pure and right.

12 The Lord hath made both these, even the ear and the eye to see.

13 Love not sleep, lest thou come unto poverty: and seek not when the light of the Lord, and deceitful balances are not good.

14 It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer: but when he is gone apart, he boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of precious stones: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 Take his garment, that is surety for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

17 The bread of deceit is sweet to a man: but afterward his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

18 Establish thy thoughts by counsel; and by counsel make war.

19 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discovereth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.

20 He that curseth his father or his mother, his light shall be put out in obscure darkness.

21 An heritage is hastily gotten at the beginning, but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

22 Say not thou, I will recompense evil, but wait upon the Lord, and he shall save thee.

23 Diverse weights are an abomination unto the Lord, and deceitful balances are not good.

24 The steps of man are ruled by the Lord: how can a man then understand his own way?

25 It is a destruction for a man to devise that which is sanctified, and after the vows to inquire.

26 A wise King scattereth the wicked, and causeth the wheel to turn over them.

27 The light of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.

28 Mercy and truth preserve the king: for his throne shall be established with mercy.

29 The beauty of young men is their strength, and the glory of the aged is the gray head.

30 The blueness of the wound serveth to purge the evil, and the stripes within the bowels of the belly.

21 The King’s heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the rivers of waters: he turneth it whithersoever it pleaseth him.

2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice.

4 A haughty look, and a proud heart is that of the pure man, his work is the glory of the aged is the gray head.

5 The thoughts of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but whosoever is hasty, cometh surely to poverty.

6 The gathering of treasures by a deceitful tongue, is vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them: for they have refused to execute judgment.

8 The way of some is perverted and strange, but of the pure man, his work is right.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, than with a contentious woman in a wide house.
10 The soul of the wicked wisheth evil, and his neighbor hath no favor in his eyes.
11 When the scorners are punished, the foolish is wise, and when one instructeth the wise, he will receive knowledge.
12 The righteous teacheth the house of the wicked; but God overcometh the wicked for their evil.
13 He that stoppeth his ear at the crying of the poor, he shall also cry and not be heard.
14 A gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a gift in the bosom, great wrath.
15 It is joy to the just to do judgment; but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.
16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shall remain in the congregation of the dead.
17 He that loveth pastime, shall be a poor man; and he that loveth wine and oil, shall not be rich.
18 The wicked shall be a ransom for the just, and the transgressor for the righteous.
19 It is better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and angry woman.
20 In the house of the wise is a pleasant treasure and oil; but a foolish man devoureth it.
21 He that followeth after righteousness and mercy, shall find life, righteousness and glory.
22 A wise man goeth up into the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.
23 He that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from afflictions.
24 Proud, haughty, and scornful is his name that worketh in his arrogancy wrath.
25 The desire of the slothful slayeth him; for his hands refuse to work.
26 He coveteth evermore greedily: but the righteous giveth and spareth not.
27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: how much more when he bringeth it with a wicked mind?
28 A false witness shall perish: but he that heareth, speaketh continually.
29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but the just, he will direct his way.
30 There is no wisdom, neither understanding, nor counsel against the Lord.
31 The horse is prepared against the day of battle: but salvation is of the Lord.

22 1 A good name is to be chosen above great riches, and loving favor is above silver and above gold.
2 The rich and poor meet together, the Lord is the maker of them all.
3 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himself: but the foolish go on still, and are punished.
4 The reward of humility, and the fear of God is riches, and glory, and life.
5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: but he that regardeth his soul, will depart far from them.
6 Teach a child in the trade of his way, and when he is old he shall not depart from it.
7 The rich ruleth the poor, and the borrower is servant to the man that lendeth.
8 He that soweth iniquity, shall reap affliction, and the rod of his anger shall fail.
9 He that hath a good eye, he shall be blessed: for he giveth of his bread unto the poor.
10 Cast out the scorners, and strife shall go out: so contention and reproach shall cease.
11 He that loveth pureness of heart, shall be exalted: but he that regardeth his soul, shall depart far from it.
12 The mouth of strange women is as an honeycomb: but she bringeth thee to the pit.
13 The slothful man saith, A lion is without, I shall be slain in the street.
14 The mouth of strange women is as a deep pit: he with whom the Lord is angry, shall fall therein.
15 Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child: but the rod of correction shall drive it away from him.
16 He that oppresseth the poor to increase himself, and giveth unto the rich, shall surely come to poverty.
17 Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it shall be pleasant, if thou keep them in thy belly, and if they be directed together in thy lips.

19 That thy confidence may be in 'the Lord, I have showed thee this day: thou therefore take heed.

20 Have not I written unto thee 'three times in counsel and knowledge, 21 That I might show thee the assurance of the words of truth, to answer the words of truth to them that send to thee?

22 Rob not the poor, because he is poor, neither oppress the afflicted 'in judgment.

23 For the Lord 'will defend their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoil them.

24 Make 'no friendship with an angry man, neither go with the furious man, 25 Lest thou learn his ways, and receive destruction to thy soul.

26 Be not thou of them that 'tough the hand, nor among them that are surety for debts.

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why causest thou that he should take thy bed from under thee?

28 Thou shalt not remove the ancient bounds which thy fathers have made.

29 'Thou seest that a diligent man in his business standeth before Kings, and standeth not before the base sort.

23 When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, 'consider diligently what is before thee,

1 And put thy knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to the appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his dainty meats: 'for it is a deceivable meat.

4 Travail not too much to be rich: but cease from thy wisdom.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eyes upon it, which is nothing? for riches taketh her to her wings, as an Eagle, and flieth into the heaven.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire his dainty meats.

7 For as though he thought it in his heart: so will he say unto thee, Eat and drink: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt vomit thy morsel that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweet words.

9 Speak not in the ears of a fool: for he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 'Remove not the ancient bounds, and enter not into the fields of the fatherless.

11 For he that redeemeth them, is mighty: he will defend their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart to instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.

13 'Withhold not correction from the child: if thou smite him with the rod, he shall not die.

14 'Thou shalt smite him with the rod, and shalt deliver his soul from 'hell.

15 My son, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall rejoice, and I also,

16 And my reins shall rejoice, when thy lips speak righteous things.

17 'Let not thine heart be envious against sinners: but let it be in the fear of the Lord continually.

18 For surely there is an end, 'and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 O thou my son, hear, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the 'way.

20 Keep not company with 'drunkards, nor with 'gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall be poor, and the sleeper shall be clothed with rags.

22 Obey thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Buy 'the truth, but sell it not: for 'he showeth what the end of wisdom is: to wit, to direct us to the Lord.

24 'For he that redeemeth them, is mighty: he will not cease till he hath done thee some harm, and his flattering words shall come to no use.

25 Thy father and thy mother shall be glad, and she that bare thee shall rejoice.

26 My son, give me 'thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my ways.

27 'For a whore is as a deep ditch, and a strange woman is as a narrow pit.
28 Also she lieth in wait as for a prey, and she increaseth the transgressors among men.
29 To whom is woe? to whom is sorrow? to whom is strife? to whom is murmuring? to whom are wounds without cause? and to whom is the redness of the eyes?
30 Even to them that tarry long at the wine, to them that go, and seek mixed wine.
31 Look not thou upon the wine, when it is red, and when it showeth his color in the cup, or goeth down pleasantly.
32 In the end thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrice.
33 Thine eyes shall look upon strange women, and thine heart shall speak lewd things.
34 And thou shalt be as one that sleepest in the midst of the sea, and as he that slepeth in the top of the mast.
35 They have stricken me, shalt thou say, but I was not sick: they have beaten me, but I knew not, when I awoke: therefore will I seek it yet still.

24:1 “Be not thou envious against evil men, neither desire to be with them.
2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lips speak mischief.
3 Through wisdom is an house built, and with understanding it is established.
4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleasant riches.
5 A wise man is strong: for a man of understanding increaseth his strength.
6 With counsel thou shalt enterprise thy work, and in the multitude of them that can give counsel, is health.
7 Wisdom is high to a fool: therefore he cannot open his mouth in the gate.
8 He that imagineth to do evil, men shall call him an author of wickedness.
9 The wicked thought of a fool is sin, and the scorner is an abomination unto men.
10 If thou be faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small.
11 Deliver them that are drawn to death, and wilt thou not preserve them that are led to be slain?
12 If thou say, Behold, we knew not of it: he that ponderseth the hearts, doth not he understand it? and he that keepeth thy soul, knoweth he it not? will he not also recompense every man according to his works?
13 My son, eat honey, for it is good, and the honey comb, for it is sweet unto thy mouth.
14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul if thou find it, and there shall be an end, and thine hope shall not be cut off.
15 Lay no wait, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoil not his resting place.
16 For a just man falleth seven times, and riseth again: but the wicked fall into mischief.
17 Be thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart rejoice when he stumbleth, 18 Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him, and he turn his wrath from him.
19 Fret not thyself because of the malicious, neither be envious at the wicked.
20 For there shall be none end of plagues to the evil man, the light of the wicked shall be put out.
21 My son, fear the Lord, and the King, and meddle not with them that are seditious.
22 For their destruction shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruin of them both?
23 Also these things pertain to the wise, It is not good to have respect of any person in judgment.
24 He that saith to the wicked, Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhor him.
25 But to them that rebuke him, shall be pleasure, and upon them shall come the blessing of goodness.
26 They shall kiss the lips of him that answereth upright words.
27 Prepare thy work without, and make ready thy house.
28 Be not a witness against thy neighbor without cause: for wilt thou deceive with thy lips?
29 Say not, I will do to him as he hath done to me, I will recompense every man according to his work.
30 I passed by the field of the slothful, and by the field of the precious stone.

23:28 She seduceth many and causeth them to offend God.
23:30 Which by art make wine stronger and more pleasant.
23:33 That is, drunkenness shall bring thee to whoredom.
23:34 In such great danger shalt thou be.
23:35 Though drunkenness make them more insensible than beasts, yet can they not refrain.
24:1 In the place where wisdom should be showed.
24:10 Man hath no trial of his strength till he be in troubles.
24:11 None can be excused, if he help not the innocent when he is in danger.
24:13 As honey is sweet and pleasant to the taste, so wisdom is to the soul.
24:14 Or, reward.
24:16 He is subject to many perils, but God delivereth him.
24:18 To be avenged on thee.
24:22 Meaning, either of the wicked and sedidious, as verse 19 and 21, or, of them that fear not God, nor obey their King.
24:23 Hebrew, to know the face.
24:27 Be sure of the means how to compass it, before thou take any enterprise in hand.
24:29 He showeth what is the nature of the wicked, to revenge wrong for wrong.
PROVERBS 24:31

25 1 These are also parables of Solomon, which the 'men of Hezekiah King of Judah 2copied out.
2  The glory of God is to 'conceal a thing secret: but the 'King's honor is to search out a thing.
3  'The heavens in height, and the earth in deepness: and the 'king's heart can no man search out.
4  'Take the dross from the silver, and there shall proceed a vessel for the finer.
5  'Take away the wicked from the King, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.
6  Rest not thyself before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.
7  'For it is better, that it be said unto thee, Come up hither, than thou to be put lower in the presence of the Prince whom thine eyes have seen.
8  Go not forth hastily to strife, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbor hath put thee to shame.
9  Debate thy matter with thy neighbor, and discover not the secret to another.
10  Let his heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamy do not cease.
11  A word spoken in his place, is like apples of gold with pictures of silver.
12  He that reproveth the wise and the obedient ear, is as a golden earring, and an ornament of fine gold.
13  As the cold of the snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.

25:28 1 And so is in extreme danger.
4 Answer not a fool, according to his foolishness, lest thou also be like him.
5 Answer a fool, according to his foolishness, lest he be wise in his own conceit.
6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool, is as he that cuttest off the feet, and drinketh iniquity.
7 As they that lift up the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fool’s mouth.
8 As the closing up of a precious stone in an heap of stones, so is he that giveth glory to a fool.
9 As a thorn standing up in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
10 The Excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth the transgressors.
11 As a dog turned again to his own vomit, so a fool turneth to his foolishness.
12 Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? more hope is of a fool than of him.
13 The slothful man saith, A lion is in the way: a lion is in the streets.
14 As the door turneth upon his hinges, so doth the slothful man upon his bed.
15 The slothful hideth his hand in his bosom, and it grieveth him to put it again to his mouth.
16 The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit, than seven men that can render a reason.
17 He that passeth by and medleth with the strife, a talebearer strife ceaseth.
18 As he that feigneth himself mad, casteth firebrands, arrows, and mortal things.
19 So dealeth the deceitful man with his friend, and saith, Am not I in sport?
20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.
21 As the coal maketh burning coals, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.
22 The words of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they go down into the bowels of the belly.
23 As silver dross overlaid upon a potsherd, so are burning lips, and an evil heart.
24 He that hateth, will counterfeit with his lips, but in his heart he layeth up deceit.

26:1 Consent not unto him in his doings.
26:2 Reprove him as the matter requireth.
26:3 To wit, of the messenger whom he sendeth.
26:4 That is, receiveth damage thereby.
26:5 Whereby he both hurteth himself and others.
26:6 Meaning, God.
26:7 For the fool will rather be counseled than he: also the fool sinneth of ignorance, and the other of malice.
26:9 Which dissemblmeth himself to be that he is not.

27:1 Be not thyself of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.
2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth: a stranger, and not thine own lips.
3 A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty: but a fool’s wrath is heavier than them both.
4 Anger is cruel, and wrath is raging: but who can stand before envy?
5 Open rebuke is better than secret love.
6 The wounds of a lover are faithful, and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.
7 The person that is full, despiseth an honeycomb: but unto the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.
8 As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his own place.
9 As oil and perfume rejoiceth the heart, so doth the sweetness of a man’s friend by hearty counsel.
10 Thine own friend and thy father’s friend forsake thou not: neither enter into thy brother’s house in the day of thy calamity: for better is a neighbor that is near, than a brother far off.
11 My son, be wise, and rejoice mine heart, that I may answer him that reproacheth me.
12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himself: but the foolish go on still, and are punished.
13 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.
14 He that praiseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted to him as a curse.
15 A continual dropping in the day of rain, and a contentious woman are alike.
27:16  He that hideth her, hideth the wind, and she is as the oil in his right hand that uttereth itself.
17  Iron sharpeneth iron, so doth man sharpen the face of his friend.
18  He that keepeth the fig tree, shall eat the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth upon his master, shall come to honor.
19  As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.
20  The grave and destruction can never be full, so the eyes of man can never be satisfied.
21  As is the fining pot for silver, and the furnace for gold, so is every man according to his dignity.
22  Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar among wheat brayed with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.
23  Be diligent to know the state of thy flock, and take heed to the herds.
24  For riches remain not always, nor the crown from generation to generation.
25  The hay discovereth itself, and the grass appeareth, and the herbs of the mountains are gathered.
26  The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.
27  And let the milk of the goats be sufficient for thy food, for the food of thy family, and for the sustenance of thy maids.

28 1  The wicked fleeth when none pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.
2  For the transgression of the land there are many princes thereof: but by a man of understanding and knowledge a realm likewise endureth long.
3  A poor man, if he oppress the poor, is like a raging rain that leaveth no food.
4  They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keep the Law, set themselves against them.
5  Wicked men understand not judgment: but they that seek the Lord, understand all things.
6  Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that perverteth his ways, though he be rich.
7  He that keepeth the Law, is a child of understanding: but he that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.
8  He that increaseth his riches by usury and interest, gathereth them for him that will be merciful unto the poor.
9  He that turneth away his ear from hearing the Law, even his prayer shall be abominable.
10  He that causeth the righteous to go astray by an evil way, shall fall into his own pit, and the upright shall inherit good things.
11  The rich man is wise in his own conceit: but the poor that hath understanding, can try him.
12  When righteous men rejoice, there is great glory: but when the wicked come up, the man is tried.
13  He that hideth his sins, shall not prosper: but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall have mercy.
14  Blessed is the man that feareth always: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into evil.
15  As a roaring lion, and an hungry bear, so is a wicked ruler over the poor people.
16  A prince destitute of understanding is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth covetousness, shall prolong his days.
17  A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee unto the grave, and they shall not stay him.
18  He that walketh uprightly shall be saved: but he that is froward in his ways, shall once fall.
19  He that walketh uprightly shall be saved: but he that is froward in his ways, shall be filled with poverty.
20  A faithful man shall abound in blessings, and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.
21  To have respect of persons is not good: for that man will transgress for a piece of bread.
22  A man with a wicked eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not that poverty shall come upon him.
23  He that rebuketh a man, shall find more favor at the length, than he that flattereth with his tongue.
24  He that robbeth his father and mother, and saith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.
25  He that is of a pious heart, stirreth up strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall be far.
26. He that trusteth in his own heart, is a fool: but he that walketh in wisdom, shall be delivered.

27. He that giveth unto the poor, shall not lack; but he that hideth his eyes, shall have many cur ses.

28. When the wicked rise up, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

29. A man that hardeneth his neck when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed, and cannot be cured.

29:1. When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

2. A man that loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: but he that feedeth harlots wasteth his substance.

3. A king by judgment maintaineth the country: but a man receiving gifts, destroyeth it.

4. A man that flattereth his neighbor, spreadeth a net for his steps.

5. In the transgression of an evil man is his snare: but the righteous regardeth not knowledge.

6. Scornful men bring a city into a snare: but wise men are increased.

7. The righteous knoweth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8. If a wise man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

9. Bloody men hate him that is upright: but the man that trusteth in the Lord shall be exalted.

10. The man that walketh in wisdom, shall be delivered.

11. If the rod and correction give wisdom, but a child set at liberty, maketh his mother ashamed.

12. Of a prince that hearkeneth to lies, all his servants are wicked.

13. The poor and the usurer meet together, but he that keepeth the law, is as a servant is wise.

14. The fear of man bringeth a snare: but he that trusteth in the Lord shall be exalted.

15. Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that keepeth the law is blessed.
9 Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, 'Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor and steal, and take the Name of my God in vain.
10 Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, 'when thou hast offended.
11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.
12 There is a generation that are pure in their own conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthiness.
13 There is a generation whose eyes are haughty, and their eye lids are lifted up.
14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their chaws as knives to eat up the afflicted out of the earth, and the poor from among men.
15 The horseleech hath two 'daughters which cry, Give, give. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, four that say not, It is enough.
16 The grave, and the barren womb, the earth, that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is enough.
17 The eye that mocketh his father and despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the ravens 'of the valley pick it out, and the young eagles eat it.
18 There be three things hid from me: yea, four that I know not:
19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a serpent upon a stone, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.
20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: she eateth and 'wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have not committed iniquity.
21 For three things the earth is moved: yea, for four it cannot sustain itself.
22 For 'a servant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat, 23 For the hateful woman, when she is married, and for a handmaid that is 'his to her mistress.
24 These be four small things in the earth, yet they are 'wise, and full of wisdom.
25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in summer:
26 The conies a people not mighty, yet make they their houses in the rock:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet go they forth all by bands:
28 The spider taketh hold 'with her hands, and is in king's palaces.
29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, four are comely in going:
30 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:
31 A lusty greyhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising up.
32 If thou hast been foolish in lifting thyself up, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand 'upon thy mouth.
33 When one churneth milk, he bringeth forth butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out, so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

31 2 He exhorteth to duty and justice. 10 and showeth the conditions of a wise and worthy woman.

1 THE WORDS OF KING 'LEMUEL: The prophecy which his mother taught him.
2 What my son! and what the son of 'my womb! and what, O son of my desires!
3 Give not thy strength unto women, 'nor thy ways which is to destroy kings.
4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes 'strong drink,
5 Lest he drink and forget the decree, and change the judgment of all the children of affliction.
6 Give ye strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto them that have grief of heart.
7 Let him drink, that he may forget 'his poverty, and remember his misery no more.
8 Open thy mouth for the 'dumb in the cause of all the children of destruction.
9 Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and judge the afflicted, and the poor.

saying,

31:31 1 Confess her diligent labors, and commend her therefore.
2 Forasmuch as the most honorable are clad in the apparel that she made.
1 All things in this world are full of vanity, and of none endurance. 13 All man’s wisdom is but folly and grief.

1 The words of the Preacher, the son of David king in Jerusalem.
2 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanity of vanities, all is vanity.
3 What remaineth unto man in all his travail, which he suffereth under the sun?
4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth forever.
5 The sun riseth, and the sun goeth down, and draweth to his place where he riseth.
6 The wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the wind goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.
7 All the rivers go into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the rivers go unto the place whence they return, and go.
8 All things are full of labor: man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.
9 What is it that hath been? that that shall be: and what is it that hath been done? that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.
10 Is there anything, whereof one may say, Behold this, it is new? it hath been already in the old time that was before us.
11 There is no memory of the former, neither shalt there be a remembrance of the latter that shall be, with them that shall come after.
12 ¶ I the Preacher have been king over Israel in Jerusalem:
13 And I have given mine heart to search and find out wisdom by all things that are done under the heaven: (this sore travail hath God given to the sons of men, ‘to humble them thereby.)
14 I have considered all the works that are done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.
15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: and that which faileth, cannot be numbered.
16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excel in wisdom all them that have been before me in Jerusalem: and mine heart hath seen much wisdom and knowledge.
17 And I gave mine heart to know wisdom and knowledge, madness and foolishness: I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.
18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

2 Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanity. 14 The wise and the fool have both one end touching the bodily death.

I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with joy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasures.
ant things: and behold, this also is vanity.
2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of joy, What is this that thou dost?
3 I sought in mine heart to give myself to wine, and to lead mine heart in \textit{wisdom}, and to take hold of folly, till I might see where is that goodness of the children of men, which they \textit{enjoy} under the Sun, the \textit{whole} number of the days of their life.
4 I have made my great works: I have built me houses: I have planted me vineyards.
5 I have made me gardens and \textit{orchards}, and planted in them trees of all fruit.
6 I have made me cisterns of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.
7 I have gotten servants and maids, and had children \textit{born} in the \textit{house}: also I had great Possession of beeves and sheep above all that were before me in Jerusalem.
8 I have gathered unto me also silver and gold, and the chief treasures of Kings and provinces: I have provided me men singers, and women singers, and the \textit{delights of the sons of men}, as a woman \textit{taken captive}, and women taken captives.
9 And I was great, and increased above all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom \textit{remained} with me.
10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from any joy: for mine heart rejoiced in all my labor: and this was my \textit{portion} of all my travail.
11 Then I looked on all my works that mine hands had wrought, and on the travail that I had labored to do: and behold, all is vanity and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profit under the Sun.
12 ¶ And I turned to behold \textit{wisdom}, and madness, and folly: (for who is the man that \textit{will} come after the King in things, which men now have done?)
13 Then I saw that there is profit in wisdom more than in folly: as the light is more excellent than darkness.

14 \textit{For the wise man's eyes are} in his head, but the fool walketh in darkness: yet I know also that the same \textit{condition} falleth to them all.
15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth unto me, as it befalleth to the fool. Why therefore do I then labor to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanity.
16 For there shall be no remembrance of the wise, nor of the fool \textit{forever}: for that that now is, in the days to come, shall all be forgotten. And \textit{how} dieth the wise man, as doth the fool?
17 Therefore I hated life: for the work that is wrought under the Sun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.
18 I hated also all my labor, wherein I had travailed under the Sun, which I shall leave to the man that shall be after me.
19 And who knowest whether he shall be wise or foolish? yet shall he have rule over all my labor, wherein I have travailed, and wherein I have showed myself wise under the Sun. This is also vanity.
20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart \textit{abhor} all the labor, wherein I had travailed under the Sun.
21 For there is a man whose travail is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity: yet to a man that hath not travailed herein, shall he \textit{give} his portion: this also is vanity, and a great grief.
22 For what hath man of all his travail and grief of his heart, wherein he hath travailed under the Sun?
23 For all his days are sorrow, and his travail grief:
24 There is no profit to man, but that he eat and drink, and \textit{delight} his soul with the profit of his labor: and this was my \textit{portion} of all my travail.
25 For I thought in mine heart, As well as the fool, doth the wise man\textsuperscript{2} die? There is no profit under the Sun to him. Who knoweth the work that shall be after me?
26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth pain to gather, and to heap to give to him that is good before God: this also is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.

3 1 All things have their time. 14 The works of God are perfect, and cause us to fear him. 17 God shall judge both the just and unjust.

1 To all things there is an appointed time, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.

2 A time to be born, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heal: a time to break down, and a time to build.

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh: a time to mourn, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be far from embracing.

6 A time to seek, and a time to lose: a time to keep, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sow: a time to keep silence, and a time to speak.

8 A time to love, and a time to hate: a time of war, and a time of peace.

9 What profiteth he that worketh of the thing wherein he travaileth?

10 I have seen the travail that God hath given to the sons of men, ‘to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made everything beautiful in his time: also he hath set the ‘world in their heart, yet cannot man find out the work that God hath wrought from the beginning even to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but that which is done under the sun, and behold, the tears of the oppressed, and none comforteth them, and the oppression thereof.

13 And also that every man eateth and drinketh, to whom the eye cannot judge any otherwise of a man than he seeth the commodity of all his labor. This is the ‘gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoever God shall do, it shall be forever: to it can no man add, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should fear before him.

15 What is that that hath been? that is now: and that shall be, hath now been: for God requireth that which is past.

16 And moreover, I have seen under the Sun the place of judgment, where was wickedness, and the place of justice, where was iniquity.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will judge the just and the wicked: for time is ‘there for every purpose and for every work.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men, that God had ‘purged them: yet to see too, they are in themselves as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are even as one condition unto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they have all one breath, and there is no excellency of man above the beast: for all is vanity.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall return to the dust.

21 Who ‘knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend upward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better than that a man should ‘rejoice in his affairs, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

4 2 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Man’s labors are full of abuse and vanity. 9 Man’s society is necessary. 13 A young man poor and wise, is to be preferred to an old King that is a fool.

1 So ‘I turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought under the sun, and behold, the tears of the oppressed, and none comforteth them, and lo, the strength is of the hand of them that oppress them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praised the ‘dead which now are dead, above the living, which are yet alive.

3 And I count him ‘better than them both, which 4 Also I beheld all travail, and all perfection of works, that this is the envy of a man against his neighbor; this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

5 The fool foldeth his hands, and careth up his own flesh.

6 Better is an handful with quietness, than two handfuls with labor and vexation of spirit.

7 Again I returned, and saw vanity under the sun.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither son nor brother, yet is there none end of all his travail, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither doth he think, For whom do I travail and defraud my soul of pleasures? this also is vanity, this is an evil travail.

9 Two are better wages for their labor.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe unto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him up.

11 Also if two sleep together, then shall they have heat: but to one how should there be heat?

12 And if one overcome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefold cord is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poor and wise child, than an old and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the prison he cometh forth to the foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

15 I beheld all the living, which walk under the Sun with the second child, which shall stand up in his place.

16 There is none end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not rejoice in him: surely this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heed to thine foot when thou enterest into the house of God, and be more near to hear than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they do evil.

CHAPTER 5

1 Not to speak lightly, chiefly in God's matters. 9 The covetous can never have enough. 11 The laborer's sleep is sweet. 14 Man when he dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To live joyfully, and with a contented mind, is the gift of God.

1 Be not rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be hasty to utter a thing before God: for God is in the heavens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be few.

2 For as a dream cometh by the multitude of business: so the voice of a fool is in the multitude of words.

3 When thou hast vowed a vow to God, defer not to pay it: for he delighteth not in fools: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldst vow and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy flesh to sin: neither say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreams, and vanities are also many words: but fear thou God.

7 If in a country thou seest the oppression of the poor, and the defrauding of judgment and justice, be not astonished at the matter: for he that is higher than the highest, regardeth, and there be higher than they.

8 And the abundance of the earth is over all: the king also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loveth silver, shall not be satisfied with silver, and he that loveth riches, shall be without the fruit thereof: this is also vanity.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

4:4 1 The more perfect that the work is, the more it is envied of the wicked.

4:5 1 For idleness he is compelled to destroy himself.

4:9 1 Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither help himself nor others, he showeth that men ought to live in mutual society to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

4:12 1 By this proverb he declareth how necessary it is, that men should live in society.

4:14 1 That is, from a poor and base estate, or out of trouble and prison, as Joseph did, Gen. 41:14.

4:15 1 Which follow and flatter the King's son, or him that shall succeed, to enter into credit with them in hope of gain.

4:16 1 They never cease by all means to creep into favor, but when they obtain not, their greedy desires, they think themselves abused, as others have been in time past, and so care no more for him.

4:17 1 That is, with what affection thou comest to hear the word of God.

5:8 1 The earth is to be preferred above all things which appertain to this life.

5:10 1 Meaning, of the wicked, which think to please God with common uses, and have neither faith nor repentance.
11 The sleep of him that travaileth, is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the satiety of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

12 There is an evil sickness that I have seen under the sun: to wit, riches reserved to the owners thereof for their evil.

13 And these riches perish by evil travail, and he begeteth a son, and in his hand is nothing.

14 As he came forth of his mother’s belly, he shall return naked to go as he came, and shall bear away nothing of his labor, which he hath caused to pass by his hand.

15 And this also is an evil sickness, that in all points as he came, so shall he go, and what profit hath he that he hath travailed for the wind?

16 Also all his days he eateth in darkness with much grief, and in his sorrow and anger.

17 Behold then, what I have seen good, that it is comely to eat, and to drink, and to take pleasure in all his labor, wherein he travaileth under the sun, the whole number of the days of his life, which God giveth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to every man to whom God hath given riches and treasures, and giveth him power to eat thereof, and to take his part, and to enjoy his labor: this is the gifts of God.

19 Surely he will not much remember the days of his life, because God answereth to the joy of his heart.

6 The miserable estate of him to whom God hath given riches, and not the grace to use them.

1 There is an evil, which I saw under the sun, and it is much among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches and treasures and honor, and he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth: but God giveth him not power to eat thereof; but a strange man shall eat it up: this is vanity, and this is an evil sickness.

3 If a man beget an hundred children and live many years, and the days of his years be multiplied: and his soul be not satisfied with good things, and he be not buried, I say that an untimely fruit is better than he.

4 For the cometh into vanity, and goeth into darkness: and his name shall be covered with darkness.

5 Also he hath not seen the sun, nor known it: therefore this hath more rest than the other.

6 And if he had lived a thousand years twice told, and had seen no good, shall not all go to one place?

7 All the labor of man is for his mouth: yet the soul is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more than the fool? what hath the poor that knoweth how to walk before the living?

9 The sight of the eye is better than to walk in the lusts: this also is vanity, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is that that hath been? the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot strive with him that is stronger than he.

7 Divers precepts to follow that which is good, and to avoid the contrary.

1 Surely there be many things that increase vanity, and what availeth it a man?

2 For who knoweth what is good for man in the life, and in the number of the days of the life of his vanity, seeing he maketh them as a shadow? for who can shew unto man what shall be after him under the sun?

3 A good name is better than a good ointment, and the day of death, than the day that one is born.

4 It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the living shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better than laughter: for by a sad look the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to hear the rebuke of a wise man, than that a man should hear the song of fools.

8 For like the noise of the thorns under the pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.
9 Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad: and the reward destroyeth the heart.
10 The end of a thing is better than the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.
11 Be not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools.
12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely of this thing.
13 Wisdom is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sun.
14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdom, and in the shadow of silver: but the excellency of the knowledge of wisdom giveth life to the possessors thereof.
15 Behold the work of God; for who can make that straight which he hath made crooked?
16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, and in the day of affliction consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should find nothing after him.
17 I have seen all things in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his justice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.
18 Be not thou just overmuch, neither make thyself overwise: wherefore shouldest thou be desolate?
19 Be not thou wicked overmuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time?
20 It is good that thou lay hold on this: but yet withdraw not thine hand from that: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.
21 Wisdom shall strengthen the wise men more than ten mighty princes that are in the city.
22 Surely there is no man just in the earth that doeth good and sinneth not.
23 Give not thine heart also to all the words that men speak, lest thou do hear thy servant cursing thee.

7:20 1 To wit, on these admonitions that go before.
2 Consider what desolation and destruction shall come, if thou do not obey them.
7:23 1 Credit them not, neither care for them.
7:24 1 Or, spoken evil of others.
7:26 1 Meaning, wisdom.
7:29 1 That is, to come to a conclusion.
7:31 1 And so are cause of their own destruction.
8:1 1 That is, doth get him favor and prosperity.
2 Whereas before he was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meek.
8:2 1 That is, that thou obey the king and keep the oath that thou hast made for the same cause.
8:3 1 Withdraw not thyself lightly from the obedience of thy prince.
8:5 1 That is, when time is to obey, and how far he should obey.
8:6 1 Man of himself is miserable, and therefore ought to do nothing to increase the same, but to work all things by wisdom and counsel.
7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?
8 Man is not lord 1 over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliverance in the battle, neither shall wickedness deliver the possessors thereof.
9 All this have I seen, and have given mine heart to every work which is wrought under the sun, and I saw a time that man ruleth over man to his own 1 hurt.
10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and they returned, and they that came from the holy 2 place, were yet forgotten in the city, where they had done right: this also is vanity.
11 Because sentence against an evil work is not 1 executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to do evil.
12 Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and God prolongeth his days, yet I know that it shall be well with them that fear the Lord, and do reverence before him.
13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days: he shall be like a shadow, because he feareth not before God.
14 There is a vanity, which is done upon the earth, that there be righteous men to whom it cometh according to the 3 work of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it cometh according to the work of the just: I thought also that this is vanity.
15 And I praised joy, for there is no goodness to man under the sun, save to eat and to drink and to rejoice: for this is adjointed to his labor the days of his life that God hath given him under the sun.
16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to behold the business that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleep,
17 Then I beheld the whole work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is wrought under the sun, for the which man laboreth to seek it, and cannot find it: yea, and though the wise man think to know it, he cannot find it.

9 1 By no outward thing can man know whom God loveth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wisdom excelleth strength.

1 I have surely given mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the just, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either love or 1 hatred of all that is before them.
2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the just and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that swareth, as he that feareth an oath.
3 This is evil among all that is done under the sun, that there is one 1 condition to all, and also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their hearts while they live, and after that, they go to the dead.
4 Surely whosoever is joined to all the living, there is hope: for it is better to a 1 living dog, than to a dead lion.
5 For the living know that they shall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither have they anymore a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.
6 Also their love and their hatred, and their envy is now perished, and they have no more portion forever, in all that is done under the sun.
7 Go, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a cheerful heart: for God now 1 accepteth thy works.
8 At all times let thy garments be 1 white, and let not oil be lacking upon thine head.
9 1 Rejoice with the wife whom thou hast loved all the days of the life of thy vanity, which God hath given thee under the sun all the days of thy vanity: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy travail wherein thou laborest under the sun.
10 All that thine hand shall find to do, do it with all thy power: for there is neither work nor invention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest.
11 I returned, and I saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of understanding, neither yet favor to men of knowledge:

8:8 1 Man hath no power to save his own life, and therefore must not rashly cast himself into danger.
8:9 1 As cometh oftentimes to tyrants and wicked rulers.
8:10 1 That is, others as wicked as they. 2 They that feared God and worshipped him according as he had appointed.
8:11 1 Where justice is delayed, there sin reigneth.
8:14 1 Which are punished as though they were wicked, as Eccl. 7:17.
8:15 1 Read Eccl. 3:22.
9:1 1 Meaning, what things he ought to choose or refuse: or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is, by prosperity or adversity, whom God doth favor or hate, for he sendeth them as well to the wicked as to the godly.

9:3 1 In outward things, as riches and poverty, sickness and health, there is no difference between the godly and the wicked: but the difference is that the godly are assured by faith of God's favor and assistance.
9:4 1 He noteth the Epicureans and carnal men, which made their belly their god, and had no pleasure, but in this life, wishing rather to be an abased and vile person in this life, than a man of authority, and so to die, which is meant by the dog and lion.
9:7 1 They flatter themselves to be in God's favor, because they have all things in abundance.
9:8 1 Rejoice, be merry, and spare for no cost, thus speak the wicked belly-gods.
9:9 1 Hebrew, regard the life.
but time and chance cometh to them all.

12 For neither doth man know his time, but as the fishes which are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the evil time, when it falleth upon them suddenly.

13 I have also seen this wisdom under the sun, and it is great unto me.

14 A little city and few men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and built forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poor and wise man, and he delivered the city by his wisdom, but none remembered this poor man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom than strength; yet the wisdom of the poor is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wise are more heard in quietness, than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Better is wisdom than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

10 1 The difference of foolishness and wisdom. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of foolish kings and drunken princes.

1 Dead flies cause to stink, and putrefy the ointment of the apothecary: so doth a little folly him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a fool is at his left hand.

3 And also when the fool goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he telleth unto all that he is a fool.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise up against thee, be thou discrete, and not moved.

5 There is an evil that I have seen under the sun, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folly is set in great excellency, and the rich sit in the low place.

7 I have seen servants on horses, and princes walking as servants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that removeth stones, shall hurt himself thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellency to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babbler.

12 The words of the mouth of a wise man have grace: but the lips of a fool devour himself.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madness.

14 For the fool multiplieth words, saying, Man knoweth not what shall be: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labor of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the city.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkenness.

18 By slothfulness the roof of the house goeth to decay, and by the idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the living, but silver answereth to all.

20 Curse not the king, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the fowl of the heaven shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

11 1 To be liberal to the poor. 4 Not to doubt of God's providence. 8 All worldly prosperity is but vanity. 9 God will judge all.

1 Cast thy bread upon the waters: for after many days thou shalt find it.

2 Give a portion to seven, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full, they will bring thee profit. If thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth: and if the tree do fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.
3 When the 'keepers of the house shall tremble, and the 'strong men shall bow themselves, and the 'grinders shall cease, because they are few, and they wax dark that 'look out by the windows:
4 And the 'doors shall be shut without by the base sound of the 'grinding, and he shall rise up at the voice of the 'bird: and all the 'daughters of singing shall be abased:
5 Also they shall be afraid of the 'high thing, and fear shall be in the 'way, and the almond tree shall 'flourish, and the 'grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driven away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners go about in the street.
6 While the 'silver cord is not lengthened, nor the golden 'ewer broken, nor the 'pitcher broken at the 'well, nor the 'wheel broken at the 'cistern,
7 And dust return to the earth as it was, and the 'spirit return to God that gave it.
8 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanity.
9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, and caused them to hear, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.
10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, and an upright writing, even the words of truth.
11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nails 'fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are given by one 'pastor.
12 And of other things beside these, my son, take thou heed: for there is none end in making many 'books, and much reading is a weariness of the flesh.
13 Let us hear the end of all: fear God and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.
14 For God will bring every work unto judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or evil.

12 1 To think on God in youth, and not to defer till age. 7 The soul returneth to God. 11 Wisdom is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandments.

1 Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years approach, wherein thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them:
2 While the sun is not dark, nor the light, nor the moon, nor the stars, nor the 'clouds return after the rain.

11:4 1 He that feareth inconveniences, when necessity requireth, shall never do his duty.
11:6 1 Be not weary of well doing.
11:8 1 That is, which of thy works are most agreeable to God.
11:9 1 That is, of affliction and trouble.
11:10 1 To wit, anger, and envy.
12:2 1 Meaning, carnal lusts, whereunto youth is given.
12:3 1 Before thou come to a continual misery: for when the clouds remain after the rain, man's grief is increased.
12:4 1 The hands, which keep the body.
2 The legs.
3 The teeth.
4 The eyes.
12:4 1 The lips, or mouth.
2 When the jaws, shall scarce open, and not be able to chew anymore.
3 He shall not be able to sleep.
4 That is, the wind pipes, or the ears shall be deaf and not able to hear singing.

12:5 1 To climb high because of their weakness, or they stoop down, as though they were afraid, lest anything should hit them.
2 They shall tremble as they go, as though they were afraid.
3 Their head shall be as white as the blossoms of an almond tree.
4 They shall be able to bear nothing.
12:6 1 Meaning, the marrow of the backbone and the sinews.
2 The little skin that covereth the brain, which is in color like gold.
3 That is, the veins.
4 Meaning, the liver.
12:7 1 The soul incontinently goeth either to joy or torment, and sleepeth not as the wicked imagine.
12:11 1 Which are well applied by the ministers, whom he calleth masters.
2 That is, by God.
12:12 1 These things cannot be comprehended in books or learned by study, but God must instruct thine heart that thou mayest only know that wisdom is the true felicity, and the way thereunto is to fear God.
AN EXCELLENT SONG WHICH WAS SOLOMON'S

1 The familiar talk and mystical communication of the spiritual love between Jesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domestical enemies that persecute the Church.

1 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.
2 Because of the savor of thy good ointments, thy name is as an ointment poured out: therefore the virgins love thee.
3 Draw me: we will run after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers: we will rejoice and be glad in thee: we will remember thy love more than wine: the righteous do love thee.
4 I am black, O daughters of Jerusalem, but comely, as the tents of Kedar, and as the curtains of Solomon.
5 Regard ye me not because I am black: for the sun hath looked upon me. The sons of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine own vine.
6 Show me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noon: for why should I be as she that turneth aside to the stocks of thy companions?
7 If thou know not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flock, and feed thy kids by the tents of the shepherds.
8 I have compared thee, O my love, to the troup of horses in the chariots of Pharaoh.
9 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of stones, and thy neck with chains.
10 We will make thee borders of gold with floods of silver.
11 While the King was at his repast, my spikenard gave the smell thereof.
12 My well-beloved is as a bundle of myrrh unto me: he shall lie between my breasts.
13 My well-beloved is as a cluster of camphire unto me in the vines of En Gedi.
14 My love, behold, thou art fair: behold, thou art fair: thine eyes are like the doves.
15 My well-beloved, behold, thou art fair, and pleasant: also our bed is green.
16 The beams of our house are cedars, our rafters are of fir.

2 The Church desireth to rest under the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voice. 14 She is compared to the dove. 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

1 I am the rose of the field, and the lily of the valleys.
2 Like a lily among the thorns, so is my love among the daughters.
3 Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my well-beloved among the sons of men: under his shadow had I delight, and sat down: and his fruit was sweet unto my mouth.

Title 1 Hebrew, a song of songs: so called because it is the choicest of those 1005, which Solomon made, as is mentioned, I Kings 4:32.
1:1 This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithful soul inflamed with the desire of Christ, whom she loveth.
1:2 The feeling of thy great benefits.
1:3 They that are pure in heart and conversation.
1:4 The faithful confess that they cannot come to Christ, except they be drawn.
1:5 Meaning, the secret joy that is not known to the world.
1:6 The Church confesseth her spots and sin, but hath confidence in the favor of Christ.
2 Kedar was Ishmael’s son, of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents.
3 Which within were all set with precious stones and Jewels.
1:1 The Church confesseth her spots and sin, but hath confidence in the favor of Christ.
2:2 Which without were all set with precious stones and Jewels.
1:5 Consider not the Church by the outward appearance.
2:3 Mine own brethren, which should have most favored me.
3:1 Mine own brethren, which should have most favored me.
4 She confesseth her own negligence.
6 The spouse feeling her fault fleeth to her husband only for succor.
2 Whom thou hast called to the dignity of pastors, and they set forth their own dreams instead of thy doctrine.
1:7 Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant, to go to the pastors to learn.
2:2 For thy spiritual beauty and excellency there was no worldly treasure to be compared unto thee.
1:11 The Church rejoiceth that she is admitted to the company of Christ.
1:12 He shall be most dear unto me.
1:14 Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beauty.
1:15 That is, the heart of the faithful, wherein Christ dwelleth by his Spirit.
2:2 Thus Christ prefereth his Church above all other things.
2:3 The spouse testifieth her great desire toward her husband, but her strength faieth her, and therefore she desirseth to be comforted, and felt it.
SOLOMON’S SONG 2:4

4 He brought me into the wine cellar, and love was his banner over me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under mine head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor waken my love, until she please.

8 It is the voice of my well-beloved: behold, he cometh leaping by the mountains, and skipping by the hills.

9 My well-beloved is like a roe, or a young hart: lo, he standeth behind our wall, looking forth of the windows, showing himself through the ’grates.

10 My well-beloved spake and said unto me, Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For behold, winter is past: the rain is changed, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appear in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The fig tree hath brought forth her young figs: and the vines with their small grapes have cast a savor: arise my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 My dove, that art in the holes of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, show me thy sight, and let me hear thy voice: for thy voice is sweet, and thy sight comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines have small grapes.

16 My well-beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies, 17 Until the daybreak, and the shadows flee away: return, my well-beloved, and be like a roe, or a young hart upon the mountains of Bether.

1 The Church desireth to be joined inseparably to Christ her husband.

6 Her deliverance out of the wilderness.

1 In my bed by night I sought him that my soul loved: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise therefore now, and go about in the city, by the streets, and by the open places, and will seek him that my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that went about the city, found me: to whom I said, Have you seen him whom my soul loveth?

4 When I had passed a little from them, then I found him whom my soul loved: I took hold on him, and left him not, till I had brought him unto my mother’s house, into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor waken my love until she please.

6 Who is she that cometh up out of the wilderness like the daughter of men? for behold, she is like the daughters of men, strong men arc round about it, of the valiant men of Israel.

7 They all handle the sword, and are expert in war, everyone hath his sword upon his thigh for the fear by night.

9 King Solomon made himself a palace of the trees of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, and the pavement thereof of gold, the hangings thereof of purple, whose midst was paved with the love of the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, and behold the King Solomon with the crown, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

1 The praises of the Church.

7 She is without blemish in his sight.

9 The love of Christ towards her.

1 Behold, thou art fair, my love: behold, thou art fair: thine eyes are like the doves: among thy locks...
“Thine hair is like the flock of goats, which look down from the mountain of Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep in good order, which go up from the washing; which every one brings out twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy talk is comely: thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy neck is as the tower of David built for defense: a thousand shields hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

5 Thy two breasts are as two young roes that are twins, feeding among the lilies.

6 Until the day break, and the shadows fly away, I will go into the mountain of myrrh, and to the mountain of incense.

7 Thou art all fair my love, and there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, even with me from Lebanon, and look from the top of Amana, from the top of Senir, and Hermon, from the dens of the lions, and from the mountains of the leopards.

9 My sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine eyes, and with a chain of thy neck.

10 My sister, my spouse, how fair is thy love? how much better is thy love than wine? and the savor of thine ointments than all spices?

11 Thy lips, my Spouse, drop honeycombs: honey and milk are under thy tongue, and the savor of thy garment as the savor of Lebanon.

12 My sister, my spouse is as a garden enclosed, as a spring shut up, and a fountain sealed up.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweet fruits, as camphire, spikenard.

14 Even spikenard, and saffron: calamus, and cinnamon, with all the trees of incense, myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 O fountain of the gardens, O well of living waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

2 He hath respect to the multitude of the faithful, which are many in number.

4:5 1 Wherein are knowledge and zeal two precious jewels.

4:8 1 Christ promiseth his Church to call his faithful from all the corners of the world.

4:9 1 Christ calleth his Church sister, in respect that he had taken the flesh of man.

2 In that he made his Church beautiful and rich, he loved his gifts in her.

4:11 1 Because of thy confession and thanksgiving.

4:15 1 The Church confesseth that all her glory and beauty cometh of Christ, who is the true fountain of all grace.

4:16 1 She desireth Christ to comfort her and to pour the graces of his Spirit upon her, which Spirit is meant by the North and South wind.

5:1 1 The garden signifieth the kingdom of Christ, where he prepar-eth the banquet for his elect.

5:2 1 The spouse saith that she is troubled with the cares of worldly things, which is meant by sleeping.

5:3 1 Declaring the long patience of the Lord toward sinners.

5:4 1 The spouse confesseth her nakedness, and that of herself she hath nothing, or seeing that she is once made clean, she promiseth not to defile herself again.

5:5 1 Hebrew, my bowels were moved towards him.

5:5 1 The spouse which should be anointed of Christ, shall not find him if she think to anoint him with her good works.

5:7 1 These are the false teachers, which wound the conscience with their traditions.

5:8 1 She asketh of them which are godly (forasmuch as the law and salvation should come out of Zion and Jerusalem) that they would direct her to Christ.

5:9 1 Thus say they of Jerusalem.
so charge us?
  10 My well-beloved is white and ruddy, the chiepest of ten thousand.
  11 His head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and black as a raven.
  12 His eyes are like doves upon the rivers of waters, which are washed with milk, and remain by the full vessels.
  13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, and as sweet flowers, and his lips like lilies dropping down pure myrrh.
  14 His hands are as rings of gold set with the chrysolite, his belly like white ivory covered with sapphires.
  15 His legs are as pillars of marble set upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.
  16 His mouth is as sweet things, and he is wholly delectable: this is my well-beloved, and this is my lover, O daughters of Jerusalem.
  17 O the fairest among women, whither is thy well-beloved gone? whither is thy well-beloved turned aside, that we may seek him with thee?

6 1 The Church assured herself of the love of Christ.
  2 The praises of the Church.
  3 Thou art beautiful, my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.
  4 Turn away thine eyes from me: for they over-come me: thine hair is like a flock of goats, which look down from Gilead.
  5 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep, which go up from the washing, which every one bring out twins, and none is barren among them.
  6 Thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.
  7 There are threescore Queens, and fourscore concubines, and of the damsels without number.
  8 But my dove is alone, and my undefiled, she is the only daughter of her mother, and she is dear to her that bare her: the daughters have seen her, and counted her blessed: even the Queens and the concubines, and they have praised her.
  9 Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, pure as the sun, terrible as an army with banners!
  10 I went down to the garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valley, to see if the vine budded, and if the pomegranates flourished.
  11 I knew nothing, my soul set me as the chariots of my noble people.
  12 Return, return, O Shulamite, return: return that we may behold thee. What shall you see in the Shulamite, but as the company of an army?

7 1 The beauty of the Church in all her members.
  10 She is assured of Christ’s love towards her.
  1 How beautiful are thy goings with shoes, O prince’s daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels: the work of the hand of a cunning work-man.
  2 Thy navel is as a round cup that wanteth not liquor: thy belly is as an heap of wheat compassed about with lilies.
  3 Thy two breasts are as two young roes that are twins.
  4 Thy neck is like a tower of ivory; thine eyes are like the fish pools in Heshbon by the gate of Bath Rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon that looketh toward Damascus.
  5 Thine head upon thee is as scarlet, and the bush of thine head like purple: the king is tied in the rafters.
  6 How fair art thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my love, in pleasures!
  7 Thy stature is like a palm tree, and thy breasts like clusters.
  8 I said, I will go up into the palm tree, I will take hold of her boughs: thy breasts shall now be like the clusters of the vine: and the savor of thy nose like apples.
  9 And the roof of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my well-beloved, and causeth...
the lips of the ancient to speak.

10 1I am my well-beloved's, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come my well-beloved, let us go forth into the field: let us remain in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vines, let us see if the vine flourish, whiter her it hath budded the small grape, or whither the pomegranates flourish: there will I give thee my love.

13 The mandrakes have given a smell, and in our gates are all sweet things, new and old: my well-beloved, I have kept them for thee.

2 1The Church will be taught by Christ. 3 She is upheld by him. 6 The vehement love wherewith Christ loveth her. 11 She is the vine that bringeth forth fruit to the spiritual Solomon, which is Jesus Christ.

1 Oh that thou werest as my brother that sucked the breasts of my mother: I would find thee without, I would kiss thee, then they should not despise thee.

2 I will lead thee and bring thee into my mother's house: there thou shalt teach me: and I will cause thee to drink spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.

3 1His left hand shall be under mine head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

4 1I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that you stir not up, nor waken my love until she please.

5 1Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness, leaning upon her well-beloved?) I raised thee up under an apple tree: there the mother conceived thee: there she conceived that bare thee.

6 1Set me as a seal on thine heart, and as a signet upon thine arm: for love is strong as death: jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are fiery coals, and a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man should give all the substance of his house for love, they would greatly contend it.

8 1We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister when she shall be spoken for?

9 1If she be a wall, we will build upon her a silver palace: and if she be a door, we will keep her in with boards of cedar.

10 1I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

11 1Solomon had a vine in Baal Hamon: he gave the vineyard unto keepers: everyone bringeth for the fruit thereof a thousand pieces of silver.

12 But my vineyard which is mine, is before me: to thee, O Solomon, appertaineth a thousand pieces of silver, and two hundred to them that keep the fruit thereof.

13 O thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken unto thy voice: cause me to hear it.

14 O my well-beloved, flee away and be like unto the roe, or to the young hart upon the mountains of spices.

7:10 1 This the spouse speaketh.
7:12 1 If the people that are called to Christ, bring forth any fruit.
8:1 1 The Church called of the Gentiles, speaketh thus to the Church of Jerusalem.
2 Or, me.
8:3 1 Read Song 26.
8:4 1 Read Song 35.
8:6 1 The spouse desireth Christ to be joined in perpetual love with him.

8:8 1 The Jewish Church speaketh this of the Church of the Gentiles.
8:9 1 If she be sure and fast, she is meet for the husband to dwell in.
8:10 1 The Church promiseth fidelity and constancy.
8:11 1 This is the vineyard of the Lord hired out, Matt. 21:33.
8:13 1 Christ dwelleth in his Church, whose voice the faithful hear.
8:14 1 The Church desireth Christ that if he depart from them, yet that he would haste to help them in their troubles.
1 2 Isaiah reproveth the Jews of their ingratitude and stubbornness, that neither for benefits nor punishments would amend. 11 He showed why their sacrifices are rejected, and wherein God's true service standeth. 24 He prophesieoth of the destruction of Jerusalem, 25 and of the restitution thereof.

1 A vision of Isaiah, the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath said, I have nourished and brought up children, but they have rebelled against me.

3 The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel hath not known: my people hath not understood.

4 Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity: a seed of the wicked, corrupt children: they have forsaken the Lord: they have provoked the Holy one of Israel to anger: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore should ye be smitten anymore? for ye fall away more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart is heavy.

6 From the sole of the foot unto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds and swelling, and sores full of corruption: they have not been wrapped, nor bound up nor mollified with oil.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fire:陌生er devour your land in your presence, ye fall away more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart is heavy.

1:6 Every part of the body as well the least as the chiefest, was plagues. 1:7 Their plagues were so grievous, that they were incurable, and yet they would not repent.

1:8 Bring no more oblations, in vain: incense is an abomination unto me: I cannot suffer your new moons, nor Sabbath, nor solemn days (it is iniquity) nor solemn assemblies.

1:9 My soul hateth your new moons and your appointed feasts: they are a burden unto me: I am weary to bear them.

1:10 And when you shall stretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though ye make your hands to tread in my courts, and your burnt offerings, or your peace offerings, saith the Lord, I am not pleased with your high places any more, nor will I accept your burnt offerings any more: for no advantage of that which remaineth destroy all before them.

1:11 But whatever is done to me, I will do it again, and I will not repent: for I have heard and beheld your transgressions, and your iniquities.

1:12 They are as a vessel wherein God's true service standeth.

1:13 The most dull and brute beasts do more acknowledge their duty toward their masters, than my people do toward me, of whom they have received benefits without comparison.

1:14 They are not only wicked as were their fathers, but utterly corrupt, and by their evil example infected others.

1:15 What availeth it to seek to amend you by punishment, seeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebel?

1:16 Every part of the body as well the least as the chiefest, was plagued.

1:17 Meaning, of them that dwell far off, which because they look for no advantage of that which remaineth destroy all before them.

1:18 That is, Jerusalem.

1:19 Because that he will ever have a Church to call upon his Name.

1:20 Ye that for your vices deserved all to be destroyed, as they of Sodom, save that God of his mercy reserved a little number, Lam. 3:22. 1:31 Although God commanded these sacrifices for a time, as aids and exercises of their faith; yet because the people had not faith nor repentance, God doth kill them, Ps. 50:13; Jer. 6:20; Amos 5:22; Mic. 6:7. 1:13 Without faith and repentance.

1:14 Your sacrifices offered in the new moons and feasts: he condemneth hereby hypocrites, which think to please God with ceremonies, and they themselves are void of faith and mercy.

1:15 He showeth that where men be given to avarice, deceit, cruelty and extortion, which is meant by blood, there God will show his anger, and not accept them, though they seem never so holy, as Isa. 59:3.
16 ‘Wash you, make you clean, take away the evil of your works from before mine eyes: cease to do evil.

17 Learn to do well: seek judgment, relieve the oppressed: judge the fatherless, and defend the widow.

18 Come now, let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins were as crimson, they shall be made white as snow: though they were red like scarlet, they shall be as wool, 19 If ye consent and obey, ye shall eat the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, ye shall be despoiled with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 How is the faithful city become an harlot? it was full of judgment, and justice lodged therein, but now ‘they are murderers.

22 Thy silver is become dross: thy wine is mixed with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after gain.

24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hosts, the Mighty one of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turn mine hand upon thee, and burn out thy dross, till it be pure, and take away all thy tin.

26 And I will restore thy Judges as at the first, and thy counselors as at the beginning: afterward shalt thou be called a city of righteousness, and a faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed in judgment, and they that return in her, in justice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together: and they that forsake the Lord, shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be confounded for the oaks, which ye have desired, and ye shall be ashamed of the gardens that ye have chosen,

30 For ye shall be as an oak, whose leaf fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker thereof as a spark: and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

2 The Church shall be restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called. 6 The punishment of the rebellious and obstinate.

1 The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw upon Judah and Jerusalem,

2 ‘It shall be in the last days, that the mountain of the House of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and ‘shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flow unto it.

3 And many people shall go, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths, for the Law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

4 And ‘he shall judge among the nations, and my desire by punishing them. Which thing yet he doeth with a grief, because of his Covenant.

1:16 1 By this outward washing, he meaneth the spiritual: exhorting the Jews to repent and amend their lives.

1:17 1 This kind of reasoning by the second Table, the Scriptures use in many places against the hypocrites, who pretend most holiness and religion in word, but when the charity and love toward their brethren should appear, they declare that they have neither faith nor religion.

1:18 1 To know if I do accuse you without cause.

2 Lest sinners should pretend any rigor on God’s part, he only will eth them to be pure in heart, and he will forgive all their sins, were they never so many or great.

1:19 1 He showeth that whatsoever adversity man endureth, it ought to be attributed to his own incredulity and disobedience.

1:21 1 That is, Jerusalem, which had promised fidelity unto me, as a wife to her husband.

2 Given to covetousness and extortion, which he signified before by blood, verse 15.

1:22 1 Whatever was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou have an outward show.

1:23 1 That is, they maintain the wicked and the extortioners: and not only do not punish them, but are themselves such.

1:24 1 When God will show himself merciful to his Church, he calleth himself, The Holy one of Israel, but when he hath to do with his enemies, he is called Mighty, as against whom no power is able to resist.

2 I will take vengeance of mine adversaries the Jews, and so satisfy
2 rebuke many people: they shall break their swords also into mattocks, and their spears into scythes: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn to fight anymore.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the Law of the Lord.

6 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Jacob, because they are full of the East manners, and are sorcerers as the Philistines, and abound with strange children.

7 Their land also was full of silver and gold, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their chariots were infinite.

8 Their land was also full of idols; they worshipped the work of their own hands, which their own fingers have made.

9 And a man bowed himself, and a man humbled himself: therefore spare them not.

10 Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, from before the fear of the Lord, and from the glory of his Majesty.

11 The high look of man shall be humbled, and the loftiness of men shall be abased, and the Lord only shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hosts is upon all the proud and haughty, and upon all that is exalted: and it shall be made low.

13 Even upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and exalted, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every strong wall,

16 And upon all the ships of Tarsish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the haughtiness of men shall be brought low, and the loftiness of men shall be abased, and the Lord shall only be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols will he utterly destroy.

19 Then shall they go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth from before the fear of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he shall arise to destroy the earth.

20 At that day shall man cast away his silver idols and his golden idols (which they had made themselves to worship them) to the moles, and to the backs,

21 To go into the holes of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks from before the fear of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he shall rise to destroy the earth.

22 Cease you from the man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

3 I For the sin of the people, God will take away the wise men, and give them foolish princes. 14 The covetousness of the governors. 26 The pride of the women.

1 For lo, the Lord God of hosts will take away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the strength: even all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of war, the judge, and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captain of fifty, and the honorable, and the counselor, and the cunning artificer, and eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 The people shall be oppressed one of another, and every one by his neighbor: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honorable.

2:4 That they may acknowledge their sins, and turn to him.

3 He showeth the fruit of the peace, which the Gospel should bring: to wit, that men should do good one to another, whereas before they were enemies.

4 He speaketh not against the use of weapons and lawful war, but sheweth how the hearts of the godly shall be affected one toward another: Which peace and love doth begin and grow in this life, but the work of their own hands, which their own fingers have made.

9 And a man bowed himself, and a man humbled himself: therefore spare them not.

10 Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, from before the fear of the Lord, and from the glory of his Majesty.

4 And I will appoint children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 The people shall be oppressed one of another, and every one by his neighbor: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honorable.
6 When everyone shall 1take hold of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing, thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be under thine hand:

7 In that day he shall 1swear, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: 2therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtless Jerusalem is fallen, and Judah is fallen down, because their tongue and works are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The 1trial of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sins, as Sodom, they hide them not. Woe be unto their souls: for they have rewarded evil unto themselves.

10 1Say ye, Surely it shall be well with the just: for they shall eat the fruit of their works.

11 Woe be to the wicked, it shall be evil with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women have rule over them: O my people, they that lead thee, cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth up to plead, yea, he standeth to judge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into judgment with the 1Ancients of his people and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up the vineyard: the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 What have ye to do that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor, saith the Lord, even the Lord of hosts?

16 The Lord also saith, 1Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with 2stretched out necks, and with 3wandering eyes, walking and 4mincing as they go, and making a 5tinkling with their feet, 17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion bald, and the Lord shall discover their secret parts.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the cauls, and the round tyres.

19 The sweet balls, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the slops, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earrings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costly apparel and the veils, and the wimples, and the crisping pins,

23 And the glasses and the fine linen, and the hoods and the 1lawns.

24 And instead of sweet savor, there shall be stink, and instead of girdle, a rent, and instead of dressing of the hair, baldness, and instead of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth, and burning instead of beauty.

25 Thy men shall fall by the 1sword, and thy strength in the battle.

26 Then shall her gates mourn and lament, and she being desolate, shall sit upon the ground.

4 1The small remnant of men after the destruction of Jerusalem. 2The graces of God upon them that remain.

1 And in that day shall 1seven women take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread, and we will wear our own garments: only 2let us be called by thy name, and take away our 3reproach.

2 In that day shall the 1bud of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then he that shall be left in Zion, and he that shall remain in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, and every one shall be written among the living in Jerusalem,

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthiness of the daughters of Zion, and purge the blood of Jerusalem out of the midst thereof by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create upon every place of mount Zion, and upon the assemblies thereof, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defense.

6 And a covering shall be for a shadow in the day for the heat, and a place of refuge and a covert for the storm and for the rain.

5:1 Under the similitude of the vine, he describeth the state of the people. 8 Of their avarice. 11 Their captivity. 13 Of their captivity.

1 Now will I sing to my beloved a song of my beloved had a vineyard in a very fruitful hill.

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, and he built a tower in the midst thereof, and made a winepress therein, then he looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought forth wild grapes.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, between me and my vineyard.

4 What could I have done anymore to my vineyard that I have not done unto it? why have I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wild grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up: I will break the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cut, nor dug, but briers and thorns shall grow up: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 ¶ Surely the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are his pleasant plant, and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression: for righteousness, but behold a crying.

8 Woe unto them that join house to house, and lay field to field, till there be no place, that ye may be placed by yourselves in the midst of the earth.

9 This is in mine ears, saith the Lord of hosts. Surely many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vines shall yield one bath, and the seed of an homer shall yield an ephah.

11 ¶ Woe unto them, that rise up early to follow drunkenness, and to them that continue until night, till the wine do inflame them,

12 And the harp and viol, timbrel and pipe, and wine are in their feasts: but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the work of his hands.

13 Therefore my people is gone into captivity, because they had no knowledge, and the glory thereof are men famished, and the multitude thereof is dried up with thirst.

14 'Therefore hell hath enlarged itself, and hath opened his mouth without measure, and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth among them, shall descend into it.

15 And man shall be brought down, and man

4:3 1 He alludeth to the book of life, whereof read Exod. 32:32, meaning, God's secret counsel, wherein his elect are predestinate to life everlasting.

4:4 1 That is, the cruelty, extortion, avarice, and all wickedness.

4:5 1 He alludeth to the pillar of the cloud, Exod. 13:21, meaning, that God's favor and protection should appear in every place.

5:1 The faithful are called the glory of God, because his image and tokens of his grace shine in them.

5:2 That is, to God.

5:3 Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentiful and abundant.

5:2 1 He spared no diligence nor cost.

5:3 1 He maketh them judges in their own cause, forasmuch as it was evident that they were the cause of their own ruin.

5:5 1 I will take no more care for it: meaning, that he would take from them his word and ministers, and all other comforts, and send them contrary plagues.

5:7 1 Judgment and righteousness are true fruits of the fear of God, and therefore in the cruel oppression there is no religion.

5:8 1 Of them that are oppressed.

5:9 1 To wit, for the poor to dwell in.

5:10 They regard not the provident care of God over them, nor for what end he hath created them.

5:13 1 That is, shall certainly go for so the Prophets use to speak, as though the thing which shall come to pass, were done already.

5:14 1 Meaning, the grave shall swallow up them that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shall ever be satiate.
shall be humbled, even the eyes of the proud shall be humbled.
16 And the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and the holy God shall be sanctified in justice.
17 Then shall the lambs feed after their manner, and the strangers shall eat the desolate places of the fat.
18 ¶ Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin, as with cart ropes:
19 Which say, 1Let him make speed: let him hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come, that we may know it.
20 Woe unto them that speak good of evil, 1and evil of good, which put darkness for light, and light for darkness, that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for sour.
21 Woe unto them that are 1wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight.
22 Woe unto them that are 1mighty to drink wine, and unto them that are strong to pour in strong drink:
23 Which justify the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.
24 Therefore as the flame of fire devoureth the stubble, and as the chaff is consumed of the flame: so their root shall be a rottenness, and their bud shall rise up like dust, because they have cast off the Law of the Lord of hosts, and contemned the word of the Holy one of Israel.
25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his hand upon them, and hath smitten them that the mountains did tremble: and their carcasses were torn in the midst of the streets, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.
26 And he will lift up a sign unto the nations afar, and will hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speed.
27 None shall faint nor fall among them: none shall slumber nor sleep, neither shall the girdle of his loins be loosed, nor the latchet of his shoes be broken.
28 Whose arrows shall be sharp, and all his bows bent: his horse hoofs shall be thought like flint, and his wheels like whirlwind.
29 His roaring shall be like a lion, and he shall roar like lion’s whelps: they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey: they shall take it away, and none shall deliver it.
30 And in that day they shall roar upon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if they look unto the earth, behold darkness and sorrow, and the light shall be darkened in their 1sky.

6 1 Isaiah showeth his vocation by the vision of the divine majesty. 9 He showeth the obstinacy of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserved.

1 In the year of the death of king Uzziah, 1I saw also the Lord sitting upon an 1high throne, and lifted up, and the lower 1parts thereof filled the Temple.
2 The 1Seraphims stood upon it, every one had six wings: with twain he covered his 1face, and with twain he covered his 1feet, and with twain he did 1fly.
3 And one cried to another, and said, 1Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts: the whole 1world is full of his glory.
ISAIAH 6:4

4 And the lintels of the door cheeks moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I said, Woe is me: for I am undone, because I am a man of polluted lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, and Lord of hosts.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims unto me with an hot coal in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity shall be taken away, and thy sin shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send? and who shall go for us? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And he said, Go, and say unto this people, Ye shall hear indeed, but ye shall not understand: ye shall see, but not perceive.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and he heal them.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate, 12 And the Lord have removed men far away, and there be a great desolation in the midst of the land.

13 But yet in it shall be a tenth, and shall return, and shall be eaten up as an elm or an oak, which have a substance in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

6:4 1 Which things were to confirm the Prophet, that it was not the voice of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come upon the Jews.

6:5 1 He speaketh this for two causes: the one because he that was a mortal creature, and therefore had more need to glorify God than the Angels, did it not: and the other because the more near that man approacheth to God, the more doth he know his own sin and corruption.

6:6 1 Of the burnt offerings, where the fire never went out.

6:7 1 This declareth that man cannot render due obedience to God, till he have purged us.

6:9 1 Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God will not immediately take away his word, but he will cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learn thereby to obey his will, and be saved: whereby he exhorteth the ministers to do their duty, and answereth to the wicked mururers, that through their own malice their heart is hardened, Matt. 13:14; Acts 28:26; Rom. 11:8.

6:11 1 As he was moved with the zeal of God's glory, so was he touched with a charitable affection toward the people.

6:13 1 Meaning, the tenth part: or as some write, it was revealed to Isaiah for the confirmation of his prophecy, that ten Kings should come before their captivity, as were from Uzziah to Zedekiah.

7 1 Jerusalem is besieged. 4 Isaiah comforteth the king. 14 Christ is promised.

1 And in the days of Ahaz, the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah king of Judah, Rezin the king of Aram came up, and Pekah the son of Remaliah king of Israel, to Jerusalem to fight against it, but he could not overcome it.

2 And it was told the house of David, saying, Aram is joined with Ephraim: therefore his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved by the wind.

3 ¶ Then said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz (thou and Shear-Jashub thy son) at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the path of the fuller's field,

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be still: fear not, neither be fainthearted for the two tails of these smoking firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliah's son,

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsel against thee, and Ephraim and Remaliah's son, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and let us waken them up, and make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst thereof, even the son of Tabel.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within five and threescore years, Damascus shall be cut off, from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye believe not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake again unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask a sign for thee of the Lord thy God: ask it either in the depth beneath, or in the height above.
12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord.
13 Then he said, Hear you now, O house of David, is it a small thing for you to grieve 'men, that ye will also grieve my God?
14 Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign.
Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and she shall call his name 'Immanuel.
15 'Butter and honey shall he eat, till he have knowledge to refuse the evil, and to choose the good.
16 For afore the 'child shall have knowledge to eschew the evil, and to choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest, shall be forsaken of both her kings.
17 The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy Father's house (the days that are not come from the day that 'Ephraim departed from Judah) even the King of 'Assyria.
18 And in that day shall the Lord hiss for the 'fly that is at the uttermost parts of the floods of Egypt, and for the Bee which is in the land of Assyria, 19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorny places, and upon all bushy 'places.
20 In that day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, even by them beyond the River, by the King of Assyria, the head and the hair of the 'feet, and it shall consume the beard.
21 And in the same day shall a man 'nourish a young cow, and two sheep.
22 And for the 'abundance of milk, that they shall give, he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall everyone eat, which is left within the land.
23 And at the same day every place, wherein shall be a thousand vines, shall be at a thousand pieces of silver: so it shall be for the briers and for the thorns.
24 With arrows and with 'bow shall one come theither: because all the land shall be briers and thorns.
25 But on 'all the mountains, which shall be dug with the mattock, there shall not come theither the fear of briers and thorns: but they shall be for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheep.

1 The captivity of Israel and Judah by the Assyrians.
6 The infidelity of the Jews.
9 The destruction of the Assyrians.
14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked.
19 The word of God must be inquired at.

1 Moreover the Lord said unto me, Take thee a 'great roll, and write it 'with a man's pen, Make speed to the spoil: haste to the prey.
2 Then I took unto me 'faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.
3 After, I came unto the 'Prophetess, which conceived, and bare a son. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, 'Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz.
4 For before the 'child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoil of Samaria, before the 'King of Assyria.
5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet again unto me,
saying,
6 Because this people hath refused the waters of 'Shiloah that run softly, and rejoice with Rezin, and the son of Remaliah.
7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the River mighty and great, even the King of Assyria with all his glory, and he shall come up upon all their rivers, and go over all their banks.

8 And shall break into Judah, and shall overflow, and pass through, and shall come up to the neck, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

9 Gather together on heaps, O ye people, and not worthy to live of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters and of that thing which should come to pass threescore years after, as the Assyrians, which dwell beyond Euphrates.

10 Take counsel together, yet, it shall be brought to naught: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with us.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me, in taking of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people saith a confederacy, neither fear you their fear, nor be afraid of them.

13 Sanctify the Lord of hosts, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be as a sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rock to fall upon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall, and shall be broken, and shall be snared, and shall be taken.

16 Bind up the testimony: seal up the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will wait upon the Lord that hath hid his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me, are as signs and as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in Mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say unto you, Inquire at them that have a spirit of divination, and at the soothsayers which whisper and murmur, Should not a people inquire at their God? from the living to the dead?

20 To the Law, and to the testimony, if they speak not according to this word: it is because there is no light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall go to and fro in it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall even fret himself; and curse his king and his gods, and shall look upward.

22 And when he shall look to the earth, behold trouble, and darkness, vexation, and anguish, and he is driven to darkness.

9 1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 6 A prophecy of Christ. 14 The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

1 Yet the darkness shall not be according to the affliction, that it had when at the first he touched lightly the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, nor afterward when he was more grievous by the way of the sea beyond Jordan in Galilee of the Gentiles.

2 The people that walked in darkness, have seen a great light: they that dwelled in the land... of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased their joy: they have rejoiced before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide a spoil.

4 For the yoke of their burden, and the staff of their shoulder, and the rod of oppressor hast thou broken, as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely every battle of the warrior is with noise, and with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall be with burning, and devouring of fire.

6 For unto us a child is born, and unto us a Son is given: and the government is upon his shoulder, and he shall call his name, Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The prince of peace.

7 The increase of his government and peace shall have none end: he shall sit upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment, and with justice, from henceforth, even forever: the zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Jacob, and it lighted upon Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of their heart,

10 The bricks are fallen, but we will build it with hewn stones: the wild fig trees are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Nevertheless, the Lord will raise up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and join his enemies together.

12 Aram before and the Philistines behind, and they shall devour Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the Lord of hosts.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to err: and they that are led by them are devoured.

17 Therefore shall the Lord have no pleasure in their young men, neither will he have compassion of their fatherless and of their widows: for everyone is an hypocrite and wicked, and every mouth speaketh folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickedness burneth as a fire: it devoureth the briers and the thorns, and will kindle in the thick places of the forest: and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hosts shall the land be darkened, and the people shall be as the meat of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shall eat on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: everyone shall eat the flesh of his own arm.

21 Manasseh Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shall be against Judah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

10 Of wicked lawmakers. 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrians and after destroy them. 21 The remnant of Israel shall be saved.

1 Woe unto them that decree wicked decrees, and write grievous things,

2 To keep back the poor from judgment, and to take away the judgment of the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may spoil the fatherless.

3 What will ye do now in the day of visitation, and of destruction, which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help and where will ye leave your ‘glory’?
4 Without me everyone shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall down among the slain: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.
5 ¶ O Assyria, the rod of my wrath: and the staff in their hands is mine indignation.
6 I will send him to a dissembling nation, and I will give him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoil and to take the prey, and to tread them under feet like the mire in the street.
7 But he thinketh not so, neither doth his heart esteem it so: but he imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.
8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether Kings?
9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?
10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, seeing their idols were above Jerusalem, and above Samaria:
11 Shall not I, as I have done to Samaria, and to the idols thereof, so do to Jerusalem, and to the idols thereof?
12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished all his work upon mount Zion and Jerusalem, I will visit the fruit of the proud heart of the king of Assyria, and his glorious and proud looks,
13 Because he said, By the power of mine own strength, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I have removed the borders of the people, and have spoiled their treasures, and have pulled down the inhabitants like a valiant man.
14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one that gathereth eggs that are left, so have I gathered all the earth: and there was none to move the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.
15 Shall the ‘axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw exalt itself against him that moveth it? as if the rod should lift up itself against him that taketh it up, or the staff should exalt itself as it were no wood.
16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hosts send among his fat men leanness, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.
17 And the light of Israel shall be as a ‘fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shall burn, and devour his thorns and his briers in one day:
18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful fields both soul and flesh: and he shall be as the ‘fainting of a standard bearer.
19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may tell them.
20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, stay no more upon him that smote them, but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy one of Israel in truth.
21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob unto the mighty God.
22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them return. The consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness.
23 For the Lord God of hosts shall make the consumption even determined, in the midst of all the land.
24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people, that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Assyria: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee after the manner of Egypt.
25 But yet a very little time, and the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.
26 And the Lord of hosts shall raise up a scourge for him, according to the plague of Midian in the rock Oreb: and as his staff was upon the Sea, so he

10:3 Your riches and authority, that they may be safe, and that ye may receive them again.
10:4 Because they have forsaken me, some shall go into captivity, and the rest shall be slain.
10:5 God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.
10:6 That is, the Assyrians against the Jews, which are but hypocrites: and in the sixth and seventh verse is declared the difference of the work of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and act: for God’s intention is to chastise them for their amendment; and the Assyrians’ purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselves: thus in respect of God’s justice, it is God’s work, but in respect of their own malice, it is the work of the devil.
10:9 Seeing that I have overcome as well one city as another, so that none could resist, shall Jerusalem be able to escape mine hands?
10:12 When he hath sufficiently chastised his people (for he beginneth at his own house) then will he burn the rods.
10:15 Here we see that no creature is able to do anything, but as God appointeth him, and that they are all but his instruments to do his work, though the intentions be divers, as verse 6.
10:17 Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, and a fire to burn his enemies.
10:18 That is, the Assyrians.
10:20 The battle is lost and the standard taken.
10:22 This small number which seemed to be consumed, and yet according to God’s decree is saved, shall be sufficient to fill all the world with righteousness.
10:23 God will destroy this land as he hath determined, and after save a small portion.
10:24 As the Egyptians did punish thee.
10:26 Read Isa. 9:4.
14 When the Israelites passed through by the lifting up of Moses’ rod, and the enemies were drowned, Exod. 14:28.

1 Christ born of the root of Jesse.  2 His virtues and kingdom.  6 The fruits of the Gospel.  10 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 But there shall come a rod forth of the stock of Jesse, and a grass shall grow out of his roots.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him: the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the fear of the Lord,

3 And shall make him prudent in the fear of the Lord: for he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove by the hearing of his ears.

4 But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and with equity shall he reprove for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And justice shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

6 The 1wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie with the kid, and the calf, and the lion, and the fat beast together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed: their young ones shall lie together: and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock.

8 And the sucking child shall play upon the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand upon the cockatrice hole.

9 Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountain of mine holiness: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters that cover the sea.

10 And in that day the root of Jesse, which shall stand up for a sign unto the 1people, the nations shall seek unto it, and his 2rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lord stretch out his hand 1again the second time, to possess the remnant of his people, (which shall be left) of Assyria, and of Egypt, and of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinar, and of Hamath, and of the isles of the sea.

12 And he shall set up a sign to the nations, and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Judah from the four corners of the world.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy 1Judah, neither shall Judah vex Ephraim:

14 But they shall flee upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: they shall spoil them of the East together: Edom and Moab shall be the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptians' sea, and with his mighty wind shall will lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

28 He is come to Aiath: he is passed into Migron: at Michmach shall he lay up his armor.

29 They have gone over the ford: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is afraid: Gibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift up thy voice, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to hear, O poor Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed: the inhabitants of Gebim have gathered themselves together.

32 Yet there is a time that he will stay at Nob: he shall lift up his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hosts shall cut off the 1bough with fear, and they of high stature shall be cut off, and the high shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thick places of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall have a mighty fall.
lift up his hand 2 over the river, and shall smite him in his seven streams, and cause men to walk therein with shoes.

16 And there shall be a path to the remnant of his people which are left of Assyria, like as it was unto Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

12 A thanksgiving of the faithful for the mercies of God.

1 And thou shalt say in that day, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comfortest me.

2 Behold, God is my salvation: I will trust, and will not fear: for the Lord God is my strength and song: he is also become my salvation.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw waters out of the wells of salvation.

4 And ye shall say in that day, 'Praise the Lord: for he is become my salvation: I will trust, and my soul shall not be afraid. For the Lord God is my strength and song: he is also become my salvation.'

13 The Medes and Persians shall destroy Babylon.

1 The burden of Babel, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see.

2 Lift up a standard upon the high mountain: lift up the voice unto them: wag the 1hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded them, that I have sanctified: and I have called the mighty to my wrath, and them that rejoice in my 2glory.

4 The noise of a multitude is in the mountains like a great people: a tumultuous voice of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts numbereth the host of the battle.

5 They come from a far country, from the end of the heaven: even the Lord with the 1'swords of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howl ye, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be weakened, and all men's hearts shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: anguish and sorrow shall take them, and they shall have pain, as a woman that travaileth: everyone shall be amazed at his neighbor, and their faces shall be like 1flames of fire.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the 1'stars of heaven and the planets thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will visit the wickedness upon the world, and their iniquity upon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancy of the 2proud to cease, and will cast down the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a 1man more precious than fine gold, even a man above the wedge of gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heaven, and the earth, and the inhabitants thereof shall tremble: they shall go into the gates of the nobles, and all hands shall be weakened, and all men's hearts shall melt.

14 And 1it shall be as a chased Doe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up; every man shall turn to his own land.

15 Everyone that is found, shall be stricken through: and whosoever joineth himself, shall fall by the sword.

16 Their 1children also shall be broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be spoiled; and their wives ravished.

11:15 2 To wit, Nile, the great river of Egypt, which entereth into the sea with seven streams.

12:1 1 He showeth how the Church shall praise God, when they are delivered from their captivity.

12:2 1 Our salvation standeth only in God, who giveth us an assured confidence, constancy, and occasion, to praise him for the same.

12:3 1 The graces of God shall be so abundant, that ye may receive them in as great plenty, as waters out of a fountain that is full.

12:6 1 Ye that are of the Church.

13:1 1 That is, the great calamity, which was prophesied to come on Babel, as a most grievous burden, which they were not able to bear. In these twelve chapters following, he speaketh of the plagues wherewith God would smite the strange nations (whom they knew) to declare that God chastised the Israelites as his children, and these others as his enemies: and also if that God spare not these that are ignorant, that they must not think strange, if he punish them which have knowledge of his Law, and keep it not.

13:2 1 To wit, the Medes and Persians.
17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, nor be desirous of gold.

18 With bows also shall they destroy the children, and shall have no compassion upon the fruit of the womb, and their eyes shall not spare the children.

19 And Babylon the glory of kingdoms, the beauty and pride of the Chaldeans, shall be as the destruction of God in Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall not be inhabited forever, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall their shepherds make their folds there.

21 But Zim shall lodge there, and their houses shall be full of Ohim: Ostriches shall dwell there, and the Satyrs shall dance there.

22 AndLim shall cry in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is ready to come, and the days thereof shall not be prolonged.

14 1 The return of the people from captivity. 4 The desolation of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the king. 29 The destruction of the Philistines.

1 For the Lord will have compassion of Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and cause them to rest in their own land: and the stranger shall join himself unto them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.

2 And the people shall receive them and bring them to their own place, and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the Lord, for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captives they were, and have rule over their oppressors.

3 And in that day when the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou didst serve, 4 Then shalt thou take up this proverb against the King of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased? and the gold thirsty Babel rested?

5 The Lord hath broken the rod of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted, he did not let.

7 The whole world is at rest and is quiet: they sing for joy.

8 Also the fir trees rejoiced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no heavier came up against us.

9 Hell beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming, raising up the dead for thee, even all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All they shall cry and say unto thee, Art thou become weak also as we? art thou become like unto us?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the sound of the viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning? and cut down to the ground, which didst cast lots upon the nations?

13 Yet thou saidst in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, and exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation in the sides of the North.

14 I will ascend above the height of the clouds, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt be brought down to the grave, to the side of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall look upon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdoms?

17 He made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 All the kings of the nations, even they all sleep in glory, everyone in his own house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch: like the raiment of those that are slain, and thrust through with a sword, which go

13:21 1 Which were either wild beasts, or fowls, or wicked spirits, whereby Satan deluded man, as by the fairies, goblins, and such like fantasies.

14:1 1 He showeth why God will haste to destroy his enemies, to wit, because he will deliver his Church.

14:2 2 Meaning, that the Gentiles shall be joined with the Church, and worship God.

14:2 1 Signifying, that the Jews should be superiors to the Gentiles, and that they should be brought under the service of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subjection of Christ, 2 Cor. 10:5.

14:6 1 That is, he suffered all violence and injuries to be done.

14:7 1 Meaning, that when tyrants reign, there can be no rest nor quietness, and also how detestable a thing tyranny is, seeing the insensible creatures have occasion to rejoice at their destruction.

14:9 1 As though they feared, lest thou shouldst trouble the dead, as thou didst the living: and here he derideth the proud tyranny of the wicked, which know not that all creatures wish their destruction, that they may rejoice.

14:11 1 Instead of thy costly carpets and coverings.

14:12 1 Thou that thoughtest thyself most glorious, and as it were the only person in the whole universe.

14:14 1 Thou that thoughtest thyself most glorious, and as it were placed in the heaven: for the morning star that goeth before the sun, is called Lucifer, to whom Nebuchadnezzar is compared.

14:13 1 Meaning, Jerusalem, whereof the Temple was of the North side, Ps. 48:2, whereby he meaneth that tyrants fight against God, when they persecute his Church, and would set themselves in his place.

20 Thou shalt not be joined with them in the grave, because thou hast destroyed thine own land, and slain thy people: the seed of the wicked shall not be renowned forever.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquity of their fathers: let them not rise up nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 For I will rise up against them (saith the Lord of hosts) and will cut off Babel the name and the remnant, and the son, and the nephew, saith the Lord:

23 And I will make it a possession to the hedgehog, and pools of water, and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the Lord of hosts.

24 The Lord of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely like as I have purposed, so shall it come to pass, and as I have consulted, it shall stand:

25 That I will break to pieces Assyria in my land, and upon my mountains will I tread him under foot, so that his yoke shall depart from them, and his burden shall be taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsel that is consulted upon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out over all the nations.

27 Because the Lord of hosts hath determined, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it away?

28 ¶ In the year that king Ahaz died, was this burden.

32 What shall then one answer the messengers of the Gentiles? that the Lord hath stablished Zion, and the poor of his people shall trust in it.

15 A prophecy against Moab.

1 The burden of Moab. Surely Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 ¶ He shall go up to the Temple, and to Dibon to the high places to weep: for Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howl: upon all their heads shall be baldness, and every beard shaven.

3 In their streets shall they be girded with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets everyone shall howl, and come down with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard unto Jahaz: therefore the warriors of Moab shall shout: the soul of everyone shall lament in himself.

5 Mine heart shall cry for Moab: his fugitives shall flee unto Zoa, an heifer of three years old: for they shall go up with weeping by the mounting up of Luhith: and by the way of Horonaim they shall raise up a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dried up: therefore the grass is withered, the herbs consumed, and there was no green herb.

7 Therefore what every man hath left, and their substance shall they bear to the brook of the willows.

15:2 The Moabites shall flee to their idols for succor, but it shall be too late.

15:5 The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites: or as one that felt the great judgment of God that God should come upon them.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

16 Send ye a lamb to the ruler of the world from the rock of the wilderness, unto the mountain of the daughter Zion.

3 Gather a council, execute judgment, make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab, be thou their covert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall end: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressor shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the throne be prepared, and he shall sit upon it in steadfastness, in the tabernacle of David, judging, and seeking judgment, and hasting justice.

6 We have heard of the pride of Moab (he is very proud) even his pride, and his arrogancy, and his indignation, but his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howl unto Moab, everyone shall howl: for the foundations of Kir Hareseth shall ye mourn, yet they shall be stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut down, and the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen have broken the principal vines thereof: they are come unto Jazer: they wandered in the wilderness: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went over the sea.

9 Therefore will I weep with the weeping of Jazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunk with my tears, because upon thy summer fruits, and upon thy harvest a shouting is fallen.

10 And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyards shall be no singing nor shouting for joy: the treader shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I have caused the rejoicing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shall sound like a harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir Heres.

12 And when it shall appear that Moab shall be weary of his high places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hath spoken, saying, In three years as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be contemned in all the great multitude, and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

17 A prophecy of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. 7 calamity moveth to repentance.

1 The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, for it shall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Aror shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flocks: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

3 The munition also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 And in that day the glory of Jacob shall be made clean.

5 And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm, 18 1 Of the enemies of the Church. 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

1 Oh, the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia,
2 Sending ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of reeds upon the waters, saying, 3 Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and spoiled, unto a terrible people from their beginning even hitherto: a nation by little and little even trodden under foot: whose land the floods have spoiled.
3 All ye the inhabitants of the world, and dwellers in the earth, shall see when he setteth up a sign in the mountains, and when he bloweth the trumpet, ye shall hear.
4 For so the Lord said unto me, I will rest and behold in my tabernacle, as the heat drying up the rain, and as a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.
5 For afore the harvest, when the flour is finished, and the fruit is ripening in the flour, then he shall cut down the branches with hooks, and shall take away, and cut off the boughs:
6 They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: for the fowl shall summer upon it, and every beast of the earth shall winter upon it.
7 At that time shall a present be brought unto the Lord of hosts (a people that is scattered abroad, and a nation by little and little even trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled) to the place of the name of the Lord of hosts, even the mount Zion.

19 1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conversion to the Lord.

1 The burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord and he shall be as he that gathereth the ears in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall be left in it: as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the top of the upmost boughs, and four or five in the high branches of the fruit thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.
7 At that day shall a man look to his maker, and his eyes shall look to the holy one of Israel.
8 And he shall not look to the altars, the works of his own hands, neither shall he look to those things which his own fingers have made, as groves and images.
9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs and branches, which they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.
10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graft strange vine branches.
11 In the day shall thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be gone in the day of possession, and there shall be desperate sorrow.
12 Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sound like the noise of the sea: for the noise of the people shall make a sound like the noise of mighty waters.
13 The people shall make a sound like the noise of many waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and as a rolling thing before the whirlwind.
14 And lo, in the evening there is trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

17:5 2 Which valley was plentiful and fertile.
17:6 1 Because God would have his covenant stable, he promiseth to reserve some of this people, and to bring them to repentance.
17:7 1 He showeth that God's corrections ever bring forth some fruit, and cause his to turn from their sins, and to humble themselves to him.
17:9 1 As the Canaanites left their cities when God did place the Israelites there, so the cities of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants than bushes, when God shall send the enemy to plague them.
17:10 1 Which are excellent, and brought out of other countries.
17:11 1 As the Lord threateneth the wicked in his Law, Lev. 26:16.
17:12 1 The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number, and gathered of many nations.
17:13 1 He addeth this for the consolation of the faithful which were in Israel.
17:14 1 He compar eth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which riseth overnight, and in the morning is gone.
18:1 1 He meaneth that part of Ethiopia, which lieth toward the sea, which was so full of ships that the sails (which he compar eth to wings) seemed to shadow the sea.
18:2 2 Which in those countries were great, insomuch as they made ships of them for swiftness.
18:3 This may be taken, that they sent others to comfort the Jews, and to promise them help against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength, that the Jews should not trust therein: or that they did solicit the Egyptians, and promised them help against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength, that the Jews should not trust therein: or that they did solicit the Egyptians, and promised them aid to go against Judah.
18:4 1 I will stay a while from punishing the wicked.
18:5 2 They are practically useless to the wicked, and are so full of ships, whereby he meaneth, that he will seem to favor them, and give them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off.
18:6 1 Not only men shall contemn them, but the brute beasts.
18:7 1 Meaning, that God will pity his Church, and receive that little remnant as an offering unto himself.
19:1 1 Read Isa. 13:7.
And he shall come over all their munitions in a swift cloud, and shall come into the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the head of the Egyptians shall be seen: and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and shall bewail anyone that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereat, because of the counsel of the Lord of hosts, which he hath determined upon it.

And the princes of Zoan are become fools: the counsel thereof is become foolish; how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise? I am the son of the ancient kings?

Because the Egyptians trusted in the defense of their country, in the multitude of their idols, and in the valiancy of their men, the Lord showeth that he will come over all their munitions in a swift cloud, and that their idols shall tremble at his coming and that men’s hearts shall faint.

20 2 The three years captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia described by the three years going naked of Isaiah.

1 In the year that 1Tartan came to 2Ashdod, (when 1Sargon king of Assyria sent him) and had fought against Ashdod, and taken it,

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the 1sackcloth from thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years as a sign and wonder upon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the king of Assyria take away the captivity of Egypt, and the captivity of Ethiopia, both young men and old men, naked and barefoot, with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall fear, and be ashamed of 1Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their 2glory.

6 Then shall the inhabitants of this 1isle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria, and how shall we be delivered?

2 A grievous vision was showed unto me, The Transgressor against a transgressor, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go up Elam, besiege Media: I have caused all the mourning thereof to cease.

3 Therefore are my 1loins filled with sorrow: sorrows have taken me as the sorrows of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down when I heard it, and I was amazed when I saw it.

4 Mine heart failed: fearfulness troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath he turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch tower: eat, drink: 1arise, ye princes, anoint the shield:

6 For thus hath the 1Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, to tell what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with two horsemen: a chariot of an ass, and a chariot of a camel: and he hearkened and took diligent heed.

8 And he cried, A 1lion: my Lord, I stand continual upon the watch tower in the daytime, and I am set in my watch every night:

9 And behold, this man’s chariot cometh with two horsemen. And he answered and said, ‘Babel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he broken unto the ground.

13 ¶ The burden against Arabia. In ‘the forest of Arabia shall ye tarry all night, even in the ways of Dedanites.

14 O inhabitants of the land of Tema, bring forth ‘water to meet the thirsty, and prevent him that fleeth with his bread.

15 For they flee from the drawn swords, even from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war.

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Yet a year ‘according to the years of an ‘hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail.

17 And the residue of the number of the strong archers of the sons of ‘Kedar shall be few: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

2 Thou that art full of ‘noise, a city full of brute, a joyous city, thy slain men shall not be slain ‘with sword, nor die in battle.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bow: they shall be ‘bound: all that shall be found in thee, shall be bound together, which have fled from ‘far.

4 Therefore said I, Turn away from me, I will weep ‘bitterly: labor not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call unto weeping and mourning, and to baldness and girding with sackcloth.

13 And behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine, ‘eating and drinking, for tomorrow we shall die.

14 And it was declared in the ears of the Lord of hosts. Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till ye die, saith the Lord God of hosts.

16 What hast thou to do here? and whom hast thou 'here? that thou shouldest here hew thee out a sepulcher, as he that heweth out his sepulcher in a high place, or that graveth an habitation 'for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, the Lord will carry thee away with a great captivity, and will surely cover thee.

18 He will surely roll and turn thee like a ball in a large country: there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory shall be the 'shame of thy lord's house.

19 And I will drive thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.

20 And in that day will I 'call my servant Eliakim, the son of Hilkiah, 22 And the 'key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder: so he shall open, and no man shall shut: and he shall shut, and no man shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a 'nail in a sure place, and he shall be for the throne of glory to his father's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, even of the nephews and posterity of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.

23 1 A Prophecy against Tyre. 17 A promise that it shall be restored.

1 The 'burden of Tyre. Howl ye ships of 2Tarshish: for it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shall come from the land of 3Kittim: it is 'revealed unto them.

2 Be still, ye that dwell in the isles: the merchants of Sidon, and such as pass over the sea, have 'replenished thee.

3 The 'seed of Nile growing by the abundance of waters, and the harvest of the river was her revenues, and she was a mart of the nations.

4 Be ashamed, thou Sidon: for the 1sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I have not 'travailed, nor brought forth children, neither nourished young men, nor brought up virgins.

5 When the fame cometh to the Egyptians, they shall be 'sorry, concerning the rumor of Tyre.

6 Go you over to 1Tarshish: howl, ye that dwell in the isles.

7 Is not this that your glorious city? her antiquity is of ancient days: her own feet shall lead her afar off to be a sojourner.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyre (that 1crowneth men) whose merchants are princes? whose chapmen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hosts hath decreed this, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Pass through thy land like a flood to the 1daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand upon the sea: he shook the kingdoms: the Lord hath given a commandment concerning the place of merchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice when thou art oppressed: 1O virgin 2daughter of Sidon:

13 Behold the land of the Chaldeans: this was no people: 1Assyria founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof: 2By Kittim they meant all the isles and countries Westward from Palestine. 3All men know of this destruction.

3 Tyre is destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar.
they raised the palaces thereof, and he brought it to ruin.
14 Howl ye ships of Tarshish, for your strength is destroyed.
15 And in that day shall Tyre be forgotten seventy years (according to the years of one King) at the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as an harlot.
16 Take an harp and go about the city (thou harlot that hast been forgotten) make sweet melody, sing more songs that thou mayest be remembered.
17 And at the end of seventy years shall the Lord visit Tyre, and she shall return to her wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the earth, that are in the world.
18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be holy unto the Lord: it shall not be laid up nor kept in store, but her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and to have durable clothing.

24 A prophecy of the curse of God for the sins of the people.
1 Behold, the Lord maketh the earth empty, and he maketh it waste: he turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.
2 And there shall be like people, like Priest, and like servant, like master, like maid, like mistress, like buyer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giver, like taker to usury.
3 The earth shall be clean emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.
4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away, the world is feebled and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.
5 The earth also deceiveth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the laws: they changed the ordinances, and brake the everlasting Covenant.
6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are burned up, and few men are left.
7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, do mourn.
8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that rejoice, endeth: the joy of the harp ceaseth.
9 They shall not drink wine with mirth: strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.
10 The city of vanity is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.
11 There is a crying for wine in the streets: all joy is darkened: the mirth of the world is gone away.
12 In the cities is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.
13 Surely thus shall it be in the midst of the earth, among the people, as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.
14 They shall lift up their voice: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall rejoice from the sea.
15 Wherefore praise ye the Lord in the valleys, even the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the isles of the sea.
16 From the uttermost part of the earth we have heard praises, even glory to the just, and I said, My leanness, my leanness, woe is me: the transgressors have offended: yea, the transgressors have grievously offended.
ISAIAH 24:17

17 Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And he that fleeth from the noise of the fear, shall fall into the pit: and he that cometh up out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the 'windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is utterly broken down: the earth is cleanly dissolved: the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be removed like a tent, and the iniquity thereof shall be heavy upon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shall the Lord 'visit the host above that is on high, even the kings of the world that are upon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together as the prisoners in the pit: and they shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days shall they be 'visited.

23 "Then the moon shall be abashed, and the sun ashamed, when the Lord of hosts shall reign in mount Zion and in Jerusalem: and glory shall be before his ancient men.

25 A thanksgiving to God in that he sheweth himself judge of the world, by punishing the wicked, and maintaining the godly.

1 O Lord, thou 'art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderful things, according to the counsels of old, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a 'city an heap, of a strong city, a ruin: even the place of strangers of a nation.

3 Therefore shall the 'mighty people give glory unto thee: the city of the strong nations shall fear thee.

4 For thou hast been a strength unto the poor, even a strength to the needy in trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadow against the heat: for the blast of the mighty is like a storm against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of the strangers, as the heat in a dry place; he will bring down the song of the mighty, as the heat in the shadow of a cloud.

6 And in this mountain shall the Lord of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, even a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountain 'the covering that covereth all people, and the veil that is spread upon all nations.

8 He will destroy death forever: and the Lord God will 'wipe away the tears from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Lo, this is our God: we have waited for him, and he will save us. This is the Lord, we have waited for him, we will rejoice and be joyful in salvation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the Lord rest, and 'Moab shall be threshed under him even as straw is threshed in 2Madmenah.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the midst of them (as he that swimmeth stretcheth them out to swim) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring down their pride.

12 The defense also of the height of thy walls shall he bring down and lay low, and cast them to the ground, even unto the dust.

26 A song of the faithful, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the salvation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

24:18 1 Meaning, that God's wrath and vengeance should be over and under them: so that they should not escape no more than they did at Noah's flood.

24:21 1 There is no power so high or mighty, but God will visit him with his rods.

24:22 1 Not with his rods, as verse 21, but shall be comforted.

24:23 1 When God shall restore his Church, the glory thereof shall so shine, and his ministers (which shall be ancient men) that the sun and the moon shall be dark in comparison thereof.

25:1 1 Thus the Prophet giveth thanks to God because he will bring under subjection these nations by his corrections, and make them of his Church, which before were his enemies.

25:2 1 Not only of Jerusalem, but also of these other cities which have been thine enemies.

25:3 1 The arrogant and proud, which before would not know thee, shall by thy corrections fear and glorify thee.

25:4 1 The rage of the wicked is furious, till God break the force thereof.

25:5 1 Meaning, that as the heat is abated by the rain, so shall God bring down the rage of the wicked.

25:6 1 As a cloud shadoweth from the heat of the sun, so shall God assuage the rejoicing of the wicked against the godly.

25:7 1 Meaning, that ignorance and blindness, whereby we are kept back from Christ.

25:8 1 He will take away all occasions of sorrow and fill his with perfect joy, Rev. 7:17 and 21:4.

25:10 1 By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church.

25:11 There were two cities of this name: one in Judah, 1 Chron. 2:49, and another in the land of Moab, Jer. 48, which seemeth to have been a plentiful place of corn, Isa. 10:31.
1 In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah, We have a strong city: salvation shall God set for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preserve perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord forever: for in the Lord God is strength forevermore.

5 For he will bring down them that dwell on high: the high city he will abase: even unto the ground will he cast it down, and bring it unto dust.

6 The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

7 The way of the just is righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the just.

8 Also we, O Lord, have waited for thee in the way of thy judgments: the desire of our soul is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night, thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

10 Let mercy be showed to the wicked, yet he will not learn righteousness: in the land of uprightness their enemies shall devour them.

11 O Lord, they will not behold thine high hand: but they shall see it, and be confounded with the zeal of the people, and the fire of thine enemies shall devour them.

12 Lord unto us thou wilt ordain peace: for thou also hast wrought all our works for us.

13 O Lord our God, other lords beside thee, have ruled us, but we will remember thee only, and thy Name.

14 The dead shall not live, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memory.

15 Thou hast increased the nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious, thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble have they visited thee: they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth near to the travail, is in sorrow, and crieth in her pains, so have we been in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We have conceived, we have born in pain, as though we should have brought forth wind: there was no help in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of the world fall.

19 ¶ Thy dead men shall live: even with my body shall they rise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors after thee: hide thyself for a very little while, until the indignation pass over.

21 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to visit the iniquity of the inhabitants of the earth upon them: and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more hide her slain.

27 A prophecy against the kingdom of Satan. And of the joy of the Church for their deliverance.

1 In that day the Lord with his sore and great and mighty sword shall visit Leviathan, that piercing serpent, even Leviathan, that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard of red wine.

3 I the Lord do keep it: I will water it every moment: lest any assail it, I will keep it night and day.

4 Anger is not in me: who would set the briers and the thorns against me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or will he feel my strength, that he may make peace with me, and be at one with me?

6 Hereafter Jacob shall take root: Israel shall flourish and grow: and the world shall be filled with fruit.

7 Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that were slain by him?

8 In measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when he bloweth with his rough wind in the day of the East wind.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruit, the taking away of all images may not stand up.

10 Yet the defended city shall be desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken, and left like a wilderness. There shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs of it are dry, they shall be broken: the women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of none understanding: therefore he that made them shall not have compassion of them, and he that formed them, shall have no mercy on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the channel of the river unto the river of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpet be blown, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Assyria, and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lord in the holy Mount at Jerusalem.

28 Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel. The antowards them that should learn the word of God.

1 Woe to the crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beauty shall be a fading flower, which is upon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and are overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong host like a tempest of hail, and a whirlwind that overthroweth, like a tempest of mighty waters that overflow, which throw to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be trodden under foot, even the crown and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beauty shall be a fading flower, which is upon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as the hasty fruit afore Summer, which when he hath looketh upon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty unto the residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength unto them that turn away the battle to the gate.

7 But they have erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drink: the Priest and the prophet have erred by strong drink: they are swallowed up with wine: they have gone astray through strong drink: they fail in vision: they stumble in judgment.

27:12 1 He shall destroy all from Euphrates to the Nile: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to have escaped.

27:13 1 In the time of Cyrus, by whom they should be delivered: but this was chiefly accomplished under Christ.

28:1 1 Meaning, the proud kingdom of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly prosperity.

28:2 1 Because the Israelites for the most part dwelt in plentiful valleys, he meaneth hereby the valley of them that had abundance of worldly prosperity, and were as it were crowned therewith as with garlands.

28:4 1 Which is not of long continuance, but is soon ripe and first eaten.

28:5 1 Signifying, that the faithful, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperity, but made God their glory, shall be preserved.

28:6 1 He will give counsel to the governor, and strength to the captain, to drive the enemies in at their own gates.

28:7 1 Meaning, the hypocrites which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkenness and vomiting.

27:1 Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church should bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.

27:4 1 Therefore he will destroy the kingdom of Satan, because he loveth his Church for his own mercy’s sake, and cannot be angry with it, but wisheth that he may pour his anger upon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thorns.

27:5 1 He marveth that Israel will not come by gentleness, except God make them to feel his rods, and so bring them unto him.

27:6 1 Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the root spring again and bring forth in great abundance.

27:7 1 He showeth that God punisheth his in mercy, and his enemies in justice.

27:8 1 That is, thou wilt not destroy the root of thy Church, though the branches thereof seem to perish by the sharp wind of affliction.

27:9 1 He showeth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatry, and the monuments thereof be destroyed.

27:10 1 Notwithstanding his favor that he will show them after, yet Jerusalem shall be destroyed, and grass for cattle shall grow in it.

27:11 1 God shall not have need of mighty enemies: for the very women shall do it to their great shame.
8 For all their tables are full of filthy vomit: no place is clean.
9 1Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand the things that he heareth? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.
10 For 1precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept, line unto line, line unto line, there a little, and there a little.
11 For with a stammering tongue, and with a strange language shall he speak unto this people.
12 Unto whom he said, 2This is the rest: 3give rest unto him that is weary, and this is the refreshing, but they would not hear.
13 1Therefore shall the word of the Lord be unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line unto line, line unto line, there a little and there a little: that they may go and fall backward, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.
14 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men, that rule this people, which is at Jerusalem.
15 Because ye have said, We have made a 1covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though falsehood our refuge, and under vanity are we hid.
16 1Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lay in Zion a stone, a 2tried stone, a precious cornerstone, a sure foundation. He that believeth in him shall not make haste.
17 Judgment also will I lay to the rule, and 1righteousness to the balance, and the 2hail shall sweep away the vain confidence, and the waters shall overflow the secret place.
18 And your covenant with death shall be disanulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall run over and pass through, then shall ye be trodden down by it.
19 When it passeth over, it shall take you away: for it shall pass through every morning in the day and in the night, and there shall be only 1fear, to make you to understand the hearing.
20 For the bed is 1strait, that it cannot suffice, and the covering narrow, that one cannot wrap himself.
21 For the Lord shall stand as in mount 1Perazim: he shall be wroth as in the valley 2of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act.
22 Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I have heard of the Lord of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.
23 Hearken ye, and hear my voice: hearken ye, and hear my speech.
24 Doth the plowman plow all the day, to sow? doth he open, and break the clods of his ground?
25 When he hath made it 1plain, will he not then sow the fitches, and sow cumin, and cast in wheat by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place?
26 For his God doth instruct him to have discretion, and doth teach him.
27 For fitches shall not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cartwheel be turned about upon the cumin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and cumin with a rod.
28 Bread 1corn when it is threshed, he doth not always thresh it, neither doth the wheel of his cart still make a noise, neither will he break it with the teeth thereof.
29 1This also cometh from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in works.

29 A prophecy against Jerusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of men.
1 Ah altar, altar of the city that David dwelt in: add year unto year: let them kill lambs.
2 But I will bring the altar into distress, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow, and it shall be unto me like an altar.
3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast up ramparts against thee.
4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speak out of the ground: thy voice also shall be as out of the dust: thy voice also shall be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of divination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.
5 Moreover, multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaff that passeth away: and it shall be in a moment, even suddenly.
6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and shaking, and a great noise, a whirlwind, and a tempest, and a flame of a devouring fire.
7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall be as a dream or vision by night; even all they that make the war against it, and strongholds against it, and lay siege unto it.
8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth: and when he awaketh, behold, his soul is empty: or like as a thirsty man dreameth, and make you blind: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drink.
9 Stay yourselves and wonder: they are blind, and their talking is faint, and his soul longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations that fight against mount Zion.
10 For the Lord hath covered you with a spirit of divination, and thy talking shall speak out of the ground like dust: thy voice also shall be out of the ground like the voice of the hungry in the night. Some read, as if this were a comfort to the Church for the destruction of their enemies.
11 And the vision of them all is become unto you, as the words of a book that is sealed up, which they cannot direct you.

and made the just to fall without cause.
   22 Therefore thus saith the Lord unto the house of Jacob, even he that redeemed Abraham: Jacob shall not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.
   23 But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my Name, and sanctify the Holy one of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.
   24 Then they that erred in spirit, shall have understanding, and they that murmured, shall learn doctrine.

30

1 He reproveth the Jews, which in their adversity used their own counselors, and sought help of the Egyptians, despising the Prophets. Therefore he showeth what destruction shall come upon them, but offers mercy to the repentant.

1 Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, take counsel, but not of me, and cover with a covering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sin upon sin:
2 Which walk forth to go down into Egypt
(and have not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.
3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.
4 For his princes were at Zaan, and his ambas-dadors came unto Hanes.
5 They shall be all ashamed of the people that cannot profit them, nor help, nor do them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproach.
6 The burden of the beasts of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent against them that shall bear their riches upon the shoulders of the colts, and their treasures upon the bunches of the camels, to a people that cannot profit.
7 For the Egyptians are vanity, and they shall help in vain. Therefore have I cried unto her, Their strength is to sit still.
8 Now go, and write before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the last day forever and ever:
9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not hear the Law of the Lord.
10 Which say unto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things: but speak flattering things unto us: prophesy errors.
11 Depart out of the way: go aside out of the path:
cause the Holy one of Israel to cease from us.
12 Therefore thus saith the Holy one of Israel, Because you have cast off this word, and trust in violence, and wickedness, and stay thereupon, 13 Therefore this iniquity shall be unto you as a breach that falleth, or a swelling in an high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly in a moment.
14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potter's pot, which is broken without pity, and in the breaking thereof is not found a shard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.
15 For thus said the Lord God, the Holy one of Israel, In rest and quietness shall ye be saved: in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.
16 For ye have said, No, but we will flee away upon horses. Therefore shall ye flee. We will ride upon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecutors be swifter.
17 A thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one:
at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as a ship mast upon the top of a mountain, and as a beacon upon an hill.
18 Yet therefore will the Lord wait, that he may have mercy upon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have compassion upon you:

29:24 1 Signifying, that except God give understanding, and knowledge, man cannot but still err and murmur against him.
30:1 1 Who contrary to their promise take not me for their protector, and contrary to my commandment seek help at strangers.
2 They seek shifts to cloak their doings, and not godly means.
30:4 1 The chief of Israel went into Egypt in embassy to seek help, and abode at these cities.
30:6 1 That is, a heavy sentence or prophecy against the beasts that carried their treasures into Egypt, by the wilderness, which was south from Judah, signifying that if the beasts should not be spared, the men should be punished much more grievously.
30:7 1 To wit, to Jerusalem.
2 And not to come to and fro to seek help.
30:8 1 That is, this prophecy.
2 That it may be a witness against them for all posterity.
30:9 1 He sheweth what was the cause of their destruction, and bringeth also all misery to man: to wit, because they would not hear the word of God, but delighted to be flattered, and led in error.
30:10 1 Threaten us not by the word of God, neither be so rigorous, nor talk unto us in the Name of the Lord, as Jer. 11:21.
30:12 1 Meaning, in their stubbornness against God and the admonitions of his Prophets.
30:14 1 Signifying that the destruction of the wicked shall be without recovery.
30:15 1 Offsetting by his Prophets he put you in remembrance of this,
that you should only depend on him.
30:16 1 We will trust to escape by our horses.
30:17 1 Whereas all the trees are cut down save two or three to make masts.
for the Lord is the God of judgment. Blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will certainly have mercy upon thee at the voice of thy cry: when he heareth thee, he will answer thee.

20 And when the Lord hath given you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, thy rain shall be no more kept back, but thine eyes shall see thy rain.

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, 1walk ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And ye shall pollute the covering of the images of silver, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say unto it, 2Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he give rain unto thy seed, when thou shalt sow the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and as oil: in that day shall thy cattle be fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the young asses, that till the ground, shall eat clean provender, which is winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill shall there be rivers, and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers shall fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the Moon shall be as the light of the Sun, and the light of the Sun shall be sevenfold, and like the light of seven days in the day that the Lord shall bind up the breach of his people, and heal the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, 1the Name of the Lord cometh from far, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire.

28 And his spirit is as a river that overfloweth up to the neck: it divideth asunder, to fan the nations with the fan of vanity, and there shall be a bridle to cause them to err in the jaws of the people.

29 But there shall be a song unto you as in the night, when a solemn feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to go unto the mount of the Lord, to the Mighty one of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall declare the lighting down of his arm with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a devouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For with the voice of the Lord shall Assyria be destroyed, which smote with the rod.

32 And in every place that the staff shall pass, it shall cleave fast, which the Lord shall lay upon him, 3Get thee hence.

33 Ye shall cast away your idols, which you have made of gold, and silver, with all that belongeth unto them, as a most filthy thing, and polluted.

34 But he yet is wisest; therefore he will bring one of Israel, nor seek unto the Lord.

35 Woe unto them that go down into Egypt for help, and stay upon horses, and trust in chariots, and in the multitude of people, and in high looks, and in the entering in of the门户.

36 For with the voice of the Lord shall Assyria be destroyed, which smote with the rod.

37 With joy and assurance of the victory.

38 Against Babel: meaning the Assyrians and Babylonians.

39 For Tophet is prepared of old; it is even prepared for the King; he hath made it deep and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the Lord, like a river of brimstone, doth kindle it.

40 Ye shall rejoice at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sung for joy of the solemn feast, which began in the evening.

41 It is for the help of men.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seek for the help of men.

1 Woe unto them that go down into Egypt for help, and stay upon horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they be very strong; but they look not unto the Holy one of Israel, nor seek unto the Lord.

2 But he yet is wisest; therefore he will bring evil, and not turn back his word, but he will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the help of them that work vanity.

31:2 1 And knoweth their crafty enterprises, and will bring all to naught.
31:3 1 Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Israelites.
31:4 1 He sheweth the Jews, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able, that none can resist his power: and so careful over them, as a bird over her young, which ever flieeth about them for their defense: which similitude the scripture useth in divers places, as Deut. 32:11; Matt. 23:37.
31:6 1 He toucheth their conscience, that they might earnestly feel their grievous sins, and so truly repent, forasmuch as now they are almost drowned and past recovery.
31:7 1 By these fruits your repentance shall be known, as Isa. 2:20.
31:8 1 When your repentance appeareth.
31:9 1 This was accomplished soon after when Sennacherib’s army was discomfited, and he fled to his castle in Nineveh for succor. 2 To destroy his enemies.
32:1 1 This prophecy is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him. 2 By judgment and justice is meant an upright government, both in policy, and religion.
32:2 1 Where men are weary with traveling for lack of water.
32:3 1 He promiseth to give the true light, which is the pure doctrine of God’s word, and understanding, and zeal of the same, are contrary to the threatenings against the wicked, Isa. 6:9 and 29:10.
32:5 1 Vice shall no more be called virtue, nor virtue esteemed by power and riches.
32:9 1 He prophesieth of such calamity to come, that they will not spare the women and children, and therefore willet them to take heed and provide.
32:10 1 Meaning, that the affliction should continue long, and when one year were past, yet they should look for new plagues. 2 God will take from you the means and occasions, which made you to contemn him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.
32:12 1 By the teats he meaneth the plentiful fields, whereby men are nourished as children with the teat; or, the mothers for sorrow and heaviness shall lack milk.
32:14 1 Or, multitude.
32:15 1 That is, when the Church shall be restored: thus the Prophets, after they have denounced God’s judgments against the wicked, used to comfort the godly, lest they should faint.
16 And judgment shall dwell in the desert, and justice shall remain in the fruitful field.
17 And the work of justice shall be peace, even the work of justice and quietness, and assurance forever.
18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.
19 When it raineth, then the corn shall be gathered, and he that soweth upon all waters, and drive the feet of the ox and the ass.

20 Blessed are ye that sow upon all waters, and make dry some part of their commodities.
21 For there shall be many places of rejoicing, and much joy in the tabernacle of their God.
22 For I have filled Zion with judgment and justice, and she shall be as a city that is inhabited for ever.
23 And by knowledge shall thy gain be increased, and thy righteousness shall go before thee.
24 And the wayfaring man shall not err, nor go astray in the way of the wilderness.
25 The Lord is exalted, for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgment and justice, 26 And the law of kindness: he shall have no erring, and evil shall not come near him.
27 The Lord is our righteousness, and he shall be our strength, and our guide for ever and ever.
28 And as the days of a tree, so shall the days of Zion be forever.
29 And the increase of his kingdom shall never cease, and the riches thereof shall not be diminished.
30 And the Lord shall be above them, and his glory shall be upon them, and he shall make them exceeding of power.
31 And he shall take away the wrongdoings of his people, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
32 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
33 And they shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
34 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
35 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
36 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
37 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
38 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
39 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
40 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
41 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
42 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
43 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
44 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
45 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
46 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
47 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
48 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
49 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
50 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
51 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
52 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
53 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
54 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
55 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
56 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
57 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
58 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
59 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
60 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
61 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
62 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
63 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
64 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
65 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
66 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
67 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
68 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
69 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
70 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
71 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
72 And the Lord shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
73 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
74 And the Lord shall make them exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
75 And he shall be made exceeding of power, and shall destroy all the iniquities of them that dwell in the land, and shall make them exceeding of power.
his waters shall be sure.
17 'Thine eyes shall 'see the King in his glory: they shall behold the 'land far off.
18 'Thine heart 'shall meditate fear, Where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?
19 'Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a dark speech, that thou canst not perceive, and of a stammering tongue that thou canst not understand.
20 Look upon Zion the city of our solemn feasts: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that cannot be removed: and the stakes thereof can never be taken away, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.
21 For surely there the mighty Lord will be unto us, as a place 'of floods, and broad rivers, whereby shall pass no ship with oars, neither shall great ship pass thereby.
22 For the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our lawgiver: the Lord is our King, he will save us.
23 Thy 'cords are loosed: they could not well strengthen their mast, neither could they spread the sail: then shall the 'prey be divided for a great spoil: yea, the lame shall take away the prey.
24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein, shall have their iniquity forgiven.

34
1 He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the love that he beareth toward his Church.

1 Come near, ye 'nations and hear, and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear and all that is therein, the world and all that proceedeth thereof.
2 For the indignation of the Lord is upon all nations, and his wrath upon all their armies: he hath 'destroyed them and delivered them to the slaughter.
3 And their slain shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their bodies, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

33:17 1 They shall see Hezekiah delivered from his enemies, and restored to honor and glory.
2 They shall be no more shut in as they were of Sennacherib, but go where it pleaseth them.
33:18 1 Before that this liberty cometh thou shalt think that thou art in great danger: for the enemy shall so sharply assail you, that one shall cry, where is the clerk that writeth the names of them that are taxed? another, Where is the receiver? another shall cry for him that valueth the rich houses, but God will deliver you from this fear.
33:21 1 Let us be content with this small river of Shiloah and not desire the great streams and rivers, whereby the enemies may bring in ships and destroy us.
33:22 1 He derideth the Assyrians and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction as they that perish by shipwreck.
2 He comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shall be enriched with all benefits both of body and soul.
34:1 1 He prophesieth of the destruction of the Edomites and other nations which were enemies to the Church.
34:2 1 God hath determined in his counsel, and hath given sentence for their destruction.
34:4 1 He speaketh this in respect of man's judgment, who in great fear and horrible troubles, thinketh that heaven and earth perisheth.
34:5 1 I have determined in my secret counsel, and in the heavens to destroy them till my sword be weary with shedding of blood.
2 They had an opinion of holiness, because they came of the Patriarchs, but in effect were accursed of God, and enemies unto his Church, as the Papists are.
34:6 1 That is, both of young and old, poor and rich of his enemies.
2 That famous city shall be consumed as a sacrifice burnt to ashes.
34:7 1 The mighty and rich shall be as well destroyed as the infirmities.
34:9 1 He alludeth to the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, Gen. 19:24.
34:11 1 Read Isa. 13:21 and Zeph. 2:14.
2 In vain shall any man go about to build it again.
34:12 1 Meaning, here shall be neither order nor policy, nor state of commonweal.
34:14 1 Read Isa. 13:21.
shall rest there, and shall find for herself a quiet dwelling.

15 There shall the owl make her nest, and lay and hatch, and gather them under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her make.

16 Seek in the book of the Lord, and read: none of these shall fail, none shall want her make: for his mouth hath commanded, and his very spirit hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided unto them by line: they shall possess it forever: from generation to generation shall they dwell in it.

35 1 The great joy of them that believe in Christ. 3 Their office which preach the Gospel. 8 The fruits that follow thereof:

1 The desert and the wilderness shall rejoice, and the waste ground shall be glad and flourish as the rose.

2 It shall flourish abundantly, and shall greatly rejoice also and joy; the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it: the beauty of Carmel, and of Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen the weak hands, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say unto them that are fearful, Be you strong, fear not: behold, your God cometh with vengeance: even God with a recompense, he will come and save you.

5 Then shall the eyes of the blind be lightened, and the ears of the deaf be opened.

6 Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the barren wilderness shall be rejoiced in the day of Jacob.

7 And the dry ground shall be as a pool, and the thirsty as springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where they lay, shall be a place for reeds and rushes.

8 And there shall be a path and a way, and the way shall be called holy: the polluted shall not pass by it: for he shall be with them, and walk in the way, and the fools shall not err.

9 There shall be no lion, nor noisome beasts shall ascend by it, neither shall they be found there, that the redeemed may walk.

10 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with praise: and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

36 1 Sennacherib sends Rabshakeh to besiege Jerusalem. 15 His blasphemies against God.

1 Now in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib King of Assyria came up against all the strong cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the King of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah, with a great host, and he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the path of the fuller's field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah the 1steward of the house, and Shebna 2the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder.

4 And Rabshakeh said unto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great king, the King of Assyria, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, Surely I have eloquence, but counsel and strength are for the war: on whom then dost thou trust?
trust, that thou rebellst against me?
6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staff of reed, on Egypt, whereupon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is 1Pharaoh King of Egypt unto all that trust in him.
7 But if thou say unto me, We trust in the Lord our God, is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah took down, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?
8 Now therefore give hostages to my Lord the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.
9 For how canst thou 1despise any captain of the 1least of my lord's servants? and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?
10 And am I now come up without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said unto me, 1Go up against this land and destroy it.
11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, 1Speak, I pray thee, to thy servants in the Aramite's language (for we understand it) and talk not with us in the Jews' tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.
12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words, and not to the men that sit on the wall? that they may eat their own thing, and drink their own 1piss with you?
13 So Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear the words of the great King, of the King of Assyria.
14 Thus saith the king. Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.
15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us: this city shall not be given over into the hand of the king of Assyria.
16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make 1appointment with me, and come out to me, that every man may eat of his own vine, and every man of his own fig tree, and drink every man the water of his own well, 17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your own land, even a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.
18 Lest Hezekiah deceive you, saying, The Lord will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?
19 Where is the god of 1Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharvaim? or how have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?
20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hath delivered their country out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of mine hand?
21 Then they 1kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.
22 Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, unto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

37 2 Hezekiah asketh counsel of Isaiah, who promiseth him the victory. 10 The blasphemy of Sennacherib. 16 Hezekiah's prayer. 36 The army of Sennacherib is slain of the Angel. 38 And he himself of his own sons.

1 And 1when the King Hezekiah heard it, he 1rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and came into the house of the Lord.
2 And he sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackcloth unto 1Isaiah the Prophet the son of Amoz.
3 And he said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemy: for the children are come to the 1birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

36:6 1 Satan labored to pull the godly King from one vain confidence to another: to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weak and would deceive them, to yield himself to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any help of God.
36:9 1 Or, turn back.
36:10 1 Thus the wicked to deceive us, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but we must try the spirits, whether they be of God or no.
36:11 1 They were afraid, lest by his words, he should have stirred up the people against the King, and also pretended to grow to some appointment with him.
36:12 1 Hebrew, the water of their feet.
36:16 1 The Hebrew word signifies blessing, whereby this wicked captain would have persuaded the people, that their condition should be better under Sennacherib than under Hezekiah.
36:19 1 That is, of Antioch in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see how every town had his peculiar idol, and how the wicked make God an idol because they do not understand that God maketh them his scourge, and punisheth cities for sin.
37:1 1 In sign of grief and repentance.
37:2 1 To have comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed and so his prayer be more earnest: teaching hereby that in all dangers these two are the only remedies, to seek unto God and his ministers.
37:3 1 We are in as great sorrow as a woman that travaileth of child, and cannot be delivered.
4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the words of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Assyria his master hath sent to rail on the living God, and to reproach him with words, which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou up thy prayer for the remnant that are left.
5 So the servants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.
6 And Isaiah said unto them, Thus say unto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the King of Assyria have blasphemed me.
7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a noise, and return to his own land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.
8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Assyria fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.
9 He heard also men say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,
10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah King of Judah, saying, Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the King of Assyria.
11 Behold, thou hast heard what the Kings of Assyria have done to all lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be delivered?
12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed? as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?
13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?
14 ¶ So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it, and he went up into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lord.
15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the Lord, saying,
16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, which dwellest between the Cherubims, thou art very God alone over all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made the heaven and the earth.
17 Incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and hear all the words of Sennacherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the living God.
18 Truth it is, O Lord, that the Kings of Assyria have destroyed all lands and their country.
19 And have cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, even wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.
20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, save thou us out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou only art the Lord.
21 ¶ Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed unto me, concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria, 22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, The virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.
23 Whom hast thou railed on and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the holy One of Israel.
24 By thy servants hast thou railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the top of the mountains to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut down the high cedars thereof, and the fair fir trees thereof, and I will go up to the heights of his top, and to the forest of his fruitful places.
25 I have dug, and drunk the waters, and with the plant of my feet have I dried all the rivers closed in.
26 Hast thou not heard how I have of old time made it, and have formed it long ago? and should
I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and laid on ruined heaps, as cities defended.

27 Whose inhabitants have 'small power, and are afraid and confounded: they are like the grass of the field and green herb, or grass on the house tops, or corn blasted afore it be grown.

28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy 'going out, and thy coming in, and thy fury against me.

29 Because thou rages against me, and thy tumult is come unto mine ears, therefore will I put mine 'hook in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee back again the same way thou 'camest.

30 And this shall be a 'sign unto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this year such as growth of itself; and the 'second year such things as grow without sowing: and in the third year, sow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall again take root downward and bear fruit upward.

32 For out of Jerusalem shall go a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeal of the Lord of hosts shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the King of Assyria, He shall not enter into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall return, and not come into this city, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant 'David's sake.

36 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the camp of Assyria, an hundred fourscore, and five thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37:27 ¹ Hebrew, are short in hand.

² He showeth that the state and power of most flourishing cities endureth but a moment in respect of the Church, which shall remain forever, because God is the maintainer thereof.

37:28 ¹ Meaning, his counsels and enterprises.

37:29 ¹ Because Sennacherib showed himself, as a devouring fish and furious beast, he useth these similitudes, to teach how he will take him and guide him.

² Thou shalt lose thy labor.

37:30 ¹ God giveth signs after two sorts: some go before the thing, as the signs that Moses wrought in Egypt, which were for the confirmation of their faith, and some go after the thing, as the sacrifice, which they were commanded to make three days after their departure; and these latter are to keep the benefits of God in our remembrance: of the which sort this here is.

² He promiseth that for two years the ground of itself should feed them.

37:31 ¹ They whom God hath delivered out of the hands of the Assyrians, shall prosper: and this properly belongeth to the Church.

37:35 ¹ For my promise sake made to David.

37:37 ¹ Which was the chiefest city of the Assyrians.

37:38 ¹ Or, Armenia.

² Who was also called Sardanapalus, in whose days ten years after Sennacherib's death the Chaldeans overcame the Assyrians by Mero-dach their king.

38:1 ¹ Soon after that the Assyrians were slain: so that God will have the exercise of his children continually, that they may learn only to depend upon God and aspire to the heavens.

38:2 ¹ For his heart was touched with fear of God's judgment, seeing he had appointed him to die so quickly after his deliverance from so great calamity, as one unworthy to remain in that estate, and also foreseeing the great change that should come in the Church, forasmuch as he left no son to reign after him: for as yet Manasseh was not born, and when he reigned, we see what a tyrant he was.

38:6 ¹ He doth not only promise to prolong his life, but to give him rest and quietness from the Assyrians, who might have renewed their army to revenge their former discomfiture.

38:7 ¹ For Hezekiah had asked for the confirmation of his faith, a sign, as verse 22, and 2 Kings 20:8, whereunto he was moved by the singular motion of God's spirit.

38:8 ¹ Read 2 Kings 20:10.
ISAIAH 38:9

returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone down.

9 1The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord in the land of the living: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is removed from me, like a shepherd's tent: I 1have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day to night, thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I reckoned to the morning: but he brake all my bones like a lion, from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes were lifted up on high: O Lord, ict hath oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say, for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walk weakly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, to them that overlive them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be known, that thou causest me to sleep and hast given life to me.

17 Behold, for felicity I had bitter grief, but it was thy pleasure to deliver my soul from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

18 For the grave cannot confess thee: death cannot praise thee: they that go down into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.

19 But the living, the living, he shall confess thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my song, all the days of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then said Isaiah, Take a lump of dry figs and lay it upon the boil, and he shall recover.

22 Also Hezekiah had said, What is the sign, that I shall go up into the house of the Lord?

39

Hezekiah is reproved because he showed his treasures unto the ambassadors of Babylon.

1 At the same time, Merodach Baladan, the son of Baladan, King of Babel, sent letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and showed them the house of the treasures, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures; there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdom that Hezekiah showed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet unto King Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, from Babel, 4 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen; there is nothing among my treasures, that I have not showed them.

5 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts,
6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.
7 And of thy sons, that shall proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the King of Babel.
8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he said, Yet let there be peace, and truth in my days.

40 2 Remission of sins by Christ. 3 The coming of John Baptist. 18 The Prophet reproveth the Idolaters, and them that trust not in the Lord.
1 Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, will your God say.
2 Speak comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto God say.
3 A voice crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make straight in the desert a path for our God.
4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked shall be straight, and the rough places plain.
5 And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
6 A voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the grace thereof is as the flowers of the field.
7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass.
8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand forever.
9 ¶ O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain: O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength: lift it up, be not afraid: say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God.
10 Behold, the Lord God will come with power, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.
11 He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall guide them with young.
12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist? and counted heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure? and weighed the mountains in a weight, and the hills in a balance?
13 Who hath instructed the spirit of the Lord? or was his counselor, or taught him?
14 Of whom took the counsel, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of judgment? or taught him knowledge, and showed unto him the way of understanding?
15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: behold, he taketh away the isles as a little dust.
16 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.
17 All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him, less than nothing, and vanity.
18 To whom then will ye liken God? or what similitude will ye set up unto him?
  19 The workman melteth an image, or the goldsmith beateth it out in gold, or the goldsmith maketh silver plates.
  20 Doth not the poor choose out a tree that will not rot, for an oblation? he seeketh also unto him a cunning workman, to prepare an image that shall not be moved.
  21 Know ye nothing? have ye not heard it? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood it by the foundation of the earth?
  22 He sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; he stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.
  23 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the judges of the earth, as vanity,
  24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not sown, as though their stock took no root in the earth: for he did even blow upon them, and they withered, and the whirlwind will take them away as stubble.
  25 To whom now will ye liken me, that I should be like him, saith the Holy one?
  26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, and bringeth out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatness of his power and mighty strength nothing faileth.
  27 Why saiest thou, O Jacob, and speakest O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgment is passed over of my God?
  28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is weary: there is no searching of his understanding.
  29 But he giveth strength unto him that fainteth, and unto him that hath no strength, he increaseth power.

30 Even the young men shall faint, and be weary, and the young men shall stumble and fall.

  1 Keep silence before me, O islands, and let the people renew their strength: let them come near, and let them speak: let us come together into judgment.
  2 Who raised up justice from the East, and called him to his foot? and gave the nations before him, and subdued the kings? he gave them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble unto his bow.
  3 He pursued them, and passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feet.
  4 Who hath wrought and done it? he that calleth the generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the first, and with the last I am the same.

2 Thou shalt seek them and shalt not find them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that war against thee, as a thing of nought.

3 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee.

4 Fear not thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel: I will help thee, saith the Lord, and thy redeemer the holy One of Israel.

9 I will set in the wilderness the cedar, the Shittah, and the myrrhe tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wilderness the fir tree, the elm and the box tree together.

10 Therefore let them see and know, and let them consider and understand together that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the holy One of Israel hath created it.

11 Stand to your cause, saith the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons saith the King of Jacob.

12 Let them bring them forth, and let them tell us what shall come, let them show the former things what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them: either declare us things for to come.

13 Show the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good or do evil, that we may declare it, and behold it together.

45:8 1 He comforteth the Jews, as if he would say, Though when ye look to the heavens and earth for succor, ye see nothing now but signs of God's wrath, yet will cause them to bring forth most certain tokens of your deliverance, and of the performance of my promise: which is meant by righteousness.

2 They are bowed down, and fallen together, for they could not rid them of the burden, and their 3soul is gone into captivity.

3 Hear ye me, O house of Jacob, and all that remain of the house of Israel, which are 1born of me from the womb, and brought up of me from the birth.

4 Therefore unto 1old age, I the same, even I will bear you until the hoary hairs: I have made you: I will also bear you, and I will carry you, and I will deliver you.

Isaiah 48

The hypocrisy of the Jews is reproved. 12 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 Of their deliverance out of Babylon.

1 Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of the waters of Judah: which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth nor in righteousness. 2 For they are called of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hosts. 3 I have declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, and I showed them: I did them suddenly and they came to pass. 4 Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass. 5 Therefore I have declared it to thee of old; before it came to pass, I showed it thee; lest thou shouldst say, Mine idol hath done them, and my carved image hath commanded them. 6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and will not ye declare it? I have showed thee new things, even now, and hid things, which thou knewest not. 7 They are created now, and not of old, and even before this thou hearest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither didst know them, neither yet was thine ear opened of old; for I knew that thou wouldest grievously transgress: therefore have I called thee a transgressor from the womb. 9 For my Name's sake will I defer my wrath, and in my mercy that must save thee. 10 Behold, I have fined thee, but not as silver: I will not give my glory unto another. 11 Therefore shall evil come upon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof; destruction shall fall upon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come upon thee suddenly, or thou beware. 12 Stand now among thine enchanters, and in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whom thou hast wearied thyself from thy youth) if so be thou mayest have profit, or if so be thou mayest have strength. 13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the stargazers, and prognosticators stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee. 14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver their own lives from the power of the flame: there shall be no coals to warm at, nor light to sit by. 15 Thus shall they serve thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, even thy merchants from thy youth; every one shall wander to his own quarters: none shall save thee.

48:1 1 The hypocrisy of the Jews is reproved. 48:2 2 They make a show, as though they would have none other God. 48:3 1 He sheweth that they could not accuse him in anything, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoever he had promised. 48:4 1 I have done for thee more than I promised, that thy stubbornness and impudence might have been overcome. 48:5 1 How thou shouldest be delivered out of Babylon. 48:6 1 Will ye not acknowledge this my benefit, and declare it unto others? 48:7 1 Showing that man's arrogance is the cause why God doth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their own wisdom. 48:8 1 From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliverance was as the birth of the Church. 48:9 1 As it was my free mercy that I did choose thee: so it is my free mercy that must save thee. 48:10 1 For I had respect to thy weakness and infirmity: for in silver there is some pureness, but in us there is nothing but dross. 48:11 1 God joineth the salvation of his with his own honor: so that they cannot perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32:27. 48:12 1 Read Isa. 42:8.

1 The Lord God exhorteth all nations to believe his promises. 6 Christ is the salvation of all that believe, and will deliver them from the tyranny of their enemies.

1 Hear ye me, O isles, and hearken, ye people from far. The Lord hath called 'me from 'the womb, and made mention of my name from my mother's belly.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword: under the shadow of his hand hath he 'hid me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quiver,

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant 'Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I have 'labored in vain: I have spent my strength in vain and for nothing; but my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God.

5 And now saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, that I may bring Jacob again to him (though Israel be not gathered, 'yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord; and my God shall be my strength.)

6 And he said, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also give 'thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the world.

7 Thus saith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his holy One, to him that is despised in soul, to a nation that is abhorred, to a 'servant of rulers, Kings shall see, and 'arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful: and the holy One of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, 'In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and will give 'thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mayest raise up the 'earth, and obtain the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

48:22 1 Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse God's promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as Isa. 57:21.

11 And I will make all my mountains, as a way, and my paths shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from far: and lo, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of 'Sinim.

13 Rejoice, O 'heavens; and be joyful, O earth; burst forth into praise, O mountains; for God hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her child, and not have compassion on the son of her womb? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palm of mine 'hands: thy 'walls are ever in my sight.

17 Thy builders make haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift up thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely put them all upon thee as a garment, and gird thyself with them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that dwell devour thee, shall be far away.

20 The children of thy barrenness shall say again in thine ears, The place is strait for me; give place to me that I may dwell.

24 Shall the prey be taken from the mighty? or the just captivity delivered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, 'Even the captivity of the mighty shall be taken away: and the prey of the tyrant shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children, 26 And will feed them that spoil thee, with their own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine; and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Savior and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

2 I clothe the heavens with darkness, and make a sack their covering.

3 The Lord God hath given me a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is weary; he will raise me up in the morning, in the morning he will waken mine ear to hear, as the learned.

4 The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned I back.

5 I gave my back unto the 'smitters, and my cheeks to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

6 For the Lord God will help me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

7 He is near that justifieth me: who will contend with me? Let us stand together? who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

8 Behold, the Lord God will help me: who is he that can condemn me? lo, they shall wax old as a garment: the moth shall eat them up.

9 Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let us stand together? who is mine adversary? Let us stand together? who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him hear the voice of his servant: he that walketh in darkness and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all you kindle a fire, and are compassed about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand: ye shall lie down in sorrow.

12 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my salvation shall be forever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

13 Hearken unto me ye that know righteousness, let them learn, and consider together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me, and I will show him that I am the Lord; with whom I will make my light to shine, and the territories of my salvation.

23 And ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God, ye, and your children, and your oxen, and your sheep, in the place which the Lord shall choose to cause his name to dwell there.

25 And I will turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to the fathers, that I may turn again the captivity of the children of Israel, and bring them again to the land which I gave unto their fathers.

26 And I will pour upon the house of Jacob a spirit of grace and of supplications; and I will cause the sun and the moon to stand still, and the signs and the seasons, and I will cause the ground to tremble.

27 And the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be as the light of the stars, and the light of the stars shall be as the light of the moon.

28 And the Lord shall save the children of Israel out of Egypt, and out of the hand of all the kingdoms of the earth, and shall deliver them out of all the lands wherein they have been cast, and shall bring them into their own land, and shall be their God forever.

29 And the Lord shall set his hand again to the people of Israel, and shall have mercy upon them, and shall bring them again out of the land of Egypt, and out of all the lands wherein they have been cast, and shall establish them upon the land which he gave unto their fathers.

30 And the Lord shall bring back all the people of Israel, and they shall possess their inheritance, and shall dwell in their own land.

32 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall gather the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

33 And the Lord shall set his hand again to the people of Israel, and shall have mercy upon them, and shall bring them again out of all the lands wherein they have been cast, and shall establish them upon the land which he gave unto their fathers.

34 And the Lord shall make them a great nation, and shall be feared in the land of many nations.

35 And there shall be no more who shall spoil them, nor shall strangers any more trouble them: for the Lord shall reign in 2Jerusalem, and 2Israel for evermore.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahims example. 7 Not to fear men. 17 The great affliction of Jerusalem, 22 and her deliverance. depth of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over?
   11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with joy unto Zion, and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain joy and gladness: and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.
   12 I, even I am he that comfort you. Who art thou that thou shouldst fear a mortal man, and the son of man, which shall be made as grass?
   13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressor, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressor?
   14 The captive hasteth to be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail.
   15 And I am the Lord thy God that divided the sea, when his waves roared: the Lord of hosts is his Name.
   16 And I have put my words in thy mouth, and have defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.
   17 Awake, awake, and stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.
   18 There is none to guide her among all her sons, whom she hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up.
   19 These two things are come unto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction and famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?
   20 Thy sons have fainted, and lie at the head of all the streets as a wild bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

52:1 A consolation to the people of God.
    7 Of the messengers thereof.

1 Arise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beauty, O Jerusalem, the holy City: for henceforth shall there be no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2 Shake thyself from the dust, and arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose the bands of thy neck, O thou captive daughter Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye were sold for naught; therefore shall ye be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down afore time into Egypt to sojourn there, and Assyria oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for naught, and they that rule over them, make them to howl, saith the Lord: and my Name all the day continually is blasphemed.

6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day, that I am he that do speak: behold, it is I.

7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him, that declareth good tidings, publisheth peace!

8 The voice of thy watchmen shall be heard: they shall lift up their voice, and shout together: for they shall go over, and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the streets to them that went over.

52:1 2 That all things may be restored in heaven and earth, Eph. 1:10.
51:21 1 Put off the garments of sorrow and heaviness, and put on the apparel of joy and gladness.
52:2 1 The Babylonians paid nothing to me for you: therefore I will take you again without ransom.
52:2 2 The Egyptians might pretend some cause to oppress my people because they went thither, and remained among them, but the Assyrians have no title to excuse their tyranny by, and therefore will I punish them more than I did the Egyptians.
52:5 1 To wit, by the wicked, which think that I have no power to deliver them.
52:7 1 Signifying, that the joy and good tidings of their deliverance should make their affliction in the mean time more easy: but this is chiefly meant of the spiritual joy, as Nah. 1:15; Rom. 10:15.
52:8 1 The Prophets which are thy watchmen shall publish this thy deliverance: this was begun under Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah, but was accomplished under Christ.
shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion.

9 O ye desolate places of Jerusalem, be glad and rejoice together, for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

11 Depart, depart ye: go ye out from thence, and touch no unclean thing, go out of the midst of her, be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor depart by fleeing away: but the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel will gather you together.

13 Behold, my servant shall prosper: he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee (his visage was so deformed of men, and his form of the sons of men) so shall he sprinkle many nations: the Kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them, shall they see, and that which they had not heard shall they understand.

53 Of Christ and his kingdom, whose word few will believe. 6 All men are sinners. 11 Christ is our righteousness, 12 and is dead for our sins.

1 Who will believe our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 But he shall grow up before him as a branch, and as a root out of a dry ground; he hath neither form nor beauty: when we shall see him, there shall be no form that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men: he is a man of sorrows, and acquainted with sorrow: and we hid as it were our faces from him: he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath born our infirmities, and carried our sorrows, yet we did judge him as plagued and smitten of God, and humbled.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions: he was broken for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way, and the Lord hath laid upon him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet did he not open his mouth: he is brought as a sheep to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearer is dumb, so he opened not his mouth.

8 He was taken out from prison, and from judgment: 2and who shall declare his age? for he was cut out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickedness, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would break him and make him perfected, 2as a strong column, and as a stake out of the earth: and the transgressors shall see it, 3and be turned every one to his own way, and the Lord hath delivered him into their hands.

11 He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many: for he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I give him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he hath poured out his soul unto death; and he was counted with the transgressors, and he bare the sin of many, and prayed for the trespassers.

54 1 More of the Gentiles shall believe the Gospel than of the Jews. 7 God leaveth his for a time, to whom afterward he sheweth mercy.

1 Rejoice, O barren that didst not bear: break forth into joy and rejoice, thou that didst not travail with child; for the desolate hath more children than the married wife, saith the Lord.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spread out the curtains of thine habitation: spare not: stretch out thy cords, and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seed shall possess the Gentiles, and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Fear not: for thou shalt not be ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not be put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood anymore.

5 For he that made thee, is thine husband, (whose name is the Lord of hosts) and thy redeemer the holy One of Israel, shall be called the God of the whole world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit, and as a young wife when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a little while have I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment in mine anger, I hid my face from thee: but with everlasting mercy have I had compassion on thee, saith the Lord thy God.

9 For this is unto me as the waters of Noah; for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth, so have I sworn that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountains shall remove, and the hills shall fall down; but my mercy shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace fall away, saith the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I will lay thy stones with the carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with sapphires, and thy gates shining stones, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

12 And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord, and much peace shall be to thy children.

13 In righteousness shalt thou be established, and be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear it: and from fear: for it shall not come near thee.

14 Behold, the enemies shall gather himself, but without me: whosoever shall gather himself in thee, against thee, shall fall.

15 Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and him that bindeth him with his cords, and causeth the vessels to fall into the hand of the workman, who maketh all things with which the children of men work.

16 Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and him that bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I have created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment, thou shalt condemn.

18 And in righteousness shall thou be established, and in all thy going forth; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

19 In stability and sureness, so that it shall stand forever.

20 By the hearing of his word and inward moving of his Spirit.

55 1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 God's counsels are not as man's. 12 The joy of the faithful.

1 Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and ye that have no silver, come, buy and eat: come, I say, buy wine and milk without silver and without money.

2 Wherefore do ye lay out silver, and not for bread? and your labor without being satisfied? hearken diligently unto me, and eat that which is 53:12 1 That is, of all that believe in him.

54:1 1 After that he hath declared the death of Christ, he speaketh to the Church, because it should feel the fruit of the same, and call her barren, because that in the captivity she was a widow without hope to have any children.
54:2 1 The Church in this her affliction and captivity shall bring forth more children, than when she was at liberty: or this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number that should come of her. Her deliverance under Cyrus was as her childhood, and therefore this was accomplished, when she came to her age, which was under the Gospel.
54:4 1 The afflictions which thou suffered at the beginning.
54:5 1 That did regenerate thee by his holy Spirit.
54:6 1 As a wife which was forsaken in thy youth.
54:9 1 As sure as the promise that I made to Noah, that the waters should no more overflow the earth.
54:11 1 Hereby he declareth the excellent estate of the Church under Christ.
54:12 1 Or, jasper, or pearl.
54:13 1 By the hearing of his word and inward moving of his Spirit.
54:14 1 In stability and sureness, so that it shall stand forever.
54:15 1 And therefore shall not prevail.
54:16 1 Signifying hereby, that man can do nothing, but so far as God giveth power: for seeing that all are his creatures, he must needs govern and guide them.
55:1 1 Christ by proposing his graces and gifts to his Church, exempteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined works, and the Epicureans, which are full with their worldly lusts, and so thirst not after these waters.
55:2 1 He reproveth their ingratitude, which refuse those things that God offereth willingly, and in the meantime spare neither cost nor labor to obtain those which are nothing profitable.
good, and let your soul delight in 2fatness.

3 Incline your ears, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live, and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the 4sure mercies of David.

4 Behold, I gave 1him for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master unto the people.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, 1and a nation that knew not thee, shall run unto thee because of the Lord thy God, and the Holy one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the Lord while he may be 1found: call ye upon him while he is near.

7 Let the wicked 1forsake his ways, and the unrighteous his own imaginations, and return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he is very ready to forgive.

8 For my 4thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts above your thoughts.

10 Surely as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread unto him that eatest,

11 So shall my 1word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace; the 1mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into joy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thorns shall grow fir trees; for nettles shall grow the myrrh tree, and it shall be to the Lord 1for a name, and for an everlasting 2sign that shall not be taken away.

56 1 An exhortation to judgment and justice. 10 Against shepherds that devour their flock.

1 Thus saith the Lord, 1Keep judgment and do justice, for my salvation is at hand to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man which layeth hold on it; he that keepeth the 1Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 And let not the son of the strangers, which 1is joined to the Lord, speak and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people; neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord unto the Eunuchs that keep my Sabbaths, and choose the thing that pleaseth me, and take hold of my covenant,

5 Even unto them will I give in mine 1House and within my walls, a place, and a 1name better than of the sons and of the daughters; I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleave unto the Lord, to serve him, and to love the Name of the Lord, and to be his servants; everyone that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and embraceth my covenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holy mountain, and make them joyful in mine 2House of prayer; their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for 4all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye 1beasts of the field, come to devour, even all ye beasts of the forest.

2 You shall be fed abundantly.
553 1 The same covenant which though my mercy I ratified and confirmed to David, that it should be eternal, 2Sam. 7:13; Acts 13:34.
554 1 Meaning Christ, of whom David was a figure.
555 1 To wit, the Gentiles, which before thou didst not receive to be thy people.
556 1 When he offereth himself by the preaching of his word.
557 1 Hereby he sheweth that repentance must be joined with faith, and how we cannot call upon God aright, except the fruits of our faith appear.
558 1 Although you are not soon reconciled one to another and judge me by yourselves, yet I am most easy to be reconciled, yea, I offer my mercies to you.
551 1 If these small things have their effect, as daily experience sheweth, much more shall my promise which I have made and confirmed, bring to pass the things which I have spoken for your deliverance.
5512 1 Read Isa. 44:23 and 49:13.
5513 1 To set forth his glory.
561 1 God sheweth what he requireth of them after that he hath delivered them: to wit, the works of charity whereby true faith is declared.
562 1 Which I will declare toward you, and pour into your hearts by my Spirit.
563 1 Under the Sabbath he comprehendeth the whole service of God and true religion.
564 1 Let none think himself unmeet to receive the graces of the Lord: for the Lord will take away all impediments, and will for sake none which will keep his true religion, and believe in him.
565 1 Meaning, in his Church.
566 1 They shall be called after my people, and be of the same religion: yea, under Christ the dignity of the faithful shall be greater than the Jews were at that time.
567 1 Hereby he meaneth the spiritual service of God, to whom the faithful offer continual thanksgiving, yea themselves and all that they have, as a lively and acceptable sacrifice.
568 2 Not only for the Jews, but for all others, Matt. 21:13.
569 1 Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, etc., thus he speaketh to fear the hypocrites and to assure the faithful that when this cometh, they may know it was told them before.
ISAIAH 56:10 732

10 Their 'watchmen are all blind: they have no knowledge: they are all dumb dogs: they cannot bark: they lie and sleep, and delight in sleeping.

11 And these greedy dogs can never have enough: and these shepherds cannot understand: for they all look to their own way, everyone for his advantage, and for his own purpose.

12 Come, I will bring wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink, and 'tomorrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

57 1 God taketh away the good, that he should not see the horrible plagues to come. 2 Of the wicked idolaters, 3 and their vain confidence.

1 The righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart, and merciful men are taken away, and no man understandeth that the righteous is taken away 'from the evil to come.

2 'Peace shall come: they shall rest in their beds, everyone that walketh before him.

3 But you 'witches' children, come hither, the seed of the adulterer and of the whore.

4 On whom have ye jested? upon whom have ye gaped and thrust out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, and a false seed?

5 Inflamed with idols under every green tree? and sacrificing the 'children in the valleys under the tops of the rocks?

6 'Thy portion is in the smooth stones 'of the river: they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering; thou hast offered a sacrifice. Should I delight in 'these?

7 Thou hast made thy 'bed upon a very high mountain: thou wastest up thither, even thither wastest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the 'doors also and posts hast thou set up thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thyself to another, than me, and wentest up, and didst 'enlarge thy bed, and make a covenant between thee and them, and lovedst their bed in every place where thou sawest it.

9 Thou wentest 'to the kings with oil, and didst increase thine ointments, and send thy messengers far off, and didst humble thyself unto hell.

10 Thou weariest thyself in thy manifold journeys, yet saidest thou not, 'There is no hope: thou hast found life by thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And whom didst thou reverence or fear, seeing thou hast 'lied unto me, and hast not remembered me, neither set thy mind thereon? is it not because I hold my peace, and that of long 'time? therefore thou fearest not me.

12 I will declare thy righteousness 'and thy works, and they shall not profit thee.

13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together, deliver thee: but the wind 'shall take them all away: vanity shall pull them away: but he that trusteth in me shall inherit the land, and shall possess mine holy Mountain.

14 'And he shall say, Cast up, cast up: prepare the way: take up the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith he that is high and excellent, he that inhabiteth the eternity, whose Name is the Holy one, I dwell in the high and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to revive the spirit of the humble, and to give life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend forever: neither will I be always wroth, for the spirit should fail before me: and I have made the breath.

17 For his wicked covetousness I am angry with him, and have smitten him: I hid me, and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his own heart.

18 I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comfort unto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the fruit of the lips, to be peace: peace unto them that are far off, and to them that are near, saith the Lord: for I will heal him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

1 The office of God's ministers. 2 The works of the hypocrites. 6 The fast of the faithful. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

1 Cry aloud, spare not: lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins.

2 Yet they seek me daily, and will know my ways, even as a nation that did did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice: they will draw near unto God, saying,

3 Wherefore have we fasted, and thou seekest it not? we have punished ourselves, and thou regardest it not. Behold, in the day of your fast you will seek your will, and require all your debts.

4 Behold, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye shall not fast as ye do today, to make your voice to be heard above.

5 Is it such a fast that I have chosen, that a man should afflict his soul for a day, and to bow down his head, as a bull rush, and to lie down in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to take off the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

7 Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that wander, unto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, and hide not thyself from thine own flesh?

8 Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy righteousness shall go before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall hear. Here I am: if thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou pour out thy soul to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soul: then shall thy light spring out in the darkness, and thy darkness shall be as the noon day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones, and shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations, and thou shalt be called the repairer of the breach, and the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine Holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor seeking thine own will, nor speaking a vain word, 14 Then shalt thou delight in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

57:16 1 I will not use my power against frail man, whose life is but a blast.

57:17 1 That is, for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by covetousness.

57:18 1 Though they were obstinate, yet I did not withdraw my mercy from them.

57:19 1 That is, I frame the speech and words of my messengers which shall bring peace.

58:1 The Lord thus speaketh to the Prophet, willing him to use all diligence and severity to rebuke the hypocrites.

58:2 They will seem to worship me and have outward holiness.

58:3 He setteth forth the malice and disdain of the hypocrites, which grudge against God, if their works be not accepted.

58:4 So long as you use contention and oppression, your fasting and prayers shall not be heard.

58:5 That you leave off all your extortions.

58:7 For in him thou seest thyself as in a glass.

58:8 That is, the prosperous estate wherewith God will bless thee.

58:9 Whereby is meant all manner of injury.

58:10 That is, have compassion on their miseries.

58:12 Thine adversity shall be turned into prosperity.

58:13 Signifying, that of the Jews should come such as should build again the ruins of Jerusalem and Judea: but chiefly this is meant of the spiritual Jerusalem, whose builders were the Apostles.
59 1 The wicked perish through their own iniquities. 12 The confession of sins. 16 God alone will preserve his Church though all men fail.

1 Behold, the Lord’s hand is not shortened, that it cannot save: neither is his ear heavy, that it cannot hear.

2 But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity: your lips have spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquity.

4 No man calleth for justice: no man contendeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak vain things: they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch cockatrice eggs, and weave the spider’s web: he that eateth of their eggs, died, and that which is trode upon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webs shall be no garment, neither shall they cover themselves with their labors: for their works are works of iniquities, and the work of cruelty is in their hands.

7 Their feet turn to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equity in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice come near unto us: we wait for light, but lo, it is darkness: for brightness, but we walk in darkness.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noon day as in the twilight: we are in solitary places, as dead men.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn like doves: we look for equity, but there is none: for health, but it is far from us.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our trespasses are with us, and we know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we have departed away from our God, and have spoken of cruelty and rebellion, conceiving and uttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore judgment is turned backward, and justice standeth far off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and he that refraineth from evil, maketh himself a prey: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no judgment.

16 And when he saw that there was no man, he wondered that none would offer himself. Therefore his arm did save it, and his righteousness itself did sustain it.

17 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an helmet of salvation upon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak.

18 As to make recompense as to require the fury of the adversaries with a recompense to his enemies: he will fully repair the islands.

19 So shall they fear the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the Sun; for the enemy shall come like a flood; but the Spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come unto Zion, and unto them that turn from iniquity in Jacob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my Covenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words, which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of the seed of thy seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth even forever.

59:3 1 Read Isa. 1:15.
59:4 1 All men wink at the injuries and oppressions, and none go about to remedy them.
2 According to their wicked devices, they hurt their neighbors.
59:5 1 Whatsoever cometh from them is poison, and bringeth death.
2 They are profitable to no purpose.
59:9 1 That is, God’s vengeance to punish our enemies.
2 God’s protection to defend us.
59:10 1 We are altogether destitute of counsel, and can find no end of our miseries.
59:11 1 We express our sorrows by outward signs, some more, some less.
59:12 1 This confession is general to the Church to obtain remission of sins, and the Prophets did not exempt themselves from the same.
59:13 1 To wit, against our neighbors.
59:14 1 There is neither justice nor uprightness among men.
59:15 1 The wicked will destroy him.
59:16 1 Meaning, to do justice, and to remedy the things that were so far out of order.
2 That is, his Church or his arm did help itself, and did not seek aid of any other.
59:17 1 Signifying, that God hath all means at hand to deliver his Church and to punish their enemies.
59:18 1 To wit, your enemies, which dwell in divers places, and beyond the sea.
59:19 1 He sheweth that there shall be great affliction in the Church, but God will ever deliver his.
59:20 1 Whereby he declareth that the true deliverance from sin and Satan belongeth to none, but to the children of God, whom he justifieth.
59:21 1 Because the doctrine is made profitable by the virtue of the Spirit, he jointeth the one with the other, and promiseth to give them both to his Church forever.
60 3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall have abundance though they suffer for a time.

1 Arise, O Jerusalem; be bright, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. 2 For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. 3 And the Gentiles shall walk in thy light, and Kings at the brightness of thy rising up. 4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thine heart shall be astonished and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be converted unto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come unto thee. 6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee: and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and show forth the praises of the Lord. 7 All the sheep of Kedar shall be gathered unto thee: the rams of Nebaioth shall serve thee: they shall come up to be accepted upon mine altar: and I will beautify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly like a cloud, and as the doves to their windows? 9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sons from far, and their silver and their gold with them unto the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee. 10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring unto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought. 12 For the nation and the kingdom, that will not serve thee, shall perish: and those nations shall be utterly destroyed. 13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, and the box tree together to beautify the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorify the place of my feet. 14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bow unto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall down at the soles of thy feet: and they shall call thee: The city of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternal glory, and a joy from generation to generation. 16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breasts of Kings: and thou shalt know, that I the Lord am thy Savior, and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob. 17 For brass will I bring gold, and for iron will I bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron. I will also make thy government peace, and thine exaltations righteousness. 18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call salvation, thy walls, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt have no more Sun to shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the Moon shine unto thee: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and thy God, thy glory. 20 Thy Sun shall never go down, neither shall thy Moon be hid: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy sorrow shall be ended.

60:1 1 The time of thy prosperity and felicity: whereas speaking of Babylon, he commanded her to go down, Isa. 47:1. 60:2 1 Signifying, that all men are in darkness till God give them the light of his Spirit, and that this light shineth to none, but to those that are in his Church. 60:3 1 Meaning, that Judea should be as the morning star, and that the Gentiles should receive light of her. 60:4 1 An infinite number from all countries, as Isa. 49:18. 60:5 1 For joy, as the heart is drawn in for sorrow. 60:6 1 Meaning, that everyone shall honor the Lord with what wherewith he is able: signifying, that it is no true serving of God, except we offer ourselves to serve his glory, and all that we have. 60:7 1 That is, the Arabians, that have great abundance of cattle. 2 Because the Altar was a figure of Christ, Heb. 13:10, he showeth that nothing can be acceptable to him, which is not offered to him by this Altar, who was both the offering and the altar itself. 60:8 1 Showing what great number shall come to the Church, and with what great diligence and zeal. 60:9 1 The Gentiles that are now enemies, shall become friends and setters forth of the Church. 60:10 1 Meaning, Cyrus and his successors, but chiefly this is accomplished in them that serve Christ, being converted by his Gospel. 60:12 1 He showeth that God hath given all power and authority here in earth for the use of his Church, and that they which will not serve and profit the same, shall be destroyed. 60:13 1 There is nothing so excellent which shall not serve the necessity of the Church. 2 Signifying, that God's Majesty is not included in the Temple, which is but the place for his feet, that we may learn to rise up to the heavens. 60:14 1 To worship their head Christ, by obeying his doctrine. 60:16 1 Both high and low shall be ready to help and succor thee. 60:17 1 Thy governors shall love thee, and seek thy wealth and prosperity. 60:18 1 Meaning, not a temporal felicity, but a spiritual, which is fulfilled in Christ's kingdom. 60:19 1 Signifying, that all worldly means shall cease, and that Christ shall be all in all, as Rev. 21:23 and 22:5.
60:21 1 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possess the land forever, the 'grass of my planting shall be the work of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

60:22 1 A little one shall become as a 'thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

61 1 He prophesieth that Christ shall be anointed, and sent to preach. 10 The joy of the faithful.

1  The 'Spirit of the Lord God is 'upon me, therefore hath the Lord anointed me: he hath sent me to preach good tidings unto the poor, to bind up the 'broken hearted, to preach liberty to the 'captives, and to them that are bound, the opening of the prison,

2  To preach the 'acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of 'vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn,

3  To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, and to give unto them beauty for 'ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of gladness for the spirit of heaviness, that they might be called 'trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4  And they shall build the old waste places, and raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the cities that were desolate and waste through many 'generations.

5  And the strangers shall 'stand and feed your sheep, and the sons of the strangers shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6  But ye shall be named the 'Priests of the Lord, and men shall say unto you, The ministers of our God: Ye shall eat the 'riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

7  For your shame you shall receive 'double, and for confusion, 'they shall rejoice in 'their portion: for in their land they shall possess the 'double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8  For I the Lord love judgment, and 'hate robbery for burnt offering, and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9  And 'their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their buds among the people. All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10  I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, and my soul shall be joyful in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, and covered me with the robe of righteousness: he hath decked me like a bridegroom, and as a bride attireth herself with her jewels.

11  For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will cause righteousness to grow, and praise before all the heathen.

62 1 The great desire that the Prophets have had for Christ's coming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to preach.

1  For Zion's sake I will not 'hold my tongue, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof break forth as the 'light, and salvation thereof as a burning lamp.

2  And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all Kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by 'a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3  Thou shalt also be a 'crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

4  It shall no more be said unto thee, 'Forsaken, neither shall it be said anymore to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called 'Hephzibah, and thy land 'Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shalt have an ‘husband.

5 For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shalt thy sons marry thee: and as a bridegroom is glad of the bride, so shalt thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have set ‘watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which all the day and all the night continual shall not cease: ‘ye that are mindful of the Lord, keep not silence,

7 And give him no rest, till he repair, and until he set up Jerusalem the ‘praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand and by his strong arm, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies, and surely the sons of the strangers shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast labored.

9 But they that have gathered it, shall eat it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drink it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

10 ‘Go through, go through the gates: prepare you the way for the people: cast up, cast up the way, and gather out the stones, and set up a standard for the people.

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the ends of the world, ‘tell the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Savior cometh: Behold, his wages is with him, and ‘his work is before him.

12 And they shall call them, ‘The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A ‘city sought out and not forsaken.

63 1 God shall destroy his enemies for his Church’s sake. 7 God’s benefits toward his Church.

1 Who is this that cometh ‘from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? he is glorious in his apparel, and walketh in his great strength. ‘I speak in righteousness, and am mighty to save.

2 ‘Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winepress?

3 I have trodden the winepress alone, and of all people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and tread them under foot in my wrath, and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the ‘year of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help, and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own ‘arm helped me, and my wrath itself sustained me.

6 ‘Therefore I will tread down the people in my wrath, and make them ‘drunken in mine indignation, and will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 I will ‘remember the mercy of the Lord, ‘and the praises of the Lord, according unto all that the Lord hath given us, and for the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath given them according to his tender love, and according to his great mercies.

8 For he said, Surely they are my ‘people, children that will not lie: so he was their Savior.

9 In all their troubles he was ‘troubled, and the Angel ‘of his presence saved them: in his love and in his mercy he redeemed them, and he bare them and carried them always continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemy, ‘and he fought against them.

11 ‘Then he ‘remembered the old time of Moses and 4 That it may be replenished with children.

62:5 1 Forasmuch as they confess one faith and religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee, and they are called the children of the Church, insomuch as Christ maketh her plentiful to bring forth children unto him.

62:6 1 Prophets, Pastors, and Ministers.

2 He exhorteth the ministers never to cease to call upon God by prayer for the deliverance of his Church, and to teach others to do the same.

62:7 1 For the restoration whereof all the world shall praise him.

62:10 1 Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what means he would prepare for the restitution of the same, as Isa. 57:14.

62:11 1 ‘Ye Prophets and Ministers show the people of this their deliverance: which was chiefly meant of our salvation by Christ, Zech. 9:9; Matt. 21:5.

2 He shall have all power to bring his purpose to pass, as Isa. 40:10.

62:12 1 ‘That is, one over whom God hath had a singular care to recover her when she was lost.

63:1 1 This prophecy is against the Idumeans and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloody after he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chief city of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and under the title of circumcision and the kindred of Abraham, claimed to themselves the chief religion, and hated the true worshippers, Ps. 137:7.

2 God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? etc. and saith, ‘Ye see now performed in deed the vengeance which my Prophets threatened.

63:2 1 Another question, to the which the Lord answereth.

63:4 1 Showing that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profit and deliverance of his Church.

63:5 1 God showeth that he hath no need of man’s help for the deliverance of his, and though men refuse to do their duty through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himself will deliver his Church, and punish the enemies, read Isa. 59:16.

63:6 1 ‘I will so astonish them and make them so giddy, that they shall not know which way to go.

63:7 1 ‘The Prophet speaketh this to move the people to remember God’s benefits in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles.

63:8 1 For I did choose them to be mine, that they should be holy, and not deceive mine expectation.

63:9 1 ‘He bare their afflictions and griefs as though they had been his own.

3 Which was a witness of God’s presence, and this may be referred to Christ, to whom belongeth the office of Salvation.

63:11 1 ‘That is, the people of Israel, being afflicted, called to remembrance God’s benefits, which he had bestowed upon their fathers in times past.
his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his sheep? Where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his own glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting Name.

13 He led them through the deep, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gave them rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious Name.

15 Look down from heaven, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holiness, and of thy glory. Where is thy zeal and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassion? they are restrained from me.

16 Doubtless thou art our Father: though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel know us not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is forever.

17 O Lord, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways? and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servant's sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holiness have possessed it, but a little while: for our adversaries have trodden down thy Sanctuary.

19 We have been as they, over whom thou never barest rule, and upon whom thy name was not called.

64:1 The Prophet prayeth for the sins of the people. 6 Man's righteousness is like a filthy cloth.

1 Oh, that thou wouldest break the heavens, and come down, and that the mountains might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused the waters to boil, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thine adversaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou didst terrible things, which we looked not for, thou camest down, and the mountains melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world, they have not heard nor understood with the ear, neither hath the eye seen another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou didst meet him, that rejoiced in thee, and did justly: they remembered thee in thy ways: behold, thou art angry, for we have sinned: yet in them is continuance, and we shall be saved.

6 But we have all been as an unclean thing, and all our righteousness is as filthy cloths, and we all do fade like a leaf, and our iniquities like the wind have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy Name, neither that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the work of thine hands.

9 Be not angry, O Lord, above measure, neither remember iniquity forever: Lo, we beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

10 Thine holy cities lie waste: Zion is a wilderness, and Jerusalem a desert.

11 The house of our Sanctuary, and of our glory, wherein our fathers praised thee, is burnt up with fire, and all our pleasant things are wasted.
12 Wilt thou hold thyself still at these things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace and afflict us above measure?

65 1 The vocation of the Gentiles, and the rejection of the Jews. 13 The joy of the elect, and the punishment of the wicked.

1 I have been sought of them that asked not: I was found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that called not upon my Name.

2 I have spread out mine hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, even after their own imaginations.

3 A people that provoked me ever unto my face: that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense upon bricks.

4 Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the deserts, which eat swine's flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

5 Which say, Stand apart, come not near to me; for I am holier than thou; these are a smoke in my wrath, and a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is written before me; I will not keep silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bosom.

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers, shall be together (sai th the Lord) which have burnt incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills; therefore will I measure their old work into their bosom.

8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 But I will bring a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah that shall inherit my mountain; and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10 And Sharon shall be a sheepfold, and the valley of Achor shall be a resting place for the cattle of my people, that have sought me.

11 But ye are they that have forsaken the Lord, and forgotten mine holy Mountain, and have prepared a table for the multitude, and furnish the drink offerings unto the number.

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and all you shall bow down to the slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answer; I spake, and ye heard not, but did evil in my sight, and did choose that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall eat, and ye shall be hungry; behold, my servants shall drink, and ye shall be thirsty; behold, my servants shall rejoice, and ye shall be ashamed.

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, and ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of mind.

15 And ye shall leave your name as a curse unto my chosen; for the Lord God shall slay you, and call his servants by another name.

16 He that shall bless in the earth, shall bless himself in the true God; and he that sweareth in the earth, shall swear by the true God; for the former troubles are forgotten, and shall surely hide themselves from mine eyes.

17 For lo, I will create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered nor come into mind.

18 But be you glad and rejoice forever in the things

64:12 1 That is, at the contempt of thine own glory? though our sins have deserved this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory thus to be diminished.

65:1 1 Meaning, the Gentiles which knew not God, should seek after him, when he had moved their heart with his holy Spirit, Rom. 10:20.

65:2 1 He sheweth the cause of the rejection of the Jews, because they would not obey him for any admonition of his Prophets, by whom he called them continually and stretched out his hand to draw them.

2 He sheweth that to delight in our own fantasies, is the declining from God and the beginning of all superstition and Idolatry.

65:3 1 Which were dedicated to idols.

2 Meaning, their altars, which he thus named by contempt.

65:4 1 To consult with spirits, and to conjure devils, which was forbidden, Deut.18:11.

2 Which was contrary to God's Commandment, Lev. 11:7; Deut. 148.

65:5 1 He sheweth that hypocrisy is ever joined with pride and contempt of others.

2 Their punishment shall never have end.

65:6 1 So that the remembrance thereof cannot be forgotten.

65:7 1 Shall be both punished together: and this declareth how the children are punished for their fathers' faults, to wit, when the same faults or like are found in them.

65:8 1 That is, it is profitable: meaning, that God will not destroy the faithful branches of his vineyard, when he destroyeth the rotten stocks, that is, the hypocrites.

65:10 1 Which was a plentiful place in Judea to feed sheep, as Achor was for cattle.

65:11 1 By the multitude and number he meaneth their innumerable idols of whom they thought they could never have enough.

65:12 1 Seeing you cannot number your gods, I will number you with the sword.

2 By my Prophets, whom ye would not obey.

65:13 1 By these words, Eat and drink, he meaneth, the blessed life of the faithful, which have always consolation and full contentment of all things in their God, though sometimes they lack these corporal things.

65:15 1 Meaning, that he would call the Gentiles, who should abhor even the very name of the Jews for their infidelities sake.

2 Than by the name of the Jews.

65:16 1 By blessing, and by swearing is meant the praising of God for his benefits, and the true worshipping of him, which shall not be only in Judea, but through all the world.

2 I will no more suffer my Church to be desolate as in times past.

65:17 1 I will so alter and change the state of my church, that it shall seem to dwell in a new world.
ISAIAH 65:19

That I shall create; for behold, I will create Jerusalem, as a rejoicing, and her people as a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people, and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more there a child of years, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for he that shall be an hundred years old, shall die as a young man: but the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit: they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of the tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall enjoy in old age the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth in fear: for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their buds with them.

24 Yea, before they call, I will answer, and whiles they speak, I will hear.

25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and to the serpent dust shall be his meat. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy Mountain, saith the Lord.

66 1 God dwelleth not in Temples made with hands. 2 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercy and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetual Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

1 Thus saith the Lord, 'The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is that house that ye will build unto me? and where is that place of my rest?'

66:1 1 Meaning, in this wonderful restoration of the Church there should be no weakness of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all should be fresh and flourishing: and this is accomplished in the heavenly Jerusalem, where all shall cease, and the tears shall be wiped away.

2 Whereby he showeth that the infidels and unrepentant sinners have no part of this benediction.

66:2 1 He proposeth to the faithful the blessings which are contained in the Law, and so under temporal things comprehendeth the spiritual promises.

66:3 1 Read Isa. 11:6.

66:4 1 The enemies shall shortly hear a more terrible voice, even fire and slaughter, seeing they would not hear the gentle voice of the Prophets, which called them to repentance.

66:5 1 He encourageth the faithful by promising to destroy their enemies, which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites, and hated them that feared God.

66:6 1 The enemies shall shortly hear a more terrible voice, even fire and slaughter, seeing they would not hear the gentle voice of the Prophets, which called them to repentance.

66:7 1 Meaning, that the restoration of the Church should be so sudden and contrary to all men's opinions, as when a woman is delivered before she looked for it, and that without pain in travail.

66:8 1 This shall pass the capacity of man to see such a multitude, that shall come up at once, meaning, under the preaching of the Gospel, whereof they that came up out of Babylon were a sign.

66:9 1 Declaring hereby, that as in his power and providence women travailed and delivered, so he giveth the power to bring forth the Church at his time appointed.

66:11 1 That is, may rejoice for all the benefits that God bestoweth upon his Church.
breasts of her consolation: that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the brightness of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, behold, I will extend peace over her like a flood, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be born upon her sides, and be joyful upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your hearts shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the Lord shall be known among his servants, and his indignation against his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and his chariots like a whirlwind, that he may recompense his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord will judge with fire, and with his sword all flesh, and the flame of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one tree in the midst eating swine's flesh, and such abomination, even the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 For I will visit their works, and their imaginations, for it shall come that I will gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I will set a sign among them, and will send those that escape of them unto the nations of Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, and to them that draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory, and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the Lord out of all nations, upon horses, and in chariots, and in horse litters, and upon mules, and swift beasts, to Jerusalem mine holy Mountain, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a clean vessel in the House of the Lord.

21 And I will take of them for Priests, and for Levites, saith the Lord.

22 For as the new heavens, and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name continue.

23 And from month to month, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.
1 1 In what time Jeremiah prophesied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord shews him the destruction of Jerusalem. 17 He com-mandeth him to preach his word without fear.

1  The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah one of the Priests that were at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin.

2  To whom the word of the Lord came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon King of Judah in the thirteenth year of his reign:

3  And also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah king of Judah, even unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month.

4  Then the word of the Lord came unto me,
saying,

5  Before I formed thee in the womb, I knew thee, and before thou camest out of the womb, I sanctified thee, and ordained thee to be a Prophet unto the nations.

6  Then said I, Oh, Lord God, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a child.

7  But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child:
for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whosoever I command thee, shalt thou speak.

8  Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

9  Then the Lord stretched out his hand, and 10  Touched my mouth, and the Lord said unto me,
Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

11  Behold, this day have I set thee over the nations, and over the kingdoms, to pluck up, and to root out,
and to destroy, and throw down, to build, and to plant.

12  After this the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of almond tree.

13  Then said the Lord unto me, Thou hast seen right: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

14  Again the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething pot looking out of the North.

15  Then said the Lord unto me, Out of the North shall a plague be spread upon all the inhabitants of the land.

16  For lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and everyone shall set his throne in the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and on all the walls thereof round about, and in all the cities of Judah.

17  And I will declare unto them my judgments touching all the wickedness of them that have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

18  Thou therefore truss up thy loins, and arise and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not afraid of their faces, lest I destroy thee before them.
18 For I, behold, I this day have made thee a defenced city, and an 1iron pillar and walls of brass against the whole land, against the Kings of Judah, and against the Princes thereof, against the Priests thereof, and against the people of the land.
19 For they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

2 2 God rehearseth his benefits done unto the Jews. 8 Against the priests and false prophets. 12 The Jews are destroyed because they forsake God.

1 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me,
saying,
2 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying,
Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the 1kindness of thy youth and the love of thy marriage, when thou wastest after me in the wilderness 2in a land that was not sown.
3 Israel was as a thing 1hallowed unto the Lord, and his firstfruits: all they 2that eat it, shall offend:
evil shall come upon them, saith the Lord.
4 Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.
5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone 1far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become 2vain?
6 For they said not, Where is the Lord that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a desert, and waste land, through a dry land, and by 1the shadow of death, by a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?
7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entered, ye defiled 1my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.
8 Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the 1Law, knew me not: the priests also offended against me, and the prophets prophesied in 1Baal, and went after things that did not profit.
9 Wherefore I will yet 1plead with you, saith the Lord, and I will plead with your children's children.
10 For go ye to the isles of 1Chittim, and behold, and send unto 2Kedar, and take diligent heed, and see whether there be such things.
11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people have changed their 1glory, for that which doth not 2profit.
12 O ye 1heavens, be astonied at this: be afraid and utterly confounded, saith the Lord.
13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me 1the fountain of living waters, to dig them pits, even broken pits that can hold no water.
14 Is Israel a 'servant, or is he born in the house?
why then is he spoiled?
15 The 1Lions roared upon him and yelled, and they have made his land waste: his cities are burnt without 1an inhabitant.
16 Also the children of 1Noph and Tahapanes have 1broken thine head.
17 Hast not thou procured this unto thyself, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of Egypt? to drink the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in the way of Assyria? to drink the water of the River?

19 Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy turnings back shall reprove thee: know therefore and behold, that it is an evil thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts.

20 For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saidest, I will no more transgress, but like an harlot thou runnest about upon all high hills, and under all green trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, whose plants were all natural: how then art thou turned unto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thy attire, and thou saidest, I will no more bear merchandise, and I will no more sit at the window, and I will not stand at the corner to see: but thou hast turned back and gone in the way of the heathen, as thy fathers did, and have not feared me, saith the Lord.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither have I followed Baal? behold thy ways in the valley, and in the plain; for I have loved strangers, and them will I follow.

24 And as a wild ass used to the wilderness that snuffeth up the wind by occasion at her pleasure: who can turn her back? all they that seek her, will not weary themselves, but will find her in her month.

25 Keep thou thy feet from bareness, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidest, when thou wast in famine, I will eat, and when thou wast in need of clothing, I will wear; but thou saidest, when thou wast thirsty, I will drink; and when thou wast in need of help, I will turn back now from thee.

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes and their priests, and their prophets.

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and help us.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can help thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

30 I have smitten your children in vain, they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your Prophets like a destroying lion.

31 O generation, take heed to the word of the Lord: have I been as a wilderness unto Israel? or a land of darkness? Wherefore saith my people, We are lords, we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me, days without number.

33 Why dost thou prepare thy way, to seek amity? even therefore will I teach thee, that thy ways are wickedness.

34 Also in thy wings is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it in holes, but upon all these places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guiltless, surely his wrath shall turn from me: behold, I will enter with thee into judgment, because thou sayest, I have...
3:12 Go and cry these words toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, return, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not always keep mine anger.

3:13 But know thine iniquity: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast scattered thy lovers: yet I will not obey my voice, saith the Lord.

3:14 O ye disobedient children, turn again, saith the Lord; I will not always keep mine anger; for ye say, Who shall show us any good? come, let us make a covenant with a foreign god: 3:15 And I will give you pastors according to mine own heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.

3:16 Moreover, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, in those days, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The Ark of the covenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to mind, neither shall they say no more, The 1Ark of the covenant of the Lord.

3:17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem, The high mountain, and under every green tree, and there shalt thou return, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a city, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion, and will numbered thee according to thy children, and I will give you pastors according to mine own heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.

2:36 1 For the Assyrians had taken away the ten tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Judah even unto Jerusalem; and the Egyptians slew Josiah, and vexed the Jews in sundry sorts.

3:1 1 As God threatened by his Law, Deut. 28:4.

3:2 1 Which dwelleth in tents and waiteth for them that pass by to spoil them.

3:3 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:4 1 Didst thou not still cry unto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

3:5 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:6 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:7 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:8 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:9 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:10 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:11 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:12 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:13 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:14 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:15 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:16 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.

3:17 1 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go unto her husband.
thone of the Lord, and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, even to the Name of the Lord in Jerusalem: and thence forth they shall follow no more the hardness of their wicked heart.

18 In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the North, into the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I said, How did I take thee for children, and give thee a pleasant land, even the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and say, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shall not turn from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her husband: so have ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, return and I will heal your rebellions. Behold, we come unto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly the hope of the hills is but vain, nor the multitude of mountains: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath devoured our father’s labor, from our youth, their sheep and their bullocks, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our confusion, and our shame covereth us: for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth, even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

3:1 True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Judah is prophesied for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

1 O Israel, if thou return, return unto me, saith the Lord: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2 And thou shalt swear, The Lord liveth in truth, in judgment and in righteousness, and the nations shall be blessed in him, and shall glory in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to the men of Judah, and to Jerusalem,

4 Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among the thorns: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your hearts, ye men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, lest my wrath come forth like fire, and burn, that none can quench it, because of the wickedness of your inventions.

5 Declare in Judah, and show forth in Jerusalem, and say, Blow the trumpet in the land: cry, and gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into strong cities.

6 Set up the standard in Zion: prepare to flee, and stay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come up from his den, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, and gone forth of his place to lay thy land waste, and thy cities shall be destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore gird you with sackcloth: lament, and howl, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned back from us.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shall be astonished, and the Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace, and the sword pierceth unto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A dry wind in the high places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but neither to fan nor to cleanse.
12 A mighty wind shall come unto me from those places, and now will I also give sentence upon them.
13 Behold, he shall come up as the clouds, and his chariots shall be as a tempest: his horses are lighter than eagles. Woe unto us, for we are destroyed.

4:22 4:20

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved: how long shall thy wicked thoughts remain within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Jerusalem, Behold, the scouts come from a far country, and cry out against the cities of Judah.

17 They have compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, because it hath provoked me unto wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy ways and thine inventions have procured thee these things, such is thy wickedness: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pierce unto thine heart.

19 My belly, my belly, I am pained, even at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I cannot be still: for my soul hath heard the sound of the trumpet, and the alarm of the battle.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tents forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and the alarm of the battle?
22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me: they are foolish children, and have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do well they have no knowledge.

23 I have looked upon the earth, and lo, it was without form and void: and to the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains: and lo, they trembled, and all the hills shook.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the field were departed.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate: yet will I not make a full end.

28 Therefore shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above shall be darkened, because I have pronounced it: I have thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee, for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen: they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou paintest thy face with colors, yet shalt thou trim thyself in vain: for thy lovers will abhor thee and seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a noise as of a woman travailing, or as one laboring of her first child, even the voice of the daughter Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: woe is me now: for my soul fainteth because of the murderers.

5 1 In Judah no righteous man is found, neither among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Judah is destroyed of the Chaldeans.

1 Run to and fro by the streets of Jerusalem, and behold now, and know, and inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can find a man, or if there be any that executeth judgment, and seeketh the truth, and I will spare 'it.

2 For though they say, The Lord liveth, yet do they swear falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not sorrowed: thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a stone, and have refused to return.
4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poor, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them: for they have known the way of the Lord, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolf of the wilderness shall destroy them: a leopard shall watch over their cities: everyone that goeth out thence, shall be torn in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adultery, and assembles themselves by companies in the harlot's houses.

8 They rose up in the morning like fed horses: for every man neighed after his neighbor's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 Climb up upon their walls, and destroy them, but make not a full end: take away their battlements, for they are not the Lord's.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Judah have grievously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They have denied the Lord, and said, It is not he, neither shall the plague come upon us, neither shall we see sword nor famine.

13 And the Prophets shall be as wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it come unto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak such words, behold, I will put my words into thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall devour them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mighty nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Whose quiver is as an open sepulcher: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eat thine harvest and thy bread: they shall devour thy sons and thy daughters: they shall eat up thy sheep and thy bullocks: they shall eat thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall destroy with the sword thy fenced cities, wherein thou didst trust.

18 Nevertheless, at those days, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end of you.

19 And when ye shall say, Wherefore doth the Lord our God do these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, 21 Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding, which have eyes and see not, which have ears and hear not.

22 Fear ye not me, saith the Lord? or will ye not choose to walk, to serve the gods of the strangers in a land that is not yours.

23 But this people hath an unfaithful and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth rain both early and late in due season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 Yet your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have hindered good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that lay wait as he that setteth snares: they have made a pit, to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: thereby they are become great and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat and shining: they do overpass the deeds of the wicked: they execute no judgment, no not the judgment of the fatherless: yet they prosper, though they execute no judgment for the poor.

5:5 1 He speaketh this to the reproach of them which should govern and teach others, and yet are farther out of the way than the simple people.
5:6 1 Meaning, Nebuchadnezzar and his army.
5:7 1 He sheweth that to swear by anything than by God, is to forsake him.
5:10 1 He commandeth the Babylonians and enemies to destroy them.
5:12 1 Because they gave no credit to the words of his Prophets, as Isa. 28:15.
5:13 1 Their words shall be of none effect, but vain.
5:14 1 They are not sent of the Lord, and therefore that which they threaten to us shall come upon them.
5:15 1 To wit, the Babylonians and Chaldeans.
5:16 1 Who shall kill many with their arrows.
5:18 1 Here the Lord declareth his unspeakable favor toward his Church, as Jer. 4:27.

5:28 1 They feel not the plague of God for it.
29 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?
30 An horrible and filthy thing is committed in the land.
31 The prophets prophesy lies, and the priests receive gifts in their hands, and my people delight therein. What will ye then do in the end thereof?

6:1 The coming of the Assyrians and Chaldeans.

1 O ye children of Benjamin, prepare to flee out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa: set up a standard upon Beth-Haccerem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great destruction.

2 I have compared the daughter of Zion to a beautiful and dainty woman.

3 The Pastors with their flocks shall come unto her: they shall pitch their tents round about her, and everyone shall feed in his place.

4 Prepare war against her: arise, and let us go up toward the South: woe unto us: for the day declineth, and the shadows of the evening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let us go up by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hew down her gates, cast up a mount against Jerusalem: this city must be visited; all oppression is in the midst of it.

7 As the fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice; cruelty and spoil is continually heard in her before me, with sorrow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel: turn back thine hand even to the children of Zion: turn 1 back thine hand. 2

10 Unto whom shall I speak, and admonish that they may hear? behold, their ears are uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them as a reproach: they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: 1 I will pour it out upon the children of the street, and likewise upon the assembly of the young men: for the husband shall even be taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And their houses with their lands, and wives also shall be turned unto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, even unto the greatest of them, everyone is given unto covetousness, and from the Prophet even unto the Priest, they all deal falsely.

14 They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they have any shame: therefore they shall fall among the slain: when I shall visit them, they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the ways and consider: ask for the old way, which is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls: but they said, We will not walk therein.

17 Also I set 1 watchmen over you, which said, Take heed to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We will not take heed.

18 Hear therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou Congregation know, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth, behold, I will cause a plague to come upon this people, even the fruit of their own imaginations: because they have not taken heed unto

5:31 1 Meaning that there could be nothing but disorder, where the ministers were wicked persons and corrupt.

my words, nor to my Law, but cast it off.

20 To what purpose bringest thou me incense from Sheba, and sweet calamus from a far country? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them: the neighbor and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the North country, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bow and shield shall they be weaponed: they are cruel and will have no compassion: their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses well appointed, like men of war against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 We have heard their fame, and our hands wax feeble: sorrow is come upon us, as the sorrow of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way: for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

26 O daughter of my people, grid thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning as for thine only son: for the destroyer shall suddenly come upon us.

27 I have set thee for a defense and fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their ways.

28 They are all rebellious traitors, walking craftily; they are brass and iron, they all are destroyers, 29 The bellows are burnt; the lead is consumed in the fire; the founder melteth in vain; for the wicked are not taken away.

30 They shall call them reprobate silver, because the Lord hath rejected them.

7 2 Jeremiah is commanded to shew unto the people the words of God, which trusteth in the outward service of the Temple. 13 The evils that shall come to the Jews, for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doth not the Lord chiefly require of the Jews, but that they should obey his word.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift up cry or prayer for them, neither entreat me, for I will not hear thee.
17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?
18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women kneel the dough to make cakes to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me unto anger.
19 Do they provoke me to anger, saith the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be poured upon this place; upon man and upon beast, and upon the tree of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burn and not be quenched.
21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.
22 For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.
23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways which I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.
24 But they would not obey, nor incline their ear, but went after the counsels, and the stubbornness of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.
25 Since the day that your fathers came up out of the land of Egypt, unto this day, I have even sent unto you all my servants the Prophets, rising up early every day, and sending them.
26 Yet would they not hear me, nor incline their ear, but hardened their neck, and did worse than their fathers.

8 1 The destruction of the Jews. 4 The Lord moveth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the covetousness of the Prophets and Priests.

1 At that time, saith the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their graves.
2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they were vain and unprofitable.

by a nation that heareth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiveth discipline: truth is perished, and is clean gone out of their mouth.
29 Cut off thine hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a complaint on the high places: for the Lord hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.
30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, saith the Lord: they have set their abominations in the house, whereupon my Name is called to pollute it.
31 And they have built the high place of Tophet, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.
32 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Tophet till there be no place.
33 And the carcasses of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.
34 Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.
have loved, and whom they have served, and whom they have followed, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall be as dung upon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired 'rather than life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked family, which remain in all the places where I have scattered them, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 Thou shalt say unto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they 'fall, and not arise? shall he turn away and not turn again?

5 Wherefore is this people of Jerusalem turned back by a perpetual rebellion? they gave themselves to deceit, and would not return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? 'everyone turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Even the stork in the air knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the 'judgment of the Lord.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with us? Lo, 'certainly in vain made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 The 'wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall possess them: 'for everyone from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, and from the Prophet even unto the Priest, everyone dealeth falsely.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they have any shame: therefore shall they fall among the slain: when I shall visit them, they shall be cast down, saith the Lord.

13 I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade, and the things that I have given them shall depart from them.

14 Why do we stay? 'assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the strong cities, and let us be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put us to silence, and given us water with 'gall to drink, because we have sinned against the Lord.

15 'We looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The neighing of his horses was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled at the noise of the neighing of his strong horses: for they are come, and have devoured the land with all that is in it, the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will 'send serpents, and 'cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would have 'comforted myself against sorrow, but mine heart is heavy in me.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people for fear of them of a far country, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why 'have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The 'harvest is past, the Summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am 'sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people, I am heavy, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balm 'at Gilead? is there no Physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

9 1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we only to rejoice. 26 The uncircumcision of the heart.

8:3 1 Because of the afflictions that they shall feel through God’s judgments.
8:4 1 Is there no hope that they will return?
8:6 1 They are full of hypocrisy, and everyone followeth his own fantasy without any consideration.
8:7 1 He accuseth them in that they are more ignorant of God’s judgments, than these birds are of their appointed seasons to discern the cold and heat, as Isa. 1:3.
8:8 1 The Law doth not profit you, neither need it to have been written for ought that you have learned by it.
8:9 1 They that seem wise, may be ashamed of their ignorance, for all wisdom consisteth in God’s word.
8:11 1 Read Jer. 6:14.
8:14 1 He speaketh in the person of the people, who when the enemy cometh, will turn about to hide themselves, and acknowledge that it is God’s hand.

8:16 2 Read Jer. 4:15.
8:17 1 God threateneth to send the Babylonians among them, who shall utterly destroy them in such sort, as by no means they shall escape.
8:18 1 Read Jer. 4:19.
8:19 1 Thus the Lord speaketh.
8:20 1 The people wonder that they have so long time looked for succor in vain.
8:21 1 The Prophet speaketh this.
8:22 1 Meaning, that no man’s help or means could save them: for in Gilead was precious balm, Jer. 46:11, or else deriding the vain confidence of the people, who looked for help at their Priests, who should have been the Physicians of their souls, and dwelt at Gilead, Hos. 6:8.
1 Oh, that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all adulterers, and an assembly of rebels.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bows for lies: but they have no courage for the truth upon the earth, for they proceed from evil to worse, and they have not known me, saith the Lord.

4 Let everyone take heed of his neighbor, and trust you not in any brother: for every brother will use deceit, and every friend will deal deceitfully,

5 And everyone will deceive his friend, and will not speak the truth: for they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and take great pains to do wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceivers: because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them: for what should I else do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbor with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth wait for him.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 Upon the mountains will I take up a weeping and a lamentation, and upon the fair places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt up, so that none can pass through them, neither can men hear the voice of the flock: both the fowl of the air, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem an heap, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Judah waste without an inhabitant.

12 Who is wise to understand this? and to whom is the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, even he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, and is burnt up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

13 And the Lord saith, because they have forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked thereafter, 14 But have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after Baal, which their fathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed this people with wormwood, and give them waters of gall to drink:

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Take heed, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skillful women, that they may come,

18 And let them make haste, and let them take up a lamentation for us, that our eyes may cast out tears, and our eyelids gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, and utterly confounded, for we have forsaken the land, and our dwellings have cast us out.

20 Therefore hear the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your ears regard the words of his mouth, and teach your daughters to mourn, and let your ears regard the words of his mouth, and send for skillful women, that they may come, and send for the mourning women, that they may come.

21 For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the Lord, The carcasses of men shall lie, even as the dung upon the field, and as the handful after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

9:1 The Prophet sheweth the great compassion that he had toward this people, seeing that he could never sufficiently lament the destruction that he saw to hang over them, which is a special note to discern the true pastors from the hirelings, read Jer. 4:19.

9:2 He sheweth that this were more quietness and greater safety for him to dwell among the wild beasts than among this wicked people, save that God hath enjoined him this charge.

9:3 To belle and slander their neighbors.

9:4 Meaning, that all were corrupt, and none could find an honest man.

9:5 They have so practiced deceit, that they cannot forsake it.

9:6 They had rather forsake God, than leave their wicked trade.

9:7 With the fire of affliction.

9:8 Meaning, that all the places about Jerusalem should be destroyed.

9:9 The Prophet showeth that this were more quietness and greater safety for him to dwell among the wild beasts than among this wicked people, save that God hath enjoined him this charge.

9:10 Signifying, that all the places about Jerusalem should be destroyed.

9:11 Meaning, that they are all without sense and understanding, and that God hath taken his spirit from them.

9:12 The Prophet sheweth that this were more quietness and greater safety for him to dwell among the wild beasts than among this wicked people, save that God hath enjoined him this charge.

9:13 And the Lord saith, because they have forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked thereafter,

9:14 He sheweth that the children cannot excuse themselves by their fathers: for both father and child if they be wicked shall perish.

9:15 Read Jer. 8:14.

9:16 Seeing you cannot lament your own sins, call for those foolish women, whom of a superstition you have to lament for the dead, that they by their feigned tears may provoke you to some sorrow.

9:17 As though they were weary of us, because of our iniquities, Lev. 18:28 and 20:22.

9:18 He denideth the superstition of the women which made an art of mourning, and taught to weep with feigned tears.

9:19 Signifying, that there is no means to deliver the wicked from God's judgments: but when they think to be most sure, and most far off, then they are soonest taken.

9:20 Forasmuch as none can save himself by his own labor, or any worldly means, he sheweth that it is vain to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and rejoice in him, who only can deliver us, 1 Cor. 1:31; 2 Cor. 10:17.
24 But let him that glorifieth, glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me; for I am the Lord, which sheweth mercy, judgment, and righteousness in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the days come saith the Lord, that I will visit all them which are circumcised with the uncircumcised:

26 Egypt and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the utmost corners of them that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

10 The constellations of the stars are not to be feared. 5 The weakness of idols. 6 Of the power of God. 21 Their doings are brutish.

1 Hear ye the word of the Lord that he speaketh unto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the signs of heaven, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the work of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And another decketh it with silver, and with gold: they fasten it with nails and hammers that it fall not.

5 The idols stand up as the palm tree, but speak not: they are borne because they cannot go: fear them not, for they cannot do evil, neither can they do good.

6 There is none like unto thee, O Lord: thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

7 Who would not fear thee, O king of nations? for to thee appertaineth the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdoms there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stock is a doctrine of vanity.

9 Silver plates are brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, for the work of the workman, and the hands of the founder: the blue silk, and the purple are their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of truth: he is the living God, and an everlasting King: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say unto them. The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his discretion.

13 He giveth by his voice the multitude of waters in the heaven, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Every man is a beast by his own knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

9:24 1 These three points are necessary to know aright: his mercy, wherein consisteth our salvation, his judgment, which he executeth continually against the wicked, and his justice, whereby he defendeth and maintaineth the faithful.

9:25 1 Meaning, both Jews and Gentiles, as in this next verse he showeth the cause, read Jer. 44.

10.2 1 God forbiddeth his people to give credit or fear the constellations and conjunctions of stars and planets which have no power of themselves, but are governed by him, and their secret motions and influences are not known to man and therefore there can be no certain judgment thereof, Deut. 18:10.

10.3 1 Meaning, not in the observation of the stars, but their laws and ceremonies whereby they confirm their idolatry, which is forbidden, Deut. 12:30.

10.4 1 The Prophets use thus plainly and simply to set forth the vile absurdity of the idolaters, that men might learn to be ashamed of that whereinunto their corrupt nature is most subject, read Isa. 44:12.

10.6 1 He teacheth the people to lift up their eyes to God, who hath all power and therefore ought only to be feared: and herein he sheweth them not only the evil that they ought to eschew: but the good which they ought to follow, Rev. 15:4.

10.8 1 Because the people thought that to have images, was a means to serve God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errors and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanity, the work of errors, verse 15, and Hab. 2:18 calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the books of the lay people.

10.9 1 Whereas they found the best gold: shewing, that they thought nothing too dear for their idols, some read Ophir, as 1 Kings 9:28.

10.11 1 This declareth that all that hath been in this chapter spoken of idols, was to arm the Jews when they should be in Chaldea among the idolaters, and now with one sentence he instructeth them both how to protect their own religion against the idolaters, and how to answer them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatry, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Chaldean’s tongue for a memorial, whereas all the rest of his writing is Hebrew.

10.14 1 The more that man thinketh to do anything well by his own wisdom, and not as God instructeth him, the more doth he prove himself to be a vile beast.

10.16 1 By these words Portion and Rod, he signifieth their inheritance, meaning, that God should be all sufficient for them: and that their felicity consisted in him alone, and therefore they ought to renounce all other helps and succors as of idols, etc. Deut. 32:9; Ps. 16:5.
17 ¶ Gather up thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.
18 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they shall find it so.
19 Woe is me for my destruction, and my grievous plague: but I thought, Yet it is my sorrow, and I will bear it.
20 ¶ My Tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent anymore, and to set up my curtains.
21 For the Pastors are become beasts, and have not sought the Lord: therefore have they none understanding: and all the flocks of their pastures are scattered.
22 Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the North country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragons.
23 O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself, neither is it in man to walk and to direct his steps.
24 O Lord, correct me, but with judgment, not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.
25 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy Name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

11 3 A curse of them that obey not the word of God's covenant. 10 The people of Judah following the steps of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lord forbideth Jeremiah to pray for them.

1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,
2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,
3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, ¶Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,
4 Which I commanded unto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do according to all these things which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,
5 That I may confirm the oath, that I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land, which floweth with milk and honey, as appeared this day. Then answered I, and said, So be it, O Lord.
6 Then the Lord said unto me, Cry all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.
7 For I have protested unto your fathers, when I brought them up out of the land of Egypt unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.
8 Nevertheless they would not obey, nor incline their ear: but everyone walked in the stubbornness of his own wicked heart: therefore will I bring upon them all the words of this covenant which I commanded them to do, but they did it not.
9 And the Lord said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words: and they went after other gods to serve them: thus the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.
11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague upon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry unto me, ¶I will

10:17 ¶ The Prophet willeth the Jews to prepare themselves to this captivity, showing that it was now at hand that they should feel the things whereof he had told them.
10:19 ¶ It is my just plague, and therefore I will take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behave themselves toward God.
10:20 ¶ He sheweth how Jerusalem shall lament.
10:21 ¶ The governors and ministers.
10:22 ¶ Read Jer. 4:15.
10:23 ¶ He speaketh this because that Nebuchadnezzar purposed to have made war against the Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiah's rebellion, he turned his power to go against Jerusalem, Ezek. 21:21, therefore the Prophet saith, that this was the Lord's direction.
10:24 ¶ Considering that God had revealed unto him the certitude of their captivity, Jer. 7:16, he only prayeth, that he would punish them with mercy, which Isaiah calleth in measure, Isa. 27:8, measuring his rods by their infirmity, 1 Cor. 10:13, for here by judgment is meant not only the punishment, but also the merciful moderation of the same, as Jer. 30:11.
10:25 ¶ Forasmuch as God cannot only be known and glorified by his mercy, that he useth toward his Church, but also by his justice in punishing his enemies, he prayeth that this glory may fully appear both in the one and the other, Ps. 796.
11:3 ¶ He calleth the Jews to the consideration of God's mercy, who freely chose them, made a covenant of eternal felicity with them, and how he ever performed it on his behalf, and how they ever showed themselves rebellious and ingrate toward him, and brake it on their part, and so are subject to the curse of the Law, Deut. 27:26.
11:5 ¶ Thus he speaketh in the person of the people, which agreed to the covenant.
11:7 ¶ Read Jer. 7:13.
11:8 ¶ According to his own fantasy, and not as my word appointed him.
11:9 ¶ Meaning, the menaces and curses contained in the Law, Lev. 26:14; Deut. 28:16.
11:9 ¶ That is, a general consent to rebel against me.
11:11 ¶ Because they will not pray with true faith and repentance, but for the smart and grief which they feel, Prov. 1:28.
11:12

not hear them.
12 Then shall the cities of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense, but they shall not be able to help them in time of their trouble.
13 For according to the number of the cities were thy gods, O Judah, and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars of confusion, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.
14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for when they cry unto me in their trouble, I will not hear them.
15 What should my beloved tarry in mine house, seeing they have committed abomination with many, and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou dost evil, thou rejoicest.
16 The Lord called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: but with noise and great tumult he hath set fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.
17 For the Lord of hosts that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickedness of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Baal,
18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I know it, even then thou showedst me their practices.
19 But I was like a lamb, or a bullock, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised thus against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the living, that his name may be no more in memory.
20 But O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, and triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seek thy life, and say, Prophesy not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands.)
22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will visit them: the young men shall die by the sword: their sons and their daughters shall die by famine,
23 And none of them shall remain: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

12 1 The Prophet marvelleth at the prosperity of the wicked, although he confess God to be righteous. 7 The Jews are forsaken of the Lord. 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threateneth destruction unto the nations that troubled Judah.

1 O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art righteous: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgress?
2 Thou hast planted them, and they have taken root: they grow, and bring forth fruit, thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.
3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out of mine house, and tried mine heart in mine house, and knew not that they had devised thus against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the living, that his name may be no more in memory.
4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds, because they said, He will not see our last end.
5 If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou match thyself with horses? and if thou thoughtest thyself safe in the midst of the sea, and the great waves overtook thee, what shall I do with thee?

11:13 1 Read Jer. 2:28.
11:14 1 Read Jer. 7:16 and 14:11.
11:15 1 My people of Israel, whom I have hitherto so greatly loved.
2 Meaning, that they offer not in the Temple to God, but on the altars of Baal and the idols, and so rejoiced in their wickedness.
11:16 1 Of the Babylonians and Chaldeans.
11:18 1 Which went about privily to conspire my death.
11:19 1 Let us destroy the Prophet and his doctrine. Some read, Let us corrupt his meat with wood, meaning, poison.
11:20 1 Thus he spake, not for hatred, but being moved with the Spirit of God, he desireth the advancement of God's glory, and the verifying of his word, which is by the destruction of his enemies.
11:21 1 To wit, both the Priests and the rest of the people: for this town was the Priests, and they dwelt in it, read Jer. 1:1.
2 Not that they could not abide to hear God named: (for herein they would show themselves most holy) but because they could not abide to be sharply reproved, and therefore desired to be flattered, Isa. 30:10, and to be maintained in their pleasures, Mic. 2:11, and not to hear vice condemned, Amos 7:12.
12:1 1 The Prophet confesseth God to be just in all his doings, although man be not able to give a reason of all his acts.
2 This question hath been always a great tentation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperity, and his dear children in adversity, as Job 21:7; Ps. 37:1 and 73:3; Hab. 1:3.
12:2 1 They profess God in mouth, but deny him in heart, which is here meant by the reins, Isa. 29:13; Matt. 15:8.
12:3 1 The Hebrew word is, Sanctify them, meaning, that God would be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giveth prosperity, that afterward they should the more feel his heavy judgment when they lack their riches which were a sign of his mercy.
12:4 1 Abusing God's lenity and his promises, they flattered themselves as though God would ever be merciful, and not utterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselves in sin, till at length the beasts and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubborn rebellion against God.
12:5 1 Some think that God reproved Jeremiah, in that that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to march with men, that he were far unable to debate with God. Others, by the footmen, mean them of Anathoth: and by the horsemen, them of Jerusalem, which should trouble the Prophet worse than his own countrymen did.
a peaceable land, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan?

6 For even thy brethren and the house of thy father, even they have dealt unfaithfully with thee, and they have cried out altogether upon thee: but believe them not, though they speak fair to thee.

7 I have forsaken mine house: I have left mine heritage: I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me, as a lion in the forest: it crieth out against me, therefore have I hated it.

9 Shall mine heritage be unto me, as a bird of divers colors? are not the birds about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eat her?

10 Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, and trodden my portion under foot: of my pleasant portion they have made a desolate wilderness.

11 They have laid it waste, and it, being waste mourneth unto me, and the whole land lieth waste, because no man setteth his mind on it.

12 The destroyers are come upon all the high places in the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord shall devour from the one end of the land, even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 They have sown wheat, and reaped thorns: they were sick, and had no profit: and they were ashamed of your fruits, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil neighbors, that touch the inheritance, which I have caused my people Israel to inherit, Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15 And after that I have plucked them out, I will return, and have compassion on them, and will bring again every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And if they will learn the ways of my people, to swear by my Name, (The Lord liveth, as they taught my people to swear by Baal) then shall they be built in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I utterly pluck up, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

13 The destruction of the Jews is prefigured. 11 Why Israel was received to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

1 Thence saith the Lord unto me, Go, and buy thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandment of the Lord, and put it upon my loins.

3 And the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rock.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many days the Lord said unto me, Arise, go toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and dug, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and beheld, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.

10 This wicked people have refused to hear my word, and walk after the stubbornness of their own heart, and walk after other gods to serve them, and to worship them: therefore they shall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I tied to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Judah, saith the Lord, that they might be my people: that they might have a name, and praise, and glory, but they would not hear.

12:7 1 God willeth the Prophet to denounce his judgments against Jerusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by threatenings and flatteries, labor to put him to silence.

12:8 1 Ever ramping and raging against me and my Prophets.

12:9 1 Instead of bearing my livery, and wearing only my colors, they have change and diversity of colors of their idols and superstitions, therefore their enemies as thick as the fowls of the air shall come about them to destroy them.

12:10 1 He prophesieoth of the destruction of Jerusalem, by the captains of Nebuchadnezzar, whom he calleth pastors.

12:11 1 Because no man regardeth my word, or the plagues that I have sent upon the land.

12:13 1 To wit, the Prophets.

2 They lamented the sins of the people.

3 For instead of amendment, you grew worse and worse, as God's plagues testified.

12:14 1 Meaning, the wicked enemies of his Church, which blasphemed his Name, and whom he would punish after that he hath delivered his people.

12:15 1 After that I have punished the Gentiles, I will have mercy upon them.

12:16 1 The true doctrine and manner to serve God.

2 Read Jer. 4:2.

3 They shall be of the number of the faithful, and have a place in my Church.

13:4 1 Because this river Perath or Euphrates was far from Jerusalem, it is evident that this was a vision, whereby was signified that the Jews should pass over Euphrates to be captives in Babylon, and there for length of time should seem to be rotten, although they were joined to the Lord before as a girdle about a man.
12 Therefore thou shalt say unto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine, and they shall say unto thee, do we not know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?
13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon the throne of David, and the Priests and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with drunkenness.
14 And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pity, nor have compassion, but destroy them.
15 Hear and give ear, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.
16 Give glory to the Lord your God before he bring darkness, and or ever your feet stumble in the dark mountains, and while you look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death and make it as darkness.
17 But if ye will not hear this, my soul shall weep in secret for your pride, and mine eye shall weep and drop down tears, because the Lord’s flock is carried away captive.
18 Say unto the King and to the Queen: Humble yourselves, sit down, for the crown of your glory shall come down from your heads.
19 The cities of the South shall be shut up, and no man shall open them: all Judah shall be carried away captive: it shall be wholly carried away captive:
20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the North: where is the flock that was given thee, even thy beautiful flock?
21 What wilt thou say when he shall visit thee? (for thou hast taught them to be captains and as chief over thee) shall not sorrow take thee as a woman in travail?
22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discovered and thy heels made bare.
23 Can the black Moor change his skin? or the leopard his spots, then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil?
24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South wind.
25 This is thy portion, and the part of thy measures from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in lies.
26 Therefore I have also discovered thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appear.
27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the filthiness of thy whoredom on the hills in the fields, and thine abominations. [Woe] unto thee, O Jerusalem: wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?
rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

8 O thou hope of Israel, the savior thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by, to tarry for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a strong man that cannot help? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of us, and thy name is called upon us: forsake us not.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto this people, Thus have they delighted to wander: they have not refrained their feet, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

11 Then said the Lord unto me, Thou shalt not pray to do this people good.

12 When they fast, I will not hear their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come upon you, but I will give you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I have not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I unto them, but they prophesy unto you a false vision, and divination, and vanity, and deceitfulness of their own heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophesy in my Name, whom I have not sent, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom these prophets do prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, because of the famine, and the sword, and there shall be none to bury them: both they and their wives, and their sons, and their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them, Let mine eyes drop down tears night and day with-earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah King of Judah for that which he did in Jerusalem.

5 Who shall then have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall be sorry for thee? or who shall go to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: for I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will scatter them with the fan in the gates of the earth: I have wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not return from their ways.

8 Their widows are increased by me above the sand of the sea: I have brought upon them, and against the assembly of the young men, a destroyer at noon day: I have caused him to fall upon them, and the city, suddenly and speedily.

9 She that hath borne seven, hath been made by the enemy he meaneth the Jews, which should afterward know the last days should be quiet: and by the enemy he meaneth here, Nebuchadnezzar, who gave Jeremiah the occasion.

10 Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striveth with the whole earth: I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent unto me on usury: yet everyone doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, Surely thy remnant shall have wealth: surely I will cause thine enemy to entreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall the iron break the iron, and the brass that cometh from the North?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to be spoiled without gain, and that for all thy sins even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not, for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors: take me not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found by me, and I did eat them, and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for thy Name is called upon me, O Lord God of hosts.

17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, neither did I rejoice, but sat alone because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heaviness continual? and my plague is never healed, why art thou set against me as a liar, and as waters that fail?

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the precious from the vile, thou shalt be according to my word: let them return unto thee, but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a strong rod of iron, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee, and to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

2 The Lord forbidding Jeremiah to marry, showeth him what should be the afflictions upon Judah. 13 The captivity of Babylon. 15 Their deliverance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

154 Not that the people was punished for the king's sin only, but for their own sins also, because they consented to his wickedness, 2 Kings 21:9.

156 That is, I will not call back my plagues or spare thee any more.

157 Meaning, the cities.

158 Because I had slain their husbands.

159 She had many, lost all her children.

160 By these are the Prophet's words, complaining of the obstinacy of the people and that he was reserved to so wicked a time: wherein also he showeth what is the condition of God's ministers, to wit, to have all the world against them, though they give none occasion.

2 Which is an occasion of contention and hatred.

1511 In this perplexity the Lord comforted me, and said that my last days should be quiet: and by the enemy he meaneth here, Nebuzaradan the captain of Nebuchadnezzar, who gave Jeremiah the choice either to remain in his country, or to go whither he would: or by the enemy he meaneth the Jews, which should afterward know Jeremiah's fidelity, and therefore favor him.

1512 As for the people, though they seemed strong as iron, yet should they not be able to resist the hard iron of Babylon, but should be led captives.

1513 Or, ransom.

1515 He speaketh not this for desire of revengeance, but wishing that God would deliver his Church of them whom he knew to be hardened and incorrigible.

1516 He received them with a great joy, as he that is famished, eateth meat.

1517 I had nothing a do with the wicked contemners of thy word, but lamented bitterly for thy plagues: showing what the faithful should do when they see tokens of God's anger.

1518 And hast not assisted me according to the promise? wherein appeareth that in the Saints of God is imperfection of faith, which through impatience is ofttimes assailed, as Jer. 20:7.

1519 If thou forget these carnal considerations, and faithfully execute thy charge.

That is, seek to win the good from the bad.

3 To wit, as my mouth hath pronounced, Jer. 1:18, and as here followeth, verse 20.

4 Conform not thyself to their wickedness, but let them follow thy godly example.

1520 I will learn thee with an invincible strength and constancy, so that all the powers of the world shall not overcome thee.
1 The word of the Lord came also unto me, saying,
2 Thou shalt not take a wife, nor have sons nor daughters in this place.
3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sons, and concerning the daughters, that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bear them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,
4 They shall die of deaths and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dung upon the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carcasses shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.
5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, nor be moved for them: for I have taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, even mercy and compassion.
6 Both the great, and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.
7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.
8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.
9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, even in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.
10 And when thou shalt show this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against us? or what is our iniquity? and what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?
11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my Law, 12 (And ye have done worse than your fathers:
13 Therefore will I drive you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither you nor your fathers, and there ye shall serve other gods day and night: for I will show you no grace.
14 Behold therefore saith the Lord, the days come that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,
15 But, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the North, and from all the lands where he had scattered them, and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.
16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many fishers, and they shall fish them, and after will I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the caves of the rocks.
17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.
18 And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double, because they have defiled my land, and have filled mine inheritance with their filthy carrions and their abominations.
19 O Lord, thou art my fortress, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, and vanity, wherein there was no profit.
20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?
21 Behold, therefore I will this once teach them: I will show them mine hand and my power, and they shall know that my Name is the Lord.

17 The frowardness of the Jews. 5 Cursed be those that put their confidence in man. 9 Man's heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The living waters are forsaken. 21 The right keeping of the Sabbath commanded.

162 1 Meaning, that the affliction should be so horrible in Jerusalem, that wife and children should but increase his sorrow.
165 1 Signifying, that the affliction should be so great, that one should not have leisure to comfort another.
166 1 That is, should not rent their clothes in sign of mourning.
167 1 For in these great extremities all consolation and comfort shall be in vain.
1610 1 Because the wicked are always rebellious, and assemble their own sins, and murmure against God's judgments, as though he had no just cause to punish them, he showeth him what to answer.
1615 1 Signifying, the benefit of their deliverance out of Babylon should be so great, that it should abolish the remembrance of their deliverance from Egypt: but he hath here chiefly respect to the spiritual deliverance under Christ.
1616 1 By the fishers and hunters are meant the Babylonians and Chaldeans, who should destroy them in such sort, that if they escaped the one, the other should take them.
1618 1 That is, their sons and daughters, which they offered to Molech.
1619 1 He wondereth at the great mercy of God in this deliverance, which shall not only extend to the Jews, but also to the Gentiles.
2 Our fathers were most vile dolaters, therefore it cometh only of God's mercy, that he performeth his promise, and hath not utterly cast us off.
1621 1 They shall once again feel my power and mercy for their deliverance, that they may learn to worship me.
1 The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond, and graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars.

2 They remember their altars as their children, with their groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance, and all thy treasures to be spoiled, for the sin of thy high places throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou shalt rest, and in thee shall be a rest from thine heritage in the land, which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn forever.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and withdraweth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, and shall not see when any good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not feel when the heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green, and shall not care for the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 The heart is deceitful and wicked above all things, who can know it?

10 If the Lord search the heart, and try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his works.

11 As the partridge gathereth the young, which she hath not brought forth: so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 As a glorious throne exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be whole: save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But I have not thrust in myself for a pastor after thee, neither have I desired the day of misery, thou knowest that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

17 Be not terribile unto me: thou art mine hope in the day of adversity.

18 Let them be confounded, that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring upon them the day of adversity, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem,

20 And say unto them, Hear the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heed to your souls, and bear no burden in the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem.

17:1 1 The remembrance of their contempt of God cannot pass, albeit for a time he defer the punishment; for it shall be manifest to men and Angels.

2 Instead of the Law of God, they have written idolatry and all abominations in their heart.

3 Your sins appear in all the altars that you have erected to idols.

17:2 1 Some read, So that their children remember their altars, that is, follow their fathers’ wickedness.

17:3 1 Zion that was my mountain, shall now be left as a waste field.

17:4 1 Because thou wouldest not give the land rest, at such times, days, and years as I appointed, thou shalt hereafter be carried away.

17:5 1 The Jews were given to worldly policies, and thought to make themselves strong by the friendship of the Egyptians, Isa. 31:3, and strangers, and in the mean season did not depend on God, and therefore he denounced God’s plagues against them, showing that they prefer corruptible man to God, which is immortal, Isa. 2:22; Jer. 48:6, 7.

17:6 1 Read Ps. 1:3.

17:7 1 Because the wicked have ever some excuse to defend their doings, he showeth that their own lewd imaginations deceive them, and bring them to these inconveniences: but God will examine their deeds by the malice of their hearts, 1 Sam. 16:7; 1 Chron. 28:9; Ps. 7:10; Jer. 11:20 and 20:12; Rev. 2:21.

17:11 1 As the Partridge by calling gathered others which forsake her, when they see that she is not their dam: so the covetous man is forsaken of his riches, because he cometh by them falsely. 17:12 1 Showing that the godly ought to glory in nothing, but in God, who doth exalt his, and hath left a sign of his favor in his temple.

17:13 1 Their names shall not be registered in the book of life.

17:14 1 He desireth God to preserve him that he fall not into temptation, considering the great contempt of God’s word, and the multitude that fall from God.

17:15 1 The wicked say that my prophecy shall not come to pass, because thou deferrest the time of thy vengeance.

17:16 1 I am assured of my vocation, and therefore know that the thing which thou speakest by me, shall come to pass, and that I speak not of any worldly affection.

17:17 1 Howsoever the wicked deal rigorously with me, yet let me find comfort in thee.

17:18 1 Read Jer. 11:20.

17:19 1 Whereas thy doctrine may be best understood both of high and low.

17:21 1 By naming the Sabbath day, he comprehendeth the thing that is thereby signified: for if they transgressed in the ceremony, they must needs be culpable of the rest, read Exod. 20:8, and by the breaking of this one commandment, he maketh them transgressors of the whole law, forasmuch as the first and second table are contained herein.
22 Neither carry forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither do ye any work, but sanctify the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ears, but made their necks stiff, and would not hear, nor receive correction.

24 Nevertheless, if ye will hear me, saith the Lord, and bear no burden through the gates of the city in the Sabbath day, but sanctify the Sabbath day, so that ye do no work therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of this city, and shall sit upon the throne of David, and shall ride upon chariots and upon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and this city shall remain forever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not hear me to sanctify the Sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, nor to go through the gates of Jerusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

18 2 God showeth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his word. 18 The conspiracy of the Jews against Jeremiah. 19 His prayer against his adversaries.

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise, and go down into the potter’s house, and there shall I show thee my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter’s house, and behold, he wrought a work on the wheels.

4 And the vessel that he made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter, so he returned, and made it another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter, saith the Lord? behold, as the clay is in the potter’s hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speak suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdom to pluck it up, and to root it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation against whom I have pronounced turn from their wickedness, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring upon them.

9 And I will speak suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it do evil in my sight, and hear not my voice, I will repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

11 Speak thou now therefore unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: return you therefore every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your works good.

12 But they said, ‘desperately, Surely we will walk after our own imaginations, and do every man after the stubbornness of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ask now among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgin of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rock of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and have burnt incense to vanity, and their prophets have caused them to stumble in their ways from the ‘ancient ways, to walk in the paths and way that is not trodden.

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual derision, so that everyone that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and wag his head, 17 I will scatter them with an East wind before the enemy: I will show them the back, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let us imagine some device against Jeremiah: for the Law shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the Prophet; come, and let us smite him with the 2tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19  Hearken unto me, O Lord, and hear the voice of them that contend with me.

20  Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have dug a pit for my soul: remember that I stood before thee, to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21  Therefore, deliver up their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, let their wives be robbed of their children, and be widows: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their young men be slain by the sword in the battle.

22  Let the cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an host suddenly upon them: for they have dug a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23  Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me tendeth to death: forgive not their iniquity, neither put out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee: deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

19  He prophesieth the destruction of Jerusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

1  Thus saith the Lord, Go, and buy an earthen bottle of a potter, and take of the ancients for the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2  And go forth unto the valley of Ben-Hinnom, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,

3  And shalt say, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O Kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring a plague upon this place, which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

4  Because they have forsaken me, and profaned this place, and have burnt incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers have known, nor the Kings of Judah (they have filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5  And they have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind)

6  Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7  And I will bring the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seek their lives: and their carcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the field.

8  And I will make this city desolate, and an hissing, so that everyone that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9  And I will feed them with the flesh of their sons, and with the flesh of their daughters, and everyone shall eat the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies that seek their lives, shall hold them strait.

10  Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11  And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, even as I have done these things unto Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom.

12  I will again make this city desolate, and an astonishment, and an hissing among all the earth, whereof I have not made thee name;

13  Thus saith the Lord, For the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Judah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burnt incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14  Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesy, and he stood in the court of the Lord’s house, and said to all the people,

15  Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon Jerusalem and all the cities thereof, the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause this city to be inhabited as in the days of old, and in the time of David and Solomon, 16  Even I will make this city an astonishment, and an hissing among all nations, and a hissing among all kingdoms, saith the Lord, because they have not hearkened to my words.

17  And it shall come to pass, when this city is inhabited, as in the days of old, and the houses are rebuilded, as in the time of David and Solomon;

18  And when I have brought them again, saith the Lord, I will build them up, and I will plant them, that they may increase, and multiply, and be a joy and a name, even among the heathen, when they shall hear all the calculs that I have wrought upon this place.

19  For they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Baal; and they have provoked me to anger with their images, and with their abominations: I also will forsake them, and will cause their counselors to fail; and I will deliver them to be devoured.

20  Then said I, Ah Lord God! wilt thou destroy this good city? which bringest up the inheritance of Jacob, whereof I say, It is despised, but not destroyed!

21  Hearken unto me, O Lord, and hear the voice of them that contend with me.

22  Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have dug a pit for my soul: remember that I stood before thee, to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

23  Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me tendeth to death: forgive not their iniquity, neither put out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee: deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

24  Thus saith the Lord, Go, and buy an earthen bottle of a potter, and take of the ancients for the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

25  And go forth unto the valley of Ben-Hinnom, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,

26  And shalt say, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O Kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring a plague upon this place, which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

27  Because they have forsaken me, and profaned this place, and have burnt incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers have known, nor the Kings of Judah (they have filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

28  And they have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind)

29  Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

30  And I will bring the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seek their lives: and their carcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the field.

31  And I will make this city desolate, and an hissing, so that everyone that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

32  And I will feed them with the flesh of their sons, and with the flesh of their daughters, and everyone shall eat the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies that seek their lives, shall hold them strait.

33  Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

34  And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, even as I have done these things unto Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom.

35  I will again make this city desolate, and an astonishment, and an hissing among all nations, and a hissing among all kingdoms, saith the Lord, because they have not hearkened to my words.

36  And it shall come to pass, when this city is inhabited, as in the days of old, and the houses are rebuilded, as in the time of David and Solomon;

38  For they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Baal; and they have provoked me to anger with their images, and with their abominations: I also will forsake them, and will cause their counselors to fail; and I will deliver them to be devoured.

39  Then said I, Ah Lord God! wilt thou destroy this good city? which bringest up the inheritance of Jacob, whereof I say, It is despised, but not destroyed!

40  Hearken unto me, O Lord, and hear the voice of them that contend with me.

41  Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have dug a pit for my soul: remember that I stood before thee, to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

42  Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me tendeth to death: forgive not their iniquity, neither put out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee: deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching the word of God. He prophesied the captivity of Babylon. He complaineth that he is a mocking stock for the word of God. He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

1 When Pashhur, the son of Immer, the priest, which was appointed governor in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashhur smote Jeremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashhur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashhur, but Magor-Missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it, and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliver all the substance of this city, and all the labors thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them away and carry them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashhur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall go into captivity, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceived me, and I am deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daily: everyone mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wrong, and proclaimed desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproach unto me, and in derision daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak anymore in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the railing of many, and fear on every side. Declare, said they, and we will declare it: all my familiaris watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceived: so we shall prevail against him, and we shall execute our vengeance upon him.

11 But the Lord is with me like a mighty giant: therefore my persecutors shall be overthrown, and shall not prevail, and shall be greatly confounded: for they have done unwisely, and their everlasting shame shall never be forgotten.

12 But, O Lord of hosts, that triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

13 Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of the wicked.

14 Cursed be the day wherein I was born: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man that showed my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man be as the cities, which the Lord hath overthrown and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noon tide, 17 Because he hath not slain me, even from the womb, or that my mother might have been my grave, or her womb a perpetual conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the womb, to see labor and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

21 He prophesieth that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the city burned.

1 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashhur, the son of Melchiah, and Zephaniah, the son of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,
21:2 1 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for us, (for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel maketh war against us) if so be that the Lord will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may return up from us.

3 Then said Jeremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babel, and against the Chaldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

5 And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arm, even in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah the King of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their lives, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither have pity nor compassion.

8 And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this city, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chaldeans, that sitteth upon the throne of David, thou and thy servants, and thy people, on these gates.

10 For I have set my face against this city, for evil and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burn it with fire.

11 ¶ And say unto the house of the King of Judah, Hear ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of David, Thus saith the Lord, Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the wickedness of your works.

13 Behold, I come against thee, 1 O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the Lord, which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will visit you according to the fruit of your works, saith the Lord, and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour round about it.

22:1 He exhorted the King to judgment and righteousness.

2 Why Jerusalem is brought into captivity.

11 The death of Shallum the son of Josiah is prophesied.

1 Thus said the Lord, Go down to the house of the King of Judah, and speak there this thing.

2 And say, Hear the word of the Lord, O King of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou and thy servants, and thy people, that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lord, Execute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vex not the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow: do no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing, then shall the kings sitting upon the throne of David enter in by the gates of this House, and ride upon chariots and upon horses, both he and his servants and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken upon the king's house of Judah, Thou art 1 Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and as cities not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, everyone with his weapons, and they shall cut down thy chief cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 1 And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbor, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this great city?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they have

21:12 1 Not that the King was touched with repentance of his sins, and so sought to God, as did Hezekiah, when he sent to Isaiah, 2 Kings 19:1; Isa. 37:2, but because the Prophet might pray unto God to take this present plague away, as Pharaoh sought unto Moses, Exod. 9:28.

21:14 1 To wit, from your enemies to destroy yourselves.

21:18 1 By yielding yourselves to Nebuchadnezzar.

21:19 1 As a thing recovered from extreme danger, Jer. 37:2, 39:18 and 45:5.

21:12 1 Be diligent to do justice.

21:13 1 Meaning, Jerusalem which was built part on the hill, and part in the valley, and was compassed about with mountains.

21:14 1 That is, in the houses thereof, which stood as thick as trees in the forest.

22:3 1 This was his ordinary manner of preaching before the Kings, from Josiah unto Zedekiah, which was about forty years.

22:5 1 Showing that there is none greater than he is, Heb. 6:13, and that he will most certainly perform his oath.

22:6 1 He compareth Jerusalem to Gilead, which was beyond Jordan, and the beauty of Judea to Lebanon.

22:7 1 The Hebrew word signifies to sanctify, because the Lord doth dedicate to his use and purpose such as he prepareth to execute his work, Isa. 13:3; Jer. 6:4 and 12:3.

22:8 1 Thy buildings made of Cedar trees.

22:8 1 As they that wonder at a thing which they thought would never have come so to pass, Deut. 29:24; 1 Kings 9:8.
forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 ¶ Weep not for the dead, and be not moved for them, but weep for him that goeth out: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching Shallum the son of Josiah King of Judah, which reigned for Josiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not return thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers without equity: he useth his neighbor without wages, and giveth him not for his work.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himself large windows, and ceiling with cedar, and paint them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reign, because thou closest thyself in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and prosper, when he executed judgment and justice?

16 When he judged the cause of the afflicted and the poor, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but only for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, even to do this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah king of Judah, They shall not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah sister: neither shall they mourn for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 He shall be buried, as an ass is buried, even drawn and cast forth without the gates of Jerusalem.

20 ¶ Go up to Lebanon, and cry: shout in Bashan, and by the passages: for all thy lovers are doleful.

21 I spake unto thee when thou wast in prosper-

22:10 ¶ Signifying, that they should lose their king: for Jehoiachin went forth to meet Nebuchadnezzar and yielded himself, and was carried into Babylon, 2 Kings 24:12.

22:11 ¶ Whom some think to be Jehoiachin, and that Josiah was his grandfather: but as seemeth, this was Jehoiakim, as verse 18.

22:13 ¶ By bribes, and extortion.

22:15 ¶ Meaning, Josiah, who was not given to ambition and superficiality, but was content with mediocrity, and did only delight in setting forth God's glory, and to do justice to all.

22:18 ¶ For everyone shall have enough to lament for himself.

22:19 ¶ Not honorably among his fathers, but as carriions are cast in a hole, because their stink should not infect, read 2 Kings 24:9. Josephus Antiquities 10:8, writeth that the enemy slew him in the city and commanded him to be cast before the walls unburned, see Jer. 36:30.

22:20 ¶ To call to the Assyrians for help.

22:22 ¶ Both thy governors and they that should help thee, shall vanish away as wind.

22:23 ¶ Thou that art built of the fair Cedar trees of Lebanon.

22:24 ¶ Who was called Jehochaihn, or Jeconiah, whom he calleth here Coniah in contempt, who thought his kingdom could never depart from him, because he came of the stock of David, and therefore for the promise sake could not be taken from his house: but he abused God's promise, and therefore was justly deprived of the kingdom.

22:29 ¶ He sheweth that all posterities shall be witnesses of his just plague, as though it were registered for perpetual memory.

22:30 ¶ Not that he had no children (for after that he begat Shealtiel in the captivity, Matt. 1:12) but that none should reign after him as King.

23:1 ¶ Meaning, the princes, governors and false prophets, as Ezek. 34:2.

23:3 For the which I have especial care, and have prepared good pastures for them.
2 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel unto the pastors that 'feed my people, Ye have scattered my flock, and thrust them out, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit you for the wickedness of your works, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the 'remnant of my sheep out of all countries, whither I had driven them, and will bring them again to their folds, and they shall grow and increase:

4 And I will set up shepherds over them, which shall feed them: and they shall dread no more nor be afraid, neither shall any of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous 'branch, and a King shall reign and prosper; and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 In his days Judah shall be saved, and 'Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, 'The Lord our righteousness.

7 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, 'The Lord liveth, which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

8 But the Lord liveth, which brought up and led the seed of Israel out of the North country, and from all countries where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the 'prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whom wine hath 'overcome) for the presence of the Lord and for his holy words.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and 'Israel shall dwelleth in the midst of them, and shall dwell in their own land.

11 For both the Prophet and the Priest 'do wickedly: and their wickedness have I found in mine 'House, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I have seen foolishness in the prophets of Samaria that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to err.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem 'filthiness: they commit adultery and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked, that none can return from his wickedness: they are all 'unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feed them with 'wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is 'wickedness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hear not the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you, and teach you vanity: they speak the vision of their own 'heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still unto them that despise me, 'The Lord hath said, Ye shall have peace: and they say unto everyone that walketh after the stubbornness of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you.

18 For 'who hath stood in the counsel of the Lord that he hath perceived, and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwind shall fall down upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not return until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter days ye 'shall understand it plainly.

21 I have not sent these prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ran; I have not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsel, and 'had declared my words to my people, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the wickedness of their inventions.
23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God far off?
24 Can any hide himself in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Do not I fill heaven and earth, saith the Lord?
25 I have heard what the prophets said, that prophesied lies in my Name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.
26 How long? Do the prophets delight to prophesy lies, even prophesying the deceit of their own heart?
27 Think they to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreams, which they tell every man to his neighbor, as their forefathers have forgotten my Name for Baal?
28 The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream, and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully: what is the chaff to the wheat, saith the Lord?
29 Is not my word even like a fire, saith the Lord, and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?
30 Therefore behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steal my word every one from his neighbor.
31 Behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which have sweet tongues, and say, He saith.
32 Behold, I will come against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the Lord, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their flat­teries, and I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they bring no profit unto this people, saith the Lord.
33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even forsake you, saith the Lord.
34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I will even visit every such one, and his house.
35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbor, and every one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath the Lord spoken?
24:4  And the burden of the Lord shall ye mention no more: for every man’s word shall be his burden: for ye have perverted the words of the living God, the Lord of hosts our God.
36 Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and what hath the Lord spoken?
37 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this word, The burden of the Lord, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the Lord.
38 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this word, The burden of the Lord, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the Lord.
39 Therefore behold, I, even I will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence, 40 And will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame which shall never be forgotten.

24 The vision of the baskets of figs, Signifieth that part of the people should be brought again out of captivity. And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carried away.

1 The Lord showed me, and behold, two baskets of figs were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah with the workmen, and cunning men of Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.
2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe, and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so evil.
3 Then said the Lord unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs: the good figs very good, and the naughty very naughty, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil.
4 Again the word of the Lord came unto me,
saying.
5 Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel, Like these good figs, so will I know them that are carried away captive of Judah to be good, whom I have sent out of this place, into the land of the Chaldeans.
6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land, and I will build them and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not root them out.
7 And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.
8 And as the naughty figs which cannot be eaten, they are so evil (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I give Zedekiah the King of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:
9 I will even give them for a terrible plague to all the kingdoms of the earth, and for a reproach, and for a proverb, and for a common talk, and for a curse, in all places where I shall cast them.
10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gave unto them, and to their fathers.

25 1 He prophesieth that they shall be in captivity seventy years. 2 And that after the seventy years the Babyloniasts should be destroyed. 3 The destruction of all nations is prophesied.
1 The word that came to Jeremiah, concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that was in the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel:
2 The which Jeremiah the Prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inabitants of Jerusalem, saying,
3 From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, even unto this day (that is the three and twentieth year) the word of the Lord hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you rising early and speaking, but ye would not hear.
4 And the Lord hath sent unto you all his servants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, but ye would not hear, nor incline your ears, to obey.
5 They said, Turn again now everyone from his evil way, and from the wickedness of your inventions, and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath given unto you, and to your fathers forever and ever.
6 And go not after other gods to serve them and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will not punish you.
7 Nevertheless, ye would not hear me, saith the Lord, but have provoked me to anger with the works of your hands to your own hurt.
8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye have not heard my words,
9 Behold, I will send and take to me all the families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.
10 Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the noise of the millstones, and the light of the candle.
11 And this whole land shall be desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.
12 And when the seventy years are accomplished, I will visit the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, even the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it a perpetual desolation.
13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all nations.
14 For many nations, and great kings shall even
And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings thereof.

And all the kings of the North, far and near that dwell in the uttermost corners, and all the kings of the sea, and of Arabia that dwell in the desert, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and of Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod.

And all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the Isles that are beyond the sea.

And Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that dwell in the uttermost corners,

And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of Arabia that dwell in the desert,

And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes,

And all the kings of the North, far and near one to another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the earth, and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Ye shall certainly drink.

If but if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Ye shall certainly drink.

For lo, I begin to plague the city, where my Name is called upon, and should you go free? Ye shall not go acquited: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hosts.

Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The Lord shall roar from above, and thrust out his voice from his holy habitation: he shall roar upon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that press the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

The sounds shall come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hath a controversy with the nations, and will enter into judgment with all flesh, and he will give them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, a plague shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

And the slain of the Lord shall be at that day, from one end of the earth, even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shall be as the dung upon the ground.

Howl, ye shepherds, and cry, and wallow yourselves in the ashes, ye principal of the flock: for your days of slaughter are accomplished, and of your dispersion, and ye shall fall like precious vessels.

And the flight shall fail from the shepherds, and the escaping from the principal of the flock.

A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flock, shall be heard: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

And the best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is waste, because of the wrath of the oppressor, and because of the wrath of his indignation.

26 Jerusalem moveth the people to repentance. 7 He is taken of the false prophets and priests, and brought to judgment. 23 Urijah the Prophet is killed of Jehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

25:14 1 That is, of the Babylonians, as Jer. 27:7.

25:15 1 Signifying, the extreme affliction, that God had appointed for everyone, as Ps. 75:8; Isa. 51:17, and this cup, which the wicked drink, is more bitter than that which he giveth to his children, for he measureth the one by mercy, and the other by justice.

25:18 1 For now it beginneth and shall so continue till it be accomplished.

25:20 1 Read Job 1:1.

25:21 1 Edom is here taken for the whole country, and Uz for a part thereof.

25:22 1 As Greece, Italy and the rest of those countries.

25:23 1 These were people of Arabia which came of Dedan the son of Abraham and Keturah.

25:24 1 For there were two countries so named, the one called plentiful, and the other barren, or desert.

25:25 1 Or, Persia.

25:26 1 That is, of Babylon, as Jer. 51:41.

25:29 1 That is, Jerusalem, read verse 12.

25:33 1 They which are slain at the Lord's appointment.

25:34 1 Ye that are chief rulers, and governors.

25:35 1 It shall not help them to seek to flee.

25:37 1 Hebrew, peaceable.
 CHAPTER 26

1 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lord's House, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the Lord's House, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them: keep not a word back,

3 If so be they will hearken, and turn every man of the Church, where God will remain forever.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not hear me to walk in my Laws, which I have set before you,

5 And to hear the words of my servants the Priests, whom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like Shiloh, and will make this city 'a curse to all nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speak unto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people took him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, 'This House shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the House of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Judah heard of these things, they came up from the king's house into the House of the Lord, and sat down in the entry of the new gate of the Lord's House.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the Prophets unto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, 'This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

12 Then spake Jeremiah unto all the Princes and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath 'sent me to prophesy against this House and against this city all the things that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now amend your ways, and your works, and hear the voice of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands: do with me as ye think good and right:

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me unto you, to speak all these words in your ears.

16 Then said the Princes and all the people unto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken unto us in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose up certain of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Micah the Morashite 'prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heap, and the mountain of the house shall be as the high places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Judah, and all Judah put him to death? did he not fear the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great evil against our souls.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Urijah the son of Shemaiah, of Kirjath Jearim, who prophesied against this city, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Jehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the King sought to slay him. But when Urijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Jehoiakim the king 'sent men into Egypt, even Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain with him into Egypt.

26:2 1 That is, in that place of the Temple whereunto the people resort out of all Judah to sacrifice.

26:3 2 To the intent that they should pretend no ignorance, as Acts 20:27.

26:6 1 Read Jer. 7:12.

26:9 1 Because of God's promises to the Temple, Ps. 132:14, that he would forever remain there, the hypocrites thought this Temple could never perish, and therefore thought it blasphemy to speak against it, Matt. 26:61; Acts 6:13, not considering that this was meant of the Church, where God will remain forever.

26:10 1 So called, because it was repaired by Jotham, 2 Kings 15:35.

26:11 1 Hebrew, judgments of death belongeth to this man.

26:12 1 He both showeth the cause of his doing, plainly, and also threateneth them that they should nothing avail, though they should put him to death, but heap greater vengeance upon their heads.

26:18 1 That is, of the House of the Lord, to wit, Zion, and these examples the godly alleged to deliver. Jeremiah out of the Priest's hands, whose rage else would not have been satisfied but by his death.

26:19 1 So that the city was not destroyed, but by miracle was delivered out of the hands of Sennacherib.

26:22 1 Here is declared the fury of tyrants, who cannot abide to hear God's word declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they prevail nothing but provoke God's judgments so much the more.
23 And they fetched Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the children of the people.
24 But the hand of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

27 1Jeremiah at the commandment of the Lord sendeth bonds to the King of Judah and to the other Kings that were near, whereby they are monished to be subjects unto Nebuchadnezzar.
1 He warneth the people, and the Kings and rulers that they believe not false Prophets.
2 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,
3 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bonds, and yokes, and put them upon thy neck,
4 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Sidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah the king of Judah,
5 And command them to say unto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say unto your masters,
6 I have made the earth, the man, and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arm, and have given it unto whom it pleased me.
7 But now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel my servant, and the beasts of the field have I also given him to serve him.
8 And all nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son’s son until the very time of his land come also: then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him.
9 And the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation will I visit saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have wholly given them into his hands.
10 Therefore hear not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your sorcerers which say unto you thus, Ye shall not serve the king of Babel.
11 For they prophesy a lie unto you to cause you to go far from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.
12 But the nation that put their necks under the yoke of the king of Babel, and serve him, those will I let remain still in their own land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.
13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serve the king of Babel?
14 Therefore hear not the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babel: for they prophesy a lie unto you.
15 For I have not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesy a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophesy unto you.
16 Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hear not the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly be brought again from Babel: for they prophesy a lie unto you.
17 Hear them not, but serve the king of Babel, that ye may live: wherefore should this city be desolate?
18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them entreat the Lord of hosts, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babel.
19 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city, 20 Which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Judah, and Jerusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem.

22 They shall be brought to Babel, and there they shall be until the day that I visit them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them up, and restore them unto this place.

28 1 The false prophecy of Hananiah. 12 Jeremiah reproveth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

1 And that same year in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lord in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 Within two years space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lord’s House, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel took away from this place, and carried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, with all them that were carried away captive of Judah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremiah said unto the Prophet Hananiah, in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord.

6 Even the Prophet Jeremiah said, So be it: the Lord so do, the Lord confirm thy words which thou hast prophesied, to restore the vessels of the Lord’s house, and all that is carried captive from Babel, into this place.

7 But hear thou now this word that I will speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people.

8 The Prophets that have been before me, and before thee in time past, prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to pass, then shall the Prophet be known that the Lord hath truly sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet took the yoke from the Prophet Jeremiah’s neck, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, from the neck of all nations within the space of two years: and the Prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the neck of the Prophet Jeremiah) saying, 13 Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel: for they shall serve him, and I have given him the beasts of the field also.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremiah, unto the Prophet Hananiah, Hear now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cast thee from of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

29 1 Jeremiah writeth unto them that were in captivity in Babylon. 10 He prophesieth their return after seventy years. 16 He prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remain in Jerusalem. 21 He threateneth the prophets that seduce the people. 25 The death of Shemaiah is prophesied.

1 Now these are the words of the book that
Chapter 29

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I have cast you, saith the Lord, and will bring you again unto the place, whence I caused you to be carried away captive.
15 Because ye have said, The Lord hath raised us up 1Prophets in Babel.
16 Therefore thus saith the Lord of the King, that sitheth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity:
17 Even thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will send upon them the 1sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile 2figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so naughty.
18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdoms of the earth, and 1a curse, and astonishment, and an hissing and a reproach among all the nations whither I have cast them,
19 Because they have not heard my words saith the Lord, which I sent unto them by my servants the Prophets, 1rising up early, and sending them, but ye would not hear, saith the Lord.
20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babel.
21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy lies unto you in my Name, Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eyes.
22 And all they of the captivity of Judah, that are in Babel, shall take up this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the King of Babel burnt 1in the fire, 23 Because they have committed 1villainy in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbor's wives, and have spoken lying words in my Name, which I have not commanded them, even I know it, and testify it, saith the Lord.
24 ¶ Thou shalt also speak to Shemaiah the 292 1 Meaning, Jeconiah's mother.

293 1 To entreat of some equal conditions.
294 1 To wit, the Lord, whose work this was.
297 1 The Prophet speaketh not this for the affection that he bare to the tyrant, but that they should pray for the common rest and quietness, that their troubles might not be increased, and that they might with more patience and less grief wait for the time of their deliverance, which God had appointed most certain: for else not only the Israelites, but all the world, yea, and the insensible creatures should rejoice when these tyrants should be destroyed, as Isa. 14:4.
298 1 According to the comparison, Jer. 24:1, 2.
299 1 Read Jer. 26:6.
301 1 Read Jer. 7:13, 25:3 and 26:5.
302 1 Because they gave the people hope of speedy returning.
303 1 Which was adultery, and falsifying the word of God.
304 1 As Ahab, Zedekiah and Shemaiah.
Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people, that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying, 26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Jeboiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lord, for every man that raveth and maketh himself a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth unto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent unto us in Babel, saying, This captivity is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will visit Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good, that I will do for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

30 The return of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies. 18 and comforteth the Church.

1 The word, that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee, in a book.

2 For lo, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord: for I will restore them unto the land, that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

3 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I have scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by judgment, and not utterly cut thee off.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

5 There is none to judge thy cause, or to lay a plaster: there are no medicines, nor help for thee.

6 All thy lovers have forgotten thee: they seek thee not: for I have stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharp chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sins were increased.

7 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sins were increased.

8 Therefore all they that devour thee, shall be delivered from it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble, yet shall he be delivered from it.

9 For in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will break thy yoke from off thy neck, and break thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him.

10 Therefore fear not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for lo, I will deliver thee from a far country, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall turn again, and shall be in rest and prosperity, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee saith the Lord, to save thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I have scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by judgment, and not utterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to judge thy cause, or to lay a plaster: there are no medicines, nor help for thee.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee: they seek thee not: for I have stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharp chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sins were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16 Therefore all they that devour thee, shall be devoured, and all thine enemies everyone shall go into captivity, and they that spoil thee, shall be spoiled, and all they that rob thee, will I give to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The castaway, saying, This is Zion whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob’s tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places, and the city shall be built upon her own heap, ‘and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceed ‘thanksgiving, and the voice of them that are joyous, and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few: I will also glorify them, and they shall not be diminished.

20 Their children also shall be as afore time, and their congregation shall be established before me: and I will visit all that vex them.

21 And their ‘noble ruler shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them, and I will cause him to draw near and approach unto me: for who is this that directeth his ‘heart to come unto me, saith the Lord?

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, ‘the tempest of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whirlwind that hangeth over, shall light upon the head of the wicked.

24 ‘The fierce wrath of the Lord shall not return, until he have done, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the ‘latter days ye shall understand it.

31 1 He rehearseth God’s benefits after their return from Babylon. 13 And the spiritual joy of the faithful in the Church.

1 At the ‘same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2 ‘Thus saith the Lord, The people which ‘escaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness: ‘he walketh before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared unto me ‘of old, ‘say they: ‘Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love, therefore with mercy I have drawn thee.

4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin Israel: thou shalt still ‘be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt go forth in the dance of them that be joyful.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of ‘Samaria, and the planters that plant them, ‘shall make them common.

6 For the days shall come, that the ‘watchmen upon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, and let us go up unto ‘Zion to the Lord our God.

7 ‘For thus saith the Lord, Rejoice with gladness for Jacob, and shout for joy among the chief of the Gentiles: publish praise and say, O Lord, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 ‘Behold, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coasts of the world, ‘with the blind and the lame among them, ‘with the woman with child, and her that is delivered also: a great company shall return hither.

9 ‘They shall come ‘weeping, and with mercy will I bring them again: I will lead them by the rivers of ‘water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is ‘my firstborn.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel, will gather him, and will keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand ‘of him, that was stronger than he.

12 ‘Therefore they shall come, and rejoice in the height of Zion, and shall run to the bountifulness of the Lord, even for the wheat and for the wine, and for the oil, and for the increase of sheep and bullocks: and their soul shall be as a watered garden, and they shall have no more sorrow.

13 Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, and the young men and the old men together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and give them joy for their sorrows.

14 And I will replenish the soul of the Priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voice was heard on high, a mourning, and bitter weeping, Rachel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refrain the voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come again from the land of the enemy:

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to their own borders.

18 I have heard Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as an untamed calf: convert thou me, and I shall be converted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I was converted, I repented, and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my dear son or pleasant child? yet since I spake unto him, I still remembered him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him. I will surely have compassion upon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee up signs: make thee heaps: set thine heart upon the way, and let thine eyes see the good road; say to the wayfaring man, go up to my holy mountain, to Jerusalem.

22 And I will give rest unto him, and I will increase him, and I will set up my tabernacle in the midst of them, and will set up the Tabernacle of the covenant there, and will shew the mercy of my people Israel, and will not any more spurn them, for I am the Lord their God, and I will do them good, and I will lead them forsake the gods whom they have served, and I will bring them again to the land of Egypt.

23 And it shall come to pass, when I have brought them again from the people, whom I dispersed among the nations, and shall be sanctified in them in their land, (for they shall be sanctified before me, and I will sanctify them,) then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord; and I will take them from among the heathen, and will gather them from all the lands, and will bring them into their own land, and will make them one nation, and they shall be people in the land, upon the mountains of the kingdom, which are in the Church, and whereof there should be ever plenty.

24 And Judah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that go forth with the flock.

25 For I have satisied the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleep was sweet unto me.

27 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

28 And like as I have watched upon them, to pluck up and to root out, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I watch over them, to build and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children’s teeth are set on edge.

30 But everyone shall die for his own iniquity, every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah,

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, and they were unfaithful unto me;

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people:

34 Neither shall they數 the days, saying, The days are lengthened; neither shall there be mourning for man, neither shall the young men weep for man, nor the young women for her husband in all the land of Judah; for great shall be the奖学 and great shall be the peace.

35 And this shall be the sign to you, saith the Lord, when I shall cause them to come again from the captivity of all the places where I have sent them, for their own good, and for the good of my soul, to make them a name, and a nation, and a kingdom, among the heathen, to gather them together, to bring them again to the land which I gave unto your fathers.

36 Thus saith the Lord,refrain the voice of the cry of thy children, that they may not perish.

37 And when thou smitest thine enemy, thou mayest smite him with a complete stroke: and when any man shall take away a life, thou mayest take away a life.

38 And when any man shall take away a limb, thou mayest take away a limb.

39 And when any man shall take away an eye, thou mayest take away an eye.

40 And when any man shall take away a tooth, thou mayest take away a tooth.

41 For I will turn all my mountains into bread, and all my hills into cake; and it shall be for the house of Israel meat and for the house of Judah bread.

42 And the hills shall be turned into a plain, and the plain into a valley, and the valley shall be turned into a valley.

43 And I will bring the blind by a straight way, that he may not go astray in the wilderness; and I will give him rest upon the sea, and he shall rest upon the ocean.

44 And I will bring the poor and the needy, and I will give them rest.

45 And I will turn away evil from them, and will bring them again, and I will give them rest, and they shall rejoice, and be glad, and shall honour me.

46 And I will form them to be a holy people unto me: and they shall be no more a people unto the heathen, neither shall they be numbered among the nations, neither they shall waste away any more, neither shall the heathen any more devour them; for I will deliver them, and I will have mercy upon them; and they shall dwell in the land that I gave unto their fathers, and they shall dwell in it, even in it.

47 And I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah, and I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people;

48 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

49 Thus saith the Lord, the enemy shall not again pass through Israel; as for him that returneth to transgress, I will fill him with my creatures.

50 And he shall say, I will increase, I will multiply, for the Lord hath sworn, and shall not repent, that the house of Jacob shall be as the Gentiles, and the house of Israel as the mountains of the earth; and Zebulun shall reign in the morning, and Issachar shall be a flock.

51 And they shall call them, The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord; and thou shalt say, He hath redeemed me from all mine iniquities.

52 Not as when they were broken away from the land of Egypt, saith the Lord, in the time of that generation, saith the Lord, I will break them on every side that shall seek them; and I will bring them again from all the countries, where I have sent them, saith the Lord; and I will be merciful unto them, and I will not anger any more, for I am merciful, saith the Lord; and I will not turn again, nor forsake them, saith the Lord.

53 Thus saith the Lord, If the heavens above could be measured, and the foundations of the earth could be numbered, I will also remember their sin for ever, and bring their sin into remembrance; and I will say no more, Neither will I smite again, until the time shall come when I shall make an end of sin, when I shall have purified the heaven and the earth, and I will say again, This is the end, it is finished.

54 For the Lord is our righteousness, and the salvation of the heathen that are in the earth is from the Lord of hosts, who siteth in heaven.
unto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel. After ‘those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall ‘teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and will remember their sins no more.

35 Thus saith the Lord, which giveth ‘the sun for a light to the day, and the courses of the moon and of the stars for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waves thereof roar: his Name is the Lord of hosts.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before me, forever.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heavens can be measured, or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they have done, saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the ‘city shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananel, unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall go forth [in] his presence upon the hill Gareb, and shall compass about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kidron, and unto the corner of the horsegate toward the East, shall be holy unto the Lord, neither shall it be plucked up nor destroyed anymore forever.

Jeremiah is cast into prison because he prophesied that the city should be taken of the king of Babylon.

7 He sheweth that the people should come again to their own possession. 38 The people of God are his servants, and he is their Lord.

1 The word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the ‘tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar.

2 For then the king of Babel’s host besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the Prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Judah’s house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord, ‘Behold, I will give this city into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hands of the king of Babel, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face.

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he be, until I visit him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

7 ‘Behold, Hanamel, the son of Shallum thine uncle, shall come unto thee and say, ‘Buy unto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the ‘title by kindred appertaineth unto thee ‘to buy it.

8 So Hanamel mine uncle’s son came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said unto me, Buy my ‘field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth unto thee: buy it for thee.

Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanamel, mine uncle’s son, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the silver, even seven ‘shekels, and ten ‘pieces of silver.

10 And I wrote it in the book and signed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the silver in the balances.

31:33 1 In the time of Christ, my law shall instead of tables of stone be written in their hearts by mine holy Spirit, Heb. 8:10.

31:34 1 Under the kingdom of Christ there shall be none blinded with ignorance, but I will give them faith, and knowledge of God for remission of their sins and daily increase the same: so that it shall not seem to come so much by the preaching of my ministers, as by the instruction of my holy Spirit, Isa. 54:13, but the full accomplishing of the remission of their sins and daily increase the same: so that it shall be written in their hearts by mine holy Spirit, Heb. 8:10.

31:35 1 If the sun, moon and stars cannot but give light according to mine ordinance, so long as this world lasteth, so shall my Church never fail, neither shall anything hinder it: and as sure as I will have my ordinance, so long as this world lasteth, so shall my Church be written in their hearts by mine holy Spirit, Isa. 54:13, but the full accomplishing of the remission of their sins and daily increase the same: so that it shall be written in their hearts by mine holy Spirit, Heb. 8:10.

31:37 1 The one and the other is impossible.

31:38 1 As it was performed, Neh. 3:1. By this description he sheweth that the city should be as ample, and beautiful as ever it was: but he alludeth to the spiritual Jerusalem, whose beauty should be incomparable.

32:1 1 So that Jeremiah had now prophesied from the thirteenth year of Josiah unto the last year save one of Zedekiah’s reign, which was almost forty years.

32:5 1 Till I take Zedekiah away by death: for he shall not die by the sword, as Jer. 34:4.

32:7 1 Whereby was meant that the people should return again out of captivity and enjoy their possessions and vineyards, as verses 15 and 44.

2 Or, right to redeem it

32:8 1 Of the possession of the Levites, read Lev. 25:32.

32:9 1 Which mounteth to of our money about ten shillings six pence, if this shekel were the common shekel, read Gen. 23:15, for the shekel of the Temple was of double value, and ten pieces of silver were half a shekel: for twenty made the shekel.
11 So I took the book of the possession, being sealed according to the Law, and custom, with the book that was open,
12 And I gave the book of the possession unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the sight of Hanamel mine uncle’s son, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the book of the possession, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.
13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,
14 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Take the writings, even this book of the possession, both that is sealed, and this book that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time.
15 For the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.
16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the book of the possession unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the Lord, saying,
17 Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arm, and there is nothing hard unto thee.
18 Thou showest mercy unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: O God the great, and mighty, whose name is the Lord of hosts,
19 Great in counsel, and mighty in work, (for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to give to everyone according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his works)
20 Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt unto this day, and in Israel and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeared this day,
21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and a stretched out arm, and with great terror,
22 And hast given them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, even a land that floweth with milk and honey.
23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to do, they have not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come upon them.
24 Behold, the mounts, they are come into the city to take it, and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans, that fight against it by means of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to pass, and behold, thou seest it.
25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy unto thee the field for silver, and take witnesses: for the city shall be given into the hand of the Chaldeans.
26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,
27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there anything too hard for me?
28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babel, and he shall take it.
29 And the Chaldeans shall come and fight against this city, and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me unto anger.
30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Judah have surely done evil before me, from their youth: for they have surely provoked me to anger with the works of their hands, saith the Lord.
31 Therefore this city hath been unto me as a provocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, even unto this day, that I should remove it out of my sight.
32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel, and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, even they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priests, and their Prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
33 And they have turned unto me the back and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receive doctrine.
34 But they set their abominations in the house.

32:11 1 According to the custom the instrument or evidence was sealed up with the common seal, and a copy thereof remained, which contained the same in effect, but was not so authentical as the other, but was left open to be seen if anything should be called into doubt.
32:14 1 And so to hide them in the ground, that they might be preserved as a token of their deliverance.
32:17 1 Or, hid.
32:18 1 Because the wicked are subject to the curse of God, he showeth that their posterity which by nature are under this malediction, shall be punished both for their own wickedness, and that the iniquity of their fathers, which is likewise in them, shall be also revenged on their head.
32:20 1 Meaning, that his miracles in delivering his people, should never be forgotten.
32:24 1 The word signifieth anything that is cast up, as a mount or rampart, and is also used for engines of war, which were laid on an high place to shoot into a city before that guns were in use.
32:27 1 That is, of every creature: who as they are his work, so doth he govern and guide them as pleaseth him, whereby he showeth that as he is the author of this their captivity for their sins, so will he for his mercies be their redeemer to restore them again to liberty.
32:30 1 From the time that I brought them out of Egypt, and made them my people, and called them my firstborn.
32:33 1 Read Prov. 1:24; Isa. 65:2; Jer. 7:13 and 13:3 and 26:5 and 29:19; and 2 Chron. 36:15; Jer. 35:14 and 44:4.
23:31 This is the declaration of that which was spoken verse 8.
23:32 1 To wit, of Jerusalem, who as he made it, so will he preserve it, read Isa. 37:26.
23:33 1 That is, the altars which were made to offer sacrifices upon to their idols.

32:24 1 This is the declaration of that which was spoken verse 8.
32:25 1 That is, the altars which were made to offer sacrifices upon to their idols.

32:8 2 Read Jer. 7:31; 2 Kings 21:4, 6.
32:9 3 Read 2 Kings 16:3.
32:16 1 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the second time (while he was yet shut up in the 2court of prison) saying,
32:17 2 Thus saith the Lord, the 3maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.
32:18 3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.
32:20 4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Judah, which are destroyed by the 5mounts, and by the sword,
32:20 5 They come to 6fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my wrath: for I have hid my 7face from this city, because of all their wickedness.
32:21 6 Behold, I 8will give it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace, and truth.
32:22 7 And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them as at the first.
32:23 8 And I will 9cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have rebelled against me.
32:24 9 And it shall be to me a name, a 1joy, a praise, and an honor before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: for I will show unto them that I am the Lord.
32:25 10 Thus saith the Lord, Again there shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall be desolate, without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast) the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, then the voice of them that do sing, saying, "We will eat every man the fruit of his own vine, and every man the fruit of his own fig tree, in the land of Judah and in the cities thereof."" voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, Praise the Lord of hosts, because the Lord is good: for his mercy endureth forever, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the house of the Lord, for I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Again in this place, which is desolate, without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall be dwelling for shepherds to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities in the plain, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin and about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah shall the sheep pass again, under the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will perform that good thing, which I have promised unto the house of Israel, and to the house of Judah.

15 In those days, and at that time will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David, and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

16 In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely, and he that shall call her, is the Lord our righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord, David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the Priests and Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to offer meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, that there should not be day and night in their season,

21 Then may my covenant be broken with David, his servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne, and with the Levites, and Priests my ministers.

22 As the army of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites, that minister unto me.

23 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying. The two families, which the Lord hath chosen, he hath cast them off; thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the order of heaven and earth,

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Jacob and David my servant, and not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and have compassion on them.
34:8 When the enemy was at hand, and they saw themselves in danger, they would seem holy, and so began some kind of reformation: but soon after they uttered their hypocrisy.
34:9 According to the Law, Exod. 21:2; Deut. 15:12.
34:10 Hebrew, returneth.
34:11 Or, bondage.
34:12 Or, door.
34:13 Meaning, in the Temple, to declare that it was a most solemn and straight covenant, made in the Name of the Lord.
34:14 Or, the sword.
34:15 That is, I give the sword liberty to destroy you.
34:16 As touching this manner of solemn covenant which the ancients used by passing between the two parts of a beast, to signify and straight covenant, made in the Name of the Lord.

34:15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming liberty, every man to his neighbor, and ye had made a covenant before me in the house, whereupon my Name is called.
34:16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye have caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and hold them in subjection to be unto you as servants and as handmaids.
34:17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye have not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedom every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbor: behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terror to all the kingdoms of the earth.
34:18 And I will give those men that have broken my Covenant, and have not kept the words of the Covenant, which they had made before me, when they cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,
34:19 The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the Eunuchs, and the Priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf,
34:20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.
34:21 And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babel’s host, which are gone up from you.
34:22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to return to this city, and they shall fight against it, and take it and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah desolate without an inhabitant.

35 He purposeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Jews.
35:1 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,
35:2 Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.
35:3 Then took I Jaazaniah, the son of Jeremiah the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all the princes, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts thereof,
35:4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the treasure.
35:5 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and said unto them, Drink wine.
6 But they said, We will drink no wine: for 1Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither you nor your sons forever.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any; but all your days ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, and we drink no wine all our days, neither we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for us to dwell in, neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed,

10 But we have remained in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

11 But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel came up into the land, we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem, from the host of the Chaldeans, and from the host of Aram: so we dwell at Jerusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Go, and tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive doctrine to obey my words, saith the Lord?

14 The commandment of Jonadab the son of Rechab that he commanded his sons, that they should drink no wine, is surely kept: for unto this day they drink no wine.

15 I have sent also unto you all my servants the Prophets: rising up early, and sending them, saying, Return now every man from his evil way, and amend your works, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given unto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not incline your ear, nor obey me.

16 Surely the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab, have kept the commandment of their father, which he gave them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, because I have spoken unto them, but they would not hear, and I have called unto them, but they would not answer.

18 And Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man, to stand before me forever.

36 Baruch writeth as Jeremiah inditeth, the book of the curses against Judah and Israel. 9 He is sent with the book unto the people, and readeth it before them all. 14 He is called before the rulers, and readeth it before them also. 23 The king casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written at the commandment of the Lord.

1 And in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roll or book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken to thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake unto thee, even from the days of Josiah unto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear of all the evil, which I determined to do unto them, that they may return every man from his evil way, that I may forgive their iniquity and their sins.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote 1 at the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll or book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up, and cannot go into the House of the Lord.

6 Therefore go thou, and read the roll wherein thou hast written at my mouth the words of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lord's house upon the 4fasting day: also thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Judah, that come out of their cities.

35:6 1 Whom Jehu the King of Israel favored for his zeal, 2 Kings 10:15.
2 Teaching them hereby to flee all occasion of intemperancy, ambition and avarice, and that they might know that they were strangers in the earth, and be ready to depart at all occasions.

35:10 1 Which was now for the space of three hundred years from Jehu to Jehoiakim.

35:11 1 Which declareth that they were not so bound to their vow, that it could not be broken for any necessity: for where they were commanded to dwell in tents, they dwell now at Jerusalem for fear of the wars.

35:13 1 Whom I have chosen to be my children, seeing these which were the children of an heathen man, obeyed the commandment of their father.

35:14 1 I have most diligently exhorted and warned you both by myself and my Prophet.

35:17 1 That is, by his Prophets and ministers, which sheweth that it is as much, as though he should speak to us himself, when he sendeth his ministers to speak in his Name.

35:19 1 His posterity shall continue and be in my favor forever.

36:1 1 Read Jer. 25:1

36:2 1 Which were twenty and three years, as Jer. 25:3, counting from the thirteenth year of Josiah's reign.

36:4 1 As he did indite.

36:5 1 Meaning, in prison, through the malice of the Priests.

36:6 1 Which was proclaimed for fear of the Babylonians, as their custom was when they feared war, or any great plague of God.
7 It may be that they will 1pray before the Lord, and everyone return from his evil way, for great is the anger and the wrath that the Lord hath declared against this people.
8 So Baruch the son of Neriah did according unto all, that Jeremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the Lord in the Lord’s house.
9 ¶ And in the fifth 1year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah, in the ninth month, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.
10 Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the Secretary, in the higher court at the entry of the 1new gate of the Lord’s house in the hearing of all the people.
11 When Michaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan had heard out of the book all the words of the Lord:
12 Then he went down to the King’s house into the Chancellor’s chamber, and lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the Chancellor, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and El Nathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes.
13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read in the book in the audience of the people.
14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.
15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it, that we may hear. So Baruch read it in their audience.
16 Now when they had heard all the words, they were 1afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will certify the King of all these words.
17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell us now, how didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.
19 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, 1hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.
20 ¶ And they went in to the king to the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellor, and told the King all the words, that he might hear.
21 So the King sent Jehudi to fetch the roll, and he took it out of Elishama the Chancellor’s chamber, and Jehudi read it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the King.
22 Now the King sat in the winter house, in the ninth month, and there was a fire burning before him.
23 And when Jehudi had read three or four sides, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.
24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent 1their garments, neither the King, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.
25 Nevertheless, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the King, that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.
26 But the King commanded Jerahmeel the son of Hammelech, and Seraijah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Jeremiah the Prophet, but the Lord 1hid them.
27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah (after that the King had burnt the roll and the words that Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying,
28 Take thee again 1another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll which Jehoiakim the King of Judah hath burnt,
29 And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim King of Judah, Thus saith the Lord, thou hast burnt this roll, saying,
1Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

36:7 1 He sheweth that fasting without prayer and repentance, availeth nothing, but is mere hypocrisy.
36:9 1 The fast was then proclaimed, and Baruch read this rule, which was a little before that Jerusalem was first taken, and then Jehoiakim, and Daniel and his companions were led away captives.
36:10 1 Which is the East gate of the Temple.
36:14 1 The godly were afraid, seeing God so offended, and the wicked were astonied for the horror of the punishment.
36:19 1 They that were godly among the princes gave this counsel, by whose means it is like that Jeremiah was delivered: for they knew the rage of the king and of the wicked to be such, that they could not escape without danger of their lives.
36:22 1 Which contained part of November, and part of December.
36:24 1 Showing that the wicked instead of repenting when they hear God’s judgments, grow into further malice against him and his word.
36:26 1 Thus we see the continual care, that God hath ever over his people to preserve them from the rage of the wicked.
36:28 1 Though the wicked think to have abolished the word of God, when they have burnt the book thereof: yet this declareth that God will not only raise it up again, but also increase it in greater abundance to their condemnation, as verse 32.
36:29 1 These are Jehoiakim’s words.
37 1 Zedekiah succeedeth Jeconiah.  2 He sendeth unto Jeremiah to pray for him.  12 Jeremiah going into the land of Benjamin is taken.  15 He is beaten and put in prison.

1 And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned for 1Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel 2made king in the land of Judah.
2 But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land would obey the words of the Lord which he spake by the ministry of the Prophet Jeremiah.
3 And Zedekiah the king 1sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto the Lord our God for us.
4 (Now Jeremiah went 1in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.
5 Then Pharaoh's host was 1come out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem, heard tidings of them, they 2departed from Jerusalem.)
6 Then came the word of the Lord unto the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,
7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the King of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me, Behold, Pharaoh's host, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.
8 And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it and burn it with fire.
9 Thus saith the Lord, 1Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us:
10 For though ye had smitten the whole host of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained, 2but wounded men among them, yet should every man rise up in his tent, and burn this city with fire.
11 ¶ When the host of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem, because of Pharaoh's army, 12 Then Jeremiah went out of Jerusalem to go into the 1land of Benjamin, separating himself thence from among the people.
13 And when he was in the 1gate of Benjamin, there was a chief officer, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah, and he took Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou 2fleeest to the Chaldeans.
14 Then said Jeremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Chaldeans: but he would not hear him: so Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.
15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Jeremiah, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Jehonathan the Scribe: for they had made that the 1prison.
16 When Jeremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time,
17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took him out, and the king asked him secretly, in his house, and said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Jeremiah said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babel.
18 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?
19 1Where are now your prophets, which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?
20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the King: let my prayer be 1acceptable before thee, that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jehonathan the scribe, lest I die there.
21 Then Zedekiah the King commanded, that they should put Jeremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the baker's street until all the 1bread in the city were eaten up. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

36:30 1 Though Jehoiachin his son succeeded him, yet because he reigned but three months, it was esteemed as no reign.
2 Read Jer. 22:19.
37:1 1 Who was called Jehoiachin, or Jeconiah.
2 And called him Zedekiah, whereas before his name was Mattaniah, 2 Kings 24:17.
37:2 1 Hebrew, hand.
37:3 1 Because he was afraid of the Chaldeans that came against him.
37:4 1 That is, was out of prison, and at liberty.
37:5 1 To help the Jews.
37:9 1 Or, lift not up your minds.
37:13 1 By the which men went into the country of Benjamin.
37:15 1 Because it was a vile and straight prison.
37:20 1 Hebrew, fall.
37:21 1 That is, so long as there was any bread in the city; thus God provideth for his, that he will cause their enemies to preserve them to that end whereunto he hath appointed them.
38 1 By the motion of the rulers Jeremiah is put into a dungeon. 14 At the request of Ebed-Melech the King commandeth Jeremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Jeremiah showeth the King how he might escape death.

1 Then Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of 'Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this city, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans, shall live: for he shall have his life for 1a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babel's army; which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said unto the king, We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hands, for the king can deny 1you nothing.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the son of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords: and in the dungeon there was no water but mire: so Jeremiah stuck fast in the mire.

7 Now when Ebed-Melech ye 1black Moor, one of the Eunuchs which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon, (then the king sat in the 2gate of Benjamin)

8 And Ebed-Melech went out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the Prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon, and he dieth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-Melech the black Moor, saying, Take hence thirty men with thee, and take Jeremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-Melech took the men with him, and went to the house of the king under the treasury, and took there old rotten rags, and old worn clouts, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-Melech the black Moor said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old rotten rags and worn, under thine arm holes, between the cords. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the Prophet unto him, into the third entry that is in the House of the Lord, and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not slay me? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hear me.

16 So the King sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord liveth, that made us these souls, I will not slay thee, nor give thee into the hands of those men that seek thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hosts the God of Israel, If thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babel's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt live, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babel's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am careful for the Jews that are fled unto the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hands, and they mock me.

20 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee: hearken unto the voice of the Lord, I beseech thee.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath showed me.

38:1 For Zedekiah had sent these to Jeremiah, to inquire at the Lord for the state of the country now when Nebuchadnezzar came, Jer. 21:1.

38:2 Read Jer. 21:9 and 45:5.

38:4 Or, discourageth.

38:5 Wherein he grievously offended in that that not only he would not hear the truth spoken by the Prophet, but also gave him to the lusts of the wicked to be cruelly treated.

38:7 Hebrew, Cushite, or Ethiopian.

38:9 Hereby is declared that the Prophet found more favor at this stranger's hands, than he did by all them of his country, which was to their great condemnation.

38:10 Hebrew, under thine hand.

38:13 Where the king had set him before to be at more liberty, Jer. 37:21.

38:17 And yield thyself unto them.

38:19 Which declarte that he more feared the reproach of men, than the threatenings of God.
22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house, shall be brought forth to the king of Babel's princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends have persuaded thee, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are fastened in the mire, and they are turned back.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wives, and thy children to the Chaldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this city shalt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die. 25 But if the princes understand that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now, what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not slay thee: also what the King said unto thee, 26 Then shalt thou say unto them, I humbly besought the king that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah and asked him, And he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken: and he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

39 2 Nebuchadnezzar besiegeth Jerusalem. 4 Zedekiah fleeing, is taken of the Chaldeans. 6 His sons are slain. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Jeremiah is provided for. 26 Ebed-Melech is delivered from captivity.

1 In the ninth year of Zedekiah King of Judah in the tenth month, came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel and all his host against Jerusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarsechim, Rabshake, Nergal-Sharezer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went out of the city by night, through the king's garden, and by the gate between the two walls, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Chaldean's host pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel unto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in chains to carry him to Babel.

8 And the Chaldeans burnt the king's house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.

9 Then Nebuzaradan the chief steward carried away captive into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that were fled and fallen unto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzaradan the chief steward left the poor that had nothing in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel gave charge concerning Jeremiah unto Nebuzaradan the chief steward, saying, 12 Take him, and look well to him, and do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.

13 So Nebuzaradan the chief steward sent, and Nebushasban, Rabsaris, and Nergal-Sharezer, Rabmag, and all the King of Babel's princes:

14 Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speak to Ebed-Melech the black Moor, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel,
Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

40 Jeremiah hath license to go whither he will. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remain with Gedaliah.

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzaradán the chief steward had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babel.

2 And the chief steward took Jeremiah and said unto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague upon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore he said, Return to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babel hath made governor over all the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people, or go wheresoever it pleaseth thee to go. So the chief steward gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captains of the host, which were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set them over Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan,

8 Even all the Jews returned out of all places where they were driven, and came to the land of Judah to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits, very much.

9 Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

10 And said unto him, Knowest thou not that Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not.

11 Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan,

12 And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan sware unto them, and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you:

13 Indeed Gedaliah appointed captains over the army, Zedekiah the son of Chelub, and Hananiah the son of Asaiah, and Safe the son of Mahath, and Ichanan the son of Micaiah, and Imaiah the son of Obadiah, and Ekaniah the son of Ebal, 14 And Apphoriah the son of汲on, and Meshach the son of Tobiah, and Johanan the son of Hashel.

15 Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should he kill thee, that all the Jews, which are gathered unto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.
JEREMIAH 41:1

41 2 Ishmael killed Gedaliah guilefully, and many others with him. 11 Johanan followeth after Ishmael.

1 But in the seventh month came Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama of the seed royal, and the princes of the king and ten men with him, unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, at Mizpah, and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

3 Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and all the Chaldeans that were found there, and the men of war.

4 Now the second day that he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent and cut, with offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping, as he went: and when he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the midst of the city, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures of honey: so he stayed, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the [pit] wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slain because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the king had made because of Baasha king of Israel, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the King’s daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the chief steward had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, 12 Then they all took their men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Ishmael carried away captive, saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, returned and came again, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the people that were with him, the remnant of the people, whom Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had carried away captive from Mizpah, and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

17 And they departed and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go and to enter into Egypt.

18 Because of the Chaldeans: for they feared them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor in the land.

42 1 The captains ask counsel of Jeremiah what they ought to do. 7 He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to go into Egypt.

1 Then all the captains of the host, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jehozabad the son of Josabad, and all the people from the least unto the most, came,

2 And said unto Jeremiah the Prophet, 1 Hear our prayer, we beseech thee, and pray for us unto the Lord thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold)

3 That the Lord thy God may show us the way for the destruction of Jerusalem, and the Temple: but after slew them when they seemed to favor Gedaliah.

4:11 1 Which place David of old had given to Chimham the son of Barzillai the Gileadite, 2 Sam. 19:38.

42:2 1 Hebrew, Let our prayer fall before thee, as Jer. 36:7.
42:3  This declareth the nature of hypocrites, which would know of God's word what they should do, but will not follow it, but inasmuch as it agreeeth with that thing which they have purposed to do.

42:5  There are none more ready to abuse the Name of God and to forsake his service than they which have the chiefest place in the state and authority, which are called priests and prophets.

42:7  Here is declared the vision and the occasion thereof, whereof mention was made, Jer. 40:1.

42:10  1 Read Jer. 18:8.

42:11  1 Because all kings' hearts and ways are in his hands, he can turn them and dispose them as it pleaseth him, and therefore they need not to fear man, but only obey God, Prov. 21:1.

42:12  1 Or, return.

42:16  1 Thus God turneth the policy of the wicked to their own destruction: for they thought themselves sure in Egypt, and there Nebuchadnezzar destroyed them and the Egyptians, Jer. 46:25.

42:18  1 Read Jer. 26:6 and 24:12, showing that this should come upon them for their inidelity and stubbornness.

42:20  1 For ye were fully minded to go into Egypt, whatsoever God spake to the contrary.

42:22  1 To wit, in Egypt.

43:2  1 Who was also called Jezaniah, Jer. 42:1.

43:3  1 This declareth that pride is the cause of rebellion: and contempt of God's ministers.

43:4  1 Thus hypocrites, who would be thought to be the godly, are now discovered to be the very antithesis of the godly, and perhaps the very opposite of the godly, as the hypocrites.

43:5  1 Take it in vain, for they have not the least reverence or veneration for God, nor will they do anything for the which he hath sent me unto you.

43:7  1 And so after ten days came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah.

43:10  1 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not root you out: for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

43:11  1 Fear not for the king of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, saith the Lord: for I am with you, to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

43:12  1 And I will grant you mercy that he may have compassion upon you, and he shall cause you to dwell in your own land.

43:13  1 But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither hear the voice of the Lord your God,

43:14  1 Saying, Nay, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

43:15  1 (And now therefore hear the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah: thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to dwell there,)

43:16  1 Then the sword that ye feared, shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang upon you in Egypt, and there shall ye die.

43:17  1 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remain, nor escape from the plague, that I will bring upon them.

43:18  1 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem: so shall my wrath be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, and ye shall be a detestation, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach, and ye shall see this place no more.

43:19  1 O ye remnant of Judah, the Lord hath said concerning you, Go not into Egypt: know certainly that I have admonished you this day.

43:20  1 Surely ye dissembled in your hearts when ye sent me unto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for us unto the Lord our God, and declare unto us even according unto all that the Lord our God shall say, and we will do it.

43:21  1 Therefore I have this day declared it you, but you have not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God, nor anything for the which he hath sent me unto you.

43:22  1 Now therefore, know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence in the place whither ye desire to go and dwell.

43:1  Johanan carrieth the remnant of the people into Egypt, contrary to the mind of Jeremiah.  B Jeremiah prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

43:2  1 Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto the whole people all the words of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

43:3  1 Then spake Azariah the son of Hoshiaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely:
the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to dwell there,
3 But Baruch the son of Neriah provoketh thee against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might slay us, and carry us away captives into Babel.
4 So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, and all the people obeyed not the voice of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Judah:
5 But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host took all the remnant of Judah that were returned from all nations, whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah:
6 Even men and women, and children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the chief steward had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah.
7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: thus came they to Tahpanhes.
8 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,
9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Judah,
10 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid, and he shall spread his pavilion over them.
11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captivity, to captivity, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.
12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burn them and carry them away captives, and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.
13 He shall break also the images of Beth Shemesh, that is in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burn with fire.
14 He reproveth the people for their idolatry. 15 They that set light by the threatening of the Lord, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt, and of the Jews therein, is prophesied.
1 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,
2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah: and behold, this day they are desolate and no man dwellcth therein,
3 Because of their wickedness which they have committed, to provoke me to anger in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods whom they knew not, neither they nor you, nor your fathers.
4 Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the Prophets rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.
5 But they would not hear nor incline their ear to turn from their wickedness, and to burn no more incense unto other gods.
6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeared this day.
7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, wherefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Judah, and leave you none to remain?
8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction unto yourselves, and that ye might be a curse and a reproach among all nations of the earth.
9 Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

10 They are not humbled unto this day; neither have they feared nor walked in my law nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you to evil, and to destroy all Judah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall even be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die from the least unto the most, by the sword, and by the famine and they shall be a detestation and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproach.

13 For I will visit them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have visited Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah to the which they have a desire to escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die from the least to the greatest, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall be a detestation and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproach.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wives had burnt incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,

16 'The word that thou hast spoken unto us in the Name of the Lord, we will not hear it of thee.

17 But we will do whatsoever thing goeth out of our own mouth, as to burn incense unto the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, both we and our fathers, our princes and our princes in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for they 'had we 'plenty of virgins and were well and 'felt none evil.

18 But since we left off to burn incense to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have had 'scarceness of all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense unto the Queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes 'to make her glad, and pour out drink offerings unto her without 'our husbands?

20 'Then said Jeremiah unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

21 'Did not the Lord remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, both you and your fathers, your kings, and your Princes, and the people of the land, and 'hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickedness of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which ye have committed: therefore is your land desolate, and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because ye have burnt incense, and because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come upon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people and to all the women, Hear the word of the Lord, all Judah, that are in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will perform our vows that we have vowed to burn incense unto the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings to her: ye will perform
Jeremiah 44:26

26 Therefore hear the word of the Lord, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Behold, I have sworn by my great Name, saith the Lord, that my Name shall no more be called upon by the mouth of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liveth.

27 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good, and all men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, until they be utterly destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a sign unto you, saith the Lord, when I visit you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will 'give Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life: as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel his enemy, who also sought his life.

45 2 Jeremiah comforteth Baruch, assuring him that he should not perish in the destruction of Jerusalem.

1 The word that Jeremiah the Prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel unto thee, O Baruch,

3 Thou didst say, Woe is me now: for the Lord hath laid sorrow unto my sorrow: I fainted in my mourning, and I can find no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say unto him, The Lord saith thus, Behold, that which I have built, will I destroy, and that which I have planted, will I pluck up, even this whole land.

5 And seest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for behold, I will bring a plague upon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I give thee for a prey in all places, whither thou goest.

46 He prophesieth the destruction of Egypt. 27 Deliverance is promised to Israel.

1 The words of the Lord, which came to Jeremiah the Prophet against the Gentiles,

2 As against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah.

3 Make ready buckler and shield, and go forth to battle.

4 Make ready the horses, and let the horsemen get up, and stand up with your sallets, furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore have I seen them afraid, and driven back? for their mighty men are smitten, and are fled away, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the Lord.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong man escape: they shall stumble, and fall toward the North by the river Perath.

7 Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved like the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like the flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers, and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth: I will destroy the city with them that dwell therein.

9 Come up ye horses, and rage ye chariots, and let the valiant men come forth, the black Moors, and the Libyans that bear the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.
10 ¶ For this is the day of the Lord God of hosts, and a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his enemies: for the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate, and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord God of hosts hath a sacrifice in the North country by the river Perath.

11 Go up unto Gilead, and take balm; O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines; for thou shalt have no health.

12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the strong hath stumbled against the strong, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the Lord spake to Jeremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Publish in Egypt and declare in Migdol, and proclaim in Noph, and in Tahpanhes, and say, Stand still and prepare thee, for the sword shall devour round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men put back? they could not stand, because the Lord did drive them.

16 He made many to fall, and one fell upon another: and they said, Arise, let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity from among the nations.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt, and of a great multitude, hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hosts, surely as Tabor is in the mountains, and as Carmel is in the sea: so shall it come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee gear to go into captivity: for Noph shall be waste and desolate, without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a fair calf, but destruction cometh: out of the North it cometh.

21 Also her hired men are in the midst of her like fat calves: they are also turned back and fled away together: they could not stand, because the day of their destruction was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go forth like a serpent: for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the Lord: for they cannot be counted, because they are more than the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be delivered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit thy common people of No and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods and their kings, even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliver them into the hands of those that seek their lives, and into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hands of his servants, and afterward she shall dwell as in the old time, saith the Lord.

27 ¶ But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliver thee from a far country, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall return and be in rest, and prosperity, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the Lord, for I am with thee, and I will utterly destroy all the nations, whither I have driven thee: but I will not utterly destroy thee, but correct thee by judgment, and not utterly cut thee off.

47 The word of the Lord against the Philistines.

1 The words of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the Prophet, against the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise up out of the North, and shall be as a swelling flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl,
3 At the noise and stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the noise of his chariots, and at the trembling of his wheels: the fathers shall not look back to their children, for feebleness of hands,

4 Because of the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistines, and to destroy Tyre, and Sidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord will destroy the Philistines, the remnant of the isle of Caphtor.

5 Baldness is come upon Gaza: Ashkelon is cut up with the rest of their valleys. How long wilt thou cut thyself?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long will it be or thou cease! turn again into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it cease, seeing the Lord hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea bank? even there hath he appointed it.

48 The word of the Lord against the Moabites. 26 Because of their pride and cruelty.

1 Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Woe unto Nebo: for it is wasted: Kirjathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they have devised evil against it. Come, and let us destroy it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt be destroyed, O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her little ones have caused their cry to be heard.

5 For at the going up of Luhith, the mourner shall go up with weeping: for in the going down of Horonaim, the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee and save your lives, and be like unto the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity with his Priests and his Princes together.

8 And the destroyer shall come upon all cities, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish and the plain shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath been at rest from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been poured from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will send unto him such as shall carry him away, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel their confidence.

14 How think you thus, We are mighty and strong men of war?

15 Moab is destroyed, and his cities burnt up, and his chosen young men are gone down to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hosts.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourn for him, and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Tho daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come toread, in thy possessions, for so the word may signify, as 1 Sam. 25:2. 2

48:7 1 That is, the idols which are the works of thine hands. Some read, in thy possessions, for so the word may signify, as 1 Sam. 25:2. 2 Both thy great idol and his maintainers shall be led away captive, so that they shall then know that it is in vain to look for help at idols; Isa. 15:2.

48:10 1 He showeth that God would punish the Chaldeans, if they did not destroy the Egyptians, and that with a courage, and calling this executing of his vengeance against his enemies, his work: though the Chaldeans sought another end, Isa. 10:11. 2 Or, deceitfully.

48:11 1 Hath not been removed as the Jews have, but have lived at ease, and as a wine that feedeth itself on his lees.

48:13 1 As the calf of Bethel was not able to deliver the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliver the Moabites.

48:15 1 Hebrew, gone up, or destroyed.

48:17 1 How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches?
down from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strongholds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and behold ask him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed, howl and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste,

21 And judgment is come upon the plain country, upon Holon and upon Jahzah, and upon Mephaath,

22 And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon the house of Diblathaim,

23 And upon Kirjathaim, and upon Beth Gamul, and upon Beth Meon,

24 And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab far or near.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himself against the Lord: Moab shall swallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though he had been found among thieves? for when thou speakest of him, thou art moved.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rocks, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole’s mouth.

29 We have heard the pride of Moab (he is exceeding proud) his stoutness, and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord, but it shall not be so: and his dissimulations, for they do not right.

31 Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir Heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee, as I wept for Jazer: thy plants are gone over the sea, they are come to the sea of Jazer: the destroyer is fallen upon thy summer fruits, and upon thy vintage, 33 And joy, and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab: and I have caused wine to fail from the winepress: none shall tread with the field, and from the land of Moab: and I have caused the waters also of Nimrim shall be wasted.

34 From the cry of Heshbon unto Elealeh and unto Jahaz have they made their noise: from Zoar unto Horonaim, the heifer of three years old shall go bowling: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be wasted.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a shawm, and mine heart shall sound like a shawm for the men of Kir Heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 For every head shall be bald, and every beard plucked: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall be upon all the house tops of Moab, and in all the streets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shall howl, saying, How is he destroyed? how hath Moab turned the back with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a fear to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, he shall flee as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strongholds are won, and the mighty men’s hearts in Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in travail.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath set up himself against the Lord:

43 Fear, and pit, and snare shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the fear, shall fall in the pit, and he that getteth up out of the pit, shall be taken [in] the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood under the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: for the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and devoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Woe be unto thee, O Moab: the people of 1 Chemosh perisheth: for thy sons are taken captives, and thy daughters led into captivity.
47 Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the Lord. Thus far of the judgment of Moab.

49 1 The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Edom, 23 Damascus, 28 Kedar, 34 and Elam.

1 Unto the children of Ammon thus saith the Lord, Hast Israel no sons? or hath he none heir? Why then hath their king possessed Gad? and his people dwell in his cities?
2 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noise of war to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possess those that possessed him, saith the Lord.
3 Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: cry ye daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackcloth: mourn and run to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captivity; and his priests, and his Princes likewise.
4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: she trusted in her treasures, said I, Who shall come unto me?
5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord, that I will cause the sound of war to be heard in thee; and thine ambassadors shall be as the stork, and all thy children as the vultures: in the day that the Lord shall give thee up to destroy all thine enemies about thee.
6 And afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon.
7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lord of hosts, Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from their children? is wisdom vanished?
8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (they are turned back, and have consulted to dwell) for I have brought the destruction of Esau upon him, and the time of his visitation.
9 If the grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leave some grapes? if thieves come by night, they will destroy till they have enough.
10 For I have discovered Esau: I have uncovered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbors, and there shall be none to say,
11 Leave thy fatherless children, and I will preserve them alive, and let thy widows trust in me.
12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup, have assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drink of it.
13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproach, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual desolations.
14 I have heard a rumor from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.
15 For lo, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.
16 Thy fear, and the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, and keepest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord.
17 Also Edom shall be desolate: everyone that goeth by it, shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.
18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and of Gomorrah, and the places thereof near about, saith the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sons of men remain in it.
19 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan unto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, even I will make him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man 48:46 1 Which vaunted themselves of their idol, as though he could have defended them.

48:47 1 That is, they shall be restored by the Messiah.
49:1 1 They were separated from the Moabites by the river Ammon, and after that the ten tribes were carried away into captivity, they invaded the country of Gad.
3 2 To wit, of the Ammonites.
4 3 Meaning, of the Israelites.
49:2 1 Which was one of the chief cities of the Ammonites, as were Heshbon and Ai: there was also a city called Heshbon among the Moabites.
49:4 1 In thy plentiful country.
49:5 1 Signifying, that power and riches cannot prevail, when as God will execute his judgments.
2 That is, without looking back, and as everyone can find a way to escape.
49:6 1 In the time of Christ, when the Gentiles shall be called.
49:7 1 Which was a city of Edom, called by the name of Teman, Eliphaz’ son, who came of Esau.
49:8 1 The enemies that shall dissemble as though they fled away, shall turn back and invade your land, and possess it.
49:9 1 Meaning, that God would utterly destroy them, and not spare one, though the grape gatherers leave some grapes, and thieves seek but till they have enough, Obad. 1:5.
49:11 1 The destruction shall be so great, that there shall be none left to take care over the widows and the fatherless.
49:12 1 I have not spared mine own people, and how should I pity thee?
49:13 1 Which was a chief city of Edom.
49:14 1 That is, Bozrah.
49:16 1 Or, idol.
49:19 1 To wit, Nebuchadnezzar after he hath overcome Judah, which is meant by the swelling of Jordan, shall come against mount Seir and Edom.
2 That is, the Israelites, whom the Edomites kept as prisoners, to haste away from thence.
that I may appoint against her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

20 Therefore hear the counsel of the Lord that he hath devised against Edom, and his purpose that he hath conceived, against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the flocks shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall: the cry of their voice is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come up, and fly as the eagle, and spread his wings over Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in travail.

23 Unto Damascus be saith, Hamath is confounded and Arpad, for they have heard evil tidings, and they are faint hearted as one on the fearful sea that can not rest:

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth herself to flight, and fear hath seized her: anguish and sorrows have taken her as a woman in travail.

25 How is the glorious city not reserved, the city of my joy?

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

28 Unto Kedar, and to the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel shall smite, thus saith the Lord, Arise, and go up unto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: yea, they shall take to themselves their curtains and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 Flee, get you far off (they have consulted to flee), and fear hath seized them: anguish and sorrows are in the midst of them, saith the Lord.

31 Arise, and get you up unto the wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which have neither gates nor bars, but dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a bootie, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil, and I will scatter them into all winds, and to the utmost corners, and I will bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and desolation forever: there shall no man dwell there, nor the sons of men remain in it.

34 The words of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the Prophet, concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, 35 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, even the chief of their strength.

36 And upon Elam I will bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them towards all these winds, and there shall be no nation, whither the fugitives of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afraid before their enemies, and before them that seek their lives, and will bring upon them a plague, even the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them.

38 And I will set my throne in Elam, and I will destroy both the king and the princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in the latter days I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the Lord.

50 He prophesieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliverance of Israel which was in captivity.

1 The word that the Lord spake concerning Babylon, and concerning the land of the Chaldeans by the ministry of Jeremiah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set up a standard, proclaim it and conceal it not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken down: her idols are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

3 The captain and governor of the army, meaning, Nebuchadnezzar.

49:20 They shall not be able to resist his petty captains.

49:21 To visit, the enemy.

49:22 As Jer. 48:40, was said of Moab.

49:23 Which was the chief city of Syria, whereby he meaneth the whole country.

49:24 When she heard the sudden coming of the enemy.

49:25 He speaketh this in the person of the king and of them of the country, who shall wonder to see Damascus the chief city destroyed.

49:27 Who was king of Syria, 1 Kings 20:26, and had built these palaces, which were still called the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

49:28 Meaning, the Arabsians, and their borderers.

49:29 Because they used to dwell in tents, he nameth the things that pertain thereunto.

49:30 The enemies will dwell in your places.

49:31 He sheweth that they of Hazor will flee to the Arabians for succor, but that shall not avail them.

49:34 That is, Persia, so called of Elam the son of Shem.

49:35 Because the Persians were good archers, he sheweth that the thing wherein they put their trust, should not profit them.

49:38 I will place Nebuchadnezzar there, and in these prophecies Jeremiah speaketh of those countries, which should be subdued under the first of those four monarchies whereof Daniel maketh mention.

2 This may be referred to the Empire of Persians and Medes after the Chaldeans, or unto the time of Christ, as Jer. 48:47.

50:1 Hebrew, hands.

50:2 After that God had used the Babylonians’ service to punish other nations, he sheweth that their turn shall come to be punished.

2 These were two of their chief idols.
3 For out of the North there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beast.

4 In those days, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they, and the children of Judah together, going, and weeping shall they go, and seek the Lord their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us cleave to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 ¶ My people hath been as lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, and have turned them away to the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them have devoured them, and their enemies said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the Lord, the habitation of justice, even the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 ¶ Flee from the midst of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be ye as the he goats before the flock.

9 For lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the North country, and they shall set themselves in array against her, whereby she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall return in vain.

10 And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her, shall be satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because you were glad and rejoiced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are grown fat, as the calves in the grass, and neighed like strong horses, 12 Therefore your mother shall be sore confounded, and she that bare you shall be ashamed, behold, the uttermost of the nations shall be a desert, a dry land, and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: everyone that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

14 ¶ Put yourselves in array against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Cry against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walls are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance upon her: as she hath done, do unto her.

16 Destroy the sower from Babel, and him that handleth the scythe in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressor they shall turn everyone to his people, and they shall flee everyone to his own land.

17 Israel is like scattered sheep: the lions have dispersed them: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him, and last this Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the king of Babel, and his land, as I have visited the King of Assyria.

19 And I will bring Israel again to his habitation: he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those days, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none: and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will be merciful unto them whom I reserve.

21 Go up against the land of the rebels, even against it and against the inhabitants of Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

22 A cry of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken! how is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I have snared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the work of the Lord God of hosts in the land of the Chaldeans.

50:3 1 To wit, the Medes and the Persians.

50:4 1 When Cyrus shall take Babel.

50:5 1 Their governors and ministers by their examples have provoked them to idolatry.

50:6 1 They have committed idolatry in every place.

50:7 1 For the Lord dwelt among them in his Temple, and would have maintained them by his justice against their enemies.

50:8 1 When God shall deliver you by Cyrus.

50:9 1 That is, most forward and without fear.

50:10 1 Shall be made rich thereby.

50:11 1 For joy of the victory, that ye had against my people.

50:12 1 In sign of contempt and disdain.

50:13 1 He speaketh to the enemies the Medes and Persians.

50:14 1 Though the Lord called the Babylonians his servants, and their work his work in punishing his people; yet because they did it not to glorify God, but for their own malice, and to profit themselves, it is here called sin.

50:15 1 Or, yielded, or made peace.

50:16 1 Destroy her so that none be left to labor the ground, or to take the fruit thereof.

50:17 1 Meaning, Tiglath-Pileser, who carried away the ten tribes.

50:18 1 He carried away the rest, to wit, Judah, and Benjamin.

50:19 1 That is, Babylon: thus the Lord raised up Cyrus.

50:20 1 Or, of them that should be visited.

50:21 1 Nebuchadnezzar, who had smitten down all the princes and people of the world.
26 Come against her from the utmost border; open her storehouses, tread on her as on sheaves, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullocks: let them go down to the slaughter. Woe unto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion, the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call up the archers against Babel: all ye that bend the bow, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work, and according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the Lord, even against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I come unto thee, O proud man, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, even the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel, and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives, held them, and would not let them go.

34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hosts, he shall maintain their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the Lord, and upon the inhabitants of Babel, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

36 A sword is upon the soothsayers, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the multitude that are in the midst of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38 A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they dote upon their idols.

39 Therefore the Ziims with the lims shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation unto generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah with the places thereof near about, saith the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the son of man remain therein.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the buckler: they are cruel and unmerciful: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, and be put in array like men to the battle against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: sorrow came upon him, even sorrow as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan unto the strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to haste away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore hear the counsel of the Lord, that he hath devised against Babel, and his purpose that he hath conceived against the land of the Chaldeans: surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the winning of Babel the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

51 Why Babylon is destroyed. 41 The vain confidence of the Babylonians. 59 Jeremiah giveth his book to Seraiah.

1 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise up against Babel, and against the inhabitants thereof that lift up their heart against me, a destroying wind,

2 And will send unto Babel fanners that shall fan her, and shall empty her land, for in the day of trouble they shall be against her on every side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bow, and to him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her young men, but destroy all her host.
Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

For Israel hath been no widow, nor Judah from his God, from the Lord of hosts, though their land was filled with sin against the holy one of Israel.

Flee out of the midst of Babel, and deliver every man his soul: be not destroyed in her iniquity: for this is the time of the Lord’s vengeance: he will render unto her a recompense.

Babel hath been as a golden cup in the Lord’s hand, that made all the earth drunken, the nations have drunken of her wine, therefore do the nations rage.

Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howl for her, bring balm for her sore, if she may be healed.

We would have cured Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, and let us go everyone into his own country: for her judgment is come up into heaven, and is lifted up to the clouds.

The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God.

Make bright the arrows: gather the shields: the Lord hath raised up the spirit of the King of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

Set up the standard upon the walls of Babel, make the watch strong: set up the watchmen: prepare the scouts: for the Lord hath both devised, and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, even the end of thy covetousness.

The Lord of hosts hath sworn by his eternal Name, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillars, and they shall cry and shout against thee.

He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his discretion.

He giveth by his voice the multitude of waters in the heaven, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the ends of the earth, he turneth lightnings to rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

Every man is a beast by his own knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

Thou art mine hammer, and weapons of war: for with thee will I break the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms,

And by thee will I break horse and horseman, and by thee will I break the chariot and him that rideth therein.

By thee also will I break man and woman, and by thee will I break the young man and the maid.

I will also break by thee the shepherd and his flock, and by thee will I break the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and by thee will I break the dukes and princes.

And I will render unto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Chaldeans all their evil, that they have done in Zion, even in your sight, saith the Lord.

Behold, I come unto thee, O destroying mountain, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.

They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations: but thou shalt be destroyed forever, saith the Lord.

Set up a standard in the land: blow the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call up the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Askenaz against her, appoint the prince against her, cause war.
horses to come up as the rough caterpillars.
28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.
29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for the device of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.
30 'The strong men of Babel have ceased to fight: they have remained in their holds: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they have burnt her dwelling places, and her bars are broken.
31 A post shall run to meet the post, and a messenger to meet the messenger, to show the King of Babel, that his city is taken on a side thereof,
32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reeds burnt with fire, and the men of war troubled.
33 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshingfloor: the time of her threshing is come; yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come.
34 Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babel hath devoured me; he hath made me an empty vessel: he swallowed me up like a dragon: and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.
35 'The spoil of me, and that which was left of me, is brought unto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood unto the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say.
36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will maintain thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry up the sea, and dry up her springs.
37 And Babel shall be as heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.
38 'They shall roar together like lions, and ye shall as the lion's whelps.
39 In their heat I will make them feast, and I will make them drunken that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the Lord.
40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, and like rams and goats.
41 How is 'Sheshach taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!
42 'The sea is come up upon Babel: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.
43 Her cities are desolate: the land is dry and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth the son of man pass thereby.
44 I will also visit Bel in Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth, that which 'he hath swallowed up, and the nations shall run no more unto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.
45 My people, go out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce wrath of the Lord,
46 Lest your heart even faint, and ye fear the rumor that shall be heard in the land: the rumor shall come this year, and after that in the other year shall come a rumor, and cruelty in the land, and ruler against ruler.
47 Therefore behold, the days come, that I will visit the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.
48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall rejoice for Babel: for the destroyers shall come unto her from the North, saith the Lord.
49 As Babel caused the slain of Israel to fall, so by Babel the slain of all the earth did fall.
50 Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the Lord afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.
51 We are confounded because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces, for strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lord's house.
52 Wherefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will visit her graven images, and through all her land the wounded shall groan.
53 Though Babel should mount up to heaven, and 51:31 1 By turning the course of the river one side was made open and the reeds that did grow in the water were destroyed, which Cyrus did by the counsel of Gobria and Gabatha Belshazzar's captains.

51:33 1 When she shall be cut up and threshed.
51:34 1 This is spoken in the person of the Jews bewailing their state and the cruelty of the Babylonians.
51:36 1 Thus the Lord esteemed the injury done to his Church, as done to himself, because their cause is his.
51:39 1 When they are inflamed with surfeiting and drinking, I will feast with them, alluding to Belshazzar's banquet, Dan. 5:2.
51:41 1 Meaning, Babel, as Jer. 25:26.
51:42 1 The great army of the Medes and Persians.
51:44 1 That is, his gifts and presents which he had received as part of the spoil of other nations, and which the idolaters brought unto him from all countries.
51:46 1 Meaning, that Babylon should not be destroyed all at once, but little by little should be brought to nothing: for the first year came the tidings, the next year the siege, and in the third year it was taken: yet this is not that horrible destruction which the prophets threatened in many places: for that was after this when they rebelled and Darius overcame them by the policy of Zopyrus, and hanged three thousand gentlemen besides the common people.
51:48 1 All creatures in heaven and earth shall rejoice, and praise God for the destruction of Babylon the great enemy of his Church.
51:49 1 Babylon did not only destroy Israel, but many other nations.
51:50 1 Ye that are now captives in Babylon.
51:51 1 He sheweth how they should remember Jerusalem by lamenting the miserable affliction thereof.
51:53 1 For the walls were two hundred foot high.
though she should defend her strength on high, yet from me shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans,

55 Because the Lord hath laid Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voice, and her waves shall roar like great waters, and a sound was made by their noise:

56 Because the destroyer is come upon her, even upon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bows are broken: for the Lord God that recompenseth, shall surely recompense.

57 And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hosts.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The thick wall of Babel shall be broken, and her high gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labor in vain, and the folk in the fire, for they shall be weary.

59 The word which Jeremiah the Prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah into Babel, in the fourth year of his reign, and this Seraiah was a peaceable Prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that was written against Babel, even all these things that are written against Babel.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest unto Babel, even all these things that are written against Babel.

62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate forever.

63 And when thou hast made an end of reading this book, thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the sea: signify­ning thereby the destruction of Babylon, Rev. 18:21.

64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be drowned and shall not rise from the evil, that I will bring upon her: and they shall labor in vain, and be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

4 Jerusalem is taken. 10 Zedekiah’s sons are killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 13 The city is burned. 31 Jehoiachin is brought forth of prison, and fed like a king.

1 Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem, and his mother’s name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3 Doubtless because the wrath of the Lord was against Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 But in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month the tenth day of the month came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, he and all his host against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of the king Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went out of the city by night, by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the King’s garden: (now the Chaldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and took Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho, and all the host was scattered from him.

9 Then they took the King and carried him up unto the king of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him.

10 And the king of Babel slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bound him in chains, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth month in the tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth year of the king Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel) came Nebuzaradan chief steward which stood before the king of Babel in Jerusalem,

13 And burnt the House of the Lord, and the 14 And all the army of the Chaldeans that were with the chief steward, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzaradan the chief steward carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzaradan the chief steward left certain of the poor of the land, to dress the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the pillars that were in the House of the Lord, and the bases, and the brazen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the brass of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the besoms, and the instruments of music, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.

19 And the bowls, and the ashpans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cups, and all that was of gold, and that was of silver, took the chief steward away.

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelve brazen bulls, that were under the bases, which King Solomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brass of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and a thread of twelve cubits did compass it, and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapiter of brass was upon it, and the height of one chapiter was five cubits with network, and pomegranates upon the chapiters round about, all of brass: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like unto these.

23 And there were ninety and six pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates upon the network were an hundred round about.

24 And the chief steward took Seraijah the chief Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the door.

25 He took also out of the city an Eunuch, which had the oversight of the men of war, and seven men that were in the King’s presence, which were found in the city, and Sophera captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.

26 Nebuzaradan the chief steward took them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babel smote them, and slew them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away captive, in the seventh year, even three thousand Jews, and three and twenty.

29 In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan the chief steward carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31 And in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin King of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the fifth and twentieth day of the month, Evil-Merodach king of Babel, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him out of prison.

32 And spake kindly unto him, and set his throne above the throne of the Kings, that were with him in Babel.

33 And changed his prison garments, and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.

34 His portion was a continual portion given him of the king of Babel, every day a certain, all the days of his life until he died.

52:17 1 Of these pillars, read 1 Kings 7:15.
52:18 1 Which were also made of brass, as 1 Kings 7:45.
52:20 1 It was so much in quantity.
52:23 1 But because of the roundness, no more could be seen but ninety and six.
52:24 1 Which served in the high Priest’s stead, if he had any necessary impediment.
52:25 1 In 2 Kings 25:19, is read but of five: those were the most excellent, and the other two, which were not so noble, are not there mentioned with them.
52:28 1 Which was the latter end of the seventh year of his reign, and the beginning of the eighth.
52:29 1 In the latter end also of that year, and the beginning of the nineteenth.
52:31 1 That is, restored him to liberty and honor.
52:33 1 And gave him princely apparel.
52:34 1 That is he had allowance in the court, and thus at length he had rest and quietness because he obeyed Jeremiah the Prophet, whereas the others were cruelly ordered, that would not obey him.
LAMENTATIONS

The Prophet bewaitheth the miserable estate of Jerusalem. 5 And showeth that they are plagued of their sins. The first and second Chapter begin every verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet. The third hath three verses for every letter, and the fourth is as the first.

1  How doth the city remain solitary that was full of people? she is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, and princess among the provinces, is made tributary.

2  She weepeth continually in the night, and her tears run down by her cheeks: among all her lovers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt unfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3  Judah is carried away captive, because of her affliction, and because of great servitude, she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecutors took her in the straits.

4  The ways of Zion lament, because no man cometh to the solemn feasts, all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in heaviness.

5  Her adversaries are the chief, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6  And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7  Jerusalem remembered the days of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things that she had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her: the adversary saw her, and did mock at her Sabbaths.

8  Jerusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honored her, despise her, because they have seen her filthiness: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9  Her filthiness is in her skirts: she remembered not her last end, therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction: for the enemy is proud.

10  The enemy hath stretched out his hand upon all her pleasant things: for she hath seen the heathen enter into her Sanctuary, whom thou didst command, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11  All her people sigh and seek their bread: they have given their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soul: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12  Have ye no regard, all ye that pass by this way? behold and see, if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

13  From above hath he sent fire into my bones, which prevail against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, and turned me back: he hath made me desolate, and daily in heaviness.

14  The yoke of my transgressions is bound upon his hand: they are wrapped, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall: the Lord hath trodden all my days.

15  The Lord hath trodden under foot all my valiant men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to destroy my young men: the Lord hath trodden the winepress upon the virgin daughter of Judah.

16  For these things I weep: mine eye, even mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that to the godly.

1:4  As they used to come up with mirth and joy, Ps. 42:4.

1:5  Hebrew, bitterness.

1:6  That is, have rule over her, Deut. 28:41.

1:7  As men pined away with sorrow and that have no courage.

1:8  Or, driven away.

1:9  She is not ashamed of her sin, although it be manifest.

1:10  Hebrew, hath magnified himself.

1:11  God forbiddeth that the Ammonites and Moabites should enter into the Congregation of the Lord, and under them he comprehendeth all enemies, Deut. 23:3.

1:12  Thus Jerusalem lamenteth moving others to pity her and to learn by her example.

1:13  This declareth that we should acknowledge God to be the author of all our afflictions to the intent that we might seek unto him for remedy.

1:14  Mine heavy sins are continually before his eyes, as he that tiseth a thing to his hand for a remembrance.

1:15  He hath trodden them underfoot as they tread grapes in the winepress.
17 Zion stretcheth out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Jacob round about him; Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman in the midst of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I have rebelled against his commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the city, while they sought their meat to refresh their souls.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heaviness: the sword spoileth abroad, as death doth at home.

21 They have heard that I mourn, but there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedness come before thee: do unto them, as thou hast done unto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and mine heart is heavy.

2 How hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath! and hath cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Jacob, and not spared: he hath thrown down in his fierce wrath all the horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Jacob like a flame of fire, which devoured round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: his right hand was stretched up as an adversary, and slew all that was pleasant to the eye in the Tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath devoured Israel and consumed all his palaces: he hath destroyed his strongholds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden he hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lord hath caused the feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath, the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuary: he hath given into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: they have made a noise in the House of the Lord, as in the day of solemnity.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he stretched out a line: he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore he made the rampart, and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunk to the ground: he hath destroyed and broken her bars: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, neither can her Prophets receive any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads: they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears: my bowels swell: my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They have said to their mothers, Where is 'bread and drink? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, and when they gave up the ghost in their mother's bosom.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Jerusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy Prophets have looked out vain and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity, but have looked out for thee false 'prophecies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that pass by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hiss and wag their head upon the daughter Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beauty, and the joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth, saying, Let us devour it: certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found and seen it.

17 'The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that he had determined of old time: he hath thrown down, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to rejoice over thee, and set up the horn of thine adversaries.

3:8 1 This is a great tentation to the godly when they see not the fruit of their prayers, and causeth them to think that they are not heard, which thing God useth to do, that they might pray more earnestly and the oftener.

4:13 1 Hebrew, sons.

4:15 1 With great anguish and sorrow he hath made me to lose my sense.

4:18 1 Thus with pain he was driven to and fro between hope and despair, as the godly ofttimes are, yet in the end the spiritgeth the victory.

4:20 1 He showeth that God thus useth to exercise his, to the intent that hereby they may know themselves, and feel his mercies.
22 It is the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.
23 They are renewed every morning; great is thy faithfulness.
24 The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.
25 The Lord is good unto them that trust in him, and to the soul that seeketh him.

30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproaches.
31 For the Lord will not forsake forever.
32 But though he send affliction, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.
33 For he doth not punish willingly, nor afflict the children of men, 34 In stamping under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,
35 In overthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High,
36 In subverting a man in his cause: the Lord seeth it not.
37 Who is he then that saith, and it cometh to pass, and the Lord commandeth it not?
38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?
39 Wherefore then is the living man sorrowful? man suffereth for his sin.
40 Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord.
41 Let us lift up our hearts with our hands unto God in the heavens.
42 We have sinned, and have rebelled, therefore thou hast not spared.
43 Thou hast covered us with wrath, and persecuted us: thou hast slain, and not spared.
44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.
45 Thou hast made us as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.
46 All our enemies have opened their mouth against us.
47 Fear, and a snare is come upon us with desolation and destruction.
48 Mine eye casteth out rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.
49 Mine eye droppeth without stay, and ceaseth not.
50 Till the Lord look down, and behold from heaven.
51 Mine eye breaketh mine heart because of all the daughters of my city.
52 Mine enemies chased me sore, like a bird, without cause.
53 They have shut up my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone upon me.
54 Waters flowed over mine head, then thought I, I am destroyed.
55 I called upon thy Name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.
56 Thou hast heard my voice: stop not thine ear from my sigh, and from my cry.
57 Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidest, Fear not.
58 O Lord, thou hast maintained the cause of my soul, and hast redeemed my life.
59 O Lord, thou hast seen my wrong, judge thou my cause.
60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance, and all their devises against me:
61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their imaginations against me.
62 The lips also of those that rose against me, and their whispering against me continually.
63 Behold, their sitting down, and their rising up, how I am their song.
64 Give them a recompense, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.

3:22 Considering the wickedness of man, it is [a] marvel that any remaineth alive: but only that God for his own mercy’s sake and for his promise, will ever have his Church to remain, though they be never so few in number, Isa. 1:9.
3:23 We feel thy benefits daily.
3:24 The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therefore look for none other inheritance, as Ps. 16:5.
3:25 He showeth that we can never begin too timely to be exercised under the cross, that when the afflictions grow greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger.
3:26 He murmureth not against God, but is patient.
3:27 He humbleth himself as they that fall down with their face to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succor.
3:28 He taketh no pleasure in it, but doeth it of necessity for our amendment, when he suffereth the wicked to oppress the poor.
3:29 Hebrew, with his heart.
3:30 He doth not delight therein.
3:31 He showeth that nothing is done without God’s providence.
3:33 When God afflicteth him.
3:34 That is, both hearts and hands: for else to lift up the hands, is but hypocrisy.
3:35 I am overcome with sore weeping for all my people.
3:36 Read Jer. 37:16, how he was in the miry dungeon.
3:37 Meaning, the cause wherefore his life was in danger.
Give them sorrow of heart even thy curse to them.

Persecute with wrath and destroy them from under the heaven, O Lord.

How is the gold become so dim? the most fine gold is changed, and the stones of the Sanctuary are scattered in the corner of every street.

The noble men of Zion comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, even the work of the hands of the potter!

Even the dragons draw out the breasts, and give suck to their young: but the daughter of my people is become cruel like the ostriches in the wilderness.

The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, but no man breaketh it unto them.

They that did feed delicately, perish in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: he hath poured out his fierce wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath devoured the foundations thereof.

The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Jerusalem:

For the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her.

They have wandered as blind men in the streets, and they were polluted with blood, so that they would not touch their garments.

But they cried unto them. Depart ye polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they have said among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

The anger of the Lord hath scattered them, he will no more regard them: they reverenced not the face of the Priest, nor had compassion on the Elders.

While we waited for our vain help, our eyes failed: for in our waiting we looked for a nation that could not save us.

They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled, for our end is come.

Our persecutors are swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, and laid wait for us in the wilderness.

The breath of our nostrils, the Anointed of the Lord was taken in their nets, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall be preserved alive among the heathen.

Rejoice and be glad, O daughter Edom: that dwellest in the land of Uz, the cup also shall pass through unto thee: thou shalt be drunken and vomit.

Thy punishment is accomplished, O daughter Zion: he will no more carry thee away into captivity, but he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter Edom, he will discover thy sins.

By the gold, he meaneth the princes, as by the stones he understandeth the Priests.

Or, hid. 4:2 Or, sons.

Which are of small estimation, and have none honor.

Though the dragons be cruel, yet they pity their young, and nourish them, which things Jerusalem doth not.

The women forsake their children, as the ostrich doth her eggs, Job 39:17.

Or, no strength was against her.

They that were before most in God's favor, are now in greatest abomination unto him.

For lack of food they pine away and consume.

He meaneth that these things are come to pass therefore, contrary to all men's expectation.

Some refer this to the blind men, which as they went, stumbled on the blood, whereof the city was full.

Meaning, the heathen which came to destroy them, could not abide them.

That is, the enemies.

He showeth two principal causes of their destruction: their cruelty and their vain confidence in man: for they trusted in the help of the Egyptians.

Our king Josiah, in whom stood our hope of God's favor, and on whom depended our state and life, was slain, whom he calleth Anointed, because he was a figure of Christ.

This is spoken by derision.

Or, show thy nakedness.

He comforteth the Church, by that after seventy years their sorrows shall have an end, whereas the wicked should be tormented forever.
5 The prayer of Jeremiah.
1 Remember, O Lord, what is come upon us: consider, and behold our reproach.
2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, our houses to the aliens.
3 We are fatherless, even without father, and our mothers are as widows.
4 We have drunk our water for money, and our wood is sold unto us.
5 Our necks are under persecution: we are weary, and have no rest.
6 We have given our hands to the Egyptians, and to Assyria, to be satisfied with bread.
7 Our fathers have sinned, and are not, and we have borne their iniquities.
8 Servants have ruled over us, none would deliver us out of their hands.
9 We got our bread with the peril of our lives, because of the sword of the wilderness.
10 Our skin was black like as an oven because of the terrible famine.
11 They defiled the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.
12 The princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of the Elders were not had in honor.
13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.
14 The Elders have ceased from the gate and the young men from their songs.
15 The joy of our heart is gone, our dance is turned into mourning.
16 The crown of our head is fallen: woe now unto us, that we have sinned.
17 Therefore our heart is heavy for these things, our eyes are dim, 18 Because of the mountain of Zion, which is desolate: the foxes run upon it.
19 But thou, O Lord, remainest forever: thy throne is from generation to generation.
20 Wherefore dost thou forget us forever, and forsake us so long time?
21 Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned: renew our days as of old.
22 But thou hast utterly rejected us: thou art exceedingly angry against us.

5:1 This prayer as is thought, was made when some of the people were carried away captive, others, as the poorest remained, and some went into Egypt, and other places for succor: albeit it seemeth that the Prophet foreseeing their miseries to come, thus prayed.
5:4 Meaning, their extreme servitude and bondage.
5:6 We are joined in league and amity with them, or have submitted ourselves unto them.
5:7 As our fathers have been punished for their sins: so we that are culpable of the same sins, are punished.
5:9 Because of the enemy that came from the wilderness, and would not suffer us to go and seek our necessary food.
5:12 That is, by the enemy's hand.
5:13 Their slavery was so great, that they were not able to abide it.
5:14 There were no more laws nor form of commonwealth.
5:17 With weeping.
5:19 And therefore thy covenant and mercies can never fail.
5:21 Whereby is declared that it is not in man's power to turn to God, but is only his work to convert us, and thus God worketh in us before we can turn to him, Jer. 31:18.
EZEKIEL

1 1 The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied, in what place. 3 His kindred. 5 The vision of the four beasts. 26 The vision of the throne.

1 It came to pass in the thirtieth year in the fourth month, and in the fifth day of the month (as I was among the captives by the river Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of 1 GOD.

2 In the fifth day of the month (which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity)

3 The word of the Lord came unto Ezekiel the Priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was upon him.

4 And I looked, and beheld, a whirlwind came out of the North, a great cloud and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightness was about it, and in the midst thereof, to wit, in the midst of the fire came out as the likeness of 2 amber.

5 Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four beasts, and this was their form: they had the appearance of a man,

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the soles of a calf's foot, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brass.

8 And the hands of a man came out from under their wings in the four parts of them, and they four had their faces, and their wings.

9 They where joined by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but every one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as the face of a man: and they four had the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of a bullock on the left side: they four also had the face of an Eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out above: two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And every one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: for the fire ran among the beasts, and the fire gave a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ran, and returned like unto lightning.

15 Now as I beheld the beasts, behold, a wheel appeared upon the earth by the beasts, having four faces.

16 The fashion of the wheels and their work was like unto a Chrysolite: and they four had one form, and their fashion and their work was as one wheel in another wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also rings, and height, and were fearful to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them four.

19 And when the beasts went, the wheels went with them: and when the beasts were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirit of the wheels lead them, and the wheels were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheels.

21 When the beasts went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheels.

22 And the similitude of the firmament upon the heads of the beasts was wonderful, like unto crystal spread over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings

1:1 1 After that the book of the Law was found, which was the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah, so that five and twenty years after this book was found, Jeconiah was led away captive with Ezekiel and many of the people, who the first year after saw these visions.

2 Which was a part of Euphrates so called.

3 That is notable and excellent visions, so that it might be known, it was no natural dream, but came of God.

13 1 That is, the spirit of prophecy, as Ezek. 3:22 and 37:1.

14 1 By this diversity of words he signifies the fearful judgment of God and the great afflictions that should come upon Jerusalem.

2 Or, pale fellow.

1:5 1 Which were the four Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Ezek. 3:23.

1:9 1 The wing of the one touched the wing of the other.

1:10 1 Every Cherub had four faces, the face of a man, and of a lion on the right side, and the face of a bullock and of an Eagle on the left side.

1:12 1 Hebrew, whither their spirit or w[ings] was to go.

1:14 1 That is, when they had executed God's will: for afore they returned not till God had changed the state of things.

1:16 1 The Hebrew word is tarshish meaning that the color was like the Cilician Sea, or a precious stone so called.

1:18 1 Or, the trent.
straight, the one toward the other: every one had two which covered them, and every one had two which covered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, and as the voice of the Almighty, even the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: even when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the fashion of a throne like unto a Sapphire stone, and upon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man above upon it.

27 And I saw as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire round about within it to look too, even from his loins upward: and to look too, even from his loins downward, I saw as a likeness of fire, and brightness round about it.

28 As the likeness of the bow, that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the light round about.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lord; and when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their error.

1 And he said unto me, Son of man, stand up upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 And the Spirit entered into me, when he had spoken unto me, and set me upon my feet, so that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of Man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: for they and their fathers have rebelled against me, even unto this very day.

4 For they are impudent children, and stiff-hearted: I do send thee unto them, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not hear, neither indeed will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that there hath been a Prophet among them.

6 And thou son of man, fear them not, neither be afraid of their words, although rebels and thorns be with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: fear not their words, nor be afraid at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speak my words unto them: but surely they will not hear, neither will they indeed cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou son of man, hear what I say unto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and 'eat that I give thee.

9 And when I looked up, behold, an hand was sent unto me, and lo, a roll of a book was therein.

10 And he spread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, Lamentations and mourning, and woe.

1 The Prophet being fed with the word of God and with the constant boldness of the spirit, is sent unto the people that were in captivity. 17 The office of true ministers.

1 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest: 'eat this roll, and go, and speak unto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he gave me this roll to eat.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey.

4 And he said unto me, Son of man, go and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my words.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an unknown tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel,

6 Not to many people of an unknown tongue, or of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand: yet if I should send thee to them, they would obey thee.
7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey me: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiff-hearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

9 I have made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder than the flint: fear them not therefore, neither be afraid at their looks: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreover unto me, Son of man, receive in thine heart all my words that I speak unto thee, and hear them with thine ears.

11 And go and enter to them that are led away captives unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not hear, neither will they indeed cease.

12 Then the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a noise of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the beasts, that touched one another, and the rattling of the wheels that were by them, even a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong upon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captives to Tel Abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

16 And at the end of seven days, the word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I shall say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou givest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may live, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet, if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, I will lay a stumbling block before him and he shall die, because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds, which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and that he doth not sin, he shall live because he is admonished: also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there upon me, and he said unto me, Arise, and go into the field, and I will there talk with thee.

23 So when I had risen up, and gone forth into the field, behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar, and I fell down upon my face.

24 Then the Spirit entered into me, which set me upon my feet, and spake unto me, Come, and shut thyself within thine house.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them as a man that rebuketh: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I shall have spoken unto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, He that heareth, let him hear, but he that leaveth off, let him leave: for they are a rebellious house.

4 1 The besieging of the city of Jerusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captivity of Israel. 16 An hunger is prophesied to come.

1 Thou also son of man, take thee a brick, and

3:8 1 God promiseth his assistance to his ministers, and that he will give them boldness and constancy in their vocation, Isa. 50:7; Jer. 1:18; Mic. 3:8.

3:30 1 He showeth what is meant by the eating of the book, which is that the ministers of God may speak nothing as of themselves, but that only, which they have received of the Lord.

3:12 1 Whereby he signifieth, that God’s glory should not be diminished, although he departed out of his Temple, for this declared that the city and Temple should be destroyed.

3:31 1 This showeth that there is ever an infirmity of the flesh which can never be ready to render full obedience to God, and also God’s grace who ever assisteth his, and overcometh their rebellious affections.

3:15 1 Which was a place by Euphrates, where the Jews were prisoners.

2 Declaring hereby that God’s ministers must with advisement and deliberation utter his judgments.
lay it before thee, and portray upon it the city, even Jerusalem.

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it, set the camp also against it, and lay engines of war against it round about.

3 Moreover, take an 'iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city, and direct thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a sign unto the house of Israel.

4 Sleep thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the 'house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days, that thou shalt sleep upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity according to the number of the days, even three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, sleep again upon thy 'right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee a day for a year, even a day for a year.

7 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine 'arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

8 And behold, I will lay 'bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

9 Thou shalt take also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet,' and fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof according to the number of the days, that thou shalt sleep upon thy side: even 'three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And the meat, whereof thou shalt eat shall be by weight, even 'twenty shekels a day: and from time to time thou shalt eat thereof.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, even the sixth part of 'an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in the dung that cometh out of man in their sight.

13 And the Lord said, So shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up, even unto this hour, I have not eaten of a thing dead or torn in pieces, neither came there any 'unclean flesh in my mouth.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee bullocks 'dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover, he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break 'the staff of bread in Jerusalem, and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 Because that bread and water shall fail, they shall be astonished one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquity.

5 The sign of the hairs, whereby is signified the destruction of the people.

1 And thou son of man, take thee a sharp knife, or take thee a barber's razor, and cause it to pass upon thine head, and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the 'hair.

2 Thou shalt burn with fire the third part in the midst of the 'city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy 1lap.

4 Then take of them again and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire: for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Jerusalem, I

4:3 1 Which signified the stubbornness and hardness of their heart.

4:4 1 Hereby he represented the idolatry and sin of the ten tribes (for Samaria was on his left hand from Babylon) and how they had remained therein three hundred and ninety years.

4:6 1 Which declared Judah, who had now from the time of Josiah slept in their sins forty years.

4:7 1 In token of a speedy vengeance.

4:8 1 The people should so straightly be besieged, that they should not be able, to turn them.

4:9 1 Meaning, that the famine should be so great, that they should be glad to eat whatsoever they could get.

4:10 1 Which make a pound.

4:11 1 Read Exod. 29:40.

4:12 1 Signifying hereby the great scarcity of fuel and matter to burn.

4:14 1 Much less such vile corruption.

4:15 1 To be as fire to bake thy bread with.

4:16 1 That is, the force and strength wherewith it should nourish, Isa. 3:1; Ezek. 5:17 and 14:13.

5:1 1 To shave thine head and thy beard.

5:2 1 To wit, of that city which he had portrayed upon the brick, Ezek. 4:1. By the fire and pestilence he meaneth the famine, wherewith one part perished during the siege of Nebuchadnezzar, By the sword, those that were slain whom Zedekiah fled, and those that were carried away captive. And by the scattering into the wind, those that fled into Egypt, and into other parts after the city was taken.

5:3 1 Meaning, that a very few should be left, which the Lord should preserve among all these storms, but not without troubles and trial.

5:4 1 Out of that fire which thou kindlest shall a fire come, which shall signify the destruction of Israel.
EZEKIEL 5:6

have set it in the midst of the nations and countries, that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries, that are round about her: for they have refused my judgments, and my statutes, and they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because your multitude is greater than the nations that are round about you, and ye have not walked in my statutes, neither have ye kept my judgments: no, ye have not done according to the judgments of the nations, that are round about you.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I, even I come against thee, and will execute judgment in the midst of thee, even in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that I never did before, neither will I do anymore the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the midst of thee, the fathers shall eat their sons, and the sons shall eat their fathers, and I will execute judgment in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore as I live, saith the Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthiness, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also destroy thee, neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have any pity.

12 The third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know, that I the Lord have spoken it.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that pass by:

15 So thou shalt be a reproach and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment unto the nations, that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in wrath, and in sharp rebukes:

I the Lord have spoken it.

16 When I shall send upon them the 1evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread.

17 1So I will send upon you famine, and evil beasts, and they shall spoil thee: and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee: and I will bring the sword upon thee: I the Lord have spoken it.

6 He showeth that Jerusalem shall be destroyed for their idolatry. He prophesieth the repentance of the remnant of the people, and their deliverance.

1 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, Set thy face towards the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,

3 And say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Behold, I, even I will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places:

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images of the Sun shall be broken: and I will cast your bones round about your altars.

5 And I will lay the dead carcasses of the children of Israel before their idols, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be desolate, and the high places shall be laid waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, and your idols shall be broken and cease, and your images of the Sun shall be cut in pieces, and your works shall be abolished.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leave a remnant, 1that you may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countries.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shall be in captivity, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which have departed from me, and for their eyes, which have gone a whoring after their idols, and they shall be displeased in themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

6:3 He speaketh to all the places where the Israelites accustomed to commit their idolatries, threatening them destruction.

6:4 Read 2 Kings 23:11.

6:5 In contempt of their power and force, which shall neither be able to deliver you nor themselves.

6:6 He sheweth that in all dangers God will preserve a few, which shall be as the seed of his Church and call upon his Name.

6:7 They shall be ashamed to see that their hope in idols was but vain, and so shall repent.
10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I have not said in vain, that I would do this evil unto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, ‘Smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is far off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is near, shall fall by the sword, and he that remaineth, and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath upon them.

13 Then ye shall know, that I am the Lord, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, which is the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I stretch mine hand upon them, and make the land waste and desolate from the wilderness unto Diblath in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 The end of all the land of Israel shall suddenly come.

1 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Also thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come unto the land of Israel: the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send my wrath upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will lay upon thee all thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will lay thy ways upon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, ‘Behold, one evil, even one evil is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it watched for thee: behold, it is come.

7 The ‘morning is come unto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now I will shortly pour out my wrath upon thee, and fulfill mine anger upon thee, I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will lay upon thee all thine abominations.

9 ‘Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity, but I will lay upon thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold, the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the ‘rod flourisheth: ‘pride hath budded.

11 ‘Cruelty is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be lamentation for them.

12 ‘They have blown the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

13 For he that selleth, shall not return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision was unto all the multitude thereof, and they returned not, neither doth any encourage himself in the punishment of his life.

14 ‘They have blown the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 ‘The sword is without, and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the field, shall die with the sword, and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountains, like the doves of the valleys: all they shall mourn, every one for his iniquity.

17 ‘All hands shall be weak, and all knees shall fall away as water.
18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and fear shall cover them, and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be cast far off; their silver and their gold cannot deliver them in the day of wrath of the Lord; they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: for this ruin is for their iniquity.

20 He had also set the beauty of his ornament in majesty: but they made images of their abominations, and of their idols therein: therefore have I set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the destroyers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 ¶ Make a chain: for the land is full of the judgment of blood, and the city is full of cruelty.

24 Wherefore I will bring the most wicked of the house of Israel to their own city, and to the house of their gods: into the midst of them shall I bring them, that they may pollute their gods, and I will pollute my glory.

25 When destruction cometh, they shall seek peace, and shall not have it.

26 Calamity shall come upon calamity, and rumor shall be upon rumor: then shall they seek a vision from the ancient, and counsel from the high Priest, and counsel from the Ancient.

27 The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them according to their ways, and according to their judgments will I judge them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

8 1 An appearance of the similitude of God. 2 Ezekiel is brought to Jerusalem in the spirit. 3 The Lord showeth the Prophet the idolatries of the house of Israel.

1 And in the sixth year, in the sixth month, and in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the Elders of Judah sat before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, there was a likeness, as the appearance of fire, to look to, from his loins downward, and from his loins upward, as the appearance of brightness, and like unto amber.

3 And he stretched out the likeness of an hand, and took me by an hairy lock of mine head, and the Spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me by a Divine vision to Jerusalem, into the entry of the inner gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idol of indignation, which provoked indignation.

4 And beheld, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I saw in the field.

5 Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now toward the North. So I lifted up mine eyes toward the North, and behold, Northward, at the gate of the altar, this idol of indignation was in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou not what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committed here to cause me to depart from my Sanctuary? but yet turn thee and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold, an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall. And when I had dug in the wall, behold, there was a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and behold, there was every similitude of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel painted upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah, the son of Shaphan, with every man his censor in his hand, and the vapor of the incense went up like a cloud.

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the Ancients of the house of Israel did in the visions of God?
the dark, everyone in the chamber of his imagery? for they say, The Lord seeth us not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Again he said also unto me, Turn thee again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than they do.

14 And he caused me to enter into the entry of the gate of the Lord's house, which was toward the North: and behold, there sat women mourning for Tammuz.

15 Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Turn thee again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the Temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar were about five and twenty men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sun, toward the East.

17 Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Judah to commit these abominations which they do here? for they have filled the land with cruelty, and have returned to provoke me: and lo, they have cast out stink before their noses.

18 Therefore will I also execute my wrath: mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I have pity, and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

9:1 The destruction of the city. 4 They that shall be saved, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

1 He cried also with a loud voice in mine ears, saying, The visitations of the city draw near, and every man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

2 And behold, six men came by the way of the high gate, which lieth toward the North, and every man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the Cherub, whereupon he was, and stood on the door of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side.

4 And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, even through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of them that mourn, and cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might hear, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let your eye spare none, neither have pity.

6 Destroy utterly the old, and the young, and the maidens, and the children, and the women, but touch no man, upon whom is the mark, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men, which were before the house.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain, then go forth: and they went out and slew them in the city.

8 Now when they had slain them, and I had escaped, I fell down upon my face, and cried, saying, 1Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in pouring out thy wrath upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel, and Judah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the city full of corrupt judgment: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth us not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I have pity, but will recompense their ways upon their heads.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linen which had the inkhorn by his side, made report, and said, 3Lord, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

10 Of the man that took hot burning coals out of the middle of the wheels of the Cherubims. 8 A rehearsal of the vision of the wheels, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

1 And as I looked, behold in the firmament that was above the head of the Cherubims there... appeared upon them like unto the similitude of a throne, as it were a sapphire stone.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the Cherub, and fill shine hands with coals of fire from between the Cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood upon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord went up from the Cherub, and stood over the door of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was filled with the brightness of the Lord's glory.

5 And the sound of the Cherubims' wings was heard into the utter court, as the voice of the Almighty God, when he speaketh.

6 And when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, and from between the Cherubims, then he went in and stood beside the wheel.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from between the Cherubims unto the fire that was between the Cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likeness of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked up, behold, four wheels were beside the Cherubims, one wheel by one Cherub, and another wheel by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheels was as the color of a Chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all four of one fashion) was as if one wheel had been in another wheel.

11 When they went forth, they went upon their four sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even in the same four wheels.

13 And the Cherub cried to these wheels in mine hearing, saying, O wheel.

14 And every beast had four faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted up; this is the beast that I saw at the river Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the Cherubims lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted up, they lifted themselves up also: for the spirit of the beast was in them.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from above the door of the house, and stood upon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lifted up their wings and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them: and everyone stood at the entry of the gate of the Lord's House at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was upon them on high.

20 This is the beast that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I knew that they were the Cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces, and every one four wings, and the likeness of man's hands was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the selfsame faces, which I saw by the river Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubims was the selfsame, and they went every one straight forward.

1 The word that came to Ezekiel. 2 Against these he prophesieth, showing them how they shall be dispersed abroad. 19 The renewing of the heart cometh of God. 21 He threateneth them that lean unto their own counsels.

Moreover, the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the East gate of the Lord's house, which lieth Eastward, and behold, at the entry of the gate were five and twenty men: among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, the princes of the people.

Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and devise wicked counsel in this city.

For they say, It is not near, let us build houses: this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.

Therefore prophesy against them, son of man,
5 And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the Lord, O ye house of Israel, this have ye said, and I know that which riseth up of your minds.
6 Many have ye murdered in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.
7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, They that ye have slain, and have laid in the midst of it, they are 'the flesh, and this city is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the midst of it.
8 Ye have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord God.
9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into 'the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.
10 Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will judge you in the border of 'Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.
11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof, but I will judge you in the border of Israel.
12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.
13 ¶ And when I prophesied, Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?
14 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholly are unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Depart ye far from the Lord; for the land is given us in possession.
16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little Sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.
17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you again from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idols thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.
19 ¶ And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels: and I will take the stony heart out of their bodies, and will give them an heart of flesh,
20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and execute them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.
21 But upon them, whose heart is toward their idols, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way upon their own heads saith the Lord God.
22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was upon them on high.
23 And the glory of the Lord went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is toward the East side of the city.
24 Afterward the Spirit took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea to them that were led away captives: so the vision that I had seen, went up from me.
25 ¶ Then I declared unto them that were led away captives, all the things that the Lord had showed me.

12 1 The parable of the captivity. 18 Another parable whereby the distress of hunger and thirst is signified.
1 The word of the Lord also came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not: they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.
3 Therefore thou son of man, prepare thy stuff to go into captivity, and go forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt pass from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.
4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as the stuff of him that goeth into captivity: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight.
5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.
6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders and carry it forth in the dark: thou shalt cover thy face that thou see not the earth: for I have set thee as a sign unto the house of Israel.
7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my stuff by day, as the stuff of one that goeth into captivity: and by night I dug through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the dark, and I bore it upon my shoulder in their sight.
8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,
9 Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou?
10 But say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, This burden concerneth the chief in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.
11 Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall go into bondage and captivity.
12 And the chiefest that is among them, shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall, to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.
13 My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.
14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his garrisons, and I will draw out the sword after them.
15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.
16 But I will leave a little number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.
17 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
18 Son of man, eat thy bread with trembling, and drink thy water with trouble, and with carefulness,
19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel. They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with desolation: for the land shall be desolate from her abundance, because of the cruelty of them that dwell therein.
20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be left void, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.
21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
22 Son of man, what is that proverb that you have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and all visions fail?
23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel: but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision.
24 For no vision shall be anymore in vain, neither shall there be any flattering divination within the house of Israel.
25 For I am the Lord: I will speak, and that thing that I shall speak, shall come to pass: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and will perform it, saith the Lord God.
26 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
27 Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off.
28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my words shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I have spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

13 2 The word of the Lord against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their own hearts.
1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel, that prophesy, and say thou unto them, that prophesy out of their own hearts, Hear the word of the Lord.
3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe unto the foolish Prophets that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing.
4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes in the 126 1 That as thou doest, so shall they do, and therefore in thee they shall see their own plague and punishment.

129 1 Do not they deride thy doings?
12:10 1 Or, prophecy.
12:13 1 When the king shall think to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Ezek. 17:20 and 32:3.
12:16 1 Which should bear his Name, and should be his Church, read Ezek. 11:16.
12:22 1 Because they did not immediately see the prophecies accomplished, they contemned them as though they should never be fulfilled.
12:27 1 That is, it shall not come to pass in our days, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked ever abuse God's patience and benignity.
13:2 1 After their own fantasy, and not as having the revelation of the Lord, Jer. 23:16.
13:4 1 Watching to destroy the vineyard.
5 1 Ye have not risen up in the gaps, neither made up the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the Lord.

6 They have seen vanity, and lying divination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word of their prophecy.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision? and have ye not spoken a lying divination? 1 ye say, The Lord saith it, albeit I have not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye have spoken vanity and have seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the Prophets that see vanity, and divine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they have deceived my people, saying, 1Peace, and there was no peace: and one built up a wall, and beheld, the others daubed it with untempered mortar.

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great shower, and I will send hailstones, which shall cause it to fall, and a stormy wind shall break it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a stormy wind to break forth in my wrath, and a great shower shall be in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof, and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

16 1 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesy upon Jerusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart: and prophesy thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe unto the women that sow ‘pillows under all armholes, and make veils upon the head of everyone that standeth up, to hunt souls: will ye hunt the souls of my people, and will ye give life to the souls that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread to slay the souls of them that should not die, and to give life to the souls that should not live, in lying to my people, that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will have to do with your pillows, wherewith ye hunt the souls to make them to flee, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them to flee.

21 Your veils also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hands to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, by promising him life,

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations: for I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

14 4 The Lord sendeth false Prophets for the ingratitude of the people. 22 He reserveth a small portion for his Church.

1 Then came certain of the Elders of Israel unto
1 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the Prophet, I the Lord will answer him that cometh, according to the multitude of his idols:

2 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, and put the stumbling block of their iniquity before their face: should I, being required, answer them?

3 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the Prophet, I the Lord will answer him that cometh, according to the multitude of his idols:

4 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all departed from me through their idols.

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all departed from me through their idols.

6 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Return, and withdraw yourselves, and turn your faces from your idols, and turn your faces from all your abominations.

7 For everyone of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the Prophet, for to inquire of him for me, I the Lord will answer him for myself.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example and proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be deceived, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived that Prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people.

10 And they shall bear their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that asketh, 11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted anymore with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 ¶ The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by committing a trespass, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and I will destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 Though these three men Noah, Daniel, and Job were among them, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noisome beasts into the land and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through, because of beasts, 16 Though these three men were in the midst thereof, As I live, saith the Lord God, they shall save neither sons nor daughters: they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be waste.

17 Or if I bring a sword upon this land, and say, Sword, go through the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it, 18 Though these three men were in the midst thereof, As I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.

19 Or if I send a pestilence into this land, and pour out my wrath upon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast,

20 And though Noah, Daniel and Job were in the midst of it, As I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter: they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I send my foure sore judgments upon Jerusalem, even the sword, and famine, and the noisome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

22 Yet behold, therein shall be left a remnant of them that shall be carried away both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way, and their enterprises: and ye shall be comforted, concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their enterprises: and ye shall know, that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

15 2 As the unprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Jerusalem shall be burnt.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, what cometh of the vine tree above all other trees? and of the vine branch, which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereof?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burnt. Is it meet for any work?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet for any work, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, as the vine tree, that is among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire to be consumed, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall consume them: and ye shall know, that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them,

8 And when I make the land waste, because they have greatly offended, saith the Lord God.

The Prophet declared the benefits of God toward Jerusalem. 15 Their unkindness. 46 He justifieth the wickedness of other people in comparison of the sins of Jerusalem. 49 The cause of the abominations, into which the Sodomites fell. 60 Mercy is promised to the repentant.

1 Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God unto Jerusalem, Thine habitation and thy kindred is of the land of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy nativity when thou wast born, thy navel was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swaddled in clouts.

5 None eye pitied thee to do any of these unto thee, for to have compassion upon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast born.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine own blood, and I said unto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt live: even when thou wast in thy blood, I said unto thee, Thou shalt live.

7 I have caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of love, and I spread my skirts over thee, and covered thee with thy filthiness: yea, I swear unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with brodered work, and shod thee with badgers’ skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a frontlet upon thy face, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver, and thy raiment was of fine linen, and I gave thee life: whereby is meant that before God wash his Church, and give life, there is nothing but filthiness and death.

16 Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
16:14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my ‘beauty which I had set upon thee, saith the Lord God.

16:15 Now thou didst ‘trust in thine own beauty, and playedst the harlot, because of thy renown, and hast poured out ‘thy fornications on everyone that passed by; thy desire was to him.

16:16 And thou didst take thy garments, and deckedst thine high places with divers colors, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like shall not come, neither hath any done so.

16:17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels made of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them, 16:18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and my perfume before them.

16:19 My meat also, which I gave thee, as fine flour, oil and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for a sweet savor: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

16:20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them, to be devoured: is this thy whoredom a small matter?

16:21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through fire for them?

16:22 And in all thine abominations and whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

16:23 And beside all thy wickedness (woe, woe unto thee, saith the Lord God)

16:24 Thou hast also built unto thee an high place, and hast made thee an high place in every street.

16:25 Thou hast built thine high place at every corner of every way, and makest thine high place in every street, and hast not been as an harlot that despiseth a reward,

16:26 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan unto Chaldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

16:27 Behold, therefore I did stretch out mine hand over thee, and will diminish thine ordinary, and deliver thee unto the will of them that hate thee, even to the ‘daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

16:28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldst not be satisfied.

16:29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication of the land of Canaan unto Chaldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

16:30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, even the work of a ‘presumptuous whorish woman?

16:31 In that thou buildest thine high place in the corner of every way, and makest thine high place in every street, and hast not been as an harlot that despiseth a reward,

16:32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband:

16:33 They give gifts to all other whores, but thou givest gifts unto all thy lovers, and rewardest them that they may come unto thee on every side for thy fornication.

16:34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shall be after thee: for in that thou givest a reward and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

16:35 Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord.

16:36 Thus saith the Lord God, Because thy ‘shame was poured out, and thy filthiness discovered through thy fornications with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didst offer unto them,

16:37 Behold, therefore I will gather all ‘thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated: I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy filthiness unto them, that they may see all thy filthiness.

16:38 And I will judge thee after the manner of them
16:59 wherefore they were so horribly punished, Gen. 19:24.

16:49 As I live, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister

16:48 Therefor thou which hast justified thy sisters, be thou therefore confounded also, and bear thy shame, seeing that thou hast committed more abominable than they which are more righteous than thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and bear thy shame, seeing that thou hast justified thy sisters.

16:47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but as it had been a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more than they in all thy ways.

16:46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, and her daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom, and her daughters.

16:45 Thou art thy mother’s daughter, that hast cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsook their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

16:44 As were the Canaanites, and the Hittites and others your predecessors, so are you their successors.

16:43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast provoked me with all these things, behold, therefore I also have brought thy way upon thy head, saith the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

16:42 Behold, all that use proverbs, shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

16:41 And they said, 1And they shall burn up thine houses with fire, and slay thee with a sword in the day when I shall take thee away from me: they shall burn up thine high places, and 2thrust thee through with their swords.

16:40 They shall also bring up a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

16:39 I will give thee the blood of wrath, and jealousy.

16:38 1 I will judge thee to death, as the adulterers and murderers.

16:37 Also I will make my wrath toward thee to rest, and I will fully give my jealousies to the daughters of the nations, and shall destroy thine high place, and shall break down thine high places: they shall strip thee also out of thy clothes, and shall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

16:36 They shall also bring upon thee seven times more thy sins, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

16:35 1 I will judge thee to death, as the adulterers and murderers, and this is meant of the greatest part of the Jews.

16:34 I have punished thy faults, but thou wouldest not repent.

16:33 Therefore thou which hast justified thy sisters, be thou therefore confounded also, and bear thy shame, seeing that thou hast committed more abominable than they which are more righteous than thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and bear thy shame, seeing that thou hast justified thy sisters.

16:32 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, fullness of bread and abundance of idleness was in her, and in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

16:31 But they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as pleased me.

16:30 Neither hast Samaria committed half of thy sins, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

16:29 Therefore thou which hast justified thy sisters, be thou therefore confounded also, and bear thy shame, seeing that thou hast justified thy sisters.

16:28 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

16:27 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall return to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall return to their former state: when thou and thy daughters shall return to your former state.

16:26 For thy sister Sodom was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride.

16:25 Before thy wickedness was discovered, as in that same time of the reproach of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistines round about her, which despise thee on all sides.

16:24 Thou hast borne therefore thy wickedness and thine abomination, saith the Lord.

16:23 For thus saith the Lord God, I might even deal with thee, as thou hast done: when thou didst despise the oath, in breaking the covenant.

16:22 1 But thou wouldest not call her punishment to mind when thou wast aloof, to learn by her example to fear my judgments.

16:21 This he speaketh in comparison, seeing that he would restore Jerusalem when Sodom should be restored, that is, never: and this is meant of the greatest part of the Jews.

16:20 When thou brakest the covenant which was made between thee and me, as verse 8.
60 Nevertheless, I will remember my covenant made with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will confirm unto thee an everlasting Covenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, both thy elder and thy younger, and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, 63 That thou mayest remember, and be ashamed, and never open thy mouth anymore: because of thy shame when I was pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

17 The parable of the two Eagles.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a parable and speak a proverb unto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, The great eagle with great wings and long wings, and full of feathers, which had diverse colors, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar,

4 And brake off the top of his twig, and carried it into the land of merchants, and set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful ground: he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded up, and was like a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were under it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 There was also another great Eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did turn her roots toward it, and spread forth her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soil by great waters, and left to grow and be an excellent vine.

16:60 1 That is, of mercy and love I will pity thee, and so stand to my covenant though thou hast deserved the contrary.

16:61 2 But of my free mercy.

16:63 1 This declareth what fruits God's mercies work in his, to wit, sorrow and repentance for their former life.

16:73 1 That is, Nebuchadnezzar, who hath great power, riches, and many countries under him, shall come to Jerusalem, and take away Jeconiah the King, as verse 12.

17:4 1 Meaning, to Babylon.

17:5 1 That is, Zedekiah, who was of the King's blood and was left at Jerusalem, and made King instead of Jeconiah, 2 Kings 24:17; Jer. 37:1.

16:60 1 That is, of mercy and love I will pity thee, and so stand to my covenant though thou hast deserved the contrary.

16:61 2 But of my free mercy.

16:63 1 This declareth what fruits God's mercies work in his, to wit, sorrow and repentance for their former life.

17:7 1 Meaning, the king of Egypt, of whom Zedekiah sought succor against Nebuchadnezzar.

17:8 1 They thought to be moistened by the waters of Nilus.

17:9 1 Shall not Nebuchadnezzar destroy it?

17:10 1 By this dry wind he meaneth the Babylonians.

17:12 1 That is, Jeconiah, 2 Kings 24:15.

17:13 1 For his subjection and obedience.

17:18 1 Because he took the Name of God in vain, and brake his oath which he had confirmed by giving his hand: therefore the Prophet declareth that God would not suffer such perjury and infidelity to escape punishment.

21 And all that flee from him with all his host, shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward all the winds; and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take off the top of this high cedar, and will set it, and cut off the top of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it upon an high mountain and great.

23 Even in the high mountain of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and will be an excellent cedar, and under it shall remain all birds, and every fowl shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

8 And hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, but hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, and hath executed true judgment between man and man,

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments to deal truly, he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord God.

13 Or hath given forth upon usury, or hath taken increase, shall he live? shall he not live: seeing he hath done all these abominations, he shall die the death, and his blood shall be upon him.

14 ¶ But if he beget a son, that seeth all his father’s sins, which he hath done, and feareth, neither doeth such like,*

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, nor hath defiled his neighbor’s wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withheld the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,*

19 Yet say ye, Wherefore shall not the son bear the iniquity of the father? because the son hath executed judgment and justice, and hath kept all my statutes,* and done them,* he shall surely live.*

20 The same soul that sinneth, shall die: the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither

Geneva Bible Notes:

18:22 1 This promise is made to the Church which shall be as a small remnant, and as the top of a tree.
2 2 I will trim it, and dress it.
17:23 1 Both the Jews and Gentiles shall be gathered into it.
17:24 1 All the world shall know that I have plucked down the proud enemies, and set up my Church which was low and contemned.
18:2 1 The people murmured at the chastisings of the Lord, and therefore used this proverb, meaning, that their fathers had sinned, and their children were punished for their transgressions, read Jer. 31:29.
18:6 1 If he hath not eaten of the flesh that hath been offered up to idols, to honor them thereby.
2 2 Hebrew, come near.
18:10 1 Or, a cruel man.
18:13 1 He showeth how the son is punished for his father’s fault that is, if he be wicked as his father was, and doth not repent, he shall be punished as his father was, or else not.
shall the father bear the iniquity of the son, but the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself.

21 But if the wicked will return from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, and shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall live.

23 'Have I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? or shall he not live, if he return from his ways?

24 But if the righteous turn away from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and do according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? all his righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal: hear now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal? or are not your ways unequal?

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and commiteth iniquity, he shall even die for the same, he shall even die for his iniquity that he hath done.

27 Again, when the wicked turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, and shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal?

30 Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, according to your ways, saith the Lord God: return therefore, and cause others to turn away from all your transgressions: so iniquity shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore one another to return, and live ye.

19 The captivity of the kings of Judah signified by the lion's whelps and by the lion. The prosperity of the city of Jerusalem that is past, and the misery thereof that is present.

1 Thou also take up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And say, Wherefore lay thy mother by the lionness among the lions? she nourished her young ones among the lion's whelps,

3 And she brought up one of her whelps, and it became a lion, and it learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, and he was taken in their nets, and they brought him in chains unto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, she took another of her whelps, and made him a lion.

6 Which went among the lions, and became a lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew their widows, and he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noise of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on every side of the countries, and laid their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison and in chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon, and they put him in holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

18:22 2 Or, not laid to his charge.

18:23 3 He speaketh this to commend God's mercy to poor sinners, who rather is ready to pardon than to punish, as his long suffering declareth, Ezek. 33:11. Albeit God in his eternal counsel appointed the death and damnation of the reprobate, yet the end of his counsel was not their death only, but chiefly his own glory. Also because he doth not approve sin, therefore it is here said that he would have them to turn away from it, that they might live.

19:5 1 Which was Jehoiakim.

19:6 1 He slew of the prophets, and them that feared God, and ravished their wives.

19:8 1 Nebuchadnezzar with his great army which was gathered of divers nations.

by the waters: she brought forth fruit and branches by the abundant waters, 11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that bear rule, and her stature was exalted among the branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked up in wrath: she was cast down to the ground, and the East wind dried up her fruit: her branches were broken and withered as for the rod of her strength, the fire consumed it.

13 And now she is planted in the wilderness in a dry and thirsty ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAPTER 20

3 The Lord denieth that he will answer them when they pray, because of their wickedness. 33 He promiseth that his people shall return from captivity. 46 By the forest that should be burnt, is signified the burning of Jerusalem.

1 And in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, came certain of the Elders of Israel to inquire of the Lord, and sat before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak unto the Elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to inquire of me? as I live, saith the Lord God, when I am asked, I will not answer you.

4 Wilt thou judge them, son of man? wilt thou judge them cause them to understand the abominations of their fathers.

5 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lift up mine hand unto them, and said, I am the Lord your God,

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had provided for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then said I unto them, Let every man cast away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hear me: for none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I thought to pour out mine indignation upon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made myself known unto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 Now I carried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and declared my judgments unto them, which if a man do, he shall live in them.

12 Moreover I gave them also my Sabbaths to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord, that sanctify them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them, and my Sabbaths have they greatly polluted: then I thought to pour out mine indignation upon them in the wilderness to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet nevertheless, I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land, which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which was pleasant above all lands, 16 Because they cast away my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but have polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheless, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, neither observe their manners, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

19 I am the Lord your God: walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments and do them.

20 And sanctify my Sabbaths, and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall live in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to pour out mine indignation upon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless, I withdrew mine hand and had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries, and give the heathen for their inheritance, and the wandering nations for their possession.

24 Because they had not executed my judgments, but had cast away my statutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols.

25 Wherefore I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgments, wherein they should not live.

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts in that they caused to pass by the fire all that first openeth the womb, that I might destroy them, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Ye thought to pour out mine indignation upon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for they had grievously transgressed against me.

29 And I polluted them in their own gifts in that they gave to their idols.

30 Wherefore, say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, and make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with your idols unto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not answer you when I am asked.

32 Neither shall that be done that cometh into your mind: for ye say, we will be as the heathen, and as the families of the countries, and serve wood, and stone.

33 As I live, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and in my wrath poured out,

34 And will bring you from the people, and will gather you out of the countries, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and in my wrath poured out,

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

38 And I will choose out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them out of the land where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, 1Go you, and serve everyone his idol, seeing that ye will not obey me, and pollute mine holy Name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For in mine holy mountain, even in the high mountain of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, and all in the land serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the firstfruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweet savor, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countries, wherein ye have been scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land for which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your works, wherein ye have been defiled, and ye 1shall judge yourselves worthy to be cut off, for all your evils, that ye have committed.

44 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have respect unto you for my Name's sake, and not after your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt works, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

46 Son of man, Set thy face toward the way of Teman, and drop thy word toward 1the South, and prophesy toward the forest of the field of the South.

47 And say to the forest of the South, I hear the word of the Lord: thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour all the 1green wood in thee, and all the dry wood: the continual flame shall not be quenched, and every face from the South to the North shall be burnt therein.

48 And all flesh shall see, that I the Lord have kindled it, and it shall not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God, they say of me, Dost not he speak 1parables?

21 1 The word of the Lord came to me again, saying,

2 The Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, 1and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel.

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I come against thee, and will draw my sword out of his sheath, and cut off from thee both the 1righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore shall my sword go out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the 1North,

5 That all flesh may know that I the Lord have drawn my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not return anymore.

6 Mourn therefore thou son of man, as in the pain of thy 1reins, and mourn bitterly before them.

7 And if they say unto thee, Wherefore mournest thou? Then answer, Because 1of the bruith: for it cometh, and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be weak, and all minds shall faint, and all knees shall fall away as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Say, A sword, a sword both sharp and furbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, and it is furbished that it may glitter: how shall we rejoice? nor shall we rejoice at all.

11 And he hath given it to be furbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharp, and is furbished.

12 Cry and howl, son of man: for this shall come to all the princes of Israel: the terrors of the sword shall be upon my people, 1smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 For 1it is a trial, and what shall this be, if the sword condemn even the rod? It shall be no more, 1meaning, through all the land.

20:39 1 This is spoken to the hypocrites.
20:43 1 Your own consciences shall convict you after, that you have felt my mercies.
20:46 1 For Judah stood South from Babylon.
20:47 1 Both strong and weak in Jerusalem.
20:48 1 The people said that the Prophet spake darkly: therefore he desireth the Lord to give them a plain declaration thereof.
21:2 1 Speak sensibly, that all may understand.
21:3 1 That is such which seem to have an outward show of righteousness, by observation of the ceremonies of the law.
21:4 1 Meaning, through all the land.
21:6 1 As though thou were in extreme anguish.
14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy and smite 1hand to hand, and let the sword be doubled: let the sword that hath killed, return the third time: it is the sword of the great slaughter entering into their privy chambers.

15 I have brought the fear of the sword into all their gates to make their heart to faint, and to multiply their ruins. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dressed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee 1alone: go to the right hand, or get thyself to the left hand, whithersoever thy face turneth.

17 I will also smite mine hands together, and will cause my wrath to cease. I the Lord have said it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying,

19 Also thou son of man, appoint thee 1two ways, that the sword of the King of Babel may come: both twain shall come out of one land, and choose a place, and choose it in the corner of the way of the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, and 1to Judah in Jerusalem the strong city.

21 And the King of Babel stood at the 1parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, consulting by divination, and made his arrows bright: he consulted with idols, and looked in 1the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem to appoint captains to open their mouth in the slaughter, and to lift up their voice with shouting, to lay engines of war against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fortress.

23 And it shall be unto them 1as a false divination in their sight for the oaths made unto them: 1but he will call to remembrance their iniquity, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered in discovering your rebellion, that in all your works your sins might appear: because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou 1Prince of Israel polluted, and wicked, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, 26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take away the 1diadem, and take off the crown: this shall be no more the same: I will exalt the humble, and will abase him that is high.

27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it shall be no more until he 1come, whose right it is, and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemy: say thou, I say, The sword, the sword is drawn forth and furnished to the slaughter, to consume, because of the glittering.

29 While they see 1vanity unto thee, and prophesied a lie unto thee to bring thee upon the necks of the wicked that are slain, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, even in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, and will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of beastly men, and skillful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to be devoured: thy blood shall be in the midst of the land, and thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord have spoken it.

22 1 Jerusalem is reproved for cruelty. 25 Of the wicked doctrine of the false prophets and priests, and of their unsatiable covetousness. 26 The tyranny of rulers. 29 The wickedness of the people.

1 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Now thou son of man, wilt thou 1judge, wilt thou judge this bloody city? wilt thou show her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus saith the Lord God, The city sheddeth blood in the midst of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols against herself, to pollute herself.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, and hast polluted thyself in thine idols, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come unto thy term: therefore have I made thee a reproach to the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art vile in name and sore in affliction.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel everyone in thee was ready to his power, to shed blood.

7 In thee have they despoiled father and mother: in the midst of thee have they oppressed the fatherless and the widow.

8 Thou hast despoiled mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that carry tales to shed blood: in thee are they that eat upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit abomination.

10 In thee have they discovered their fathers' shame: in thee have they vexed her that was polluted in her flowers.

11 And everyone hath committed abomination with his neighbor's wife, and everyone hath wickedly defiled his daughter-in-law, and in thee hath every man forced his own sister, even his father's daughter.

12 In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken usury and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbors by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 Behold, therefore I have smitten mine hands upon thy covetousness, that thou hast used, and upon the blood, which hath been in the midst of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall have to do with thee? I the Lord have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and will cause thy filthiness to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine inheritance in thyself in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, the house of Israel is unto me as dross: all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead in the midst of the furnace: they are even the dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye are all as dross, behold, therefore I will gather you in the midst of Jerusalem.

20 As they gather silver and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and will put you there and melt you.

21 I will gather you, I say, and blow the fire of my wrath upon you, and you shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof, and ye shall know that I the Lord have poured out my wrath upon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land, that is unclean, and not rained upon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof like a roaring lion, ravening the prey: they have devoured souls: they have taken the riches and precious things: they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 Her Priests have broken my Law, and have defiled mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither discerned between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves, ravening the prey to shed blood, and to destroy souls for their own covetous lucre.

28 And her prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, seeing vanities, and divining lies unto them, saying. Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 'The people of the land have violently oppressed by spoiling and robbing, and have vexed the poor and the needy; yea, they have oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should 'make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them, and consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own ways have I rendered upon their heads, saith the Lord God.

23 Of the Idolatry of Samaria and Jerusalem, under the names of Oholah and Oholibah.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one 'mother.

3 And they committed fornication in 'Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of 'them were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters: thus were their names: Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah.

5 And Oholah played the harlot 'when 'she was mine, and she was set on fire with her lovers, to wit, with the Assyrians her neighbors,

6 Which were clothed with blue silk, both captains and princes they were all pleasant young men, and horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredom with them, even with all them that were the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted, and defiled herself with all their idols.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they 'lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I delivered her into the hands of her lovers, even into the hands of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted.

10 'These discovered her shame: they took away her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword, and she had an evil name among women: for they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And when her sister Oholibah saw this, she marred herself with inordinate love more than she, and with her fornications more than her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted upon the Assyrians her neighbors, both captains and princes clothed with divers suits, horsemen riding upon horses: they were all pleasant young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and that they were both after one sort,

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when she saw men 'painted upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles upon their loins, and with dyed attire upon their heads (looking all like princes after the manner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land of their nativity)

16 As soon, I say, as she saw them, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them, into Chaldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discovered her fornication, and disclosed her shame: then mine heart forsook her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet she increased her whoredom more, and called to remembrance the days of her youth wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon their servants whose members are as the members of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance the wickedness of thy youth, when thy teats were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the paps of thy youth are thus.

22 Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on every side, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drink of thy people.

I will do these things unto thee, because thou tear thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God, and thou shalt break the shards thereof, and dregs shall be as the dregs of wine.

Thou shalt even drink it, and wring it out to the cup of thy sister Samaria.

Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

Thou shalt drink of the wine of Nebuchadnezzar.

I will give judgment before them: they shall cut off thy nose and thine ears, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall carry away thy sons and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.

Thus will I make thy wickedness to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt anymore.

For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them, whom thou hatest, even into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy labor, and shall leave thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shall be discovered, both thy wickedness, and thy whoredom.

I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and they have defiled my Sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my Sabbaths.

And when they had slain their children to their idols, they came the same day into my Sanctuary to defile it: and lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

And how much more is it that they sent for men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came? for whom thou didst wash thyself, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments, and satest upon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

And a voice of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the company to scorn and had in derision, because it containeth much.

Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

Thou shalt drink of the wine of Nebuchadnezzar.

Thou shalt drink of the wine of Nebuchadnezzar, and they shall deal cruelly with thee: they shall条束 thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt:

And I said unto her that was old in adulteries, Now shall she and her fornications come to an end.

And they went in unto her as they go to a common harlot: so went they to Oholah and Oholibah.

And they went in unto her as they go to a common harlot: so went they to Oholah and Oholibah, and men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came? for whom thou didst wash thyself, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments, and satest upon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

And a voice of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the company to scorn and had in derision, because it containeth much.

Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

Thou shalt drink of the wine of Nebuchadnezzar.

Thou shalt drink of the wine of Nebuchadnezzar, and they shall deal cruelly with thee: they shall条束 thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt:
and cut them with their swords: they shall slay their sons, and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickedness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your wickedness.

49 And they shall lay your wickedness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

24 He showeth the destruction of Jerusalem by a parable of Ezekiel's wife being dead.

1 Again in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, write the name of the day, even of this same day: for the King of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speak a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a pot, prepare it, and also pour water into it.

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, as the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chief bones.

5 Take one of the best sheep, and burn also the good piece, piece by piece: let no lot fall upon it.

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, Woe to the bloody city, even to the pot, whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it: bring it out piece by piece: let no lot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her: she set her scum thereon: therefore she shall be consumed with fire.

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: even I have set her blood upon an high rock that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, "Woe to the bloody city, for I will make the burning great.

10 Heap on much wood: kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and cast in spice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, and that the scum of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not out of her: therefore her scum shall be consumed with fire.

13 Thou remainest in thy filthiness and wickedness: because I would have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness, till I have caused my wrath to light upon thee.

14 I the Lord have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it: I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy ways, and according to thy works shall they judge thee, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ Also the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the pleasure of thine eyes with a plague: yet shalt thou neither mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down.

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, and bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning, and at even my wife died: and I did in the morning, as I was commanded.

19 And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things mean toward us that thou dost so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will pollute my Sanctuary, even the pride of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and 23:48 1 Meaning, all other cities and countries.

24:1 1 Of Jeconiah’s captivity, and of the reign of Zedekiah, 2 Kings 25:1.

2  Called Tebeth, which containeth part of December and part of January: in the which month and day Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem.

24:3 1 Whereby was meant Jerusalem.

24:4 1 That is the citizens, and the chief men thereof.

24:5 1 Or, heap.

2  Meaning, of the innocents, whom they had slain, who were the cause of the kindling of God’s wrath against them.

24:6 1 Whose iniquities and wicked citizens there yet remain.

2 Signifying that they should not be destroyed all at once, but by little and little.

3 Spare none estate or condition.

24:7 1 The city showed her cruelty to all the world, and was not ashamed thereof, neither yet hid it.
your heart’s desire, and your sons, and your daughters whom ye have left, shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall do as I have done; ye shall not cover your lips, neither shall ye eat the bread of men.

23 And your tire shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep, but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done, ye shall do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the joy of their honor, the pleasure of their eyes, and the ‘desire’ of their heart, their sons and their daughters, 26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come unto thee to tell thee that which he hath heard with his ears?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb, and thou shalt be a sign unto them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

25 1 The word of the Lord against Ammon, which rejoiced at the fall of Jerusalem. 8 against Moab and Seir, Idumea and the Philistines.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophesy against them,

3 And say unto the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou saidst, ‘Ha, ha, against my Sanctuary, when it was polluted, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity,

4 Behold, therefore I will deliver thee to the men of the East for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk:

5 And I will make Rabbah a dwelling place for camels, and the Ammonites a sheepcote, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast clapped the hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced in heart with all thy desire against the land of Israel,

7 Behold, therefore I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee to be spoiled of the heathen, and I will root thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to be destroyed out of the countries, and I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, behold, I will open the side of Moab, even of the cities of his cities, I say, in his frontiers with the pleasant country, Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kirjathaim.

10 I will call the men of the East against the Ammonites, and will give them in possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments upon Moab, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, because that Edom hath done evil by taking vengeance upon the house of Judah, and hath committed great offence, and revenged himself upon them,

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will execute my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to mine indignation, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the Philistines have executed vengeance, and revenged themselves with a despieful heart, to destroy it for the old hatred, 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the seacoast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance upon them with rebukes of mine indignation, and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

26 1 He prophesieth that Tyre shall be overthrown, because it rejoiced at the destruction of Jerusalem. 15 The wondering and astonishment of the merchants for the destruction of Tyre.

1 And in the eleventh year in the first day of
Son of man, because that Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, the gate of the people is broken: it is turned unto me: for seeing she is desolate, I shall be replenished,

Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Tyre, and I will bring up many nations against thee, as the sea mounteth up with his waves.

And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

Thou shalt be for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall be a spoil to the nations.

And her daughters which are in the field, shall also be scraped of her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

He shall set engines of war before him against thy walls, and with his weapons break down thy towers.

The dust of his horses shall cover thee, for their multitude: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the chariots, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

He shall set engines of war before him against thy walls, and with his weapons break down thy towers.

The dust of his horses shall cover thee, for their multitude: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the chariots, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

He shall set engines of war before him against thy walls, and with his weapons break down thy towers.

The dust of his horses shall cover thee, for their multitude: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the chariots, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

And they shall rob thy riches, and spoil thy merchandise, and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the midst of the water.

Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thine harps shall be no more heard.

I will lay thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be for a spreading of nets: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

Thus saith the Lord God to Tyre, Shall not the isles tremble at the sound of thy fall? and at the cry of the wounded, when they shall be slain and murdered in the midst of thee?

Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones: they shall lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments, and shall clothe themselves with astonishment: they shall sit upon the ground and be astonished at every moment, and be amazed at thee.

And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of the Sea men, the renowned city which was strong in the sea, both she and her inhabitants, which cause their fear to be on all that haunt therein!

Now shall the isles be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the isles that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy departure.

For thus saith the Lord God, when I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee,

When I shall cast thee down with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, thou shalt be a thing of wonder and increase her power.

That is, the famous city Jerusalem, whereunto all people resorted.

My riches and fame shall increase: thus the wicked rejoice at their fall by whom they may have any profit or advantage.

The towns that belonged unto her.

For Tyre was much built by art and by labor of men was won out of the Sea. Some refer this unto the images of the noble men which they had erected up for their glory and renown.

I will make thee so bare that thou shalt have nothing to cover thee.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants: and the merchandise of many isles were in thine hands: they brought thee for a present, horns, teeth, and peacocks.

16 They of Aram were thy merchants for the multitude of thy wares: they occupied in thy fairs, with emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and pearl.

17 They of Judah and of the land of Israel were thy merchants: they brought for thy merchandise wheat of Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm.

18 They of Damascus were thy merchants in the multitude of thy wares, for the multitude of all riches, as in the wine of Helbon and white wool.

19 They of Dan also and of Javan, going to and fro, occupied in thy fairs: iron work, cassia and calamus were among thy merchandise.

20 They of Dedan were thy merchants in precious clothes for the chariots.

21 They of Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar occupied with thee, in lambs, and rams and goats: in these were thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Sheba, and Raamah were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with the chief of all spices, and with all precious stones and gold.

23 They of Haram and Canneh and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Assyria and Chilmad were thy merchants.

25 The ships of Tarshish were thy chief in thy merchandise, and thou wast replenished and made very glorious in the midst of the sea.

26 Thy robbers have brought thee into great waters: the East wind hath broken thee in the midst of the sea.

27 Thy riches and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners and pilots, thy caulkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war that are in thee, and all thy multitude which is in the midst of thee, shall fall in the midst of the sea in the day of thy ruin.

30 And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast dust upon their heads, and wallow themselves in the ashes.
31 They shall pluck off their hair for thee, and gird them with a sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with sorrow of heart and bitter mourning.
32 And in their mourning, they shall take up a lamentation for thee, saying, What city is like Tyre so destroyed in the midst of the sea!
33 When thy wares went forth of the seas, thou filledst many people, and thou didst enrich the Kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.
34 When thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy multitude which was in the midst of thee, shall fall.
35 All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and all their Kings shall be sore afraid and troubled in their countenance.
36 The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt be anymore.

28:2 The word of God against the king of Tyre for his pride. 21 The word of the Lord against Sidon. 25 The Lord promises that he will gather together the children of Israel.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thine heart is exalted, and thou wast lifted up because of thy riches, hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches.
3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou didst think in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God,
4 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, even the terrible nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.
5 They shall cast thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the death of them, that are slain in the midst of the sea.
6 Wilt thou say then before him that slayeth thee, I am a god? but thou shalt be a man, and no god, in the hands of him that slayeth thee.
7 Thou shalt die the death of the uncircumcised by the hands of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.
8 Thou shalt die the death of the uncircumcised, which is the death of them that are slain in the midst of the sea.
9 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God: every precious stone was in thy garment, the ruby, the topaz, and the diamond, the chrysolite, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, emerald, and the carbuncle and gold: the workmanship of thy timbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.
10 Thou art the anointed Cherub, that covereth, that coverest the Lord God, Thou sealest up the sum, and art full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.
11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the King of Tyre, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest up the sum, and art full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.
13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God: every precious stone was in thy garment, the ruby, the topaz, and the diamond, the chrysolite, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, emerald, and the carbuncle and gold: the workmanship of thy timbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.
14 Thou art the anointed Cherub, that covereth, and I have set thee in honor: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God: thou hast walked in the midst of the stones of fire.
15 Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.
16 By the multitude of thy merchandise, they have filled the midst of thee with cruelty, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering Cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.
17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, and thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground. I will lay thee before kings that they may behold thee. 18 'Thou hast defiled thy sanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, and by the iniquity of thy merchandise: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, which shall devour thee: and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth, in the sight of all them that behold thee. 19 All they that know thee among the people, shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt thou be anymore. 20 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 21 Son of man, set thy face against Sidon, and prophesy against it. 22 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Sidon, and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her. 23 For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets, and the slain shall fall in the midst of her: 'the enemy shall come against her with the sword on every side, and they shall know that I am the Lord. 24 And they shall be no more a pricking thorn unto the house of Israel, nor any grievous thorn of all that are round about them, and despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord God. 25 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people where they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in the land, that I have given to my servant Jacob. 26 And they shall dwell safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards: yea, they shall dwell safely, when I have executed judgments upon all round about them that despise them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

29 He prophesieth against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promiseth that he will restore Egypt after forty years. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchadnezzar for the labor which he took against Tyre. 1 In the tenth year and in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt. 3 Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon, that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it for myself. 4 But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will draw thee out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales. 5 And I will leave thee in the wilderness, both thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowls of heaven. 6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. 7 When they took hold of thee with their hand, thou didst break and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loins to stand upright. 8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and destroy man and beast out of thee. 9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate, and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it. 10 Behold, therefore I come upon thee, and upon thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate from the tower of Syene, even unto the borders of the black Moors. 11 No foot of man shall pass by it, nor foot of beast shall pass by it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years. 12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be desolate among the cities that are desolate for forty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

28:18 1 That is, the honor whereunto I called them. 28:19 1 Or, brought to nothing. 28:22 1 By executing my judgments against thy wickedness. 28:23 1 That is, Nebuchadnezzar. 28:25 1 He showeth for what cause God will assemble his Church, and preserve it still, though he destroy his enemies: to wit, that they should praise him, and give thanks for his great mercies. 29:1 1 To wit, of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of the reign of Zedekiah. Of the order of these prophecies, and how the former sometimes standeth after the latter, read Jer. 27:1. 29:3 1 He compareth Pharaoh to a dragon which hideth himself in the river Nile, as Isa. 51:9. 29:4 1 I will send enemies against thee, which shall pluck thee, and thy people which trust in thee, out of thy sure places. 29:6 1 Read 2 Kings 18:21; Isa. 36:6. 29:7 1 Or, shake. 29:9 1 Thus God cannot suffer that man should arrogate anything to himself, or put his trust in anything save in him alone. 29:10 1 Hebrew, Cush, or Ethiopia.
13 Yet thus saith the Lord God, ‘At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scattered.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they shall be there a small kingdom.

15 It shall be the smallest of the kingdoms, neither shall it exalt itself anymore above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, to bring their iniquity to remembrance by looking after them, so shall they know that I am the Lord God.

17 ¶ In the seven and twentieth year also in the first month, and in the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was made bare: yet he had no wages, nor his army for Tyre, for the service that he served against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel, and he shall take her multitude, and spoil her spoil, and take her prey, and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt for his labor, that he served against it, because they wrought evil against me.

21 In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel, to bring their iniquity to remembrance by looking after them, so shall they know that I am the Lord.

30 The destruction of Egypt and the cities thereof.

1 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Howl and cry, Woe be unto this day.

3 For the day is near, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudy day, and it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and fear shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, and when her foundations shall be broken down.

5 Ethiopia and Put, and Lud, and all the common people, and Chub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that maintain Egypt, shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Syene shall they fall by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall there messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the careless Moors afraid, and fear shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel.

11 For he and his people with him, even the terrible nations shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hands of the wicked, and I will make the land waste, and all that therein is by the hands of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause their idols to cease out of Noph, and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will send a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in Zoan, and I will execute judgment in No.

15 And I will pour my wrath upon Sin, which is the strength of Egypt: and I will destroy the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall have great sorrow, and No shall be destroyed, and Noph shall have sorrows daily.

17 The young men of Aven, and of Pi Beseth... shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 At Tehaphnehes the day shall restrain his light, when I shall break there the bars of Egypt: and when the pomp of her power shall cease in her, the cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 ¶ And in the eleventh year, in the first month, and in the seventh day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, neither shall they put a roll to bind it, and so make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and will break his arm that was strong, but is broken, and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arm of the king of Babel, and put my sword in his hand, but I will break Pharaoh’s arms, and he shall cast out sighings, as the sighings of him that is wounded before him.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babel, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down, and they shall know, that I am the Lord, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

30:18 1 Meaning, that there shall be great sorrow and affliction.

30:20 2 That is, the strength and force.

30:22 2 His force and power.

30:25 1 Whereby we see that tyrants have no power of themselves, neither can do anymore harm than God appointeth, and when he will they must cease.

31:1 1 Of Zedekiah’s reign, or of Jeconiah’s captivity.

31:2 1 Meaning, that he was not like in strength to the King of the Assyrians, whom the Babylonians overcame.

31:4 1 Many other nations were under their dominion.

31:8 1 Signifying, that there was no greater power in the world than his was.

31:10 1 Or, thou wast lifted up.

31:11 1 That is, of Nebuchadnezzar, who afterward was the monarch and only ruler of the world.

31:12 1 Hereby is signified the destruction of the power of the Assyrians by the Babylonians.
their leaves stand up in their height, which drink so much water: for they are all delivered unto death in the nether parts of the earth in the midst of the children of men among them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went down to hell, I caused them to mourn, and I covered the deep for him, and I did restrain the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell, with them that descend into the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down to hell with him unto them that were slain with the sword, and his arm, and they that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt sleep in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

2 The Prophet is commanded to bewail Pharaoh King of Egypt. 12 He propheseth that destruction shall come unto Egypt through the King of Babylon.

1 And in the twelfth year in the twelfth month, and in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou art like a lion of the nations, and art as a dragon in the sea: thou castest out thy rivers and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and stampedst in their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, I will therefore spread my net over thee a great multitude of people, and they shall make thee come up into my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, and I will cast thee upon the open field, and I will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill all the beasts of the field with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thine height.

6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains, and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark: I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the lights of heaven will I make dark for thee, and bring darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord God.

9 I will also trouble the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, and upon the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be astonished with fear for thee, when I shall make my sword to glitter against their faces, and they shall be afraid at every moment: every man for his own life in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, The sword of the king of Babel shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall: they all shall be terrible nations, and they shall destroy the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be consumed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from the great watersides, neither shall the foot of man trouble them anymore, nor the hooves of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country with all that is therein, shall be laid waste: when I shall smite all them which dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.
17 ¶ In the twelfth year also in the fifteenth day of the month, came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,
18 Son of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even them and the daughters of the mighty nations under the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.
19 Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down and sleep with the uncircumcised.
20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword: draw her down, and all her multitude.
21 The most mighty and strong shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help her: they are gone down, and sleep with the uncircumcised that be slain by the sword.
22 Assyria is there and all his company: their graves are about him: all they are slain and fallen by the sword.
23 Whose graves are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude round about his grave: all they are slain and fallen by the sword, which caused fear to be in the land of the living.
24 There is Elam and all his multitude round about his grave: all they are slain and fallen by the sword, which are gone down with the uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused themselves to be feared in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that are gone down to the pit.
25 They have made his bed in the midst of the slain with all his multitude: their graves are round about him: all these uncircumcised are slain by the sword: though they have caused their fear in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that are gone down to the pit.
26 There is Meshech, Tubal, and all their multitude: their graves are round about them: all these uncircumcised were slain by the sword, though they caused their fear to be in the land of the living.
27 And they shall not lie with the valiant of the uncircumcised, that are fallen, which are gone down to the grave with their weapons of war, and have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquity shall be upon their bones: because they were the fear of the mighty in the land of the living.
28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and lie with them that are slain by the sword.
29 There is Edom, his kings, and all his princes, which with their strength are laid by them that were slain by the sword: they shall sleep with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.
30 There be all the princes of the North, with all the Sidonians, which are gone down with the slain, with their fear: they are ashamed of their strength, and the uncircumcised sleep with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.
31 Pharaoh shall see them, and he shall be comforted over all his multitude: Pharaoh, and all his army shall be slain by the sword, saith the Lord God.
32 For I have caused my fear to be in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them, that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

33 2 The office of the governors and ministers. 14 He strengtheneth them that despair, and boldeneth them with the promise of mercy. 30 The word of the Lord against the mockers of the Prophet.

1 Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and make him their watchman,
3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people,
4 Then he that heareth the sound of the trumpet, and will not be warned, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.
5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be admonished: therefore his blood shall be upon him: but he that receiveth warning, shall save his life.
6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away for his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 “So thou, O son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and admonish them from me.

8 When I shall say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt die the death, if thou dost not speak and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man shall die for his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, if he do not turn from his way, he shall die for his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak and say, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we are consumed because of them, how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live; turn you, turn you from your evil ways, for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression, nor the wickedness of the wicked shall cause him to fall therein, in the day that he returneth from his wickedness, neither shall the righteous live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say unto the righteous, that he shall surely live, if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, all his righteousness shall be no more remembered, but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for the same.

14 Again when I shall say unto the wicked, Thou shalt die the death, if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right, shall fall by the sword: and him that is in the open field, will I give unto the beasts to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the pomp of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall pass through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have laid the land desolate and waste, because of all their abominations, that they have committed.

30 Also thou son of man, the children of thy people that talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of houses, and speak one to another, everyone to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh from the Lord.

31 For they come unto thee, as the people useth to come: and my people sit before thee, and hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouths they make jests, and their heart goeth after their covetousness.

32 And lo, thou art unto them, as a jesting song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can sing well: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to pass (for lo, it will come) then shall they know, that a Prophet hath been among them.

34 Against the shepherds that despised the flock of Christ, and seek their own reign. 7 The Lord saith that he will visit his dispersed flock, and gather them together. 23 He promiseth the true shepherd Christ, and with him peace.

1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds, Woe be unto the shepherds of Israel, that feed themselves: should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool: ye kill them that are fed, but ye feed not the sheep.

4 The weak have ye not strengthened: the sick have ye not healed, neither have ye bound up the broken, nor brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost, but

5 And they were scattered without a shepherd: and when they were dispersed, they were devoured of all the beasts of the field.

6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered through all the earth, and none did seek or search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord.

8 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely because my flock was spoiled, and my sheep were devoured of all the beasts of the field, having no shepherd, neither did my shepherds seek my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep.

9 Therefore, hear ye the word of the Lord, O ye shepherds.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepherds, and will require my sheep at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep: neither shall the shepherds feed themselves anymore: for I will deliver thy sheep from their mouths, and they shall no more devour them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 As a shepherd searcheth out his flock, when he hath been among his sheep that are scattered, so will I seek out my sheep and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my sheep, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen the weak, but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and I will with cruelty, and with rigor have ye ruled them.

feed them with ‘judgment.

17 Also you my sheep, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, between the rams and the goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet, the residue of your pasture: and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must trouble the residue with your feet.

19 And my sheep eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and drink that which ye have troubled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God unto them, Behold, I, even I will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the weak with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad.

22 Therefore will I help my sheep, and they shall no more be spoiled, and I will judge between sheep and sheep.

23 And I will set up a shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David, he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And I the Lord will be their God, and my servant David shall be the Prince among them, I the Lord have spoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land, and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will set them, as a blessing, even round about my mountains, and I will cause rain to come down in due season: and there shall be rain of blessing.

27 And the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall give her fruit, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the cords of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hands of those that served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more be spoiled of the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devour them, but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the reproach of the heathen anymore.

30 Thus shall they understand, that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel are my people, saith the Lord God.

31 And ye my sheep, the sheep of my pasture are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

35 2 The destruction that shall come on mount Seir, because they troubled the people of Israel.

1 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, Set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesy against it,

3 And say unto it, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O mount Seir, I come against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword in the time of their calamity, when their iniquity had an end,

6 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: except thou hate blood, even blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thine hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers shall they fall, that are slain with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess them (seeing the Lord was there).

11 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God, I will even do according to thy wrath, and according to thine indignation, which thou hast used in thine
CHAPTER 36

1 He promiseth to deliver Israel from the Gentiles. 22 The benefits done unto the Jews, are to be ascribed to the mercy of God, and not unto their deservings. 26 God reneweth our hearts that we may walk in his commandments.

1 Also thou son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord.

2 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, even the high places of the world are ours in possession,

3 Therefore prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Because that they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ye are come unto the lips and tongues of men, and unto the reproach of the people.

4 Therefore ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains, and to the hills, and to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains, and to the hills, and to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, to cast it out for a prey.

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of mine indignation have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which have taken my land for their possession, with the joy of all their heart, and with despiteful minds to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophesy therefore upon the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I have spoken in mine indignation and in my wrath, because ye have suffered the shame of the heathen.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I have lifted up mine hand, surely the heathen that are about you, shall bear their shame.

8 But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and bring forth your fruit to my people of Israel: for they are ready to come.

9 For behold, I come unto you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown.

10 And I will multiply the men upon you, even all the house of Israel wholly, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the desolate places shall be built.

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beast, and they shall increase, and bring fruit, and I will cause you to dwell after your old estate, and I will bestow benefits upon you more than at the first, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel, and they shall possess you, and ye shall be their inheritance, and ye shall no more henceforth deprive them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord, Because they say unto you, Thou land devourrest up men, and hast been a waster of thy people,

14 Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither waste thy people henceforth, saith the Lord God, 15 Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen anymore, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people anymore, neither shalt thou cause thy folk to fall anymore, saith the Lord God.

16 Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own ways, and by their deeds: their way was before me as the way of them that have no knowledge, which was accomplished under Christ, to whom all these temporal deliverances did direct them.

18 Wherefore I poured my wrath upon them, for 24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and will gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

31 Then shall ye remember your own wicked ways, and the iniquities of your fathers, and the iniquities of your own fathers, and the iniquities of your fathers' fathers.

33 Thus saith the Lord God, What time as I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will cause you to dwell in the cities, and the desolate places shall be built.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay waste in the sight of all that passed by.

35 For they said, This waste land was like the garden of Eden, and these waste, and desolate, and ruinous cities were strong, and were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen, that are left round about you, shall know that I the Lord build the ruinous places, and plant the desolate places: I the Lord have spoken it, and will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God, I will yet for this be sought of the house of Israel, to perform it unto them: I will increase them with men like a flock.

38 As the holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in their solemn feasts, so shall the desolate cities be filled with flocks of men, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

39 He prophesieth the bringing again of the people, being in captivity.

1 The hand of the Lord was upon me, and carried me out in the Spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the valley, which was full of bones:

2 And I looked, and, behold, there was a great multitude of bones in the midst of the valley, very many in the open field, and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophesy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live:

6 And I will multiply the fruit of the trees, and the increase of the field, that ye shall bear no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

7 Then will I pour clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols will I cleanse you.

8 And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they polluted mine holy Name, which ye polluted among the heathen, whither ye went.

9 And I will sanctify my great Name, which was polluted among the heathen, among whom you have polluted it, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes.

10 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

11 And I will make you clean, from all your filthiness, and I will give you an heart of flesh.

12 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to enter into the heritage that I gave to your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

13 I will also deliver you from all your filthiness, and I will call for your corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you.

14 For I will multiply the fruit of the trees, and the increase of the field, that ye shall bear no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

15 Then shall ye remember your own wicked ways, and your deeds that were not good, and shall judge yourselves worthy to have been destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

16 Ye shall come to true repentance, and think yourselves unworthy to be of the number of God’s creatures, for your ingratitude against him.

17 He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the soil or plentifulness of the earth that any country is rich and abundant, but only to God’s mercies, as his plagues and curses declare, when he maketh it barren.

18 He showeth by a great miracle that God hath power, and also will deliver his people from their captivity, inasmuch as he is able to give life to the dead bones, and bodies, and raise them up again.
And the Israelites gathered together, and all the captives of Israel, which were in Calcan and Judah, 8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews, and the flesh grew upon them, and above the skin covered them, but there was no breath in them. 9 Then said he unto me, Prophesy unto the wind: prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord God, Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. 10 So I prophesied as he had commanded me: and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. 11 Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone; and we are clean cut off. 12 Therefore prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your sepulchers, and bring you into the land of Israel, 13 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your sepulchers, 14 And shall put my Spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then ye shall know that I am the Lord, 15 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, 16 Moreover, thou son of man, take thee a piece of wood, and write upon it, Unto Judah, and to the children of Israel his companions: then take another piece of wood, and write upon it, Unto Joseph the tree of Ephraim, and to all the house of Israel his companions, 17 And thou shalt join them one to another into one tree, and they shall be as one in thine hand. 18 And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not show us what thou meanest by these? 19 Thou shalt answer them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will take the tree of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him even with the tree of Judah, and make them one tree, and they shall be one in mine hand. 20 And the pieces of wood whereon thou writest, shall be in thine hand, in their sight. 21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land. 22 And I will make them one people in the land, upon the mountains of Israel, and the land of Ephraim, which is meant by the land of Canaan. 23 Neither shall they be polluted anymore with their idols, nor with their abominations, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God. 24 And David my servant shall be king over them, and they shall all have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgments, and observe my statutes, and do them. 25 And they shall dwell in the land, that I have given unto Jacob my servant, where your fathers have dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their sons, and their sons’ sons forever, and my servant David shall be their prince forever. 26 Moreover, I will make a covenant of peace with them: it shall be an everlasting covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary among them forevermore. 27 My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 28 Thus the heathen shall know, that I the Lord do sanctify Israel, when my Sanctuary shall be among them forevermore.
Tubal, and prophesy against him,
3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.
4 And I will destroy thee, and put hooks in thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth and all thine host, both horses and horsemen, all clothed with all sorts of armor, even a great multitude with bucklers and shields, all handling swords.
5 They of Paras, of Cush, and Put with them, even all they that bear shield and helmet.
6 Gomer and all his bands, and the house of Togarmah of the North quarters, and all his bands, and much people with thee.
7 Prepare thyself, and make thee ready, both thou, and all thy multitude that are assembled unto thee, and be thou their safeguard.
8 After many days thou shalt be visited: for in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that hath been destroyed with the sword, and is gathered out of many people upon the mountains of Israel, which have long lain waste: yet they have been brought out of the people, and they shall dwell all safe.
9 Thou shalt ascend and come up like a tempest, and shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, both thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee.
10 Thus saith the Lord God, Even at the same time shall many things come into thy mind, and thou shalt think evil thoughts.
11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land that hath no walled towers: I will go to them that are at rest and dwell in safety, which dwell all without walls, and have neither bars nor gates,
12 Thinking to spoil the prey, and to take a booty, to turn thine hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations which have gotten cattle, and goods, and dwell in the midst of the land.
13 Sheba and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish with all the lions thereof shall say unto thee,
1 Art thou come to spoil the prey? hast thou gathered thy multitude to take a booty? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, and to spoil a great prey?
14 Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord God, In that day, when my people of Israel dwelleth safe shalt thou not know it.
15 And come from thy place out of the North parts, thou and much people with thee all shall ride upon horses, even a great multitude and a mighty army.
16 And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land, thou shalt be in the latter days, and I will bring thee upon my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.
17 Thus saith the Lord God, Art not thou he, of whom I have spoken in old time, by the hand of my servants the Prophets of Israel which prophesied in those days and years, that I would bring thee upon them?
18 At the same time also when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, my wrath shall arise in mine anger.
19 For in mine indignation, and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken it: surely at that time there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel,
20 So that the fishes of the Sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all that move and creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the earth, shall tremble at my presence, and the mountains shall be overthrown, and the stairs shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.
21 For I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord God: every man's sword shall be against his brother.
22 And I will plead against him with pestilence, and with blood, and I will cause to rain upon him and upon his bands, and upon the great people that are with him, a sore rain, and hailstones, fire, and brimstone.
23 Thus will I be magnified, and sanctified, and to have the spoil of the Church.
38:14 Shall not thou spy thine occasions to come against my Church when they suspect nothing?
38:16 Meaning, in the last age, and from the coming of Christ unto the end of the world.
38:17 Hereby he declareth that none affliction can come to the Church, whereof they have not been advertised aforesaid, to teach them to endure all things with more patience, when they know that God hath so ordained.
38:20 All means whereby man should think to save himself, shall fail, the affliction in those days shall be so great, and the enemies' destruction shall be so terrible.
38:21 Against the people of Gog and Magog. known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

39 1 He showeth the destruction of Gog, and Magog. 11 The graves of Gog and his host. 17 They shall be devoured of birds and beasts. 23 Wherefore the house of Israel is captive. 24 Their bringing again from captivity is promised.

1 Therefore thou son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.
2 And I will destroy thee and leave but the sixth part of thee, and will cause thee to come up from the North parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel:
3 And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and I will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.
4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, and all thy bands and the people, that is with thee: for I will give thee unto the birds, and to every feathered fowl and beast of the field to be devoured.
5 Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.
6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell safely in the isles, and they shall know that I am the Lord.
7 So will I make mine holy Name known in the midst of my people Israel, and I will not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name anymore, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy one of Israel.
8 Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord God: and this is the day whereof I have spoken.
9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall burn and set fire upon the weapons, and on the shields, and bucklers, upon the bows, and upon the arrows, and upon the staves in their hands, and upon the spears, and they shall burn them with fire seven years.
10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests: for they shall burn the weapons with fire, and they shall rob those that robbed them, and spoil those that spoiled them, saith the Lord God.
11 And at the same time will I give unto Gog a place there for burial in Israel, even the valley, whereby men go toward the East part of the sea: and it shall cause them that pass by, to stop their noses, and there shall they bury Gog with all his multitude: and they shall call it the valley of Hamon Gog.
12 And seven months long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.
13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them, and they shall have a name, when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.
14 And they shall choose out men to go continually through the land with them that travel, to bury those that remain upon the ground, to cleanse it: they shall search to the end of seven months.
15 And the travelers that pass through the land, if any see a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon Gog.
16 And also the name of the city shall be Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.
17 And thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God, Speak unto every feathered fowl, and to all the beasts of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come: gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice: for I do sacrifice a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Bashan, and I take an extraordinary sacrifice of all fat beasts of Bashan.
18 Ye shall eat the flesh of the valiant, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambs, and of the goats, and of bullocks, even of all fat beasts.
19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I have sacrificed for you.
20 Thus you shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord God.
21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and they shall have a name, when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.
22 So the house of Israel shall know, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forth.

39:2 1 Or, destroy thee with six plagues, as Ezek. 38:22.
39:4 1 Meaning, that by the virtue of God's word the enemy shall be destroyed wheresoever he assaieth his Church.
39:6 1 That is, among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, seem they never so far separated.
39:8 1 That is, this plague is fully determined, in my counsel, and cannot be changed.
39:9 1 After this destruction the Church shall have great peace and tranquility, and burn all their weapons, because they shall no more fear the enemies, and this is chiefly meant of the accomplishment of Christ's kingdom when by their head Christ, all enemies shall be overcome.
39:11 1 Which declareth that the enemies shall have an horrible fall.
39:12 1 For the stink of the carcasses.
39:14 1 Or, the multitude.
39:16 1 Or, multitude.
39:17 1 Whereby he signifieth the horrible destruction that should come upon the enemies of his Church.
23 And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their uncleanness, and according to their transgressions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have compassion upon the whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for mine holy Name, 26 After that they have borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they have transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without fear of any.

27 When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shall they know, that I am the Lord their God, who brought them out of the lands of their enemies, and gathered them unto their own land, and left none of them anymore there, 29 Neither will I hide my face anymore from them: for I have poured out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

40 The restoring of the city and the Temple.

1 In the five and twentieth year of our being in captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, the hand of the Lord was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 Into the land of Israel brought he me by a divine vision, and set me upon a very high mountain, whereupon was as the building of a city, toward the South.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose similitude was to look to, like brass, with a linen thread in his hand, and a reed to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall show thee: for to the intent that they might be showed thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest unto the house of Israel.
and breadth thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches with their palm trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, and the going up unto it had seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood over against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 After that, he brought me toward the South, and lo, there was a gate toward the South, and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the height was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side upon the post thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me into the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate, according to these measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the South, and one chamber, and the entry thereof every way were three cubits on this side, and three on that side, and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

32 And again he brought me into the inner court toward the East, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windows therein, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ After he brought me to the North gate, and measured it, according to these measures, 36 The chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windows therein round about: the height was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were toward the utter court, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And every chamber, and the entry thereof was under the posts of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, upon the which they slew the burnt offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side beyond the steps, at the entry of the North gate stood two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side by the side of the gate even eight tables whereupon they slew their sacrifice.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hand broad, fastened round about, and upon the tables lay the flesh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was toward the South, and one was at the side of the East gate, having the prospect toward the North.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South is for the Priests, that have charge to keep the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priests that have the charge to keep the Altar: these are the sons of Zadok among the sons of Levi, which may come near to the Lord to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, even four square: likewise the Altar that was before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured the posts of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it, and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side and another on that side.

41 1 The disposition and order of the building of the Temple, and the other things thereto belonging.

1 Afterward, he brought me to the Temple and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entry was ten cubits, and the sides of the entry were five cubits, on the one side, and five cubits on the other side, and he measured the length thereof forty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

3 Then went he in, and measured the posts of the entry two cubits, and the entry six cubits, and the breadth of the entry seven cubits.

4 So he measured the length thereof twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits before the Temple, and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After, he measured the wall of the house, six cubits, and the breadth of every chamber four cubits round about the house, on every side.

6 And the chambers were chamber upon chamber, three and thirty foot high, and they entered into the wall made for the chambers which was round about the house, that the posts might be fastened therein, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 And it was large, and went round mounting upward to the chambers: for the stairs of the house was mounting upward, round about the house: therefore the house was larger upward: so they went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 I saw also the house high round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall which was for the chamber without, was five cubits, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the House on every side.

11 And the doors of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one door toward the North, and another door toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place toward the West corner, was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house an hundred cubits long, and the separate place and the building with the walls thereof were an hundred cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the house and of the separate place toward the East, was an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place, which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundred cubits with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.

16 The posts and the narrow windows, and the chambers round about, on three sides over against the posts, ceiled with cedar wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were ceiled.

17 And from above the door unto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within and without it was ceiled according to the measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palm trees, so that a palm tree was between a Cherub and a Cherub: and every Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a lion toward the palm tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were Cherubims, and palm trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The posts of the Temple were squared, and thus to look unto was the similitude and form of the Sanctuary.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits, and the corners thereof and the length thereof and the sides thereof were of wood. And he said unto me, This is the Table that shall be before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two wickets, even two turning wickets, two wickets for one door, and two wickets for another door.

25 And upon the doors of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palm trees, like as was made upon the walls, and there were thick planks upon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and upon the sides of the house, and thick planks.

42 Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.
1 Then brought he me into the utter court by the way toward the North, and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits, was the North door, and it was fifty cubits broad.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement, which was for the utter court, was chamber against chamber in three rows.

4 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubits wide, and within was a way of one cubit, and their doors toward the North.

5 Now the chambers above were narrower: for those chambers seemed to eat up these, to wit, the lower, and those that were in the midst of the building.

6 For they were in three rows, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the middlemost, even from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, toward the utter court on the forefront of the chambers, was fifty cubits long.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court, was fifty cubits: and lo, before the Temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And under these chambers was the entry, on the East side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the East, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was after the manner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers, that were toward the South, was a door in the corner of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entereth.

13 Then said he unto me, The North chambers and the South chambers which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers wherein the Priests that approach unto the Lord, shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering: for the place is holy.

14 When the Priests enter therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister: for they shall put on other garments, and so shall approach to those things, which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the East side with the measuring rod, five hundred reeds even with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured also the North side, five hundred reeds, even with the measuring reed round about.

18 And he measured the South side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

19 He turned about also to the West side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad to make a separation between the Sanctuary, and the profane place.

21 He seeth the glory of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. He mentioneth the idolatry of the children of Israel, for the which they were consumed and brought to naught. He is commanded to call them again to repentance.

22 Afterward he brought me to the gate even the gate that turneth toward the East.

23 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel, came from out of the East, whose voice was like a noise of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glory.

24 And the vision which I saw was like the vision, even as the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar, and I fell upon my face.

25 And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

26 So the Spirit took me up and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

27 And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house: and there stood a man by me, and said unto me, Son of man this place is my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel forever, and the house of Israel shall no more defile mine holy Name, neither they, nor their kings by their fornication, nor by the carcasses of their kings in their high places.

28 Albeit they set their thresholds by my thresh-
12 This is the description of the house, it shall be upon the top of the mount: all the limits thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the description of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the Altar, after the description of the house, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

14 And from the bottom which toucheth the ground to the lower piece shall be two cubits and the breadth one cubit, and from the little piece to the great piece shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So the altar shall be four cubits, and from the altar upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long and twelve broad, and foursquare in the four corners thereof.

17 And the frame shall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the foursquare corners thereof, and the border about it shall be half a cubit, and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about, and the steps thereof shall be turned toward the East.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it to offer the burnt offering, and to sprinkle blood thereon, and to go out thereof, and the whole fashion thereof, and the going out thereof, and the whole ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

19 And thou shalt give to the Priests, and to the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which approach the altar, and offer upon it the burnt offering, and your peace offerings, and your burnt offerings, and your sin offerings, and your trespass offerings, and all the offering made by fire which ye bring into the house.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the frame, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcile it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin offering, and burn it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuary.

22 But the second day thou shalt offer an he goat without blemish for a sin offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, and the Priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them for a burnt offering unto the Lord.

25 Seven days shalt thou prepare every day an he goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seven days purify the altar, and cleanse it, and consecrate it.

27 And when these days are expired upon the eighth day and so forth, the Priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings, and I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

44 He reproveth the people for their offense. 7 The uncircumcised in heart, and in the flesh. 9 Who are to be admitted to the service of the Temple, and who to be refused.

1 Then he brought me toward the gate of the outward Sanctuary, which turneth toward the East, and it was shut.

2 Then said the Lord unto me, This gate shall be shut, and shall not be opened, and no man shall enter by it, because the Lord God of Israel hath entered by it, and it shall be shut.

3 It appertaineth to the Prince: the Prince himself shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord: he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me toward the North gate before the house: and when I looked, behold, the glory of the Lord, filled the house of the Lord, and I fell upon my face.

5 And the Lord said unto me, Son of man, mark well and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, all that I say unto thee, concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all the laws thereof, and mark well the entering in of the house with every going forth of the Sanctuary, and thine entrance in by the way of the porch of the house, and thine issue out by the way of the same.

6 ¶ And it came to pass in the morning, when the sun was shined upon the altar, that the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord.

7 And I looked, and, lo, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord.

8 And I fell upon my face, and the glory of the Lord abode upon the throne of the Lord for evermore. Alleluia.

9 And he said unto me, Son of man, set thine heart: it appertaineth not thee to understand this; nor the Prince, read Ezek. 46:8,9.
6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, O house of Israel, ye have enough of all your abominations.

7 Seeing that ye have brought into my Sanctuary strangers uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my Sanctuary, to pollute mine house, when ye offer my bread, even fat, and blood: and they have broken my covenant, because of all your abominations.

8 For ye have not kept the 'ordinances of mine holy things: but you yourselves have set others to take the charge of my Sanctuary.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, No stranger uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 Neither yet the 'Levites that are gone back from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols, but they shall bear their iniquity.

11 And they shall serve in my Sanctuary, and keep the gates of the House, and minister in the House: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people: and they shall stand before them to serve them.

12 Because they served before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore have I lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 And they shall not come near unto me to do the office of the Priest unto me, neither shall they come near unto any of mine holy things in the most holy place, but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations, which they have committed.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the House, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the Priests of the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my Sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to serve me, and they shall stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuary, and shall come near to my table, to serve me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 And when they shall enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments, and no wool shall come upon them while they serve in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins: they shall not gird themselves in the sweating places.

19 But when they go forth into the utter court, even to the utter court to the people, they shall put off their garments, wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments: for they shall not sanctify the people with their garments.

20 They shall not also shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long, but round their heads.

21 Neither shall any Priests drink wine when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, or her that is divorced: but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that hath been the widow of a Priest.

23 And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in controversy they shall stand to judge, and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall sanctify my Sabbaths.

25 And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves, except at their father or mother, or son or daughter, brother or sister, that hath had yet none husband: in these may they be defiled.

26 And when he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days.

27 And when he goeth into the Sanctuary, unto the inner court, to minister in the Sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord God.

28 And the Priesthood shall be their inheritance, yea, I am their inheritance: therefore shall ye give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession.

29 They shall eat the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the oblation, even all of every sort of your oblations shall be their inheritance.

30 And all the first of all the firstborn, and every assembly, and every oblation, even all of every sort of your oblations shall be the Priest's. Ye shall also give unto the Priest the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

31 The Priests shall not eat of anything that is dead, or torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

44:7 1 For they had brought idolaters which were of other countries, to teach them their idolatry. Ezek. 23:40.

44:8 1 Ye have not offered unto me according to my Law.

44:10 1 The Levites which had committed idolatry, were put from their dignity and could not be received into the Priests' office, although they had been of the house of Aaron, but must serve in the inferior offices, as to watch and to keep the doors, read 2 Kings 23:9.

44:15 1 Which observed the Law of God, and fell not to idolatry.

44:20 1 As did the infidels and heathen.

44:25 1 They may be at their burial, which was a defiling.

45 1 Out of the land of promise are there separate four portions, of which the first is given to the Priests.
and to the Temple, the second to the Levites, the third to the city, the fourth to the prince. 9 An exhortation unto the heads of Israel. 10 Of just weights and measures. 14 Of the firstfruits, etc.

1 Moreover, when ye shall divide the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the Lord an 'holy portion of the land, five and twenty thousand reeds long, and ten thousand broad: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, all square round about, and fifty cubits round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be the Priests, which minister in the Sanctuary, which came near to serve the Lord: and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall the Levites that minister in the house, have their possession for twenty chambers.

6 Also ye shall appoint the possession of the city, five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side, and on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, even before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city from the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward, and the length shall be by one of the portions from the West border unto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people, and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, Let it 'suffice you, O princes of Israel: leave off cruelty and oppression, and execute judgment and justice: take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

10 Ye shall have just balances, and a true 'Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be equal: a Bath shall contain the tenth part of an Homer, and an Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equality thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 'And the shekel shall be twenty Gerahs, and twenty shekels, and 'five and twenty shekels and fifteen shekels shall be your Mina.

13 ¶ This is the oblation that ye shall offer, the sixth part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an Ephah of an Homer of Barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oil, even of the Bath of oil, ye shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor (ten Baths are an Homer: for ten Baths fill an Homer)

15 And one Lamb of two hundred sheep out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat offering, and for a burnt offering and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the prince's part to give burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and drink offerings in the solemn feasts and in the new moons, and in the Sabbaths, and in all the high feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meat offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, In the first month, in the first day of the 'month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish and cleanse the Sanctuary.

19 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four 'corners of the frame of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so shalt thou do the seventh 'day of the month, for everyone that hath erred, and for him that is deceived: so shall you reconcile the house.

21 ¶ In the first month in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the Passover, a feast of seven days, and ye shall eat unleavened bread.

22 And upon that day, shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land, a bullock for a sin offering.

23 And in the seven days of the feast he shall make a burnt offering to the Lord, even of seven bullocks, and seven rams without blemish daily for seven days, and an he goat daily for a sin offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meat offering of an Ephah for a bullock, an Ephah for a ram, and an...
1 The sacrifices of the Sabbath and of the new moon. 8 Through which doors they must go in, or come out of the Temple, etc.

1 Thus saith the Lord God, The gate of the inner court, that turneth toward the East, shall be shut the six working days: but on the Sabbath it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the Priests shall make his burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: after he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut till the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the entry of this gate before the Lord on the Sabbaths, and in the new moons.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the Lord on the Sabbath day, shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the meat offering shall be an Ephah for a ram: and the meat offering for the lambs a gift of his hand, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat offering, even an Ephah for a bullock, and an Ephah for a ram, and for the lambs a gift of his hand shall bring, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the North gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the South gate: and he that entereth by the way of the South gate, shall go forth by the way of the North gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but they shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince shall be in the midst of them: he shall go in when they go in, and when they go forth, they shall go forth together.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities the meat offering shall be an Ephah to a bullock, and an Ephah to a ram, and to the lambs, the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall make a free burnt offering, or peace offerings freely unto the Lord, one shall then open him the gate that turneth toward the East, and he shall make his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day: after he shall go forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily make a burnt offering unto the Lord of a lamb of one year, without blemish: thou shalt do it every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oil, to mingle with the fine flour: this meat offering shall be continually by a perpetual ordinance unto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oil every morning, for a continual burnt offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, If the prince give a gift of his inheritance unto any of his sons, it shall be his sons, and it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the year of liberty: after, it shall return to the Prince, but his inheritance shall remain to his sons for them.

18 Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, nor thrust them out of their possession: but he shall cause his sons to inherit of his own possession, that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 ¶ After he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priests, which stood toward the North: and behold, there was a place at the West side of them.

20 Then said he unto me, This is the place where the Priests shall seethe the trespass offering and the sin offering, where they shall bake the meat offering, that they should not bear them into the utter court, to sanctify the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and caused me to go by the four corners of the court: and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts joined of forty cubits long, and thirty broad:
47:1 Whereby are meant the spiritual graces that should be given to the Church under the kingdom of Christ.
47:5 Signifying that the graces of God should never decrease, but ever abound in his Church.
47:7 Meaning, the multitude of them that should be refreshed by the spiritual waters.
47:8 Showing that the abundance of these graces should be so great, that all the world should be full thereof, which is here meant by the Persian sea, or Genesiseth, and the sea called Mediterranean, Zech. 14:8.
47:9 1 The waters which of nature are salt, and unwholesome shall be made sweet and comfortable.
47:10 1 Signifying, that when God bestoweth his mercies in such abundance, the ministers shall by their preaching win many.
47:12 1 Or, tree for meat.
47:14 1 Or, tree for meat.
47:15 1 By the land of promise he signifieth the spiritual land whereof this was a figure.
47:19 1 Or, stiffe.

EZEKIEL 46:23

CHAPTER 47  864

1 The vision of the waters that came out of the Temple. 13 The coasts of the land of promise, and the division thereof by tribes.

1 Afterward he brought me unto the door of the house: and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house Eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the East, and the waters ran down from under the right side of the house, at the South side of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out toward the North gate, and led me about by the way without unto the uttermost北ward, and brought me about by the way that turneth Eastward: and behold, there came forth waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: the waters were to the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand and brought me through the waters: the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me through: the waters were to the loins.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, and it was a river, that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flow, as a river that could not be passed over.

6 And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river:

7 Now when I turned, behold, at the brink of the river to the main sea: so and 13 Then saith the Lord God, This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers, and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land toward the North side, from the main sea toward Hethlon, as men go to Zedad:

16 Hamath, Berorah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath, and Hazar, Hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus, and the residue of the North Northward, and the border of Hamath: so shall be the North part.

18 But the East side shall ye measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, and from the border unto the East sea: and so shall be the East part.

19 And the South side shall be toward Teman, from Tamar to the waters of Meriboth in Kadesh, and the river to the main sea: so shall be the South part toward Teman.
20 'The West part also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Hamath: this shall be the west part.
21 So shall ye divide this land unto you, according to the tribes of Israel.
22 And you shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that dwell among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be unto you, as born in the country among the children of Israel, 'they shall part inheritance with you in the midst of the tribes of Israel.
23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord God.

48  The lots of the tribes.  9 The parts of the possession of the Priests, of the Temple, of the Levites, of the city, and of the Prince are rehearsed.
1 Now these are the names of the 'tribes. From the North side, to the coast toward Hethlon as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus northward the coast of Hamath, even from the East side to the West shall be a portion for Dan.
2 And by the border of Dan from the East side unto the West side, a portion for Asher.
3 And by the border of Asher from the East part even unto the West part, a portion for Naphtali.
4 And by the border of Naphtali from the East quarter unto the West side, a portion for Manasseh.
5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the East side unto the West side, a portion for Ephraim.
6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the East part even unto the West part, a portion for Reuben.
7 And by the border of Reuben, from the East quarter unto the West quarter, a portion for Judah.
8 And by the border of Judah from the East part unto the West part 'shall be the offering which they shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds broad, and of length as one of the other parts, from the East side unto the West side, and the Sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.
9 'The oblation that ye shall offer unto the Lord, shall be of five and twenty thousand long, and of ten thousand the breadth.
10 And for them, even for the Priests shall be this holy oblation, toward the North five and twenty thousand long, and toward the West, ten thousand broad, and toward the East ten thousand broad, and toward the South five and twenty thousand long, and the Sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst thereof.
11 It shall be for the Priests that are sanctified of the sons of 'Zadok, which have kept my charge, which went not astray, when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.
12 Therefore this oblation of the land that is offered shall be theirs, as a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.
13 And over against the border of the Priests the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand long, and [ten] thousand broad: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.
14 And they shall not sell it, neither change it, nor alienate the firstfruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.
15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be a profane place for the city, for housing, and for suburbs, and the city shall be in the midst thereof.
16 And these shall be the measures thereof, the North part five hundred and four thousand, and the South part five hundred and four thousand, and the East part five hundred and four thousand, and the West part five hundred and four thousand.
17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the North two hundred and fifty, and toward the South two hundred and fifty, and toward the East two hundred and fifty, and toward the West two hundred and fifty.
18 And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand Eastward, and ten thousand Westward: and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serve in the city.
19 And they that serve in the city, shall be of all the tribes of Israel that shall serve therein.
20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand with five and twenty thousand: you shall offer this oblation foursquare for the Sanctuary, and for the possession of the city.
21 And the residue shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other of the oblation of the Sanctuary, and of the possession of the city, over against the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the East border, and Westward over against the five and twenty thousand toward the West border.

47:22 1 Meaning, that in this spiritual kingdom there should be no difference between Jew nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of this inheritance in their head Christ.
48:1 1 The tribes after that they entered into the land under Joshua, divided the land somewhat otherwise than is here set forth by this vision.
48:8 1 That is, the portion of the ground which they shall separate and appoint to the Lord, which shall be divided into three parts, for the Priests, for the Prince, and for the city.
48:16 1 Meaning, that it should be square.
48:20 1 Every way it shall be five and twenty thousand.
over against shall be for the portion of the prince: this shall be the holy oblation, and the house of the Sanctuary shall be in the midst thereof.

22 Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, that which is in the midst shall be the prince's: between the border of Judah, and between the border of Benjamin shall be the Princes.

23 And the rest of the tribes shall be thus: from the East part unto the West part, Benjamin shall be a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the East side unto the West side, Simeon a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon from the East part unto the West part, Issachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Issachar, from the East side unto the West, Zebulun a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the East part unto the West part, Gad a portion.

28 And by the border of Gad at the South side, toward Temath, the border shall be even from Tamar, unto the waters of Meribah in Kadesh, and to the river, that runneth into the main sea.

29 This is the land, which ye shall distribute unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord God.

30 And these are the bounds of the city, on the North side five hundred, and four thousand measures.

31 And the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, the gates Northward, one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, and one gate of Levi.

32 And at the East side five hundred and four thousand, and three gates, and one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, and one gate of Dan.

33 And at the South side, five hundred and four thousand measures, and three ports, one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, and one gate of Zebulun.

34 At the West side, five hundred and four thousand, with their three gates, one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, and one gate of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteen thousand measures, and the name of the city from that day shall be, 'The Lord is there.'
1 The captivity of Jehoiakim king of Judah. 4 The king chooseth certain young men of the Jews to learn his law. 5 They have the king's ordinary appointed, 8 but they abstain from it.

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel unto Jerusalem and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his god's treasury.

3 And the King spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his Eunuchs, that he should bring certain of the children of Israel, of the King's seed, and of the princes:

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but well favored, and instruct in all wisdom, and well seen in knowledge, and able to utter knowledge, and such as were able to stand in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the learning, and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them provision every day of a portion of the king's meat, and of the wine, which he drank, so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof, they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were certain of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah.

7 Unto whom the chief of the Eunuchs gave other names: for he called Daniel, Belteshazzar, and Hananiah, Shadrach, and Mishael, Meshach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 But Daniel had determined in his heart, that he would not defile himself with the portion of the King's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he required the chief of the Eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 (Now God had brought Daniel into favor, and tender love with the chief of the Eunuchs.)

10 And the chief of the Eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the King, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: therefore if he see your faces worse liking than the other children which are of your sort, then shall you make me lose mine head unto the King.

11 Then said Daniel to Melzar, whom the chief of the Eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days, and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon the mediocrity of their own people.

1:1 1 Read 2 Kings 24:1 and Jer. 25:1.
1:2 1 Which was a plain by Babylon, where was the Temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon.
1:3 1 Who was as master of the wards.
2 2 He calleth them Eunuchs whom the King nourished and brought up to be rulers of other countries afterward.
3 3 His purpose was to keep them as hostages, and that he might show himself victorious, and also by their good entreaty and learning of his religion, they might favor rather him than the Jews, and so to be able to serve him as governors in their land: moreover by this means the Jews might be better kept in subjection, fearing otherwise to procure hurt to these noble men.
1:4 1 The King required three things, that they should be of noble birth, that they should be witty and learned, and that they should be of a strong and comely nature, that they might do him better service: this he did for his own commodity, therefore it is not to praise his liberality; yet in this he is worthy praise, that he esteemed learning, and knew that it was a necessary means to govern by.
2 That they might forget their own religion, and country fashions to serve him the better to his purpose: yet it is not to be thought that Daniel did learn any knowledge that was not godly: in all points he refused the abuse of things and superstition, insomuch that he would not eat the meat which the King appointed him, but was content to learn the knowledge of natural things.
1:5 1 That by their good entertainment they might learn to forget the king.
1:7 Unto whom the chief of the Eunuchs gave other names: for he called Daniel, Belteshazzar, and Hananiah, Shadrach, and Mishael, Meshach, and Azariah, Abednego.
1:8 But Daniel had determined in his heart, that he would not defile himself with the portion of the King's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he required the chief of the Eunuchs that he might not defile himself.
1:9 (Now God had brought Daniel into favor, and tender love with the chief of the Eunuchs.)
1:10 And the chief of the Eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the King, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: therefore if he see your faces worse liking than the other children which are of your sort, then shall you make me lose mine head unto the King.
1:11 Then said Daniel to Melzar, whom the chief of the Eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah,
1:12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days, and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink.
1:13 Then let our countenances be looked upon the mediocrity of their own people.
2 To the intent that in this time they might both learn the manners of the Chaldeans, and also their tongue.
3 As well to serve at the table, as in other offices.
1:13 That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Jews gave their children names, which might ever put them in remembrance of some point of religion: therefore this was a great temptation and a sign of servitude, which they were not able to resist.
1:18 1 Not that he thought any religion to be in the meat or drink, (for afterward he did eat) but because the king should not entice him by this sweet poison to forget his religion and accustomed sobriety, and that in his meat and drink he might daily remember of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in to show how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet.
1:10 1 He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonia, and therefore herein he representeth them, which are of no religion: for neither he would condemn theirs, nor maintain his own.
1:12 1 Meaning, that within this space he might have the trial, and that no man should be able to discern it: and thus he spake, being moved by the Spirit of God.
2 Not that it was a thing abominable to eat dainty meats, and to drink wine, as both before and after they did, but if they should have hereby been won to the King, and have refused their own religion, that meat and drink had been accused.
before thee, and the countenances of the children that eat of the portion of the King’s meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, an proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days, their countenances appeared fairer, and in better liking than all the children’s, which did eat the portion of the King’s meat.

16 Thus Melzat took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them pulse.

17 As for these four children, God gave them knowledge, and understanding in all learning and wisdom: also he gave Daniel understanding of all visions and dreams.

18 Now when the time was expired, that the King had appointed to bring them in, the chief of the Eunuchs brought them before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the King communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom, and understanding that the King enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the enchanters and astrologians that were in all his realm.

21 And Daniel was unto the first year of king Cyrus.

2 The dreams of Nebuchadnezzar. 13 The king commanded all the wise men of Babylon to be slain, because they could not interpret his dream. 16 Daniel requireth time to solve the question. 24 Daniel is brought unto the king, and sheweth him his dream, and the interpretation thereof. 44 Of the everlasting kingdom of Christ.

1 And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams wherewith his spirit was troubled, and his sleep was upon him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the enchanters, and the astrologians, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans for to show the king his dreams: so they came and stood before the King.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in the Aramite’s language, O king, live forever: show thy servants thy dream, and we shall show the interpretation.

5 And the King answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me. If ye will not make me understand the dream with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be drawn in pieces, and your houses shall be made a jakes.

6 But if ye declare the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards, and great honor: therefore show me the dream and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered again, and said, Let the king show his servants the dream, and we will declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king answered, and said, I know certainly that ye would gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not declare me the dream, there is but one judgment for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words, to speak before me till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, that I may know, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Then the Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is no man upon earth that can declare the king’s matter: yea, there is neither King nor Prince nor lord that asked such things at an enchanter, or...
11 For it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can declare it before the king, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and in great fury, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 ¶ And when sentence was given, the wise men were slain: and they 'sought Daniel and his fellows to be put to death.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsel and wisdom to Arioch the king's 'chief steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel.

15 Yea, he answered and said unto Arioch the king's captain, Why is the sentence so hasty from the king? Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went and desired the king that he would give him leisure, and that he would show the king the interpretation thereof.

17 ¶ Then Daniel went to his house, and showed the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions, 18 'That they should beseech the God of heaven for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babel.

19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heaven.

20 And Daniel answered and said, 'The Name of God be praised forever and ever: for wisdom and strength are his.

21 And he changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and understanding to those that understand.

22 He discovereth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in darkness, and the 'light dwelleth with him.

23 'I thank thee and praise thee, O thou God of my 'fathers, that thou hast given me wisdom and

2:33 Strength, and hast showed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared unto us the king's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went unto Arioch, whom the King had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babel: he went and said thus unto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babel, but bring me before the king, and I will declare unto the king the interpretation.

25 'Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the children of Judah that were brought captives, that will declare unto the king the interpretation.

26 'Then answered the king, and said unto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to show me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, 'The secret which the king hath demanded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the enchanters, nor the soothsayers declare unto the king.

28 But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and showeth the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the things which thou hast seen in thine head upon thy bed, is this:

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy mind, what should come to pass hereafter, and he that revealeth secrets, telleth thee what shall come.

30 'As for me, this secret is not showed me for any wisdom that I have more than any other living, but only to show the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thine heart.

31 O king, thou sawest, and behold, there was a great image: this great image whose glory was so excellent, stood before thee, and the form therefore was terrible.

32 This image's head was of fine 'gold, his breast, and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass,

33 'His legs of iron, and his feet were part of iron, and part of clay.
34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image upon his feet, that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.
35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver and the gold broken all together, and became like the chaff of the summer flowers, and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.
36 This is the dream, and we will declare before the king the interpretation thereof.
37 O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.
38 And in all places where the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art 1this head of gold.
39 And after thee shall rise another kingdom, 1inferior to thee, of silver, and another 2third kingdom shall be of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.
40 And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: for as iron breaketh in pieces, and subdueth all things, and as iron bruiseth all these things, so shall it break in pieces, and bruise all.
41 Whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potter’s clay, and part of iron: the kingdom shall be divided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, as thou sawest the iron mixed with the clay, and earth.
42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so shall the kingdom be partly strong, and partly broken.

2:34 1 Daniel leaveth out the kingdom of the Assyrians, which was before the Babylonian, both because it was not a Monarchy and general empire, and also because he would declare the things that were to come, to the coming of Christ, for the comfort of the elect among these wonderful alterations, and he calleth the Babylonian kingdom the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, and yet it was of itself wicked and cruel.
2:35 1 Meaning, the Persians which were not inferior in dignity, power, and riches, but were worse touching ambition, cruelty, and all kind of vice, showing that the world should grow worse and worse, till it was restored by Christ.
2:36 That is, of the Macedonians shall be of brass, not alluding to the Macedonians only, for the brass is also of itself hard, and showeth the hardness thereof, but to the vileness in respect of silver.
2:37 1 That is, the Roman empire shall subdue all these other aforenamed, which after Alexander were divided into the Macedonians, Grecians, Syrians and Egyptians.
2:38 1 They shall have civil wars, and continual discords among themselves.
2:39 1 They shall by marriages and affinities think to make themselves strong: yet shall they never be joined in hearts.
2:40 1 His purpose is to show, that all the kingdoms of the world are transitory, and that the kingdom of Christ shall only remain forever.
2:41 1 Meaning, Christ, who was sent of God, and not set up by man, whose kingdom at the beginning should be small and without beauty to man’s judgment, but should at length grow and fill the whole earth, which he calleth a great mountain, as verse 35. And this kingdom which is not only referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, and to every member thereof, shall be eternal: for the Spirit that is in them is eternal life, Rom. 8:10.
2:42 1 Though this humbling of the king seemed to deserve commendation, yet because he joined God's honor with the Prophet's, it is to be reproved, and Daniel herein ered, if he suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it.
2:43 1 Not that the Prophet was desirous of gifts or honor, but because by this means he might relieve his poor brethren, which were grievously oppressed in this their captivity, and also he received them, lest he should offend this cruel king, which willingly gave them.
2:44 1 He did not this for their private profit: but that the whole Church, which was then there in affliction, might have some release and ease by this benefit.

3 1 The king setteth up a golden image. 8 Certain are accused because they despised the king’s commandment.
and are put into a burning oven. 15 By belief in God they are delivered from the fire. 25 Nebuchadnezzar confessed the power of God after the sight of the miracle.

1 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was three score cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits; he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babel.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes and the dukes, the judges, the receivers, the counselors, the officers, and all the governors of the provinces, that they should come to the dedication of the image, which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

3 So the nobles, princes, and dukes, the judges, the receivers, the counselors, the officers, and all the governors of the provinces were assembled unto the dedicating of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up and they stood before the image which Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, Be it known to you, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when ye hear the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all instruments of music, ye fall down, and worship the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up.

6 And whosoever falleth not down, and worshippeth, shall the same hour be cast into the midst of an hot fiery furnace.

7 Therefore as soon as all the people heard the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all instruments of music, all the people, nations, and languages fell down, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8 ¶ By reason whereof at that same time came men of the Chaldeans, and grievously accused the Jews.

9 For they spake and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O King, live forever.

10 Thou, O King, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all instruments of music, shall fall down, and worship the golden image.

11 And whosoever falleth not down, and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of an hot fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the charge of the province of Babel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: these men, O King, have not regarded thy commandment, neither will they serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his anger and wrath commanded that they should bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, so these men were brought before the king.

14 And Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said unto them, What disorder? will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, serve my god, nor worship the golden image that I have set up?

15 Now therefore are ye ready when ye hear the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all instruments of music, to fall down, and worship the image which I have made; for if ye worship it not, ye shall be cast immediately into the midst of an hot fiery furnace: for who is that God, that can deliver you out of mine hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and said to the King, O Nebuchadnezzar, we are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 Behold, our God whom we serve, is able to deliver us from the hot fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known to thee, O king, that

3:1 1 Under pretence of religion, and holiness in making an image to his idol Bel, he sought his own ambition and vain glory: and this declareth that he was not toucheth with the true fear of God before but that he confessed him on a sudden motion as the wicked when he did see the power of God after the sight of the miracle.

3:2 1 Showing that the idol is not known for an idol so long as he is with workmen: but when the ceremonies and customs are recited and used; and the consent of the people is there, then of a block they think they have made a god.

3:3 1 It seemeth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the king’s favor, thinking if these three had been destroyed, they might have had better occasion to accuse Daniel: and this declareth that this policy of erecting this image was invented by the malicious flatterers which sought nothing but the destruction of the Jews, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

3:4 1 Signifying that he would receive them to grace if they would not at the length obey his decree.

3:5 1 They ground on two points, first on the power and providence of God over them, and secondly on their cause, which was God’s glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatry.

3:6 1 For they should have done injury to God, if they should have doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolved to die for God’s cause.

3:7 1 They shall not have done injury to God, if they should have doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolved to die for God’s cause.

3:8 1 For they shall have done injury to God, if they should have doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolved to die for God’s cause.
20 And he charged the most valiant men of war that were in his army, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hot fiery furnace.

21 So these men were bound in their coats, their hosen, and their cloaks, with their other garments, and cast into the midst of the hot fiery furnace.

22 Therefore, because the king's commandment was strict, that the furnace should be exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that brought forth Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego fell down bound into the midst of the hot fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his counselors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? Who answered, and said unto him, It is true, O king.

25 And he answered, and said, Lo, I see four men, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the son of God.

26 Then the King Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the hot fiery furnace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, the servants of the high God, go forth and come hither: so Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 Then the nobles, princes, and dukes, and the king's counselors came together to see these men, because the fire had no power over their bodies: for not an hair of their head was burnt, neither were their coats changed, nor any smell of fire came upon them.

28 Wherefore Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and delivered his servants, that put their trust in him, and have changed the king's commandment, and yielded their bodies rather than they would serve or worship any god save their own God.

29 Therefore I make a decree that every people, nation, and language, which speak any blasphemy against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be broken in pieces, and their houses shall be made a jakes, because there is no god that can deliver after this sort.

30 Then the King promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the province of Babel.

31 Nebuchadnezzar king unto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world, Peace be multiplied unto you:

32 I thought it good to declare the signs and wonders, that the high God hath wrought toward me.

33 How great are his signs, and how mighty are his wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

3:19 1 This declareth that the more that tyrants rage, and the more witty they show themselves inventing strange and cruel punishments, the more is God glorified by his servants to whom he giveth patience and constancy to abide the cruelty of their punishment: for either by delivereth them from death, or else for this life giveth them a better.

25 1 And he answered, and said, Lo, I see four men, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the son of God.

3:26 1 This commendeth their obedience unto God, that they would not for any fear depart out of this furnace, till the time appointed, as Noah remained in the ark, till the Lord called him forth.

3:28 1 He was moved by the greatness of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not touched. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to convert men to God, but that doctrine most chiefly be adjoineth, without the which there can be no faith.

3:29 1 If this heathen king moved by God's Spirit would not see blasphemy unpunished, but made a law and set a punishment to such transgressors, much more ought all they that profess religion, take order that such impiety reign not, lest according as their knowledge and charge is greater, so they suffer double punishment.

4:1 1 There was no trouble that might cause me to dream, and therefore it came only of God.

4:2 Another dream of Nebuchadnezzar, which Daniel declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth how of a proud king, he should become as a beast. 31 After he confessed the power of God, and is restored to his former dignity.

1 I Nebuchadnezzar being at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace,

2 Saw a dream, which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babel before me, that they might declare unto me the interpretation of the dream.

4 So came the enchanters, the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers, to whom I told the dream, but they could not show me the interpreta-
4:5 1 This no doubt was a great grief to Daniel not only to have his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idol, which thing Nebuchadnezzar did to make him forget the true religion of God.

4:6 1 Which also was a great grief to the Prophet to be numbered among the sorcerers and men whose practices were wicked and contrary to God's word.

4:7 1 This no doubt was a great grief to Daniel not only to have his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idol, which thing Nebuchadnezzar did to make him forget the true religion of God.

4:9 1 The boughs thereof were fair and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; it made a shadow under it for the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

4:10 I saw in the visions of mine head upon my bed, and behold, a watchman and an holy one came down from heaven.

4:11 And cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and break off his branches: shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit, that the beasts may flee from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

4:12 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, and with a band of iron and brass bind it among the grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field.

4:13 1 Let his heart be changed from man's nature, and let a beast's heart be given unto him, and let seven times be passed over him.

4:14 1 The sentence is according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of the holy ones: the demand was answered, to the intent that living men may know, that the most High hath power over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will,

4:15 This is the dream, that I King Nebuchadnezzar have seen: therefore thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to show me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

4:16 ¶ Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) held his peace by the space of one hour, and his thoughts troubled him, and the king spake and said, Belteshazzar, let neither the dream, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

4:17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mighty, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof through all the world,

4:18 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all, under the which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven did sit.

4:19 It is thou, O king, that art great and mighty: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

4:20 Whereas the King saw a watchman, and an holy one that came down from heaven, and said, Hew down the tree, and destroy it, yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, and with a band of iron and brass bind it among the grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him.

4:21 This is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the most High, which is come upon my lord the king.

4:22 That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as the oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven: and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know, that the holy one that came down from heaven, and said, Hew down the tree, and break off his branches: shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit, that the beasts may flee from under it, and the fowls from his branches.
most High beareth rule over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

23 Whereas they said, that one should leave the stump of the tree roots, thy kingdom shall remain unto thee: after that, thou shalt know, that the heavens have the rule.

24 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thy iniquities by mercy towards the poor: lo, let there be a healing of thine error.

25 All these things shall come upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

26 ¶ At the end of twelve months, he walked in the royal palace of Babel.

27 And the king spake and said, Is not this great Babel that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honor of my majesty?

28 While the word was in the king’s mouth, a voice came down from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdom is departed from thee, 29 And they shall dwell here with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass, as the oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou knowest, that the most High beareth rule over the kingdom of men, and giveth it unto whomsoever he will.

30 The very same hour was this thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar, and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as the oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown as eagles feathers, and his nails like birds claws.

31 And at the end of these days, I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding was restored unto me, and I gave thanks unto the most High, and I praised and honored him, that livest forever, whose power is an everlasting power, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his will he worketh in the army of heaven, and in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say unto him, What doest thou?

33 At the same time was mine understanding restored unto me, and I returned to the honor of my kingdom: my glory and my beauty was restored unto me, and my counselors and my princes sought unto me, and I was established in my kingdom, and my glory was augmented toward me.

34 Now therefore I Nebuchadnezzar praise, and extol and magnify the king of heaven, whose works are all truth, and his ways judgment: and those that walk in pride, he is able to abase.

5 Belshazzar king of Babylon seeth an handwriting on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the king, cannot expound the writing. 25 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it also. 30 The king is slain. 31 Darius enjoyeth the kingdom.

1 King Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and drank wine before the thousand.

2 And Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and silver vessels, which his father Nebuchadnezzar had brought from the Temple in Jerusalem, that the king and his princes, his wives, and his concubines might drink therein.

3 Then were brought the golden vessels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lord’s house at Jerusalem, and the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 At the same hour appeared fingers of a man’s hand, which wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the king’s palace, and the king’s countenance was changed, and his thoughts began to move by reason of the vision of his visage, and his countenance was changed.

6 Then cried Belshazzar, and said,

7 O thou who knowest the secrets of the heart, because thou hast shown this majesty unto thy servant: 8 I declare, We will give thee thanks: but why hast thou made us to be spit upon? 9 And these men, theDaniel 5:13 874

4:24 1 Cease from provoking God to anger any longer by thy sins, that he may mitigate his punishment, if thou show by thine upright life that thou hast true faith and repentance.

2 Suffer the errors of thy former life to be redressed.

4:26 1 After that Daniel had declared this vision: and this his pride declareth that it is not in man to convert to God, except his Spirit move him: seeing that these terrible threatenings could not move him to repent.

4:31 1 When the term of these seven years was accomplished.

4:32 1 He confesseth God’s will to be the rule of all justice, and a most perfect law, whereby he governeth both man and Angels and devils, so that none ought to murmur or ask a reason of his doings, but only to stand content therewith and give him the glory.

4:33 1 By whom it seemed that he had been put from his kingdom before.

4:34 1 He doth not only praise God for his deliverance, but also confesseth his fault that God may only have the glory, and man the shame, and that he may be exalted and man cast down.

5:1 1 Daniel reciteth this history of king Belshazzar, Evil-merodach’s son, to show God’s judgments against the wicked for the deliverance of his Church: and how the prophecy of Jeremiah was true, that they should be delivered after seventy years.

2 The kings of the East parts then used to sit alone commonly, and disdained that any should sit in their company: and now to show his power, and how little he set by his enemy, which then besieged Babylon, he made a solemn banquet, and used excess and gaveth it to whomsoever he will.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his will he worketh in the army of heaven, and in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say unto him, What doest thou?

33 At the same time was mine understanding restored unto me, and I returned to the honor of my kingdom: my glory and my beauty was restored unto me, and my counselors and my princes sought unto me, and I was established in my kingdom, and my glory was augmented toward me.

34 Now therefore I Nebuchadnezzar praise, and extol and magnify the king of heaven, whose works are all truth, and his ways judgment: and those that walk in pride, he is able to abase.
king saw the palm of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the king's countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his loins were loosed, and his \(^1\)knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried loud, that they should bring \(^1\)the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wise men of Babel, Whosoever can read this writing, and declare me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and \(\text{shall have}\) a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came all the king's wise men, but they could neither read the writing, nor show the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonished.

10 Now the \(^1\)Queen by reason of the talk of the King and his princes, came into the banquet house, and the Queen spake, and said, O king, live forever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods, and in the days of thy father, light and understanding and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him: whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, \(\text{I say}\), thy father, made chief of the \(^1\)enchanters, astrologians, Chaldeans, and soothsayers,

12 Because a more excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding (for he did expound dreams, and declare hard sentences, and dissolved doubts) were found in him, even in Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

13 ¶ Then was Daniel brought before the king, and the king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom my father the king brought out of Jewry?

14 Now I have heard of thee, that \(\text{the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and that light and understanding,}\) and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 Now therefore wise men and Astrologians have been brought before me, that they should read this writing, and show me the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldst show interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and show me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and \(\text{shall have}\) a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered, and said before the king, Keep thy rewards to thyself, and give thy gifts to another: yet I will read the writing unto the king, and show him the interpretation.

18 O king, \(\text{hear thou, The most high God gave unto}\) Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and honor, and glory.

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages trembled, and feared before him: he put to death whom he would: he smote whom he would: whom he would he set up, and whom he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was puffed up, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his honor from him.

21 And he was driven from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the heaven, till he knew that the most high God bare rule over the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it, whomsoever he pleaseth.

22 And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things.

23 But hast lifted thyself up against the Lord of heaven, and they have brought the vessels of his House before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wives and thy concubines have drunk wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood and stone, which neither see, neither hear, nor understand: and the God in whose hand thy breath is and all thy ways, him hast thou not glorified.

24 ¶ Then was the palm of the hand sent from him, and he wrote this writing.

---

5:6 1 So he that before contemned God, was moved by this sight to tremble for fear of God's judgments.

5:7 1 Thus the wicked in their troubles seek many means, who draw from them God, because they seek not to him who is the only comfort in all afflictions.

5:10 1 To wit, his grandmother Nebuchadnezzar's wife, which for her age was not before at the feast, but came thither when she heard of these strange news.

5:11 1 Read Dan. 4:6, and this declareth that both this name was odious unto him, and also he did not use these vile practices, because he was not among them when all were called.

5:14 1 For the idolaters thought that the Angels had power as God, and therefore had them in like estimation, as they had God, thinking that the spirit of prophecy and understanding came of them.

5:18 1 Before he read the writing, he declareth to the king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be moved to give him the glory, considering his wonderful work toward his grandfather, and so showeth that he doth not sin of ignorance but of malice.

5:24 1 After that God had so long time deferred his anger, and patiently waited for thine amendment.
25 And this is the writing that he hath written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing. MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdom, and hath finished it.

27 TEKEL, thou art weighed in the balance, and art found too light.

28 PERES, thy kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then at the commandment of Belshazzar they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a made proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 The same night was Belshazzar the King of the Chaldeans slain.

31 And Darius of the Medes took the kingdom, being three score and two years old.

6 Daniel is made ruler over the governors. An act against Daniel. He is put into a den of lions by the commandment of the king. He is delivered by faith in God. Daniel's accusers are put unto the lions. Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Daniel.

1 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty governors, which should be over the whole kingdom,

2 And over these three rulers, (of whom Daniel was one) that the governors might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

3 Now this Daniel was preferred above the rulers, and governors, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 Wherefore the rulers and governors sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom: but they could find none occasion nor fault: for he was so faithful that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find an occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the Law of his God.

6 Therefore the rulers and these governors went together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live forever.

7 All the rulers of thy kingdom, the officers and governors, the counselors and dukes have consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall make a petition to any god or man for thirty days save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, confirm the decree, and seal the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel understood that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his window being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed and praised his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication unto his God.

12 So they came and spake unto the king concerning the king's decree, Hast thou not sealed the decree, that every man that shall make a request to any god or man within thirty days, save to thee, O King, shall be cast into the den of lions? The King answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said unto the King, This Daniel which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the King heard these words, he was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliver him: and he labored till the sun went down, to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the King, Understand, O King, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king confirmeth, may be altered.

5:25 1 This word is twice written for the certainty of the thing: showing that God had most surely counted: signifying also that God hath appointed a term for all kingdoms, and that a miserable end shall come on all that raise themselves against him.

5:27 1 Or, wanting.

5:31 1 Cyrus his son-in-law gave him this title of honor, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

6:1 1 Read Esther 1:1.

6:2 1 Or, not be troubled.

6:3 1 This heathen king preferred Daniel a stranger to all his nobles and familiars, because the graces of God were more excellent in him than in others.

6:4 1 Thus the wicked cannot abide the graces of God in others, but seek by all occasions to deface them, therefore against such assaults there is no better remedy than to walk upright in the fear of God, and to have a good conscience.

6:9 1 Herein is condemned the wickedness of the king, who would be set up as a god, and passed not what wicked laws he approved for the maintenance of the same.

6:10 1 Therefore the king, being very grieved in his heart, and being troubled, would not consent in heart nor deed for these few days to anything that was contrary to God's glory.

6:15 1 Thus the wicked maintain evil laws by constancy and authority, which is oftentimes either lightness, or stubbornness, when as the innocents thereby perish, and therefore governors neither ought to fear, nor be ashamed to break such.
16 ¶ Then the King commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions: now the king spake, and said unto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou always servest, even he will deliver thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the King sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went unto his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of music brought before him, and his sleep went from him.

19 ¶ Then the king arose early in the morning, and went in all haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel: and the king spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel the servant of the living God, is not thy God (whom thou always servest) able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel unto the King, O king, live forever.

22 My God hath sent his Angel and hath shut the lion's mouths, and they have not hurt me: for 'my justice was found out before him: and unto thee, O king, I have done 'no hurt.

23 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel out of the den: so Daniel was brought out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he 'believed in his God.

24 And by the commandment of the King these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were 'cast into the den of lions, even they, their children, and their wives: and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones a pieces, or ever they came at the ground of the den.

25 ¶ Afterward King Darius wrote, Unto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world: Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and fear 'before the God of Daniel: for he is the 'living God, and remaineth forever; and his kingdom shall not perish, and his dominion shall be everlasting.

27 He rescueth and delivereth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth: who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and in the reign of Cyrus of Persia.

7 3 A vision of four beasts is showed unto Daniel. 8 The ten horns of the fourth beast. 27 Of the everlasting kingdom of Christ.

7 In the first year of Belshazzar King of Babel, Daniel saw a dream, and there were visions in his head, upon his bed: 'then he wrote the dream, and declared the sum of the matter.

2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon 'the great sea:

3 And four great beasts came up from the sea one divers from another.

4 'The first was as a 'lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked off, and it was lifted up from the earth, and set upon 'his feet as a man, and a man's heart was given him.

5 And behold, another beast which was the second, was like a 'bear, and stood upon the 'one side: and he had three ribs in his 'mouth between his teeth, 'and they said thus unto him, Arise, and devour much flesh.
6 After this, I beheld, and lo, there was another like a 4leopard, which had upon his back 4four wings of a fowl: the beast had also four heads, and 4dominion was given him.

7 After this, I saw in the visions by night, and behold, the 4fourth beast was fearful and terrible and very strong. It had great 2iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped 3the residue under his feet: and it was unlike to the beasts that were before it: for it had 10ten horns.

8 As I considered the horns, behold, there came up among them another little 1horn, before whom there were 3three of the first horns plucked away: and behold, in this horn were 3eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the 4thrones were set up, and the 2Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels, as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued, and came forth from before him: thousand thousand ministered unto him, and ten thousand 1thousands stood before him: the judgment was set, and the 2books opened.

11 Then I beheld, 1because of the voice of the presumptuous words which the horn spake: I beheld, even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning fire.

12 As 1concerning the other beasts, they had taken away their dominion; yet their lives were prolonged for a certain time and season.

13 ¶ As I beheld in visions by night, behold, 1one like the son of man came in the clouds of heaven, and 2approached unto the Ancient of days, and they brought him before him.

14 And he gave him 4dominion, and honor, and a kingdom, that all people, nations and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall never be taken away: and his dominion shall never be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel was 1troubled in my spirit, in the midst of my body, and the visions of mine head made me afraid.

16 Therefore I came unto 1one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he told me, and showed me the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beasts which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth,
18 And they shall take the kingdom of the Saints of the most High, and shall possess the kingdom forever, even forever and ever.

19 ¶ After this, I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was so unlike to all the others, very fearful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass: which devoured brake in pieces, and stamped the residue under his feet.

20 Also to know of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the others which came up, before whom three fell, and of the horn that had eyes, and of the mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horn made battle against the Saints, yea, and prevailed against them, 22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the Saints of the most High: and the time approached, that the Saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Then he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom in the earth, which shall be unlike to all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down and break it in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten Kings that shall rise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be unlike to the first, and he shall subdue three Kings.

25 And shall speak words against the most High, and shall consume the Saints of the most High, and think that he may change times and laws, and they shall be given into his hand until a time, and times, and the dividing of time.

26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion to consume and destroy it unto the end.

27 And the kingdom, and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven shall be given to the holy people of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all powers shall serve and obey him.

28 Even this is the end of the matter, I Daniel had many cogitations which troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in mine heart.

8 A vision of a battle between a ram and a goat: 20 The understanding of the vision.

1 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar, a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision, and when I saw it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is in the province of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I looked up and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns, and these two horns were high: but one was higher than another, and the highest came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing against the West, and against the North, and against the South: so that no beasts might stand before him, nor could deliver out of his hand, but he did what he listed, and became great.
5 And as I considered, behold, a goat came from the West over the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goat had an horn that appeared between his eyes.
6 And he came unto the ram that had the two horns, whom I had seen standing by the river, and ran unto him in his fierce rage.
7 And I saw him come unto the ram, and being moved against him, he smote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand against him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him, and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his power.
8 Therefore the goat waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the strongest, his great horn was broken: and for it came up four that appeared against the four winds of the heaven.
9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed very great toward the South, and toward the East, and toward the pleasant land.
10 Yea, it grew up unto the host of heaven, and it cast down some of the host, and of the stars to the ground, and trode upon them, 11 And extolled himself against the prince of the host, and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon him, and there was none
12 And a time shall be given him over the daily sacrifice for the iniquity: and it shall cast down the truth to the ground, and thus shall it do, and prosper.
13 Then I heard one of the Saints speaking, and one of the Saints spake unto a certain one, saying,
How long shall endure the vision of the daily sacrifice, and the iniquity of the desolation to tread both the Sanctuary and the army underfoot?
14 And he answered me, Unto the evening and the morning, two thousand and three hundred: then shall the Sanctuary be cleansed.
15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, behold, there stood before me like the similitude of a man.
16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.
17 So he came where I stood: and when he came, was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man: for in the last time shall be this vision.
18 Now as he was speaking unto me, I being asleep fell on my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me up in my place.
19 And he said, Behold, I will show thee what shall be in the last wrath: for in the end of the time appointed it shall come.
20 The ram which thou sawest having two horns, are the Kings of the Medes and Persians.
21 And the goat is the King of Greece, and the great horn that is between his eyes, is the first king.
22 And that that is broken, and four stood up for it, are four kingdoms, which shall stand up of that nation, but not in his strength.

23 And in the end of their kingdom, when the rebellious shall be consumed, a King of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but not in his strength: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practice, and shall destroy the mighty, and the holy people.

25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and he shall extol himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the prince of princes, but he shall be broken down without hand.

26 And the vision of the evening and the morning, which is declared, is true: therefore seal thou up the vision, for it shall be after many days.

27 And I Daniel was stricken and sick certain days: but when I rose up, I did the king's business, and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

9 5 Daniel desireth to have that performed of God, which he had promised concerning the return of the people from their banishment to Babylon. 6 A true confession. 20 Daniel's prayer is heard. 21 Gabriel the Angel expoundeth unto him the vision of the seventy weeks. 24 The anointing of Christ. 25 The building again of Jerusalem. 26 The death of Christ.

1 In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans,

2 Even in the first year of his reign, I Daniel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the Lord had spoken unto Jeremiah the Prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolation of Jerusalem.

3 And I turned my face unto the Lord God, and sought by prayer and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.

4 And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession, saying, Oh Lord God which art great and fearful, and keepest covenant and mercy toward them which love thee, and toward them that keep thy commandments,

5 We have sinned and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, yea, we have rebelled, and have departed from thy precepts, and from thy judgments.

6 For we would not obey thy servants the Prophets, which speak in thy name to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, and unto us open shame, to our Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

8 O Lord, unto us appertaineth open shame, to our Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 Yet compassion and forgiveness is in the Lord our God, albeit we have rebelled against him.

10 For we have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he hath laid before us by the ministry of his servants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy Law, and are turned back, and have not heard thy voice: therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is turned back, and have not heard thy voice: therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the Law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spaketh not of that ordinary prayer, which he used in his house thrice a day, but of a rare and vehement prayer, least their sins should cause God to delay the time of their deliverance prophesied by Jeremiah.

13 That is, hast all power in thyself to execute thy terrible judgments against obstinate sinners, as thou art rich in mercy to comfort them which obey thy word and love thee.

14 Hebrew, him.

15 Hebrew, confusion of face.

16 He doth not excuse the kings because of their authority, but prayeth chiefly for them as the chief occasions of these great plagues.

17 He sheweth that they rebel against God, which serve him not according to his commandment and word.

18 As Deut. 27:15, or the curse confirmed by an oath.
spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great plague: for under the whole heaven hath not been the like, as hath been brought upon Jerusalem.

13 All this plague is come upon us, as it is written in the Law of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord made ready the plague, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we would not hear his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as appeareth this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from thy city Jerusalem thine holy Mountain: because of our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the Lord’s sake.

18 O my God, incline thine ear and hear: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city whereupon Thy Name is called: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our own righteousness, but for thy great tender mercies.

19 O Lord hear, O Lord forgive, O Lord consider, and do it: defer not, for thine own sake, O Lord our God, that hast brought us out of Egypt, and hast gotten thee renown, as appeareth this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

20 ¶ And while I was speaking and praying, and confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and did present my supplication before the Lord my God, for the holy Mountain of my God, 21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen before in the vision, came flying, and touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee knowledge and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to show thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter and consider the vision.

24 Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thine holy city, to finish the wickedness, and to seal up the sins, and to reconcile the iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy.

25 Know therefore and understand that from the going forth of the commandment to bring again the people, and to build Jerusalem, unto Messiah the Prince, shall be seven weeks and three scores and two weeks, and the street shall be built again, and the wall even in a troubled time.

26 And after threescore and two weeks, shall Messiah be slain, and shall have nothing, and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city and the Sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood: and unto the end of the battle it shall be destroyed by desolations.

27 And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of the abominations, he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation determined shall be poured upon the desolate.

10 1 There appeareth unto Daniel a man clothed in linen, 11 which showeth him wherefore he is sent.

1 In the ‘third year of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the word was true, but the time appointed was ‘long, and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.
2 At the same time I Daniel was in heaviness for three weeks of days.
3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three weeks of days were fulfilled.
4 And in the four and twentieth day of the ‘first month, as I ‘was by the side of that great river, even Hiddekel,
5 And I lifted mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there was a man ‘clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of ‘Uphaz.
6 His body also ‘was like the Chrysolite, and his face (to look upon) like the lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet were ‘like in color to polished brass, and the voice of his words ‘was like the voice of a multitude.
7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me, saw not the vision: but a great fear fell upon them, so that they fled away and hid themselves.
8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for ‘my strength was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no power.
9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, I slept on my face, and my face was toward the ground.
10 And behold, an ‘hand touched me, which set me up upon my knees, and upon the palms of mine hands,
11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand in thy place: for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had said this word unto me, I stood trembling.
12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.
13 But the ‘prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but lo, ‘Michael one of the chief princes, came to help me, and I remained there by the Kings of Persia.
14 Now I come to show thee what shall come to thy people in the latter days: for yet the ‘vision is for many days.
15 And when he spake these words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and held my tongue.
16 And behold, ‘one like the similitude of the sons of man touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me,
O my Lord, ‘by the vision my sorrows are returned upon me, and I have retained no strength.
17 For how can the servant of this my Lord talk with my Lord ‘being such one? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.
18 Then there came again, and touched me, one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 19 And said, O man, greatly beloved, fear not:
‘peace be unto thee: be strong and of good courage.
And when he had spoken unto me, I ‘was strengthened, and said, Let my Lord speak: for thou hast strengthened me.
20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? but now will I return to fight with the Prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo,

10:1 1 He noteth this third year, because at this time the building of the Temple began to be hindered by Cambyses Cyrus’s son, when the father made war in Asia minor against the Scythians, which was a discouraging to the godly, and a great fear to Daniel.
10:2 2 Which is to declare that the godly should not hasten too much, but patiently to abide the issue of God’s promise.
10:4 1 Called Abib, which containeth part of March, and part of April.
10:5 1 This was the Angel of God, which was sent to assure Daniel in this prophecy that followeth.
10:8 1 The word also signifieth comeliness, or beauty, so that for fear he was like a dead man for deformity.
10:10 1 Which declareth that when we are struck down with the majesty of God, we cannot rise, except he also lift us up with his hand, which is his power.
10:13 1 Meaning, Cambyses who reigned in his father’s absence, and did not only for this space hinder the building of the Temple, but would have further raged, if God had not sent me to resist him, and therefore have I stayed for the profit of the Church.
10:14 1 Though God could by one Angel destroy all the world, yet to assure his children of his love, he sendeth forth double power, even Michael, that is, Christ Jesus the head of Angels.
10:15 1 For though the Prophet Daniel should end and cease, yet his doctrine should continue till the coming of Christ, for the comfort of his Church.
10:16 1 This was the same Angel that spake with him before in the similitude of a man.
10:19 1 He declareth hereby that God would be merciful to the people of Israel.
10:20 2 Which declareth that when God smiteth down his children, he doeth not immediately lift them up at once (for now the Angel had touched him twice) but by little and little.
the 'Prince of Greece shall come.

21 But I will show thee that which is decreed in the Scripture of truth: 1 and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

11 A prophecy of the kingdoms, which should be enemies to the Church of God, as of Persia, 3 Of Greece, 5 of Egypt, 28 of Syria, 36 and of the Romans.

1 Also I, in the first year of Darius of the Medes, even I stood to encourage and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I show thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and by his strength, and by his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece.

3 But a mighty King shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his pleasure.

4 And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven: and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion, which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up even to be for others besides those.

5 And the King of the South shall be mighty, and one of his princes, and shall prevail against him, and bear rule: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they shall be joined together: for the King's daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but she shall not retain the power of the arm, neither shall he continue, nor his arm: but she shall be delivered to death, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that comforted her, in these times.

7 But out of the bud of her roots shall one stand up in his stead, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the King of the North, and do with them as he list, and shall prevail,

8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt their gods: with their molten images, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, and he shall continue more years than the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 Wherefore his sons shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a mighty great army: and one shall come, and overflow, and pass through: then shall he return, and be stirred up at his fortress.

11 And the King of the South shall be angry, and shall come forth, and fight with him, even with the king of the North: for he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shall be proud, and their heart shall be lifted up: for he shall cast down thou-

10:20 1 Meaning, that he would not only himself bridle the rage of Cambyses, but also the other Kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia.

10:21 1 For this Angel was appointed for the defense of the Church under Christ, who is the head thereof.

11:1 1 The Angel assureth Daniel that God hath given him power to perform these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius when he overcame the Chaldeans.

11:2 1 Whereof Cambyses that now reigned, was the first, the second Smerdis, the third Darius the son of Hystaspis, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God, and stood against them.

2 For he raised up all the East countries to fight against the Greeks, and albeit he had in his army nine hundred thousand men, yet in four battles he was discomfited and fled away with shame.

11:3 1 That is, Alexander the great.

11:4 1 For when his estate was most flourishing, he overcame himself with drink, and so fell into a disease: or as some write, was poisoned by Cassander.

2 For his twelve chief Princes first divided his kingdom among themselves.

3 After this his Monarchy was divided into four: for Seleucus had Syria, Antigonus Asia minor, Cassander the kingdom of Macedonia, and Ptolemy Egypt.

4 Thus God revenged Alexander's ambition and cruelty in causing his posterity to be murdered, partly of the father's chief friends, and partly one of another.

5 None of these four shall be able to be compared to the power of Alexander.

6 That is, his posterity having no part thereof.

11:5 1 To wit, Ptolemy king of Egypt.

2 That is, Antiochus the son of Seleucus, and one of Alexander's princes shall be more mighty: for he should have both Asia and Syria.

11:6 1 That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolemy Philadelphus shall be given in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinity that Syria and Egypt should have a continual peace together.

2 That force and strength shall not continue: for soon after Berenice and her young son after her husband's death, was slain of her stepson Seleucus Callinicus the son of Laodice, the lawful wife of Antiochus, but put away for this woman's sake.

3 Neither Ptolemy nor Antiochus.

4 Some read, seed, meaning, the child begotten of Berenice.

5 Some read, she that begate her, and thereby understand her nurse, which brought her up: so that all they that were occasion of this marriage, were destroyed.

11:7 1 Meaning, that Ptolemeus Euergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus should succeed in the kingdom being of the same stock that Berenice was.

2 To revenge the sister's death against Antiochus Callinicus king of Syria.

11:8 1 For this Ptolemy reigned six and forty years.

11:10 1 Meaning, Seleucus and Antiochus the great, the sons of Callinicus, shall make war against Ptolemy Philopater the son of Philadelphus.

2 For his elder brother Seleucus died, or was slain while the wars were preparing.

3 That is, Philopater when he shall see Antiochus to take great dominions from him in Syria, and also ready to invade Egypt.

11:11 1 For Antiochus had six thousand horsemen, and three-score thousand footmen.
sands: but he shall not still prevail,

13 For the King of the North shall return, and shall set forth a greater multitude than afore, and shall come forth (after certain years) with a mighty army, and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall be many stand up against the king of the South: also the rebellious children of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the King of the North shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the strong city: and the arms of the South shall not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that shall come, shall do unto him as he list, and none shall stand against him: and he shall stand in the pleasant land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 Again he shall set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdom, and his confederates with him: thus shall he do, and he shall give him the daughter of women to destroy her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many, but a prince shall cause his shame to light upon him, besides that he shall cause his own shame to turn upon himself.

19 For he shall turn his face toward the forts of his own land: but he shall be overthrown and fall, and be no more found.

20 Then shall stand up in his place in the glory of the kingdom, one that shall raise taxes: but after few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle.

21 And in his place shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honor of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And the arms shall be overthrown with a flood before him, and shall be broken: and also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and overcome with a small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentiful province, and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers: he shall divide among them the prey and the spoil, and the substance, yea, and he shall forecast his devices against the strongholds, even for a time.

25 Also he shall stir up his power, and his courage against the King of the South with a great army, and the King of the South shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army: but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast and practice against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat, shall destroy him: and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall, and be slain.

27 And both these Kings' hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall talk of deceit at one table:

11:13 1 After the death of Ptolemy Philopater, who left Ptolemeus Epiphanes his heir.

11:14 1 For not only Antiochus came against him but also Philip King of Macedonia, and these two brought great power with them.

2 For under Onias which falsely alleged that place of Isa. 19:19, certain of the Jews retired with him into Egypt to fulfill this prophecy: also the Angel showeth that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the providence and counsel of God.

11:15 1 The Egyptians were not able to resist Scopas Antiochus' captain.

11:16 1 He showeth that he shall not only afflict the Egyptians, but also the Jews, and shall enter into their country, whereof he admonisheth them before, that they may know that all these things came by God's providence.

11:17 1 This was the second battle that Antiochus fought against Ptolemy Epiphanes.

2 To wit, a beautiful woman which was Cleopatra Antiochus' daughter.

3 For he regarded not the life of his daughter in respect of the kingdom of Egypt.

4 She shall not agree to his wicked counsel, but shall love her husband, as her duty requireth, and not seek his destruction.

11:18 1 That is, toward Asia, Greece, and those isles which are in the sea called Mediterranean: for the Jews called all countries isles which were divided from them by sea.

2 For whereas Antiochus was wont to contend the Romans, and put their ambassadors to shame in all places, Attius the Consul, or Lucius Scipio put him to flight, and caused his shame to turn on his own head.

3 By his wicked life, and obeying of foolish counsel.

11:19 1 For fear of the Romans he shall flee to his holds.

2 For when as under the pretence of poverty he would have robbed the Temple of Jupiter Dodomeus, the countrymen slew him.

11:20 1 That is, Seleucus shall succeed his father Antiochus.

2 Not by foreign enemies, or battle, but by treason.

11:21 1 Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as is thought was the occasion of Seleucus his brother's death, and was of a vile, cruel and flattering nature, and defrauded his brother's son of the kingdom, and usurped the kingdom without the consent of the people.

11:22 1 He sheweth that great foreign powers shall come to help the young son of Seleucus against his uncle Antiochus: and yet shall be overthrown.

2 Meaning, Ptolemas Philopater's son who was this child's cousin, and by the same means to get power in Egypt where Seleucus his uncle was.

3 He shall content himself with the small holds for a time, but ever labor by craft to attain to the chiefest.

11:25 1 He shall be overcome with treason.

11:26 1 Signifying his princes and the chief about him.

2 Declaring that his soldiers shall brat out and venture their life to slay and to be slain for the safeguard of their prince.

11:27 1 The uncle and the nephew shall take truce, and banquet together, yet in their hearts they shall imagine mischief one against the other.
but it shall not avail: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great substance: for his heart shall be against the holy covenant; so shall he do and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be sorry and return and fret against the holy covenant; so shall he do, he shall even return and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuary two of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall set up the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly break the covenant, shall he cause to sin by flattery: but the people that do know their God, shall prevail and prosper.

33 And they that understand among the people, shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by sword, and by flame, by captivity and by spoil many days.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall cleave unto them feignedly.

35 And some of them of understanding shall fall to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And the king shall do what him list: he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself against the God of gods, and shall prosper, till the wrath be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, nor care for any God: for he shall magnify himself above all.

38 But in his place shall he honor the god Mazzim, and the god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honor with gold and with silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in the holds of Mazzim with a strange god whom he shall acknowledge: he shall increase his glory, and shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for gain.

40 And at the end of time shall the king of the South push at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlwind with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass through.

41 He shall enter also into the pleasant land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall

---

11:27 2 Signifying, that it standeth not in the counsel of men to bring things to pass, but in the providence of God, who ruleth the Kings by a secret bridle, that they cannot do what they list themselves.

11:28 1 Which he shall take of the Jews in spoiling Jerusalem and the Temple, and this is told them before to move them to patience, knowing that all things are done by God's providence.

11:30 1 That is, the Roman power shall come against him: for P. Popilius the Ambassador appointed him to depart in the Romans' name, to which thing he obeyed, although with grief, and to revenge his rage he came against the people of God the second time.

2 With the Jews which shall forsake the covenant of the Lord: for first he was called against the Jews by Jason the high Priest, and this second time by Menelaus.

11:31 1 A great faction of the wicked Jews shall hold with Antiochus. 2 So called because the power of God was nothing diminished, although this tyrant set up in the Temple the image of Jupiter Olympus, and so began to corrupt the pure service of God.

11:32 1 Meaning, such as bare the name of Jews, but indeed were nothing less, for they sold their souls, and betrayed their brethren for gain.

11:33 1 They that remain constant among the people shall teach others by their example, and edify many in the true religion.

2 Whereby he exhorteth the godly to constancy, although they in their hearts had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, lest they should have been despaired as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they got any country, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profit ever came to the Romans.

11:34 1 As God will not leave his Church destitute, yet will he not deliver it all at once, but so help, as may still seem to fight under the cross, as he did in the time of the Maccabees, whereof he here prophesieth.

2 That is, there shall be even of this small number many hypocrites.

11:35 1 To wit, of them that fear God and will lose their life for the defense of true religion. Signifying also that the Church must continually be tried and purged, and ought to look for one persecution after another: for God hath appointed the time: therefore we must obey.

11:36 1 Because the Angel's purpose is to show the whole course of the persecutions of the Jews unto the coming of Christ, he now speaketh of the Monarchy of the Romans which he noteth by the name of a King, who were without religion and condemned the true God.

2 So long the tyrants shall prevail as God hath appointed to punish his people: but he showeth that it is but for a time.

11:37 1 The Romans shall observe no certain form of religion as other nations, but shall change their gods at their pleasures, yea, contemn them and prefer themselves to their gods.

2 Signifying that they should be without all humanity: for the love of women is taken for singular or great love, as 2 Sam. 1:26.

11:38 1 That is, the god of power and riches: they shall esteem their own power above all their gods and worship it.

2 Under pretence of worshipping the gods, they shall enrich their city with the most precious jewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should have them in admiration for their power and riches.

11:39 1 Although in their hearts they had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, lest they should have been despised as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they got any country, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profit ever came to the Romans.

11:40 1 That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romans, but they shall be overcome.

11:41 1 The Angel forewarneth the Jews that when they should see the Romans invade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, that then they should not think but that all this was done by God's providence, forasmuch as he warned them of it so long afore, and therefore he would still preserve them.

1 Of the deliverance of the Church by Christ.

1 And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there began to be a nation unto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, everyone that shall be found written in the book.

2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and perpetual contempt.

3 And they that be wise, shall shine, as the brightness of the firmament: and they that turn many to righteousness, shall shine as the stars, forever and ever.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book till the end of the time: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 ¶ Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the brink of the river, and the other on that side of the brink of the river.

6 And one said unto the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, When shall be the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand, and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth forever, that it shall tarry for a time two times and an half; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 Then I heard it, but I understood it not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up, and sealed, till the end of the time.

10 Many shall be purified, made white, and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly, and none of the wicked shall have understanding: but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abominable desolation set up, there shall be a thousand, two hundred and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth and cometh to the thousand, three hundred and five and thirty days.

13 But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest and stand up in thy lot, at the end of the days.

11:44 1 Hearing that Crassus was slain, and Antonius discomfired.
2 For Augustus overcame the Parthians, and recovered that which Antonius had lost.
11:45 1 The Romans after this reigned quietly throughout all countries, and from sea to sea, and in Judea: but at length for their cruelty God shall destroy them.
12:1 1 The Angel here noteth two things: first that the Church shall be in great affliction and trouble at Christ's coming, and next that God will send his Angel to deliver it, whom here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by the preaching of the Gospel.
12:2 1 Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and at length a short time: signifying that their troubles should have an end.
12:3 1 When the Church shall be scattered and diminished in such sort as it shall seem to have no power.
12:4 1 From the time that Christ by his sacrifice shall take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the Law.
12:5 1 Which was Tigris.
12:7 1 Which was as were a double oath, and did the more confirm the thing.
2 Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and at length a short time: signifying that their troubles should have an end.
12:11 1 Who have kept the true fear of God and his religion.
2 He chiefly meaneth the ministers of God's word, and next all the faithful which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God.
12:12 1 Till the time that God hath appointed for the full revelation of these things: and then many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

edge of these mysteries which things they obtain now by the light of the Gospel.
12:13 1 The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abide; till the time appointed come, signifying that he should depart this life, and rise again with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.
The time wherein Hosea prophesied. 2 The idolatry of Israel. 9 Christ is the head of all people.

1 The word of the Lord that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel. 2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord said unto Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the Lord. 3 So he went, and took Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a son. 4 And the Lord said unto him, Call his name Jezreel: for yet a little, and I will visit the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel. 5 And at that day will I also break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

She conceived yet again, and bare a daughter, Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

When the measure of their iniquity is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policy and force.

For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet they were as bastard, and therefore should be called Jezreelites, that is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but he saw this in a vision, or else was commanded by God to set forth under this parable or figure the idolatry of the Synagogue, and of the people her children.

1:2 1 Called also Azariah, who being a leper was disposed from his kingdom. 2 So that it may be gathered by the reign of these four kings, that he preached above threescore years.

Plead with your brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah.

Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, and Diblaim clusters of figs, declaring that they were all corrupt like rotten figs.

Meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites of the which name they boasted because Israel, did prevail with God but that they were as bastard, and therefore should be called Jezreelites, that is scattered people, alluding to Jezreel, which was the chief city of the ten tribes under Ahab where Jehu shed so much blood, 2 Kings 10:8.

1:4 1 Meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites of the which name they boasted because Israel, did prevail with God but that they were as bastard, and therefore should be called Jezreelites, that is scattered people, alluding to Jezreel, which was the chief city of the ten tribes under Ahab where Jehu shed so much blood, 2 Kings 10:8.

1:5 1 When the measure of their iniquity is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policy and force.

1:6 1 That is, not obtaining mercy: whereby he signifieth, that God’s favor was departed from them.

1:7 1 For after their captivity he restored him miraculously by the means of Cyrus, Ezra 1:1.

1:8 1 For the Israelites never returned after that they were taken captives by the Assyrians.

1:9 1 That is, not my people.

1:10 1 Because they thought that God could not have been true in his promise except he had preserved them, he declareth though they were destroyed, yet the true Israelites, which are the sons of the promise, should be without number, which stand both of the Jews and the Gentiles, Rom. 9:26.

1:11 1 To wit, after the captivity of Babylon when the Jews were restored, but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Jews and Gentiles.

1:3 1 For the Israelites never returned after that they were taken captives by the Assyrians.

1:12 1 That is, not obtaining mercy: whereby he signifieth, that God’s favor was departed from them.

1:13 1 Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, and Diblaim clusters of figs, declaring that they were all corrupt like rotten figs.

1:14 1 Meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites of the which name they boasted because Israel, did prevail with God but that they were as bastard, and therefore should be called Jezreelites, that is scattered people, alluding to Jezreel, which was the chief city of the ten tribes under Ahab where Jehu shed so much blood, 2 Kings 10:8.

1:15 1 When the measure of their iniquity is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policy and force.

1:16 1 That is, not obtaining mercy: whereby he signifieth, that God’s favor was departed from them.

2 1 The people is called to repentance. 5 He shoveth their idolatry and threateneth them except they repent.

2:1 1 For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he had left them with their apparel and dowry and certain signs of his favor, but if they continued still, he would utterly destroy them. 2 When I brought her out of Egypt, Ezek. 16:4.
For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them, hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after thy lovers that give me my bread and my water, my wool, and my flax, mine oil and my drink.

Therefore behold, I will stoop thy way with thorns, and make an hedge, that she shall not find her paths.

Though she follow after her lovers, yet shall she not come at them: though she seek them, yet shall she not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband: for at that time was I better than now.

Now she did not know that I gave her corn, and wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they bestowed upon Baal.

Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recover my wool and my flax, to cover her shame.

And now will I discover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and no man shall deliver her out of mine hand.

I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her Sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

And I will destroy her vines and her fig trees, wherein she burnt incense to them: and she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and she followed her lovers, and forgot me, saith the Lord.

Therefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak friendly unto her.

And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for the door of hope, and she shall sing there as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

And at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me Ishi, and shalt call me no more Baali.

For I will take away the names of Baal out of her mouth, and they shall be no more remembered by their names.

And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the wild beasts, and with the fowls of the heaven, and with that that creepeth upon the earth: and I will break the bow, and the sword and the battle out of the earth: and will make them to sleep safely.

And I will marry thee unto me forever: yea, I will marry thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in mercy, and in compassion.

I will even marry thee unto me in faithfulness, and thou shalt know the Lord.

And in that day I will hear, saith the Lord, I will hear the heavens, and they shall hear the earth.

And the earth shall hear the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and they shall hear Jezreel.

And the earth shall hear the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and they shall hear Jezreel.

And I will sow her unto me in the earth, and I will marry thee unto me forever: yea, I will cause thee to be married in faithfulness, and I will greatly increase thee.

Then said the Lord to me, Go yet, and love a woman (beloved of her husband, and was an harlot)
HOSEA 3:2

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the 1day, and the Prophet shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy 2mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because 1thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee that thou shalt be no Priest to me: and seeing 2thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were 1increased, so they sinned against me: therefore I will change their glory into shame.

8 1They eat up the sins of my people, and lift up their minds in their iniquity.

9 And there shall be like people like 1priest: for I will visit their ways upon them, and reward them their deeds.

10 For they shall eat, and not have enough, they shall 1commit adultery, and shall not increase, because they have left off to take heed to the Lord.

11 1Whoredom, and wine, and new wine take away their heart.

12 My 1people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff reacheth them: for the 2spirit of fornications hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills under the oaks, and the poplar tree, and the elm, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall be 1harlots, and your spouses shall be whores.

14 I will not 1visit your daughters when they are harlots: nor your spouses, when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doth not understand, shall fall.

3:1 2 That is, gave themselves wholly to pleasure, and could not take up, as they that are given to drunkenness.

3:2 1 Yet I loved her and paid a small portion for her, lest she perceiveth the greatness of my love, should have abused me, and not been under duty: for fifteen pieces of silver were but half the price of a slave, Exod. 21:32.

3:3 1 I will try thee a long time as in thy widowhood whether thou wilt be mine or no.

3:4 1 Meaning, not only all the time of their captivity, but also unto Christ. 2 That is, they should neither have policy nor religion, and their idols also wherein they put their confidence, should be destroyed.

3:5 1 This is meant of Christ's kingdom, which was promised unto David to be eternal, Ps. 72:17.

4:1 1 Because the people would not obey the admonitions of the Prophet, he citeth them before the judgment seat of God, against whom they chiefly offended, Isa. 7:13; Zech. 12:10; Mic. 6:1, 2.

4:2 1 In every place appeareth a liberty to most heinous vices, so that one followeth in the neck of another.

4:3 1 As though he would say that it were in vain to rebuke them: for no man can abide it: yea, they will speak against the prophets and priests whose office it is chiefly to rebuke them.

4:5 1 Ye shall perish all together the one because he would not obey, and the other, because he would not admonish.

5 1 Therefore shalt thou fall in the 1day, and the Prophet shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy 2mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because 1thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee that thou shalt be no Priest to me: and seeing 2thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were 1increased, so they sinned against me: therefore I will change their glory into shame.

8 1They eat up the sins of my people, and lift up their minds in their iniquity.

9 And there shall be like people like 1priest: for I will visit their ways upon them, and reward them their deeds.

10 For they shall eat, and not have enough, they shall 1commit adultery, and shall not increase, because they have left off to take heed to the Lord.

11 1Whoredom, and wine, and new wine take away their heart.

12 My 1people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff reacheth them: for the 2spirit of fornications hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills under the oaks, and the poplar tree, and the elm, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall be 1harlots, and your spouses shall be whores.

14 I will not 1visit your daughters when they are harlots: nor your spouses, when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doth not understand, shall fall.
17 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgment, because he willingly walked after the 'commandment.
18 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as a rottenness.
19 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a lion's whelp, to the house of Judah: I, even I will spoil and go away: I will take away, and none shall rescue it.
20 I will go, and return to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, and seek me: in their affliction, they will seek me diligently.

6 1 Affliction causeth a man to turn to God. 9 The wickedness of the Priests.

1 Come, and let us return to the Lord: for he hath spoiled us, and he will heal us: he hath wounded us, and he will bind us up.
2 After two days will 1he revive us, and in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.
3 Then shall we have knowledge, and endeavor to know the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning, and he shall come unto us as the rain, and as the latter rain unto the earth.
4 O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, how shall I entreat thee for 'your goodness is as a morn-

5 1 Against the Priests and rulers of Israel. 13 The help of man is in vain.

1 O ye Priests, hear this, and hearken ye, O house of Israel, and give ye ear; O house of the King: for judgment is toward you, because you have been a 'snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.
2 Yet they were profound to decline to 'slaughter, though I have been a 'rebbeker of them all.
3 I know 'Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.
4 They will not give their minds to turn unto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the midst of them, and they have not known the Lord.
5 And the 'pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity: Judah also shall fall with them.
6 They shall go with their sheep, and with their bullocks, to seek the Lord: but they shall not find him: for he hath withdrawn himself from them.
7 They have transgressed against the Lord: for they have begotten 'strange children: now shall 'a month devour them with their portions.
8 Blow ye the trumpet in Gibeah, and the shame in Ramah: cry out at Beth Aven, after thee, O 'Ben-

4:15 'God complaineth that Judah is infected, and willeth them to learn to return in time.
4:16 'God will so dispense them, that they shall not remain in any certain place.
4:18 'They are so impudent in receiving bribes, that they will command men to bring them unto them.
5:1 'The Priests and Princes caught the poor people in their snares, as the fowlers did the birds, in these two high mountains.
5:2 'Notwithstanding they seemed to be given altogether to holiness, and to sacrifices which here he calleth slaughter in contempt.
5:3 'Though I had admonished them continually by my Prophets.
5:4 'They boasted themselves not only to be Israelites, but also Ephraimites, because their king Jeroboam came of that tribe.
5:5 'Meaning, their contemning of all admonitions.
5:7 'That is, their children are degenerate, so that there is no hope in them.
5:8 'Their destruction is not far off.
5:9 'By the success they shall know that I have surely determined this.
5:10 'They have turned upside down all political order and all manner of religion.
5:11 'To wit, after king Jeroboam's commandment, and did not rather follow God.
5:13 'Instead of seeking for remedy at God's hand.
6:1 'Who was king of the Assyrians.
6:2 'Though he correct us from time to time, yet his help will not be far off, if we return to him.
6:4 'You seem to have a certain holiness and repentance, but it is upon the sudden, and as a morning cloud.

891 HOSEA 6:4
7 1 Of the vices and wantonness of the people.  12 Of their punishment.

1 When I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria: for they have dealt falsely; and the thief cometh in, and the robber spoileth without.

2 And they consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickedness: now their own inventions have beset them about: they are in my sight.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, and as a very oven heated by the baker, which ceaseth from raising up, and from kneading the dough until it be leavened.

5 This is the day of our king: the princes have brought him to the bed where the Priests dwell, and which should be the whoredom of Ephraim: Israel is defiled.

6 For they have made ready their heart like an oven, and have therein devises, and delighted in flatteries.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges: all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim hath mixed himself among the people. Ephraim is as a cake on the hearth not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are here, and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they do not return to the Lord their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 Ephraim also is like a dove deceived without heart: they call to Egypt: they go to Assyria.

12 But when they shall go, I will spread my net upon them, and draw them down as the fowls of the heaven: I will chastise them as their Congregation hath heard.

13 Woe unto them: for they have fled away from me: destruction shall be unto them, because they have transgressed against me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 And they have not cried unto me with their hearts, when they howled upon their beds: they assemble themselves for corn, and wine, and they rebel against me.

15 Though I have bound and strengthened their arm, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 They return, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword, for the rage of their tongues: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8 1 The destruction of Judah and Israel, because of their idolatry.

1 Set the trumpet to thy mouth: be shall come as an eagle against the House of the Lord, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my Law.

2 Israel shall cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They have set up a king, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols: therefore shall they be destroyed.

5 Thy calf, O Samaria, hast cast thee off: mine anger is kindled against them: how long will they be without iniquity!

6 For it came even from Israel: the workman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no stalk: the bud shall bring forth no meal: if so be it brought forth, the strangers shall devour it.

8 Israel is devoured, now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessel wherein no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria: they are as a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired lovers.

10 Yet though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them and they shall sorrow a little for the burden of the king and the princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, his altars shall be to sin.

12 I have written to them the great things of my Law: but they were counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it: but the Lord accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth Temples, and Judah hath increased strong cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

9 Of the hunger and captivity of Israel.

1 Rejoice not, O Israel for joy as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God: thou hast loved a reward upon every corn floor.

2 The floor, and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They will not dwell in the Lord's land, but Ephraim will return to Egypt, and they will eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 They shall not offer wine to the Lord, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasant unto him: but they shall be unto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof, shall be polluted: for their bread for their souls shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What will ye do then in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

6 For lo, they are gone from destruction: but Egypt shall gather them up, and Memphis shall bury them: the nettle shall possess the pleasant places of their silver, and the thorn shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come: the days of recompense are come: Israel shall know it: the Prophet is a fool: the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity: therefore the hatred is great.

8 The watchman of Ephraim should be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred in the house of his God.

9 They are deeply set: they are corrupt as in the days of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the fig tree at her first time: but they went to Baal Peor, and separated
Hosea 10:1-15

1 Against Israel and his idols. 14 His destruction for the same.

1 Israel is a 'empty vine, yet hath it brought forth fruit unto itself, and according to the multitude of the fruit thereof he hath increased the altars: according to the 'goodness of their land they have made fair images.

2 Their heart is 'divided: now shall they be found faulty: he shall break down their altars; he shall destroy their images.

3 For now they shall say, We have no 'King because we feared not the Lord: and what should a King do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making 'a covenant: thus 'judgment groweth as wormwood in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall 'fear because of the calf of Beth Aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the 'Chemarims thereof, that rejoiced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also brought to Assyria, for a present unto king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 Of Samaria, the king thereof is destroyed, as the foam upon the water.

8 The high places also of 'Aven shall be destroyed, even the sin of Israel: the thorn and the thistle shall grow upon their altars, and they shall say to the mountains, 'Cover us, and to the hills, Fall upon us.

9 O Israel, thou hast 'sinned from the days of thine youth: from God is thy judge, and from thine Altar is thy recompence. 2 For now shall the sword devour at the rising of the morning, and the glory of Israel as a 'flock that is left of a city.

10 And Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up: they shall be as wild plants; they cannot be healed; they are cut down like the stubble.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird: from the birth 'and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet I will deprive them from being men: yea, woe to them, when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I saw, is as a 'tree 'in Tyre planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 O Lord, give them: what wilt thou give them? give them a 'barren womb and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness is in 'Gilgal: for there do I hate them: for the wickedness of their inventions, I will cast them out of mine House: I will love them no more: all their princes are rebels.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up: they can bring no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even the dearest of their body.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations.
14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy munitions shall be destroyed, as Shalman destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battle: the mother with the children was dashed in pieces.

15 So shall Bethel do unto you, because of your malicious wickedness: in a morning shall the king of Israel be destroyed.

11 1 The benefits of the Lord toward Israel. 5 Their ingratitude against him.

1 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.
2 They called them, but they went thus from them: they sacrificed unto Baal, and burnt incense to images.
3 I led Ephraim also, as one should bear them in his arms: but they knew not that I healed them.
4 I led them with cords of a man, even with bands of love, and I was to them, as he was taketh off the yoke from their jaws, and I laid the meat unto them.
5 He shall no more return into the land of Egypt: but Assyria shall be his King, because they refused to convert.
6 And the sword shall fall on his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, because of their own counsels.
7 And my people are bent to rebellion against me: though they called them to the most high, yet none at all would exalt him.
8 How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I make thee, as 2Admah?
9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the whole body of the people, whereof we are.
10 They shall walk after the Lord: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children of the West shall fear.
11 They shall fear as a sparrow out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria, and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.
12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with 4God, and is faithful with the Saints.

He admonisbeth by Jacob's example to trust in God, and not in riches.

1 Ephraim is fed with the wind, and followeth the East wind: he increaseth daily lies and destruction, and they do make a covenant with Assyria, and 2oil is carried into Egypt.
2 The Lord hath also a controversy with 1Judah, and will visit Jacob, according to his ways: according to his works, will he recompense him.
3 He took his brother by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he had 4power with God,
4 And had 4power over the Angel, and prevailed: he wept and prayed unto him: he found him in Bethel, and there he spake with us.
5 Yea, the Lord God of hosts, the Lord is himself his memorial.
6 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and hope still in thy God.
7 He is 4Canaan: the balances of decree are in his hand: he loveth to oppress.
8 And Ephraim said, Notwithstanding I am rich, I have found me out riches in all my labors: they shall find none iniquity in me, that were wickedness.
9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the land of Egypt, yet will I make thee to dwell in the Hosea 12:10

1 The abomination of Israel, and cause of their destruction.

1 When Ephraim spake, there was trembling: he excited himself in Israel, but he hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And now they sin more and more, and have, it cometh of God's free goodness.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the morning dew that passeth away, as a chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy God 1from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for I am the Lord thy God.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of drought.

6 As in their pastures, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore shall his blood be poured upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord reward him.

12:9 1 Seeing thou wilt not acknowledge my benefits, I will bring thee again to dwell in tents, as in the feast of the Tabernacles, which thou dost now contemn.

12:11 1 The people thought that no man durst have spoken against Gilead, that holy place, and yet the Prophet saith, that all their religion was but vanity.

12:12 1 If you boast of your riches and nobility, ye seem to reproach your father, who was a poor fugitive and servant.

12:13 1 Meaning, Moses, whereby appeareth, that whatsoever they have, it cometh of God's free goodness.

13:1 1 He sheweth the excellency and authority that this tribe had above all the rest.

13:2 1 He made a king of his tribe.

13:3 1 The Ephraimites are not far from destruction, and have lost their authority.

13:4 1 Thy destruction is certain, and my benefits toward thee declare that it cometh not of me: therefore thine own malice, idolatry and vain confidence in men must needs be the cause thereof.

13:10 1 I am all one, James 1:17.

13:12 1 It is surely laid up to be punished, as Jer. 17:1.

13:13 8 But would come out of the womb, that is out of this dangers wherein he is and not to tarry to be stifled.

13:14 1 Meaning, that no power shall resist God when he will deliver his, but even in death he will give them life.

13:14 2 Because they will not turn to me, I will change my purpose.

14:2 1 He exhorteth them to repentance to avoid all these plagues, willing them to declare by words their obedience and repentance.

14:3 1 He sheweth them how they ought to confess their sins.
receive us graciously: so will we render the calves of our lips.

4 Assyria shall not save us, neither will we ride upon horses, neither will we say anymore to the work of our hands, ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.

5 I will heal their rebellion: I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

6 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall grow as the lily and fasten his roots, as the trees of Lebanon.

7 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

8 They that dwell under his shadow, shall return: they shall revive as the corn, and flourish as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

9 Ephraim shall say, What have I to do anymore with idols? I have heard him, and looked upon him: I am like a green fir tree: upon me is thy fruit found.

10 Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? and prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are righteous and the just shall walk in them: but the wicked shall fall therein.

2 Declaring that this is the true sacrifice, that the faithful can offer, even thanks and praise, Heb. 13:15.
14:4 1 We will leave off all vain confidence and pride.
14:5 1 He declareth how ready God is to receive them that do repent.
14:8 1 Whosoever join themselves to this people, shall be blessed.
14:9 1 God showeth how prompt he is to hear his, when they repent, and to offer himself, as a protection and safeguard unto them, as a most sufficient fruit and profit.
14:10 1 Signifying, that the true wisdom and knowledge consisteth in this even to rest upon God.
1 A prophecy against the Jews. 2 He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting for the misery that was at hand.

1 The word of the Lord that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.
2 Hear ye this, O Elders, and hearken ye all inhabitants of the land, whether such a thing hath been in your days, or yet in the days of your fathers.
3 Tell you your children of it, and let your children show to their children, and their children, to another generation.
4 That which is left of the palmerworm, hath the grasshopper eaten, and the residue of the grasshopper hath the cankerworm eaten, and the residue of the cankerworm hath the caterpillar eaten.
5 Awake ye drunkards, and weep and howl all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine, for it shall be pulled from your mouth.
6 Yea, a nation cometh upon my land, mighty and without number, whose teeth are like the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaws of a great lion.
7 He maketh my vine waste, and pilleth off the bark of my fig tree: he maketh it bare, and casteth it down: the branches thereof are made white.
8 Mourn like a virgin girded with sackcloth, for the husband of her youth.
9 The meat offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the Lord: the Priests the Lord's ministers mourn.
10 The field is wasted: the land mourneth: for the corn is destroyed: the new wine is dried up, and the oil is decayed.
11 Be ye ashamed, O husbandmen: howl, O ye vinedressers for the wheat and for the barley, because the harvest of the field is perished.
12 The vine is dried up, and the fig tree is decayed: the pomegranate tree and the palm tree, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: surely the joy is withered away from the sons of men.

13 Gird yourselves and lament ye Priests: howl ye ministers of the altar: come, and lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat offering, and the drink offering is taken away from the house of your God.

14 Sanctify you a fast: call a solemn assembly: gather the Elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and cry unto the Lord.
15 Alas: for the day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, and it cometh as a destruction from the Almighty.
16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes? and joy, and gladness from the house of our God?
17 The seed is rotten under their clods: the garners are destroyed: the barns are broken down, for the corn is withered.
18 O Lord, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burnt up all the trees of the field.
19 O Lord, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.
20 The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the river of waters are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

2 He prophesieth of the coming and cruelty of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to move them to convert. 18 The love of God toward his people.

1 Blow the trumpet in Zion, and shout in mine holy mountain, let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord is come: for it is at hand.

2 A day of darkness, and of blackness, a day of clouds and obscurity, as the morning spread upon the mountains, so is there a great people, and a mighty: there was none like it from the beginning, neither shall be anymore after it, unto the years of many generations.

1:2 Signifying the Princes, the Priests and the governors.
1:2 He calleth the Jews to the consideration of God's judgments, who had now plagued the fruits of the ground for the space of four years, which was for their sins, and to call them to repentance.
1:5 Meaning, that the occasion of their excess and drunkenness was taken away.
1:6 This was another plague wherewith God had punished them when he stirred up the Assyrians against them.
1:8 Mourn grievously, as a woman which hath lost her husband to whom she hath been married in her youth.
1:9 The tokens of God's wrath did appear in his Temple, insomuch as God's service was left off.
1:10 All comfort and substance for nourishment is taken away.
1:13 He showeth that the only means to avoid God's wrath, and to have all things restored, is unfeigned repentance.
1:15 We see by these great plagues that utter destruction is at hand.
1:20 That is, drought.
2:1 He showeth the great judgments of God, which are at hand, except they repent.
2:2 Of affliction and trouble.
2:2 Meaning, the Assyrians.
3 A fire devoureth before him, and behind him a flame burneth up: the land is as the garden of Eden before him, and behind him a desolate wilderness, so that nothing shall escape him.
4 The beholding of him is like the sight of horses, and like the horsemen, so shall they run.
5 Like the noise of chariots in the tops of the mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, and as a mighty people prepared to the battle.
6 Before his face shall the people tremble: all faces shall gather blackness.
7 They shall run like strong men, and go up to the wall like men of war, and every man shall go forward in his ways, and they shall not stay in their paths.
8 Neither shall one thrust another, but everyone shall walk in his path: and when they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.
9 They shall run to and fro in the city: they shall run upon the wall: they shall climb upon the roofs, and enter in at the windows like the thief.
10 The earth shall tremble before him, the heavens shall shake, the sun and the moon shall be dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.
11 And the Lord shall utter his voice before his host: for his host is very great: for he is strong that doeth his word:
12 Therefore also now the Lord saith, Turn you unto me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning, 13 And rent your heart, and not your clothes:
and when you shall return and repent of the evil.
14 Who knoweth, if he will return and repent and turn unto the Lord your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.
15 Blows the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly.
16 Gather the people, sanctify the congregation:
gather the elders: assemble the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her bride chamber.
17 Let the Priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage into reproach, that the heathen should rule over them. Wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?
18 Then will the Lord be jealous over his land, and spare his people.
19 Yea, the Lord will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn and wine, and oil, and you shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen.
20 But I will remove far off from you the Northern army, and I will drive him into a land, barren and desolate with his face toward the East sea, and his end to the utmost sea, and his stink shall come up, and his corruption shall ascend, because he hath exalted himself to do this.
21 Fear not, O land, but be glad, and rejoice: for the Lord will do great things.
22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness are green for the tree beareth her fruit: the fig tree and the vine do give their force.
23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the Lord your God, for he hath given you the rain of	righteousness, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, even the first rain, and the latter rain in the first month.
24 And the barns shall be full of wheat, and the presses shall abound with wine and oil.
25 And I will render you the years that the grasshopper hath eaten, the cankerworm and the caterpillar and the palmerworm, my great host which I sent among you.
26 So you shall eat and be satisfied and praise the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt marvelously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.
27 Ye shall also know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God and none

2:18 1 If they repent he sheweth that God will preserve and defend them with a most ardent affection.
2:20 1 That is, the Assyrians your enemies.
2:23 1 That as all have sinned, so all may show forth signs of their repentance, that men seeing the children which are not free from God’s wrath, might be the more lively touched with the consideration of their own sins.
other, and my people shall never be ashamed.
28 And afterward will I pour out my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy: your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions. 29 And also upon the servants, and upon the maids in those days will I pour my Spirit.
30 And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth: blood and fire, and pillars of smoke. 31 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord come. 32 But whosoever shall call on the Name of the Lord, shall be saved: for in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance as the Lord hath said, and in the remnant, whom the Lord shall call.

3 Of the judgment of God against the enemies of his people.
1 For behold, in those days and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,
2 I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and will plead with them there for my people, and for mine heritage: Israel: whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land.
3 And they have cast lots for my people, and have given the child for the harlot, and sold the girl for wine, that they might drink.
4 Yea, and what have you to do with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the coasts of Philistia? will ye render me a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I render your recompense upon your head:
5 For ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly things.
6 The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have you sold unto the Grecians, that ye might send them far from their border.
7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place where ye have sold them, and will render your reward upon your own head.
8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall send them to the Sabeans, to a people far off, for the Lord hath spoken it.
9 Publish this among the Gentiles: prepare war, wake up the mighty men: let all the men of war draw near and come up.
10 Break your plowshares into swords, and your scythes into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.
11 Assemble yourselves, and come all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: there shall the Lord cast down the mighty men.
12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.
13 Put in your scythes, for the harvest is ripe, come, get you down, for the winepress is full: yea, the winepresses run over, for their wickedness is great.
14 O multitude, O multitude, come into the valley of threshing: for the day of the Lord is near in the valley of threshing.
15 The sun and moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their light.
16 The Lord also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem, and the heavens and the earth shall shake, but the Lord will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.
17 So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God.
dwelline in Zion, mine holy Mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers go through her anymore.

18 And in that day shall the mountains drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall run with waters, and a fountain shall come forth of the House of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 Egypt shall be waste, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the injuries of the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall dwell forever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will cleanse their blood, that I have not cleansed, and the Lord will dwell in Zion.

| 3:17 | 1 The strangers shall no more destroy his Church: which if they do, it is the people, which by their sins make the breach for the enemy. |
| 3:18 | 1 He promiseth to his Church abundance of graces, read Ezek. 47:1, which should water and comfort the most barren places, Amos 9:13. |
| 3:19 | 1 The malicious enemies shall have no part of his graces. |
| 3:21 | 1 He had suffered his Church hitherto to lie in their filthiness, but now he promiseth to cleanse them and to make them pure unto him. |
1 The time of the prophecy of Amos.
3 The word of the Lord against Damascus.
6 The Philistines, Tyre, Idumea, and Ammon.

1 The words of Amos, which was among the herdsmen at Tekoa, which he saw upon Israel, in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.
2 And he said, The Lord shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepherds shall perish, and the top of Carmel shall wither.
3 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron.
4 Therefore will I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben-Hadad.
5 I will break also the bars of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant of Bikeath-Aven: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth Eden, and the people of Aram shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the Lord.
6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Gaza, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they carried away prisoners the whole captivity to Edom.
7 Therefore will I send a fire upon the walls of Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.
8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter out of Ashkelon, and turn mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.
9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyre, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they shut the whole captivity in Edom, and have not remembered the brotherly covenant.
10 Therefore will I send a fire upon Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.
11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not turn to it, because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger spoiled him evermore, and his wrath watched him always.
12 Therefore will I send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the places of Bozrah.
13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn to it, because they have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.
14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind.
15 And their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

2 Against Moab, Judah, and Israel.
1 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not turn to it, because it burnt the bones of the king of Edom into lime.
2 Therefore will I send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.
3 And I will cut off the judge out of the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with

1:2 1 Whosoever is fruitful and pleasant in Israel, shall shortly perish.
1:3 1 He sheweth first that all the people round about should be destroyed for their manifold sins: which are meant by three and four, which make seven, because the Israelites should the more deeply consider God’s judgments toward them.
1:4 1 The antiquity of their buildings shall not avoid my judgments, read Jer. 49:27.
1:5 5 Tiglath-Pileser led the Assyrians captive, and brought them to Cyrene, which he calleth here Kir.
1:6 5 They joined themselves with the Edomites their enemies, which carried them away captives.
1:9 9 For Esau (of whom came the Edomites) and Jacob were brethren, therefore they ought to have admonished them of their brotherly friendship, and not to have provoked them to hatred.
1:11 2 He was a continual enemy unto him.
1:13 1 He noteth the great cruelty of the Ammonites, that spared not the women, but most tyrannously tormented them, and yet the Ammonites came of Lot, who was of the household of Abraham.
1:21 1 For the Moabites were so cruel against the king of Edom, that they burnt his bones after that he was dead: which declared their barbarous rage, seeing they would revenge themselves of the dead.
he that is swift of foot, shall not escape, neither shall he that rideth the horse, save his life.
16 And he that is of a mighty courage among the strong men, shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

3 He reproves the house of Israel of ingratitude. 11 For the which God will punish them.

1 Hear this word that the Lord pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, even against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,
2 You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visit you for all your iniquities.
3 Can two walk together except they be agreed?
4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? or will a lion’s whelp cry out of his den, if he hath taken nothing?
5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no fowler is? or will he take up the snare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?
6 Or shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people be not afraid? or shall there be evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it?
7 Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the Prophets.
8 The lion hath roared: who will not fear? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but prophesy?
9 Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria: so behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the oppressed in the midst thereof.
10 For they know not to do right, saith the Lord: they store up violence, and robbery in their palaces.
11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An adversary

24 1 Seeing the Gentiles that had not so far knowledge were thus punished, Judah which was so fully instructed of the Lord’s will, might not think to escape.
26 1 If he spare not Judah unto whom his promises were made, much more he will not spare this degenerate kingdom.
27 1 They esteemed not Judah unto whom his promises were made, much more he will not spare this degenerate kingdom.
28 1 Thinking by these ceremonies, that is, by sacrificing, and being near mine altar, they may excuse all their other wickedness.
29 1 The destruction of their enemies and his mercy toward them, should have caused their hearts to melt for love toward him.
3:1 1 Ye contemned my benefits, and abused my graces, and craftily went about to stop the mouths of my Prophets.
3:2 1 I have only chosen you to be mine among all other people, and yet you have forsaken me.
3:3 1 Hereby the Prophet signifieth that he speaketh not of himself, but as God guideth and moveth him, which is called the agreement between God and his Prophets.
3:4 1 Will God threaten by his Prophet, except there be some great occasion?
3:5 1 Can anything come without God’s providence?
3:6 1 Shall his threatenings be in vain?
3:7 1 Shall the Prophets threaten God’s judgments and the people not be afraid?
3:9 1 God dealteth not with the Israelites, as he doeth with other people: for he ever warneth them before of his plagues by his Prophets.
3:10 1 Because the people ever murmured against the Prophets, he showeth that God’s Spirit moved them so to speak as they did.
3:9 1 He calleth the strangers, as the Philistines and Egyptians, to be witness of God’s judgments against the Israelites for their cruelty and oppression.
3:10 1 The fruit of their cruelty and theft appeareth by their great riches, which they have in their houses.
shall come even round about the country, and shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepherd taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed: and in Damascus, as in a couch.

13 Hear, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hosts.

14 Surely in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Bethel, and the horns of the altar shall be broken off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the summer house, and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall be consumed, saith the Lord.

4 Against the governors of Samaria.

1 Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the poor, and destroy the needy, and they say to their masters, Bring, and let us drink.

2 The Lord God hath sworn by his holiness, that lo, the days shall come upon you, that he will take you away with thorns, and your posterity with fish-hooks.

3 And ye shall go out at the breaches every cow forward: and ye shall cast yourselves out of the palace, saith the Lord.

4 Come to Bethel, and transgress: to Gilgal, and multiply transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your riches after three years.

5 And offer a thanksgiving of leaven, publish and proclaim the free offerings: for this liketh you, 2 Kings 14:26.

6 And therefore have I given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and scarcestness of bread in all your places, yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

7 And also I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest, and I caused it to rain upon one city, and have not caused it to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water, but they were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

9 I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: your great gardens and your vineyards, and your fig trees, and your olive trees did the palmerworm devour: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

10 Pestilence have I sent among you after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses: and I have made the stink of your tents to come up even into your nostrils, yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

11 I have overthrown you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah: and ye were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning, yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do thus unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkness, and walketh upon the high places of the earth, the Lord God of hosts is his Name.

5 A lamentation for the captivity of Israel.

1 Hear ye this word, which I lift up upon you, even a lamentation of the house of Israel.

2 The virgin Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise: she is left upon her land, and there is none to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord God, The city which went out by a thousand, shall leave an hundred: and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leave ten to the house of Israel.

3:12 1 When the lion hath satiate his hunger, the shepherd findeth a leg or a rip of an ear, to show that the sheep have been worried.

2 Where they thought to have had a sure hold, and to have been in safety.

4:1 1 Thus he calleth the princes and governors, which being overwhelmed with the great abundance of God's benefits, forgot God, and therefore he calleth them by the name of beasts and not of men.

2 They encourage such as have authority over the people to powle them, so that they may have profit by it.

4:2 1 He alludeth to fishers, which catch fish by hooks and thorns.

4:4 1 He speaketh this in contempt of them which resorted to those places, thinking that their great devotion and good intention had been sufficient to have bound God unto them.

4:5 1 As Lev. 7:13.

2 You only delight in these outward ceremonies and have none other respect.

4:6 1 That is, lack of bread and meat.

4:7 1 I stayed the rain till the fruits of the earth were destroyed with drought, and yet you would not consider it to return to me by repentance.

4:8 3 They could not find water enough where they had heard say it had rained.

4:10 1 As I plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9:10.

4:11 1 You were almost all consumed, and a few of you wonderfully preserved, 2 Kings 14:26.

4:12 1 Turn to him by repentance.

52 1 He so calleth them, because they so boasted of themselves or because they were given to wantonness and daintiness.

53 Meaning, that the tenth part should scarcely be saved.
4 For thus saith the Lord unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live.
5 But seek not Bethel, nor enter into 1Gilgal, and go not to Beersheba: for Gilgal shall go into captivity, and Bethel shall come to nought.
6 Seek the Lord, and ye shall live, lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.
7 They turn 1judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth.
8 He maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and he maketh the day dark as night; he calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.
9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mighty, and the destroyer shall come against the fortress.
10 They have hated him 1that rebuked in the gate: and they abhorred him that speaketh uprightly.
11 Forasmuch then as your treading is upon the poor, and 1ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.
12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take rewards, and they oppress the poor in the gate.
13 Therefore 1the prudent shall keep silence in that time, for it is an evil time.
14 Seek good and not evil, that ye may live: and the Lord God of hosts shall be with you, as you have spoken.
15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be merciful unto the remnant of Joseph.
16 Therefore the Lord God of hosts, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streets: and they shall say in all the high ways, Alas, alas: and they shall call the 1husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourn, to mourning.
17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will pass through thee, saith the Lord.
18 Woe unto you, that 1desire the day of the Lord: what have you to do with it? the day of the Lord is darkness and not light, 19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him: or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.
20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light, even darkness and no light in it?
21 I hate and abhor your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.
22 Though ye offer me burnt offerings and meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts.
23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs (for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.)
24 And let judgment run down as 1waters, and righteousness as a mighty river.
25 Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?
26 But you have born 1Sikkuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the star of your gods which you made to yourselves.
27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose Name is the God of hosts.

6 Against the princes of Israel living in pleasure.
1 Woe to 1them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, 2which were famous at the beginning of the nations: and the house of Israel came to them.
2 Go you unto Calneh, and see: and from thence go you to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be 3they better than these

5.5 1 In those places they worshipped new idols, which aforesaid served for the true honor of God: therefore he saith that these shall not save them.
5.7 1 Instead of judgment and equity they execute cruelty and oppression.
5.8 1 He describeth the power of God, Job 9:9.
5.10 1 They hate the Prophets, which reprove them in the open assemblies.
5.11 1 Ye take both his money and also his food, wherewith he should live.
5.13 1 God will so plague them that they shall not suffer the godly once to open their mouths to admonish them of their faults.
5.16 1 So that all degrees shall have matter of lamentation for the great plagues.
5.18 1 Thus he speaketh, because the wicked and hypocrites said they were content to abide God's judgments, whereas the godly tremble and fear, Jer. 30:7; Joel 2:2, 11; Zeph. 1:15.
5.22 1 Because ye have corrupted my true service, and remain obstinate in your vices, Isa. 1:11; Jer. 6:10.
5.24 1 Do your duty to God, and to your neighbor, and so ye shall feel his grace plentifully, if you show your abundant affections according to God's word.
5.26 1 That idol which you esteemed as your king, and carried about as you did Chijun, in which images you thought that there was a certain divinity.
6.1 1 The Prophet threateneth the wealthy, which regarded not God's plagues nor menaces by his Prophets.
6.2 1 If God have destroyed these excellent cities in three divers kingdoms, as in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistines, and hath brought their wide borders into a greater straightness than yours yet are, think you to be better, or to escape?
AMOS 6:3

ye that put far away the evil day, and approach to the seat of iniquity?
4 They lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their beds, and eat the lambs of the flock, and the calves out of the stall.
5 They sing to the sound of the viol: they invent to themselves instruments of music like David.
6 They drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments, but no man is sorry for the affliction of Joseph.
7 Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the sorrow of them that stretched themselves, is at hand.
8 The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the Lord God of hosts, I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein.
9 And if there remain ten men in one house, they shall die.
10 And his uncle shall take him up and burn him, to carry out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him, that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shall say, None. Then shall he say, Hold thy tongue: for we may not remember the Name of the Lord.
11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clefts.
12 Shall horses run upon the rock? or will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood.
13 Yet rejoice in a thing of nought: ye say, Have not we gotten us horns by our own strength?
14 But behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the Lord God of hosts: and they shall afflic you from the entering in of Hamath unto the river of the wilderness.

7 God sheweth certain visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel. 10 The false accusation of Amaziah,
1 Then Amaziah the Priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee: who shall raise up Jacob? for he is small.
2 And when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord God, spare, I beseech thee: who shall raise up Jacob? for he is small.
3 So the Lord repented for this. It shall not be, saith the Lord:
4 ¶ Thus also hath the Lord God showed unto me, and behold, the Lord God called to judgment by fire, and it devoured the great, and did eat up a part.
5 Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I beseech thee: who shall raise up Jacob? for he is small.
6 So the Lord repented for this. This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.
7 ¶ Thus again he showed me, and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by line with a line in his hand.
8 And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a line in the midst of my people Israel, and they shall pass by them no more.
9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the temples of Israel shall be destroyed: and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.
10 ¶ Then Amaziah the Priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

6:3 1 Ye that continue still in your wickedness, and think that God's plagues are not at hand, but give yourselves to all idleness, wantonness, and riot.
6:5 1 As he caused divers kinds of instruments to be made to serve God's glory, so these did contend to invent as many to serve their wanton affections and lusts.
6:6 1 They pitied not their brethren, whereof now many were slain and carried away captive.
6:7 1 Some read, the joy of them that stretch themselves, shall depart.
6:8 1 Read Jer. 51:14.
6:10 1 The destruction shall be so great, that none shall almost be left to bury the dead: and therefore they shall burn them at home, to carry out the burnt ashes with more ease.
2 That is, to some neighbor that dwelleth round about.
3 They shall be so astonished at this destruction, that they shall boast no more of the Name of God, and that they see his people: but they shall be dumb when they hear God's Name, and abhor it, as they that are desperate, or reprobate.
6:12 1 He compareth them to barren rocks, whereupon it is in vain to bestow labor: showing that God's benefits can have no place among them.
2 Read Amos 5:7.
6:13 1 That is, power and glory.
6:14 1 From one corner of the country to another.
7:1 1 To devour the land: and he alludeth to the invading of the enemies.
2 After the public commandment for mowing was given: or as some read, when the king's sheep were shorn.
7:3 1 That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.
7:4 1 Meaning, that God's indignation was inflamed against the stubbornness of this people.
7:7 1 Signifying that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would defer his judgment no longer.
7:10 1 That is, when Amos had prophesied that the king should be destroyed: for the wicked Priest more for hatred he bare to the Prophet than for love toward the king, thought this accusation sufficient to condemn him, whereas none other could take place.
11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also 'Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou the Seer, go, flee thou away into the land of Judah, and there eat thy bread, and prophesy there.

13 But prophesy no more at Bethel: for it is the king's chapel, and it is the king's court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophet's son, but I was an herdsman, and a gatherer of wild figs.

15 And the Lord took me as I followed the flock, and the Lord said unto me, Go prophesy unto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore hear thou the word of the Lord. Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and speak nothing against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, 'Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

8 Against the rulers of Israel. 7 The Lord sweareth. 11 The famine of the word of God.

1 Thus hath the Lord God showed unto me, and behold, a basket of summer fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the Lord unto me, The end is come upon my people of Israel, I will pass by them no more.

3 And the songs of the Temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: many dead bodies shall be in every place: they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Hear this, O ye that swallow up the poor, that ye may make the needy of the land to fail,

5 Saying, When will the 'new month be gone, that we may sell corn? and the Sabbath, that we may make bread, that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for shoes: yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat.

6 That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for shoes: yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat.

7 The Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely, I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn, that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood, and it shall be cast out, and drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord God, I will even cause the Sun to go down at noon: I will darken the earth in the clear day.

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning: and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the Land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North even unto the East shall they run to and fro to seek the word of the Lord, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men perish for thirst.

14 They that swear by the sin 'of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liveth, and 'the manner of Beersheba liveth, even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

9 Threatenings against the Temple. 2 And against Israel. 11 The restoring of the Church.

1 I saw the Lord standing upon the 'Altar, and he said, Smite the lintel of the door, that the posts may shake: and cut them in pieces, even the 'heads of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the 7:12 1 When this instrument of Satan was not able to compass his purpose by the king, he assayed by another practice, that was, to fear the Prophet, that he might depart, and not reprove their idolatry there openly, and so hinder his profit.

7:14 1 Thus he showeth by his extraordinary vocation, that God had given him a charge, which he must needs execute.

7:17 1 Thus God used to approve the authority of his Prophets, by his plagues and judgments against them which were malicious enemies, Jer. 28:12 and 29:21, 25, as this day he doeth against them that persecute the ministers of his Gospel.

8:2 1 Which signified the ripeness of their sins, and the readiness of God's judgments.

8:3 1 There shall be none left to mourn for them.

8:4 1 By staying the sale of food, and necessary things which you have gotten into your own hands, and so cause the poor to spend quickly that little that they have, and at length for necessity to become your slaves.

8:5 1 When the dearth was once come they were so greedy of gain, that they thought the holy day to be an hindrance unto them.

2 That is, the measure small, and the price great.

8:8 1 That is, the inhabitants of the land shall be drowned, as Nile drowneth many when it overfloweth.

8:9 1 In the midst of their prosperity, I will send great affliction.

8:12 1 Whereby he showeth that they shall not only perish in body, but also in soul for lack of God's word, which is the food thereof.

8:14 1 For the idolaters did use to swear by their idols: which here he calleth their sin, as the Papists yet do by theirs.

2 That is, the common manner of worshipping, and the service or religion there used.

9:1 1 Which was at Jerusalem: for he appeared not in the idolatrous places of Israel.

2 Both the chief of them and also the common people.
sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away: and he that escapeth of them, shall not be delivered.

2 Though they dig into the hell, thence shall mine hand take them: though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down.

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hosts shall touch the land, and it shall melt away, and all that dwell therein shall mourn, and it shall rise up wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his spheres in the heaven, and hath laid the foundation of his globe of elements in the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel, saith the Lord? have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistines from Caphtor, and Aram from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it clean out of the earth. Nevertheless I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.

9 For lo, I will command and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve: yet shall not the least stone fall upon the earth.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not come, nor hasten for us.

11 In that day will I raise up the Tabernacle of David, that is fallen down, and close up the breaches thereof, and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it, as in the days of old, 12 That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, because my Name is called upon them, saith the Lord, that doeth this.

13 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall touch the mower, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed: and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel: and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof. They shall also make gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up again out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God.

9:3 1 He sheweth that God will declare himself enemy unto them in all places, and that his elements and all creatures shall be enemies to destroy them.

9:6 1 He declareth by the wonderful power of God, by the making of the heavens and the elements, that it is not possible for man to escape his judgments when he punisheth.

9:7 1 Am I more bound to you than to the Ethiopians, or black moors? yet have I bestowed upon you greater benefits.

9:8 1 Though he destroy the rebellious multitude, yet he will ever reserve the remnant his Church to call upon his Name.

9:9 1 Meaning, that none of his should perish in his wrath.

9:11 1 I will send the Messiah promised, and restore by him the spiritual Israel, Acts 15:16.

9:12 1 Meaning, that the very enemies as were the Edomites, and others should be joined with the Jews in one society, and body, whereof Christ should be the head.

9:13 1 Signifying, that there shall be great plenty of all things, so that when one kind of fruit is ripe, another should follow, and every one in course, Lev. 26:5.

9:14 1 The accomplishment thereof is under Christ, when they are planted in this Church, out of the which they can never be pulled, after they are once grafted therein.
1 1 The vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord God against Edom, "We have heard a rumor from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent among the heathen: arise, and let us rise up against her to battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art utterly despised.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee: thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocks, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and make thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the Lord.

5 Came thieves to thee or robbers by night? how wast thou brought to silence? would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leave some grapes?

6 How are the things of Esau sought up, and his treasures searched?

7 All the men of thy confederacy have driven thee to the borders: the men that were at peace with thee, have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee: they that eat thy bread, have laid a wound under thee: there is none understanding in him.

8 Shall not I in that day, saith the Lord, even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understand from the mount of Esau?

9 And thy strong men, O Teman, shall be afraid, because everyone of the mount of Esau shall be cut off by slaughter.

10 For thy cruelty against thy brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off forever.

11 When thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that the strangers carried away his substance, and strangers entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.

12 But thou shouldest not have beheld the day of thy brother, in the day that he was made a stranger, neither shouldest thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah, in the day of their destruction: thou shouldest not have spoken proudly in the day of affliction.

13 Thou shouldest not have entered into the gate of my people in the day of their destruction, neither shouldest thou have once looked on their affliction in the day of their destruction, nor have laid hands on their substance in the day of their destruction.

14 Neither shouldest thou have stood in the crossways to cut off them, that should escape, neither shouldest thou have shut up the remnant thereof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day of the Lord is near, upon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shall be done to thee: thy reward shall return upon thine head.

16 For as ye have drunk upon mine holy Mountain, so shall all the heathen drink continually: yea, they shall drink and swallow up, and they shall be as though they had not been.

17 But upon mount Zion shall be deliverance, and it shall be holy, and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions,

18 And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Esau stubble, and they shall kindle in them and devour them: and there shall be no remnant of the house of Esau: for the Lord hath spoken it.

19 And they shall possess the South side of the

1:1 1 God hath certainly revealed to his prophets, that he will raise up the heathen to destroy the Edomites, whereof the rumor is now published, Jer. 49:14.

2 Thus the heathen encourage themselves to rise against Edom.

3 1 Which despiseth all others in respect of thyself, and yet art as handfull in comparison of others, and art shut up among the hills as separate from the rest of the world.

1:5 1 God will so destroy them that he will leave none, though thieves when they come, take but till they have enough, and they that gather grapes, ever leave some behind them, Jer. 49:9.

1:7 1 They in whom thou didst trust for to have help and friendship of them, shall be thine enemies and destroy thee.

2 That is, thy familiar friends and guests have by secret practices destroyed thee.

1:10 1 He sheweth the cause why the Edomites were so sharply punished: to wit, because they were enemies to his Church, whom he now comforteth by punishing their enemies.

1:11 1 When Nebuchadnezzar came against Jerusalem, thou joined­est with him, and hastest part of the spoil, and so didst rejoice when my people, that is, thy brother were afflicted, whereas thou shouldest have pitied and helped thy brother.

1:12 1 When the Lord deprived them of their former dignity, and gave them to be carried into captivity.

1:15 1 When he will summon all the heathen, and send them to destroy thee.

1:16 1 That is, rejoiced and triumphed.

2 The Edomites shall be utterly destroyed, and yet in despite of all the enemies I will reserve my Church and restore it.

1:18 1 God attributeth this power, to consume his enemies, to his Church, which power is only proper to himself, as Isa. 10:17; Deut. 4:24; Heb. 12:29.

1:19 1 He describeth how the Church shall be enlarged and have great possessions: but this chiefly is accomplished under Christ, when as the faithful are made heirs and lords of all things by him which is their head.

1:20 1 By the Canaanites, the Jews mean the Dutchmen, and by Zarephath, France, and by Sepharad, Spain.

1:21 1 Meaning that God will raise up in his Church such as shall rule and govern for the defense of the same, and destruction of his enemies under Messiah, whom the Prophet calleth here, the Lord and head of this kingdom.
3. Jonah fled when he was sent to preach. 4 A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

1 The word of the Lord came 1also unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,
2 Arise, and go to 1Nineveh, that 2great city, and cry against it: for their wickedness is come up before me.
3 But Jonah rose up to 1flee into Tarshish, from the presence of the Lord, and went down to 2Japho: and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, that he might go with them unto Tarshish, from the 1presence of the Lord.
4 But the Lord sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.
5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast the wares that were in the ship, into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone down 1into the sides of the ship, and he lay down, and was fast asleep.
6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? Arise, call upon thy 1God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.
7 And they said everyone to his fellow, Come, and let us cast 1lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.
8 Then said they unto him, Tell us for whose cause this evil is upon us? What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? which is thy country?
9 And he answered them, I am an Hebrew, and I fear the Lord God of heaven, which hath made the sea, and the dry land.
10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had told them)
11 Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? (for the sea wrought, and was troublous)
12 And he said unto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea: so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.
13 Nevertheless the men rowed to bring it to the land, but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.
14 Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, 1We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.
15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him into the sea, and the sea ceased from her raging.
16 Then the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made vows.
17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah: and Jonah was in the 1belly of the fish three days and three nights.

1:1 1 After that he had preached a long time in Israel: and so Ezekiel, after that for a time he had prophesied in Judah, he had visions in Babylon, Ezek. 1:1.
1:2 1 For seeing the great obstination of the Israelites, he sent his Prophet to the Gentiles, that they might provoke them to repentance, or at least make them inexcusable: for Nineveh was the chief city of the Assyrians.
2 For as authors write, it contained in circuit about eight and forty miles, and had a thousand and five hundred towers, and at this time there were an hundred and twenty thousand children therein, Jonah 4:1.
1:3 1 Whereby he declared his weakness, that would not promptly follow the Lord's calling, but gave place to his own reason, which persuaded him that he should nothing at all profit there, seeing he had done so small good among his own people, Jonah 4:2.
2 Which was the haven, and port to take shipping thither, called also Joppa.
3 From that vocation whereunto God had called him, and wherein he would have assisted him.
1:5 1 As one that would have cast off this care and solicitude by seeking rest and quietness.
1:6 1 As they had called on their idols, which declareth that idolaters have no stay nor certainty, but in their troubles seek they cannot tell to whom.
1:7 1 Which declareth that the matter was in great extremity and doubt, which thing was God's motion in them, for the trial of the cause and this may not be done but in matters of great importance.
1:14 1 This declareth that the very wicked in their necessities flee unto God for succor and also that they are touched with a certain fear to shed maris blood, whereas they know no manifest sign of wickedness.
1:16 1 They were touched with a certain repentance of their life past, and began to worship the true God by whom they saw themselves so wonderfully delivered: but this was done for fear, and not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to God's word.
1:17 1 Thus the Lord would chastise his Prophet with a most terrible spectacle of death, and hereby also confirmed him of his favor and support in this his charge which was enjoined.

2:1 1 Being now swallowed up of death, and seeing no remedy to escape, his faith brast out unto the Lord, knowing that out of the very hell he was able to deliver him.
2:2 1 For he was now in the fish’s belly as in a grave or place of darkness.
2:4 1 This declared what his prayer was, and how he labored between hope and despair, considering the neglect of his vocation, and God’s judgments for the same: but yet in the end faith got the victory.
2:6 1 Thou hast delivered me from the belly of the fish and all these dangers, as it were raising me from death to life.
2:8 1 They that depend upon anything save on God alone.
3:1 1 And the word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying, Arise, go unto Nineveh that great city, and preach unto it the preaching which I bid thee.
3:2 1 Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life: for it is better for me to die than to live.
3:3 1 So Jonah arose, and went to Nineveh according to the word of the Lord: now Nineveh was a great and excellent city of three days journey.
3:4 1 Then Jonah began to enter into the city a day’s journey, and he cried and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.
3:5 1 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day’s journey, and he cried and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.
3:6 1 So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, even to the least of them.
3:7 1 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he rose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.
3:8 1 And he proclaimed and said through Nineveh, (by the counsel of the king and his nobles) saying, Let neither man, nor beast, bullock nor sheep taste anything, neither feed nor drink water.
3:9 1 But let man and beast put on sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let every man turn from his evil way, and from the wickedness that is in their hands.
3:10 1 Who can tell if God will turn, and repent and turn away from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?
3:11 1 Therefore it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry.
3:12 1 And he prayed unto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? therefore I prevented it to flee unto Tarshish: for I knew, that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.
3:13 1 Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life from me: for it is better for me to die than to live.
3:14 1 Then said the Lord, Doest thou well to be angry?
3:15 1 Not that the dumb beasts had sinned or could repent, but that by their example man might be astonished, considering that for his sin the anger of God hanged over all creatures.
3:16 1 He willed that the men should earnestly call unto God for mercy.
3:17 1 For partly by the threatening of the Prophet, and partly by the motion of his own conscience, he doubted whether God would show them mercy.
3:18 1 That is, the fruits of their repentance, which did proceed of faith, which God had planted by the ministry of his Prophet.
3:19 1 Read Jer. 8:18.
3:20 1 Because hereby he should be taken as a false prophet, and so the Name of God, which he preached, should be blasphemed.
3:21 1 Thus he prayed of grief fearing lest God’s Name by this forgive­ness might be blasphemed, as though he sent his Prophets forth to denounce his judgments in vain.
3:22 1 Wilt thou be judge when I do things for my glory, and when I do not?
5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the East side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow till he might see what should be done in the city.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, and deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the sun did arise, God prepared also a fervent East wind: and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted and wished in his heart to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God said unto Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry unto the death.

10 Then said the Lord, Thou hast had pity on the gourd for the which thou hast not labored, neither madest it grow, which came up in a night and perished in a night, 11 And should I not I spare Nineveh that great city, wherein are sixscore thousand persons, that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand, and also much cattle?

MICAH

1 The destruction of Judah and Jerusalem because of the idolatry.

1 The word of the Lord, that came unto Micah the Morashite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria, and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, all ye people: hearken thou, O earth, and all that therein is, and let the Lord God be witness against you, even the Lord from his holy Temple.

3 For behold, the Lord cometh out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And the mountains shall melt under him (so shall the valleys cleave) as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured downward.

5 For the wickedness of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel: what is the wickedness of Jacob? Is not Samaria? and which are the high places of Judah? Is not Jerusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of dust: therefore he willeth them to mourn and howl.

7 And all the graven images thereof shall be broken, and all the gifts thereof shall be burnt with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I destroy: for she gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they shall return to the wages of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will mourn and howl: I will go without clothes, and naked: I will make lamentation like the dragons, and mourning as the ostriches.

9 For her plagues are grievous: for it is come into Judah: the enemy is come unto the gate of my people, unto Jerusalem.

10 Declare ye it not at Gath, neither weep ye: for the house of Ophrah roll thyself in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest at Shaphir, go together naked with shame: she that dwelleth at Zaanan, shall not come forth in the mourning of Beth Ezel: the enemy shall receive of you for his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waited for good, but evil came from the Lord unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachish, bind the chariot to the beasts of price: she is the beginning of the sin to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou give presents to Morasheth Gath: the houses of Achzib shall be as a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah, he shall come unto Adullam, the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee bald: and shave thee for thy delicate children: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle, for they are gone into captivity from thee.

2 Threatenings against the wanton and dainty people.

1 Woe unto them that imagine iniquity, and work wickedness upon their beds: when the morning is light they practice it, because their hand hath power.
2 And they covet fields, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppress a man and his house, even man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, against this family have I devised a plague, whereout ye shall not pluck your necks, and ye shall not go so proudly, for this time is evil.

4 In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament with a doleful lamentation, and say, 'We be utterly wasted: he hath divided the portion of my people: how hath he taken it away to restore it unto me? he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast a cord by lot in 'the congregation of the Lord.

6 'They that prophesy, Prophesy ye not. 'They shall not prophesy to them, neither shall they take shame.

7 O thou that art named of the house of Jacob, is the Spirit of the Lord shortened? 'Are these his works? are not my works good unto him 'that walketh uprightly?

8 But he that was 'yesterday my people, is risen up on the other side, as against an enemy: they spoil the 'beautiful garment from them that pass by peaceably, as though they returned from the war.

9 The women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses, and from their children have ye taken away 'my glory continually.

10 Arise and depart, for this is not your 'rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.

11 If a man 'walk in the spirit, and would lie falsely, saying, 'I will prophesy unto thee of wine, and of strong drink, he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely gather 'thee wholly, O Jacob: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel: I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, even as the flock in the midst of their fold: the cities shall be full of brute of the men.

13 The 'breaker up shall come up before them: they shall break out, and pass by the gate, and go out by it, and their king shall go before them, and the Lord shall be 'upon their heads.

3 Against the tyranny of princes and false prophets.

1 And I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel: should not ye know 'judgment?

2 But they hate the good, and love the evil: 'they pluck off their skins from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eat also the flesh of my people, and flay off their skin from them, and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

4 Then 'shall they cry unto the Lord, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, because they have done wickedly in their works.

5 'Thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that deceive my people, and 'bite them with their teeth, and cry, peace, but if a man put not into their mouths, they prepare war against him.

6 Therefore 'night shall be unto you for a vision, and darkness shall be unto you for a divination, and the Sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the Seers be ashamed, and the Soothsayers confounded: yea, they shall all cover 'their lips, for they have none answer of God.

2:4 1 Thus the Jews lament and say that there is no hope of restitution, seeing their possessions are divided among the enemies.

2:5 1 Ye shall have no more lands to divide as you had in times past, and as you used to measure them in the Jubilee.

2:6 1 Thus the people warn the prophets that they speak to them no more, for they cannot abide their threatenings.

2:8 1 God saith that they shall not prophesy, nor receive no more of their rebukes nor taunts.

2:7 1 Are these your works according to his Law?

2:8 2 Do not the godly find my words comfortable? 1That is, aforesight.

2:9 1 That is, their substance and living, which is God's blessing, and as it were part of his glory.

2:10 1 Jerusalem shall not be your safeguard: but the cause of your destruction.

2:11 1 That is, show himself to be a Prophet.

2:12 1 To destroy thee.

2:13 1 The enemy shall break their gates and walls, and lead them into Chaldea.

2:14 1 To drive them forward, and to help their enemies.

3:1 1 That thing which is just and lawful, both to govern my people aforesight, and also to discharge your own conscience.

3:2 1 The Prophet condemneth the wicked governors not only of covetousness, theft, and murder, but compar eth them to wolves, lions, and most cruel beasts.

3:4 1 That is, when I shall visit their wickedness: for though I hear the godly before they cry, Isa. 65:24, yet I will not hear these though they cry, Isa. 1:15 and Ezek. 8:18; James 2:13; 1 Pet. 3:11, 12.

3:5 1 They devour all their substance, and then flatter them, promising that all shall go well, but if one restrain from their bellies, then they invent all ways to mischief.

3:6 1 As you have loved to walk in darkness, and to prophesy lies, so God shall reward you with gross blindness and ignorance, so that when all others shall see the bright beams of God's graces, ye shall as blind men grope as in the night.

3:7 1 When God shall discover them to the world, they shall be afraid to speak: for all shall know that they were but false prophets, and did believe the word of God.
Yet notwithstanding I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of judgment, and of strength to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

Hear this, I pray ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhor judgment, and pervert all equity. They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. The heads thereof judge for rewards, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof prophesy for money: yet will they lean upon the Lord and say, Is not the Lord among us? no evil can come upon us.

Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heap, and the mountain of the house, as the high places of the forest.

Of the kingdom of Christ, and felicity of his Church.

But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the House of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills, and people shall flow unto it. Yea, many nations shall come and say, Come, let us go up to the Mountain of the Lord, and to the House of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the Law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke mighty nations afar off, and they shall break their swords into mattocks, and their spears into scythes: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn to fight anymore. But they shall sit every man under his vine, and under his fig tree, and none shall make them afraid:

For the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it. For all people will walk in the name of his god, and we will walk in the Name of the Lord our God, forever and ever.

At the same day saith the Lord, will I gather her that halteth, and I will gather her that is cast out, and her that I have afflicted.

And I will make her that halteth, a remnant, and her that was cast far off, a mighty nation, and the Lord shall reign over them in Mount Zion, from henceforth even forever.

And thou, O tower of the flock, the stronghold of the daughter Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion, and kingdom shall come to the daughter Jerusalem.

Now why dost thou cry out with lamentation? is there no king in thee? is thy counselor perished? for sorrow hath taken thee, as a woman in travail.

Sorrow and mourn, O daughter Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth of the city, and dwell in the field, and shalt go into Babel, but there shalt thou be delivered: there the Lord shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

Now also many nations are gathered against thee, saying, Zion shall be condemned, and our eye shall look upon Zion.

But they know not the thoughts of the Lord: they understand not his counsel, for he shall gather them as the sheaves in the barn.

Arise and thresh, O daughter Zion: for I will cause that Israel, which is now as one lame and halting, whose soul is set at naught, as a woman in travail, shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

When Christ shall come, and the Temple shall be destroyed. 1

He showeth that there is no true Church, but where as the people are taught by God’s pure word.

By his corrections and threatenings he will bring the people into subjection which are in the utmost corners of the world.

They shall abstain from all evil doing, and exercise themselves in godliness and in well doing to others.

He sheweth that the people of God ought to remain constant in their religion, albeit all the world should give themselves to their superstition and idolatry.

I will cause that Israel, which is now as one lame and halting, and so almost destroyed, shall live again, and grow into a great people.

Meaning, Jerusalem, where the Lord’s flock was gathered.

The flourishing state of the kingdom, as it was under David and Solomon, which thing was accomplished to the Church by the coming of Christ.

In the mean season he showeth that they should endure great troubles and temptations when thry saw themselves neither to have king nor counsel.

He sheweth that the faithful ought not to measure God’s judgments by the brags and threatenings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to lift up their hearts to God to call for deliverance.

And God giveth his Church this victory, so oft as he overcometh their enemies: but the accomplishment thereof shall be at the last coming of Christ.

The destruction of Jerusalem. 2

The excellency of Bethlehem.
1 Now assemble thy garrisons, O daughter of garrisons: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2 And thou Bethlehem Ephrathah art little to be among the thousands of Judah; yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me, that shall be the ruler in Israel: whose goings forth have been from the beginning and from everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which shall bear, shall travail: then the remnant of their brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall stand, and feed in the strength of the Lord, and in the majesty of the Name of the Lord his God, and they shall dwell still: for now shall he be magnified unto the ends of the world.

5 And he shall be our peace when Assyria shall come into our land: when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men.

6 And they shall destroy Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their swords: thus shall he deliver us from Assyria, when he cometh into our land, and when he shall tread within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the thousands of Judah, yet he shall be among the thousands of the Gentiles in the midst of many people, as the Lion among the beasts of the forest, and as the Lamb which is meek among the flocks of sheep, who when he goeth through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

8 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people, as the Lion among the beasts of the forest, and as the Whelp among the flocks of sheep, who when he goeth through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

9 Thine enemies shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off thine horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots.

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and overthrow all thy strongholds.

12 And I will cut off thine enchanters out of thine hand: and thou shalt have no more soothsayers.

13 Thine idols also will I cut off, and thine images out of the midst of thee: and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands.

14 And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: so will I destroy thine enemies.

15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath and indignation upon the heathen, which they have not heard.

6 An exhortation to the dumb creatures to hear the judgment against Israel being unkind.

1 Hearken ye now what the Lord saith, Arise thou, and contend before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Hear ye, O mountains, the Lord's quarrel, and ye mighty foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarrel against his people, and he will plead with Israel.

3 O my people, what have I done unto thee? or wherein have I grieved thee? testify against me.

4 Surely I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants, and I have sent before thee, Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab had devised, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him, from Shittim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteousness of the Lord.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calves of a year old?

7 Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousand rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, even the fruit of my body, for the sin of my soul?

8 He hath showed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: surely to do justly, and to love mercy, and to humble thyself, to walk with thy God.

9 The Lord's voice crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: Hear the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, that is abominable?

11 Shall I justify the wicked balances, and the bag of deceitful weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of cruelty, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I make thee sick in smiting thee, and in making thee desolate, because of thy sins.

14 Thou shalt eat and not be satisfied, and thy casting down shall be in the midst of thee, and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not deliver, and that which thou deliverest, will I give up to the sword.

15 Thou shalt sow, but not reap: Thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil, and make sweet wine, but shall not drink wine.

16 For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the manner of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels, that I should make thee waste, and the inhabitants thereof have hissing: therefore ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

7:18 1 There is nothing so dear to man, but the hypocrites will offer it unto God, if they think thereby to avoid his anger: but they will never be brought to mortify their own affections, and to give themselves willingly to serve God as he commandeth.

6:16 1 You have received all the corruption and idolatry, wherewith the ten tribes were infected under Omri and Ahab his son: and to excuse your doings, you allege the King's authority by his statutes, and also wisdom and policy in so doing, but you shall not escape punishment: but as I have shown you great favor, and taken you for my people, so shall your plagues be accordingly, Luke 12:47.

12 In this day also they shall come unto thee from Assyria, and from the strong cities, and from the strongholds even unto the river, and from Sea to Sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13 Notwithstanding the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruits of their inventions.

14 Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage (which dwell solitary in the wood) as in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in old time.

15 According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt, will I show unto him marvelous things.

16 The nations shall see, and be confounded for all their power: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth: their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall lick the dust like a serpent: they shall move out of their holes like worms: they shall be afraid of the Lord our God, and shall fear because of thee.

18 Who is a God like unto thee, that taketh away iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage! He retaineth not his wrath forever, because mercy pleaseth him.

19 He will turn again, and have compassion upon us: he will subdue our iniquities, and cast all their sins into the bottom of the sea.

20 Thou wilt perform thy truth to Jacob, and mercy to Abraham, as thou hast sworn unto our fathers in old time.

1 I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will look and see what he would say unto me, and what I shall answer to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but

1:2 1 The Prophet complaineth unto God, and bewaileth that among the Jews is left none equity and brotherly love: but instead hereof reigneth cruelty, theft, contention and strife.

1:4 1 To suppress him, if any should show himself zealous of God’s cause.

1:5 1 As in times past you would not believe God’s word, so shall ye not now believe the strange plagues which are at hand.

1:7 1 They themselves shall be your judges in this cause, and none shall have authority over them to control them.

1:9 1 For the Jews most feared this wind, because it destroyed their fruits.

1:10 1 They shall cast up mounts against it.

1:11 1 The Prophet comforteth the faithful that God will also destroy the Babylonians, because they shall abuse this victory, and become proud and insolent, attributing the praise hereof to their idols.

1:12 1 He assureth the godly of God’s protection, showing that the enemy can do no more than God hath appointed, and also that their sins required such a sharp rod.

1:14 1 So that the great devoureth the small, and the Chaldeans destroy all the world.

2:2 1 Write it in great letters, that he that runneth may read it.
at the last it shall speak and not lie: though it tarry, wait: for it shall surely come, and shall not stay.

4 Behold, he that lifteth up himself, his mind is not upright in him, but the just shall live by his faith,

5 Yea, indeed the proud man is as he that transgresseth by wine: therefore shall he not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people.

6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Ho, he that increaseth that which is not his? how long? and he that ladelth himself with thick clay?

7 Shall they not rise up suddenly, that shall bite thee? and awake, that shall stir thee? and thou shalt be their prey?

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee, because of men's blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the city, and unto all that dwell therein.

9 Ho, he that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, to escape from the power of evil.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thy own house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine own soul.

11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 Woe unto him that buildeth a town with blood, and erecteth a city by iniquity.

13 Behold, is it not of the Lord of hosts, that the people shall labor in the very fire? the people shall come and destroy all their labors, as though they were consumed with fire.

14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

15 Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink: thou joinest thine heart heat, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest see their privities.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and be made naked: the cup of the Lord's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be for thy glory.

17 For the cruelty of Lebanon shall cover thee: so shall the spoil of the beasts, which made them afraid, because of men's blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the city, and unto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the image? for the maker therefore hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though he that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumb idols.

19 Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake, and to the dumb stone, Rise up, it shall teach thee: behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy Temple: let all the earth keep silence before him.

3 A prayer for the faithful.

1 A prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet for the ignorances.

2 O Lord, I have heard thy voice, and was afraid: O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the people, in the midst of the years make it known: in wrath remember mercy.
3 God cometh from 1Teman, and the holy One from mount Paran, Selah. His glory covereth the heavens, and the earth is full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was as the light: 1he had horns coming out of his hands, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coals went forth before his feet.

6 He stood and measured the earth: he beheld and dissolved the nations, and the everlasting mountains were broken, and the ancient hills did bow: his 1ways are everlasting.

7 1For his iniquity I saw the tents of Cushan, and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the Lord angry against the 1rivers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride upon thine horses? thy chariots brought salvation.

9 Thy 1bow was manifestly revealed, and the 2oaths of the tribes were a sure word, Selah, thou 1didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the stream of the water passed by: the deep made a noise, and lifted up his hand on high.

11 The 1sun and moon stood still in their habitation: at the light of thine arrows they went, and at the bright shining of thy spears.

12 Thou trodest down the land in anger, and didst God’s people, and showed signs of their obedience as it were by the lifting up their hands.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine 1Anointed: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discoveredst the foundations unto the 2neck, Selah.

14 Thou didst 1strike through with thy own staves the heads of his villages: they came out as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.

15 Thou didst walk in the sea with thine horses upon the heap of great waters.

16 When I 1heard, my belly trembled: my lips shook at the voice: rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest before the weight of God’s judgments.

17 For the fig tree shall not flourish, neither shall fruit be in the vines: the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat: the sheep shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no bullock in the stalls.

18 But I will rejoice in the Lord: I will joy 1in the God of my salvation.

19 The Lord God is my strength: he will make my feet like hinds’ feet, and he will make me to walk upon mine high places. 1To the chief singer on Neginoth.

3:3 1Teman and Paran were near Sinai, where the Law was given: whereby is signified that his deliverance was as present now as it was then.

3:4 1Whereby is meant a power that was joined with his brightness, which was hid to the rest of the world, but was revealed in mount Sinai to his people, Ps. 31:16.

3:6 1Signifying, that God hath wonderful means, and ever had a marvelous power when he would deliver his Church.

3:7 1The iniquity of the king of Syria in vexing thy people was made manifest by thy judgment, to the comfort of thy Church, Judg. 5:10, and also of the Midianites, which destroyed themselves, Judg. 7:22.

3:8 1Meaning, that God was not angry with the waters, but that by this means he would destroy his enemies, and deliver his Church.

2 And so didst use all the elements as instruments for the destruction of thine enemies.

3:9 1That is, thy power.

2 For he had not only made a covenant with Abraham, but renewed it with his posterity.

3:10 1He alludeth to the red sea and Jordan, which gave passage to God’s people, and showed signs of their obedience as it were by the lifting up their hands.

3:11 1As appeareth, Josh. 10:11.

2 According to thy commandment, the sun was directed by the weapons of thy people, that fought in thy cause, as though it durst not go forward.

3:13 1Signifying, that there is no salvation, but by Christ.

2 From the top to the toe thou hast destroyed the enemies.

3:14 1God destroyed his enemies both great and small with their own weapons, though they were never so fierce against his Church.

3:16 1He returneth to that which he spake in the second verse, and showeth he was afraid of God’s judgments.

2 He sheweth that the faithful can never have true rest, except they feel before the weight of God’s judgments.

3 That is, the enemy, but the godly shall be quiet, knowing that all things shall turn to good unto them.

3:18 1He declareth wherein standeth the comfort and joy of the faithful, though they see never so great afflictions prepared.

3:19 1The chief singer upon the instruments of music, shall have occasion to praise God for this great deliverance of his Church.

8 And it shall be in the day of the Lord’s sacrifice, that I will visit the princes and the king’s children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.

9 In the same day also will I visit all those that dance upon the threshold so proudly, which fill their masters’ houses by cruelty and deceit.

10 And in that day, saith the Lord, there shall be a noise, and cry from the fish gate, and an howling from the second gate, and a great destruction from the hills.

11 Howl ye inhabitants of the low place: for the company of the merchants is destroyed: all they that bear silver, are cut off.

12 And at that time will I search Jerusalem with lights, and visit the men that are frozen in their dregs, and say in their hearts, The Lord will neither do good nor do evil.

13 Therefore their goods shall be spoiled, and their houses waste: they shall also build houses, but not inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the Lord is near: it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord: the strong man shall cry there bitterly.

15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heaviness, a day of destruction and desolation, a day of obscurity and darkness, a day of clouds and blackness.

16 A day of the trumpet and alarm against the strong cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord, and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.

18 Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord’s wrath, but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make even a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

5 [Woe] unto the inhabitants of the sea 1coast, the nation of the Cherethims, the word of the Lord is against you: O Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee without an inhabitant.
6 And the sea coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds and sheepfolds.

8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the rebukes of the children of Ammon, whereby they upbraided my people, and 1magnified themselves against their borders.

10 This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached, and magnified themselves against the Lord of host's people.
11 The Lord will be terrible unto them: 1for he will consume all the gods of the earth, and every man shall worship him from his place, even all the isles of the heathen.
12 Ye Morians also shall be slain by my sword with them.

The time of the Prophecy of Haggai. 8 An exhortation to build the Temple again.

In the second year of king Darius, in the sixth month, the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord (by the ministry of the Prophet Haggai) unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, a prince of Judah, and to Jehoshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, saying,

Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, This people say, the time is not yet come, that the Lord's house should be built.

Then came the word of the Lord by the ministry of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

Is it time for yourselves to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste?

Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider your own ways in your hearts.

Ye have sown much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye have not enough: ye drink, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you, but ye be not warm: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bag.

Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider your own ways in your hearts.

Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build this House, and I will be favorable in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little: and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. And why, saith the Lord of hosts? Because of mine House that is waste, and ye turn every man unto his own house.

Therefore the heaven over you stayed itself from dew, and the earth stayed her fruit.

When Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, with all the remnant of the people, heard the voice of the Lord their God, and the words of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did fear before the Lord.

Haggai the Lord's messenger in the Lord's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

And the Lord stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, a prince of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the work in the House of the Lord of hosts their God.

He showeth that the glory of the second Temple shall exceed the first.

In the fourth and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of king Darius,

In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by the ministry of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel prince of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

Who is left among you that saw this House in her first glory, and how do you see it now? is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

Yet now be of good courage, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak the high Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and 'do it: for
I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts.

6 According to the word that I covenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: so my Spirit shall remain among you, fear ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, 'Yet a little while, and I will shake the heavens and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

8 And I will move all nations, and 'the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this House with glory, saith the Lord of hosts.

9 'The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts.

10 'The glory of this last House shall be greater than the first, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give 'peace, saith the Lord of hosts.

11 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Ask now the Priests concerning the Law, and say,

13 If one bear 'holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch the bread or the pottage, or the wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the Priests answered and said, No.

14 Then said Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the Priests answered, and said, It shall be unclean.

15 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so are all the works of their hands, and that which they offer here, is unclean.

16 And now, I pray you, consider in your minds:
from this 'day and afore, even afore a stone was laid upon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

17 'Before these things were, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten:
when one came to the winepress, for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildew, and with hail, in all the labors of your hands: yet you turned not to me, saith the Lord.

19 Consider, I pray you, in your minds, from 'this day, and afore, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's Temple was laid: consider it in your minds.

20 Is the 'seed yet in the barn? as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.

21 And again the word of the Lord came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month,
saying,

22 Speak to Zerubbabel the prince of Judah, and say, I 'will shake the heavens and the earth.

23 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the 'kingdoms of the heathen, and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

24 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a 'signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts.

2:5 1 That is, go forward in building the Temple.
2:7 1 He exhorteth them to patience though see not as yet this Temple so glorious as the Prophets had declared: for this should be accomplished in Christ, by whom all things should be renewed.
2:8 1 Meaning, Christ whom all ought to look for and desire: or by desire he may signify all precious things, as riches, and such lke.
2:9 1 Therefore when his time cometh he can make all the treasures of the world to serve his purpose: but the glory of this second Temple doeth not stand in material things, neither can be built.
2:10 1 Meaning, all spiritual blessings: and felicity purchased by Christ, Phil. 4:7.
2:13 1 That is, the flesh of the sacrifices, whereby he signifieth that thing which of itself is good, cannot make another thing so: and therefore they ought not to justify themselves by their sacrifices and ceremonies: but contrary he that is unclean and not pure of heart, doeth corrupt those things and make them detestable unto God, which else are good and godly.
2:16 1 Consider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple.
2:17 1 That is, before the building was begun.
2:19 1 From the time they began to build the Temple, he promiseth that God would bless them: and albeit as yet the fruit was not come forth, yet in the gathering they should have plenty.
2:20 1 He exhorteth them to patience, and to abide till the harvest came, and then they should see God's blessings.
2:22 1 I will make a change, and renew all things in Christ, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.
2:23 1 Hereby he shoveth that there shall be no let or hindrance, when God will make this wonderful restitution of his Church.
2:24 1 Signifying that his dignity should be most excellent, which thing was accomplished in Christ.
He exhorteth the people to return to the Lord, and to eschew the wickedness of their fathers. 16 He signifieth the restitution of Jerusalem and the Temple.

In the eighth month of the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

The Lord hath been sore displeased with your fathers.

Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Turn ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the Lord of hosts.

built in it, saith the Lord of hosts, and a line shall be stretched upon Jerusalem.

17 Cry yet, and speak, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, My cities shall yet be broken with plenty: the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 Then lifted I up mine eyes and saw, and behold, four horns.

19 And I said unto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 And the Lord showed me four carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he answered, These are the horns, which have scattered Judah, so that a man durst not lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, and to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which lifted up their horn over the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 The restoring of Jerusalem and Judah.

1 I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold, a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, that I may see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and another Angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, and say, Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walls, for the multitude of men and cattle therein.

5 For I, saith the Lord, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 Ho, ho, come forth, and flee from the land of the North, saith the Lord: for I have scattered you into the four winds of the heaven, saith the Lord.

7 Save thyself, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, After this glory hath he sent me unto the nations, which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will lift up mine hand upon them: and they shall be a spoil to those that served them, and ye shall know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me.

10 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter Zion: for lo, I come, and will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.

11 And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the Lord shall inherit Judah his portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised up out of his holy place.

3 A prophecy of Christ and of his kingdom.

1 And he showed me Joshua the high Priest, standing before the Angel of the Lord, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lord said unto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan: even the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem, rebuke thee. Is not this a [brand] taken

1:17 1 The abundance shall be so great, that the places of store shall not be able to contain these blessings: that God will send, but shall even break for fullness.

1:20 1 These Carpenters or Smiths are God's instruments, which with their mallets and hammers break these hard and strong horns which should overthrow the Church, and declare that none enemy's horn is so strong, but God hath an hammer to break it in pieces.

2:1 1 This is the Angel who was Christ: for in respect of his office he is oftentimes called an Angel, but in respect of his eternal essence, is God, and so called.

2:4 1 Meaning, himself Zechariah.

2:6 1 He calleth to them, which partly for fear, and partly for their own case, remained still in captivity, and so preferred their own pri

3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.
4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to depart from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.
5 And I said, Let them set a fair diadem upon his head. So they set a fair diadem upon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the Lord stood by.
6 And the Angel of the Lord testified unto Joshua, saying,

10 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbor under the vine, and under the fig tree.
ZECHARIAH 4:8

Grace, grace unto it.

Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house: his hands shall also finish it, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you.

For who hath despised the day of small things? but they shall rejoice, and shall see the stone of two in the hand of Zerubbabel: these seven are the eyes of the Lord, which go through the whole world.

Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive trees upon the right and upon the left side thereof?

And I spake moreover, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches, which through the two golden pipes empty themselves into the gold?

And he answered me, and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

Then said he, These are the two olive branches, that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

The vision of the flying book, signifying the curse of thieves, and such as abuse the Name of God.

By the vision of the measure is signified the bringing of Judah's afflictions into Babylon.

Then I turned me, and lifted up mine eyes and looked, and behold, a flying book.

And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I looked, and behold, there came four chariots out of the land of Shinar, and it shall be established and confirmed, and set there upon her own place.

And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an Ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is the sight of them through all the earth.

And behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the Ephah.

And he said, This is wickedness, and he cast it into the midst of the Ephah, and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

Then I lifted mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a stork) and they lifted up the Ephah between the earth and the heaven.

Then said I to the Angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the Ephah?

And he said unto me, To build it an house in the land of Shinar, and it shall be established and set there upon her own place.

By the four chariots he describeth the four Monarchies.

Again, I turned and lifted up mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains, and the mountains that: and everyone that sweareth, shall be cut off, as well on this side, as on that.

I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that falsely sweareth by my Name; and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

Then the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an Ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is the sight of them through all the earth.

And behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the Ephah.

4:9 1 Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my Father for the building and preservation of my spiritual Temple.

4:10 1 Signifying, that all were discouraged at the small and poor beginnings of the Temple.

2 Whereby he signifies the plummet and line, that is, that Zerubbabel which represented Christ, should go forward with his building to the joy and comfort of the godly, though the world be against him, and though his for a while be discouraged, because they see not things pleasant to the eye.

3 That is, God hath seven eyes: meaning, a continual providence, so that neither Satan nor any power in the world, can go about to bring anything to pass to hinder his work, Zech. 5:9.

4:14 1 Which were ever green and full of oil, so that still they poured forth oil into the lamps: signifying, that God will continually maintain and preserve his Church, and endure it still with abundance and perfection of grace.

5:2 1 Because the Jews had provoked God's plagues by contemning his word, and casting off all judgment and equity, he showeth that God's curses written in this book had justly light both on them and their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would send the same among the Chaldeans their former enemies.

5:3 1 That is, useth any injury toward his neighbor.

6:1 1 By chariots here, as by horses afore, he meaneth the swift messengers of God to execute and declare his will.

2 By the brazen mountains he meaneth the external counsel, and providence of God whereby he hath from before all eternity decreed what shall come to pass, and that which neither Satan nor all the world can alter.

6:5 1 He that transgresseth the first table, and serveth not God aright but abuseth God's Name.

6:6 1 Which was a measure in dry things, containing about ten pots.

6:7 1 To cover the measure.

6:8 1 Which representeth iniquity, as in the next verse.

6:9 1 Signifying, that Satan should not have such power against the Jews to tempt them, as he had in time past, but that God would shut up iniquity in a measure as in a prison.

6:10 1 Which declared that God would execute his judgment by the means of the weak and infirm means.

6:11 1 To remove the iniquity and affliction that came for the same from Judah, to place it forever in Babylon.

6:12 1 Signifying, that he that useth any injury toward his neighbor, doth it in the name of God. 6 By the brazen mountains he meaneth the external counsel, and providence of God whereby he hath from before all eternity decreed what shall come to pass, and that which neither Satan nor all the world can alter. were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were red horses, and in the second chariot black horses,

3 And in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot, horses of divers colors, and reddish.

4 Then I answered, and said unto the Angel that talked with me, What are these, my Lord?

5 And the Angel answered, and said unto me, These are the four spirits of the heaven, which go forth from standing with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the black horse went forth into the land of the North, and the white went out after them, and they of divers colors went forth toward the South country.

7 And the reddish went out, and required to go, and pass through the world, and he said, Go, pass through the world. So they went throughout the world.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the North country, have pacified my spirit in the North country.

9 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, and of Tobijah, and Jedaiah, which are come from Babel, and come thou the same day, and go unto the house of Josiah, the son of Zephaniah.

11 Take even silver, and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak the high Priest, 12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, and saith, Behold, the man whose name is the Branch, and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the Temple of the Lord.

13 Even he shall build the Temple of the Lord, and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne, and he shall be a Priest upon his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the Temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are far off, shall come and build in the Temple of the Lord, and ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will obey the voice of the Lord your God.

7 5 The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

1 And in the fourth year of King Darius, the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chislev,

2 For they had sent unto the House of God Sherezer, and Regem-Melech and their men to pray before the Lord.

3 And to speak unto the Priests, which were in the House of the Lord of hosts, and to the Prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, and separate myself as I have done these so many years?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hosts unto me, saying,
5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the Priests, and say, When ye fasted, and mourned in the fifth and seventh month, even the seventy years, did ye fast unto me? do I approve it?
6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, did ye not eat for yourselves, and drink for your-

7 Should ye not hear the words which the Lord hath cried by the ministry of the former Prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited, and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when the South and the plain was inhabited?
8 And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah,
saying,
9 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Execute true judgment, and show mercy and compassion, every man to his brother,
10 And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger nor the poor, and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.
11 But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear.
12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the Law and the words which the Lord of hosts sent in his Spirit by the ministry of the former Prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hosts.
13 Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear, so they cried, and I would not hear, saith the Lord of hosts.
14 But I scattered them among all the nations, whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned:
for they laid the pleasant land waste.
8:14 1 Read Ezek. 18:20.

8:15 1 Which declareth that man cannot turn to God till he changes man’s heart by his spirit, and so begin to do well, which is to pardon his sins and to give him his graces.

8:19 1 Which fast was appointed when the city was besieged, and was the first fast of these four: and here the Prophet showeth, that if the Jews will repent, and turn wholly to God, they shall have no more occasion to fast, or to show signs of heaviness: for God will send them joy and gladness.

8:20 1 He declareth the great zeal that God should give the Gentiles to come to his Church, and to join with the Jews in his true religion, which should be in the kingdom of Christ.

9:1 1 Whereby he meaneth Syria.

2 God’s anger shall abide upon their chief city, and not spare so much as that.

3 When the Jews shall convert and repent, then God will destroy their enemies.

9:2 1 That is, by Damascus: meaning, that Hamath or Antioch should be under the same rod and plague.

2 He secretly showeth the cause of their destruction, because they deceived all others by their craft and subtlety, which they cloaked with this name of wisdom.

9:4 1 Though they of Tyre think themselves invincible by reason of the sea that compass them round about, yet they shall not escape God’s judgments.

9:5 1 Meaning, that all should be destroyed, save a very few, that should remain as strangers.

2 He promiseth to deliver the Jews when he shall take vengeance on their enemies for their cruelty and wrongs done to them.

3 As the Jebusites had been destroyed, so should Ekron and all the Philistines.

9:8 1 He showeth that God’s power only shall be sufficient to defend his Church against all adversaries be they never so cruel, or assemble their power never so often.

2 That is, God hath now seen the great injuries and afflictions wherewith they have been afflicted by their enemies.
joy, O daughter Jerusalem: behold, thy king cometh unto thee: he is just, and saved himself, poor and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10 And I will cut off the chariots from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem: the bow of the battle shall be broken, and he shall speak peace unto the heathen, and his dominion shall be from sea unto sea, and from the River to the end of the land.

11 Thou also shalt be saved through the blood of thy covenant. I have loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turn you to the stronghold, ye prisoners of hope: even today do I declare, that I will render the double unto thee.

13 For Judah have I bent as a bow for me: Ephraim's hand have I filled, and I have raised up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and have made thee as a giant's sword.

14 And the Lord shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall come forth with the whirlwinds of the South.

15 The Lord of hosts shall defend them, and they shall devour them, and subdue them with sling stones, and shall drink, and make a noise as through wine, and they shall be filled like bowls, and as the horns of the Altar.

16 And the Lord their God shall deliver them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the horns of the Altar.

9:9 1 That is, he hath righteousness and salvation in himself for the use and commodity of his Church.
2 Which declareth that they should not look for such a king as should be glorious in the eyes of man, but should be poor, and yet in himself have all power to deliver his: and this is meant of Christ, as Matt. 21:5.

9:10 1 No power of man or creature shall be able to let this kingdom of Christ, and he shall peaceably govern them by his word.
2 That is, from the red sea, to the sea, called Sinyacum: and by these places which the Jews knew, he meant an infinite space and compass over the whole world.
3 That is, from Euphrates.

9:11 1 Meaning, Jerusalem, or the Church which is saved by the blood of Christ whereof the blood of the sacrifices was a figure, and is here called the covenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church: and left it with them for the love that he bare unto them.
2 God sheweth that he will deliver his Church out of all dangers, seem they never so great.

9:12 1 That is, into the holy land where the city and the Temple are, where God will defend you.
2 Meaning the faithful, which seemed to be in danger of their enemies on every side, and yet lived in hope that God would restore them to liberty.
3 That is, double benefits and prosperity, in respect of that which your fathers enjoined from David's time to the captivity.

9:13 1 I will make Judah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which he here meaneth by the Grecians.

9:15 1 He promiseth that the Jews shall destroy their enemies, and have abundance and excess of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to move them to intermixture, but to sobriety, and a thankful remembrance of God's great liberality.

9:16 1 The faithful shall be preserved, and reveredence of all, that the very enemies shall be compelled to esteem them: for God's glory shall shine in them, as Josephus declareth of Alexander the great when he met Jadi the high Priest.

10:1 The Prophet reproveth the Jews, because by their own infidelity they put back God's graces promised, and so famine came by God's just judgment: therefore to avoid this plague, he calleth them to turn to God, and to pray in faith to him, and so he will give them abundance.

10:2 1 He calleth to remembrance God's punishments in times past, because they trusted not in him, but in their idols and sorcerers who ever deceived them.
2 That is, the Jews went into captivity.

10:3 1 Meaning, the cruel governors which did oppress the poor sheep. Ezek. 34:16, 17.
2 He will be merciful to his Church and cherish them as a king or prince doth his best horse which shall be for his own use in war.

10:4 1 Out of Judah shall the chief governor proceed, who shall be as a corner to uphold the building, and as a nail to fasten it together.
2 Over their enemies.

10:6 1 That is, the ten tribes, which should be gathered under Christ to the rest of the Church.
them again, for I pity them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off; for I am the Lord their God, and will hear them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be as a giant: and their heart shall rejoice as with wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad: and their heart shall rejoice in the Lord.

8 I will hiss for them: and gather them: for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase, as they have increased.

9 And I will sow them among the people, and they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children and turn again.

10 I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Asssyria: and I will bring them into the land of Gilead, and Lebanon, and place shall not be found for them.

11 And he shall go into the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the river shall dry up: and the pride of Asssyria shall be cast down, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walk in his Name, saith the Lord.

11 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithful is committed to Christ. 7 A grievous vision against Jerusalem and Judah.

1 Open thy doors, O Lebanon, and the fire shall devour thy cedars.

2 Howl, fir trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mighty are destroyed: howl ye, O oaks of Bashan, for the defenced forest is cut down.

3 There is the voice of the howling of the shepherds: for their glory is destroyed: the voice of the roaring of lion's whelps: for the pride of Jordan is destroyed.

4 Thus saith the Lord my God, Feed the sheep of the slaughter.

5 They that possess them, slay them 1and sin not: and they that sell them, say, 'Blessed be the Lord: for I am rich, and their own shepherds spare them not.

6 Surely I will no more spare those that dwell in the land, saith the Lord: but I will deliver the men every one into his neighbor's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliver them.

7 For I fed the sheep of slaughter, even the poor of the flock, and I took unto me two staves: the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the sheep.

8 Three shepherds also I cut off in one month, and my soul loathed them, and their soul abhorred me.

9 Then said I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, let it die: and that that perisheth, let it perish: and let the remnant eat, everyone the flesh of his neighbor.

10 And I took my staff, even Beauty, and brake it, that I might disannul my covenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the poor of the sheep that waited upon me, knew that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I said unto them, If ye think it good, give me my wages: and if no, leave off: so they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the Lord said unto me, Cast it unto the science, or yet thinking that they do evil.

2 He noteth the hypocrites, which ever have the Name of God in their mouths, though in their life and doings they deny God, attributing their gain to God's blessings, which cometh of the spoil of their brethren.

11:6 I will cause one to destroy another.

2 Their governors shall execute cruelty over them.

11:7 That is, the small remnant, whom he thought worthy to show mercy unto.

2 God sheweth his great benefits toward his people to convince them of greater ingratitude, which would neither be ruled by his most beautiful order of government, neither continue in the bands of brotherly unity, and therefore he breaketh both the one and the other. Some read, for Bands, Destroyers, but in verse 14 the first reading is confirmed.

11:8 Whereby he sheweth his care and diligence that he would have no evil rulers, because they should consider his great love.

2 Meaning, the people, because they would not acknowledge these great benefits of God.

11:11 I sheweth that the least part ever profit by God's judgments.

11:12 Besides their ingratitude God accuseth them of malice and wickedness, which did not only forget his benefits, but esteemed them as things of naught.
12 Of the destruction and building again of Jerusalem.

1 The burden of the word of the Lord upon Israel, saith the Lord, which spread the heavens, and laid the foundation of the earth, and formed the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a' cup of poison unto all the people round about: and also with Judah will he be in the siege against Jerusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Jerusalem an heavy stone for all people: all that lift it up, shall be torn, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness, and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the princes of Judah shall say in their hearts, The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the Lord of hosts their God.

6 In that day will I make the princes of Judah like coals of fire among the wood, and like a firebrand in the sheaf, and they shall devour all the people round about on the right hand, and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The Lord also shall preserve the tents of Judah, as afore time: therefore the glory of the house of David shall not boast, nor the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem against Judah.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and he that is feeble among them, in that day shall be as David: and the house of David shall be as God's house, and as the Angel of the Lord before them.

9 And in that day will I seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the Spirit of grace and of compassion, and they shall look upon me, whom they have pierced, and they shall lament for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and be sorry for him as one is sorry for his firstborn.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadad Rimmon in the valley of Megiddo.

12 And the land shall bewail every family apart, the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart: the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart: the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart: the family of Shimei apart, and their wives apart: all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

11:13 1 Showing that it was too little to pay his wages, which could scarce suffice to make a few tiles to cover the Temple.

11:15 1 Signifying that they should have a certain kind of regiment and outward show of government: but in effect it should be nothing: for they should be wolves, and devouing beasts instead of shepherds.

11:16 2 And is in health and sound.

11:17 1 By the arms he signifieth strength, as he doth wisdom and judgments by the eye that is, the plague of God shall take away both thy strength and judgment.

12:1 1 That is, the ten tribes, which neglected God's benefit in delivering their brethren, and had rather remain in captivity, than to return home when God called them.

12:2 1 Jerusalem shall be defended against all her enemies: so shall God defend all Judah also, and shall destroy the enemies.

12:5 1 Every captain, that had many under him afore, shall now think that the small power of Jerusalem shall be sufficient to defend them against all enemies, because the Lord is among them.

12:7 1 The people which are now as it were dispersed by the fields, and lie open to their enemies, shall be no less preserved by my power, than if they were under their kings (which is meant by the 5potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them.

And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I mine other staff: even the Bands, that I might dissolve the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the Lord said unto me, Take to thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not look for the thing that is lost, nor seek the tender lambs, nor heal that that is hurt, nor feed that that standeth up, but he shall eat flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 O idol shepherd that leaveth the flock: the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye. His arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

12:10 1 They shall have the feeling of my grace by faith, and know that I have compassion on them.

12:11 1 They shall lament and repent exceedingly for their offences against God.

12:12 1 That is, in all places where the Jews shall remain.

12:15 1 Signifying, that this mourning or repentance should not be a vain ceremony: but everyone touched with his own griefs, shall lament.

12:12 1 Which was the name of a town and place near to Megiddo where Josiah was slain, 2 Chron. 35:22.

12:13 1 Called also Simeon.

12:14 1 To wit, which were elected by grace, and preserved from the common destruction.
13 1 Of the fountain of grace. 2 Of the clean ri-dance of idolatry. 3 The zeal of the godly against false prophets.

1  In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness.

2  And in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land: and they shall no more be remembered: and I will cause the prophets, and the unclean spirit to depart out of the land.

3  And when any shall yet prophesy, his father and his mother that begat him, shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live: for thou speakest lies in the Name of the Lord: and his father and his mother that begat him, shall thrust him through, when he prophesieth.

4  And in that day shall the prophets be ashamed everyone of his vision, when he hath prophesied: neither shall they wear a rough garment to deceive.

5  But he shall say, I am no Prophet: I am an husbandman: for man taught me to be an herdsman from my youth up.

6  And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

7  ¶ Arise, O sword, upon my shepherd, and upon the man, that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts:
smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered;
and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones.

8  And in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off, and die: but the third shall be left therein.

9  And I will bring that third part through the fire, and will purge them as the silver is fined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my Name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people, and they shall say, The Lord is my God.

14 8 Of the doctrine that shall proceed out of the Church, and of the restoration thereof.

1  Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2  For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle, and the city shall be taken, and the houses spoiled, and the women defiled, and half of the city shall go into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3  Then the Lord shall go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4  And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of olives, which is before Jerusalem on the Eastside, and the mount of olives shall cleave in the midst thereof: toward the East and toward the West there shall be a very great valley, and half of the mountain shall remove toward the North, and half of the mountain toward the South.

5  And ye shall flee unto the valley of the mountains: for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled from the earthquake, in the days of Uzziah king of Judah:
and the Lord my God shall come, and all the Saints with thee.

6  And in that day shall there be no clear light but dark.
And there shall be a day (it is known to the Lord) neither day nor night, but about the evening time it shall be light.

In that day shall there be waters of life go out from Jerusalem, half of them toward the East sea, and half of them toward the uttermost sea, and shall be, both in summer and winter.

And the Lord shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord, and his Name shall be one.

All the land shall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon, toward the South of Jerusalem, and it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place: from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel unto the king's winepresses.

And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more destruction, but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all people, that have fought against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away, though they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

But in that day a great tumult of the Lord shall be among them, and everyone shall take the hand of his neighbor, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbor.

And Judah shall fight also against Jerusalem, and the arm of all the heathen shall be gathered round about, with gold and silver, and great abundance of apparel.

Yet this shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel and of the ass, and of all the beasts that be in these tents at this plague.

But it shall come to pass that everyone that is left of all the nations, which came against Jerusalem, shall go up from year to year to worship the King the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of Tabernacles.

And who so will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King the Lord of hosts, even upon them shall come no rain.

And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, it shall not rain upon them. This shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the heathen, that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

In that day shall there be written upon the briddles of the horses, The holiness unto the Lord, and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holy unto the Lord of hosts, and all they that sacrifice, shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hosts.

Signifying, that there should be great troubles in the Church, and that the time hereof is in the Lord's hands, yet at length (which is here meant by the evening) God would send comfort.

That is, the spiritual graces of God, which should ever continue in most abundance.

All idolatry and superstition shall be abolished, and there shall be one God, one faith, and one religion.

This new Jerusalem shall be seen through all the world, and shall excel the first in excellency, wealth, and greatness.

God will not only raise up war without, but sedition at home to try them.

1. Signifying, that to what service they were put now (whether to labor, or to serve in war) they were now holy, because the Lord had sanctified them.
2. As precious the one as the other, because they shall be sanctified.

But all shall be pure and clean, and there shall neither be hypocrites, nor any that shall corrupt the true service of God.
MALACHI

1 A complaint against Israel, and chiefly the Priests.

1 The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by the ministry of Malachi.

2 I have loved you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother, saith the Lord? Yet I loved Jacob,

3 And I hated Esau, and made his mountains waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places: yet saith the Lord of hosts, They shall build, but I will destroy it, and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and the people, with whom the Lord is angry forever.

5 And your eyes shall see it, and ye shall say, The Lord will be magnified upon the border of Israel.

6 A son honoreth his father, and a servant his master. If then I be a father, where is my honor? and if I be a master, where is my fear, saith the Lord of hosts unto you, O Priests that despise my Name? and ye say, Wherein have we despised thy Name?

7 Ye offer unclean bread upon mine altar: and you say, Wherein have we polluted thee? in that ye say, The table of the Lord is not to be regarded.

8 And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is not evil: and if ye offer the lame and sick, it is not evil: offer it now unto thy princes: will he be content with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hosts?

9 And now I pray you, 'pray before God that he may have mercy upon us: this hath been by your means: will he regard your persons, saith the Lord of hosts?

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors, and kindle not fire on mine altar in vain? I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same, my Name is 'great among the Gentiles, and in every place incense shall be offered unto my Name, and a pure offering: for my Name is great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts.

12 But ye have polluted it, in that ye say, 'The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruit thereof even his meat is not to be regarded.

13 Ye said also, Behold, it is a weariness, and ye have snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hosts, and ye offered that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick: thus ye offered an offering: should I accept this of your hand, saith the Lord?

14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his evil: and if ye offer the lame and sick, it is not evil: offer it now unto thy princes: will he be content with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hosts?
flock 1 a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great king, saith the Lord of hosts, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

2 Threatenings against the Priests, being seducers of the people.

1 And now, O ye 1Priests, this commandment is for you.
2 If ye will not hear it, nor consider it in your heart, to give glory 1unto my Name, saith the Lord of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and will curse your 2blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not consider it in your heart.
3 Behold, I will corrupt 1your seed, and cast dung upon your faces, even the 2dung of your solemn feasts, and you shall be like unto it.
4 And ye shall know, that I have 1sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant, which I made with Levi, might stand, saith the Lord of hosts.
5 My 1covenant was with him of life and peace, and I 2gave him fear, and he feared me, and was afraid before 1my Name.
6 The Law of 1truth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquity found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.
7 For the Priest's 1lips should preserve knowledge, and they should seek the Law at his mouth: for he is the 1messenger of the Lord of hosts.

1:14 1 That is, hath ability to serve the Lord according to his word, and yet will serve him according to his covetous mind.
2:1 1 He speaketh unto them chiefly, but under them he containeth the people also.
2:2 2 That is, the abundance of God's benefits.
2:3 1 Your seed sown shall come to no profit.
2:4 1 The Priests objected against the Prophet that he could not reprove them, but he must speak against the Priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but he sheweth that the office is nothing slandered, when these villains and dung are called by their own names.
2:5 1 He sheweth what were the two conditions of the covenant made with the tribe of Levi on God's part, that he would give them long life and felicity, and on their part, that they should faithfully serve him according to his word.
2:6 1 He served me and set forth my glory with all humilitude and submission.
2:7 1 He sheweth that the Priests ought to have knowledge to instruct others in the word of the Lord.
2:7 2 Showing that whosoever doth not declare God's will, is not his messenger, and Priest.
2:8 1 The Prophet accuseth the ingratitude of the Jews toward God and man: for seeing they were all born of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought neither to offend God nor their brethren.
2:9 1 Whereby they had bound themselves to God to be an holy people.
2:10 1 They have joined themselves in marriage with them that are heathen.
2:11 1 That is, the Priest.
2:12 1 Ye are become a reproach to the people.
2:13 1 Yet cause the people to lament, because that God doth not regard their sacrifices, so that they seem to sacrifice in vain.
2:14 1 This is another fault, whereof he accuseth them, that is, that they broke the laws of marriage.
2:15 1 As the one half of thyself.
2:16 1 She that was joined to thee by a solemn covenant, and by the invocation of God's name.
2:17 1 Did not God make man and woman as one flesh and not many?
2:18 1 By his power and virtue he could have made many women for one man.
2:19 1 Such as should be born in lawful and moderate marriage, wherein is no excess of lusts.
2:20 1 Contain yourselves within your bounds, and be sober in mind, and bridle your affections.
2:21 1 Not that he doth allow divorcement, but of two faults he sheweth, which is the less.
2:22 1 He thinketh it sufficient to keep his wife still, albeit he take others, and so as it were covereth his fault.

8 But ye are gone out of the way: ye have caused many to fall by the Law: ye have broken the covenant of Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.
9 Therefore have I also made you to be despised, and vile before all the people, because ye kept not my ways, but have been partial in the Law.
10 Have we not all one 1father? hath not one God made us? why do we transgress everyone against his brother, and break the covenant of 2our fathers?
11 Judah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Israel hath defiled the holiness of the Lord, which he loved, and hath married the 1daughter of a strange god.
12 The Lord will cut off the man that doeth this: both the master and the servant out of the Tabernacle of Jacob, and him that 1offerer an offering unto the Lord of hosts.
13 And this have ye done again, and 1covered the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, neither received acceptably at your hands.
14 Yet ye say, 1Wherein? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed: yet is she thy 1companion, and the wife of thy 2covenant.
15 And did not 1he make one? yet had he 2abundance of spirit: and wherefore one? because he sought a godly 1seed: therefore keep yourselves in your 2spirit, and let none trespass against the wife of his youth.
16 If thou hatest 1her, 2put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel, yet he covereth 3the injury under his heart.
garment, saith the Lord of hosts: therefore keep yourselves in your spirit, and transgress not.

17 Ye have wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Everyone that doeth evil, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them. Or where is the God of judgment?

3 Of the messenger of the Lord, John Baptist, and of Christ's office.

1 Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord whom ye seek, shall speedily come to his Temple: even the messenger of the Covenant, whom ye desire: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall endure, when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fire, and like fuller's soap.

3 And he shall sit down to try and fine the silver: he shall even fine the sons of Levi and purify them as gold and silver, that they may bring offerings unto the Lord in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be acceptable unto the Lord, as in old time and in the years afore.

5 And I will come near to you to judgment, and I will be a swift witness against the soothsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that wrongfully keep back the hireling's wages, and vex the widow, and the fatherless, and oppress the stranger, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

7 From the days of your fathers, ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them: return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the Lord of hosts: but ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 Will a man spoil his gods? yet have ye spoiled me: but ye say, Wherein have we spoiled thee? In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have spoiled me, even this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in my house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven unto you, and pour you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruit of your ground, neither shall your vine be barren in the field, saith the Lord of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a pleasant land, saith the Lord of hosts.

13 Your words have been stout against me, saith the Lord: yet ye say, What have we spoken against thee?

14 Ye have said, It is in vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his commandment, and that we walked humbly before the Lord of hosts?

15 Therefore we count the proud blessed: even they that work wickedness, are set up, and they that tempt God, yea, they are delivered.

16 Then spake they that feared the Lord, everyone to his neighbor, and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his Name.

17 And they shall be to me, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day 'that I shall do this, for a flock, and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 Then shall you return, and discern between the righteous and wicked, between him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

4 The day of the Lord before which Elijah should come.

1 For behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble, and the day that cometh, shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, and shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 But unto you that fear my name, shall the sun of righteousness arise, and health shall be under his wings, and ye shall go forth and grow up as fat calves.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked: for they shall be dust under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts.

4 1Remember the Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel with the statutes and judgments.

5 Behold, I will send you 1Elijah the Prophet before the coming of the great and 2fearful day of the Lord.

6 And he shall 1turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and 2smite the earth with cursing.

The New Testament
1 That Jesus is that Messiah, the Savior promised to the Fathers. 18 The nativity of Christ.

1 The 6,7,8 book of the 9 generation of Jesus Christ the son of David, the 10 son of Abraham. 2 11 Abraham begat Isaac. 12 And Isaac begat Jacob. And 13 Jacob begat Judah and his brethren. 3 And Judah begat Perez, and Zerah of Tamar. And Perez begat Hezron. And Hezron begat Ram. 4 And Ram begat Amminadab. And Amminadab begat Nahshon. And Nahshon begat Salmon. 5 And Salmon begat Boaz of Rahab. And Boaz begat Obed of Ruth. And Obed begat Jesse. 6 And Jesse begat David the King. And David the King begat Solomon of her that was the wife of Uriah. 7 And Solomon begat Rehoboam. And Rehoboam begat Abijah. And Abijah begat Asa. 8 And Asa begat Jehoshaphat. And Jehoshaphat begat Joram. And Joram begat Uzziah. 9 And Uzziah begat Jotham. And Jotham begat Ahaz. And Ahaz begat Hezekiah. 10 And Hezekiah begat Manasseh. And Manasseh begat Amon. And Amon begat Josiah. 11 And Josiah begat Jakim. 12 And Jakim begat Jeconiah and his brethren about the time they were carried away into Babylon. 13 And Zerubbabel begat Abiud. And Abiud begat Eliakim. And Eliakim begat Azor. 14 And Azor begat Zadok. And Zadok begat Achim. And Achim begat Eliud. 15 And Eliud begat Eleazar. And Eleazar begat Matthan. And Matthan begat Jacob. 16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, that is called Christ. 17 So all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourteen generations. And from David until they were carried away into Babylon, fourteen generations: and after they were carried away into Babylon until Christ, fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the birth of Jesus Christ was thus, When as his mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But while he thought these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, the son of David, fear not to take Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

22 And all this was done that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bear a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with us.

23 ¶ Then Joseph being raised from sleep, did as the Angel of the Lord had enjoined him, and took his wife.

24 But he knew her not, till she had brought forth
2 The wise men, who are the firstfruits of the Gentiles, worship Christ. 14 Joseph fled into Egypt with Jesus and his mother. 16 Herod slayeth the children.

1 When Jesus then was born at Bethlehem in Judea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came Wise men from the East to Jerusalem, 2 Saying, Where is the King of the Jews that is born? for we have seen his star in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When king Herod heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the chief Priests and Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, At Bethlehem in Judea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 And thou Bethlehem in the land of Judah, art not the least among the Princes of Judah: for out of thee shall come the governor that shall feed my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privately called the Wise men, and diligently inquired of them the time of the star that appeared,

8 And sent them to Bethlehem, saying, Go, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 So when they had heard the king, they departed: and lo, the star which they had seen in the East, went before them, till it came and stood over the place where the babe was.

10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with an exceeding great joy.

11 And went into the house, and found the babe with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him, and opened their treasuries, and presented unto him gifts, even gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

2:1 Christ a poor child, laid down in a crib, and nothing set by of his own people, receiveth notwithstanding a noble witness of his divinity from heaven, and of his kingly estate of strangers: which his own also unwittingly allow of, although they do not acknowledge him.

2 For there was another in the tribe of Zebulun.

3 Wise and learned men: It is a Persian word which they use in this sense, that he was a wise man, and of good learning.

2:3 Was much moved, for he was a stranger, and came to the kingdom by force: and the Jews were troubled: for wickedness is mad and raging.

2:4 The chief priests, that is, such as were of Aaron's family, which were divided into four and twenty orders, 1 Chron. 14:5 and 2 Chron. 36:14.

2:5 They that expound the Law to the people, for the Hebrews take this word of another, which signifieth as much as to expound and declare.

2:6 Though thou be a small town, yet shalt thou be very famous and notable through the birth of the Messiah, who shall be born in thee.

2:11 A kind of humble and lovely reverence.

2:12 The rich and costly presents, which they brought him.

2:13 Christ being yet scarce born, beginneth to be crucified for us, both in himself, and also in his members.

2:17 For God speaketh by the mouth of the Prophets.

2:18 A voice of lamenting, weeping, and howling.

2:19 Christ is brought up in Nazareth, after the death of the tyrant by God's providence: that by the very name of the place, it might plainly appear to the world, that he is the Lord's true Nazarite.
3:1 And when Joseph went to dwell at Nazareth, but a great while after, about the space of 15 years: for in the 30 year of his age was Not when Joseph went to dwell at Nazareth, but a great while after, about the space of 15 years: for in the 30 year of his age was Jesus baptized of John: therefore by those days is meant, at that time that Jesus remained as yet an inhabitant of the town of Nazareth.
2 John, who through his singular holiness and rare austerity of life caused all men to cast their eyes upon him, prepareth the way for Christ following fast on his heels, as the Prophet Isaiah foretold, and delivereth the sum of the Gospel, which in short space after should be deliverte more fully.
3 In a hilly country, which was notwithstanding inhabited, for Zechariah dwelt there, Luke 1:6, and there was Joab’s house, 1 Kings 2:34; and besides these, Joshua maketh mention of six towns that were in the wilderness, Josh. 15:62.
4 The word in the Greek tongue signifieth a changing of our minds and heart from evil to better.
5 And this John had his garment of camel’s hair, and a girdle of a skin about his loins, his meat was also locusts and wild honey.
6 Then went out to him Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan, writing their sins.
7 Now when he saw many of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the anger to come?
8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy amendment of life.
9 And think not to say with yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able even of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.
10 And now also is the axe put to the root of the tree: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.
11 Indeed I baptize you with water to amendment of life, but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear, he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.
12 Which hath his fan in his hand, and will make his paths straight.
13 Then came Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John to be baptized of him.
14 But John earnestly put him back, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?
15 Then Jesus answering, said to him, Let be now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness.
16 And Jesus when he was baptized, came straight out of the water. And lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and John saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and [lighting] upon him.
17 And lo, a voice came from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

4:1 Christ is tempted. He vanquished the devil with Scripture. The angels minister unto him. He preached repentance, and that himself is come. The calling of Peter, Andrew. James and John. He preacheth the Gospel, and healeth the diseased.

1 Then was Jesus led aside of the Spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted of the devil.
2 And when he had fasted 1 forty days, and forty nights, he was afterward hungry.

3 Then came to him the tempter, and said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answering, said, It is written, 2Man shall not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil took him up into the holy city, and set him on a 3 pinnacle of the Temple.

6 And said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down, for it is written, that he will give his Angels charge over thee, and with their hands they shall lift thee up, lest at any time thou shouldest dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, 4Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the devil took him up into an exceeding high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them,

9 And said to him, All these will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then said Jesus unto him, Avoid Satan: for it is written, 5That no man might fall down: as was appointed by 11 That the devil left him: and behold, the Angels came and ministered unto him.

12 And when Jesus had heard that John was committed to prison, he returned into Galilee,

13 And leaving Nazareth, went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is near the sea in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali,

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the Prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali by the way of the 1sea, beyond Jordan, 2Galilee of the Gentiles:

16 The people which sat in darkness, saw great light: and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is risen up.

17 From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Amend your lives: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 ¶ And Jesus walking by the sea of Galilee saw two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers.)

19 And he said unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway leaving the nets, followed him.

21 And when he was gone forth from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets, and he called them.

22 And they without tarrying, leaving the ship and their father, followed him.

23 So Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness, and every disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abroad through all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people, that were taken with divers diseases, and torments, and them that were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy: and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

---

4:2 1 Full forty days.
4:5 1 The battlement wherewith the flat roof of the temple was compassed about, that no man might fall down: as was appointed by the Law, Deut. 22:8.
4:7 1 Word for word, Thou shalt not go on still in tempting.
4:12 1 When the Herald’s mouth is stopped, the Lord revealeth himself, and bringeth full light into the darkness of this world, preaching free forgiveness of sins to them that repent.
4:13 1 Which was a town a great deal more famous than Nazareth was.
4:15 Of Tiberias, or because that country bended toward Tyre, which standeth upon the sea that cutteth the midst of the world.
4:17 1 Is come to you.
4:18 1 Christ thinking by time, that he should at length depart from us, even at the beginning of his preaching geth him disciples after an heavenly sort, men indeed poor, and utterly unlearned, and therefore such as might be least suspected witnesses of the truth of those things which they heard and saw.

4:23 1 Christ assueth the hearts of the believers of his spiritual and saving virtue, by healing the diseases of the body.
4:24 1 Which at every full Moon, or other changes of the Moon, are taken with divers diseases, and torments, and them that were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy: and he healed them.
4:25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judea, and from beyond Jordan.
5

1 Who are blessed. 13 The Apostles are the salt and light of the world. 14 The city set on an hill. 15 The candle. 16 Good works. 19 The fulfilling of Christ's commandments. 21 What killing is. 23 Reconciliation is set before sacrifice. 27 Adultery. 29 The plucking out of the eye. 30 Cutting off of the hand. 31 The bill of divorcement. 33 Not to swear. 44 To love our enemies. 48 Perfectness.

1 And when he saw the multitude, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came to him.

2 1And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 3Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 1Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 5Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 6Blessed are they which hunger and thirst for righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 7Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 8Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 Blessed are they which suffer persecution for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 5Blessed shall ye be when men revile you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you for my sake, falsely.

12 Rejoice and be glad, for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

13 5Ye 3are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.

15 5Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 5Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your father which is in heaven.

17 5Think not that I am come to destroy the Law, or the Prophets. I am not come to destroy them, but to 5fulfil them.

18 5For truly I say unto you, Till heaven and earth perish, one jot or one tittle of the Law shall not escape, till all things be fulfilled.

19 5Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall observe and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, except your righteousness exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 5Ye have heard that it was said unto them of the prophets, Whosoever shall smite his father or his mother shall be culpable of judgment.

22 But I say unto you, ye shall not be punished by the Council.
And whosoever shall say, Fool, shall be worthy to be punished with 'hell' fire.

23 1 If then thou bring thy gift to the 'altar,' and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee,

24 Leave there thine offering before the altar, and go thy way: first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 2 1 Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him, lest thine adversary deliver thee to the Judge, and the Judge deliver thee to the sergeant, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou hast 3 paid the utmost farthing.

27 4 Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, 5 Thou shalt not commit adultery.

28 But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 Wherefore if thy 'right eye cause thee' 6 to offend, pluck it out and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 Also if thy right hand make thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said also, 7 Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorcement.

32 But I say unto you, whosoever shall put away his wife (except it be for fornication) causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

33 1 Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, 'Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform thine oaths to the Lord.

34 But I say unto you, Swear not at all, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God:

35 Nor yet by the earth, for it is his footstool:
neither by Jerusalem: for it is the city of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thine head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37 8 But let thy communication be 'Yea, yea:
Nay, nay.' For whatsoever is more than these, cometh of evil.

38 9 Ye have heard that it hath been said, An 'eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.'

39 But I say unto you, 10 Resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41 And whosoever will compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 'Give to him that asketh, and from him that would borrow of thee, turn not away.

43 But I say unto you, 11 Love your enemies: bless them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you,
and persecute you,

45 2 That ye may be the children of your father

5:23 1 The covetous Pharisees taught that God was appeased by the sacrifices appointed in the Law, which they themselves devoured. But Christ on the contrary deneth that God accepteth man’s offering, unless he maketh satisfaction to his brother whom he hath offended: and saith moreover, that these stubborn and stiffnecked despisers of their brethren, shall never escape the wrath and curse of God, before they have made full satisfaction to their brethren.

2 He applieth all this speech to the state of his time, when as there was an altar standing in Jerusalem, and therefore they are very fool­ish, that gather hereupon, that we must build altars, and use sacrifices: but they are more fools, which draw that to purgatory, which is spoken of peacemaking and atonement one with another.

5:25 1 Thou shalt be dealt withall to the utmost extremity.

5:27 1 He is taken for an adulterer before God, whatsoever he be,
thou shalt be dealt withall to the utmost extremity.

5:33 1 The meaning of the third commandment against the froward opinion and judgment of the Scribes, which excused by oaths or indirect forms of swearing.

5:35 1 That ye may be the children of your father

that is divorced, committeth adultery.

5:38 1 He showeth clean contrary to the doctrine of the Scribes, that the sum of the second table must be understood, that we may in no wise render evil for evil, but rather suffer double injury, and do well to them that are our deadly enemies.

5:45 1 A double reason: the one is taken of relatives, that children must be like their father: the other is taken of comparison, The children of God must be better, than the children of this world.
that is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to arise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and unjust.

46 For if ye love them, which love you, what reward shall you have? Do not the Publicans even the same?

47 And if ye be friendly to your brethren only, what singular thing do ye? do not even the Publicans likewise?

48 Ye shall therefore be perfect, as your Father which is in heaven, is perfect.

6:1 Alms. 5 Prayer. 14 Forgiving our brother. 16 Fasting. 19 Our treasure. 20 We must succor the poor. 24 God and riches. 25 Careful seeking for meat and drink, and apparel, forbidden. 33 The kingdom of God and his righteousness.

1 Take heed that ye give not your alms before men to be seen of them, or else ye shall have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore when thou givest thine alms, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blown before thee, as the hypocrites do in the Synagogues and in the streets, to be praised of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

3 But when thou dost thine alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth,

4 That thine alms may be in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret, he will reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, be not as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the Synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, because they would be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber: and when thou hast shut thy door, pray unto thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 Also when ye pray, use no vain repetitions as the Heathen: for they think to be heard for their much babbling.

8 Be ye not like them therefore: for your Father knoweth whereof ye have need, before ye ask of him.

9 If after this manner therefore pray ye, Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done even in earth as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors.

13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory for ever. Amen.

14 For if ye do forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15 But if ye do not forgive men their trespasses, no more will your Father forgive you your trespasses.

16 Moreover, when ye fast, look not sour as the hypocrites: for they disfigure their faces, that they might seem unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, that they have their reward.

17 But when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face,

18 That thou seem not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, will reward thee openly.

19 Lay not up treasures for yourselves upon the earth, where the moth and canker corrupt, and where thieves dig through and steal.

20 But lay up treasures for yourselves in heaven, where neither the moth nor canker corrupteth, and where thieves neither dig through nor steal.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The light of the body is the eye: if then thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be light.

23 But if thine eye be wicked, then all thy body shall be dark. Wherefore if the light that is in thee, be darkness, how great is that darkness?

24 No man can serve two masters: for either may suffice our nature and complexion.

6:13 From the Devil, or from all adversity.

6:14 They that forgive wrongs, to them sins are forgiven, but revenge is prepared for them that revenge.

6:16 Against such as hunt after a name of holiness, by fasting.

2 They suffer not their first hue to be seen, that is to say, they mar the natural color of their faces, that they may seem lean and palefaced.

6:19 Those men’s labors are shown to be vain which pass not for the assured treasure of everlasting life, but spend their lives in scraping together frail and vain riches.

22 Men do maliciously and wickedly put out even the little light of nature that is in them.

2 The judgment of the mind: that as the body is with the eyes, so our whole life may be ruled with right reason, that is to say, with the Spirit of God wherewith we are lightened.

24 God will be worshipped of the whole man.

2 Which be at jar together, for if two agree, they are as one.
MATTHEW 6:25 958

he shall hate the one, and love the other, or else he shall lean to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and riches.

25 Therefore I say unto you, be not careful for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink: nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more worth than meat? and the body than raiment?

26 Behold the fowls of the heaven: for they sow not, neither reap, nor carry into the barns, yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 Which of you by taking care is able to add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why care ye for raiment? Learn how the Lilies of the field do grow: they are not wearied, neither spin:

29 Yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the grass of the field which is today, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall he not do much more unto you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or what shall we drink? or wherewith shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things seek the Gentiles: for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be ministered unto you.

34 Care not then for the morrow, for the morrow shall care for itself: the day hath enough with his own grief.

1 We may not give judgment of our neighbors, 6 Nor cast that which is holy unto dogs. 13 The broad and strait way. 15 False prophets. 18 The tree and fruit. 24 The house built on a rock. 26 and on the sand.

1 Judge not, that ye be not judged. 2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged, and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you again.

3 And why seest thou the mote, that is in thy brother's eye, and perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how sayest thou to thy brother, Suffer me to cast out the mote out of thine eye, and behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Hypocrite, first cast out that beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 Give ye not that which is holy to dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they tread them under their feet, and turning again, all to rent you.

7 Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall find: knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

8 For whatsoever asketh, receiveth: and he that seeth seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 For what man is there among you, which if his son ask him bread, would give him a stone? or if he ask fish, will he give him a serpent?

10 Or if he ask fish, will he give him a serpent? or if he ask a stone, will he give him an eagle?

11 If ye then, which are evil, can give to your children good gifts, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven, give good things to them that ask him?

12 Therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do to you: even so do ye to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets.

13 Enter in at the strait gate: for it is the wide gate, and broad way that leadeth to destruction: and many there be which go in thereat.

14 Because the gate is strait, and the way narrow that leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. 4Do men gather grapes of thorns? or figs of thistles?

17 So every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.
18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.
19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.
20 Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them.
21 Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth my Father’s will which is in heaven.
22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not by thy Name prophesied, and by thy name cast out devils? and by thy name done many great works?
23 And then will I profess to them, I never knew you, depart from me ye that work iniquity.
24 Whosoever then heareth of me these words, and doeth the same, I will liken him to a wise man, which hath builded his house on a rock:
25 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and it fell not: for it was grounded on a rock,
26 But whosoever heareth these my words, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto an unwise man, which hath builded his house upon the sand:
27 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and it fell, and the fall thereof was great.
28 And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these words, the people were astonished at his doctrine.
29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the Scribes.

8 1 The Leper cleansed. 5 The Centurion’s faith. 11 The calling of the Gentiles. 12 and casting out of the Jews. 14 Peter’s mother-in-law healed. 19 A Scribe desirous to follow Christ. 23 The tempest on the sea. 28 Two possessed with devils cured. 32 The devils go into swine.

1 Now when he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.
2 And lo, there came a Leper and worshipped him, saying, Master, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.
3 And Jesus putting forth his hand, touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean: and immediately his leprosy was cleansed.
4 Then Jesus said unto him, See thou tell no man, but go, and show thyself unto the Priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a witness to them.
5 When Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a Centurion, beseeching him.
6 And said, Master, my servant lieth sick at home of the palsy, and is grievously pained.
7 And Jesus said unto him, I will come and heal him.
8 But the Centurion answered, saying, Master, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.
9 For I am a man also under the authority of another, and have soldiers under me: and I say to one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.
10 When Jesus heard that, he marveled, and said to them that followed him, Verily, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, even in Israel.
11 But I say unto you, that many shall come from the East and West, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven.
12 And the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into utter darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
13 Then Jesus said unto the Centurion, Go thy way, and as thou hast believed, so be it unto thee. And his servant was healed the same hour.
14 And when Jesus came to Peter’s house, he saw his wife’s mother laid down, and sick of a fever.
15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: so she arose, and ministered unto them.
16 When the Even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick, 17 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Isaiah the Prophet, saying, He took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ And when Jesus saw great multitudes of people about him, he commanded them to go over the water.

19 Then came there a certain Scribe, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 But Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have nests, but the Son of man hath not whereon to rest his head.

21 And another of his disciples said unto him, Master, suffer me first to go, and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me, and let the dead bury the dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entered into the ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, so that the ship was covered with waves: but he was asleep.

25 Then his disciples came, and awoke him, saying, Master, save us: we perish.

26 And he said unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea: and there was a great calm.

27 And the men marveled, saying, What man is this, that both the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ¶ And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils which came out of the graves very fierce, so that no man might go by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, saying, Jesus the son of God, what have we to do with thee? Art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 Now there was afar off from them, a great herd of swine feeding.

31 And the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. So they went out of the city, and entered into the herd of swine:

33 and behold, the whole herd of swine ran headlong into the sea, and died in the water.

34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him to depart out of their coasts.

1 Then he entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.

2 And lo, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy laid on a bed. And Jesus seeing their faith, said to the sick of the palsy, Son be of good comfort: thy sins are forgiven thee.

3 And behold, certain of the Scribes said with themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 But when Jesus saw their thoughts, he said, Wherefore think ye evil things in your hearts?

5 For whether is it easier to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 And that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority in earth to forgive sins (then said he unto the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go to thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his own house.

8 So when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such authority to men.

9 ¶ And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man sitting at the custom, named Matthew, and said to him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, behold, many Publicans and sinners that came thither, sat down at the table with Jesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw that, they said to his disciples, Why eateth your Master with Publicans and sinners?

12 Now when Jesus heard it, he said unto them, The whole need not the Physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn what this is, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came the disciples of John to him, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the marriage chamber mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 Moreover, no man pieceth an old garment with a piece of new cloth: for that should fill it up, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

17 Neither do they put new wine into old vessels: for then the vessels would break, and the wine would be spilled, and the vessels would perish: but they put new wine into new vessels, and so are both preserved.

18 ¶ While he thus spake unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is now deceased: but come and lay thine hand on her, and she shall live.

19 And Jesus arose and followed him, crying, and saying, O son of David, have mercy upon us.

20 (And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment.

21 For she said in herself, If I may touch but his garment, I shall be whole.

22 Then Jesus turned him about, and seeing her, did say, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that same moment.)

23 ¶ Now when Jesus came into the ruler’s house, and saw the minstrels and the multitude making noise, 24 He said unto them, Get you hence: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 And when the multitude were put forth, he went in and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And this bruit went throughout all that land.

27 ¶ And as Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, O son of David, have mercy upon us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind came to him, and Jesus said unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? And they said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Jesus gave them great charge, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But when they were departed, they spread abroad his fame throughout all that land.

32 ¶ And as they went out, behold, they brought unto him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: then the multitude marveled, saying, The like was never seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said, ¶ He casteth out devils, through the prince of devils.

35 ¶ And Jesus went about all cities and towns, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

36 ¶ But when he saw the multitude, he had compassion upon them, because they were dispersed, and scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

37 ¶ Then said he to his disciples, Surely the harvest is great, but the laborers are few.

38 Wherefore pray the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth laborers into his harvest.

10 ¶ The gift of healing given to the Apostles. 5 They are sent to preach the Gospel. 13 Peace. 14 Shaking off the dust. 18 Affliction. 22 Continuance unto the end. 23 Fleeing from persecution. 28 Fear. 29 Two sparrows. 30 Hairs of our head. 32 To acknowledge the hand.
And he called his twelve disciples unto him, and gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every sickness, and every disease.

Now the names of the twelve Apostles are these. The first is Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

Philip and Bartholomew: Thomas, and Matthew that Publican: James the son of Alphaeus, and Lebbæus whose surname was Thaddæus:

Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

These twelve did Jesus send forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the cities of the Samaritans enter ye not:

But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

The sum of the Gospel: or preaching of the Apostles.

A man of Kerioth. Now Kerioth was in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15:25.

The sum of the Gospel or preaching of the Apostles.

Mirsacles are dependencies of the word.

The ministers of the word must cast away all cares that might hinder them the least wise that might be.

For this journey, to wit, both that nothing might hinder them, and also that they might feel some taste of God’s providence: for at their return back, the Lord asketh of them, whether they lacked anything by the way, Luke 22:35.

God will provide you meat.

Happy are they that receive the preaching of the Gospel: and unhappy are they, that refuse it.

It is manner of speech taken from the Hebrews, whereby they meant all kind of happiness.

Christ sheweth how the ministers must behave themselves under the cross.

You shall be in great dangers.

If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more them of his household?

Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be disclosed, nor hid, that shall not be known.

What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye on the houses.
28 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved.
29 Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.
30 But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.
31 Fear not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.
32 Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.
33 But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.
34 Think not that I am come to send peace into the earth, but the sword.
35 For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.
36 And a man's enemies shall be they of his own household.
37 He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me. And he that loveth son, or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me.
38 And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth me, is not worthy of me.
39 He that will find his life, shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake, shall find it.
40 He that receiveth you, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.
41 He that receiveth a Prophet in the name of a Prophet, shall receive a Prophet's reward: and he that receiveth a righteous man, in the name of a righteous man, shall receive the reward of a righteous man.
42 And whosoever shall give unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.
which was to come.

15 ¶ He that hath ears to hear let him hear.

16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto little children which sit in the markets, and call unto their fellows, 17 And say, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced, we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

19 The Son of men came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a glutton and a drinker of wine, a friend unto Publicans and sinners: but wisdom is justified of her children.

20 ¶ Then began he to upbraid the cities, wherein most of his great works were done, because they repented not.

21 Woe be to thee Chorazin: Woe be to thee Bethsaida: for if the great works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they had repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say to you, It shall be easier for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, which art lifted up unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the great works, which have been done in thee, had been done among them of Sodom, they had remained to this day.

24 But I say unto you, that it shall be easier for them of the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25 At that time Jesus answered and said, I give thee thanks, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise, and men of understanding, and hast opened them unto babes.

26 It is so, O Father, because thy good pleasure was such.

27 All things are given unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth any man the Father, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

28 Come unto me, all ye that are weary and laden, and I will ease you.

29 Take my yoke on you, and learn of me that I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden light.

12 1 The disciples pluck the ears of corn. 6 Mercy, sacrifice. 10 The withered hand is healed. 12 We must do good on the Sabbath. 22 The possessed is helped. 25 A kingdom divided. 31 Sin, blasphemy. 33 The good or evil tree. 34 Vipers. 38 The Ninevites. 42 The Queen of Sheba. 48 The true mother and brethren of Christ.

1 At that time Jesus went on a Sabbath day through the corn, and his disciples were an hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn and to eat.

2 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the Sabbath.

3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did when he was an hungered, and they that were with him?

4 How he went into the house of God, and did eat the ‘showbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the ‘Priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the Law, how that on the Sabbath days the Priests in the Temple ‘break the Sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say unto you, that here is one greater than the Temple.

7 Wherefore if ye knew what this is, I will have mercy and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the innocents.

8 For the son of man is Lord, even of the Sabbath.

9 ¶ And he departed thence, and went into their Synagogue:

10 And behold, there was a man which had his hand dried up. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal upon a Sabbath day? that they might accuse him.

11:16 ¶ There are none more stout and stubborn enemies of the Gospel, than they to whom it ought to be most acceptable.

11:17 ¶ He blameth the frowardness of this age, by a proverb, in that they could be moved neither with rough, nor gentle dealing.

11:19 ¶ That which the most part refuse, the elect and chosen embrace.

11:20 ¶ Wise men do acknowledge the wisdom of the Gospel, when they receive it.

11:21 ¶ The proud reject the Gospel offered unto them, to their great hurt and smart which turneth to the salvation of the simple.

11:25 ¶ Through the ministry of Christ, who only sheweth the truth of all things pertaining to God.

11:26 ¶ This word sheweth, that he contenteth himself in his father's counsel.

28 God's will is the only rule of righteousness.

11:27 ¶ There is no true knowledge of God, nor quietness of mind, but only in Christ alone.

11:29 ¶ May easily be borne. For his commandments are not grievous, for all that is born of God overcometh the world, 1 John 5:4.

12:1 ¶ Of the true sanctifying of the Sabbath, and the abrogating of it.

12:4 ¶ The Hebrews call it bread of faces, because it stood before the Lord all the weeks upon the golden table appointed to that service, Lev. 24:6.

12:5 ¶ When the Priests do God's service upon the Sabbath day, yet they break not the Law: much less doth the Lord of the Sabbath break the Sabbath.

12:9 ¶ The ceremonies of the Law are not against the love of our neighbor.
11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that hath a sheep, and if it fall on the Sabbath day into a pit, doth not take it and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better than a sheep? therefore, it is lawful to do well on a Sabbath day.

13 Then said he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth, and it was made whole as the other.

14 Then the Pharisees went out, and consulted against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jesus knew it, he departed thence, and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them in threatening wise, that they should not make him known,

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the Prophet, saying,

18 Behold my servant whom I have chosen, my beloved in whom my soul delighteth: I will put my Spirit on him, and he shall show judgment to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry, neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he bring forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his Name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 ¶ Then was brought to him one possessed with a devil, both blind and dumb, and he healed him, so that he which was blind and dumb, both spake and saw,

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this that son of David?

24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This man casteth the devils no otherwise out but through Beelzebub the prince of devils.

25 But Jesus knew their thoughts, and said to them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to naught, and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.

26 So if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself: how shall then his kingdom endure?

27 Also if I through Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then is the kingdom of God come unto you.

29 Else how can a man enter into a strong man’s house and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man, and then spoil his house?

30 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

31 Wherefore I say unto you, Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: or else make the tree evil, and his fruit evil: for the tree is known by the fruit.

34 O generations of vipers, how can you speak good things, when ye are evil? For of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof at the day of judgment.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ Then answered certain of the Scribes and of the Pharisees, saying, Master, we would see a sign of thee.

39 But he answered and said to them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh a sign, but no sign shall be given unto it, save that sign of the Prophet Jonah.

40 For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the whale’s belly: so shall the son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonah: and behold, a greater than
MATTHEW 12:42

Jonah is here.

12:42 ¶ The Queen of the 'South shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon: and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

¶ 1 Now when the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

4 Then he saith, I will return into mine house and into mine own cov­erning, and shall set there:

5 And the fowls came and devoured them up.

CHAPTER 13

¶ 1 Then hegoeth, and taketh unto him seven other spirits worse than himself, and they enter in, and dwell there: and the end of that man is worse than the beginning. Even so shall it be with this wicked generation.

¶ 6 While he yet spake to the multitude, behold, a man, he walketh throughout dry places, seeking the seed of life which is sown in the world, cometh not on so well in

The parable of the Sower. 11 and 34 Why Jesus spake in parables. 18 The exposition of the parable. 24 The parable of the tares. 31 Of the mustard seed. 33 Of the leaven. 44 Of the hidden treasure. 45 Of the draw net cast into the sea. 53 Christ is not received of his countrymen the Nazarites.

1 The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side.

2 And great multitudes resorted unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat down: and the multitude stood on the shore.

3 Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow.

4 And as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up.

5 And some fell upon stony ground, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprung up, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sun was up, they were parched, and for lack of root­ing withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprung up, and choked them.

8 And some again fell in good ground, and brought forth fruit, one corn an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, and another thirtyfold.

9 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and said to him, Why spakest thou to them in parables?

11 ¶ And he answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 ¶ For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see: and hearing, they hear not, neither understand.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which prophecy saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive.

15 For this people's heart is waxed fat, and their ears are dull of hearing, and with their eyes they have winked, lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their hearts, and should return, that I might heal them.

16 ¶ But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

17 ¶ For verily I say unto you, that many Prophets, and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them, and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 ¶ Hear ye therefore the parable of the Sower.

19 Whenssoever any man heareth the word of that kingdom, and understandeth it not, that evil one cometh, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: and this is he which hath received the seed by the way side.

20 And he that received seed in the stony ground, is he which heareth the word, and incontinently with joy receiveth it,

21 Yet hath he no root in himself, and endureth but a season: for as soon as tribulation or persecution cometh because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 And he that received the seed among thorns, is he that heareth the word: but the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choked the word, and he is made unfruitful.

23 But he that received the seed in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, and some thirtyfold.

24 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a man which sowed good seed in his field.

25 But while men slept, there came his enemy and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the servants of the householder, and said unto him, Master, sowerst thou not good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said unto them, Some envious man hath done this. Then the servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather them up, they may root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather the tares, and bind them in sheaves to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 Another parable he put forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a man which sowed a hundred seed in a field;

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and it is a tree, so that the birds of heaven come and sit under the shadow of its branches.

33 Another parable spake he to them, The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hideth in three pecks of meal, till all be leavened.

34 All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not unto them,

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables, and will utter the things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then sent Jesus the multitude away, and went into the house. And his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of that field.

37 Then answered he, and said to them, He that soweth the good seed, is the son of man, and the field is the world, and the good seed are the children of the kingdom, and the tares are the children of that wicked one.

38 And the enemy that soweth them, is the devil, and the harvest is the end of the world, and the reapers be the Angels.

39 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this world.

40 The Son of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity,

41 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

42 And the field is the world, and the good seed are the children of the kingdom, and the tares are the children of that wicked one.

43 Then shall the just men shine as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hid in the field, which when a man hath found, he hideth it, and for joy thereof departeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a merchant man that seeketh good pears, 46 Who having found a pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a draw net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kinds of things.

48 Which, when it is full, men draw to land, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world. The Angels shall go forth, and sever the bad from among the just,

50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus said unto them, Understand ye all these things? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.
52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every Scribe which is taught unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both new and old.
53 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Jesus had ended these parables, he departed thence,
54 ¶ And came into his own country, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astonished, and said, Whence cometh this wisdom and great works unto this man?
55 Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary, “and his brethren James and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?
56 And are not his sisters all with us? Whence then hath he all these things?
57 And they were offended with him. Then Jesus said to them, “A Prophet is not without honor, save in his own country, and in his own house.
58 And he did not many great works there, for there of their unbelief 's sake.

14 1 Herod's judgment of Christ. 3 Wherefore John was bound, 10 and beheaded. 13 Jesus departeth. 18 Of the five loaves, etc. 23 Christ prayeth. 24 The Apostles tossed with the waves. 28 Faith. 30 Peter in jeopardy. 36 The hem of Christ's garment.

1 At ¶ that time Herod the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus,
2 And said unto his servants, This is John Baptist, he is risen again from the dead, and therefore great works are wrought by him.
3 ¶ For Herod had taken John, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife.
4 For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.
5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a Prophet.
6 But when Herod's birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.
7 Wherefore he promised with an oath, that he would give her whatsoever she would ask.
8 And she being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a platter.
9 And the king was sorry: nevertheless, because of the oath, and them that sat with him at the table, he commanded it to be given her.
10 And sent, and beheaded John in the prison.
11 And his head was brought in a platter, and given to the maid, and she brought it unto her mother.
12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.
13 ¶ And when Jesus heard it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart. And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him on foot out of the cities.
14 ¶ And Jesus went forth and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.
15 ¶ And when even was come, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is already past: let the multitude depart, that they may go into the towns, and buy them victuals.
16 But Jesus said to them, They have no need to go away: give ye them to eat.
17 Then said they unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.
18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.
19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down to eat: and he brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
20 And they did all eat, and were sufficed, and they took up of the fragments that remained, twelve baskets full.
21 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men, beside women and little children.
22 ¶ And straightway Jesus compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to go over before him, while he sent the multitude away.
23 And as soon as he had sent the multitude away, he went up into a mountain alone to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.
24 ¶ And the ship was now in the midst of the sea, and was tossed with waves: for it was a contrary wind.
25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.
26 And when his disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit, and cried out for fear.
27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good comfort, It is I: be not afraid.
28 Then Peter answered him, and said, Master, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.
29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water to go to Jesus.
30 But when he saw a mighty wind, he was afraid: and as he began to sink, he cried, saying, Master, save me.
31 So immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said to him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?
32 And as soon as they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.
33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.
34 ¶ And when they were come over, they came into the land of Gennesaret.
35 And when the men of that place knew him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were sick, 36 And besought him, that they might touch the hem of his garment only: and as many as touched it were made whole.

15 3 The commandments and traditions of men. 12 Offences. 13 The plant which is rooted up. 14 Blind leading the blind. 18 The heart. 22 The children’s bread:

14:25 1 By the fourth watch is meant the time near to day breaking: for in old time they divided the night into four watches, in which they counted.
14:26 1 A spirit, as it is here taken, is that which a man imagineth to himself vainly in his mind, persuading himself that he seeth something, and seeth nothing.
14:28 1 By faith we tread under our feet even the tempests themselves, but yet by the virtue of Christ, which helpeth that virtue, which he of his mercy hath given.
14:34 1 This Gennesaret was a lake nigh to Capernaum, which is also called the Sea of Galilee, and Tiberias, so that the country itself grew to be called by that name.
14:35 1 In that that Christ healeth the sick, we are given to understand that we must seek remedy for spiritual diseases at his hands: and that we are bound not only to run ourselves, but also to bring others to him.
15:1 1 None commonly are more bold contemners of God, than they whom God appointeth keepers of his law.
15:2 1 Which they received of their ancestors from hand to hand, or their elders allowed, which were the governors of the Church.
15:3 1 Their wicked boldness, in corrupting the commandments of God, and that upon the pretence of godliness, and usurping authority to make laws, is here reproved.
15:4 1 By honor is meant all kinds of duties which children owe to their parents.
15:5 1 The meaning is this: whatsoever I bestow upon the Temple, is to thy profit, for it is as good as if I gave it thee, for (as the Pharisees of our time say) it shall be meritorious for thee: for under this color to thy profit, for it is as good as if I gave it thee, for (as the Pharisees say) it shall be free: thus have ye made the commandment of God of no authority by your tradition.
15:6 1 Though he honor not his father, or his mother, shall be free: thus have ye made the commandment of God of no authority by your tradition.
15:7 1 Whosoever shall say to father or mother, It is offered by me, thou mayest have profit.
15:8 1 This people draweth near unto me with their mouth, and honoreth me with the lips, but their heart is far off from me.
15:9 1 But in vain they worship me, teaching for doctrines, men's precepts.
15:10 1 Then he called the multitude unto him, and said unto them, Hear and understand.
15:11 1 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which cometh out of the mouth that defileth the man.
15:12 1 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Perceivest thou not, that the Pharisees are offended in hearing this saying?
15:13 1 But he answered and said, Every plant which mine heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.
15:14 1 Let them alone, they be the blind leaders of the blind: and if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch: and so shall all Israel be made to stumble, because of them.
fall into the ditch.

15 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said to him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 Then said Jesus, Are ye yet without understanding?

17 Perceive ye not yet, that whatsoever entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, slanders.

20 These are the things which defile the man: but to eat with unwashed hands, defileth not the man.

21 And Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman a Canaanite came out of the same coasts, and cried, saying unto him, Have mercy on me, O Lord, the son of David: my daughter is miserably vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. Then came to him his disciples, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent, but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25 Yet she came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord help me.

26 And he answered, and said, It is not good to take the children's bread, and to cast it to whelps.

27 But she said, Truth, Lord: yet indeed the whelps eat of the crumbs, which fall from their master's table.

28 Then Jesus answered, and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest.

29 And her daughter was made whole at that hour.

30 And great multitudes came unto him, having with them, halt, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down, at Jesus' feet, and he healed them.

31 Inasmuch that the multitude wondered, to see the dumb speak, the maimed whole, the halt to go, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ¶ Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on this multitude, because they have continued with me already three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not let them depart fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples said unto him, Whence should we get so much bread in the wilderness, as should suffice so great a multitude!

34 And Jesus said unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 Then he commandeth the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36 And took the seven loaves, and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eat, and were sufficed, and they took up of the fragments that remained, seven baskets full.

38 And they that had eaten, were four thousand men, beside women, and little children.

39 Then Jesus sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the parts of Magdala.

16 1 The sign of Jonah. 6 The leaven of the Pharisees. 12 For their doctrine. 13 The people's opinion of Christ. 17 Faith cometh of God. 18 The rock. 19 The keys. 21 Christ forshadoweth his death. 24 The forsaking of ourself, and the cross. 25 To lose the life.

1 Then came the Pharisees and Sadducees, and did tempt him, desiring him to show them a sign from heaven.

2 But he answered, and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, Fair weather, for the sky is red.
3 1And in the morning, ye say, Today shall be a tempest: for the sky is red and lowering. O hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky, and can ye not discern the signs of the times?
4 1The wicked generation, and adulterous seeth a sign, but there shall no sign be given it, but 1that sign of the Prophet 1Jonah: so he left them, and departed.
5 1And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread with them.
6 1Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.
7 1And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have brought no bread.
8 1But Jesus 1knowing it, said unto them, 1O ye of little faith, why reason ye thus among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?
9 1Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember the five loaves, when there were five thousand men, and how many baskets took you up?
10 1Neither the seven loaves when there were four thousand men, and how many baskets took you up?
11 1Why 1perceive ye not that I 2said unto them, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?
12 1Then understood they that he had not said that they should beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees, and Sadducees.

16:22 1Now when Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I, the son of man, am?
14 1And they said, Some say, John Baptist: and some, Elijah: and others, Jeremiah, or one of the Prophets.
15 1He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am?
16 1Then Simon Peter answered, and said, Thou art that Christ, the son of the living God.
17 1And Jesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon, the son of Jonah: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.
18 1And I say also unto thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church: and the gates of hell shall not overcome it.
19 1And I 2will give unto thee the keys of the Kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind upon earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.
20 1Then he charged his disciples, that they should tell no man that he was Jesus that Christ.
21 1From that time forth Jesus began to show unto his disciples, that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the Elders, and of the high Priests, and Scribes, and be slain and be raised again the third day.
22 1Then Peter 1took him aside, and began to rebu. him, saying, Master, pity thyself: this shall not be unto thee.
23 Then he turned back, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou hast an offence unto me, because thou understandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.
24 Jesus then said to his disciples, If any man will follow me, let him forsake himself; and take up his cross, and follow me.
25 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, shall find it.
26 For what shall it profit a man though he should win the whole world, if he lose his own soul? or what shall a man give for recompense of his soul?
27 For the son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his Angels, and then shall he give to every man according to his deeds.
28 Verily I say unto you, there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the Son of man come in his kingdom.

17:2 The transfiguration of Christ. 5 Christ ought to be heard. 12 Elijah. 13 John Baptist. 17 The unbelief of the Apostles. 20 The power of faith. 21 Prayer and fasting. 22 Christ foretelleth his passion. 24 He payeth tribute.
1 And after six days, Jesus took Peter and James, and John his brother, and brought them up into a high mountain apart,
2 And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the Sun, and his clothes were as white as the light.
3 And behold, there appeared unto them Moses, and Elijah, talking with him.
4 Then answered Peter, and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah.
5 While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: hear him.
6 And when the disciples heard that, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.
7 Then Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.
8 And when they lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.
9 ¶ And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Show the vision to no man, until the Son of man rise again from the dead.
10 ¶ And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes that Elijah must first come?
11 And Jesus answered, and said unto them, Certainly Elijah must first come, and restore all things.
12 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they would: likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.
13 Then the disciples perceived that he spake unto them of John Baptist.
14 ¶ And when they were come down from the mountain, there came to him a certain man, and fell down at his feet,
15 And said, Master, have pity on my son: for he is lunatic, and is sore vexed: for oft times he fell into the fire, and oft times into the water.
16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heal him.
17 Then Jesus answered, and said, O generation faithless, and crooked, how long now shall I be with you! how long now shall I suffer you! bring him hither to me.

16:23 1 Against a preposterous zeal.
2 The Hebrews call him Satan, that is to say, an adversary, whom the Grecians call diabolos, that is to say, slanderer, or tempter: but it is spoken of them, that either of malice, as Judas, John 6:70, or of lightness and pride resist the will of God.
3 By this word we are taught that Peter sinned, through a false persuasion of himself.
16:24 1 No one provides worse for themselves, than they that love themselves more than God.
16:25 1 Shall gain himself: And this is his meaning, they that deny Christ to save themselves, do not only not gain that which they look for, but also lose the thing they would have kept, that is themselves, which loss is the greatest of all: but as for them that doubt not to die for Christ, it fareth far otherwise with them.
16:27 1 Like a King, as Matt. 6:29.
16:28 1 By his kingdom is understood the glory of his ascension, and what followeth thereof, Eph. 4:10, or the preaching of the Gospel, Mark 9:1.
17:1 1 Christ is in such sort humble in the Gospel, that in the mean season he is Lord both of heaven and earth.
2 Luke reckoneth eight days, containing in that number the first and last, and Matthew speaketh but of them that were betwixt them.
17:2 1 Changed into another hue.
17:5 1 The article or the word, That, seventh Christ from other children. For he is God’s natural Son, we by adoption, therefore he is the first begotten among the brethren, because that although he be of right the only Son, yet is he chief among many in that he is the fountain and head of the adoption.
17:6 1 Fell down flat on their faces and worshipped him, as Matt. 2:11.
17:9 1 Which they saw: otherwise the word, used in this place is properly spoken of that which is seen in a dream.
17:14 1 Men are unworthy of Christ his goodness, yet notwithstanding he regardeth them.
2 As men that make supplications used to do.
17:15 1 They that at certain times of the moon are troubled with the falling sickness, or any other kind of disease: but in this place, we must so take it, that besides the natural disease, he had a devilish frenzy.
18 And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he went out of him: and the child was healed at that hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, if ye have faith as much as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ And they being in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of Man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

23 And they shall kill him, but the third day shall he rise again: and they were very sorry.

24 ¶ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received poll money, came to Peter, and said, Doth not your Master pay poll money?

25 He said, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? Of whom do the kings of the earth take tribute, or poll money? of their children, or of strangers?

26 Peter said unto him, Of strangers. Then said Jesus unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Nevertheless, lest we should offend them: go to the sea, and cast in an angle, and take the first fish that cometh up, and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of twenty pence: that take, and give it unto them for me and thee.

28 1 The greatest in the kingdom of God. 5 To receive a little child. 6 To give offence. 7 Offences. 9 The pulling out of the eye. 10 The Angels. 11 The last sheep. 15 The telling of one his faults. 17 Excommunication. 21 We must always pardon the brother that repenteth. 23 Theparable of the king that taketh an account of his servants.

1 The same time the disciples came unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

17:19 1 Incrédulity and distrust hinder and break the course of God’s benefits.

17:21 1 The remedy against distrust.

2 To give us to understand the watchfulness and diligence of earnest prayer, which cannot be without sobriety.

17:22 1 Our minds must be prepared more and more against the offence of the cross.

17:24 1 In that Christ doth willingly obey Caesar’s edicts, he sheweth that civil policy is not taken away by the Gospel.

2 He denieth not, but he asketh.

3 Ought he not to pay?

4 They that were from twenty years of age to fifty, paid half a shekel of the Sanctuary, Exod. 30:13. This was an Attic drachma which the Romans exacted, after they had subdued Judea.

17:25 1 By children we must not understand subjects which pay tribute, but natural children.

17:27 1 The word here used, is statér, which is in value 4 didrachmas; every drachma is about five pence.

18:2 1 Humbleness of mind is the right way to preeminence.

2 A child in years.

18:3 1 A kind of speech taken from the Hebrews, and it is as much as, repent.

18:4 1 We ought to have great respect to our brethren be they never so base: and he that doeth otherwise, shall be sharply punished.

18:5 1 A good man cannot but go through the midst of offences, yet he must cut off all occasion of offences.

2 Lets and hindrances which stop the course of good works. The Greek word importeth thus much, things which we stumble at.

18:8 1 See Matt. 5:29.

18:10 1 The weaker that a man is, the greater care we ought to have of his salvation, as God teacheth us by his own example.

18:15 1 We must labor for concord, not to revenge injuries.
But if he hear thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the mouth of two or three witnesses, every word may be confirmed.

17. And if he refuse to hear them, tell it unto the Church: and if he refuse to hear the Church also, let him be unto thee as an heathen man, and a Publican.

18. Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

19. Again, verily I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing whatsoever, it shall be done for them of the Son of man.

20. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21. Then came Peter to him, and said, Master, speak to me what shall I do for thee?

22. Jesus answered and said unto him, Go, and heal the leper: and immediately he went to him and healed him, and said unto him, I will go依法追究 thee for sin, henceforward thou shalt receive no money from me.

23. And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.

24. And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.

25. And because he had nothing to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and his children, and all that he had, and the debt to be paid.

26. The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have mercy on me, a sinner.

27. Then the servant's lord had compassion on him, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28. But when the servant was departed, he found one of his fellow servants which ought him an hundred pence, and he laid hands on him, and throttled him, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29. Then his fellow servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Refrain thine anger toward me, and I will pay thee all.

30. Yet he would not, but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31. And when his other fellow servant saw what was done, he was very sorry, and came, and declared unto his lord all that was done.

32. Then his lord called him unto him, and said, Thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou didst me a kindness.

33. Oughtest thou not also to have had pity on thy fellow servant, even as I had pity on thee?

34. So his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due to him.

35. And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

2 The sick are healed. 3 And 7 A bill of divorce. 12 Eunuchs. 13 Children brought to Christ. 17 God only good. The commandments must be kept. 21 A perfect man. 23 A rich man. 26 Salvation cometh of God. 27 To leave all and follow Christ.

22 And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3. ¶ Then came unto him the Pharisees tempting him, saying, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife upon every occasion?

4. And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female,

5. And said, For this cause, shall a man leave his wife.

18:15 2 If his offence be such, that thou only knowest thy brother's offence.

18:16 1 That is, by the word and witness the mouth is sometime taken for the word or speech, Num. 3:16, and also for a still witness, to wit, when the matter speaketh of itself, as in Matt. 21:16. 2 Sure and certain.

18:17 1 He that contemneth the judgment of the Church, contemneth God.

2. Word for word, do not vouchsafe to hear, or make as though he did not hear.

3. He speaketh not of any kind of policy, but of an Ecclesiastical assembly, for he speaketh afterward of the power of loosing and binding, which belonged to the Church, and he hath regard to the order used in those days, at what time the Elders had the judgment of Church matters in their hands, John 9:22 and 12:42 and 16:2, and used casting out of the Synagogue for a punishment, as we do now excommunication.

4. Profane, and void of religion: such men, the Jews called Gentiles: whose company they shunned as they did the Publicans.

18:19 1 This word is translated from the body to the mind, for it becometh properly to song.

18:21 1 They shall find God severe and not to be pleased, which do not forgive their brethren, although they have been diversly and grievously injured by them.

18:26 1 This was a civil reverence which was very usual in the East.

2. Yield not too much to thine anger against me: so is God called in the Scripture, slow to anger, that is to say, gentle and patient and great mercy.

19:1 1 Passed over the water out of Galilee into the borders of Judaea.

19:3 1 The band of marriage ought not to be broken, unless it be for fornication.

2. To send her a book of divorcement, see also Matt. 1:19.
father and mother, and cleave unto his wife, and they which were two, shall be one flesh?

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder that, which God hath coupled together.

7 1They said to him, Why did then 4 Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He said unto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your heart, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 I say therefore unto you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for for whoredom, and marry another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her which is divorced, doth commit adultery.

10 Then said his disciples to him, If the matter be so between man and wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this thing, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born of their mother's belly: and there be some eunuchs, which be grafted by men: and there be some eunuchs, which have grafted themselves for the kingdom of heaven. He that is able to receive this, let him receive it.

13 ¶ Then were brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And when he had put his hands on them, he departed thence.

16 ¶ And behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

17 And he said unto him, Why calleth thou me good? There is none good but one, even God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the Commandments.

18 He said unto him, Which? And Jesus said, These, Thou shalt not kill; Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not steal: Thou shalt not bear false witness.

19 Honor thy father, and mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

20 The young man said unto him, I have observed all these things from my youth. What lack I yet?

21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go, sell that thou hast, and give it to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, and follow me.

22 And when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 Then Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 And when his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 And Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said to him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee: what therefore shall we have?

28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his Majesty, ye which followed me in the regeneration, shall sit also upon twelve thrones, and judge the twelve tribes of Israel.

19:5 1 The Greek word imported to be glued unto, whereby is signified that straight knot, which is between man and wife, as though they were glued together.

2 They which were two, become as it were one: and this word flesh is by a figure taken for the whole man, or the body after the manner of the Hebrews.

19:6 1 Hath made them yoke fellows, as the marriage itself is by a borrowed kind of speech called a yoke.

2 Because political Laws are constrained to bear with some things, it followeth not by and by that God alloweth them.

19:7 1 Being occasioned by reason of the hardness of your hearts.

2 By a political law, not by the moral law: for this law is a perpetual law of God's justice, the other boweth and bendeth as the carpenter's Bevel.

19:8 1 Therefore in these days the Laws that were made against adulterers were not regarded: for they should have needed no divorcement, if marriage had been cut asunder with punishment by death.

19:10 1 If the matter stands so between man and wife, or in marriage.

19:11 1 The gift of continency is peculiar, and therefore no man can set a Law to himself of perpetual continency.

2 Receive and admit, as by translation we say, that a straight and narrow place is not able to receive many things.
29 And whosoever shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Name’s sake, he shall receive an hundredfold more, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30 But many that are first, shall be last, and the last shall be first.

20 1 Laborers hired into the vineyard. 15 The evil eye. 17 He foretelleth his passion. 20 Zebedee’s sons. 22 The cup. 28 Christ is our minister. 30 Two blind men.

1 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain housholder, which went out at the dawning of the day to hire laborers into his vineyard.

2 And he agreed with the laborers for a penny a day, and sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace.

4 And said unto them, Go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever is right, I will give you: and they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And he went about the eleventh hour, and found others standing idle, and said unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They said unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He said to them, Go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 ¶ And when even was come, the master of the vineyard said unto his steward, Call the laborers, and give them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

9 And they which were hired about the eleventh hour, came and received every man a penny.

10 Now when the first came, they supposed that they should receive more, but they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the master of the house, 12 Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 And he answered one of them, saying, Friend, do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penny?

14 Take that which is thine own, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, as much as to thee.

15 Is it not lawful for me to do as I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?

16 So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many are called, but few chosen.

17 And Jesus went up to Jerusalem, and took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief Priests, and unto the Scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 And shall deliver him to the Gentiles, to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him, but the third day he shall rise again.

20 Then came to him the mother of Zebedee’s children with their sons, worshippimg him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She said to him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy kingdom.

22 And Jesus answered, and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism, wherewith I am baptized?

23 And he said unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and shall be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is not mine to give: but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

19:30 1 To have begun well, and not to continue unto the end, doth not only not profit, but also hurteth very much.

20:3 God is bound to no man, and therefore he calleth whomsoever he listeth. This only every man ought to take heed of, and hereupon bestow his whole endeavor, that he go forward and come to the mark without all stopping or staggering, and not curiously to examine other men’s doings, or the judgments of God.

20:4 Word for word, fell in time it is a kind of speech taken from song.

20:5 The last hour: for the day was twelve hours long, and the first hour began at the Sun rising.

20:15 Naught, that is, to say, dost thou envy at my goodness towards them? for the Hebrews by an evil eye, meant envy, because such dispositions appear chiefly in the eyes, as above in Matt. 6:23. It is set to answer the word, single, and is taken there for corrupt: for whereas he said there before, verse 22, If thine eye be single, he addeth in verse 23, but if thine eye be wicked, or corrupt, the word being the same in that place, as it is here.

20:17 Christ goeth to the cross necessarily, but yet willingly.

20:18 They that least ought, are the greatest persecutors of Christ.

20:19 The ignomy of the cross, is the sure way to the glory of everlasting life.

20:20 The manner of the heavenly kingdom is quite contrary to the earthly kingdom.

20:22 This is spoken by a figure, taking the cup, for that which is contained in the cup. And again the Hebrews understand by this word, Cup, sometime the manner of punishment which is rendered to sin, as Ps. 11:6, or the joy that is given to the faithful, as Ps. 23:5, and sometime a lot or condition, as Ps. 16:5.

20:23 The almightiness of Christ his divinity is not shut out by this, but it showeth the deasing of himself by taking maris nature upon him.
24 'And when the other ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.
25 'Therefore Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the lords of the Gentiles have dominion over them, and that they are great, exercise authority over them.
26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your servant.
27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant.
28 'Even as the Son of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life for the ransom of many.
29 ¶ And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.
30 And behold, two blind men, sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried, saying, O Lord, the Son of David, have mercy on us.
31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, O Lord, the Son of David, have mercy on us.
32 Then Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do to you?
33 They said to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.
34 And Jesus moved with compassion, touched their eyes, and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

21 1 Christ rideth on an ass unto Jerusalem. 12 He casteth out the sellers. 13 The house of prayer. 19 The withered fig tree. 25 John's baptism. 28 Who do the will of God. 30 Publicans, Harlots. 33 God's vineyard. The Jews. 38 The son killed of the husbandmen. 42 The corner stone.
1 And it came to pass, when they drew near to Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of the Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,
2 Saying to them, Go into the town that is over against you, and anon ye shall find an ass bound, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

7 Mark 11:17 Luke 19:46
8 Ps. 82

3 And if any man say ought unto you, say ye, that the Lord hath need of them, and straightway he will let them go.
4 All this was done that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying,
5 ¶ 'Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek and sitting upon an ass, and a colt, the foal of an ass used to the yoke.
6 So the disciples went, and did as Jesus had commanded them.
7 And brought the ass and the colt, and put on them their 'clothes, and set him thereon.
8 And a great multitude spread their garments in the way: and others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.
9 Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that followed, cried, saying, 'Hosanna to the Son of David,' Blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna 'thou which art in the highest heavens.
10 'And when he was come into Jerusalem, 'all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?
11 And the people said, This is Jesus that Prophet of Nazareth in Galilee.
12 ¶ And Jesus went into the Temple of God, and cast out all them 'that sold and bought in the Temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves.
13 And said to them, It is written, 'My house shall be called the house of prayer: but 'ye have made it a den of thieves.
14 'Then the blind, and the halt came to him, in the Temple, and he healed them.
15 'But when the chief Priests and Scribes saw the marvels that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David, they disdained, 16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus said unto them, Yea: read ye never,
17 'By the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast made perfect the praise?
18 'So he left them, and went out of the city.

20:25 1 Somewhat sharply and roughly.
20:29 Christ by healing these blind men with an only touch, sheweth that he is the only light of the world.
20:32 1 Himself, not by other men's means.
21:1 1 Christ by his humility triumphing over the pride of this world, ascended to true glory by ignomy of the cross.
21:3 1 He that shall say anything to you, shall let them go, to wit, the ass and the colt.
21:5 1 The city of Zion. An Hebrew kind of speech, common in the lamentations of Jeremiah.
21:7 1 Their uppermost garments.
21:9 1 This was an ancient kind of crying which they used in the feast of Tabernacles, when they carried bougths according as God commanded, Lev. 23:40. And the word is corruptly made of two, for we should say, Hoshiangna, which is as much to say, as Save I pray thee.
21:10 1 That is, all the men of Jerusalem were moved.
21:15 1 Such as should be masters of godliness, are they that do most envy the glory of Christ: but in vain.
21:16 1 Thou hast made most perfect. We read in David, Thou hast established or grounded, and if the matter be considered well, it is all one that the Evangelist saith, for that is stable and sure, which is most perfect.
21:17 1 Christ doth so forsake the wicked, that yet he hath a consideration and regard of his Church.
unto Bethany, and lodged there.

18 And in the morning, as he returned into the city, he was hungry.

19 And seeing a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said to it, Never fruit grow on thee henceforward. And anon the fig tree withered.

20 And when his disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered!

21 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, if ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do that, which I have done to the fig tree, but also if ye say unto this mountain, Take thyself away, and cast thyself into the sea, it shall be done.

22 And whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, if ye believe, ye shall receive.

23 And when he was come into the Temple, the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people came unto him, as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, I also will ask of you a certain thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? Then they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven, he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

26 And if we say, Of men, we fear the multitude, for all hold John as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Jesus, and said, W e can neither tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you, but I say unto you, That which is written must be fulfilled in Christ, which was spoken by the prophets.

28 But they said, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto others.

29 But he answered, and said, I will not: yet afterward he repented himself, and went.

30 Then came he to the second, and said likewise. And he answered, and said, I will, Sir: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of the father? They said unto him, The first. Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that the Publicans and the harlots go before you into the kingdom of God.

32 For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the Publicans and the harlots believed him, and ye though ye saw it, were not moved with repentance afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 ¶I Hear another parable. There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and made a winepress therein, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange country.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen to receive the fruits thereof.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again he sent other servants, more than the first: and they did the like unto them.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his own son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, and let us take his inheritance.

39 So they took him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?

41 They said unto him, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall deliver him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus said unto them, Read ye never in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders refused, the same is made the head of the corner? This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and shall be given to a nation, which shall bring forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone, he shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will dash him in pieces.

45 And when the chief Priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 And they seeking to lay hands on him, feared the people, because they took him as a Prophet.

22 The parable of the marriage. The calling of the Gentiles. The wedding garments, faiths. Of Caesar's tribute. They question with Christ touching the resurrection.

32 God is of the living.

36 The greatest commandment.

37 To love God.

39 To love our neighbor.

42 Jesus reasoneth with the Pharisees touching the Messiah.

1 Then answered Jesus, and spake unto them again in parables, saying,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king which married his son,

3 And sent forth his servants, to call them that were bidden to the wedding, but they would not come.

4 Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: mine oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, and another about his merchandise.

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them sharply, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard it, he was wroth, and sent forth his warriors, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt up their city.

8 Then said he to his servants, Truly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

9 Go ye therefore out into the highways, and as many as ye find, bid them to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all that ever they found, both good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 Then the king came in, to see the guests, and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And he said unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, and hast not on a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot: take him away, and cast him into utter darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 For many are called, but few chosen.

15 ¶ Then went the Pharisees and took counsel how they might tangle him in talk.

16 And they sent unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truly, neither carest for any man: for thou considerest not the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore, how thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Show me the tribute money. And they brought 22:9 God doth first call us, when we think nothing of it.

22:10 The general calling offereth the Gospel to all men: but their life is examined that enter in.

22:11 In the small number which come at the calling, there are some castaways which do not confirm their faith with newness of life.

22:12 Word for word, halted, that is to say, he held his peace, as though he had had a bridle or an halter about his neck.

22:13 To them that served the guests.

22:15 Snare him in his words or talk. The Greek word is derived of snares which hunters lay.

22:16 They which with Herod made a new religion patched together of the heathenish and the Jewish religion.

22:17 The Christians must obey their Magistrates, although they be wicked and extortioners, but so far forth as the authority that God hath over us may remain safe unto him, and his honor be not diminished.

22:18 Thy art not moved with any appearance and outward show.

22:19 The Christians must obey their Magistrates, although they be wicked and extortioners, but so far forth as the authority that God hath over us may remain safe unto him, and his honor be not diminished.

22:20 The word that is used here, signifies a valuing and rating of men's substance, according to the proportion whereof they paid tribute in those provinces which were subject to tribute, and it is here taken for the tribute itself.
22:19 1 Before Matt. 17:24 there is mention made of a didrachma, and here, of a penny, whereas a didrachma is more by the seventh part than a penny: so that there seemeth to be a jar in these two places: but they may easily be recorded thus: The penny was paid to the Romans for tribute according to the proportion they were rated at, the drachma was paid of everyone to the Temple, which also the Romans took to themselves when they had subdued Judea.

22:20 1 And he said unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

22:21 1 They said unto him, Caesar's. Then said he unto them, 'Give therefore to Caesar, the things which are Caesar's, and give unto God, those things which are God's.

22:22 1 And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

22:23 1 ¶ The same day the Sadducees came to him, (which say that there is no resurrection) and asked him, saying, Master, 'Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife by the right of alliance, and raise up seed unto his brother.

22:24 1 Now therefore were with us seven brethren, and having no issue, left his wife unto his brother.

22:25 1 Likewise also the second, and the third, unto the seventh.

22:26 1 And last of all the woman died also.

22:27 1 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for all had her.

22:28 1 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, Ye are deceived, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

22:29 1 For in the resurrection they neither marry wives, nor wives are bestowed in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heaven.

22:30 1 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read what is spoken unto you of God, saying,

22:31 1 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

22:32 1 And when the multitude heard it, they were astonied at his doctrine.

23 2 How the Scribes teaching the people the Law of Moses, behave themselves. 5 Their Phylacteries, and Fringes. 7 Greetings. 8 We are brethren. 9 The Scribes teaching the people the Law of Moses, behave themselves. 10 The servant. 13 To shut the kingdom of heaven. 14 To devour widow's houses. 15 A Proselyte. 16 To swear by the Temple. 23 To tibe minst. 25 To cleanse the outside of the cup. 27 Painted sepulchers. 33 Serpents, vipers. 37 The Hen.

23:1 1 Then spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples, saying,

23:2 1 ¶ While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them,
3 1 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do: but after their works do not: for they say, and do not.

4 2 For they bind heavy burdens, and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders, but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 1 All their works they do for to be seen of men: for they make their 'phylacteries broad, and make long the 'fringes of their garments, 2 And love the chief place at feasts, and to have the chief seats in the 'assemblies, 3 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, 1Rabbi.

6 1 But be not ye called, Rabbi: for one is your doctor, to wit, Christ, and all ye are brethren.

9 1 And call no man your father upon the earth: for there is but one, your father which is in heaven.

10 1 But be not ye called, Rabbi: for one is your doctor, even Christ.

12 1 For whosoever will exalt himself, shall be brought low: and whosoever will humble himself, shall be exalted.

13 1 Woe therefore be unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, 2hypocrites, because ye shut up the kingdom of heaven before men: for ye yourselves go not in, neither suffer ye them that would enter, to come in.

14 1Woe be unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, 2hypocrites: for ye devour widows' houses, even under a color of long prayers: wherefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Woe be unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, 2hypocrites: for ye compass sea and 1land to make one of your profession: and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell, than you yourselves.

16 Woe be unto you blind guides, which say, Whosoever sweareth by the Temple, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the gold of the Temple, he 1offendeth.

17 Ye fools and blind, Whether is greater, the gold, or the Temple that 1sanctifieth the gold?

18 And whosoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the offering that is upon it, offendeth.

19 Ye fools and blind, whether is greater, the offering, or the altar which sanctifieth the offering?

20 Whosoever therefore sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 1 And whosoever sweareth by the Temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

22 1 And he that sweareth by heaven, sweareth by the 1throne of God, and by him that sitteth theron.

23 1Woe be to you, Scribes and Pharisees, 2hypocrites: for ye tithe mint, and anise, and cummin, and leave the weightier matters of the law, as judgment, and mercy and 1fidelity. These ought ye to have done, and not to have left the other.

24 Ye blind guides, which strain out a gnat, and 23:10 1 It seemeth that the Scribes did very greedily hunt after such titles, whom verse 16 he calleth blind guides.

23:12 1 He seemeth to allude to the name of the Rabbis, for Rabbi signifieth one that is above his fellows, and it seemeth that the Scribes did very greedily hunt after such titles, whom verse 16 he calleth blind guides.

23:13 1 Hypocrites can abide none to be better than themselves.

23:13 2 Christ when he reproved any man sharply, uses this word, to give us to understand that there is nothing more detestable than hypocrisy and falsehood in religion.

23:14 1 It is a common thing among hypocrites, to abuse the presence of zeal to covetousness and extortion.

23:14 2 Word for word, Under a color of long praying. And this word, Even, noteth a double naughtiness in them: the one, that they devoured widows' goods: the other, that they did it under a color of godliness.

23:15 1 The dry part: now that part of that earth is called dry, which the Lord hath given us to dwell upon.

23:16 1 A debtor. Sins are called in the Syrian tongue, Debts, and it is certain that Christ spake in the Syrian tongue.

23:17 1 Causeth the gold to be counted holy, which is dedicated to an holy use.

23:22 1 If heaven be God's throne, then he is no doubt above all this world.

23:23 1 Hypocrites are careful in trifles, and neglect the greatest things of purpose.

23:23 2 Faithfulness in keeping of promises.
25 ¶ Woe be to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye make clean the outer side of the cup, and of the platter: but within they are full of bribery and excess.

26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Woe be to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are like unto whitened tombs, which appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men’s bones, and all filthiness.

28 So are ye also: for outward ye appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 Woe be unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye build the tombs of the Prophets, and garnish the sepulchers of the righteous, 30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partners with them in the blood of the Prophets.

31 So then ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them that murdered the Prophets.

32 Fulfill ye also the measure of your fathers. 33 O serpents, the generation of vipers, how should ye escape the damnation of hell?

34 Wherefore behold, I send unto you Prophets, and wise men, and Scribes, and of them ye shall kill and crucify: and of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city to city.

35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood that was shed upon the earth, from the blood of Abel the righteous, unto the blood of Zechariah the son of Berechiah, whom ye slew between the Temple and the altar.

36 Verily I say unto you, all these things shall come upon this generation.

37 Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the Prophets, and stonest them which are sent to thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, as the hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!

38 Behold, your habitation shall be left unto you desolate.

39 For I say unto you, ye shall not see me henceforth till that ye say, Blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

1 And Jesus went out, and departed from the Temple, and his disciples came to him, to show him the building of the Temple.

2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, there shall not be here left a stone upon a stone, that shall not be cast down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, his disciples came unto him apart, saying, Tell us when these things shall be, and what sign shall be of thy coming, and of the end of the world.

4 And Jesus answered, and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars, and rumors of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and realm against realm, and there shall be famine, and pestilence, and earthquakes in divers places.

8 All these are but the beginning of sorrows.

9 Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you, and ye shall be hated of all nations for my Name’s sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false prophets shall arise, and shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall be increased, the love of many shall be cold.
13 And he that endureth to the end, he shall be saved.

14 And this Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached through the whole world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come.

15 ¶ When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, set in the holy place (let him that readeth consider it.)

16 Then let them which be in Judea, flee into the mountains.

17 Let him which is on the housetop, not come down to fetch anything out of his house.

18 And he that is in the field, let him not return back to fetch his clothes.

19 And woe shall be to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days.

20 But pray that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the Sabbath day.

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the world to this time, nor shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect’s sake those days shall be shortened.

23 ¶ Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or, there, believe it not.

24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders, so that if it were possible, they should deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert, go not forth: Behold, he is in the secret places, believe it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the East, and is seen into the West, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 ¶ For wheresoever a dead carcass is, thither will the Eagles be gathered together.

29 And immediately after the tribulations of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

30 And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the kindreds of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man come in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 ¶ And he shall send his Angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect, from the four winds, and from the one end of the heavens unto the other.

32 ¶ Now learn the parable of the fig tree: when her bough is yet tender, and it putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near.

33 So likewise ye, when ye see all these things, know that the kingdom of God is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

35 ¶ Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

36 ¶ But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no not the Angels of heaven, but my father only.
37 But as the days of Noah were, so likewise shall the coming of the Son of man be.
38 For as in the days before the flood, they did eat and drink, marry, and give in marriage, unto the day that Noah entered into the Ark.
39 And knew nothing, till the flood came, and took them all away, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.
40 Two women shall be in the fields, the one shall be received, and the other shall be refused.
41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill: the one shall be received, and the other shall be refused.
42 Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your master will come.
43 Of this be sure, that if the good man of the house knew at what watch the thief would come, he would surely watch, and not suffer his house to be dug through.
44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in the hour that ye think not, will the Son of man come.
45 Who then is a faithful servant and wise, whom his master hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in season?
46 Blessed is that servant, whom his master when he cometh, shall find so doing.
47 Verily I say unto you, he shall make him ruler over all his goods.
48 But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My master doth defer his coming.
49 And begin to smite his fellows, and to eat, and to drink with the drunken.
50 That servant’s master will come in a day, when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,
51 And will cut him off, and give him his portion with hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

24:38 1 The word which the Evangelist useth, expresseth the matter more fully than ours doth: for it is a word which is proper to brute beasts: and his meaning is, that in those days men shall be given to their bellies like unto brute beasts: for otherwise it is no fault to eat and drink.
24:40 1 Against them that persuade themselves that God will be merciful to all men, and do by that means give over themselves to sin, that they may in the meanwhile live in pleasure void of all care.
24:41 1 The Greek women and the Barbarians did grind and bake (Plutarch, book Problem)
24:42 1 An example of the horrible carelessness of men in those things whereof they ought to be most careful.
24:51 1 To wit, from the rest, or will cut him into two parts, which was a most cruel kind of punishment, wherewith as Justin Martyr witnesseth, Isaiah the Prophet was executed by the Jews: the like kind of punishment we read of, 1 Sam. 15:33 and Dan. 3:29.

25:1 1 We must desire strength at God’s hand, which may serve us as a torch while we walk through this darkness, to bring us to our desired end: otherwise if we become slothful and negligent as weary of our pains and travail, we shall be shut out of the doors.
25:14 1 Christ witnesseth that there shall be a long time between his departure to his father, and his coming again to us, but yet notwithstanding that, he will at that day take an account not only of the rebellious and obstinate, how they have bestowed that which they received of him, but also of his household servants, which have not through slothfulness employed those gifts which he bestowed upon them.
25:15 1 According to the wisdom and skill in dealing, which was given them.
five talents.
17 Likewise also he that received two, he also gained other two.
18 But he that received that one, went, and dug it in the earth, and hid his master's money.
19 But after a long season, the master of those servants came, and reckoned with them.
20 Then came he that had received five talents, and brought other five talents, saying, Master, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained with them other five talents.
21 Then his master said unto him, It is well done good servant, thou hast been faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much: enter into thy master's joy.
22 Also he that had received two talents, came, and said, Master, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents more.
23 His master said unto him, It is well done good servant, and faithful, Thou hast been faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much: enter into thy master's joy.
24 Then he that had received the one talent, came, and said, Master, I knew that thou wast an hard man, which receavest that thou sowdest not, and gatherest where thou strawedst not:
25 I was therefore afraid, and went, and hid thy money: and there it was from thee.
26 And his master answered, and said unto him, Thou wicked servant, deliver that which was committed to thee unto him that hath been made over to have little, and he shall have abundance, and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away.
27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming should I have received mine own with vantage.
28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.
29 For unto every man that hath, it shall be given, and he shall have abundance, and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away.
30 Cast therefore that unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
31 ¶ And when the Son of man cometh in his glory and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory,
32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another as a shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats.
33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, and the goats on the left.
34 Then shall the king say to them on his right hand, Come ye from me blessed of my father: take the inheritance of the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.
35 For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in unto you.
36 I was naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.
37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, and fed thee? or athirst, and gave thee drink?
38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in unto us? or naked, and clothed thee?
39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?
40 And the king shall answer, and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Ye did it not to one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it to me.
41 Then shall he say to them on the left hand, Depart from me ye cursed, into everlasting fire, which is prepared for the devil and his angels.
42 For I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat:
43 I thirsted, and ye gave me no drink:
44 I was an naked, and ye gave me no raiment:
45 I was sick, and ye visited me not.
46 ¶And these shall go into everlasting pain, and the righteous into life eternal.
2 Ye know that after two days is the Passover, and the Son of man shall be delivered to be crucified.

3 Then assembled together the chief Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people into the hall of the high Priest called Caiaphas:

4 And consulted together that they might take Jesus by subtlety, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest any uproar be among the people.

6 ¶ And when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman, which had a box of very costly ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at the table.

8 And when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, What needed this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and been given to the poor.

10 And Jesus knowing it, said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For ye have the poor always with you, but me shall ye not have always.

12 For in that she poured this ointment on my body, she did it to bury me.

13 Verily I say unto you, wheresoever this Gospel shall be preached throughout all the world, there shall also this that she hath done, be spoken of for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief Priests, 15 And said, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you, and they appointed unto him thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time, he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ Now on the first day of the feast of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the Passover?

18 And he said, Go ye into the city to such a man, and say to him, The master saith, My time is at hand: I will keep the Passover at thine house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had given them charge, and made ready the Passover.

20 So when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Is it I, Master?

23 And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, he shall betray me.

24 Surely the Son of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but woe be to that man, by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had never been born.

25 Then Judas which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, master? He said unto him, Thou hast said it.

26 ¶ And as they did eat, Jesus took the bread,

262 1 God himself and not men, appointed the time that Christ should be crucified in.

265 1 By the word Feast, is meant the whole feast of unleavened bread: the first and eighth day whereof were so holy, that they might do no manner of work therein, though the whole company of the Sanhedrin determined otherwise: And yet it came to pass through God's providence, that Christ suffered at that time, to the end that all the people of Israel might be witnesses of his everlasting sacrifice.

266 1 By this sudden work of a sinful woman, Christ giveth the guests to understand of his death and burial which was nigh: the favor whereof shall bring life to all sinners which flee unto him. But Judas taketh an occasion hereby to accomplish his wicked purpose and counsel.

267 1 For these things were done before Christ came to Jerusalem: and yet some think that the Evangelists recite two histories.

2 2 These boxes were of alabaster, which in old time men made hollow to put in ointments: for some write, that alabaster keepeth ointment without corruption, Pliny, book 13, chapter 1.

268 1 This is a figure called Synecdoche: for it is said but of Judas that he was moved thereat, John 12:4.

2 2 Unprofitable spending.

2610 1 We ought not rashly to condemn that which is not orderly done.

2611 1 Christ, who was once anointed in his own person, must always be anointed in the poor.

2612 1 In that she poured this ointment upon my body, she did it to bury me.

2617 1 Christ verily purposing to bring us into our country out of hand, and so to abrogate the figure of the Law, fulfilleth the Law, neglecting the contrary tradition and custom of the Jews, and therewith showeth that all things shall so come to pass by the ministry of men, that the secret counsel of God shall govern them.

2 2 This was the fourteenth day of the first month: and the first day of unleavened bread should have been the fifteenth, but because this day's evening (which after the manner of the Romans was referred to the day before) did belong by the Jews' manner to the day following, therefore it is called the first day of unleavened bread.

2620 1 Because the Law appointed them to be shod, and have their staffs in their hands, as though they were in haste, thereby it is to be gathered that they sat not down when they did eat the Passover, but stood, for otherwise when they went to meat, they put off their shoes: therefore he speaketh here in this place, not of the Passover, but of the Supper, which was celebrated after that the Passover was solemnly done.

2623 1 That is to say, whom I vouchsafed to come to my table, alluding to the place, Ps. 41:9, which is not so to be understood, as though at the selfsame instant that the Lord spake these words, Judas had had his hand in the dish (for that had been an undoubted token) but it is meant of his tabling and eating with them.

2625 1 Whose head was about nothing then but to betray him.

2626 1 Christ minding forthwith to fulfill the promises of the old covenant, instituteth a new covenant with new figures.
and when he had 1blessed, he brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, ‘Take, eat: this is my body.’

27 Also he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it them, saying, ‘Drink ye all of it.’

28 1For this is my blood of the 2new Testament that is shed for many, for the remission of sins.

29 I say unto you that I will not drink henceforth with you of my Father’s kingdom.

30 And when they had sung 1a Psalm, they went out into the mount of Olives.

31 ¶ Then said Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, ‘I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered.’

32 But ‘after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.’

33 But Peter answered, and said unto him, Though that all men should be offended by thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 ‘Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.’

35 Peter said unto him, ‘Though I should die with thee, I will in no case deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.’

36 ¶ Then said Jesus unto them, ‘Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weak.’

37 And he took Peter, and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to wax sorrowful, and grievously troubled.

38 ¶ Then said Jesus unto them, ‘My soul is very heavy, even unto the death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.’

39 So he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, ‘O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, as I will, but as thou wilt.’

40 ‘After, he came unto the disciples, and found them asleep, and said to Peter, What? could ye not watch with me one hour?’

41 Watch, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weak.

42 Again he went away the second time, and prayed, saying, ‘O my Father, if this cup cannot pass away from me, but that I must drink it, thy will be done.’

43 And he came and found them asleep, for their eyes were heavy.

44 So he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 ‘Then came he to his disciples, and said unto them, ‘Sleep henceforth, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is given into the hands of sinners.’

46 ‘Rise, let us go: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.’

47 ¶ And while he yet spake, lo, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, 1from the high Priests and Elders of the people.

48 ‘Now he that betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he, lay hold on him.’

49 ‘And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, ‘God save thee, Master, and kissed him.’

2 Mark xi.10; Had given thanks: and therefore blessing is not a consecrating, with a conjuring kind of murmuring and force of words: and yet the bread and the wine are changed, not in nature, but in quality, for they become undoubted tokens of the body and blood of Christ, not of their own nature or force of words, but by Christ his institution, which must be recited and laid forth, that faith may find what to lay hold on, both in the word and in the elements.

3 This is a figurative speech, which is called Metonymy: that is to say, the putting of one name for another—so calling the bread his body, which is the sign and sacrament of his body: and yet notwithstanding, it is so a figurative and changed kind of speech, that the faithful do receive Christ indeed with all his gifts (though by a spiritual means) and become one with him.

26:36 1 Christ having regard to the weakness of his disciples, leaving all the rest in safety, taketh with him but three to be witnesses of his anguish, and goeth of purpose into the place appointed to betray him in.

26:37 1 The word which he useth, signifieth great sorrow, and marvellous and deadly grief: which thing, as it betokeneth the truth of man’s nature, which shunneth death as a thing that entered in against nature, so it showeth that though Christ were void of sin, yet he sustained this horrible punishment, because he felt the wrath of God kindled against us for sins, which he revenged and punished in his person.

26:38 1 Christ a true man, going about to suffer the punishment which was due unto us, for forsaking of God is forsaken of his own: he hath a terrible conflict with the horror and fear of the curse of God, out of which he escaping as a conqueror, causeth us not to be afraid anymore of death.

26:39 1 Christ offereth himself willingly to be taken, that in so obeying willingly, he might make satisfaction for the willful fall of man.

26:47 1 Sent from the high Priests.
MATTHEW 26:50

50 Then Jesus said unto him, 2Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high Priest, and smote off his ear.

52 Then said Jesus unto him, Put up thy sword into his place: for all that take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 Either thinkest thou, that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he will give me more than twelve legions of Angels?

54 How then should the Scriptures be fulfilled, which say, that it must be so?

55 The same hour said Jesus to the multitude, Ye be come out as it were against a thief, with swords and staves to take me: I sat daily teaching in the Temple among you, and ye took me not.

56 But all this was done, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

57 And they took Jesus, and led him to 2Caiaphas the high Priest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

58 And Peter followed him afar off unto the high Priest’s hall, and went in and sat with the servants to see the end.

59 Now the chief Priests and the Elders, and all the whole Council sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death.

60 But they found none, and though many false witnesses came, yet found they none: but at the last two false witnesses, 61 And said, This man said, 1I can destroy the Temple of God, and build it in three days.

62 Then the chief Priest arose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing? What is the matter that they which use the sword, and are not called to it.

63 But Jesus held his peace. Then the chief Priest answered, and said to him, I charge thee swear unto us by the living God, to tell us, If thou be that Christ the son of God, or no.

64 Jesus said to him, Thou hast said it: nevertheless I say unto you, 1Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man, sitting 2at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the 3clouds of the heaven.

65 Then the high Priest 1rent his clothes, saying, He hath blasphemed, what have we any more need of witnesses: behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 What think ye? They answered, and said, He is guilty of death.

67 Then spat they in his face, and buffeted him, and others smote him with rods, 68 Saying, Prophesy to us, O Christ. Who is he that smote thee?

69 Peter sat without in the hall, and a maid came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee:

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I wot not what thou sayest.

71 And when he went out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This man was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And again he denied with an oath, saying, I know not the man.

73 So after a while, came unto him they that stood by, and said unto Peter, Surely thou art also one of them: for even thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to curse himself, and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

75 Then Peter remembered the words of Jesus, which had said unto him, Before the cock crow thou shalt deny me thrice. So he went out, and wept bitterly. 27

1 He is delivered bound to Pilate. 5 Judas hangeth himself. 19 Pilate’s wife. 20 Barabbas is asked. 24 Pilate washeth his hands. 29 Christ is crowned with thorns. 34 He is crucified. 40 Reviled. 50 He giveth up the Ghost. 57 He is buried. 62 The soldiers watch him.
1 When the ‘morning was come, all the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people took counsel against Jesus, to put him to death.
2 And led him away bound, and delivered him unto Pontius Pilate the governor.
3 ¶ Then when Judas which betrayed him, saw that he was condemned, he repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief Priests, and Elders,
4 Saying, I have sinned, betraying the innocent blood.
But they said, What is that to us? see thou to it.
5 And when he had cast down the silver pieces in the Temple, he ‘departed, and went, ‘and hanged himself.
6 And the chief Priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for us to put them into the ‘treasure, because it is the price ‘of blood.
7 And they took counsel, and bought with them a potter’s field, for the burial of strangers.
8 Wherefore that field is called, ‘The field of blood, until this day.
9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, ‘And they took thirty silver pieces, the price of him that was valued, whom they the children of Israel valued.
10 And they gave them for the potter’s field, as the Lord appointed me.)
11 ¶ And Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou that King of the Jews? Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest it.
12 And when he was accused of the chief Priests, and Elders, he answered nothing.
13 Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they lay against thee?
14 But he answered him not to one word, insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.
15 ‘Now at the feast the governor was wont to deliver unto the people a prisoner whom they would.
16 And they had then a notable prisoner called Barabbas.
17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whether will ye that I let loose unto you Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?
18 (For he knew well, that for envy they had delivered him.
19 Also when he was set down upon the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, I have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream by reason of him.)
20 ¶ But the chief Priests and the elders had persuaded the people that they should ask Barabbas, and should destroy Jesus.
21 Then the governor answered, and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I let loose unto you? And they said, Barabbas.
22 Pilate said unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all said to him, Let him be crucified.
23 ¶ Then said the governor, But what evil hath he done? Then they cried the more, saying, Let him be crucified.
24 ¶ When Pilate saw that he availed nothing, but that more tumult was made, he took water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just man: look you to it.
25 Then answered all the people, and said, ‘His blood be on us, and on our children.
26 ¶ Thus let he Barabbas loose unto them, and scourged Jesus, and delivered him to be crucified.
27 ¶ Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered about him the whole band,
28 ¶ And they stripped him, and ‘put about him
a scarlet robe,
29 And platted a crown of thorns, and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, saying,
God save thee, King of the Jews,
30 And spitted upon him, and took a reed, and smote him on the head.
31 Thus when they had mocked him, they took the robe from him, and put his own raiment on him, and let him away to crucify him.
32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to bear his cross.
33 And when they came unto the place called Golgotha (that is to say, the place of dead men's skulls) 34 They gave him vinegar to drink, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.
35 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet: They divided my garments among them, and upon my vesture did cast lots.
36 And they sat and watched him there.
37 They set up also over his head his cause written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.
38 And there were two thieves crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.
39 And they that passed by, reviled him, wagging their heads,
40 And saying, Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.
41 Likewise also the high Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, and Elders, and Pharisees, said,
He saved others, but he cannot save himself: if he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe in him.
42 He trusted in God, let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.
43 The self same thing also the thieves which were crucified with him, cast in his teeth.
44 One of them that did revile him.
45 Now from the sixth hour was there darkness over all the land, unto the ninth hour.
46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elijah.
48 And straightway one of them ran, and took 'sponge and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.
49 Others said, Let be: we see if Elijah will come and save him.
50 Then Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and yielded up the ghost.
51 And behold, the 'veil of the Temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom, and the earth did quake, and the stones were cloven.
52 And the 'graves did open themselves, and many bodies of the Saints, which slept, arose, 53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.
54 When the Centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earth quake, and the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying,
 Truly this was the Son of God.
55 And many women were there, beholding him afar off, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him.
56 Among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Jose, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.
57 And when the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who had also himself been Jesus' disciple.
58 He went to Pilate, and asked the body of Jesus.

27:32 They compelled Simon to bear his burdensome cross, whereby it appeareth that Jesus was so sore handled before, that he fainted by the way, and was not able to bear his cross throughout: for John writeth that he did bear the cross, to wit, at the beginning.
27:33 He is led out of the city, that we may be brought into the heavenly kingdom.
27:34 Christ found no comfort anywhere, that in him we might be filled with all comfort.
27:35 He is made a curse, that in him we may be blessed: he is spoiled of his garments, that we might be enriched by his nakedness.
27:37 He is pronounced the true Messiah, even of them of whom he is rejected.
27:38 Christ began then to judge the world, when after his judgment he hung betwixt two thieves.
27:39 To make full satisfaction for us, Christ suffereth and overcometh, not only the torments of the body, but also the most horrible torments of the mind.
27:44 This is spoken by the figure Synecdoche, for there was but one of them that did revile him.
27:45 Heaven itself is darkened for very horror, and Jesus crieth out from the depth of hell, and in the meanwhile he is mocked.
27:46 To wit, in this misery: and this crying out is proper to his humanity, which notwithstanding was void of sin, but yet felt the wrath of God which is due to our sins.
27:47 They allude to Elijah's name, not for want of understanding the tongue, but of a profane impudence and sauciness, and he repeated these words, to the end that this better harping upon the name might be understood.
27:50 From the sixth hour was there darkness over all the land, unto the ninth hour.
27:51 Christ after he had overcome other enemies, at length provoked and setteth upon death itself.
27:51 Christ, when he is dead, sheweth himself to be God almighty, even his enemies confessing the same.
27:52 That is to say, the stones clave asunder, and the graves did open themselves, to show by this token, that death was overcome: and the resurrection of the dead followed the resurrection of Christ, as appeareth by the next verse following.
Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.
59 So Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth,
60 And put it in his new tomb, which he had hewn out in a rock, and rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulcher, and departed.
61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting against over the sepulcher.
62 ¶ Now the next day that followed the Preparation of the Sabbath, the high Priests and Pharisees assembled to Pilate, 63 And said, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, Within three days I will rise.
64 Command therefore, that the sepulcher be made sure until the third day, lest his Disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so shall the last error be worse than the first.
65 Then Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch: go, and make it sure, as ye know.
66 And they went, and made the sepulcher sure, with the watch, and sealed the stone.

28 1 The women go to the sepulcher.  2 The Angel.  9 The women see Christ.  18 He sendeth his Apostles to preach.
1 Now in 'the 2end of the Sabbath, when the first day of the week 'began to dawn, Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, came to see the sepulcher.
2 And behold, there was a great earthquake: for the Angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.
3 And his 'countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.
4 And for fear of him, the keepers were astonished, and became as dead men.
5 But the Angel answered, and said to the women, Fear ye not: for I know that ye seek Jesus which was crucified: now that the soldiers were afraid.

6 He is not here, for he is risen, as he said: come, see the place where the Lord was laid,
7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and behold, he goeth before you into Galilee: there ye shall see him: lo, I have told you.
8 So they departed quickly from the sepulcher, with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his disciples word.
9 ¶ And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus also met them, saying, God save you. And they came, and took him by the feet, and worshipped him.
10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid. Go, and tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.
11 ¶ Now when they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and showed unto the high Priests all the things that were done.
12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and took counsel, and gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.
14 And if this matter 'come before the governor to be heard, we will persuade him, and so use the matter that you shall not need to care.
15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is noised among the Jews unto this day.
16 ¶ Then the eleven disciples went into Galilee, into a mountain, where Jesus had appointed them.
17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.
18 And Jesus came, and spake unto them, saying, 'All power is given unto me, in heaven, and in earth.
19 ¶ Go therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and the Son, and the holy Ghost, 20 Teaching them to observe all things, whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, until the end of the world, Amen.
The beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God:

1 As it is written in the Prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

2 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

3 Prepare thy way before thee.

4 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

5 And all the country of Judea, and they of Jerusalem went out unto him, and were all baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

6 Now John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins: and he did eat locusts and wild honey,

7 And preached, saying, A stronger than I cometh after me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8 Truth it is, I have baptized you with water: but he will baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth, a city of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

10 And as soon as he was come out of the water, John saw the heavens cloven in twain, and the holy

1:2 1 John goeth before Christ, as it was forespoken by the Prophets. 2 This is the figure Metonymy, whereby is meant the books of the Prophets, Malachi and Isaiah.

3 The Prophet useth the present tense, when he speaketh of a thing to come, being as a sure of it, as if he saw it.

4 A metaphor taken from the usage of kings, which used to have ushers go before them.

1:4 1 The sum of John's doctrine, or rather Christ's, is remission of sins and amendment of life.

2 The Jews used many kinds of washings: but here is spoken of a peculiar kind of washing, which hath all the parts of true baptism, amendment of life, and forgiveness of sins.

1:7 1 John and all ministers cast their eyes upon Christ the Lord.

2 The Evangelist his meaning was to express the condition of the basest servant.

1:8 1 He showeth that all the force of baptism proceedeth from Christ, who baptizeth within.

1:9 1 Christ doth consecrate our baptism in himself.

1:10 1 The vocation of Christ from heaven, as head of the Church.

2 John that went down into the water with Christ.

1:11 1 See also Matt. 3:17.

1:12 1 Christ being tempted overcomeeth.

2 Here is no violent and forcible driving out meant: but the divine power claddeth Christ (who had lived until this time as a private man) with a new person, and prepareth him to the combat that was at hand, and to his ministry.

1:14 1 After that John is taken, Christ sheweth himself fully.

1:16 1 The calling of Simon and Andrew.

1:19 1 The calling of James and John.

1:21 1 From the city Nazareth.
23 ¶ And there was in their Synagogue a man in whom was an unclean spirit, and he cried out,
24 Saying, Ah, what have we to do with thee, O thou Son of God, Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee whom thou art, even thou who art One of God.
25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.
26 And the unclean spirit tare him, and cried with a loud voice, and came out of him.
27 And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he commandedeth even the foul spirits with authority, and they obey him.
28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.
29 ¶ And as soon as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.
30 And Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they told him of her.
31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up, and the fever forsook her by and by, and she ministered unto them.
32 And when even was come, at what time the Sun setteth, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.
33 And the whole city was gathered together at the door.
34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases: and he cast out many devils, and suffered not the devils to say that they knew him.
35 And in the morning very early before day, Jesus arose and went out into a solitary place, and there prayed.
36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed carefully after him.
37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.
38 Then he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for I came out for that purpose.
39 And he preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast the devils out.
40 ¶ And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeled down unto him, and said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.
41 And Jesus had compassion, and put forth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will: be thou clean.
42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean.
43 And after he had given him a straight commandment, he sent him away forthwith, 44 ¶ And said unto him, See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence, and show thyself to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimonial unto them.
45 But when he was departed, he began to tell many things, and to publish the matter: so that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

2 And there was in their Synagogue a man in whom was an unclean spirit, and he cried out,
3 And there came unto him, that brought one sick of the palsy, borne of four men.
4 And when even was come, at what time the Sun setteth, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.
5 And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he commanded even the foul spirits with authority, and they obey him.
6 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.
7 And as soon as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.
8 And Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they told him of her.
9 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up, and the fever forsook her by and by, and she ministered unto them.
10 And when even was come, at what time the Sun setteth, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.
11 And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he commanded even the foul spirits with authority, and they obey him.
12 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.
sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins are forgiven thee.
6 And there were certain of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,
7 Why doth this man speak such blasphemies?
8 who can forgive sins, but God only?
9 And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit, that thus they reasoned with themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?
10 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, take up thy bed, and walk?
11 But that ye may know, that the Son of man hath authority in earth to forgive sins, he said unto the sick of the palsy;
12 And there was a man which had a withered hand.
13 And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at table in his house, many Publicans and sinners sat at table also with Jesus, and his disciples: for there were many that followed him.
14 And when the Scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with the Publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it, that he eateth and drinketh with Publicans and sinners?
15 ¶ And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at table in his house, many Publicans and sinners sat at table also with Jesus, and his disciples: for there were many that followed him.
16 And when the Scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with the Publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it, that he eateth and drinketh with Publicans and sinners?
17 Now when Jesus heard it, he said unto them, The whole have no need of the Physician, but the sick. ¶ came not to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.
18 ¶ And the disciples of John, and the Pharisees did fast, and came and said unto him, Why do the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees fast, and thy disciples fast not?
19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the marriage chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.
20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast in those days.
21 Also no man soweth a piece of new cloth in an old garment: for else the new piece that filled it up, taketh away somewhat from the old, and the breach is worse.
22 Likewise, no man putteth new wine into old vessels: for else the new wine breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are lost; but new wine must be put into new vessels.
23 ¶ And it came to pass as he went through the corn on the Sabbath day, that his disciples, as they went on their way, began to pluck the ears of corn.
24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the Sabbath day, that which is not lawful?
25 And he said to them, Have ye never read what David did when he had need, and was an hungered, both he, and they that were with him?
26 How he went into the house of God, in the days of Abiathar the high Priest, and did eat the Showbread, which were not lawful to eat, but for the Priests, and gave also to them which were with him?
27 And he said to them, The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath.
28 Wherefore the Son of man is Lord, even of the Sabbath.

1 The withered hand is healed. 6 The Pharisees consult with the Herodians. 10 Many are healed by touching Christ. 11 At his sight the devils fall down before him. 14 The twelve Apostles. 24 The kingdom divided against itself. 29 Blasphemy against the holy Ghost. 33 Christ’s parents.

1 And entered again into the Synagogue, and there was a man which had a withered hand.
2 And they watched him, whether he would heal things, without all discretion.
2:23 Secondly, for that they make no difference between the laws which God made concerning the same things, and laws that are made of things which are utterly unlawful.
2:26 1 In 1 Sam. 21:1 he is called Ahimelech and his son Abiathar, but by conference of other places, it is plain, that both of them had two names. See also 1 Chron. 24:6; 2 Sam. 8:17; 2 Sam. 15:29; 1 Kings 2:26; 2 Kings 25:18.
2:28 1 Hath the Sabbath day in his power, and may rule as him listeth.
3:1 3 Thirdly, for that they preferred the ceremonial Law (which was but an appendant to the moral Law) before the moral Law: whereas contrariwise, they should have learned out of this, the true use of the ceremonial Law.
3:2 That is, unprofitable and dead.
him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.
3 Then he said unto the man which had the withered hand, Arise: stand forth in the midst.
4 And he said to them, Is it lawful to do a good deed on the Sabbath day, or to do evil? to save the life, or to kill? but they held their peace.
5 Then he looked round about on them angrily, mourning also for the hardness of their hearts, and said to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored, as whole as the other.
6 ¶ And the Pharisees departed, and straightway gathered a council with the Herodians against him, that they might destroy him.
7 But Jesus avoided with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galilee, and from Judea,
8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and beyond Jordan: and they that dwelled about Tyre and Sidon, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him in great number.
9 And he commanded his disciples, that a little ship should wait for him, because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.
10 For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him to touch him, as many as had plagues.
11 And when the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.
12 And he sharply rebuked them, to the end they should not utter him.
13 ¶ Then he went up into a mountain, and called unto him whom he would, and they came unto him.
14 ¶ And he appointed twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them to preach.
15 And that they might have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:
16 And the first was Simon, and he named Simon, Peter,
17 Then James the son of Zebedee, and John James' brother (and surnamed them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder,)
18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him, and they came home.
20 And the multitude assembled again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.
21 ¶ And when his kinsfolks heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said that he was beside himself.
22 ¶ And the Scribes which came down from Jerusalem, said, He hath Beelzebub, and through the prince of the devils he casteth out devils.
23 But he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan drive out Satan? for if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.
24 Or if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot continue.
25 So if Satan make insurrection against himself, and be divided, he cannot endure, but is at an end.
26 No man can enter into a strong man's house, and take away his goods, except he first bind that strong man, and then spoil his house.
27 No man can enter into a strong man's house, and take away his goods, except he first bind that strong man, and then spoil his house.
28 ¶ Verily I say unto you, all sins shall be forgiven unto the children of men, and blasphemies, wherewith they blaspheme:
29 But he that blasphemeth against the holy Ghost, shall never have forgiveness, but is culpable of eternal damnation.
30 ¶ Because they said, He had an unclean spirit.
31 ¶ Then came his brethren and mother and stood without, and sent unto him, and called him.
32 And the people sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother, and thy brethren seek for thee without.
33 But he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, and my brethren, and my kinsmen?

35 ¹ Men, when they have wrong done unto them, are angry, but not without vice, but Christ is angry without vice, neither is he sorry so much for the injury that is done to his own person, as for their wickedness: and therefore he had pity upon them, and for that cause is he said to have mourned.

mother and my brethren?

34 And he looked round about on them, which sat in compass about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

35 For whosoever doeth the will of God, he is my brother, my sister, and my mother.

4 The parable of the sower. 14 And the meaning thereof. 18 Thorns. 21 The candle. 26 Of him that sowed, and then slept. 31 The grain of mustard seed. 38 Christ sleepeth in the ship.

1 And he began again to teach by the seaside, and there gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea, and all the people was by the seaside on the land.

2 And he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken: Behold, there went out a sower to sow.

4 And it came to pass as he sowed, that some fell by the wayside, and the fowls of the heaven came, and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang up, because it had not depth of earth.

6 But as soon as the Sun was up, it was burnt up, and because it had not root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, so that it gave no fruit.

8 Some again fell in good ground, and did yield fruit: one thirtyfold, some sixtyfold, and some an hundredfold.

9 Then he said unto them, He that hath ears, to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him asked him of the parable.

11 And he said unto them, To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all things are done in parables.

12 That they seeing, may see, and not discern: and they hearing, may hear, and not understand, lest at any time they should turn, and their sins should be forgiven them.
2 And when he was come out of the ship, there came over to the other side of the piece, and there was about two thousand little ships.

3 Who had his abiding among the graves, and no man could bind him, no not with fetters:

4 Because that when he was often bound with fetters and chains, he plucked the chains asunder, and brake the fetters in pieces, neither could any man tame him.

5 And always both night and day he cried in the mountains, and in the graves, and struck himself with stones.

6 And when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran, and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus the Son of the most High God? I will that thou swear to me by God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? and he answered, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he prayed him instantly, that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there in the mountains a great heard of swine, feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.

14 And they that saw it, told them, what was done.

15 And they came to Jesus, and saw him that had been possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sit both clothed, and in his right mind: and they came out to see what it was that was done.

16 And they that saw it, told them, what was done to him that was possessed with the devil, and concerning the swine.

17 Then they began to pray him, that he would depart from their coasts.

18 And when he was come out of the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 And as soon as the fruit showeth itself, anon he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

20 5:18 But after that it is sown, it groweth up, and is greatest of all herbs, and beareth great branches, so that the fowls of the heaven may build under the shadow of it.

21 But if it be sown in the earth, is the least of all seeds that be in the earth:

1 And they came over to the other side of the sea into the country of the Gadaranes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, there met him incontinently out of the graves, a man which had an unclean spirit:

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And incontinently Jesus gave them leave. Then the unclean spirits went out and entered into the swine, and the herd ran headlong from the high bank into the sea, (and there were about two thousand swine) and they were choked up in the sea.

14 And the swineherds fled, and told it in the city, and in the country, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Jesus, and saw him that had been possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sit both clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

1 And they came over to the other side of the sea into the country of the Gadaranes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, there met him incontinently out of the graves, a man which had an unclean spirit:
19 Howbeit, Jesus would not suffer him, but said unto him, Go thy way home to thy friends, and show them what great things the Lord hath done unto thee, and how he had compassion on thee.

20 So he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, what great things Jesus had done unto him: and all men did marvel.

21 ¶ And when Jesus was come over again by ship unto the other side, a great multitude gathered together to him, and he was near unto the sea.

22 And behold, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Jairus: and when he saw him, he fell down at his feet,

23 And besought him instantly, saying, My little daughter lieth at point of death:

24 Then he went with him, and a great multitude followed him and thronged him.

25 And there was a certain woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, 26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and it availed her nothing, but she became much worse.

27 When she had heard of Jesus, she came in the press behind, and touched his garment.

28 For she said, if I may but touch his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the course of her blood was dried up, and she felt in her body, that she was healed, and live.

30 And immediately when Jesus did know in himself the virtue that went out of him, he turned him round about in the press, and said, Who hath touched me?

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude throng thee, and sayest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for she knew what was done in her, and she came and fell down before him, and told him the whole truth.

34 And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the same ruler of the Synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why diseasest thou the master any further?

36 ¶ As soon as Jesus heard that word spoken, he said unto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid: only believe.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him save Peter and James, and John the brother of James.

38 So he came unto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saw the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And he went in, and said unto them, Why make ye this trouble, and weep? the child is not dead, but sleeppeth.

40 ¶ And they laughed him to scorn: but he put them all out, and took the father, and the mother of the child, and them that were with him, and entered in where the child lay,

41 And took the child by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi, which is by interpretation, Maiden, I say unto thee, arise.

42 And straightway the maiden arose, and walked: for she was of the age of twelve years, and they were astonied out of measure.

43 And he charged them straitly that no man should know of it, and commanded to give her meat.

3 Christ preaching in his country, his own condem him. 6 The unbelief of the Nazarites. 7 The Apostles are sent. 13 They cast out devils: they anoint the sick with oil. 14 Herod's opinion of Christ. 18 The cause of John's imprisonment. 22 Dancing. 27 John beheaded, 29 buried. 30 The Apostles return from preaching. 34 Christ teacheth in the desert. 37 He feedeth the people with five loaves. 48 The Apostles are troubled on the sea. 56 The sick that touch Christ's garment, are healed.

1 And he departed thence, and came into his own country, and his disciples followed him.

2 And when the Sabbath was come, he began to teach in the Synagogue, and many that heard him, were astonied, and said, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this that is given unto him, that even such great works are done by his hands?

3 Is not this that carpenter Mary's son, the brother of James and Joses, and of Judas and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended in him.
4 And Jesus said unto them, A 1Prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kindred, and in his own house.
5 And he could there do no great works, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.
6 And he marvelled at their unbelief, and went about by the towns on every side, teaching.

6:9
9 that they should be shod with 1sandals, and that they should not put on 2two coats,
10 And he said unto them, Wheresoever ye shall enter into a house, there abide till ye depart thence.
11 ¶ And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust that is under your feet, for a witness unto them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be easier for Sodom, or Gomorrah at the day of Judgment, than for that city.
12 ¶ And they went out, and preached, that men should amend their lives.
13 And they cast out many devils: and they anointed many that were sick, with oil, and healed them.
14 ¶ Then King Herod heard of him (for his Name was made manifest) and said, John Baptist is risen again from the dead, and therefore great works are wrought by him.
15 Others said, It is Elijah, and some said, It is a Prophet, or as one of 1those Prophets.
16 So when Herod heard it, he said, It is John whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.
17 For Herod himself had sent forth, and had taken John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, which was his brother Philip's wife, because he had married her.

6:13
13 And they cast out many devils: and they anointed many that were sick, with oil, and healed them.
14 And Jesus said unto them, A 1Prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kindred, and in his own house.
15 And he could there do no great works, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.
16 And he marvelled at their unbelief, and went about by the towns on every side, teaching.

6:18
18 For John said unto Herod, 1It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.
19 Therefore Herodias 1laid wait against him: and would have killed him, but she could not:
20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man, and an holy, and reverenced him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.
21 But the time being convenient, when Herod on his birthday made a banquet to his princes and captains, and chief estates of Galilee:
22 And the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sat at table together, the King said unto the maid, Ask of me what thou wilt, and I will give it thee.
23 And he swore unto her, Whatasoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, even unto the half of my kingdom.
24 'So she went forth, and said to her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, John Baptist's head.
25 Then she came in straightway with haste unto the King, and asked, saying, I would that thou shouldst give me even now in a charger the head of John Baptist.
26 Then the King was very sorry: for he loved John Baptist, and desired not to slay him.
27 And immediately the King sent the 1hangman, and gave charge that his head should be brought in. So he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the maid, and the maid gave it to her mother.
29 And when his disciples heard it, they came and took up his body, and put it in a tomb.
30 ¶ And the Apostles gathered themselves together to Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.
31 ¶ And he said unto them, Come ye apart into the wilderness, and rest a while: for there were many comers and goers, that they had not leisure to eat.

6:14
14 The Gospel confirmeth the godly, and vexeth the wicked.
2 This word signifieth Powers, whereby is meant the power of working miracles.

6:24
1 For women used not to sit at table with men.
27 The word signifieth one that beareth a dart, and the king's guard was so called, because they did bear darts.
31 Such as follow Christ shall want nothing, no not in the wilderness, but shall have abundance. And how wicked a thing is it, not to look for this transitory life at his hands, who giveth everlasting life?
32 Then they went by ship out of the way into a desert place.
33 But the people saw them when they departed, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled unto him.
34 Then Jesus went out, and saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheep which had no shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.
35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the day is far passed.
36 Let them depart, that they may go into the country and towns about, and buy them bread: for they have nothing to eat.
37 But he answered, and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said unto him, Shall we go, and buy two hundred pennies worth of bread, and give them to eat?
38 Then he said unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and look. And when they knew it, they said, Five, and two fishes.
39 So he commanded them to make them all sit down by rows, by hundreds, and by fifties.
40 Then they sat down by rows, by hundreds, and by fifties.
41 And he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looked up to heaven, and gave thanks, and broke the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them, and the two fishes he divided among them all.
42 So they did all eat, and were satisfied.
43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.
44 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men.
45 And straightway he caused his disciples to go into the ship, and to go before unto the other side unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

6:37 1 This declareth that there is an horrid disorder among the people, where the true preaching of God's word wanteth.

6:39 1 Word for word, by banquets, after the manner of the Hebrews, who have no distributives, as Mark 6:7. Now he calleth the rows of the sitters, banquets.

6:40 1 The word signifieth the beds in a garden, and it is word for word, by beds and beds, meaning thereby that they sat down in rows one by another, as beds in a garden.

6:45 1 The faithful servants of God after their little labor, are subject to great tempest, which Christ doth so moderate being present in power, although absent in body, that he bringeth them to an happy haven, at such time and by such means, as they looked not for: A lively image of the Church tossed to and fro in this world.

6:46 1 His disciples.

6:51 1 They were so far from leaving to be amazed, when they knew that it was no spirit, that they were much more astonished than ever they were before, when they saw the wind and the seas obey his commandment.

6:52 1 Either they perceived not, or had not well considered that miracle of the five loaves, inasmuch that that virtue of Christ was no less strange to them, than if they had not been present at that miracle which was done but a little before.

6:54 1 Christ being rejected in his own country, and arriving upon a sudden amongst them of whom he was not looked for, is received to their profit.

6:56 1 Or, the hem of the garment.

7:1 1 None do more resist the wisdom of God, than they that should be wisest, and that upon a zeal of their own traditions: for men do not please themselves more in anything than in superstition, that is to say, in a worship of God fondly devised of themselves.
And when they saw some of his disciples eat meat with common hands, (that is to say, unwashed) they complained.

(For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, eat not, holding the traditions of the Elders.

And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not: and many other things there be, which they have taken upon them to observe, as the washing of cups, and pots, and of brazen vessels, and of beds.)

Then asked he him the Pharisees and Scribes, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eat meat with unwashed hands?

Then he answered and said unto them, Surely Isaiah hath prophesied well of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoreth me with lips, but their heart is far away from me.

But they worship me in vain, teaching doctrines the commandments of men.

For ye lay the Commandments of God apart, and observe the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and of cups, and many other such like things ye do.

And he said unto them, Well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may observe your own tradition.

For Moses said, Honor thy father and thy mother: and Whosoever shall speak evil of father or mother, let him die the death.

But ye say, If a man say to father or mother, Corban, that is, By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest have profit, he shall be free.

So ye suffer him no more to do anything for his father, or his mother.

Making the word of God of none authority, by your tradition which ye have ordained: and ye do many such like things.

Then he calleth the whole multitude unto him, and said unto them, Hearken you all unto me, and understand.

There is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entereth into him: but the things which proceed out of him, are they which defile the man.

If any have ears to hear, let him hear.

And when he came into an house, away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

And he said unto them, What? are ye without understanding also? Do ye not know that whatsoever thing from without entereth into a man, cannot defile him, because it entered not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught which is the purging of all meats?

Then he said, That which cometh out of man, that defileth man.

For from within, even out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceits, uncleanliness, and foolishness.

All these evil things come from within, and defile a man.

And from thence he rose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would that no man should know: but he could not be hid.

For a certain woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came, and fell at his feet,

And the woman was a Greek, a Syro-Phoenician by nation) and she besought him that he would cast out the devil out of her daughter.

But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be fed: for it is not good to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto whelps.

Word for word, eat bread: a kind of speech which the Hebrews use, taking bread for all kinds of food.

For the Pharisees would not eat their meat with unwashed hands, because they thought that their hands were defiled with common handling of things, Matt. 15:11, 12.

Observing diligently.

That is to say, from civil affairs and worldly, they go not to meat, unless they wash themselves first.

By these words are understood all kinds of vessels, which are appointed for our daily use.

Why live they not? a kind of speech taken from the Hebrews: for amongst them, the way is taken for trade of life.

Hypocrisy is always joined with superstition.

The more earnest the superstitions are, the more they are mad, in promising themselves God's favor by their deserts.

The devices of superstitious men do not only not fulfill the Law of God (as they blasphemously persuade themselves) but also do utterly take it away.
28 Then she answered, and said unto him, "Truth, Lord: yet indeed the whelps eat under the table of the children's crumbs.

29 Then he said unto her, For this saying go thy way: the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come home to her house, she found the devil departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 ¶ And he departed again from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, and came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of "Decapolis.

32 And they brought unto him one that was deaf and stammered in his speech, and prayed him to put his hand upon him.

33 Then he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers in his ears, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

34 And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And he commanded them that they should tell no man: but how much soever he forbade them, the more a great deal they published it.

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: 1He maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

8 1 The miracle of the seven loaves. 11 The Jews seek signs. 15 To beware of the leaven of the Pharisees. 22 A blind man healed. 27 The people's sundry opinions of Christ. 29 The Apostles acknowledge Christ. 31 He foretelleth his death. 33 Peter, Satan. 35 To save and lose the life. 38 To be ashamed of Christ.

1 In those days, when there was a very great multitude, and had nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples to him, and said unto them,

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now continued with me three days, and have nothing to eat.

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they would 2faint by the way: for some of them came from far.

4 Then his disciples answered him, Whence can a man satisfy these with bread here in the wilderness?

5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 Then he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, brake them, and gave to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

7 They had also a few small fishes: and when he had given thanks, he commanded them also to be set before them,

8 So they did eat, and were sufficed, and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets full.

9 (And they that had eaten, were about four thousand) so he sent them away.

10 ¶ And anon he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 ¶ And the Pharisees 2came forth, and began to dispute with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, and tempting him.

12 Then he sighed deeply in his spirit, and said, Why doth this generation seek a sign? Verily I say unto you, 3a sign shall not be given unto this generation.

13 ¶ So he left them, and went into the ship again, and departed to the other side.

14 ¶ And they had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them, but one loaf.

15 ¶ And he charged them, saying, Take heed, and beware of the leaven of Herod.

16 ¶ And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is, because we have no bread.

17 And when Jesus knew it, he said unto them, Why reason you thus, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your hearts yet hardened?

18 Have ye eyes, and see not? and have ye ears, and hear not? and do ye not remember?

19 ¶ When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of broken meat took encounter with him.
9:7 2 Christ’s transfiguration. 7 Christ must be heard. 11 Of Elias and John Baptist. 14 The possessed healed. 23 Faith can do all things. 31 Christ foretelleth his death. 33 Who is greatest among the Apostles. 36 Christ taketh a child in his arms. 42 To offend. 50 Salt. Peace.

1 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.

2 And six days after, Jesus taketh unto him Peter, and James, and John, and carrieth them up into a high mountain out of the way alone, and his shape was changed before them.

3 And his raiment did shine, and was very white as snow, so white as no fuller can make upon the earth.

4 And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses, and they talked with him.

5 Then Peter answered, and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: let us make also three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah.

6 Yet he knew not what he said: for they were afraid.

7 And there was a cloud that shadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, ‘This is my beloved Son: hear him.’

8 And suddenly they looked round about, and saw no more any man save Jesus only with them.

9 ¶ And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them, that they should tell no man what they had seen, save when the Son of man were risen from the dead again.

10 So they kept that matter to themselves, and demanded one of another, what the rising from the dead again should mean.

11 ¶ Also they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, that ‘Elijah must first come?’

12 And he answered, and said unto them, Elijah verily shall first come, and restore all things: and as it is written of him, ‘But Elias was sent before the Lord of Hosts to turn the hearts of the fathers backward, and the children to the fathers: and, lo, he cometh!’

13 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, (and they have done unto him whatsoever they would) as it is written of him.

14 ¶ And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were amazed, and ran to him, and saluted him.

16 Then he asked the Scribes, What dispute you among yourselves?

17 And one of the company answered, and said, Master, I have brought my son unto thee, which hath a dumb spirit:

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he tareth him, and he foameth, and gnasheth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples, that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19 Then he answered him, and said, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him unto me.

20 So they brought him unto him: and as soon as the spirit saw him, he tare him, and he fell down on the ground wallowing and foaming.

21 Then he asked his father, How long time is it since he hath been thus? And he said, Of a child.

22 And oft times he casteth him into the fire, and into the water to destroy him: but if thou canst do anything, help us, and have compassion upon us.

23 And Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.

24 And straightway the father of the child crying with tears, said, Lord, I believe: help my unbelief.

25 When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 ¶ Then the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out, and he was as one dead, insomuch that many said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus took his hand, and lifted him up, and he arose.

28 ¶ And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he said unto them, This kind can by no other means come forth, but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and went together through Galilee, and he would not that any should know it.

31 ¶ For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, but after that he is killed, he shall rise again the third day.

32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¶ After, he came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among you by the way?

34 And they held their peace: for by the way they reasoned among themselves, who should be the chiefest.

35 And he sat down and called the twelve, and said to them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant unto all.

36 And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them, and took him in his arms, and said unto them, 37 Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my Name, receiveth me: and whosoever receiveth unto him, the devil began to rage after his manner.

1004
me, receiveth not 'me, but him that sent me.

38 ¶ Then John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils by thy Name, which followeth not us, and we forbade him, because he followeth us not.

39 ¶ But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man that can do a miracle by my Name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 For whosoever is not against us, is on our part.

41 And whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink for my Name’s sake, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 ¶ And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones, that believe in me, it was better for him rather, that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were cast into the sea.

43 Wherefore if thine hand cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life, maimed, than having two hands, to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched,

44 Where their 1worm dieth not, and the fire never goeth out.

45 Likewise, if thy foot cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to go halt into life, than having two feet, to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched,

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire never goeth out.

47 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, pluck it out: it is better for thee to go into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire never goeth out.

49 For every man shall be 2salted with fire: and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 Salt is good: but if the salt be unsavory, wherewith shall it be seasoned? have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another.

10 The wife, only for fornication, is to be put away. 13 Little children are brought to Christ. 17 A rich man asketh Jesus, how he may possess eternal life. 28 The 17 ¶ 1And when he was gone out on the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do, that I may possess eternal life? 18 Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, even God. 19 Thou knowest the commandments, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness. Thou shalt 'hurt no man. Honor thy father and mother. 20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, all these things have I observed from my youth. 21 And Jesus looked upon him, and loved him, and said unto him, One thing is lacking unto thee. Sell all that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, follow me, and take up the cross. 22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions. 23 And Jesus looked round about, and said unto his disciples, How hardly do they that have riches, enter into the kingdom of God! 24 And his disciples were afraid at his words. But Jesus answered again, and said unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they were much more astonished, saying with themselves, Who then can be saved? 27 But Jesus looked upon them, and said, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible. 28 ¶ Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have forsaken all, and have followed thee. 29 Jesus answered, and said, Verily I say unto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospels, 30 But he shall receive an 'hundredfold, now at this present, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands 'with persecutions, and in the world to come, eternal life. 31 ¶ But many that are first, shall be last, and the last, first. 32 ¶ 1And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus went before them, and they were troubled, and as they followed, they were afraid, and Jesus took the twelve again, and began to tell them what things should come unto him, 33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the high Priests, and to the Scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles. 34 And they shall mock him, and scourge him, and spit upon him, and kill him: but the third day he shall rise again. 35 ¶ Then James and John the sons of Zebedee came unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us that we desire. 36 And he said unto them, What would ye I should do for you? 37 And they said to him, Grant unto us, that we may sit, one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy glory. 38 But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and be baptized with the baptism that I shall be baptized with? 39 And they said unto him, We can. But Jesus said unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of the cup that I shall drink of, and be baptized with the baptism wherewith I shall be baptized: 40 But to sit at my right hand and at my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared. 41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdain at James and John. 42 But Jesus called them unto him, and said to them, ‘Ye know that they which are princes among you, have dominion over them, and they that be great among them, exercise authority over them. 43 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your servant. 44 And whosoever will be chief of you, shall be the servant of all. 45 For even the Son of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life for the ransom of many.

10:17 1 Two things are chiefly to be eschewed of them which earnestly seek eternal life: that is to say, an opinion of their merits or deservings, which is not only understood, but condemned by the due consideration of the Law: and the love of riches, which tumeth aside many, from that race wherein they ran with a good courage. 10:19 1 Neither by force nor deceit, nor any other means whatsoever. 10:28 1 To neglect all things in comparison of Christ, is a sure way unto eternal life, so that we fall not away by the way. 10:30 1 An hundredfold as much, if we look to the true use and commodities of this life, so that we measure them after the will of God, and not after the wealth itself, and our greedy desire.

10:32 1 The disciples are again prepared to patience, not to be overcome by the foretelling unto them of his death, which was at hand, and therewithall of life which should most certainly follow. 10:35 1 We must first strive, before we triumph. 10:42 1 The Magistrates according to God's appointment, rule over their subjects; but the Pastors are not called to rule, but to serve, according to the example of the Son of God himself, who went before them, for so much as he also was a Minister of his Father's will. 2 They to whom it is decreed and appointed.

1 Christ entereth into Jerusalem riding on an ass. 13 The fruitless fig tree is cursed. 15 Sellers and buyers are cast out of the Temple. 23 The force of faith. 24 Faith in prayer. 25 The brother’s offenses must be pardoned. 27 The Priests ask by what authority he wrought those things that he did. 30 Whence John’s baptism was.

1 And when he came near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany unto the mount of Olives, he sent forth two of his disciples,

2 And said unto them, Go your ways into that town that is over against you, and as soon as ye shall enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, wherein no man sat: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? Say that the Lord hath need of him, and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found a colt, tied by the door without, in a place where two ways met, and they loosed him.

5 Then certain of them, that stood there, said unto them, Wherefore lovest thou ? And they said unto them, As Jesus had commanded them: So they let them go.

6 ¶ And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sat upon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way: others cut down branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna: blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

10 Blessed be the kingdom that cometh in the Name of the Lord of our Father David: Hosanna, O thou which art in the highest heavens.

11 So Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the Temple: and when he had looked about on all things, and now it was evening, he went forth unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 ¶ And on the morrow when they were come out from Bethany, he was hungry.

13 ¶ And seeing a fig tree afar off, that had leaves, he went to see if he might find anything thereon: but when he came unto it, he found nothing but leaves: for the time of figs was not yet.

14 Then Jesus answered, and said to it, Never man eat fruit of thee hereafter while the world standeth: and his disciples heard it.

15 ¶ And they came to Jerusalem, and Jesus went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the Temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves.

16 Neither would he suffer that any man should carry a vessel through the Temple.

17 And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, Mine house shall be called the house of prayer unto all nations? but you have made it a den of thieves.

18 And the Scribes and high Priests heard it, and sought how to destroy him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was astonished at his doctrine.

19 But when even was come, Jesus went out of the city.

20 ¶ And in the morning as they journeyed together, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots.

21 Then Peter remembered, and said unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Jesus answered, and said unto them, Have ye faith of thee hereafter while the world standeth: and his disciples heard it.

23 For verily I say unto you, that whatsoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken away, and cast into the sea, and shall not waver in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith, shall come to pass, whatsoever he saith, shall be done to him.

24 Therefore I say unto you, Whatsoever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye shall have it, and it shall be done unto you.

25 But when ye shall pray, forgive, if ye have anything against any man, that your Father also which is in heaven, may forgive you your trespasses.

26 For if you will not forgive, your Father which is in heaven, will not pardon you your trespasses.

27 Then they came again to Jerusalem: and as he walked in the Temple, there came to him the high Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders, 28 And said unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority, that thou shouldst do these things?

29 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, I will also ask you a certain thing, and answer ye me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.

31 And they thought with themselves, saying, If we shall say, Of men, we fear the people: for all men counted John that he was a Prophet indeed.

32 But if we say, Of men, we fear the people: for all think that thou are good for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly.

33 Then they answered, and said unto Jesus, We know not what to say; for fear of the people that if we say, Of men; we keep not the company, and lest we should say, Of God; we be put to death:

34 Therefore they said unto him, What wilt thou that we do? He said unto them, Give me a penny, that I may see it 35 And they that had received his commandment went their way, and brought it.

36 But they when they saw that it was not yet had, they went again unto him again the second time.

37 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye go away from me, lo, I will send the apostle to them: and I will say unto them, They will reverence me.

38 But I, when I send the apostle to them, will say unto them, Why believest thou not me? for I brought unto you the kingdom, and it is not received of you; and I will send it to the heathen, and the heathen will take it.

39 And come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

40 And when they were come again to Jerusalem, he sent the last unto them, saying, They will reverence me.

41 Then they sent it, and he sent him away shamefully handled.

42 For they knew that he was there, and he was able to do many miracles.

43 And when they came, they said unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly.

44 And then he sent him unto certain of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians, that they might take him in his talk.

45 And when they came, they said unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly.

46 Yet had he one son, his dear beloved: him also he sent, and they said unto him, Why believest thou not me? Bring me a penny, that I may see it.

47 And they when they saw that it was not yet had, they went again unto him again the second time.

48 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye go away from me, lo, I will send the apostle to them: and I will say unto them, They will reverence me.

49 But I, when I send the apostle to them, will say unto them, Why believest thou not me? for I brought unto you the kingdom, and it is not received of you; and I will send it to the heathen, and the heathen will take it.

50 And when they came, they said unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly.

51 But I, when I send the apostle to them, will say unto them, Why believest thou not me? Bring me a penny, that I may see it.

52 And they when they saw that it was not yet had, they went again unto him again the second time.

53 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye go away from me, lo, I will send the apostle to them: and I will say unto them, They will reverence me.

54 But I, when I send the apostle to them, will say unto them, Why believest thou not me? for I brought unto you the kingdom, and it is not received of you; and I will send it to the heathen, and the heathen will take it.

55 And when they came, they said unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly.
18 ¶ Then came the Sadducees unto him, (which say, there is no resurrection) and they asked him, saying,
19 Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man’s brother die, and leave his wife, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.
20 There were seven brethren, and the first took a wife, and when he died, left no issue.
21 Then the second took her, and he died, neither did he yet leave issue, and the third likewise:
22 So these seven had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.
23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise again, whose wife shall she be of them? for seven had her to wife.
24 Then Jesus answered, and said unto them, Are ye not therefore deceived, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?
25 For when they shall rise again from the dead, neither men marry, nor wives are married, but are as the Angels which are in heaven.
26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise again, have ye not read in the book of Moses how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?
27 God is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living. Ye are therefore greatly deceived.
28 ¶ Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, he asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?
29 Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, Israel, The Lord our God is the only Lord.
30 Thou shalt therefore love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.
31 And the second is like, that is, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.
32 Then that Scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth, that there is one God, and that there is none but he,
33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.
34 Then when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.
35 ¶ And Jesus answered and said teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the son of David?
36 For David himself said by ‘the holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.
37 Then David himself calleth him Lord: by what means is he then his son? and much people heard him gladly.
38 ¶ Moreover he said unto them in ‘his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes which love to go in long robes, and love salutations in the markets,
39 And the chief seats in the Synagogues, and the first rooms at feasts, 40 Which devour widows’ houses, even under a color of long prayers. These shall receive the greater damnation.
41 ¶ And as Jesus sat over against the treasury, he beheld how the people cast money into the treasury, and many rich men cast in much.
42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a quadrin.
43 Then he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury.
44 For they all did cast in of their superfluity: but she of her poverty did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

13 Of the destruction of Jerusalem. 9 Persecutions for the Gospel. 10 The Gospel must be preached to all nations. 26 Of Christ’s coming to judgment. We must watch and pray.

12:18 1 The resurrection of the body is avouched against the foolish ignorance and malice of the Sadducees.
12:28 2 Sacrifices and outward worship, never pleased God, unless such necessary duties as we owe to God and our neighbors went afore.
12:25 3 Christ proveth his Godhead even out of David himself, of whom he came according to the flesh.
12:36 1 Word for word, in the holy Ghost, and there is a great force in this kind of speech, whereby is meant that it was not so much David, as the holy Ghost that spake, who did in a manner possess David.
12:38 1 The manners of ministers are not rashly to be followed as an example.
12:41 1 The doing of our duties, which God alloweth, is not esteemed according to the outward value, but to the inward affects of the heart.
12:35 2 The word is a stole, which is a kind of woman’s garment, long even down to the heels, and is taken generally, for any garment made for comeliness, but in this place it seemeth to signify that fringed garment mentioned in Deut. 22:11.
12:40 1 Money of any kind of metal, as the Romans used, who in the beginning did stamp or coin brass, and after used it for current money.
MARK 13:1

1. And when he went out of the Temple, one of his disciples said unto him, Master, see what manner stones, and what manner buildings are here.

2. Then Jesus answered and said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon a stone, that shall not be thrown down.

3. And as he sat on the mount of Olives, over against the Temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew asked him secretly,

4. Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5. And Jesus answered them, and began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you.

6. For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceive many.

7. Furthermore when ye hear of wars, and rumors of wars, be ye not troubled, for such things must needs be: but the end shall not be yet.

8. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be earthquakes in divers quarters, and there shall be famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

9. But take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: ye shall be beaten, and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, and for a testimonial unto them.

10. And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11. But when they lead you, and deliver you up, be not careful before hand, neither study what ye shall say: but what is given you at the same time, that speak: for it is not you that speak, but the holy Ghost.

12. Yea, and the brother shall deliver the brother to death, and the father the son, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to die.

13. And ye shall be hated of all men for my Name’s sake: but whosoever shall endure unto the end, he shall be saved.

14. Moreover, when ye see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet) set where it ought not, (let him that readeth, consider it) then let them that be in Judea, flee into the mountains.

15. And let him that is upon the house, not come down into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch anything out of his house.

16. And let him that is in the field, not turn back again to take his garment.

17. Then woe shall be to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days.

18. Pray therefore that your flight be not in the winter.

19. For those days shall be such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.

20. And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect’s sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those days.

21. Then if any man say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or lo, he is there, believe it not.

22. For false Christs shall rise, and false prophets, and shall show signs and wonders, to deceive if it were possible the very elect.

23. But take ye heed: behold, I have showed you all things before.

24. Moreover in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall wax dark, and the moon shall not give her light,

25. And the stars of heaven shall fall: and the powers which are in heaven, shall shake.

26. And then shall they see the Son of man, coming with power and great glory.

27. And he shall then send his Angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, and from the utmost part of the earth to the utmost part of heaven.

28. Now learn a parable of the fig tree. When her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near.

29. So in like manner, when ye see these things come to pass, know that the kingdom of God is near, even at the doors.

30. Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

31. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

32. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the Angels which are in heaven, neither the Son himself, but the Father.

13:1 1 The destruction of the Temple, city, and whole nation is aforesaid, and the troubles of the Church, but yet there are annexed many comforts, and last of all, the end of the world is described.

13:9 The hearing of you preaching shall be a most evident witness against them, so that they shall not be able to persuade ignorance.

13:11 We are not forbidden to think beforehand, but pensive care shall be a most evident witness against them, so that they shall not be able to persuade ignorance.

13:13 For me.

13:14 1 When the heathen and profane people shall not only enter into the Temple, and defile both it and the city, but also clean destroy it.

13:19 This is a kind of speech which the Hebrews use, and it hath a great force in it, for it giveth us to understand that in all that time one misery shall so follow upon another, as if the time itself were very miserable. So the Prophet Amos, 5:20 saith, that the day of the Lord shall be darkness.

13:32 The latter day is not curiously to be searched for which the Father alone knoweth: but let us rather take heed, that it come not upon us unaware.
33 Take heed: watch, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.
34 For the Son of man is as a man going into a strange country, and leaveth his house, and giveth authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commandeth the porter to watch.
35 Watch ye therefore, (for ye know not when the master of the house will come, at even, or at midnight, at the cock crowing, or in the dawning.)
36 Lest if he come suddenly, he should find you sleeping.
37 And those things that I say unto you, I say unto all men, Watch.

14 1 The Priests' conspiracy against Christ.  2 The woman pouring oil on Christ's head.  3 The preparing of the Passover.  22 The institution of the Supper.  43 Christ delivered into the hands of men.  46 Judas Iscariot.  66 Peter's denial.
1 And as two days after followed the feast of the Passover, and of unleavened bread: and the high Priests, and Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.
2 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest there be any tumult among the people.
3 And when he was in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at table, there came a woman having a box of ointment of Spikenard, very costly, and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.
4 Therefore some disdained among themselves, and said, To what end is this waste of ointment?
5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and been given unto the poor, and they murmured against her.
6 But Jesus said, Let her alone: Why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.
7 For ye have the poor with you always, and me ye shall not have always.
8 She hath done that she could: she came aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

14:1 1 By the will of God, against the counsel of men, it came to pass that Christ should be put to death upon the solemn day of the Passover; that in all respects the truth might agree to the figure.
14:4 1 Rash judgments are frustrated before God.
14:5 1 Which is about six pounds English.
14:7 1 Christ suffered himself to be anointed once or twice for certain considerations: but his will is to be daily anointed in the poor.
14:8 1 This woman by the secret instinct of the Spirit, anointing Christ, setteth before men's eyes, his death and burial which were at hand.
14:10 1 Covetousness cloaked with a zeal of charity, is an occasion to betray and crucify Christ.
14:12 1 Christ being made subject to the Law for us, doth celebrate the Passover according to the Law: and therewithal by a miracle sheweth that notwithstanding he in the flesh shall straightway suffer, yet that he is God.
14:9 1 Verily I say unto you, wheresoever this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shall be spoken of in remembrance of her.
14:11 2 Then Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went away unto the high Priests, to betray him unto them.
14:12 2 Now the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the Passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the Passover?
14:13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and said unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.
14:14 And whithersoever he goeth in, say ye to the good man of the house, The master saith, Where is the lodging where I shall eat the Passover with my disciples?
14:15 And he will show you an upper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it ready for us.
14:16 So his disciples went forth, and came to the city, and found as he had said unto them, and made ready the Passover.
14:17 And at even he came with the twelve.
14:18 And as they sat at table and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.
14:19 Then they began to be sorrowful and to say to him one by one, Is it I? And another, Is it I?
14:20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve that dippeth with me in the platter.
14:21 Truly the Son of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but woe to that man, by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had never been born.
14:22 And as they did eat, Jesus took the bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it and gave it to them, and said, Take, eat, this is my body.
14:23 Also he took the cup, and when he had given thanked, gave it to them: and they all drank of it. 24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of that new Testament which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine until that day, that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out to the mount of Olives.

27 ¶ Then Jesus said unto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go into Galilee before you.

29 ¶ Peter said unto him, Although all men should be offended at thee, yet would not I. 30 Then Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, this day, even in this night before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he said more earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee: likewise also said they all.

32 ¶ After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he said to his disciples, Sit ye here, till I have prayed.

33 And he took with him Peter, and James, and John, and he began to be troubled, and in great heaviness, 34 And said unto them, My soul is very heavy, even unto the death: tarry here, and watch.

35 So he went forward a little, and fell down on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that hour might pass from him,

36 And he said, ¶ Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee: take away this cup from me: nevertheless not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.

37 ¶ Then he came, and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?

38 ¶ Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And he returned, and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy: neither knew they what they should answer him.

41 And he came the third time, and said unto them, Sleep henceforth, and take your rest: it is enough: the hour is come: behold, the Son of man is delivered into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up: let us go: lo, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

43 ¶ And immediately while he yet spake, came Judas that was one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves from the high Priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, he it is: take him and lead him away safely.

45 And as soon as he was come, he went straightway to him, and said, Hail Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And ¶ one of them that stood by, drew out a sword, and smote a servant of the high Priest, and cut off his ear.

48 And Jesus answered, and said to them, Ye be come out as against a thief, with swords and with staves, to take me.

49 I was daily with you, teaching in the Temple, and ye took me not: but this is done that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 ¶ Then they ¶ all forsook him, and fled.

51 ¶ And there followed him a certain young man, clothed in linen upon his bare body, and the young men caught him.

52 But he left his linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ So they led Jesus away to the high Priest, and to him came ¶ together all the high Priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the satisfaction for this ruin, is forsaken for his own, and betrayed by one of his familiars as a thief, that the punishment might be agreeable to the sin, and we who are very traitors, forsakers, and sacrilegers might be delivered out of the devil's snare.

55 ¶ So diligently, that he escape not out of your hands.

56 ¶ That is, Peter.

57 ¶ All his disciples.

58 ¶ Under pretence of godliness, all things are lawful to such as do violence against Christ.

59 ¶ Which he cast about him, when he hearing that stir in the night suddenly ran forth: whereby we may understand with how great licentiousness these villains violently set upon him.

60 ¶ The highest council was assembled, because Christ was accused as a blasphemer and a false prophet: for as for the other crime of treason, it was forged against him by the Priests, to enforce Pilate by that means to condemn him.
And Jesus said, I am perceptible to the maiden: and through the maiden's report: 14:69 a most comfortable example of the mercy of God, who giveth the spirit of repentance and faith to his elect.

14:66

But their witness yet agreed not together.

14:61

But he denied it, saying, I know him not, neither wot I what thou sayest. Then he went out into the porch, and the cock crew. 14:68

Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death. 14:64

If we compare the Evangelists diligently together, we shall find that with himself, he wept.

15:1

Of the things Christ suffered under Pilate.

11 And Peter remembered the word that Jesus had said unto him, Before the cock crew twice, thou shalt deny me thrice, and weighing that with himself, he wept.

15:71

And he began to curse, and swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

15:72

Then the second time the cock crew, and Peter remembered the word that Jesus had said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice, and weighing that with himself, he wept.

15:1 Of the things Christ suffered under Pilate. 11 Barabbas is preferred before Christ. 15 Pilate delivereth Christ to be crucified. 17 He is crowned with thorns. 19 They spit on him, and mock him. 21 Simon of Cyrene carrieth Christ's cross. 27 Christ is crucified between two thieves. 26 He is nailed at. 37 He giveth up the ghost. 43 Joseph buryeth him.

And at a solemn day, the high Priests held a Council with the Elders, and the Scribes, and the whole Council, and bound Jesus, and led him away, and delivered him to Pilate.

2 Then Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered, and said unto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the high Priests accused him of many things.

4 Wherefore Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.

5 But Jesus answered no more at all, so that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at the feast, Pilate did deliver a prisoner unto them, whomsoever they would desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, which was bound with his fellows, that had made insurrection, and the people cried aloud, and began to desire that he would do as he had ever done unto them.

8 And the people cried aloud, and began to desire that he would do as he had ever done unto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and said, Will ye that I let loose unto you the King of the Jews?

10 For he knew that the high Priests had delivered him of envy.

11 But the high Priests had moved the people to desire that he would rather deliver Barabbas unto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said again unto them, What will ye then that I do with him, whom ye call the King of the Jews?
And they cried again, Crucify him.

Then Pilate said unto them, But what evil hath he done? And they cried the more fervently, Crucify him.

So Pilate willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

Then the soldiers led him away into the hall, which is the common hall, and called together the whole band,

And clad him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head,

And began to salute him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews.

And they smote him on the head with a reed, and spat upon him, and bowed the knees, and did him reverence.

And when they had mocked him, they took the purple off him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.

And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the country, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to bear his cross.

And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of a foul place of dead men's carcasses, as a man most unclean, not sacrificed.

Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, Thy rulers acclaim thee, and say, blessed the King of Israel.

Christ striving mightily with Satan, with sin, and with death, all three armed with the horrible curse of God, grievously tormented in body hanging upon the cross, and in soul plunged in the depth of hell, yet he riddeth himself, crying with a mighty voice: and notwithstanding the wound which he received of death in that he died, yet by smiting both things above and things beneath, by renting of the veil of the Temple, and by the testimony wrung out of them which murdered him, he showeth evidently unto the rest of his enemies which are as yet obstinate, and mock at him, that he shall be known out of hand to be conqueror and Lord of all.

15:17 1 Christ going about to take away the sins of men, who went about to usurp the throne of God himself, is condemned as one that hunted after the kingdom, and mocked with a false show of a kingdom, that we on the other side, who shall indeed be eternal kings, might receive the crown of glory at God’s own hand.

15:21 1 The rage of the wicked hath no measure, but in the mean season, even the weakness of Christ, being in pain under the heavy burden of the cross, doth manifestly show that a lamb is led to be sacrificed.

15:22 1 Christ is led out of the walls of the earthly Jerusalem, into a foul place of dead men’s carcasses, as a man most unclean, not touching himself, but touching our sins, which were laid upon him, to the end that we being made clean by his blood, might be brought into the heavenly Sanctuary.

15:24 1 Christ hangeth naked upon the cross, and as the most wickedest caitiff that ever was, most vilely reproved: that we being clothed with his righteousness, and blessed with his curses, and sanctified by his only oblation, may be taken up into heaven.

15:33 1 How angry God was against our sin, which he punished in our surety, his son, it appeareth by this horrible darkness.

By this word, land, he meaneth Palestine: so that the strangeness of the wonder, is so much the more set forth in that, that at the feast of the Passover, and in the full moon, when the Sun shined over all the rest of the world and at midday that corner of the world, wherein so wicked an act was committed, was overcovered with most gross darkness.

15:34 1 Christ striving mightily with Satan, with sin, and with death, all three armed with the horrible curse of God, grievously tormented in body hanging upon the cross, and in soul plunged in the depth of hell, yet he riddeth himself, crying with a mighty voice: and notwithstanding the wound which he received of death in that he died, yet by smiting both things above and things beneath, by renting of the veil of the Temple, and by the testimony wrung out of them which murdered him, he showeth evidently unto the rest of his enemies which are as yet obstinate, and mock at him, that he shall be known out of hand to be conqueror and Lord of all.

15:40 1 Christ to the great shame of men which forsook the Lord, chose women for his witnesses, which beheld all this whole action.
MARK 16:20

Peter, that he will go before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulcher: for they trembled, and were amazed: neither said they anything to any man: for they were afraid.

9 ¶ And when Jesus was risen again, early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils:

10 And she went and told them that had been with him, which mourned and wept.

11 And when they heard that he was alive, and had appeared to her, they believed it not.

12 ¶ After that, he appeared unto two of them in another form, as they walked and went into the country.

13 And they went and told it to the remnant, neither believed they them.

14 ¶ Finally, he appeared unto the eleven as they sat together, and reproached them for their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him, being risen up again.

15 ¶ And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature.

16 He that shall believe and be baptized, shall be saved:

17 And these tokens shall follow them that believe, In my Name they shall cast out devils, and shall speak with new tongues,

18 And shall take away serpents, and if they shall drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them: they shall lay their hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 ¶ So after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received into heaven, and sat at the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and preached everywhere. And the “Lord wrought with them, and confirmed the word with signs that followed. Amen.
Luke: Preface 5 Zacharias and Elizabeth. 15 What an one John should be. 20 Zacharias stricken dumb, for his incredulity. 26 The Angel saluteth Mary, and foretelleth Christ’s nativity. 39 Mary visited Elizabeth. 46 Mary’s song. 68 The song of Zacharias, showing that the promised Christ is come. 76 The office of John.

1:1 Luke commendeth the witnesses that saw this history.
1:2 Luke was not an eyewitness, and therefore it was not he to whom the Lord appeared when Cleopas saw him: and he was taught not only by Paul, but by others of the Apostles also.
1:3 It is most mighty, and therefore Theophilus was a very honorable man, and in place of great dignity.
1:4 Luke began his Gospel a great deal farther off, than the others did.
1:5 John who was another Elijah, and appointed to be herald of Christ, coming of the stock of Aaron, and of two famous and blameless parents, hath showed in his conception, which was against the course of nature, a double miracle, to the end that men should be more readily stirred up to the hearing of his preaching, according to the forewarning of the Prophets.
1:6 Word for word, in the days: so speak the Hebrews, giving us to understand, how short and frail a thing the power of princes is.
1:7 And they had no child, because that Elizabeth was barren: and both were well stricken in age.
1:8 And it came to pass, as he executed the Priest’s office before God, as his course came in order, 9 According to the custom of the Priest’s office, his lot was to burn incense, when he went into the Temple of the Lord. 10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning. 11 Then appeared unto him an Angel of the Lord, standing at the right side of the Altar of incense. 12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. 13 But the Angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. 14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth. 15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drink wine, nor strong drink: and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, even from his mother’s womb. 16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to their Lord God. 17 For he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the 'hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the 'wisdom of the just men, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 'Then Zacharias said unto the Angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angel answered, and said unto him, I am Gabriel 'that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speak unto thee, and to show thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not be able to speak, until the day that these things be done, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the Temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: then they perceived that he had seen a vision in the Temple: for he made signs unto them, and remained dumb.

23 And it came to pass, when the days of his office were fulfilled, that he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days, his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, 25 'Thus hath the Lord dealt with me, in the days wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixth month, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Joseph, of the 'house of David, and the virgin's name was Mary.

28 And the Angel went in unto her, and said, Hail thou that art 'freely beloved: the Lord is with thee: 'blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was 'troubled at his saying, and thought what manner of salutation that should be.

30 'Then the Angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast 'found favor with God.

31 'For lo thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bear a son, 'and shalt call his Name Jesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall be 'called the Son of the most High, and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David.

33 'And he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of his kingdom shall be none end.

34 'Then said Mary unto the Angel, 'How shall this be, seeing 'I know not man?

35 And the Angel answered, and said unto her, The holy Ghost 'shall come upon thee, and the power of the most High shall overshadow thee: therefore also that 'Holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be 'called the Son of God.

36 And behold, thy 'cousin, Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is her 'sixth month, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing be impossible.

38 'Then Mary said, Behold the servant of the Lord: be it unto me according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39 ¶ 'And Mary arose in those days, and went into the 'hill country with haste to a 'city of Judah, 40 'And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to pass, as Elizabeth heard the manner of the conceiving, so that it is plain she believed all the rest.

2 So speak the Hebrews, signifying by this modest kind of speech the company of man and wife together, and this is the meaning of it: how shall this be, forseeing, I shall be Christ his mother, I am very sure. I shall not know any man: for the godly virgin had learned by the Prophets, that the Messiah should be born of a Virgin.

1:19 1 That appears, for so the Hebrews use this word (to stand) meaning that they are ready to do his commandment.

1:26 1 The Angel serving the Lord which should be born, is sent to the virgin Mary, in whom the Son of the most high promised to David, is conceived by the virtue of the holy Ghost.

1:27 1 As much is to be said of Mary, otherwise Christ had not been of the stock, not the son of David.

1:28 1 It might be rendered word for word, full of favor and grace, and he showeth straight after, laying out plainly unto us, what that favor is, in that he saith, the Lord is with thee.

2 Of God.

1:29 1 Moved at the strangeness of the matter.

1:30 1 So speak the Hebrews, saying, that men have found favor, which are in favor.

1:32 1 He shall be declared so to be, for he was the Son of God from everlasting, but was made manifest in the flesh in his time.

1:34 1 The greatness of the matter causeth the Virgin to ask this question, not that she distrusteth any whit at all, for she asketh only of the salutation of Mary, the babe sprang in her belly, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, because the fruit of thy womb is blessed.

43 And whence cometh this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe sprang in my belly for joy.

45 And blessed is she that believed: for those things shall be performed, which were told her from the Lord.

46 Then Mary said, My soul magnifieth the Lord,

And my spirit rejoiceth in God my Savior.

48 For he hath looked on the poor degree of his servant: for behold, from henceforth shall all ages call me blessed,

Because he that is mighty hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

49 Because he that is mighty hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercy is from generation to generation on them that fear him.

51 He that showed strength with his arm: he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 He hath filled the hungry with good things, and sent away the rich empty.

54 He hath upholden Israel his servant to be mindful of his mercy, 55 (As he hath spoken to our fathers, to wit, to Abraham and his seed) forever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months: after, she returned to her own house.

57 Now Elizabeth's time was fulfilled, that she should be delivered, and she brought forth a son.

58 And her neighbors and cousins heard how the Lord had showed his great mercy upon her, and they rejoiced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and said, Not so, but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.

63 So he asked for writing tablets, and wrote, saying, His name is John, and they marveled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue, and he spake and praised God.

65 Then fear came on all them that dwelt near unto them, and all these words were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judea.

66 And all they that heard them, laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner child shall this be! and the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 Then his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, because he hath visited and redeemed his people,
And thou, babe, shalt be called the Prophet of the house and lineage of David, for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways,

And to ‘give knowledge of salvation unto his people, by the ‘remission of their sins,

‘Through the tender mercy of our God, whereby ‘the ‘dayspring from on high hath hasted us,

‘To give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death, and to guide our feet into the way of peace.

And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the wilderness, till the day came that he should show himself unto Israel.

Augustus Caesar taxeth all the world. 7 Christ is born. 13 The Angels’ Song. 21 Christ is circumcised. 22 Mary purified. 28 Simeon taketh Christ in his arms. 29 His Song. 36 Anna the Prophetess. 40 The child Christ. 46 Jesus disputeth with the doctors.

1 And ‘it came to pass in those days, that there came a decree from Augustus Caesar, that all the ‘world should be ‘taxed.

(‘This first taxing was made when Quirinius was governor of Syria.)

Therefore went all to be taxed, every man to his own city:

And Joseph also went up from Galilee out of a city called Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of ‘David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

To be taxed with Mary that was given him to wife, which was with child.

And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

¶ And there were in the same country shepherds, abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night over their flock.

And lo, the Angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone about them, and they were sore afraid.

Then the Angel said unto them, Be not afraid: for behold, I bring you glad tidings of great joy, that shall be to all the people.

That is, that unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you, Ye shall find the babe swaddled, and laid in a cratch.

And straightway there was with the Angel a multitude of heavenly soldiers, praising God, and saying.

Glory be to God in the high heavens, and peace in earth, and toward men ‘good will.

And it came to pass when the Angels were gone away from them into heaven, that the shepherds said one to another, Let us go then unto Bethlehem, and see this thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath showed unto us.

So they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph and the babe laid in the cratch.

And when they had seen it, they published abroad the thing that was told them of that child.

And all that heard it, wondered at the things which were told them of the shepherds.

But Mary kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned glorifying and praising God, for all that they had heard and seen, as it was spoken unto them.

¶ And when the eight days were accomplished, that they should circumcise the child, his name was then called Jesus, which was named of the Angel, taken, and their goods rated at a certain value, that the Emperor might understand, how rich every country, city, family, and house was.

Which was, that he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, should serve him without fear.

All the days of our life, in ‘holiness and righteousness ‘before him.

Christ the head of the Church, made subject to the Law, to understand, how rich every country, city, family, and house was.

Forgiveness of sins, is the means whereby God saveth us, Rom. 4:7.

Or bud, or branch; he alludeth unto the places in Jer. 23:5; Zech. 3:8 and 6:12; and he is called a bud from on high, that is, sent from God unto us, and not as other buds which bud out of the earth.

Into the way which leadeth us to true happiness.

Christ the son of God, taking upon him the form of a servant, and making himself of no reputation, is poorly born in a stable: and by the means of Augustus the mightiest prince in the world (thinking nothing less) hath his cradle prepared in Bethlehem, as the Prophets forewarned.

So far as the Empire of the Romans did stretch.

That is, the inhabitants of every city should have their names before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the days of her purification, after the Law of Moses, were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord.

23 (As it is written in the Law of the Lord, ‘Every man child that first openeth the womb, shall be called holy to the Lord,’)

24 And to give an oblation, as it is commanded in the Law of the Lord, a pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon: this man was just, and feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was declared to him from God by the holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen that Anointed of the Lord.

27 And he came by the motion of the spirit into the Temple, and when the parents brought in the babe Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the Law.

28 Then he took him in his arms, and praised God, and said,

29 Lord, now is thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word,

30 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people,

32 A light to be revealed to the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things, which were spoken touching him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, child is appointed for the fulfilling of the Law: for otherwise the virgin was not defiled, nor unclean, by the birth of this child.

35 (Yea and a sword shall pierce through thy soul) that the thoughts of many hearts may be opened.

36 And there was a Prophetess, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher, which was of a great age, after she had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity:

37 And she was widow about fourscore, and four years, and went not out of the Temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And she then coming at the same instant upon them, confessed likewise the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things, according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee to their own city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong in Spirit, and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was with him.

41 ¶ Now his parents went to Jerusalem, every year, at the feast of the Passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, and they were come up to Jerusalem, after the custom of the feast, 43 And had finished the days thereof, as they returned, the child Jesus remained in Jerusalem, and Joseph knew not, nor his mother.

44 But they supposing that he had been in the company, went a day’s journey, and sought him among their kinsfolk, and acquaintances.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back to Jerusalem, and sought him.

46 And it came to pass three days after, that they found him in the Temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions:

47 And all that heard him, were astonied at his understanding and answers.

48 § So when they saw him, they were amazed, and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee with very heavy hearts.

49 Then said he unto them, How is it that ye sought me? knew ye not that I must go about my Father’s business?

50 But they understood not the word that he spake to them.
Christ very man is made like unto us in all things, except sin.
1 John cometh at the time foretold of the Prophets, and layeth the foundation of the Gospel which is exhibited unto us, setting forth the true observing of the Law, and free mercy in Christ, which cometh after him, using also baptism the effectual sign both of regeneration and also of forgiveness of sins.
Josephus calleth him Ananus.
Require no more than that sum that is appointed for the tribute money.
Which was paid them partly in money, and partly in victual.
If we would rightly, and fruitfully receive the sacraments, we must neither rest in the signs, neither in him that minis tereth the signs, but lift up our eyes to Christ, who is the author of the sacraments, and the giver of that which is represented by the sacraments.

1 And he answered, and said unto them, ‘He that hath two coats, let him part with him that hath none: and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.
2 Then came there Publicans also to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?
3 And he said unto them, Require no more than that which is appointed unto you.
4 The soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.
5 As the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of John, if he were not that Christ.
6 John answered, and said to them all, ‘Indeed I baptize you with water, but one stronger than I, cometh, whose shoe’s latchet I am not worthy to unloose: he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.
7 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will make clean his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaff will he burn up with fire that never shall be quenched.
8 Thus then exhorting with many other things, he preached unto the people.
9 But when Herod the Tetrarch was rebuked of him, for Herodias his brother Philip’s wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done,
10 He added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.
11 Now it came to pass, as all the people were baptized, and that Jesus was baptized and did pray, that the heaven was opened:
12 And the holy Ghost came down in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and there was a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son: in thee I am well pleased.
13 And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being as men supposed the son of Joseph, which was the son of Heli,
14 The son of Matthan, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph,
15 The son of Mattathiah, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of Sali, the son of Naagai,
16 The son of Maath, the son of Mattathiah, the son of Nathan, the son of David, the son of Jesse, the son of Jacob, the son of Joseph, the son of Mary, the son of Anna, the sister of Simeon.
17 The mother of Jesus and his brethren were Mary, Martha, and Mary Magdalene, to whom also he was accustomed to be given.
18 And the disciples were occupied in the corn of wheat; and he said unto them, ‘Take, eat; this is my body.
19 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, ‘Drink ye all;
20 This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for remission of sins.
21 And he accounted the twelve disciples, Peter, James, and John, and the rest of the disciples, acknowledging the twelve.”
6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of those kingdoms: for that is delivered to me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, they shall be all thine.

8 But Jesus answered him, and said, Hence from me, Satan; for it is written, ¹Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him alone shalt thou serve.

9 Then he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence,

10 For it is written, ¹That he will give his Angels charge over thee to keep thee:

11 And with their hands they shall lift thee up, lest at anytime thou shouldest dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answered, and said unto him, It is written, ²Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a little season.

14 ¶ And Jesus returned by the power of the spirit into Galilee: and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about:

15 For he taught in their Synagogues, and was honored of all men.

16 ¶ And he came to Nazareth where he had been brought up, and (as his custom was) went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the Prophet Isaiah: and when he had ¹opened the book, he found the place, where it was written, ¹²The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me, that I should preach the Gospel to the poor: he hath sent me, that I should heal the sick, and raise the dead, and cast out devils: for I am sent to preach consolation to all them that mourn; ¹³to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised: ¹⁴and ¹⁵to preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

16 And the devil said, ⁶And all the kingdoms of the world, and the power thereof, are now mine, and the devil is in me. ⁷If thou wilt bow down thine head to me, and worship me, all shall be thine.

8 But Jesus answered him, and said, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. ⁹Then said the devil, All this power will I give thee, ⁶if thou wilt bow down thine head to me, and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, ⁶Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him alone shalt thou serve. ¹ⁱThen Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert, ¹²and was there tempted of the devil for forty days and forty nights, ¹³with all power and subtilty that he had. ¹⁴And the devil, for a little season, ¹⁵led him to an high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory thereof.

16 Then the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and all this glory: if thou wilt bow down thine head to me, and worship me. ¹⁷Then Jesus said unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, ⁶Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him alone shalt thou serve.
22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words, which proceeded out of his mouth, and said, Is not this Joseph’s son?
23 Then he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this Proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do it here likewise in thine own country.
24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No Prophet is accepted in his own country.
25 But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of ‘Elijah, when heaven was shut three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land:
26 But unto none of them was Elijah sent, save into Zarephath, a city of Sidon, unto a certain widow.
27 Also many lepers were in Israel, in the time of ‘Elisha the Prophet: yet none of them was made clean, saving Naaman the Syrian.
28 Then all that were in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were filled with wrath,
29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the edge of the hill, whereon their city was built, to cast him down headlong.
30 But he passed through the midst of them, and went his way, 31 ¶ And came down into Capernaum a city of Galilee, and there taught them on the Sabbath days.
32 And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with authority.
